visiting the advertising, invoicing, and labeling requirements of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

Following acceptance of an agreement containing a consent order, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on June 12 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Mercantile Stores Co., Inc., a corporation, and The MacDougall & Southwick Company, a corporation, and their officers, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation or distribution of fur products in commerce, or in connection with the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation or distribution of fur products which have been made in whole or in part of fur which has been shipped and received in commerce, as "commerce", "fur", and "fur product" are defined in the Fur Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Misbranding fur products by:

a. Falsely or deceptively labeling or otherwise identifying any such product as to the name or names of the animal or animals that produced the fur from which such product was manufactured.

2. Misbranding fur products by:

a. Failing to affix labels to fur products showing:

1. The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur product as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide and as prescribed under the rules and regulations;

2. That the fur product contains or is composed of used fur, when such is a fact;

3. That the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed, or artificially colored fur, when such is a fact;

4. That the fur product is composed in whole or in substantial part of paws, tails, bellies, or waste fur, when such is a fact;

5. The name, or other identification issued and registered by the Commission, of one or more persons who manufactured such fur product for introduction into commerce, introduced it into commerce, sold it in commerce, advertised or offered it for sale in commerce, or transported or distributed it in commerce;

6. The name of the country of origin of any imported furs used in the fur product;

7. The item number or mark assigned to a fur product.

b. Setting forth on labels attached to fur products:

1. Information required under section 4 (2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in abbreviated form.

2. The term "blended" to describe the pointing, bleaching, dyeing or tip-dyeing of fur products.

3. Information required under section 4 (2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in an illegible or inconspicuous manner.

4. Information required under section 4 (2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder mingled with nonrequired information.

5. Information required under section 4 (2) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder with pencil or in handwriting.

c. Failing to affix labels to fur products which comply with the minimum size requirements of 1¾ inches by 2¾ inches.

3. Falsely or deceptively invoicing fur products by:

a. Failing to furnish invoices to purchasers of fur products showing:

1. The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur product as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide and as prescribed under the rules and regulations;

2. That the product contains or is composed of used fur, when such is a fact;

3. That the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed, or otherwise artificially colored fur, when such is the fact;

4. That the fur product is composed in whole or in substantial part of the paws, tails, bellies, or waste fur, when such is the fact;

5. The name and address of the person issuing such invoice;

6. The name of the country of origin of any imported furs contained in a fur product;

7. The item number or mark assigned to a fur product.

b. Using on invoices the name or names of any animal or animals other than the name or names provided for in paragraph 3 (a) (1) above, or furnishing invoices which misrepresent the country of origin of imported furs contained in fur products or which contain any form of misrepresentation or deception directly or by implication with respect to such fur products.

c. Setting forth information required under section 5 (b) (1) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder in abbreviated form.

4. Falsely or deceptively advertising fur products through the use of any advertisement, public announcement or notice which is intended to aid, promote, or assist, directly or indirectly, in the sale or offering for sale of fur products, and which:

a. Fails to disclose:

1. The name or names of the animal or animals which produced the fur or furs contained in the fur products as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide.

2. That the fur products contain or are composed of bleached, dyed, or otherwise artificially colored fur, when such is the fact.

3. That the fur products are composed in whole or in substantial part of paws, tails, bellies, or waste fur, when such is the fact;

b. Contains the name or names of an animal or animals other than the name or names specified in the Fur Products Name Guide or prescribed under the Rules and Regulations;

c. Contains the term "blended" to describe the pointing, bleaching, dyeing or tip-dyeing of fur products.

d. Represents directly or by implication that the regular or usual price of any fur product is any amount which is in excess of the price at which the respondents have usually and customarily sold such products in the recent regular course of their business.

e. Represents directly or by implication through percentage savings claims that the regular or usual retail prices charged by respondents for fur products in the recent regular course of their business are reduced in direct proportion to the amounts of savings stated, when contrary to fact.

5. Making price claims or representations of the types referred to in paragraphs 4 (d) and (e) above unless there are maintained by respondents full and adequate records disclosing the facts upon which such claims or representations are based.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: June 12, 1958.

PART 13—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

OXFORD FILING SUPPLY CO., INC.

Subpart—Discriminating in prices under section 2, Clayton Act, as amended—Price discrimination under 2 (a): § 13.770 Quantity rebates or discounts. Subpart—Maintaining resale prices: § 13.1130 Contracts and agreements.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; sec. 2, 38 Stat. 730, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45, 13) [Cease and desist order, Oxford Filing Supply Company, Inc., Garden City, N. Y., Docket 7052, June 17, 1958]

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a leading manufacturer of filing systems and filing supplies with principal place of business in Garden City, N. Y., and with nationwide distribution of its products, with maintaining, in areas not having so-called fair trade laws, uniform resale prices for its well-known "Pendaflex" line of products, and, in making effective such policy, requiring dealers, as a condition precedent to selling such "Pendaflex" line, to execute franchise agreements to cooperate in maintaining its retail list prices and canceling franchises of dealers violating the agreement; and with discriminating in price by selling to some of its dealer customers at 40 plus 10 percent off its published list prices while selling to their competitors at the "Trade Discount" of only 40 percent off list price, and by further requiring some dealer customers to purchase $10,000 of its products in order to qualify for the extra 10 percent discount while requiring others to purchase only $5,000 to so qualify.

After acceptance of an agreement providing for the entry of a consent order, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on June 17 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Oxford Filing Supply Company, Inc., a corporation, its officers, agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of respondent's Pendaflex or other products, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Entering into, continuing, enforcing or maintaining any agreement or understanding, express or implied, with any wholesaler or retail dealer concerning the price at which such products are to be resold by such wholesaler or retail dealer or any of their customers.

2. Entering into, continuing, enforcing or maintaining any agreement or understanding, express or implied, with any wholesaler or retail dealer which prohibits said wholesaler or retail dealer from selling any said product to purchasers who have not agreed to maintain or who do not maintain resale prices established or suggested by respondent on said product.

Provided, however, that nothing herein shall be interpreted as prohibiting respondent from establishing and maintaining resale prices on its products in any manner exempted from the prohibitions of the Federal Trade Commission Act by the McGuire Act.

It is further ordered, That respondent Oxford Filing Supply Company, Inc., a corporation, its officers, agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of respondent's "general line" of filing systems and supplies or any other products in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act, do forthwith cease and desist from discriminating, directly or indirectly, in the price of such products of like grade and quality: By selling such products to any purchaser thereof at prices lower than the prices charged other purchasers who in fact compete with the favored purchasers in the sale or distribution of such products.

The term "price" as used in this order takes into account discounts, rebates, allowances and other terms or conditions of sale.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: June 17, 1958.

By the Commission.

In the Matter of Volk Bros. Company, a Corporation, and Harold F. Volk, Individually and as an Officer of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a furrier in Dallas, Tex., with violating the Fur Products Labeling Act by advertising in newspapers which failed to disclose the names of animals producing the fur in certain products, that some furs were artificially colored, and the country of origin of imported furs, and failed to set forth other required information; which falsely represented sale prices as reduced from regular prices which were, in fact, fictitious, and made percentage savings claims while failing to maintain adequate records as a basis therefor.

Following acceptance of an agreement for a consent order, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on June 18 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Volk Bros. Company, a corporation, and its officers and Harold F. Volk, individually and as an officer of said corporation, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction into commerce, or the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation or distribution of fur products in commerce, or in connection with the sale, advertising, offering for sale, transportation or distribution of fur products which have been made in whole or in part of fur which has been shipped and received in commerce, as the terms "commerce", "fur" and "fur product" are defined in the Fur Products Labeling Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

A. Falsely or deceptively advertising fur products through the use of any advertisement, representation, public announcement, or notice which is intended to aid, promote, or assist, directly or indirectly, in the sale or offering for sale of fur products, and which:

1. Fails to disclose:

(a) The name or names of the animal or animals producing the fur or furs contained in the fur products, as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide and as prescribed by the Rules and Regulations;

(b) That the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed, or otherwise artifically colored fur, when such is the fact;

(c) All of the information required under section 5 (a) of the Fur Products Labeling Act and the rules and regulations thereunder in type of equal size and conspicuousness and in close proximity with each other;

(d) The name of the country of origin of any imported furs contained in a fur product.

2. Represents directly or by implication that:

The regular or usual price of any fur product is in an amount which is in excess of the price at which the respondents have usually and customarily sold such products in the recent regular course of their business.

3. Represents directly or by implication through percentage savings claims that the regular or usual retail prices charged by respondents for fur products in the recent regular course of their business are reduced in direct proportion to the amounts of savings stated when contrary to the fact.

B. Making price claims and representations of the types referred to in subparagraph A2 and A3 above unless there are maintained by respondents full and adequate records disclosing the facts upon which such claims or representations are based.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: June 18, 1958.

In the Matter of Muntz TV, Inc., a Corporation, and Earl W. Muntz, Individually and as an Officer of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a manufacturer in Chicago with exaggerating, in newspaper advertising and by markings on sets and otherwise, the size of the picture tubes of its television sets, and with representing falsely that its TV sets were sold directly to the consumer from "factory outlets".

After acceptance of an agreement for a consent order, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on June 18 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent, Muntz TV, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of television receiving sets in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Using any figure or measurement to designate or describe, directly or by implication, the size of the picture tube with which their television receiving sets are equipped which is greater than the horizontal measurement of the viewable area of the tube on a single plane basis, unless it is conspicuously disclosed in immediate connection therewith that said figure or measurement is the diagonal measurement, when such is the fact; or an accurate specification of the viewable area of the tube, in square inches, is conspicuously disclosed in immediate connection with such figure or measurement;

2. Authorizing or permitting others to represent or placing into the hands of others means and instrumentalities whereby they may represent, directly or by implication, that the retailers selling respondent's television sets are factory outlets or have any relationship to respondent other than that of buyers from respondent.

It is further ordered, That the complaint against Earl W. Muntz in his capacity as an officer of Muntz TV, Inc., be dismissed.

In the Matter of Maurice Fabricant, Individually and Trading as Le Charme and French Perfume Agency

This proceeding was heard by a hearing examiner on the complaint of the Commission charging a distributor in New York City with representing falsely in advertising, circulars, price lists, by brand names, etc., that domestically made perfumes were French imports; misrepresenting the retail price or value of perfumes; claiming falsely that the filigree on perfume bottles was jeweled or goldplated, that the perfume in such bottles did not deteriorate but improved with age, and that it had been advertised in the New York Times as a "$10.00 value".

After acceptance of an agreement including consent order, the hearing examiner made his initial decision and order to cease and desist which became on June 17 the decision of the Commission.

The order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Maurice Fabricant, individually and trading as Le Charme or French Perfume Agency, or trading under any other name, his agents, representatives, or employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of perfumes or any other related product, do forthwith cease and desist from directly or indirectly:

1. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by means of the United States mails or by any means in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of said products, which advertisement:

a. Contains or lists prices, amounts, or values when such prices, amounts, or values are in excess of the prices at which said products are usually and customarily sold at retail.

b. Uses the words "French Formula Perfume", "Originally created in France, This Exotic Perfume", or "Paris-New York", or any other French name, word, term, or depiction in connection with any product not manufactured or compounded in France, or otherwise representing, directly or by implication, that such products are manufactured or compounded in France.

c. Uses any French name or word as a corporate, trade, or brand name or as a part thereof in connection with products manufactured or compounded in the United States, unless it is clearly and conspicuously revealed in immediate connection and conjunction therewith that such products are manufactured or compounded in the United States.

d. Represents, directly or by implication that the filigree on his perfume bottles is jeweled or gold plated.

e. Represents, directly or by implication, that his perfume products do not deteriorate or that they improve with age.

f. Represents, directly or by implication, that his perfume products have been advertised in the New York Times or any other advertising medium as being of a certain value, when such is not a fact.

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement, by any means, for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of said products in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, which advertisement contains any of the representations prohibited in Paragraph 1 of this order.

By "Decision of the Commission", etc., report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: June 17, 1958.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

Subchapter B—Food and Food Products

PART 120—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

FEES

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 408, 701; 68 Stat. 511, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 348, 371) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (22 F. R. 1045), the general regulations for setting tolerances and granting exemptions from tolerances for pesticide chemicals (21 CFR Part 120) are amended by changing § 120.33 (a) to (g) inclusive, to read as follows:

§ 120.33 Fees (a) Except as noted in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, each petition or request for the establishment of a tolerance shall be accompanied by a deposit of $2,500, plus $250 for each raw agricultural commodity more than nine on which the establishment of a tolerance is requested.

(b) Except as noted in paragraph (c) of this section, a petition requesting two or more numerical tolerance levels shall be accompanied by a deposit of $3,750, plus $250 for each raw agricultural commodity more than 14 on which the establishment of a tolerance is requested.

(c) Each petition or request for the establishment of a tolerance at a lower numerical level or levels than a tolerance already established for the same pesticide chemical, or for the establishment of a tolerance on additional raw agricultural commodities at the same numerical level as a tolerance already established for the same pesticide chemical, shall be accompanied by a deposit of $250, plus $250 for each raw agricultural commodity on which a tolerance is requested.

(d) Each petition or request for an exemption or a temporary exemption from the requirement of a tolerance, a temporary tolerance, or the amendment or repeal of a tolerance or exemption shall be accompanied by a deposit of $2,500, unless it meets the requirements of subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

(1) Such deposit is not required when, in connection with the change sought under this paragraph, a petition or request is filed for the establishment of new tolerances to take the place of those sought to be amended or repealed and a deposit is made as required by paragraph (a) or (b) of this section.

(2) A request for a temporary tolerance for a pesticide chemical which has a tolerance for other uses at the same numerical level shall be accompanied by a deposit of $250 for clerical handling and initial administrative review, plus $250 for each raw agricultural commodity on which the temporary tolerance is sought.

(e) If a petition or a request proposing the issuance of a regulation is not accepted for filing or processing because it is technically incomplete, the deposit, less a $250 fee for clerical handling and initial administrative review, shall be returned unless the petitioner indicates that he wishes to submit a supplement, in which case the deposit will be held by the Commissioner, and the supplement shall be accompanied by a nonreturnable fee of $250.

(f) When a petition is withdrawn after filing and resubmitted within 6 months, it shall be accompanied by a deposit of $750, or by a deposit equal to the one originally submitted, whichever is smaller. If resubmitted after 6 months, it shall be accompanied by the deposit that would be required if it were being submitted for the first time.

(g) After a petition has been filed, any additional information or data submitted in support of it (i. e., any substantive amendment) shall be accompanied by a deposit of $750 or by a deposit equal to the one originally submitted, whichever is smaller.

Effective date. This order shall become effective 30 days following the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Notice and public procedure not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since the fees set forth in this order are necessary in order to provide, equip, and maintain an adequate service, and the collection of such fees is required by law.

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 371. Interprets or applies 408, 68 Stat. 511, 21 U. S. C. 346a)

Dated: August 1, 1958.

PART 120—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

TOLERANCE FOR RESIDUES OF SODIUM O-PHENYLPHENATE

A petition was filed with the Food and Drug Administration by the Dow Chemical Company, Midland, Michigan, requesting the establishment of a tolerance for residues of sodium o-phenylphenate, calculated as o-phenylyphenol, in or on cantaloups.

The Secretary of Agriculture has certified that this pesticide chemical is useful for the purposes for which a tolerance is being established.

After consideration of the data submitted in the petition and other relevant material which show that the tolerance established in this order will protect the public health, and by virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408 (d) (2), 68 Stat. 512; 21 U. S. C. 346a (d) (2)) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (21 CFR 120.7 (g)), the regulations for tolerances for pesticide chemicals in or on raw agricultural commodities (21 CFR, 1957 Supp., 120.129) are amended by changing § 120.129 to read as follows:

§ 120.129 Tolerances for residues of sodium o-phenylphenate. Tolerances are established as follows for residues from postharvest application of sodium o-phenylphenate, calculated as o-phenylphenol:

(a) 125 parts per million in or on cantaloups, of which not more than 10 parts per million shall be in the edible portion.

(b) 20 parts per million in or on peaches.

(c) 10 parts per million in or on citrus citron, grapefruit, kumquat, lemons, limes, oranges, pineapple, tangelos, tangerines.

(d) 5 parts per million in or on apples, pears.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may, at any time prior to the thirtieth day from the effective date thereof, file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington 25, D. C., written objections thereto. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by this order, specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and reasonable grounds for the objections, and request a public hearing upon the objections. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof. All documents shall be filed in quintuplicate.

Effective date. This order shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 371. Sec. 408, 68 Stat. 511; 21 U. S. C. 346a)

Dated: August 1, 1958.

[SEAL] GEO. P. LARRICK,
Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

Subchapter C—Claims and Accounts

PART 836—CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

MARITIME CLAIMS

Sections 836.141 to 836.148 supersede §§ 836.141 to 836.148 (17 F. R. 8945, October 7):

Sec.
836.141 Purpose.
836.142 Claims payable.
836.143 Claims certified to Congress.
836.144 Claims not payable.
836.145 Claims under other laws and regulations.
836.146 Subrogation claims.
836.147 Limitation of settlement.
836.148 Delegation of authority.

DERIVATION: AFR 112–12, April 14, 1958.

§ 836.141 Purpose. Sections 836.141 to 836.148 prescribe the procedures for settling or compromising claims against the United States, not the subject of pending litigation, which arise from marine accidents or incidents. It is published under the direction of the Secretary of Defense.

§ 836.142 Claims payable. Section 1 of the act of October 20, 1951 (65 Stat. 572; 10 U. S. C. 1861) and section 1, 70A Stat. 592; 10 U. S. C. 9802, provide for the settlement or compromise of claims against the United States for damage to or loss of property, or personal injury or death, caused by vessels of, or in the service of, the Department of the Air Force, and compensation for towage and salvage services, including contract salvage, rendered to such vessels, where the net amount payable by the United States, as settled or compromised, does not exceed $500,000.

§ 836.143 Claims certified to Congress. Claims against the United States, settled or compromised at a net amount exceeding $500,000, are not payable under §§ 836.141 to 836.148, but will be investigated and processed under those sections, and, if approved by the Secretary of the Air Force, will be certified by him to the Congress.

§ 836.144 Claims not payable. A claim is not allowable under §§ 836.141 to 836.148 if it:

(a) Is for damage to or loss of property, or for personal injury or death, resulting from action by the enemy, or by United States armed forces engaged in combat, or in immediate preparation for impending combat.

(b) Is for personal injury or death of members of the armed forces of the United States incurred incident to their service.

(c) Is for personal injury or death of civilian employees of the United States to whom the Federal Employees' Compensation Act (39 Stat. 742, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 751 et seq.), is applicable.

(d) Is for damage to or loss of property, or for personal injury or death, caused other than by vessels of or in the service of the Department of the Air Force.

(e) Has been made the subject of a suit by or against the United States unless the suit is dismissed when payment is made (sec. 6, 43 Stat. 1113, 46 U. S. C. 786).

§ 836.145 Claims under other laws and regulations. (a) Claims of military personnel and civilian employees of the Department of the Air Force, for damage to or loss of personal property, occurring incident to their service, will be processed under the provisions of §§ 836.90 to 836.101.

(b) Claims which are within the scope of §§ 836.141 to 836.148 and also within the scope of §§ 836.61 to 836.77 may be processed under the provisions of §§ 836.61 to 836.77 where specific authority to do so has been obtained from The Judge Advocate General, Department of the Air Force.

§ 836.146 Subrogation claims. (a) An insurance carrier will be recognized as a claimant under §§ 836.141 to 836.148 to the extent that it has become subrogated by payment to, or on behalf of its insured, pursuant to a contract of insurance in force at the time of the incident from which the claim arose. An insurance carrier and its insured may file a claim either jointly or separately. Joint claims must be asserted in the names of, and must be signed by, all parties; payment then will be made jointly. If separate claims are filed, payment to each party will be limited to the extent of such party's undisputed interest.

(b) For the purpose of determining authority to settle or compromise a claim, the payable interests of the insurance carrier (or carriers) and the insured represent merely separable interests, which interests in the aggregate must not exceed the amount authorized for administrative settlement or compromise.

(c) The policies set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section with respect to subrogation arising from insurance contracts are applicable to all other types of subrogation.

§ 836.147 Limitation of settlement. (a) The authority of the Secretary of the Air Force to effect settlement of claims under this authorization is subject to the same limitation as the Suits in Admiralty Act (41 Stat. 525, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 741 et seq.), that is, a two-year period from the date of the origin of the cause of action. Settlement must be authorized by the Secretary and accepted by the claimant prior to the expiration of such period; otherwise, thereafter the cause of action ceases to exist and there is no authority to effect settlement administratively. The presentation of a claim or its consideration by the Department of the Air Force neither waives nor extends the two-year limitation period.

(b) When a claim cognizable under §§ 836.141 to 836.148 or notice of intention to file such a claim is received, the claimant or potential claimant will be advised by the receiving claims office of the comprehensive application of this time limit.

§ 836.148 Delegation of authority. Claims within the purview of §§ 837.11 to 837.16 may be disapproved if asserted in an amount not exceeding $1,000, or settled or compromised at a net amount not exceeding $1,000, by The Judge Advocate General or such other officers or persons as the Secretary of the Air Force may designate for that purpose.

DERIVATION: AFR 112–12, April 14, 1958.

§ 837.11 Purpose. Sections 837.11 to 837.16 prescribe the procedures for settling or compromising claims in favor of the United States, not the subject of pending litigation, which arise from marine accidents or incidents. It is published under the direction of the Secretary of Defense.

§ 837.12 Claims included. (a) Section 2 of the act of October 20, 1951 (65 Stat. 572; 10 U. S. C. 1862) and sec. 1 of the act of August 10, 1956, (sec. 1, 70A Stat. 592; 10 U. S. C. 9803), provide for the settlement or compromise of claims of a kind that is within the admiralty jurisdiction of a district court of the United States and of claims for damage caused by a vessel or floating object to property under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Air Force or property for which the Department has assumed an obligation to respond for damages, where the net amount payable to the United States does not exceed $500,000.

(b) Section 3 of the act of October 20, 1951 (65 Stat. 573; 10 U. S. C. 1863) and section 1 of the act of August 10, 1956 (section 1, 70A Stat. 592; 10 U. S. C. 9804), provide for the settlement or compromise of claims in any amount for salvage services (including towage) performed by the Department of the Air Force for any vessel.

§ 837.13 Claims exceeding $500,000. Claims in favor of the United States, except claims for salvage services, may not be settled or compromised under §§ 837.11 to 837.16 at a net amount exceeding $500,000 payable to the United States. However, all such claims otherwise within the scope of §§ 837.11 to 837.16 will be investigated and reported to The Judge Advocate General, Department of the Air Force.

§ 837.14 Delegation of authority. Claims under §§ 837.11 to 837.16, except claims for salvage services, may be settled or compromised at a net amount not exceeding $1,000 by The Judge Advocate General, Department of the Air Force, or such other officers or persons as the Secretary of the Air Force may designate for that purpose.

§ 837.15 Demands. Demand for the payment of claims in favor of the United States under §§ 837.11 to 837.16 may be made only by The Judge Advocate General, Department of the Air Force, or other designees of the Secretary of the Air Force.

§ 837.16 Procedures. Claims arising within the purview of §§ 837.11 to 837.16, will be investigated and processed in accordance with the provisions of §§ 836.1 to 836.6 or other applicable regulations. However, in addition, immediate notice of every marine occurrence under §§ 837.11 to 837.16 will be submitted by rapid means directly to the Staff Judge Advocate of the command responsible for claims in that geographical area and to Chief, Claims Division, Office of the Judge Advocate General, Headquarters USAF, Washington 25, D. C., by the command responsible for the investigation. This notice will furnish the names of the vessels, description of other property, the vessel operators, if known, any damage, injury, or death, whether arrangements for a commercial marine survey should be made and a brief description of the facts and circumstances involved.

PART 36—SPECIAL CANCELLATION

a. In § 36.1 Postmarking dies for advertising purposes, make the following changes:

1. Amend the section caption to read as follows: § 36.1 Description.

2. Rescind paragraph (b), retaining the illustration thereunder.

NOTE: The corresponding Postal Manual section is 146.12.

b. In § 36.2 Conditions, redesignate paragraphs (b), (c), (d), and (e) as paragraphs (c), (d), (e), and (f), respectively, and insert new paragraph (b) to read as follows:

(b) Special cancellations are not authorized for:

(1) Events of limited or purely local interest.

(2) Fraternal, political, religious, commercial, or trade organizations.

(3) Campaigns or events promoting the sale or use of private products or services.

(4) Idea or slogan promotion not directly connected with an event of general public interest and importance.

NOTE: The corresponding Postal Manual section is 146.22.

c. In § 36.3 Application, add the following sentence: "Postmasters at first- and second-class post offices will forward applications to the Postal Services Division, Bureau of Operations, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D. C. Postmasters at third- and fourth-class post offices will inform applicants that special cancellations may not be used at their offices."

d. Section 36.5 Revocation is redesignated as § 36.6; and new § 36.5 is inserted to read as follows:

§ 36.5 Use and disposition. Special die hubs are used at post offices in place of regular hubs for canceling postage stamps on letter mail. In addition to general use on locally mailed letters, special cancellations may be applied to philatelic envelopes submitted by mail. These envelopes must be addressed and must bear postage at the first-class rate. The special hub will be disposed of as directed by the Postal Services Division, Bureau of Operations. No hub will be turned over to a sponsor after use.

NOTE: The corresponding Postal Manual section is 146.5.

(R. S. 161, 396, as amended; secs. 1, 2, 42 Stat. 539, 540, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 22, 369, 39 U. S. C. 368)

PART 46—RURAL SERVICE

a. In § 46.4 Payment of postage, delete the last two sentences of paragraph (a) and substitute therefor the following: "When a rural carrier finds unstamped mail in a patron's box and the requisite amount of money for postage, he will normally collect the mail and money and affix the necessary postage. Mail will be expedited throughout the year if patrons keep a supply of stamps on hand and regularly affix stamps to all first- and third-class mail. The carrier has for sale stamps, stamped envelopes, and postal cards. For convenience and safety, patrons who leave mail and money in rural mail boxes to be collected by the carrier should either wrap the money, place it in a coin-holding receptacle, or attach it to the mail by means of a clip or other suitable fastener."

NOTE: The corresponding Postal Manual section is 156.4.

b. Section 46.6 Postal maps is hereby rescinded.

NOTE: The corresponding Postal Manual section is 146.6.

(R. S. 161, 396, as amended; sec. 1, 39 Stat. 423; 5 U. S. C. 22, 369, 39 U. S. C. 191, 192)

PART 48—UNDELIVERABLE MAIL

In § 48.4 Notice to sender on third- and fourth-class mail, add the following to paragraph (b) (1): "A change in address includes a change from a street address or other address to a post office box."

NOTE: The corresponding Postal Manual section is 158.42a.

(R. S. 161, 396, as amended; secs. 1, 2, 64 Stat. 210; 5 U. S. C. 22, 369, 39 U. S. C. 276a, 276b)

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

Appendix—Public Land Orders

[Public Land Order 1701]

[76094, 1223224]

CALIFORNIA

POWER SITE RESTORATION NO. 525 AND RESERVOIR SITE RESTORATION NOS. 23 AND 27; RESERVOIR SITE MODIFICATION NO. 424; PARTLY REVOKING EXECUTIVE ORDERS CREATING RESERVOIR SITE RESERVE NO. 17 AND POWER SITE RESERVES NOS. 308 AND 322; RESTORING LANDS FORMERLY IN POWER SITE CLASSIFICATIONS NOS. 138, 266, 267, 300, AND 366, AND IN POWER PROJECTS NOS. 120, 175, AND 1925.

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by section 1 of the act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 847; 43 U. S. C. 141) and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

1. The Executive Orders of November 8, 1912, December 11, 1912, and June 8, 1926, creating Power Site Reserves Nos. 308 and 322 and Reservoir Site Reserve No. 17, respectively, are hereby revoked so far as they affect the following-described lands:

a. Power Site Reserves 308 and 322

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 13 S., R. 24 E.,
Sec. 8, lots 10, 11, 12, SW¼NE¼, SE¼SE¼;
Sec. 9, NE¼SW¼, S½SW¼, SE¼;
Sec. 10, N½SW¼.
T. 12 S., R. 26 E.,
Sec. 17, SE¼SE¼;
Sec. 19, SE¼NE¼;
Sec. 20, NW¼NW¼.

The areas described aggregate 628 acres.

b. Reservoir Site Reserve No. 17

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 1 S., R. 14 E.,
Sec. 15, S½SW¼;
Sec. 17, NW¼NE¼, SE¼NW¼, SW¼, W½SE¼;
Sec. 20, W½NE¼, NW¼, NE¼SW¼, SE¼;
Sec. 21, N½NE¼, W½SW¼, SE¼SW¼, S½SE¼;
Sec. 22, W½NE¼, SE¼NE¼, NW¼, NE¼SW¼, S½SW¼;
Sec. 23, lots 12 to 16, incl.;
Sec. 26, N½ of lot 1, lots 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 10, and E½ of lot 11;
Sec. 27, W½NE¼, E½NW¼, W½SE¼;
Sec. 34, NW¼NE¼.
T. 2 S., R. 15 E.,
Sec. 31, lots 5 and 6.
T. 11 S., R. 25 E.,
Sec. 31, S½SE¼SW¼, NE¼SW¼SE¼.
T. 12 S., R. 24 E.,
Sec. 22, NE¼SW¼.
T. 12 S., R. 25 E.,
Sec. 4, W½SE¼;
Sec. 7, lot 1;
Sec. 9, W½NE¼, NW¼SE¼;
Sec. 16, SW¼SW¼;
Sec. 17, SE¼SE¼;
Sec. 27, N½NE¼.
T. 13 S., R. 24 E.,
Sec. 2, NW¼SE¼.

The areas described aggregate 2,840.64 acres.

2. In DA-915-California, issued June 25, 1957, the Federal Power Commission vacated the withdrawal created pursuant to the filing on February 15, 1921, of application for license for Project No. 175, and pursuant to filing of an application for preliminary permit on February 2, 1945, for Project No. 1925, so far as those projects affect the following-described lands:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 12 S., R. 24 E.,
Sec. 12, NE¼SE¼;
Sec. 22, NE¼SW¼.
T. 11 S., R. 25 E.,
Sec. 31, S½SE¼SW¼, NE¼SW¼SE¼, N½SE¼SE¼, NE¼SW¼, SE¼SE¼SE¼, N½ of lot 3, SW¼ of lot 3, S½ of lot 4, and NW¼ of lot 4.
T. 12 S., R. 25 E.,
Sec. 4, W½SE¼, SW¼NE¼;
Sec. 6, SW¼NE¼, NE¼ of lot 4, S½ of lot 2, and lot 3;
Sec. 8, NW¼NW¼;
Sec. 9, W½NE¼, NW¼SE¼;
Sec. 16, SW¼SW¼;
Sec. 23, NE¼NW¼, N½NE¼;

Sec. 32, SW¼NW¼.
T. 13 S., R. 25 E.,
Sec. 6, lots 3 and 4.
T. 12 S., R. 26 E.,
Sec. 18, lot 4.

The areas described aggregate approximately 1,060 acres.

3. In an order of March 18, 1957, the Geological Survey (22 F. R. 1993, Power Site Cancellation 118), cancelled Power Site Classification No. 266 of March 8, 1932, so far as it affects the following-described lands:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 1 S., R. 14 E.,
Sec. 15, SE¼SW¼;
Sec. 17, NW¼NE¼, SE¼NW¼, SW¼, W½SE¼;
Sec. 20, W½NE¼, NW¼, NE¼SW¼, SE¼;
Sec. 21, NW¼NE¼, W½SW¼, SE¼SW¼, S½SE¼;
Sec. 22, W½NE¼, E½NW¼, NE¼SW¼, S½SW¼;
Sec. 23, lots 12 to 16, incl.;
Sec. 26, N½ of lot 1, lots 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 10, and E½ of lot 11;
Sec. 27, W½NE¼, E½NW¼, and W½SE¼;
Sec. 34, NW¼NE¼.

The areas described aggregate 2,150 acres.

4. In an order of July 23, 1957, the Geological Survey (23 F. R. 6023, Power Site Cancellation 113; corrected in 23 F. R. 7545), cancelled Power Site Classifications Nos. 138, 267, 300, and 366, so far as they affect the following-described lands:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 12 S., R. 24 E.,
Sec. 22, NE¼SW¼;
Sec. 36, SE¼NE¼.
T. 13 S., R. 24 E.,

T. 12 S., R. 26 E.,
Sec. 15, SW¼SW¼;
Sec. 16, SE¼SE¼;
Sec. 18, lot 4;
Sec. 20, E½NW¼ and SW¼NW¼;
Sec. 21, lots 5, 6, and SE¼SW¼;
Sec. 27, SE¼NW¼, NE¼SW¼, and NW¼SE¼;
Sec. 28, lot 2;
Sec. 36, W½.

The areas described aggregate 2,901 acres.

5. The following lands have been patented:

T. 13 S., R. 24 E.,
Sec. 10, NE¼SW¼;
Sec. 30, E½SE¼.
T. 12 S., R. 25 E.,
Sec. 7, lot 1.

6. Most of the lands are located in eastern Fresno County. Many are within the Sierra and Sequoia National Forests, and some are withdrawn for reclamation purposes. They probably have some value as grazing lands.

7. No application for the lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

8. Subject to any valid existing rights, the requirements of applicable law, the State's preference rights provided by paragraph 10, and the provisions of existing withdrawals, the lands are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following (the national forest lands being opened to such forms of disposal, to which they have not previously been open, as may be made by law of such lands):

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on September 6, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1958, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the non-mineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

b. The lands in power withdrawals have been open to applications and offers under the mineral-leasing laws. They also have been open to location under the United States mining laws pursuant to the provisions of the act of August 11, 1955 (69 Stat. 683; 30 U. S. C. 621), except those described in paragraph 11, and except such as have been also withdrawn in Reservoir Site Reserve No. 17, which latter have been open to applications and offers under the mineral-leasing laws and to location for metalliferous minerals only. They will be open to location for nonmetalliferous minerals at 10:00 a. m. on December 6, 1958.

9. Persons claiming veterans preference rights must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

10. The restored lands, other than those which have been withdrawn only in Reservoir Site Reserve No. 17; shall be subject until 10:00 a. m. on November 1, 1958, to application by the State of California, under any statute or regulation applicable thereto, for rights-of-way for public highways or as a source of material for the construction and maintenance of such highways pursuant to section 24 of the Federal Power Act of June 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 1075; 16 U. S. C. 818) as amended.

11. Pursuant to DA–915–California, the following-described national forest lands are hereby opened, effective at 10:00 a. m. on September 6, 1958, to such forms of appropriation as may by law be made of such lands, subject to the provisions of section 24 of the Federal Power Act, to the State's preference-right provided by paragraph 10 of this order, and to the prior rights of the licensee for Power Project No. 120 to use the land for transmission line and telephone purposes as provided by the license for Project No. 120 as shown on the map designated Exhibit "K" (FPC No. 120-228, 229):

Sec. 24, NE¼NE¼.

12. The following lands described in paragraph 1b. of this order were opened on September 30, 1952, subject to section 24 of the Federal Power Act, pursuant to DA–744–California, issued June 6, 1950:

T. 2 S., R. 15 E.,
Sec. 31, lots 5 and 6.

13. Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, California Fruit Building, Sacramento, California.

ROGER ERNST,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR Parts 3, 4b, 6, 7]

[Draft Release No. 58–15]

AIRCRAFT EXTERIOR LIGHTING REQUIREMENTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments to Parts 3, 4b, 6, and 7 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules, communications must be received by September 15, 1958. Copies of such communications will be available after September 17, 1958, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

The requirements applicable to aircraft exterior lights were subject to a comprehensive evaluation by the Board during 1956. As a result, certain changes were made to these provisions, the most important of which were the establishment of detailed specifications for anti-collision lights and the application of uniform exterior lighting requirements to all types of newly certificated aircraft. Since the adoption of these amendments, Government and industry organizations have continued with programs to evaluate existing experimental lights and to develop new lighting systems. The main effort has been focused on anti-collision lights. Based on the information available to the Bureau on these programs, it appears that the currently effective provisions on anti-collision lights are in need of further evaluation.

The trend toward higher airplane speeds and the increase in the number of airplanes occupying the available airspace make it imperative that the Civil Air Regulations permit the use of the most effective lighting systems consistent with the basic standardization requirements. To this end, the Bureau intends to explore all of the issues in this matter and to recommend to the Board necessary regulatory action. On the basis of the information available to the Bureau, certain amendments are being proposed herein. The Bureau solicits interested persons to submit suggestions for changes to the regulations along with necessary substantiating data. Careful consideration will be given to all such suggestions submitted. Should the comments received as a result of this notice indicate the need for further exploration or coordination of the new issues raised, a meeting with interested persons may be arranged.

The changes being proposed herein entail a change of the upper limit of flash frequency for anti-collision lights from 100 to 180 flashes per minute and a change which would permit the use of only the basic three navigation lights (red and green wing lights and the white tail lights) in lieu of an anti-collision light system provided that such lights meet the requirements with respect to intensities, field of coverage, and flashing rates currently applicable to both the navigation and anti-collision light systems.

The usefulness of an exterior lighting system for effective collision avoidance is dependent on the interpretation given to its signal by those viewing it. The prime functions of the lighting system are to provide conspicuity, direction, and altitude information. A broad standard encompassing many different lighting systems makes interpretation of the light signal more difficult; and confusing, erroneous, or delayed interpretations are more probable. The most effective lighting system, therefore, would be the simplest possible system which affords sufficient conspicuity and provides the other necessary information.

Considering the foregoing and in light of future trends and developments, it appears that complete standardization of aircraft exterior lighting systems cannot be delayed indefinitely without adversely affecting safety. The Bureau is of the view that such standardization should be effected as soon as possible. Any broadening of the standards at this time would tend to defeat this objective and this can be justified only if it will result in exterior lighting systems significantly superior to those permitted by the currently effective regulations. In view of the foregoing, it is requested that interested persons submit comments with respect to currently known developments or those predictable for the foreseeable future which would warrant further broadening of the currently effective standards.

Some of the items which the Bureau has considered in its preparation of the proposed amendments to the regulations are as follows:

1. Field of coverage. The present field of coverage requirement for anti-collision lights permits an obstruction only in the aft direction to accommodate the vertical tail. No obstruction is permitted in the forward direction. The objective of this regulation is to provide an unrestricted view of light in virtually all directions from the airplane. The practical effect of this regulation is to require that two anti-collision lights be installed, one on the top and one on the bottom of the airplane. This dual installation is said to present difficulties for small airplanes certificated under Part 3 of the Civil Air Regulations. With respect to Part 3, a proposal was included as Item 7 on the Proposed Agenda for this year's Airworthiness Review (Civil Air Regulations Draft Release No. 58–1A). Comments received on this proposal indicate that there are also problems peculiar to rotorcraft.

It is the Bureau's opinion that the proposed regulations will eliminate most of these associated problems and, therefore, Item 7 has been withdrawn from the 1958 Annual Airworthiness Review procedure. Should comment on these proposed rules indicate that significant problems still exist relative to these aircraft, the Board will consider these problems in its promulgation of the regulation.

For at least one large turbine-powered airplane, it has been indicated that some obstructions to the anti-collision light in the forward direction from such protuberances as masts and drains cannot always be avoided. Currently, the obstruction of this light in the forward direction by such minor objects is not permitted by the regulations. Although no change is being proposed in this regard, the Bureau would be receptive to the submittal of comments with respect to the practicability of the anti-collision light obstruction requirements.

A proposal has been received by the Bureau that the dihedral angles of position lights be changed to permit the use of position light installations dividing the horizontal plane into three equal areas of 120 degrees each. It appears that the present requirement, dividing the horizontal plane into two arcs of 110 degrees and one of 140 degrees is based upon tradition with no specific objective basis. Therefore, it appears that some consideration of this proposal might be warranted.

2. Flash frequencies. From tests on representative type flashing lights, it was found some time ago that the optimum flash frequencies from the standpoint of attention attraction were of the order of 60–80 flashes per minute. However, further tests indicated that flash frequencies beyond these limits also were satisfactory. The currently effective regulations for anti-collision lights permit 180 flashes per minute in overlap areas. Experience has shown little or no difficulty in distinguishing individual flashes at such frequencies, and it is believed that the flash rate of anti-collision lights can be raised without undue loss of conspicuity. For these reasons, it is proposed to extend the upper limit of flash frequencies from 100 to 180 flashes per minute. With respect to the lower limit, the Bureau can find no substantiation at this time for lowering it; however, based on previous testing, it appears that a somewhat higher limit is worthy of further consideration.

3. Light intensities. The currently effective regulations specify minimum intensities for anti-collision lights. The intensities prescribed were representative of the capability of the lights under development at the time of adoption of these regulations. It should be noted that the currently effective regulations prescribe minimum intensities and do not prohibit the use of higher intensity lights. These regulations have been in effect only since April 1, 1957, and the Bureau is unaware of the achievement of any significant advances relative to lighting intensities at this time. The Bureau considers that there is a continued need for improvement in aircraft conspicuity by providing higher intensity lights and is interested in information as to the practicability of attaining significant increases in the foreseeable future.

4. Color. The color presently specified by the regulations for anti-collision lights is aviation red. This color was chosen on the basis of extensive experimentation and judicious evaluation of the best information available to the Board.

Since the development of the condenser-discharge lamp, there has been continued representations made by some segments of the industry that the characteristic white light emitted therefrom is more effective than a red light. The proponents of this light claim that the human eye has greater peripheral vision for white light, hence an airplane incorporating such a light would be detected in a shorter period of time than an airplane with a red light under comparable conditions. In further regard to the increased conspicuity claimed to be provided by a white light, it is stated that a clear glass transmits more light than a colored filter, hence more brilliance is possible with a white light. Relative to the issue of conspicuity against a white background, it is claimed that the high color temperature of the condenser-discharge light renders it quite distinctive against the background of the white incandescent lights of a city. No conclusive objective data determined under controlled conditions have as yet been received by the Bureau relative to this question. Preliminary results of evaluations conducted of the white light have raised some questions with respect to possible pilot confusion in high density areas around airports and with respect to the extent of increased peripheral vision at near threshold distances.

On the other hand, proponents of the red light contend that there are several advantages of the red light in comparison to the white light. Some of the more important ones are: Easier recognition against an urban background, less distraction to the pilot from light scatter in hazy or cloudy atmospheric conditions, less adverse effect on the pilot's visual adaptation to darkness.

The Bureau has not included any specific proposal to change the red color required for anti-collision lights. However, it is realized that color is one of the relatively important issues in this matter and the Bureau's final decision in taking any regulatory action in this respect will depend on the data and information received.

5. Intelligence from exterior lighting systems. In addition to the basic purpose of providing conspicuity, the exterior lighting system of an airplane also has the function of indicating direction and attitude of flight. For this purpose, the red, green, and white position lights have gained general acceptance. New concepts in direction and attitude indication have been introduced experimentally. The Bureau has not received any objective evaluation which would indicate that the newly developed systems have shown a degree of superiority to the existing position-light direction indications to warrant a change in this respect at this time.

Some proponents of the white light have advocated the use of an arrangement of exterior lighting consisting of the system currently required by the regulations and of two high intensity white lights located under the wings in the vicinity of the tip area. The advantages claimed for this arrangement are that it lessens the degree of pilot annoyance, increases the effectiveness of attitude information in the critical areas, and provides range information. The Bureau wishes to obtain data from which this arrangement can be evaluated along with views as to the advisability of broadening the regulations to encompass this system. The Bureau is also particularly interested in information with respect to the effectiveness of range intelligence from the system of lights currently in operation with respect to its relative importance to collision avoidance.

Another lighting system has been proposed which basically expands the function of the position lights to include the intensity and flashing requirements of the anti-collision lights. The Bureau believes that the idea of such a combination is not inconsistent with the requirements that an exterior lighting system provide conspicuity and information relative to the direction, attitude, and possibly range of the airplane, and that this system might well be regarded as having the features that have a reasonable probability of being within the limits dictated by complete standardization. The use of position lights as anti-collision lights does not appear to constitute a major departure from the existing exterior lighting standards. In view of the foregoing, the Bureau proposes to recommend a change to exterior lighting standards to permit the use of such a lighting system.

6. Daytime lighting. There have been proposals to use anti-collision lights in the daytime as a means of increasing conspicuity. There is no requirement, at present, for such use nor are there any standards specifically applicable to lighting systems intended for such use. It is possible that some benefit might be realized through the daylight use of lights and that such use of lights should be encouraged. In addition, the use of highly fluorescent paints appears to have promise in this regard. The existing regulations do not offer any deterrent to such use of lights or paints. There appears to be no basis under existing regulations to prohibit the daytime use of any reasonable lighting system that does not in itself have a harmful effect upon the crew or upon the characteristics of the airplane on which it is installed even though such a light system might not be acceptable for night use. The possible benefits of daylight lighting can be determined only after extensive service experience has been realized. Accordingly, the Bureau does not feel that any specific regulatory action is needed relative to this subject at the present time.

7. Facilitation of experimentation with exterior lights. To encourage further developments in the field of exterior lighting, the Board adopted Special Civil Air Regulation No. SR–392B as well as its predecessors. The objective was to give an opportunity to install experimental lighting systems on airplanes for purposes of service test, evaluation, and demonstration. Consistent with this objective, the number of installations permitted and the duration of such installations were limited. Representation has been made to the Board that the number of installations should be increased from the 15 units now permitted, and that the 6-month duration of the installations permitted should be increased. It is believed that the limitations expressed in SR–392B are appropriate for the intended purpose of limited evaluation and demonstration that can ordinarily be accomplished readily within such limitations. The degree of control incorporated with the type of operations that have been accomplished to date under SR–392B is such that only qualitative evaluations have been realized and the data have generally been inconclusive. It was anticipated that any experimental system with promising characteristics would, after such demonstrations, be subjected to comparative evaluation under controlled conditions to make a meaningful determination of its relative merits. It is understood that some work toward this end is being performed. In view of the above, the Bureau feels that no change is necessary in the limitations of SR–392B at this time.

In accordance with the foregoing, notice is hereby given that the Bureau proposes to recommend to the Board that Parts 3, 4b, 6, and 7 of the Civil Air Regulations be amended as follows:

1. By amending the introductory paragraph of § 3.705 of Part 3 by adding at the beginning of the first sentence the following clause "Except as provided by paragraph (e) of this section,".

2. By amending § 3.705 (b) by deleting the words "not more than 100 cycles per minute" in the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the words "not more than 180 cycles per minute", and by deleting the last sentence.

3. By amending § 3.705 by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 3.705 Anti-collision light system.

(e) If a position light system is installed which complies with the provisions of §§ 3.700 to 3.703 and this section with the exception of paragraph (c) of this section, it shall be considered that the requirement for the installation of an anti-collision light system is met.

4. By amending the introductory paragraph of § 4b.637 of Part 4b by adding at the beginning of the first sentence the following clause "Except as provided by paragraph (e) of this section,".

5. By amending § 4b.637 (b) by deleting the words "not more than 100 cycles per minute" in the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the words "not more than 180 cycles per minute", and by deleting the last sentence.

6. By amending § 4b.637 by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 4b.637 Anti-collision light system.

(e) If a position light system is installed which complies with the provisions of §§ 4b.632 to 4b.635 and this section with the exception of paragraph (c) of this section, it shall be considered that the requirement for the installation of an anti-collision light system is met.

7. By amending the introductory paragraph of § 6.637 of Part 6 by adding at the beginning of the first sentence the following clause "Except as provided by paragraph (e) of this section,".

8. By amending § 6.637 (b) by deleting the words "not more than 100 cycles per minute" in the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the words "not more than 180 cycles per minute", and by deleting the last sentence.

9. By amending § 6.637 by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 6.637 Anti-collision light system.

(e) If a position light system is installed which complies with the provisions of §§ 6.632 to 6.635 and this section with the exception of paragraph (c) of this section, it shall be considered that the requirement for the installation of an anti-collision light system is met.

10. By amending the introductory paragraph of § 7.637 of Part 7 by adding at the beginning of the first sentence the following clause "Except as provided by paragraph (e) of this section,".

11. By amending § 7.637 (b) by deleting the words "not more than 100 cycles per minute" in the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the words "not more than 180 cycles per minute", and by deleting the last sentence.

12. By amending § 7.637 by adding a new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 7.637 Anti-collision light system.

(e) If a position light system is installed which complies with the provisions of §§ 7.632 to 7.635 and this section with the exception of paragraph (c) of this section, it shall be considered that the requirement for the installation of an anti-collision light system is met.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and may be changed in the light of comments received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

[Draft Release No. 58-14]

VOLUNTARY FLIGHT HAZARD REPORTING PROGRAM

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board a new Special Civil Air Regulation to supersede Special Civil Air Regulation No. SR–416, Voluntary Pilot Report of Near Mid-Air ("Near-Miss") Collision.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed regulation by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rule, communications must be received by Sept. 30, 1958. Copies of such communications will be available after Oct. 2, 1958, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Special Civil Air Regulation No. SR–416, Voluntary Pilot Report of Near Mid-Air ("Near-Miss") Collision, was adopted by the Board, February 23, 1956, for the purpose of securing valid data on the circumstances surrounding the near collision of aircraft in flight.

Under the terms of the regulation, assurance was given that no disciplinary action would be taken as a result of information secured from the report and that no use would be made of the information in any proceeding under the Civil Air Regulations. Also, the identity of any reporting pilot was to be held in strict confidence by the Board.

At the program's inception, questionnaires for pilot use in reporting incidents were distributed, and wide publicity was given in regard to the Board's action in the matter. Up to January 1, 1958, approximately 3,000 reports of near-collision incidents were reported to the Board. These reports were analyzed carefully, and statistical factors concerning them were developed. Reports furnishing the statistical results were prepared and issued to the public on the factors of near collisions reported for the last four months of 1956, and the first two quarters of 1957. In addition, special reports were compiled and released to Members of Congress and the Press.

For some time, it has been apparent that the percentage of each statistical factor on which records were kept was reaching predicability. That is, the record of an environmental factor, such as type of clearance, altitude, aircraft type, etc., will break into percentages varying slightly from percentages derived from reports of previous periods. Since the environmental factors of "near-miss" data on hand exhibit a nearly static quality of predicability which would cause statistical reports issued in the future to be merely repetitions of current statistics, the Bureau does not believe that the continued issuance of reports in their present form will serve a useful purpose and accordingly will discontinue them. However, there would continue to be made available to interested persons those statistics which have already been compiled under the present regulation with respect to "near-misses."

The excellent response of pilots to the present program, and the desirability of collecting broader information bearing upon aviation safety, leads to the belief that the program should be expanded to include more than just the reporting of "near-misses." Such an expanded program would be instituted through a new special regulation to supersede SR–416 which would encourage any airman aware of in-flight, ground, or procedural hazards to report them to the Board. Every aspect of aviation involves safety problems and all airmen will be encouraged to bring these problems to light. Reports would be handled as before; namely, the anonymity of the reporter would be guaranteed, and assurance would be given that the information reported would not be used in any enforcement, remedial, or disciplinary proceeding under the Civil Air Regulations.

The program under consideration would place less emphasis on the statistical aspects of the reports and direct attention primarily to the particular circumstances involved in each report. Persons who are aware of problems or hazards often have given consideration to ways of solving the problem or coping with the hazard. The suggestion of means of eliminating or mitigating hazards would be encouraged and the suggestions should be of value. It is not intended to issue statistical reports on the information received pursuant to this special regulation; however, it will be studied and evaluated to determine the most appropriate action to be taken to eliminate or mitigate reported hazards to air commerce.

The widespread interest and participation which led to the adoption of the present reporting program make it essential that the reasons for the broadening of the information gathering program be fully understood. For this reason, should the comments received concerning this proposal indicate a desire for further discussion, a meeting will be held for that purpose.

In view of the foregoing, the Bureau of Safety hereby gives notice that it proposes to recommend that the Board adopt a Special Civil Air Regulation, to supersede SR–416, as follows:

Contrary provisions of the Civil Air Regulations notwithstanding, information voluntarily submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Board by any pilot of any aircraft, mechanic, air traffic controller, or by any other airman giving the facts, conditions, and circumstances surrounding any potential or existing hazard, unsafe practice or condition, or any other danger to aircraft or air commerce, wherever it might occur, shall not be used to initiate, aid, or abet any enforcement, remedial, or disciplinary proceeding under the Civil Air Regulations promulgated by the Board pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The identity of the pilot or person making such report, if known, and any information which might be used to establish such identity, shall be held in strict confidence by the Civil Aeronautics Board, and the information derived therefrom shall be used by the Board in the development of corrective safety measures only, notwithstanding that a violation of the Civil Air Regulations is disclosed by such report: Provided, That where information of such violation of a civil air regulation is obtained by other means, the fact that the violation was voluntarily reported will not preclude enforcement, remedial, or other disciplinary proceedings that are initiated on the basis of such other information.

This special regulation is proposed under the authority of Titles VI and VII of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and may be changed in the light of comments received in response to this notice of proposed rule making.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

[Classification Order 24]

WYOMING

SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION

JULY 31, 1958.

1. Pursuant to authority delegated to me by the Wyoming State Supervisor, Bureau of Land Management, under Part II of Order of Delegation filed November 21, 1956 (21 F. R. 9147), I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C. 682a) as amended, the following described public lands in Natrona County, Wyoming, for lease and sale for residence purposes:

SIXTH PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN, WYOMING

T. 32 N., R. 79 W.,
Sec. 19, Lot 4, Lot 9, SE¼SW¼, SW¼SE¼.

containing 145.39 acres.

2. Classification of the above described lands by this order segregates them from all appropriations, including locations under the mining laws, except as to applications under the mineral leasing laws.

3. The lands classified by this order shall not become subject to application under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, until it is so provided by an order to be issued by an authorized officer, opening the lands to drawing cards with a preference right to veterans of World War II and of the Korean conflict and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the Act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 497; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended.

4. All valid applications filed prior to 9:00 a. m., March 3, 1946, will be granted, as soon as possible, the preference right provided for by 43 CFR 257.5 (a).

IDAHO

NOTICE OF PROPOSED WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION OF LANDS

JULY 31, 1958.

U. S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Reclamation has filed an application, Serial No. Idaho 08932, for the withdrawal of the lands described below, from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws and general mining laws but not the mineral leasing laws. The applicant desires the land for reclamation purposes as provided by section 3 of the Act of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388).

For a period of thirty days from the date of publication of this notice, persons having cause may present their objections in writing to the undersigned official of the Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, Box 2237, Boise, Idaho.

If circumstances warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place, which will be announced.

The determination of the Secretary on the application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A separate notice will be sent to each interested party of record.

The lands involved in the application are:

NOTICE OF PROPOSED WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION OF LANDS

JULY 30, 1958.

The Department of Commerce, Civil Aeronautics Administration has filed an application, Serial No. LA–0152528, for the withdrawal of the lands described below, from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws including the mining and mineral leasing laws.

The applicant desires the land for an eight channel UHF/VHF Air Navigation facility. Four sites, separated by approximately 1000 feet, are required for proper operation and stability of the proposed facility.

For a period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice, persons having cause may present their objections in writing to the undersigned official of the Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, 215 West Seventh Street, Los Angeles 14, California.

If circumstances warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place, which will be announced.

The determination of the Classification Officer on the application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A separate notice will be sent to each interested party of record.

The lands involved in the application are:

OREGON

NOTICE OF PROPOSED WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION OF LANDS

JULY 29, 1958.

The Corps of Engineers, United States Army, has filed an application, Serial No. Oregon 05952, for the withdrawal of the lands described below, subject to valid existing rights, from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws, including the mining and mineral leasing laws, except that the timber now and hereafter growing on the below-described revested Oregon and California Railroad Grant lands shall remain under the administration of the Bureau of Land Management; and said timber shall be managed, sold, cut, and removed in conformity with the principles of sustained yield as provided in the act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874).

The applicant desires the land for the Department of the Air Force in connection with the Klamath Falls Air Force Station as a navigational aid facility.

For a period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice, all persons who wish to submit comments, suggestions, or objections in connection with the proposed withdrawal may present their views in writing to the undersigned officer of the Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, 809 N. E. Sixth Avenue, Portland 12, Oregon.

If circumstances warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place which will be announced.

The determination of the Secretary on the application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A separate notice will be sent to each interested party of record.

The lands involved in the application are:

INDUSTRIE-WARENVERKEHR

ORDER DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of George Eigler, doing business under the firm name and style of Industrie-Warenverkehr, Karlsgasse 20, Vienna IV, Austria, respondent; Case No. 250.

George Eigler, doing business under the firm name and style of Industrie-Warenverkehr, the respondent, was charged by the Agent-in-Charge, Investigation Staff, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, United States Department of Commerce, with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, in that, as alleged, he induced the issuance by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce of an export license authorizing the exportation of 200 tons of tetraethyl lead to a named consignee in Austria by representing falsely that the entire 200 tons had been ordered by said consignee and thereafter, in knowing violation of the terms of said license, he diverted 100 tons thereof to an unauthorized consignee. He was duly served with a copy of the charging letter and answered the same, admitting the ultimate charges and pleading that, had he known the consequences, he would not have done what he did.

The respondent has been denied all export privileges since December 17, 1957. (22 F. R. 10310, Dec. 20, 1957; 23 F. R. 1180, Feb. 25, 1958; 23 F. R. 2232, Apr. 4, 1958.)

In accordance with the practice, this case was referred to the Compliance Commissioner, who has reviewed the evidence and submitted to the undersigned his report and recommendation, which, upon the facts as hereinafter found, appears to be fair and just and is therefore adopted.

Now, after considering the entire record, including the report and recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner, I hereby make the following findings of fact:

1. At all times hereinafter mentioned, George Eigler, doing business under the firm name and style of Industrie-Warenverkehr in Vienna, Austria, was an independent contractor engaged in the servicing of accounts in Austria, to which accounts an American corporation from time to time exported various petroleum products, including tetraethyl lead, a strategic commodity.

2. On or about April 2, 1957, an Austrian purchaser, one of the accounts served by Eigler, notified him that during the year 1957 it would purchase 200 tons of tetraethyl lead from the American corporation and that it desired as a first delivery 100 tons thereof.

3. On or about the 11th day of May 1957, with the approval of the Austrian purchaser, Eigler obtained on its behalf an official Austrian government import certificate allowing it to purchase from the American corporation as much as 200 tons of tetraethyl lead for the amount of dollars therein provided.

4. Although Eigler had authorization to request on behalf of the Austrian purchaser only 100 tons of tetraethyl lead as a first delivery, on June 13, 1957, he sent to the American corporation, the supplier thereof, an order requesting July shipment of 200 tons and, in support of said order, at the same time transmitted to the American exporter the said import certificate and thereby represented to and led the American corporation to believe that the Austrian purchaser had requested delivery of the entire 200 tons.

5. In reliance on that representation and believing that the Austrian purchaser had in fact requested 200 tons, the American exporter applied to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce for a validated export license authorizing it to ship to the Austrian purchaser 200 tons of tetraethyl lead and, in and by said application, the American exporter did represent to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce its said belief that the Austrian purchaser was the ultimate consignee of said tetraethyl lead and that the same would be consumed ultimately in Austria and, further in support of said application, the American exporter attached thereto the said import certificate.

6. In due course and in reliance upon said representations and import certificate, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce issued a validated export license authorizing the exportation of said 200 tons of tetraethyl lead by the American corporation to the Austrian purchaser for ultimate consumption in Austria.

7. In accordance with established arrangements, the goods were routed to Austria via Trieste and the license named a forwarding agent there as intermediate consignee.

8. The American corporation exported the tetraethyl lead from the United States on or about the 16th day of July 1957, for delivery to the Austrian corporation by way of the forwarding agent, the designated intermediate consignee, at Trieste.

9. The bill of lading and the commercial invoice issued in connection with said exportation had endorsed thereon destination control notices restricting delivery of the goods to Austria as the ultimate destination and warning that diversion contrary to United States law was prohibited.

10. The originals and a number of copies thereof were sent by the American corporation to Eigler on or about the 6th day of August 1957, for the purpose of enabling him to supervise and arrange for ultimate delivery of the tetraethyl lead to the Austrian purchaser.

11. Although on or about July 25, 1957, the Austrian purchaser notified Eigler that it desired to receive and therefore requested delivery of the remaining 100 tons of its 200 ton commitment to the American corporation and, although at that time Eigler knew that the entire 200 tons of tetraethyl lead had been shipped from the United States by the American exporter, he continued to conceal from the American exporter that of the 200 tons already shipped the Austrian purchaser had originally requested delivery of only 100 tons and, instead, on that day he sent to the American corporation the Austrian purchaser's request which was in fact only for the second 100 tons, and thereby made it appear to the American corporation that the Austrian purchaser was in fact ordering a third 100 tons.

12. Having been informed by the American corporation of the sailing date and of the name of the vessel on which the 200 tons of tetraethyl lead had been exported from the United States, Eigler ascertained that the vessel would discharge its cargo at Trieste at about the middle of August 1957.

13. In anticipation of such discharge, and subsequent to the time when he knew that the Austrian purchaser was ready to take delivery of 200 tons of tetraethyl lead, Eigler, either as the result of an agreement or understanding previously made or as the result of a meeting arranged for him at Zurich during the time between receipt from the Austrian purchaser of the request for the second 100 tons and the arrival of the goods at Trieste, entered into an agreement with a person (whom the Bureau of Foreign Commerce has been unable to locate or identify), which person (under what appears to be an assumed name), upon the stationery of a defunct corporation, agreed to purchase from Eigler 100 tons tetraethyl lead on cars at Rosenbach, Austria, for United States dollars to be paid in cash in Zurich against delivery of documents.

14. Said agreement provided further that Eigler was to place the 100 tons of tetraethyl lead at the disposal of a named Austrian forwarder for shipping to Rosenbach, a border railroad station in Austria.

15. The 200 tons of tetraethyl lead arrived at Trieste on August 14, 1957, and Eigler, having been entrusted with the documents of title, went from Zurich, where he had made the agreement with the phantom person or defunct corporation, to Trieste, obtained physical control of the goods, and arranged for the division of the 200 tons into one lot of 311 drums and two lots of 156 and 155 drums respectively.

16. In acordance with his agreement with the phantom or defunct buyer, and after directing delivery of 100 tons to the Austrian purchaser, both personally and by instructions through his own forwarder in Vienna, Eigler caused the remaining 100 tons, consisting of 311 drums, to be loaded on cars consigned to Rosenbach railroad station for the disposal of the Viennese forwarder designated in the contract between him and said buyer.

17. The said 100 tons or 311 drums were then transported out of Austria into Czechoslovakia without permission from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

And from the foregoing, the following are my conclusions:

The respondent, Georg Eigler,

A. Knowingly made and caused to be made false representations to and concealed material facts from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce in violation of § 381.5 of the Export Regulations;

B. Received goods exported from the United States knowing that with respect thereto a violation of the export control law, the regulations, and export license was about to and was intended to occur contrary to § 381.4 of the Export Regulations; and

C. Knowingly diverted and transshipped goods exported from the United States in accordance with export control documents restricting their delivery to the person and destination named therein by diverting, transshipping, and delivering the said goods to another person at a different destination and thereby effected an exportation to a party and destination other than those authorized in the export control documents, all in violation of §§ 381.6, 381.8, and 381.9 of the Export Regulations.

After reviewing all the details of the case and respondent's general conduct, the Compliance Commissioner, in his report, said:

> In summary, therefore, in arranging for, consummating, and then seeking to obfuscate this diversion of 100 tons of strategic tetraethyl lead to a Communist destination, Eigler caused a false certificate to be presented to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce in support of the application for export license; he deceived and later lied to his principal about what had happened to the goods; he lied to his business associate and also to his customer; he slandered his business associate by falsely charging him with the diversion and he slandered his customer by saying it was slow in payment. He is completely untrustworthy and should be denied all export privileges so long as export controls are in effect.

Having concluded that the recommended action is fair, just, and necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law: It is hereby ordered:

I. Henceforth, and for the duration of export controls, the respondent, Georg Eigler, doing business under the firm name and style of Industrie-Warenverkehr, be and he hereby is suspended from and denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in any past, present, or future exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial of export privileges, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit participation by the respondent, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) as party or as representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document, (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States, and (d) in storing, financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of such exports from the United States.

II. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondent, but also to any person, firm, corporation, or business organization with which he may be related, now or hereafter, by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade involving exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

III. No person, firm, corporation, or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, shall, on behalf of or in any association with the respondent or any related party, without prior disclosure to, and specific authorization from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) apply for, obtain, or use any export license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any such prohibited activity, (b) order, receive, buy, sell, deliver, use, dispose of, finance, transport, forward, or otherwise service or participate in any exportation from the United States. Nor shall any such person, firm, corporation, or other business organization do any of the foregoing acts with respect to any exportation in which the respondent or any related party may have any interest or obtain any benefit of any kind or nature, direct or indirect.

Dated: August 4, 1958.

The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notice of change, July 8, 1958.
Purchaser: (1) United Gas Pipe Line Company, (2) Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company.
Rate schedule designation: (1) Supplement No. 6 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1. (2) Supplement No. 3 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Respondent).

The increased rate(s) and charge(s) so proposed are intended to reflect (in whole or in part) the additional "excise, license, or privilege tax" of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana pursuant to Act No. 8 of 1958 (House Bill No. 303), as approved on June 16, 1958, amending Title 47 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950. The Commission is advised that litigation is being instituted to challenge the constitutionality of the said Act No. 8 of 1958. In consideration of this fact, and in order to assure appropriate refund in the event said Act No. 8 of 1958 should be declared unconstitutional or otherwise held invalid by final judicial decision, it is deemed advisable to suspend the said proposed increased rates and charges until August 2, 1958, and thereafter to permit them to become effective as of that date; provided, that within 20 days from the date of this order Respondent shall file with the Secretary of the Commission an appropriate undertaking to assure such refund as may be ordered.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that Respondent's proposed increased rates be made effective as hereinafter provided and that Respondent be required to file an undertaking as hereinafter ordered and conditioned.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedules.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 2, 1958, and until such further time as each is made effective in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

(C) The rate(s), charge(s), and classification(s) set forth in the above-designated supplements to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedules shall be effective as of August 2, 1958: Provided, however, That within 20 days from the date of this order, Respondent shall execute and file with the Secretary of the Commission the agreement and undertaking described in paragraph (E) below.

(D) Respondent shall refund at such times and in such amounts to the persons entitled thereto, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission, the difference between the presently effective rates and charges and the proposed increased rates and charges hereby allowed to become effective in the event the additional tax of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana is for any reason held to be invalid. Should such additional tax eventually be held invalid and the State of Louisiana makes refund, with interest, of the tax monies collected pursuant to the said Act No. 8 of 1958, then, and in that event, a proportionate part of the interest so received by the Respondent herein shall be passed on and paid to the persons entitled thereto at such times and in such amounts, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission. Respondent shall bear all costs of any such refunding; shall keep accurate accounts in detail of all amounts received by reason of the increased rates or charges allowed by this order to become effective, for each billing period, specifying by whom and in whose behalf such amounts were paid; and shall report (original and four copies), in writing and under oath, to the Commission quarterly, or monthly if Respondent so elects, for each billing period, and for each purchaser, the billing determinants of natural gas sales to such purchasers and the revenues resulting therefrom, as computed under the rates in effect immediately prior to the date upon which the increased rates allowed by this order become effective, and under the rates allowed by this order to become effective, together with the differences in the revenues so computed.

(E) As a condition of this order, within 20 days from the date of issuance thereof, Respondent shall execute and file in triplicate with the Secretary of this Commission its written agreement and undertaking to comply with the terms of paragraph (D) hereof, signed by a responsible officer of the corporation, evidenced by proper authority from the board of directors, and accompanied by a certificate showing service of copies thereof upon all purchasers under the rate schedule involved, as follows:

Agreement and Undertaking of _____ to Comply with the Terms and Conditions of Paragraph (D) of Federal Power Commission's Order Making Effective Proposed Rate Changes.

In conformity with the requirements of the order issued _____, in Docket No. G-__, _____ hereby agrees and undertakes to comply with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of said order, and has caused this agreement and undertaking to be executed and sealed in its name by its officers, thereupon duly authorized in accordance with the terms of the resolution of its board of directors, a certified copy of which is appended hereto this _____ day of _____.

(Secretary)

Unless Respondent is advised to the contrary within 15 days after the date of filing such agreement and undertaking, the agreement and undertaking shall be deemed to have been accepted.

(F) If Respondent shall, in conformity with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of this order, make the refunds as may be required by order of the Commission, the undertaking shall be discharged; otherwise, it shall remain in full force and effect.

(G) Neither the supplements hereby suspended nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(H) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission.

LAMAR HUNT TRUST ESTATE

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 30, 1958.

Lamar Hunt Trust Estate (Hunt) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 27, 1958.
Purchaser: West Lake Natural Gasoline Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 1 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 7.
Effective date: July 31, 1958 effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Hunt states that the contract was entered into in good faith as the result of arm's length bargaining, the installment sale was designed to protect seller over the long term of the contract, the proposed increased price is an integral part of the original contract and merely fulfills the contractual obligations and to deny same would be a deprivation of property without due process of law.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 1 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 7 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 1 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 7.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 1, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioners Kline and Hussey dissenting).

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 2 to Herd Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.
Effective date: July 31, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Herd Oil states that the contract, including the price increase provision, was arrived at by arm's-length bargaining, and that the increased price is in all respects fair, reasonable and just and not above the prevailing price for gas in the area.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 2 to Herd Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 2 to Herd Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until December 31, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission. Commissioners Kline and Hussey dissenting.

REDFERN OIL CO.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 30, 1958.

Redfern Oil Company (Redfern) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 30, 1958.
Purchaser: El Paso Natural Gas Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 2 to Redfern's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.
Effective date: July 31, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Redfern states that the contract, including the price increase provision, was arrived at by arm's-length bargaining; that the increased price is in all respects fair, reasonable and just and not above the prevailing price for gas in the area.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 2 to Redfern's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 2 to Redfern's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until December 31, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioners Kline and Hussey dissenting).

Certain of the subject applications as filed and/or as amended, reflect amendments and supplements to basic contracts entered into subsequent to June 7, 1954, which affect the prices of the gas to be paid by the respective purchasers. In addition, certain of the basic sales contracts provide for proposed increases subsequent to June 7, 1964. Such matters are or will b subject to appropriate provisions of Part 154 of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act and will not be dealt with in these proceedings.

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on August 27, 1958, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications: Provided, however, That the Commisison may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 20, 1958. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[Docket No. G-15777]

HONOLULU OIL CORP. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 30, 1958.

Honolulu Oil Corporation et al. (Honolulu) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 26, 1958.
Purchaser: West Lake Natural Gas Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 1 to Honolulu's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6.
Effective date: July 31, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Honolulu cites the circumstances under which it is submitted and the pricing provision in the basic contract. In addition, Honolulu submits that the basic contract containing the price increase provision was negotiated at arm's length, the increased price is commensurate with other prices for similar gas in the area and is not unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or perferential.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 1 to Honolulu's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders: (A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 1 to Honolulu's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 1, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8

and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioners Kline and Hussey dissenting).

[Docket No. G-15695]

OLIN GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

ORDER FOR HEARING, SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES, AND ALLOWING INCREASED RATES TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

JULY 30, 1958.

Olin Gas Transmission Corporation (Olin), on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing five revised tariff sheets [1] to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volumes Nos. 1 and 3, by which Olin proposes to increase its rate for sale of gas in the amount of $104,684 annually to five purchasers [2] supplied with gas produced or gathered by Olin in the State of Louisiana.

The clause in the contracts between Olin and the buyers provide generally that the buyer will reimburse Olin for 75 percent (in the case of Rate Schedules F-1, F-3, and F-4) and 100 percent (in the case of Rate Schedules P-2 and P-3) of any additional taxes over those presently paid by Olin.

The increased rates and charges so proposed are intended to reflect (in whole or in part) the additional "excise, license, or privilege tax" of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana pursuant to Act No. 8 of 1958 (House Bill No. 303), as approved on June 16, 1958, amending Title 47 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950. The Commission is advised that litigation is being instituted to challenge the constitutionality of the said Act No. 8 of 1958. In consideration of this fact, and in order to assure appropriate refund in the event said Act No. 8 of 1958 should be declared unconstitutional or otherwise held invalid by final judicial decision, it is deemed advisable to suspend the said proposed increased rates and charges until August 2, 1958, and thereafter to permit them to become effective as of that date; provided, that within 20 days from the date of this order Olin shall file with the Secretary of the Commission an appropriate undertaking to assure such refund as may be ordered.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that the above-designated revised tariff sheets be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that Olin's proposed increased rates be made effective as hereinafter provided and that Olin be required to file an undertaking as hereinafter ordered and conditioned.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in the above-designated revised tariff sheets.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said First Revised Sheet No. 3 to Olin's FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 3 (RS F-1), First Revised Sheet No. 65 to Olin's FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 3 (RS F-3), First Revised Sheet No. 92 to Olin's FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 3 (RS F-4), Second Revised Sheet No. 7 to Olin's FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1 (RS P-2), and Second Revised Sheet No. 9 to Olin's FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1 (RS P-3), are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 2, 1958, and until such further time as each is made effective in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

(C) The rates, charges, and classifications set forth in the above-designated filings shall be effective as of August 2, 1958: Provided, however, That within 20 days from the date of this order, Olin shall execute and file with the Secretary of the Commission the agreement and undertaking described in paragraph (E) below.

(D) Olin shall refund at such times and in such amounts to the persons entitled thereto, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission, the difference between the presently effective rates and charges and the proposed increased rates and charges hereby allowed to become effective in the event the additional tax of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana is for any reason held to be invalid. Should such additional tax eventually be held invalid and the State of Louisiana makes refund, with interest, of the tax monies collected pursuant to the said Act No. 8 of 1958, then, and in that event, a proportionate part of the interest so received by Olin herein shall be passed on and paid to the persons entitled thereto at such times and in such amounts, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission. Olin shall bear all costs of any such refunding; shall keep accurate accounts in detail of all amounts received by reason of the increased rates or charges allowed by this order to become effective, for each billing period, specifying by whom and in whose behalf such amounts were paid; and shall report (original and four copies), in writing and under oath, to the Commission quarterly, or monthly if Olin so elects, for each billing period, and for each purchaser, the billing determinants of natural gas sales to such purchasers and the revenues resulting therefrom, as computed under the rates in effect immediately prior to the date upon which the increased rates allowed by this order become effective, and under the rates allowed by this order to become effective, together with the difference in the revenues so computed.

(E) As a condition of this order, within 20 days from the date of issuance thereof, Olin shall execute and file in triplicate with the Secretary of this Commission its written agreement and undertaking to comply with the terms of paragraph (D) hereof, signed by a responsible officer of the corporation, evidenced by proper authority from the board of directors, and accompanied by a certificate showing service of copies thereof upon all purchasers under the revised tariff sheets involved, as follows:

Agreement and Undertaking of Olin Gas Transmission Corporation to Comply with the Terms and Conditions of Paragraph (D) of Federal Power Commission's Order Making Effective Proposed Rate Changes

In conformity with the requirements of the order issued ----------, in Docket No. G-15695, Olin Gas Transmission Corporation hereby agrees and undertakes to comply with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of said order, and has caused the agreement and undertaking to be executed and sealed in its name by its officers, thereupon duly authorized in accordance with the terms of the resolution of its board of directors, a certified copy of which is appended hereto this ---- day of -----.

OLIN GAS TRANSMISSION CORPORATION.

By ----------

Attest:

(Secretary)

Unless Olin is advised to the contrary within 15 days after the date of filing such agreement and undertaking, the agreement and undertaking shall be deemed to have been accepted.

(F) If Olin shall, in conformity with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of this order, make the refunds as may be required by order of the Commission, the undertaking shall be discharged; otherwise, it shall remain in full force and effect.

(G) The revised tariff sheets hereby suspended shall not be changed until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(H) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

PAN AMERICAN PETROLEUM CORP.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 30, 1958.

Pan American Petroleum Corporation (Pan American) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 27, 1958.

Purchaser: Mississippi River Fuel Corporation.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 8 to Pan American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 19.

Effective date: July 31, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Pan American).

In support of the proposed two-step periodic rate increase, Pan American submits its usual supporting statements to the effect that the increased price is a matter of contractual obligation under a contract resulting from bona fide, arm's-length negotiations, and denial thereof would be confiscatory. Pan American states further that such pricing provisions are customary in the gas industry and the entirety of the pricing provisions in the contract is the rate thereunder. Pan American also cites increases in the cost of steel, drilling of wells, salaries and wages.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 8 to Pan American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 19 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 8 to Pan American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 19.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until December 31, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

PURE OIL CO.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 30, 1958.

The Pure Oil Company (Pure Oil) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, undated.

Purchaser: West Lake Natural Gasoline Company.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 1 to Pure Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 32.

Effective date: July 31, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Pure Oil cites the circumstances under which its filing is made and states that the proposed 5.5-cent price is well below the 10.0-cent ceiling increased price for Permian Basin gas and therefore should not be suspended.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 1 to Pure Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 32 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR, Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 1 to Pure Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 32.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 1, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioners Kline and Hussey dissenting).

CITIES SERVICE OIL CO. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 30, 1958.

The Cities Service Oil Company (Operator) et al. (Cities Service) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitute increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Supplementary Agreements, dated March 1, 1958.

Purchaser: Northern Natural Gas Company.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 25 to Cities Service's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 89.[1]

Effective date: July 31, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed redetermined rate increase, Cities Service filed copies of the instrument by which the seller and buyer agree to the increased rate as a result of the price being arbitrated to 12.0 cents per Mcf.

The increased rates and charges so proposed have not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 25 to Cities Service's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 89 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regu-

CITIES SERVICE OIL CO. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 30, 1958.

The Cities Service Oil Company (Operator) et al. (Cities Service) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently effective rate schedules for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Supplementary Agreements, dated March 1, 1958.

Purchaser: Northern Natural Gas Company.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement Nos. 77, 78, 79, 80, 81 and 82 to Cities Service's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 70.[1]

Effective date: July 31, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In suport of the proposed redetermined rate increases, Cities Service filed copies of the instrument by which the seller and buyer agree to the proposed 12.0 cents per Mcf rate.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ISSUANCE AND SALE AND ACQUISITION OF COMMON STOCK AND NOTES OF SUBSIDIARY

JULY 31, 1958.

In the matter of Yankee Atomic Electric Company, New England Power Company, Western Massachusetts Companies, Public Service Company of New Hampshire, Montaup Electric Company, File No. 70-3718.

Notice is hereby given that Yankee Atomic Electric Company ("Yankee"), a public-utility subsidiary of New England Electric System, a registered holding company; New England Power Company ("NEPCO"), a public-utility subsidiary of New England Electric System and an exempt holding company; Western Massachusetts Companies ("Western Massachusetts"), an exempt holding company; Public Service Company of New Hampshire ("New Hampshire"), a public-utility company and an exempt holding company; and Montaup Electric Company ("Montaup"), a public-utility subsidiary of Eastern Utilities Associates, a registered holding company, have filed a joint application-declaration, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and have designated sections 6, 7, 9, and 10 of the act and Rules 23, 42 (b) (2), and 50 (a) (1) and (a) (4) promulgated thereunder as applicable to transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Yankee intends to construct and operate a nuclear power plant of approximately 134,000 KW net electrical capacity. The total capital requirements, including construction costs and working capital, are estimated by Yankee at $57,000,000. The plant is presently scheduled for completion in 1960.

Prior to the issuance of any order herein Yankee will have outstanding $4,000,000 par value of common stock and $4,000,000 of non-interest bearing notes held by companies as shown below:

	Number of shares	Aggregate par value	Percent of total	Principal amount of short-term notes
New England Power Co.	12,000	$1,200,000	30.0	$1,200,000
The Connecticut Light and Power Co.	6,000	600,000	15.0	600,000
Boston Edison Co.	3,800	380,000	9.5	380,000
Central Maine Power Co.	3,800	380,000	9.5	380,000
The Hartford Electric Light Co.	3,800	380,000	9.5	380,000
Western Massachusetts Electric Co.	2,800	280,000	7.0	280,000
Public Service Company of New Hampshire	2,800	280,000	7.0	280,000
Montaup Electric Co.	1,800	180,000	4.5	180,000
Central Vermont Public Service Corp.	1,400	140,000	3.5	140,000
New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Co.	1,000	100,000	2.5	100,000
Cambridge Electric Light Co.	800	80,000	2.0	80,000
Total	40,000	4,000,000	100.0	4,000,000

Yankee proposes to issue and sell, 40,000 additional shares of common stock and the proceeds will be used to retire its then $4,000,000 of outstanding short-term notes. The shares will be offered to the stockholder companies for subscription at a price of $100 per share, as fixed by Yankee's board of directors, on the basis of one new share for each share presently held. Yankee also proposes, from time to time prior to December 31, 1958, to issue to its stockholder companies non-interest bearing promissory notes up to a maximum aggregate amount of $5,000,000 at any one time outstanding. Such notes will mature not more than one year from the date of issue. Such stockholder companies as are required to do so under the act and the rules thereunder seek Commission approval of their respective acquisitions of the common stock and notes herein proposed to be issued by Yankee.

The stockholder companies propose to acquire the additional shares of Yankee common stock and the notes in the proportions of their stockholdings indicated in the table above. Treasury funds will be used to effectuate such acquisitions. Upon completion of the proposed stock and note issues Yankee's total capitalization will be $8,000,000 par value of common stock and $5,000,000 of non-interest bearing promissory notes.

It is stated that New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, will perform incidental services in connection with the proposed transactions and such services will be performed at the actual cost thereof estimated not to exceed $2,500. Other expenses to be borne by Yankee are the Federal stamp taxes of $4,400 and a State filing fee of $2,000, making total estimated expenses of Yankee $8,900. The expense of the other applicants-declarants in connection with the proposed acquisition of the notes, including legal fees and the preparation of regulatory Commission applications, are estimated not to exceed $300 for NEPCO, $200 for Western Massachusetts, and $100 each for New Hampshire and Montaup.

It is represented that the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities has jurisdiction over the issue and sale of common stock by Yankee and over the note and stock acquisitions by such stockholder companies as are Massachusetts utility companies. A copy of the State commission order will be supplied by amendment.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 14, 1958 at 5:30 p. m., request in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application-declaration which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission orders a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date the application-declaration, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective in a manner similar to the procedure provided for in Rule 23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules promulgated under the act as provided in Rules 20 (a) and 100 thereof, or take such other action as it may deem appropriate.

By the Commission.

CORNUCOPIA GOLD MINES

ORDER SUMMARILY SUSPENDING TRADING

AUGUST 1, 1958.

In the matter of trading on the American Stock Exchange in the $.05 par value common stock of Cornucopia Gold Mines (File No. 1-3074).

I. The common stock, $.05 par value, of Cornucopia Gold Mines being listed and registered on the American Stock Exchange; and

II. The Commission on July 25, 1958, issued its order and notice of hearing under section 19 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (hereinafter called "the act") to determine at a hearing to be held on September 2, 1958, whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to suspend for a period not exceeding twelve months, or to withdraw, the registration of the common stock of Cornucopia Gold Mines (hereinafter called "registrant") on the American Stock Exchange for failure to comply with section 13 of the act and the rules and regulations adopted thereunder, and for failure to comply with the disclosure requirements of Regulation 14 adopted pursuant to section 14 (a) of the act.

On July 25, 1958 the Commission issued its order summarily suspending trading of said securities on the exchange pursuant to section 19 (a) (4) of the act for the reasons set forth in said order to prevent fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative acts or practices for a period of ten days from the date of the aforesaid order.

III. The Commission being of the opinion that the public interest requires the summary suspension of trading in such security on the American Stock Exchange and that such action is necessary and appropriate for the protection of investors; and

The Commission being of the opinion that such suspension is necessary in order to prevent fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative acts or practices, with the result that it will be unlawful under section 15 (c) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the Commission's Rule X-15C2-2 thereunder for any broker or dealer to make use of the mails or of any means or instrumentality of interstate commerce to effect any transaction in, or to induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, such security otherwise than on a national securities exchange.

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 19 (a) (4) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that trading in said securities on the American Stock Exchange be summarily suspended in order to prevent fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative acts or practices for a period of ten (10) days, August 4 to August 13, 1958, inclusive.

By the Commission.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Prohibitions of Imported Commodities

PART 1067—AVOCADOS

Pursuant to the provisions of section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), paragraph (a) (6) of § 1067.5 (Avocado Regulation No. 5; 23 F. R. 4352) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(6) Avocados of any variety not specified in subparagraphs (2) through (5) of this paragraph shall not be imported during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., August 10, 1958, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., August 25, 1958, unless the individual fruit in each lot of such avocados weigh at least 10 ounces: Provided, That any lot of such avocados may be imported without regard to the minimum weight requirements of this subparagraph if the exterior seedcoat of the individual fruit is of a brown color characteristic of a mature avocado, or if such avocados, when mature, normally change color to any shade of red or purple and any portion of the skin of the individual fruit has changed to the color normal for that fruit when mature.

Findings and determinations. (a) It is hereby determined, on the basis of the further information which is now available, that the requirements set forth in this amendment are comparable to the maturity regulation presently in effect for the same type of avocados grown in south Florida, which regulation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (§ 969.316; 23 F. R. 4349, 5476).

(b) It is hereby found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective time of this amendment beyond that hereinafter specified (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because (1) this amendment of the existing import regulations is necessary to effectuate the purposes of section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047); (2) compliance with this amendment to the avocado import restrictions will not require any special preparation which cannot be completed by the effective time; and (3) this amendment relieves restrictions on the importation of avocados into the United States.

Effective time. The provisions of this amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., August 10, 1958.

TOLERANCES FOR RESIDUES OF O,O-DIETHYL O-(2-ISOPROPYL-4-METHYL-6-PYRIMIDINYL) PHOSPHOROTHIOATE

A petition was filed with the Food and Drug Administration by Geigy Chemical Corporation, Ardsley, New York, requesting the establishment of tolerances for residues of O,O-diethyl O-(2-isopropyl-4-methyl-6-pyrimidinyl) phosphorothioate in or on certain raw agricultural commodities.

The Secretary of Agriculture has certified that this pesticide chemical is useful for the purposes for which tolerances are being established.

After consideration of the data submitted in the petition and other relevant material which show that the tolerance established in this order will protect the public health, and by virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter B—Hunting and Possession of Wildlife

PART 6—MIGRATORY BIRDS

OPEN SEASONS, BAG LIMITS, AND POSSESSION OF CERTAIN MIGRATORY GAME BIRDS

Basis and purpose. Section 3 of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended (40 Stat. 755; 16 U. S. C. 704), authorizes and directs the Secretary of the Interior, from time to time, having due regard for the zones of temperature and to the distribution, abundance, economic value, breeding habits, and times and lines of flight of migratory birds, to determine when, to what extent, and by what means, such birds or any part, nest or egg thereof, may be taken, captured, killed, possessed, sold, purchased, shipped, carried, or transported.

By notice of proposed rule making published on May 14, 1958 (23 F. R. 3275), the public was invited to submit views, data, or arguments in writing to the Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D. C., on or before June 20, 1958, and thus participate in the preparation of amendments to Part 6, Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, to be proposed for the purpose, among others, of specifying open seasons, certain closed seasons, means of hunting, shooting hours, and bag limits for migratory game birds.

Subsequently, after due consideration of data obtained through investigations conducted by personnel of the Fish and Wildlife Service, State game departments, and from other sources, the several State game departments were informed concerning the season lengths and daily bag and possession limits proposed to be prescribed for the 1958–59 seasons on rails, gallinules, woodcock, mourning and white-winged doves, and band-tailed pigeons. The State game departments were also invited to submit recommendations for hunting seasons in the respective States on applicable members of these species; such hunting seasons to conform to the season lengths, and to fall within a framework of opening and closing dates, as established by this Department.

Each State game department has furnished information concerning the hunting seasons desired for its State on those species of migratory game birds for which open seasons are now to be prescribed, and consideration having been given to all other relevant matters presented, it has been determined that §§ 6.41, 6.46, and 6.51 should be amended as indicated below.

1. Section 6.41 is amended to read as follows:

§ 6.41 Seasons and limits on doves and wild pigeons. Subject to the applicable provisions of the preceding sections of this part, the areas open to hunting, the respective open seasons (dates inclusive), and the daily bag and possession limits on the species of doves and wild pigeons designated in this section are prescribed between the dates of September 1, 1958, and January 15, 1959, as follows:

3. Section 6.51 is amended to read as follows:

§ 6.51 Seasons and limits on waterfowl, coots, and Wilson's snipe. Subject to the applicable provisions of the preceding sections of this part, the areas open to hunting, the respective open seasons (dates inclusive), and the daily bag and possession limits on the species of waterfowl and on coots and Wilson's snipe as designated in this section are prescribed between the dates of September 1, 1958, and February 15, 1959, as follows:

(a) Alaska.

	Ducks [1]	Geese [2]	Coots	Brant	Wilson's Snipe
Daily bag limits	7	5	15	3	8
Possession limits	14	10	15	6	8

[1] Ducks. In Wildlife Management Units 8, 9, 10, and 16 through 26, as described in 50 CFR 46.2, the daily bag limit for old-squaw, harlequin, scoter, and eider ducks and American and red-breasted merganser ducks is 10 singly or in the aggregate, and the possession limit is 20 singly or in the aggregate of all kinds of such ducks. These limits may be taken and possessed in addition to the limits prescribed in the above table for other ducks. In Units 7 and 11 to 15, both inclusive, the bag limits on American and red-breasted merganser ducks are 5 daily and 10 in possession, singly or in the aggregate of both kinds, which limits may be in addition to the limits prescribed in the above table for other ducks.

[2] Geese. The daily bag limit must include not less than two snow geese and the possession limit must include not less than 4 snow geese.

4. Paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of § 6.51 are deleted.

(Sec. 3, 40 Stat. 755, as amended; 16 U. S. C. 704. Interpret or apply E. O. 10250, 16 F. R. 5085, 3 CFR, 1951 Supp.)

The taking of migratory game birds is presently prohibited. The foregoing amendments will serve to permit the taking of designated species of such birds within specified periods of time beginning as early as September 1, as has been the case in prescribing hunting seasons in past years. The hunting public has over the years become accustomed to a September 1 opening date in many areas on certain species of migratory game birds and many hunters make hunting reservations well in advance of such date. Because of this fact and since these amendments will not be published at a date early enough to allow the usual 30-day period of publication afforded by the Administrative Procedure Act of June 11, 1946 (60 Stat. 237), if hunting is to be permitted on September 1 and the public to be properly informed in advance, it is clearly impracticable to authorize such period of publication. Accordingly, since it is not in the public interest to afford the usual period of publication and since these amendments serve to relieve existing restrictions, the provisions of the exceptions provided in section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act of June 11, 1946, are hereby invoked and the amendments shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Issued at Washington, D. C., and dated August 4, 1958.

FRED A. SEATON,
Secretary of the Interior.

Subchapter F—Alaska Commercial Fisheries

PART 105—ALASKA PENINSULA AREA

INCREASE IN FISHING TIME

AUGUST 7, 1958.

Basis and purpose. On the basis of reduced fishing effort and achieved escapements of red salmon in the Bear River section of the Alaska Peninsula Area, increased fishing time is warranted.

Therefore, paragraph (a) of § 105.9 is amended by deleting all after "6 a. m. Thursday" and substituting in lieu thereof the following: "6 p. m. Thursday to 6 a. m. Friday, 6 p. m. Friday to 6 a. m. Saturday, and 6 p. m. Saturday to 6 a. m. Monday, 1958."

This relaxation must be effected immediately if full utilization of the run is to be achieved. Accordingly, notice and public procedure are impracticable and this amendment shall become effective at 6 a. m. August 8, 1958. (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.)

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 608—HANDKERCHIEF, SQUARE SCARF, AND ART LINEN INDUSTRY

Pursuant to section 5 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1062, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 205), the Secretary of Labor by Administrative Order No. 508 (23 F. R. 4036), as amended by Administrative Order No. 511 (23 F. R. 5215), appointed, convened, and gave notice of the hearing of Industry Committee No. 40–A to recommend the minimum wage rate or rates to be paid under section 6 of that act (52 Stat. 1062, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 206) to employees in the handkerchief, square scarf, and art linen industry in Puerto Rico who are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

Subsequent to an investigation and a hearing conducted pursuant to the notice, the committee filed with the Administrator a report containing its findings and recommendations with respect to the matters referred to it.

Accordingly, as authorized and required by section 8 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1064, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 208), Reorganization Plan No. 6 of 1950 (64 Stat. 1263; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp., p. 165), and General Order No. 45–A of the Secretary of Labor (15 F. R. 3290), the recommendations of the committee are hereby published in this order amending the Code of Federal Regulations. Effective August 24, 1958, 29 CFR Part 608, is amended to read as follows:

Sec.
608.1 Definition of the industry.
608.2 Wage rates.
608.3 Notices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 608.1 to 608.3 issued under sec. 8, 52 Stat. 1064, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 208. Interpret or apply sec. 6, 52 Stat. 1062, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 206.

(b) Wages at a rate of not less than 53 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and who is engaged in the other operations classification of that industry which is defined as all operations in the handkerchief, square scarf, and art linen industry in Puerto Rico other than those operations in the hand-sewing classification.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of August 1958.

CLARENCE T. LUNDQUIST, Administrator.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Bureau of Customs

[19 CFR Parts 11, 24]

FEE FOR RECORDING COPYRIGHTS, TRADEMARKS, AND TRADE NAMES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF CUSTOMS REGULATIONS RELATING TO FEES

A person or firm having a trademark registered in the United States Patent Office or a copyright registered in the Copyright Office may record such mark or copyright with the Treasury Department and thereafter preclude the importation of articles bearing marks which copy or simulate such mark or which constitute piratical copies of such copyright. This service is believed to be a type described in 5 U. S. C. 140 as intended by Congress to be self-sustaining to the fullest extent possible. The Customs Regulations now require the payment of a fee of $25. A review of the cost of providing this service has indicated that the present fee is not adequate to recover the cost of providing the service. To make it self-sustaining to the fullest extent possible it is proposed to increase the fee for such service from $25 to $75.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that, under the authority of section 42 of the Act of July 5, 1946 (15 U. S. C. 1124), section 1 of the Act of July 30, 1947 (17 U. S. C. 109) and title V, section 501 of the Act of August 31, 1951 (5 U. S. C. 140), it is proposed to amend §§ 11.15 (a), 11.16, 11.19 (a) (1), 11.19 (a) (2) and 24.12 (a) (1) (i), Customs Regulations, to require the collection of a fee of $75 for the services described above. The amendment in tentative form is as follows:

Section 11.15 (a) is amended by substituting "$75" for "$25" in the last sentence.

Section 11.16 is amended by substituting "$75" for "$25" in the second sentence.

Section 11.19 (a) (1) is amended by substituting "$75" for "$25" in the second sentence.

Section 11.19 (a) (2) is amended by substituting "$75" for "$25" in the third sentence.

Section 24.12 (a) (1) (i) is amended by deleting the semicolon and the word "or" after the word "copyright" and inserting in lieu thereof, "$75;".

Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Commissioner of Cutoms, Bureau of Customs, Washington 25, D. C., and received not later than 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. No hearing will be held.

[SEAL] C. A. EMERICK,
Acting Commissioner of Customs.

Approved: August 4, 1958.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 905]

[Docket No. AO-297]

HANDLING OF MILK IN THE MISSISSIPPI DELTA MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF REVISED RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this revised recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and order regulating the handling of milk in the Mississippi Delta marketing area. On the basis of exceptions to the previous recommended decision the marketing area has been enlarged as set forth herein. Because the enlargement of the marketing area extends the scope of the regulation this revised recommended decision is being issued to give interested parties opportunity to file exceptions thereto. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this revised recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business the fifth day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on June 16, 1958 (23 F. R. 4415), filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision, containing notice of opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

Preliminary statement. The hearing on the record of which the proposed marketing agreement and order, as hereinafter set forth, were formulated, was conducted at Greenwood, Mississippi, on August 6–10, 1957, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued July 16, 1957 (22 F. R. 5800).

The material issues of record relate to:

1. Whether the handling of milk produced for sale in the proposed marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products;

2. Whether marketing conditions show the need for a milk marketing agreement or order which will tend to effectuate the policy of the Act; and

3. If an order is issued what its provisions should be with respect to:

(a) The scope of regulation;
(b) The classification and allocation of milk;
(c) The determination and level of class prices;
(d) Distribution of proceeds to producers; and
(e) Administrative provisions.

Findings and conclusions—(1) Character of the commerce. All milk to be regulated by the proposed marketing agreement and order is in the current of interstate commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products.

There is an interrelation of the trade in Grade A milk in the Mississippi Delta marketing area with the trade in surrounding areas in Mississippi and other States. The proposed marketing area lies wholly within the State of Mississippi, but included in the area are two Federal Government installations, namely Air Force Bases located in Washington and Lowndes Counties. Contracts for milk and its products to serve these installations are issued on a competitive bid basis with milk distributors in the region making bids to secure such contracts from time to time.

Four regulated handlers under Order No. 87 distribute milk on retail and wholesale routes in the proposed marketing area. One of these four handlers sells approximately 40 percent of its total sales in the Central Mississippi marketing area. This handler is located in the proposed Mississippi Delta marketing area and would be the only one of the four Central Mississippi marketing area handlers that would become regulated under this proposed marketing agreement and order.

Located within the proposed marketing area are three milk distributors that have been, or currently are partially regulated by Federal Order No. 87. There have been months when these plants were fully regulated by Order No. 87. Route distribution of fluid milk by these plants in the Central Mississippi marketing area varies from 10 to 20 percent of their total receipts from dairy farmers. Milk distributors in the proposed Mississippi Delta area purchase bulk fluid milk from plants located in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Tennessee. Purchased Grade A nonfat dry milk is used to produce buttermilk, a milk product that would be classified as Class I product as provided elsewhere in this decision. Specific figures representing the total volume of such purchases were not given. One handler, however, stated that purchases of bulk fluid milk from Wisconsin and Tennessee would average, on annual basis, nearly a million pounds. Another handler stated that sales of buttermilk represented 12–13 percent of his total fluid milk products sales. A large portion of this buttermilk was made from Grade A nonfat dry milk (three carloads of nonfat powder purchased during the past year) purchased from sources outside the State of Mississippi. It is a general practice of all handlers in the proposed Mississippi Delta area to purchase Grade A nonfat dry milk, from out-of-State markets, for use in making buttermilk for distribution on retail and wholesale routes.

Also, there is evidence that Grade A milk or cream is at times moved in interstate commerce by distributors who would be handlers under a Mississippi Delta area order. During the past year, fluid milk was shipped from the Mississippi Delta area plants to markets in Florida, Arkansas, and Louisiana. The quantity of such sales was not available.

Another movement of milk in interstate commerce by Mississippi Delta area Grade A plants, as herein defined, is their disposal of a portion of receipts, that is in excess of fluid needs, to product manufacturing plants, or, in the manufacture of dairy products with wide regional or country-wide markets. Besides such evidence of interstate commerce in the Mississippi Delta area there is evidence that the marketing of producer milk in this area directly affects interstate commerce in milk and, milk products in Mississippi and surrounding States. Farm supplies of Grade A milk for the proposed area are intermingled with supplies for Tennessee and Alabama fluid markets and for Mississippi dairy products manufacturing plants. Procurement of milk in the northwestern portion of the proposed marketing area is in competition with the Memphis, Tennessee, market as evidenced by the testimony of handlers in this area. The same is true on the eastern edge of the Mississippi Delta area milkshed, where Delta distributors and supply plants compete for producers with Grade A milk plants that regularly supply milk to Alabama markets. The growing Grade A trade in northern Mississippi affects farm supplies for dairy products manufacturing plants at Houston, Starkville, and Kosciusko, Mississippi. Much of the supply for the Mississippi Delta fluid trade comes from farms that formerly were patrons of these dairy manufacturing plants. On the other hand, some of the producer milk for the Mississippi Delta area trade, that is in excess of the daily needs of the fluid milk processing plants, is disposed of to these dairy product manufacturing plants.

It is concluded that a significant portion of the milk trade in the Mississippi Delta marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce, and that the marketing of producer milk in this trade area directly affects interstate commerce in milk and dairy products.

(2) Need for an order. The issuance of a marketing agreement or order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

The two proponent cooperative associations represent approximately one-half of the dairy farmers producing milk for handlers in the proposed marketing area. The Cooperative Creamery Association of Starkville, Mississippi, operates three plants. These plants are located at Starkville and Greenwood, Mississippi. The plants include two distributing plants and a combination supply and manufacturing plant. This latter plant, while under one roof, is so separated as to permit the receiving and handling of Grade A milk in accordance with board of health regulations. In a completely segregated portion of the plant are separate facilities for receiving and manufacturing milk not qualified to be labelled Grade A. This cooperative plant, located at Starkville, Mississippi, supplies its two subsidiary distributing units, A and M Dairies at Greenwood and Starkville. The Cooperative Creamery Association supply plant also contracts with Grenada Farms, Grenada, to furnish monthly specified quantities of milk. In addition, other handlers from time to time purchase supplemental supplies of milk from Cooperative Creamery Association. The Mississippi Milk Producers' Association—the principal cooperative representing producers supplying milk to handlers regulated by Order No. 87 for the Central Mississippi marketing area—is also a proponent of a proposed regulation for the Mississippi Delta marketing area. This bargaining cooperative association represents members who supply handlers that would be regulated by the proposed marketing agreement and order.

Winco Dairy Association, Louisville, Mississippi, and Cooperative Dairies Incorporated, Columbus, Mississippi, together representing approximately 15 percent of all the dairy farmers supplying milk to distributors in the proposed marketing area, operate distributing plants in their respective cities.

The western portion of the marketing area is known as the Delta area and is primarily a cotton producing section. Dairy farming is a minor enterprise. Dairy farmers producing Grade A milk for the proposed marketing area are concentrated in the eastern portion. More than half are located in Lowndes, Oktibbeha, Noxubee, Winston and Attala counties. The remaining producers are scattered over a 20-county area.

Conditions and practices in the trade of this area justify a uniform price plan as authorized under the Act. First, there are procurement practices and policies that, in the absence of a uniform pricing scheme, contribute to market instability and insecurity for producers. Some plants do not afford producers a reliable market or outlet for their supply. In order to keep their costs of supply used in Class I products as low or lower than competitors, and their plant price to producers in line with those paid at other plants, they drop producers in periods of flush production. Then, in periods of low production, or of expanded sales, they reinstate old producers or recruit others. Producers who are dropped when market supplies are seasonally plentiful usually have no alternative outlet better than a distant product manufacturing plant, where returns are much lower than at Grade A milk plants. Such unfortunate producers, in effect, bear a very disproportionate share of the loss or low return on that portion of market supplies which is in excess of daily Class I usage, but which is none the less essential to an adequate market supply. This practice tends to unsettle supply conditions. Other distributing plants limit producers to a number that furnishes an adequate supply only during months of relatively heavy production, and depend upon supplementary supplies from other plants, or other sources, in other periods. While producers who deliver to such plants may be relatively well paid, the use of milk from sources other than producers, when producer milk is available, reduces Class I utilization of producer milk in the market and lowers average plant returns to producers.

In this respect the case is different if plants with short supply of producer milk obtain supplementary supply from supply plants or other plants that receive producer milk in excess of the requirements of their more regular outlets. While this practice displaces no producer milk it has given rise to disparity in prices paid to producers and in the cost, to competing distributors, of milk actually used in fluid milk products. In this marketing area, much of the supplemental milk required by distributing plants is supplied by a cooperative association, that operates two distributing plants and a supply plant. All member milk is received in the supply plant from which it is moved to its processing plants as needed for fluid milk products and to other distributing plants needing supplementary supply for their fluid products. Receipts from producers in this plant usually exceed sales to processors for fluid milk products. Although the extra milk in the plant is clearly essential reserve supply for the market, it may be utilized only in relatively low valued Class II products. The lower valued utilization of this reserve supply tends to make returns to producers at this plant lower than at plants that receive from producers little, if any, supply in excess of actual utilization in fluid milk products.

Such supply relations and concomitant producer prices signify that producers do not share equally in returns from the plants using their milk for fluid milk products. Unequal sharing by producers in market returns from plant utilization of milk, which they in effect supply in common, causes unsettled and unstable market conditions for producers and handlers alike.

The producer testimony on need for an order stresses the instability and uncertainty as well as the inequality in plant prices to producers. No comprehensive compilation of statistical evidence of such price conditions was presented. But, it was stated that not infrequently producer prices have been lowered on rumors or fear of retail and wholesale reductions in street prices. An instance of this occurred in 1956 when producer prices were generally decreased 15 to 25 cents per hundredweight for a period of 3 months even though retail and wholesale prices were reduced for only two weeks, and such change occurred in only a small segment of the sales area. While this may not be a common occurrence, it signifies what has and what may happen to producer prices in the absence of some comprehensive and orderly method of determining them. Variations in pricing plans and in class utilization prices in this area reflect unequal costs of milk among handlers. Such inequality has tended to unsettle trade relations and to depress producer prices.

In this area producers have little part in the determination of plant prices and payments. Handlers pay producers on base and excess price plans devised by handlers. Producers are unable to determine or check the accuracy of weights and tests. Attempts by proponent cooperatives to work out with handlers a classified price plan have failed. Handlers have not been receptive to bargaining with producers.

The marketing agreement and order as recommended herein will implement the policy declared in the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, of establishing and maintaining orderly marketing conditions by providing:

(1) A determination of prices to producers under a regular and dependable method at levels consistent with the policy established by the act;

(2) An impartial audit of handler's records of receipts and utilization to insure payment of uniform prices for milk purchased;

(3) The establishment of uniform class prices to handlers based on the utilization of milk;

(4) Uniform returns to producers supplying the market and an equitable sharing by all producers of the lower returns for sale of reserve milk;

(5) Uniform rules for all producers in a seasonal production incentive plan which will encourage all producers to adjust production to a more even pattern;

(6) A system of impartial checking of all producer milk in respect to weight and butterfat content; and

(7) Marketwide information in respect to all receipts, utilization and intermarket movements of milk.

(3) Order provisions—(a) Scope of regulation. The type of regulation effected by a milk order is essentially a matter of establishing minimum prices to dairy farmers who produce milk for the market. The scope of such regulation is determined by appropriate definitions of the terms: marketing area, pool plant, handler, producer-handler, producer, producer milk and other source milk.

(1) Marketing area. The Mississippi Delta marketing area should include all the territory and municipalities and military reservations within the boundaries of: Attala, Bolivar, Carroll, Choctaw, Grenada, Holmes, Humphreys, Leake, Leflore, Lowndes, Montgomery, Noxubee, Oktibbeha, Sharkey, Sunflower, Tallahatchie, Washington, Webster, Winston, and Yazoo counties; Beats 1, 4 and 5 in Calhoun county; Beat 5 in Chickasaw county; Beats 4 and 5 in Coahoma county; Beats 2, 3, 4 and 5 in Quitman county; Beat 3 in Panola county and Beats 1, 4 and 5 in Yalobusha county all within the State of Mississippi.

This definition is different from that of the previous recommended decision with respect to: (1) Leake county which is included herein; (2) Clay county, no portion of which is included herein; and (3) parts of Coahoma, Quitman and Panola counties which are partially included in this decision. These changes are based on exceptions to the recommended decision issued June 16, 1958.

Several proposals were made with respect to the marketing area. Altogether, a total of 45 counties, encompassing all the counties in Mississippi north of the present Central Mississippi marketing area, were proposed to be included as the marketing area. But the problems complained of by proponents centered primarily around the handling of milk in plants which serve a general area known as the Mississippi Delta. The marketing area as defined by proponents comprised a contiguous group of 17 counties. Distributors proposed 28 additional counties.

This definition differs from the proposal of proponent in two respects: Issaquena county and parts of Coahoma and Quitman counties are not included; the counties of Winston, Noxubee, Lowndes, Oktibbeha, Choctaw, Webster and parts of Chickasaw, Calhoun, Panola and Yalobusha counties are added. The remainder of each of these counties and 15 other counties, extending east and west across the state and north to the Tennessee line, proposed by distributors, are not included in the area. One other county, on the southern edge of the area, which was proposed as additional to proponents' group, is not included.

The chief fault found with proponents' area proposal was that it was too limited. Although it was broad enough to include all competing distributors in the main currents of the trade in the region, it failed to include important segments of the sales areas of a few of these distributors. Such operators sought to protect themselves against competition with unregulated distributors, in what would be outside sales territory, by proposing to incorporate such localities in the marketing area. Distributors who might become regulated by such area extension in turn proposed still further extensions. All these proposals for additions to proponents' proposed area will be examined in the light of all the evidence. But, before considering them, it may be well to give reasons for not including in the area all the counties in the group proposed by proponents.

One county and parts of two others of the area proposed by proponents are omitted. Issaquena county is on the very southern edge of the Delta region. It is sparsely populated and is served only by distributors who would be regulated because of business in other localities. But it is not in the sales territory of many Delta distributors and might perhaps be served as well by Central Mississippi distributing plants as by Delta distributors. For these reasons, the evidence generally in support of the proposed area, does not qualify this fringe locality. Leake county also was omitted from the previous recommended decision. But, on the basis of exceptions it is included in the area of this decision. The principal distributor in this county excepted to its omission on the ground that his trade in Leake county is a substantial and integral part of his trade in the recommended area and if this county is not included he at times might not qualify as a pool handler. This distributor also sells in the Central Mississippi area. But his chief competition in Leake county is another Delta area distributor, who also urges the incorporation of Leake county in the Delta area. These circumstances justify including Leake county in the Delta marketing area.

Parts of the other counties in proponents' proposed area that should not be included are Coahoma and Quitman, Beats 1, 2, and 3, in Coahoma county and Beat 1 in Quitman county are located on the northwest edge of the marketing area and are more closely associated with the Memphis marketing area than with the Delta area. There is one milk distributor located in Coahoma county, none in Quitman county. A distributor regulated by Memphis Federal Order No. 18, and a distributor that would be partially regulated under the order recommended herein, distribute fluid milk products on routes in these two counties. The record is incomplete with respect to the exact proportion of total sales in these counties that is now made by distributors who would be handlers under a Delta order. From the exceptions, however, it is evident that the local handler in Coahoma county would be fully regulated only part of the time because of sales in other parts of the marketing area. Regulated handlers have the majority of fluid milk product sales in the parts of these counties added to the area. Procurement of milk for these counties is in competition with both the Memphis and Delta source of supply. Therefore, only Beats 1, 2 and 3 in Coahoma and Beat 1 in Quitman county should not be included in the marketing area.

The remaining 13 counties in proponents' group and 11 additional counties or parts of counties are included in the area. These additional counties—named in the forepart of the discussion of this issue—were proposed by Delta area distributors whose sales territories extended to the north and west beyond the limits of the area proposed by proponents. Such extension seems advisable and is, therefore, provided. In these counties, the business done by principal Delta distributors is substantial. Evidently, they are an important part of the market for producer milk. And milk marketing and distribution in this additional area is closely interrelated with that of the chief centers of the Delta trade. Adding this territory would bring under the order three additional handlers, who would otherwise be unregulated. But, the limits on the north, which would exclude parts of the counties of Coahoma, Chickasaw, Calhoun, Panola, Quitman and Yalobusha would minimize "fringe area" sales by distributors whose business in the main is in other areas. Including only parts of these counties, as indicated above, with the other counties mentioned would still confine the regulation to those mainly engaged in the Delta area trade. There would be only two "fringe" distributors, each with approximately five percent of his sales in the area.

It is necessary thus to limit the area on the north in order to avoid full application of this order to Grade A milk handlers and their producers whose marketing operations are mainly in the trade centering in Tupelo, Mississippi, or are associated with the Memphis trade. Since such interests are not competitive factors in the main currents of trade in the Delta region, there is no justification in bringing them fully under a price plan designed specifically for the trade in the Delta region. The defined area would avoid this. If it were extended further to the north it would involve distribution mainly engaged in other marketing areas. For this reason the other 15 counties to the north which were proposed as additions to the proposed area could not be included in the area. Their exclusion leaves two Delta area handlers with approximately 15 percent of their respective sales outside the area. In this part of their sales territory their competition would be unregulated. But under the circumstances this is unavoidable; for in these northern counties, the Grade A milk trade emanates from local centers that are more closely related to Tennessee and Alabama markets than to the Mississippi Delta market.

Warren and Kemper are the remaining counties that were proposed for the Delta area and that are not included in the defined area. Warren county is presently a part of the Central Mississippi marketing area and is ineligible for the Delta area. And the evidence concerning Kemper affords little grounds for attaching it to the Delta area. It is on the southern edge of the Delta trade region, as conveniently located to Central Mississippi plants as to those in the Delta trade. The only urban population is in small and scattered towns. Other salient facts are: that there is no local distributor in the county; that sales by a Central Mississippi handler presently constitutes about 40 percent of total distribution in the county; and, that the rest of the business is done by distributors who would be handlers under the Delta order.

Finally, it may be said in behalf of the defined marketing area that it would limit the regulation to handlers who are primarily engaged in the trade of the Delta region; that the recommended area is contiguous and has uniform health and sanitation regulations of production and handling of milk; that it would subject only minor fringe area distribution to partial regulation; and that the sales areas of all fully regulated handlers would be mostly within the marketing area. Only two handlers would have as much as 15 percent of sales outside of the area. Only these handlers would have competitive relations with unregulated distributors.

(2) Milk to be regulated. The milk to be regulated by the proposed marketing agreement and order should be that which is regularly delivered to plants from which milk is regularly distributed on routes in the marketing area, or which is delivered to plants that are regular sources of supply for such plants. To be eligible for such distribution, milk must be produced, processed, and distributed in conformity with applicable health regulations. Provision should be made to designate clearly what milk will be subject to the pricing and pooling provisions of the recommended marketing agreement and order. For this reason, definitions of handler, producer-handler, plant (various types), producer, producer milk, and other source milk should be provided.

A handler should be defined as:

(1) The operator of a pool plant as hereinafter defined;

(2) The operator of a plant from which Class I milk is processed, packaged, and distributed on routes within the marketing area; and

(3) A cooperative association with respect to the milk of any producer which such cooperative association causes to be diverted from a pool plant by delivery directly from producers' farms to a nonpool plant for the account of such cooperative association.

The handler receives the milk of producers and thus must be held responsible for reporting its receipt and utilization. The handler is the one responsible for the payment for producer milk at not less than specified minimum prices. In case a person operates more than one plant at which milk is to be priced, he should be a handler with respect to the combined operations of such plants. If a handler also operates an unregulated plant(s), this definition is not intended to include such person in his capacity as an operator of such type of plant(s). Producer-handlers and other operators of distributing plants should be handlers in order that such persons shall report to the market administrator to determine their status at any given time.

The definition of a pool plant should be such as to determine which producers, as hereinafter defined, are to be included in the determination of a marketwide uniform price to producers. Some plants have received milk from local dairy farmers and distributed most of such milk as fluid milk products in the proposed marketing area over a period of several years. There are other plants that fall into one of two categories, (a) distributing plants with a primary interest in other fluid markets but distributing milk within the area and (b) plants generally known as supply plants at which milk is received directly from dairy farmers and delivered in bulk to distributing plants. There are two distributing plants not regulated by any Federal milk order located outside the proposed marketing area that currently sell fluid milk products within the area, but have their primary market elsewhere. Milk distributors in this market depend in part upon bulk supplies of milk and thus there needs to be provision for supply plants as pool plants. Specific requirements for pool plants are therefore needed to define the supply which is generally regarded as an integral part of this fluid market. This may be accomplished by first defining a distributing plant and a supply plant.

A distributing plant should be defined as a plant at which fluid milk products, conforming to the Grade A sanitation requirements of any duly constituted health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area, are processed and packaged and from which fluid milk products are disposed of on route(s) in the marketing area.

A supply plant should be defined as a plant at which milk produced in conformity with Grade A health regulations for the marketing area is received from dairy farmers and from which fluid milk products are moved to a distributing plant.

A pool plant should meet certain performance standards in order to determine its status as a regular and substantial supplier of fluid milk in the marketing area. In order to qualify as a pool plant, a distributing plant should (1) dispose of 20 percent or more of receipts from dairy farmers and supply plants as fluid milk products on routes in the marketing area and (2) have a total disposition of fluid milk products on routes of 50 percent or more of receipts of fluid milk products from dairy farmers and supply plants. In order to qualify as a pool plant a supply plant should move 50 percent or more of receipts from dairy farmers to a distributing plant, as herein defined. If a supply plant qualifies on this basis during each of the months of September through January, it should be able to retain pool plant status the following February through August.

The supply area for the Mississippi Delta marketing area overlaps the supply area of other fluid markets and manufacturing milk production areas. Therefore, the previously stated pool plant requirements are necessary to insure (1) that the producers sharing in the uniform price of the market pool be those delivering to plants from which a substantial portion of the milk received at such a plant is disposed of as fluid milk products in the marketing area and

(2) that the receipts of those plants which primarily serve markets outside the marketing area be excluded from sharing in the pool. Thus, it is provided that those plants that make sales of fluid milk products on routes in the marketing area that represent 20 percent or more of total receipts from dairy farmers should be regarded as pool plants. Such a percentage of sales in the area in most cases would represent a substantial volume and thus dairy farmers shipping to such plants should share in the marketwide pool.

The proponent cooperative associations proposed that not less than 70 percent of the receipts of producer milk and fluid milk products from other pool plants be disposed of on routes as Class I during the months September through January as a necessary requirement for qualifying a distributing plant as a pool plant. Similarly a 60 percent shipment of producer milk by a supply plant to a distributing plant would be necessary for pool plant qualification. But, a percentage requirement higher than 50 percent in either case is not warranted on the basis of this record even though distributing plants normally use a higher proportion of their receipts from dairy farmers as fluid milk products. The purpose of this percentage requirement is to distinguish distributing plants from supply plants for the purpose of pool plant qualification. Not less than 50 percent distribution of fluid milk products on routes in any month would indicate that the plant is primarily a milk distributing plant. Route disposal will serve to distinguish those plants that may qualify as pool plants through route distribution from those which must qualify as supply plants. Route is defined in the order to include all deliveries of fluid milk products other than deliveries to other milk plants.

The 50 percent shipping (to distributing plants) requirement would be reasonable for supply plants as a parallel requirement to that of distributing plants, but it should not apply to supply plants during months of seasonally heavy receipts from producers. Supply plants carry reserve supplies for distributing plants. If they have the milk when needed by processors they may have little or no call for it during flush months. If a supply plant meets the required standards during the short supply season (September–January) status as a pool plant would then be retained during the balance of the year (February–August).

The Mississippi Delta market is currently served by one supply plant. This plant operated by Cooperative Creamery Association and located at Starkville, Mississippi, supplies bulk milk to its distributing plants at Starkville and Greenwood. In addition, other handlers in the proposed marketing area purchase bulk supplies from this plant. These standards will require such supply plants that qualify to have a primary interest in supplying the Mississippi Delta market, and an opportunity to share in marketwide pooling at all times if it establishes its association with the market during the season of normally low supplies.

Producer-handler should be defined as a dairy farmer who operates a distributing plant but receives no milk from other dairy farmers or nonpool plants.

The purpose of this definition is to describe a type of producer-handler operation which would not be required to equalize utilization and prices with the rest of the market. As a practical matter the producer-handler status—outside the producer price pool—must be defined in terms that definitely prescribe the latitude in procurement afforded such an operator.

First, it may be noted that there is no evidence or argument against confining this category to distributors who receive no milk from producers; for, uniform pricing of producer milk as herein recommended requires the equalization of utilization and prices by all handlers who procure milk from producers. Exception for this type of handler would tend to diminish the efficacy of the pricing scheme. For much the same reason a handler who uses other source milk, in addition to his own production, in fluid milk products, must be required to equalize utilization and prices with other distributors. Otherwise, such a handler might be able to acquire relatively low cost milk for an expansion of his business, at the expense of other distributors and their producers. For these reasons it is concluded that these restrictions are entirely appropriate.

But the evidence does not justify further circumscription of this type of handler. The proposed limitation—3300 pounds per month—on sales was insufficiently supported and seems to be unwarranted. The limitations discussed above would remove the likelihood of any cost advantage that the producer-handler might gain over pool handlers. There was no evidence to show that in this area a prescribed quantitative limit, in addition to procurement limitations, would be necessary in order to prevent this type of handler from undermining or limiting the market for producer milk. If sales by such a handler are limited for the most part to what he can economically produce it must be presumed from the evidence that he would enjoy no obvious competitive advantage in the trade. And this would most likely be true even if producer-handlers are permitted to supplement their own production with purchases from pool plants. It was proposed to confine the supply of a producer-handler to his own production. However, procurement from pool plants normally would cost considerably more than direct receipts of producer milk, and in this area probably could not be relied upon by such handlers, except in relatively small and uncertain quantities. Such milk, of course, would be fully priced producer milk at the pool plant and would be a part of the reserve supply for pool distributors. It would not be available to nonpool handlers at any lower cost, certainly, than to pool distributors. Furthermore, it would seem that under such circumstances procurement by producer-handlers from pool plants would tend to increase Class I utilization of producer milk and to increase returns to producers. It is therefore recommended that producer-handler be defined so as to confine the supply of milk for such an operator to his own production and receipts from pool plants.

Producer should be defined as a person, other than a producer-handler, who produces Grade A milk, in conformity with the sanitation requirements issued by a duly constituted health authority, for consumption in the marketing area as a fluid milk product and whose milk is received at a pool plant. Producer milk diverted from a pool plant by a handler, including a cooperative association, to a nonpool plant for its account should be deemed to have been received at the location of the pool plant from which diverted. In order to distinguish between producers whose milk may be temporarily diverted and those whose milk may be more or less permanently diverted from the fluid market, some limitation on the length of time that milk may be diverted and still be considered as producer milk under the order is desirable. Based on the conditions in the market, it is concluded that milk of a dairy farmer which is diverted to a nonpool plant in excess of 10 days production during any month (except during the months of February through August, when receipts of milk from producers are relatively large in relation to Class I sales) should not be considered as producer milk under the order. Milk of a dairy farmer which is moved to a nonpool plant in a quantity that exceeds 10 days production during the months of September through January is not sufficiently associated with this market to be priced and pooled with other producer milk. Free diversion of milk during February through August will facilitate the economical disposal of seasonal reserve supplies. Such provisions will permit milk regularly associated with the market to be diverted to manufacturing plants during periods of seasonal flush production and over weekends and holidays when supply and demand relationships may require some reserve to be manufactured in plants not regulated by the order. This provision will facilitate interplant movements of milk for the purpose of short time adjustments of supply and demand without depriving dairy farmers producing the regular supply for the market of their status as producers.

Other source milk should be defined as all skim milk and butterfat contained in fluid milk products received by a handler at his plant(s), except producer milk and fluid milk products received from pool plants. Any receipts from a producer-handler would be other source milk since such persons are neither a producer nor the operator of a pool plant. This definition would include milk products, other than fluid milk products, from any source (including those produced at the plant) which are reprocessed and converted to another product in the plant during the month. Supplemental supplies from nonpool plants are occasionally needed and the amounts needed vary from season to season and between handlers.

(b) The classification and allocation of milk. Milk should be classified in two classes reflecting the principal differences in the value of milk used for different purposes. Class I should include all skim milk and butterfat disposed of for consumption as a fluid milk product. Fluid milk product means milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk and milk drinks, cream and mixtures of milk, skim milk and cream. Plant loss of producer skim milk and butterfat in excess of 2 percent and skim milk and butterfat not accounted for as Class II should also be classified as Class I. Because skim milk and butterfat are not used in most products in the same proportions as received from producers, these components should be classified separately. Class prices, however, will apply per hundredweight of milk, and will be adjusted for the butterfat content of the milk actually used in each class through butterfat differentials.

Representatives of the health authorities having jurisdiction in the proposed marketing area testified that fluid milk products, as defined herein, sold for consumption in the area must be produced and handled in compliance with sanitation standards that are substantially uniform throughout the proposed marketing area. The proponent cooperative associations requested that buttermilk be a Class I product. The health regulations require the same health standards for buttermilk as is required for fluid milk. It is concluded that buttermilk should be a Class I product. Skim milk and butterfat used to produce sweet and sour cream must meet the same health requirements as milk for fluid consumption, hence it is appropriate that cream be classified and priced in the same class as fluid milk.

The products which should be included in Class I are those distributed to consumers in fluid form and required by the health authorities having jurisdiction in the marketing area to be obtained from milk or milk products from Grade A sources. The extra cost of Grade A quality milk produced and delivered to the market in the condition and quantities required makes it necessary to provide a price for milk used as Class I somewhat higher than for milk used for manufacturing purposes. It is appropriate that all of the products required to be from Grade A milk be included in a single class so that all milk required to make such products may contribute uniformly to the cost of supplying the market needs for Grade A milk.

Reserve milk not needed seasonally, or at other times such as weekends, for Class I use must be disposed of for use in manufactured products. These products are not required to be made from inspected milk, must be sold in competition with products made from uninspected sources produced over a large area and generally are less perishable than fluid milk products. Milk so used should be classified as Class II and priced in accordance with its value in such outlets.

Class II should therefore include skim milk and butterfat used to produce any product other than a fluid milk product, including but not limited to such products as ice cream, ice cream mix, ice milk, frozen desserts and mixes, frozen cream, aerated cream, dried milk products, whole and nonfat, condensed or evaporated products, butter, cottage and hard cheese. Class II should also include plant loss of other source milk, actual plant loss on producer milk not in excess of 2 percent, all skim milk dumped or accounted for as disposed of for livestock feed, and inventories of fluid milk products on hand at the end of any month. Cream which is frozen and placed in storage should be Class II since such cream is intended primarily for use in ice cream or ice cream mix. Any frozen cream or other Class II products which may be used later in a fluid milk product would be considered as other source milk at the time of such use and assigned to the lowest priced utilization in the plant.

Handlers have inventories of milk and milk products at the beginning and end of each month which must enter into the accounting for current receipts and utilization. The record testimony indicates that an appropriate classification of the inventory of fluid milk products is as Class II. This manner of classifying inventory with correlated steps in the allocation procedure provides a means of charging each handler for his Class I sales each month at the current Class I price. Fluid milk products whether in bulk or packaged form should be inventoried and classified as Class II. Manufactured milk products are not included in inventory accounting because the skim milk and butterfat used for such products are accounted for in the month when such products are manufactured.

Uniformity of costs to handlers and simplicity of accounting are achieved if, so far as possible, Class I utilization each month is assigned to current receipts of producer milk. This can be accomplished by classification of closing inventory as Class II, and allocation of opening inventory to Class I only when current receipts of producer milk (except allowable Class II shrinkage) are less than Class I sales. In such case the handler should pay the difference between the Class II price for such milk in the preceding month and the current Class I price. The volume on which this charge is made should not exceed the volume (in excess of allowable Class II shrinkage) for which producers were paid at the Class II price in the preceding month.

Inventories of products designated as Class I on hand at a pool plant at the beginning of any month during which such a plant becomes qualified for the first time should likewise be subtracted from the Class II utilization of such plant. This will preserve the priority of assignment of current producer receipts to current Class I use for each month.

Unaccounted for milk in excess of a reasonable allowance for plant loss should be Class I so as to require full accounting by handlers for their receipts. Two percent is considered a reasonable maximum allowance for this purpose. No limit need be put on shrinkage of other source milk since such milk is deducted from the lowest use class under the allocation procedures. Since it is not feasible to segregate shrinkage of producer milk from that of other source milk in the same plant, total shrinkage is prorated on the basis of the volume of receipts. Allowance for loss on producer milk diverted to another pool plant should be at the pool plant where actually received. When milk is moved in bulk from a supply plant to a distributing plant the loss on producer milk should be prorated at the rate of 0.5 percent to the supply plant and 1.5 percent to the distributing plant. Each handler must be held responsible for full accounting of all his receipts of skim milk or butterfat in any form. The handler who first receives the milk from producers should be responsible for establishing the classification of and the payment for producer milk. Except for such limited quantities of shrinkage that may be classified in Class II, all skim milk and butterfat which is received and for which the handler cannot establish utilization should be classified as Class I milk. This provision is necessary to remove any advantage to handlers who fail to keep complete and accurate records and to assure that producers receive full value for their milk on the basis of its use.

Provision should be made for classification of fluid milk products transferred in bulk between pool plants and from plants to nonpool plants. Transfers between pool plants should be permitted in any class agreed upon by the handlers operating such plants so long as the prior claim of producer milk for Class I sales is maintained. Transfers between pool plants at an agreed upon class will not affect the total value of producer milk under a marketwide pool so long as this prior claim is maintained.

Milk, skim milk or cream transferred or diverted from Mississippi Delta pool plants to nonpool plants should be classified as Class I to the extent that the receipts from regulated plants under this order or any other order exceeds the Class II usage in the nonpool plant. In the event fluid milk products are received at a nonpool plant from more than one plant regulated by a Federal order, any skim milk or butterfat classified as Class I at such a nonpool plant should be shared pro rata between pool plants of this and other orders. In order to substantiate a Class II classification the nonpool plant must have and make available records adequate to verify any Class II utilization claimed.

There was no evidence indicating that the Mississippi Delta market carries milk supplies for other markets and therefore producers have no claims of priority to Class I sales in other markets resulting from transfers from pool plants to nonpool plants in such markets. The highest-valued uses should be assigned first to producers regularly supplying the other market. The provisions herein outlined are provided purposely to assure such assignment.

When handlers receive butterfat and skim milk from sources other than from producers, it is necessary to provide a method for allocating such receipts to the classes of utilization in such a manner as to determine the classification of producer milk. Inasmuch as producer milk is the regular available supply for fluid consumption in the marketing area, producer milk should be assigned the Class I utilization in preference to other source milk. This is necessary to insure the effectiveness of the classified pricing program of the proposed order. The system of assigning utilization of milk to receipts from different sources which will carry out this objective is set forth in detail in the proposed market agreement and order.

In general this procedure requires that skim milk and butterfat, respectively, remaining in each class be assigned to producer milk by making the following deductions from the gross utilization of each handler starting with Class II milk, except as otherwise noted:

(1) Class II shrinkage of producer milk;

(2) Other source milk;

(3) Receipts from other handlers (according to classification);

(4) Beginning inventory;

(5) Add shrinkage deducted in (1); and

(6) Overage.

Since uniform prices paid producers by each handler are to be calculated monthly, the assignment of utilization described above should be carried out with respect to all milk received during each month.

(c) Class prices. Class I prices should be established at a level, which in conjunction with Class II prices, hereinafter concluded to be appropriate, will result in returns to producers high enough to maintain an adequate but not excessive supply of milk to meet the requirements of the marketing area.

The maintenance of stable conditions in the market requires that prices be modified whenever the supply of milk in relationship to sales is out of adjustment. If prices remain too low, insufficient milk will be produced to provide for Class I needs, and if a shortage of this kind should continue it would be necessary to supplement supplies from regular producers by importations of milk from distant areas. On the other hand, if prices are too high, excess production is stimulated, consumption is curtailed, and uneconomic surpluses of milk develop. Moreover, an appropriate balance between supplies of approved milk from regular producers and the sales of such milk in Class I will be attained only if Class I prices are in proper relationship to prices of milk from supplemental sources of supply.

Because of changing supply and demand conditions for milk in the market it is necessary, in order to maintain an appropriate relation between supply and sales, to provide a method of flexible Class I pricing. Pricing formulas which cause prices to change automatically with changes in market conditions are in general use for the pricing of milk to farmers in fluid markets. Proponents proposed for this area such a Class I price formula, one which was much the same as that in the Central Mississippi area under Order No. 87. The purpose was to provide appropriate flexibility in Delta area prices and, at the same time, close articulation of Delta prices with Central Mississippi prices. But, it is shown below that the proposed separate formula for the Delta area would not meet these tests; and that price objectives would be better served by basing Delta area Class I prices directly on prices of the Central Mississippi order at certain designated basing points in the Delta area, than by a separate formula provision.

(1) Class I price. The Class I prices in this order should be the Class I prices determined pursuant to § 987.51 (a) of Federal Order No. 87 regulating the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area, less 16 cents per hundredweight.

It was proposed by the cooperative that the Class I prices be $1.65 per hundredweight above a basic formula price for the months of March through July and $2.05 for all other months. The basic formula price suggested was the highest of the average price paid midwestern condenseries, a formula price based on market values of butter and nonfat dry milk, or the average paying price of nearby Mississippi manufacturing plants.

The result of the cooperative's proposal would be a Class I price 20 cents per hundredweight less than the Class I prices determined under Federal Order No. 87 for the Central Mississippi marketing area. This price would apply to all plants that would be pool plants in the marketing area proposed by the two proponent cooperatives. This proposal was supported on grounds of inter-area relations of the trade in the Delta region with that of the Central Mississippi area. This was the dominant consideration in the determination of the level of Class I prices.

It should be noted that the Delta area adjoins the Central Mississippi market on the south while the northern boundary is approximately 100 miles south of the Memphis area. For 1957, Class I prices at Jackson, Mississippi, averaged $5.73 and at Memphis $5.34. Thus the proposed Delta price of 20 cents under the Jackson price, in 1957, would have been about the same amount over the Memphis price. In 1956 average Class I prices in Memphis were 53 cents lower than the Central Mississippi prices at Jackson. In 1955, the difference was 57 cents. A handler proposed that if Delta prices must be definitely aligned with Central Mississippi prices, as proposed by producers, rather than with Memphis prices, they should be no less than 30 cents under the Jackson, Mississippi, price. This proposal, however, seems to assume that the difference in the annual level of Class I prices in Central Mississippi and in the Memphis area is most likely to be nearer to 60 cents than to 40 cents. This assumption was not supported by any examination of the factors associated with the fluctuating relation of prices in these two markets. On the basis of hearing evidence, there is no good basis for predicting much different relationship from that in 1957.

The same Class I price for all pool plants regardless of location in the area is necessary to equalize extensive competitive relations among pool plants in the area. The prices proposed by proponents need to be altered slightly under prevailing price relations between the Central Mississippi and Memphis markets. A Class I price of sixteen cents under the Central Mississippi market will provide a price, 25 to 30 cents over Memphis and in proper alignment to the location of the Delta territory with respect to these areas. The same price for all plants in the marketing area will reflect the competition between Delta plants. The recommended level of the Class I price will reflect the competition some Delta plants have with the Central Mississippi market.

The procurement area is almost wholly within the proposed marketing area. Some distributors within the area have sales outside the area. Two milk distributors located in the southeast portion and two located in the west-central side of the marketing area sell some fluid milk products in the Central Mississippi marketing area. Three Central Mississippi area handlers distribute fluid milk products in the proposed Delta area. Three milk distributors in the Delta area have some sales to the north, outside the marketing area, in competition with Memphis handlers and with milk distributors primarily competitive with the Memphis trade area. Nonpool plants located within the marketing area, in the eastern portion of the area, compete for supplies of milk with milk distributors that would be regulated under this recommended order. These nonpool plants procure supplies for manufacturing purposes and for sale as Grade A fluid milk for markets in the State of Alabama. Because of the competition in the sale of milk and in the procurement of supplies, milk at the various locations in the recommended marketing area should be priced in accordance with the general location of the marketing area to the trade in the Central Mississippi market.

Obviously, it is necessary in order to contribute to orderly marketing and market stability to price milk in the Delta pool at approximately the level it would be if it were in the Central Mississippi pool. A large portion of the supply area is around Starkville. Under the Central Mississippi order the Class I price would be adjusted by 16 cents at this location. The same location adjustment would apply at Greenwood, which is one of the larger sales areas. A Class I price identical with that which the Central Mississippi order provides at Greenwood and Starkville, Mississippi, will then appropriately extend the Central Mississippi Class I prices adjusted by location adjustments to the Delta area.

(2) Class II price. The Class II price should reflect the value of milk for general manufacturing uses in the Mississippi Delta milkshed. The average of the prices paid at four Mississippi dairy manufacturing plants provides an appropriate indication of the value of milk for such uses in the area. The four plants selected are in the general area of the Mississippi Delta milkshed, and are not operated or controlled by persons who will be handlers under the order.

To the monthly average of the prices paid at local dairy manufacturing plants 20 cents per hundredweight should be added for the months of September through January and 10 cents all other months. Proponents testified that they are willing to divert for their account milk that handlers do not want to dispose of as Class II. Proponents are able to dispose of Class II milk at this price level. The recommended Class II price will discourage handlers from procuring needless supplies of Grade A fluid milk for Class II use and thus will tend to maximize returns to producers for Grade A milk used for Class II.

(3) Handler butterfat differential. Butterfat and skim milk will be accounted for separately for classification purposes since they are not used in most products in the same proportions as received from producers. The basic test for which class prices are determined is 4.0 percent butterfat content, the usual fat test at which prices are quoted in the area, and on which the market has operated for many years. It will then be necessary to adjust Class I and Class II prices of milk to handlers in accordance with the average test of milk used in each class. Butterfat differentials which reflect differences in value due to differences in butterfat content are used for this purpose. Producers proposed that the handler butterfat differentials be .12 times the Chicago price of 92-score butter. In the Mississippi Delta area, fluid cream must be from Grade A milk and is therefore priced as Class I milk. Butterfat in cream from inspected sources sold as fluid cream or cream mixtures has a higher value than that in ungraded milk which will be approximately reflected by a butterfat differential 0.12 times the Chicago butter price. Such a differential should be used to adjust the hundredweight price of Class I milk for each one-tenth percent variation for 4.0 percent butterfat content. The Class II butterfat differential should be 0.11 times the Chicago butter price as proposed. Such a differential reflects an appropriate value of butterfat for Class II uses in this area.

(4) Location differentials. It is concluded that an extension of the location differential scheme of the Central Mississippi area woud be appropriate, based on distances from Greenwood and Starkville, Mississippi; provided, however, that no location adjustment shall apply in the state of Mississippi south of U. S. Highway No. 82. In Central Mississippi, location differentials begin 50 miles from basing points with a 10-cent decrease in the price, and from there decline at the rate of one and one-half cents for each full ten miles. But for Delta plants located north of U. S. Highway No. 82, and 30 miles but less than 40 miles from the nearer of the two basing points, the price shoud be 7.5 cents less.

This variation from the Central Mississippi pattern of location differentials and from the previous recommended decision is based in part on exceptions filed by the proponent cooperatives and by handlers located in the northern part of the marketing area. The addition of parts of Coahoma, Quitman and Panola counties to the marketing area and the competitive conditions in sales and procurement with the Memphis market incurred by handlers located in the northern portion of the area justifies a greater location adjustment for such handlers than that of the first recommended decision. Changing the first differential zone from 50 to 30 miles from the basing points provides a greater location adjustment at three plants located north of U. S. Highway No. 82. The Class I price at plants located 40 miles or more from the nearest basing point would be decreased 7.5 cents per hundredweight plus one and one-half cents for each additional 10 miles in excess of 30 miles.

Since the Delta area is directly north of the Central Mississippi area there is no need for location adjustments to the south. Distances would be measured by the shortest highway distance open to commercial truck traffic as determined by the market administrator. This mileage rate, which is the same as that applicable under Order No. 87, is valid for the Delta area, as shown by evidence in the record. The value of manufacturing milk is approximately the same regardless of location. Any differences in price of such milk has little relation to its location to the Mississippi Delta area or to its location nationally. Therefore, location adjustments are unnecessary on Class II milk and should only apply to milk assigned or otherwise classified as Class I.

The uniform prices for producer milk should be subject to location adjustments to reflect the value of such milk in accordance with the location of the pool plant to which such milk is delivered. The rate of adjustment applying to uniform prices should be the same as herein recommended for adjusting Class I prices to handlers. This would be as proposed by producers and as provided in the Central Mississippi area.

(d) Payments to producers—(1) Type of pool. The marketwide type of pool should be included as a means of distributing to producers the returns from the sale of their milk.

The proponent cooperatives proposed that distribution returns from the sale of producer milk be on a marketwide basis.

Marketing conditions require payment of a uniform price to all producers representing the value of all market utilization to compensate all producers fairly for their contribution to the market supply. Some milk distributors buy as closely as possible to their Class I needs and carry little or no surplus in the high production months. The cooperatives supply their cooperating handlers with as much milk as needed and generally handle the surplus production of their members by diversion to manufacturing outlets. Under present marketing arrangements producers share unequally in the Class I sales of the market. A majority of plants do not have manufacturing facilities, other than for ice cream, and generally purchase supplies from dairy farmers close to their needs. Under an individual handler pool, it could not be expected that reserve supplies for the market would be uniformly distributed among handlers. The burden of carrying the necessary reserve supplies of milk would continue to be shouldered by only a part of the producers.

A market-wide pool will facilitate the movement of milk supplies by the cooperative associations between handlers to meet their individual needs or to those nonpool processing plants that can make the most efficient use of such milk. Such a pool will aid the market in retaining qualified and experienced producers on a year-round basis which will tend to make available enough milk to fill the Class I requirements during the normally short production season. A market-wide pool will permit any handler to bid on such business as that offered by military installations and other public institutions and to obtain the supplies for such sales without upsetting the market whenever the business might shift from one handler to another. These factors, taken in conjunction with the variations in amount of reserve supplies among plants, all support the adoption of a marketwide pool.

(2) Producer payment plan. A base and excess plan of distributing returns for milk among producers should be adopted for this market.

The majority of the producers are now receiving payment for milk on a base-excess plan. Each of the two cooperative associations has used this system of distributing payment among its members for many years. The evidence, although it does not represent the total figures for the market, indicates that receipts vary widely relative to Class I sales between the summer and winter months. Handlers and cooperatives have paid producers on base-excess plans with substantially the same rules. Due to lack of complete market information in regard to receipts from all producers and utilization data from all handlers, the effect of these plans on the relationship of supply to total inspected needs of the market cannot be accurately and specifically determined. It is evident, however, that these base-excess plans as operated in the past have encouraged more even production.

Fundamentally the base-excess plan proposed by the cooperative associations and included herein is similar to that now being used. When Class II utilization exceeds the total quantity of excess milk, each producer would receive the manufacturing milk price for milk delivered during the base-operating month in excess of a daily average amount, known as the producer's base. The base forming period is September through January. The producer's base for the base-operating period beginning with the following March is determined by the daily average shipments during the preceding base-forming period. The base price is determined by dividing the total market base deliveries into the remaining returns for all producer milk after subtracting the value of excess milk and the value of milk from producers with no base. The base of each producer delivering milk in the base period is the amount determined by dividing the total pounds of milk received from such producer at all pool plants during the base period by the number of days for which milk was delivered but not less than 120 days.

Certain rules regulating the transfer of established bases were proposed and are adopted herein subject to some modification. Transfers within these rules should be made only on written request filed with the market administrator. The rules permit reasonable transfer of bases and correspond closely to present practices in the market.

The proposed rules are modified to provide for computing bases for dairy farmers on deliveries during the preceding base-forming period whenever any plant first achieves pool plant status in a base paying period. This provision will permit these producers to share equally with all other producers in the returns for milk.

Handlers should make payments to each producer for his milk at the required prices. If a producer has given a cooperative association written authorization by contract or in any other form to collect payments for him and the association makes a written request for the payments due such producers, payment should be made by the handler to the cooperative. A provision authorizing handlers to make payment directly to such qualified cooperative for milk received from producer-members is necessary to enable the association to carry out its essential functions authorized by the enabling act. A cooperative association, if it is to carry out these essential functions, must have full authority in the collective bargaining and selling of member milk. It is provided that handlers should make payments to producers, or to cooperative associations, at not less than applicable price(s) on or before the 15th day after the end of each month. Since it has been the practice in this area for handlers to pay producers bimonthly, provision has been made for partial payments to producers on or before the last day of each month for milk delivered during the first 15 days of each month at not less than the Class II price. In making payments for producer milk to a cooperative association the handler will pay an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to member producers, and should at the same time furnish the cooperative association with a statement showing the name of each producer for whom payment is being made to the cooperative association, the volume and average butterfat content of milk delivered by each such producer, and the amounts of and reasons for any deductions which the handler withheld from the amount payable to each producer. This statement is necessary in order that the cooperative association can make proper distribution of money to the producer-members for whom it makes collections.

The order should not include a provision that would provide a pooling differential for "special milk".

A handler proposed a pooling differential on "special milk". He was joined in this proposal by representatives of the Mississippi Guernsey and Jersey breed associations. It was proposed that "special milk" be defined as milk:

(1) Receiving not less than a Class I price premium of 25 cents per hundredweight above the minimum order price,

(2) Processed and handled separately, and

(3) Sold under a registered trademark controlled by a producers' organization.

In support of such a definition of "special milk", it was contended that:

(1) It has superior quality.

(2) Production costs of this "special milk" are higher, and

(3) Consumer demand is greater than in the case of average or "ordinary" milk.

The proposed definition of "special milk", on which a pooling differential for "special milk" would be based, is not a feasible means to distinguish such milk from any other milk in the market for pricing and pooling purposes. In the first place premiums of 25 cents per hundredweight, or more, are frequently paid for reasons not associated with the quality of the milk. There have been numerous situations under Federal milk price regulation where premiums of 25 cents per hundredweight, and more, have been paid generally throughout the market. Consequently, the mere payment of a premium of any amount could not be relied upon to distinguish "special" milk from other milk in the market.

Neither could separate processing and handling be used to identify "special milk". Frequently, all of the milk received in a plant which distributes "special" breed milk handles only milk which is eligible for this designation. Likewise, other distributors sometimes distribute "special milk" and they process in their own plants only milk meeting those specifications. It could be said, consequently, in the latter case as well as the former, that the milk was handled separately. Moreover, milk handlers sometimes set up special quality criteria of their own choosing, and they handle milk meeting these criteria separately.

Finally, the use of a trademark controlled by a producers' organization could not be relied upon to distinguish "special milk" from all other milk in the market. In this market and in other markets, there are producers' associations which distribute milk under their own brand names, which brand names are registered and are controlled by producers' associations. Hence, this criterion also would fail to identify only special milk.

Each of these criteria, and all in combination, would not successfully distinguish special milk from other milk which could be distributed in this and other markets.

In justification for special pricing and pooling it is claimed that the special milk has superior qualities entailing higher production costs that entitle producers to higher prices. But these claims are not supported. The record evidence merely states that "special" breed milk possesses higher or different quality characteristics than other milk in a Grade A standard market but does not offer facts to substantiate such claims. The evidence on cost of production is of the same nature. It is a fact that cost of production studies show marked variation in costs from farm to farm among Grade A milk producers, including producers of "special" breed milk. Production costs or marketability are not in themselves factors to influence minimum milk prices or to justify separate or special pooling of returns to selected groups of producers.

In further justification of their proposal, proponents claimed a greater consumer demand for "special milk." To support this claim, the high Class I utilization of one handler distributing "special" breed milk in the marketing area was cited. This handler purchases other source fluid and powdered milk, from distance sources, to supplement receipts from area producers. At the same time, however, there are producers of special breed milk located in the marketing area that do not have a market with this handler. Extensive advertising, superior selling practices, proximity to the market place are some factors, besides type of milk differentiation, that influence consumer demand and permit some handlers to secure higher than market average Class I utilization. Be that as it may, any handler restricting the amount of milk purchased from producers and supplementing supplies from other sources may achieve equally well a high Class I utilization.

Even if it were possible to define adequately the "special milk" referred to, it would be inappropriate to provide a special pooling differential. The pooling arrangements provided in Federal orders have important market and price stabilizing functions. They make it feasible for milk handlers to accept the offerings of producers at all times. In a market-wide pool handlers may accept the milk of producers without reducing the individual handler's pay price in relation to the rest of the market. This makes it feasible for the handler to accept and market all of the deliveries of producers. In a similar way, under individual-handler pooling, the regulated handler pays his producers a blended price for all of their deliveries. Thus, he does not have to choose among producers who will receive a higher price and who a lower price. The handler can thus receive all of the milk of his producers at an equal price. Through pooling, producers share equally in the higher value of fluid milk products, in the responsibility to provide an adequate and orderly flow of the supply of milk to meet consumer demand and in the lower returns from the market reserve supply. For these reasons the act provides for either individual-handler or marketwide pooling of returns to milk producers to stabilize the pricing and orderly marketing of milk in the interest of producers and consumers.

The proposal for a pool differential, which in effect would mean separate pooling for "special milk", would nullify the effect of pooling. It would hinder the stabilizing influence pooling is intended to have in a regulated market. This is particularly evident when it is recognized that the proposed criteria for "special milk" could result in a multiplicity of separate pooling arrangements. Clearly there is no statutory intent to adopt a proposal which would have the effect of nullifying one of the most essential stabilizing devices provided in the act.

Despite the fact that it is concluded inappropriate to provide special pooling arrangements for "special milk", there is no need to consider such action a penalty to the producers of such "special milk". The prices specified in the Federal orders are minimums only. Producers may negotiate for higher prices for milk of special marketability which under certain circumstances may inhere in "special milk". Such premiums would not be pooled; but would be paid directly to the producers of "special milk".

For these reasons the proposal for special pooling and similar pricing proposals that would provide for a preferential pooling or pricing arrangement for producers of "special milk" is denied.

(3) Producer butterfat differentials. The butterfat differential used in making payments to producers should be calculated at the average of the returns actually received from the sale of butterfat in producer milk. The rate to be used for this purpose would be the average of the Class I and Class II differentials weighted by the proportion of butterfat in producer milk classified in each class. Thus, producer returns for butterfat will reflect the actual sales value of their butterfat at the class differentials provided in the order. The producer butterfat differential in no way affects the handlers' costs of milk but merely prorates returns among producers according to the varying butterfat tests of their milk.

(4) Producer-settlement fund. Since the amount which the order requires a particular handler to pay for his milk may be more or less than the amount he is required to pay to producers or cooperative associations, some method of balancing these amounts is necessary. A producer-settlement fund should be established for this purpose. All handlers who are required to pay more for their milk on the basis of their utilization than they are required to pay to producers or cooperative associations should pay the difference into the producer-settlement fund; and all handlers who are required to pay more to producers or cooperative associations than they are required to pay for their milk on the basis of utilization should receive the difference from the producer-settlement fund. Amounts paid into and out of the producer-settlement fund for this purpose will be equal except for minor differences that may result from rounding of uniform prices. In order to permit this rounding of prices, to allow for unavoidable delays in receiving payments from handlers, and to permit payments to be made to any handler which audit by the market administrator reveals is due such handler from the producer-settlement fund, a reserve should be held in the producer-settlement fund at all times. The amount of the reserve contemplated in the proposed order should be sufficient for these purposes. This reserve would be accumulated by deducting between 4 and 5 cents each month from the uniform or base price, as applicable, after adding half of the unobligated balance to the pool from which such prices are computed. Since excess milk will rarely share in the higher class uses of the market, and deduction for the reserve from the excess milk price would reduce this price below the level of ungraded manufacturing milk prices, excess milk need not contribute to this revolving reserve fund in months when payments are computed under the base-excess plan.

If at any time the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to cover payments due to all handlers from the producer-settlement fund, payments to such handlers should be reduced uniformly per hundredweight of milk. The handlers may then reduce payments to producers by an equivalent amount per hundredweight. Amounts remaining due such handlers from the producer-settlement fund should be paid as soon as the balance in the fund is sufficient, and handlers should then complete payments to producers.

5. Payments on unpriced milk:

The order should provide compensatory payments with respect to unpriced milk which is allocated to Class I in a pool plant when receipts from producers exceed 110 percent of the Class I utilization.

The proponent cooperatives proposed compensatory payments on all unpriced milk utilized or sold in the marketing area. The rate of payment would be the difference between the Class I and Class II milk prices for the months March through August. During the months of September through February, the rate of payment would be the difference between the Class I milk price and the uniform price to producers.

Receipts of milk from producers during the lowest period of production may not be enough to meet the Class I needs of handlers in the marketing area. Therefore, purchase of other source milk by handlers in bulk fluid form or as skim milk powder or condensed milk is at times necessary. During the flush season, receipts from producers are more than sufficient to meet the Class I needs of the market.

An important function of the order is to insure that the position of handlers paying producers a Class I price for fluid milk will not be undermined by other handlers using the market's excess or surplus milk for Class I use. It is equally important that the Class I market be protected from the use of seasonal excess milk from other markets as well as from its own surplus. If the order failed to provide such protection, a handler could curtail purchases of producer milk to his own advantage and secure low cost reserve supplies from other markets for Class I use.

Seasonal supplies may be obtained easily and cheaply during the months of flush production, when most markets have receipts of milk considerably greater than necessary to supply their current fluid requirements. If adjoining milksheds dispose of their seasonal surplus in each other's Class I markets, the result would be confused and disorderly marketing conditions. Market prices would be demoralized, production of milk would be impaired, and the future supply of milk for both markets would be jeopardized. Such disorderly marketing conditions would be contrary to the purposes of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act. Therefore, in order to insure the effectiveness of the classified pricing program and to promote orderly marketing, it is necessary that some method of compensating for, or neutralizing the effect of, the advantage created for unpriced milk should be provided as an essential provision of this order. Since the need for such payments arises because of the availability of unpriced milk (milk not procured at specified prices by class usage), compensatory payments should not apply to milk entering the marketing area from a plant regulated under another order. Its proper classification and pricing is determined pursuant to the other order.

It is not practicable to price all milk which may enter the market. However, it is necessary to make provision to prevent the displacement of producer milk by such unpriced milk for the purpose of cost advantage. The alternative available under the order is to make a charge against unpriced milk used in Class I to the extent necessary to remove any advantage in using such milk in lieu of milk from producers.

In the case of other source milk received in the form of concentrated products such as condensed skim milk or nonfat dry milk, the cost to the handler of such products is approximately the Class II price provided under the Mississippi Delta order. When such products are reconstituted and utilized as Class I milk, the cost to the handler of such product is less than the Class I price by approximately the difference between the Class I price and the Class II price. In order to remove any price advantage, a handler might have through the reconstitution of manufactured dairy products into fluid milk products, the rate of compensatory payment on other source milk received in the form of concentrated products should be the difference between the Class I price and the Class II price, adjusted by the applicable butterfat differential. Since the point of origin of such other source milk is not generally known, it is not administratively feasible to adjust these payments by any location differential.

In addition to the other source milk which enters the market in the form of concentrated products there are at times fluid milk imports from unregulated markets for use as Class I. To remove the price advantage that a handler might achieve by purchasing surplus milk from other markets for use as Class I milk, a compensatory payment should be assessed on such milk equal to the difference between the Class I price and the Class II price. The Class II price provided by the order is a fair index of the value of such milk in manufactured dairy products which is the alternative outlet for such milk. Since the handler must pay the cost of transporting such milk from the plant of origin to the marketing area, the rate of the payment should be reduced by the amount of the location differential which would apply at the plant of origin were it a regulated plant under the Mississippi Delta order.

In order to permit handlers to secure supplementary supplies without making a payment when the market is actually short of milk, it has been provided that no compensatory payment will apply any month in which receipts of producer milk on the market are less than 110 percent of Class I sales. From the record data on monthly receipts and utilization of producer milk, such utilization percentage would be a practical demarcation of adequate supply and deficit supply conditions.

In computing the applicable location differential, if a handler has received other source milk in the form of fluid milk products from two or more nonpool plants, the amount of skim milk and butterfat allocated to Class I milk should be considered to have been received from the plants in sequence according to the smallest location adjustment applicable.

In the case of a handler whose plant fails to qualify as a distributing plant but who has sales of fluid milk products on routes in the marketing area, such handler also should under certain conditions be required to make payments to the producer-settlement fund. The amount of these payments would be the lesser of (1) the difference between the Class I and Class II price multiplied by the amount of Class I milk sold in the marketing area, or (2) the amount by which total payments to dairy farmers are less than the total amount of the plant's obligation to producers if such obligation is computed as if such plant were a pool plant.

If the handler elects to make payments under the first option, the regulatory plan will be protected in the same manner and to the same extent as is provided with respect to compensatory payments on other source milk. If the handler chooses to pay the full utilization value of his milk either directly to his own farmers or by combination of payments to his farmers and to the producer-settlement fund, he will obviously not have any advantage in terms of the minimum order class prices on his sales of Class I milk in the marketing area, for his total minimum obligation for milk will be determined in exactly the same way as if he were a fully regulated handler.

Affording this last option to nonpool plants which distribute some Class I milk in the marketing area will adequately protect the regulatory plan in this market. In the areas from which it is expected such nonpool handlers would procure supplies, no great quantities of milk are available. Moreover, the size of handlers who would use this option is relatively small. It is expected also that the difference between the Class I price and uniform price, which will prevail in this market, will be relatively minor. Consequently, the price which these handlers would be required to pay under the option and the uniform price payable by wholly regulated handlers would not differ greatly. Hence, the exercise of this option could not have a disruptive influence on the handling of milk in this area. For these reasons, it is not necessary, in order to maintain the integrity of the regulatory plan in this market, to require these partially regulated plants to make payments into the producer-settlement fund if it is ascertained that they have paid their producers at least the total amount of money which they would be required to pay if they were fully regulated.

The nonpool handler should also pay his pro rata share of the costs of administration of the order. Complete verification of receipts, utilization and payments is required if such a handler is to be given credit for payments as related to the classified use value of skim milk and butterfat received. Accordingly, administrative expense should be determined on the same basis as for fully regulated plants. Should a handler operating a nonpool distributing plant elect when filing his report to make payments to the pool at the difference between the Class I and Class II prices with respect to sales in the marketing area, the expenses of administration will be assessed only with respect to such sales, since need for verification will then be confined to that volume.

6. A provision for the determination of equivalent price quotations should be included in the order.

Such a provision is designed to meet an emergency situation in which a price quotation necessary in the determination of class prices, or for any other purposes, may not be available. In such event, the Secretary would determine a price equivalent to the price quotation normally available. The provision proposed will remove uncertainty as to the procedure to be followed in the absence of any price quotation provided for in the order and thereby will prevent unnecessary interruption in the administration of the order.

(e) Other administrative provisions. The remaining provisions are of a general administrative nature, are incidental to the order provisions of the proposed order, and are necessary for proper and efficient administration. They provide for the selection of a market administrator, define his powers and duties, provide for an administrative assessment, prescribe the information to be reported by handlers and set forth the rules to be followed in making the computations required. They also prescribe the length of time that records must be retained and provide a plan for the liquidation of the regulatory program in the event of suspension or termination. They are similar to like provisions of other milk orders, and except as set forth below require no comment.

As his share of the expenses of administering this proposed order each handler should pay not in excess of 5 cents per hundredweight with respect to all producer milk received, all other source milk received at a pool plant which was classified as Class I milk, and as discussed elsewhere with respect to a nonpool plant. The market administrator must verify receipts and utilization of all such milk; therefore, all such milk should be subject to the expenses of administration. Experience in other markets indicates that 5 cents per hundredweight with respect to all such milk should yield sufficient money to cover expenses of administration. If payment of expenses of administration at the rate of 5 cents per hundredweight yields more money than is needed, provision is made for the Secretary to prescribe a lower rate of payment from time to time.

Provision should be made for the dissemination of market information to producers, for the verification of weights and for the sampling and testing of milk received from producers for whom such services are not being rendered by a qualified cooperative association. The order should provide that 7 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may determine, be deducted from payments to such producers for use of the market administrator in financing such services. While proponents sought a deduction of 8 cents per hundredweight, the lesser amount recommended, based on the evidence of this record, should provide adequate funds for marketing services. Conditions in this marketing area are not enough different from the Central Mississippi market—where a 7 cent rate is provided—to justify a higher rate in the Delta area. For producers for whom a cooperative association is rendering such services, the handler should pay to the cooperative association such deductions as the producer has authorized the cooperative to collect. Such payments to be in lieu of those to the market administrator.

Reports are required from handlers on receipts and utilization so that the market administrator may make the computations necessary to the marketwide pooling operation and the uniform price to producers. Handlers are also required to submit payroll reports which would show the details of milk receipts from each producer, the value of the milk received from the producer, deductions therefrom, and net amount paid to the producer.

There are limitations on the period of time handlers shall retain books and records which are required to be made available to the market administrator, and on the period of time in which obligations under the order shall terminate. The provision made in this regard is identical in principle with the general amendment made to all orders in operation on July 30, 1947, effective February 22, 1949, and the Secretary's decision of January 26, 1949 (14 F. R. 444) covering the retention of records and limitation of claims is equally applicable in this situation and is adopted as part of the decision.

Dates must be prescribed for announcing prices, filing reports and making payments. The following time schedule should allow all interested persons adequate time to perform each function. (These time limits apply to the indicated day of the month following the month for which computations are being made.)

Day of the month and function:

6th day—Announcement of class prices by market administrator.

5th day—Submission of monthly report of receipts and utilization by handlers.

10th—Announcement of uniform prices by market administrator.

12th—Notification by market administrator to handlers of the value of their producer milk and amounts due to or payable from producer-settlement fund.

12th—Payment by handlers of amounts due to producer-settlement fund and for expenses of administration.

13th—Payments by handlers to cooperative associations and by the market administrator out of the producer-settlement fund.

15th—Payments by handlers to producers.

It is impracticable to regulate a handler under two or more orders with respect to the same milk. He should be regulated where his Class I sales are greatest. Therefore, a handler who operates a plant at which minimum prices to dairy farmers are established under another Federal order issued pursuant to the act and also sells Class I milk in the Mississippi Delta marketing area should be exempt from the provisions of this regulation, except for reporting the volume of Class I sales in the marketing area.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties in the market. These briefs, proposed findings and conclusions, and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and order and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreement and order will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on exceptions. In arriving at the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision, each of the exceptions received was carefully and fully considered in conjunction with the record evidence pertaining thereto. To the extent that the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision are at variance with any of the exceptions, such exceptions are hereby overruled for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following order regulating the handling of milk in the Mississippi Delta marketing area is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The recommended marketing agreement is not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the proposed order.

DEFINITIONS

§ 905.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

§ 905.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, or any other officer or employee of the United States, authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 905.3 Department of Agriculture. "Department of Agriculture" means the United States Department of Agriculture or any other Federal agency authorized to perform the price reporting functions specified in this part.

§ 905.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other business unit.

§ 905.5 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association which the Secretary determines, after application by the association:

(a) To be qualified under the provisions of the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act"; and

(b) To have full authority in the sale of milk of its members and to be engaged in making collective sales of or marketing milk or its products for its members.

§ 905.6 Mississippi Delta marketing area. Mississippi Delta marketing area, hereinafter called the marketing area, means all the territory, including incorporated municipalities and military reservations within Attala, Bolivar, Carroll, Choctaw, Grenada, Holmes, Humphrey, Leake, Leflore, Lowndes, Montgomery, Noxubee, Oktibbeha, Sharkey, Sunflower, Tallahatchie, Washington, Webster, Winston, and Yazoo counties; Beats 1, 4 and 5 in Calhoun county; Beat 5 in Chickasaw county; Beats 4 and 5 in Coahoma county; Beats 2, 3, 4 and 5 in Quitman county; Beat 3 in Panola county; and Beats 1, 4 and 5 in Yalobusha county, all within the State of Mississippi.

§ 905.7 Route. "Route" means a delivery (including delivery by a vendor or sale from a plant or plant store) of any fluid milk product, other than a delivery to any milk processing plant.

§ 905.8 Distributing plant. "Distributing plant" means any plant at which fluid milk products, eligible for distribution in the marketing area under a Grade A label, are processed and packaged and from which fluid milk products are disposed of on a route(s) in the marketing area.

§ 905.9 Supply plant. "Supply plant" means any plant at which milk eligible for distribution in the marketing area under a Grade A label, is received from dairy farmers and from which fluid milk products are moved to a distributing plant.

§ 905.10 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means:

(a) A distributing plant, other than that of a producer-handler or one described in § 905.61 (a), from which during the month:

(1) Disposition in the marketing area of fluid milk products on routes is 20 percent or more of receipts from dairy farmers and supply plants; and

(2) Total disposition of fluid milk products on routes is 50 percent or more of receipts from dairy farmers and supply plants; or

(b) A supply plant from which during the month 50 percent or more of receipts from dairy farmers is moved to a plant described in paragraph (a) of this section. Any supply plant that was a pool plant during each of the months of September through January immediately preceding shall continue to be a pool plant each of the following months of February through August unless written notice to the market administrator is received before the first day of the month of its intention to withdraw, in which case such plant shall thereafter be a nonpool plant, unless it again qualifies as a supply plant by shipping 50 percent or more of its receipts from dairy farmers to a plant described in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 905.11 Nonpool plant. "Nonpool plant" means any milk manufacturing, processing or bottling plant other than a pool plant.

§ 905.12 Handler. "Handler" means:

(a) Any person in his capacity as the operator of a pool plant(s); or

(b) The operator of any nonpool distributing plant with route distribution in the area; or

(c) A cooperative association with respect to milk of producers diverted for the account of such association from a pool plant to a nonpool plant in accordance with § 905.14.

§ 905.13 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means a dairy farmer who operates a distributing plant at which no fluid milk or fluid milk products are received during the month except his own production or transfers from a pool plant(s).

§ 905.14 Producer. "Producer" means any person, other than a producer-handler, who produces milk in compliance with Grade A inspection requirements of a duly constituted health authority, which milk is received during the month at a pool plant or is diverted by a handler to a pool plant or a nonpool plant for the account of such handler or by a cooperative association but for not more than 10 days production during any months of September through January. Milk diverted for the account of the operator of a pool plant shall be deemed to have been received at the plant from which diverted, and milk diverted for the account of a cooperative association shall be deemed to have been received by the cooperative association at the location of the pool plant from which it was diverted.

§ 905.15 Producer milk. "Producer milk" means all skim milk and butterfat received at a pool plant directly from producers, or diverted pursuant to § 905.14.

§ 905.16 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat contained in:

(a) Receipts during the month of fluid milk products except (1) fluid milk products received from pool plants, (2) producer milk; and

(b) Products, other than fluid milk products, from any source (including those produced at the plant) which are reprocessed or converted to another product in the plant during the month, or for which other utilization or disposition is not established pursuant to § 905.33.

§ 905.17 Fluid milk product. "Fluid milk product" means all skim milk and butterfat in the form of milk, including concentrated milk, skim milk, including reconstituted skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, eggnog, yogurt, cream (other than frozen storage cream) cultured sour cream, and any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk (other than ice cream, ice cream mixes, other frozen desserts and mixes, and sterilized products contained in hermetically sealed containers).

§ 905.18 Chicago butter price. "Chicago butter price" means the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any range as one price) per pound of 92-score bulk creamery butter at Chicago as reported during the month by the Department of Agriculture.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 905.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this part shall be a market administrator, selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

§ 905.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this part:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary, complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 905.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this part, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) Within 45 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, effective as of the date on which he enters upon such duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon, satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in a reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of the funds provided by § 905.93, the cost of his bond and of the bonds of his employees, his own compensation, and all other expenses, except those incurred under § 905.92, necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part, and upon request by the Secretary, surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(g) Verify all reports and payments of each handler by examination of such handler's records and the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classification of skim milk and butterfat for such handler depends; and by such other means as are necessary;

(h) Publicly disclose, at his discretion, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not made reports pursuant to §§ 905.30 and 905.31, or payments pursuant to §§ 905.90 to 905.95;

(i) Publicly announce by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, and notify each handler in writing;

(1) On or before the 6th day of each month, the minimum price for Class I milk pursuant to § 905.50 (a) adjusted by the applicable location adjustments pursuant to § 905.52 and the Class I butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.51 (a), both for the current month, and the minimum price for Class II milk computed pursuant to § 905.50 (b) and the Class II butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.51 (b) both for the previous month;

(2) On or before the 10th day after the end of each of the months of August through February, the uniform price computed pursuant to § 905.72 and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.75; and

(3) On or before the 10th day after the end of each of the months of March through July, the uniform prices for base milk and for excess milk computed pursuant to §§ 905.73 and 905.74 and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.75;

(j) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, report to each cooperative association which so requests, the percentage of producer milk delivered by members of such association, which was used in each class by each handler receiving such milk. For the purpose of this report, the milk so received shall be prorated to each class in accordance with the total utilization of producer milk by each handler; and

(k) Prepare and make available for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers, general statistics and information concerning the operation of this part which do not reveal confidential information.

REPORTS, RECORDS AND FACILITIES

§ 905.30 Reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 5th day (exclusive of Sundays and holidays) of each month each handler who operates a pool plant(s), each handler, other than a producer-handler, who operates a nonpool distributing plant, and any cooperative association with respect to milk for which it is a handler pursuant to § 905.12 (c) shall report for the preceding month to the market administrator in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in:

(1) Milk received from producers and for the months of March through July the total quantity of base and excess milk. In lieu thereof the operator of a nonpool distributing plant shall report aggregate receipts from dairy farmers who would be producers if such plant were a pool plant;

(2) Fluid milk products received from other pool plants;

(3) Other source milk; and

(4) Inventories of fluid milk products on hand at the beginning and end of the month;

(b) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, including separate statements with respect to:

(1) Disposition of fluid milk products on routes within the marketing area from plants described in §§ 905.61 and 905.62, and from other plants for which the market administrator requires such information as a basis for determination of status or obligations; and

(2) Class I milk outside the marketing area;

(c) Such other information with respect to sources and utilization of skim milk and butterfat as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 905.31 Other reports. (a) On or before the 20th day of each month each handler operating a pool plant(s) and each cooperative association which is a handler pursuant to § 905.12 (c) shall report its producer payroll for the preceding month which shall show for each producer:

(1) His name and address;

(2) The total pounds of milk received from such producer and for the base-operating months of March through July the total pounds of base and excess milk;

(3) The number of days on which milk was received from such producer if less than a full calendar month;

(4) The average butterfat content of such milk; and

(5) The net amount of such handler's payment, the price paid and the amount and nature of any deductions;

(b) Each handler who received producer milk for which payment is to be made to a cooperative association pursuant to § 905.90 (e) shall report to such cooperative association with respect to each such producer, as follows:

(1) On or before the 20th day of each month, the total pounds of milk received during the first 15 days of the month;

(2) On or before the 10th day after the end of each month;

(i) The daily and total pounds of milk received during the month with separate totals for base and excess milk for the months of March through July, and the average butterfat test thereof; and

(ii) The amount or rate and nature of any deductions.

(c) Each handler (other than a producer-handler or one described in § 905.61) operating a nonpool distributing plant shall report his payments to dairy farmers qualified to be producers if such plant were a pool plant, showing for each such dairy farmer:

(1) The pounds of milk;

(2) The average butterfat content thereof; and

(3) The date and net amount of payment to such dairy farmer with a statement of the prices, deductions and charges used in computing such payment and the nature of each.

§ 905.32 Producer-handler reports. Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator shall prescribe.

§ 905.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator during the usual hours of business, such accounts and records of his operations, together with such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data for each month with respect to:

(a) The receipt and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat handled in any form;

(b) The weights and butterfat and other content of all milk, skim milk, cream, and other milk products handled;

(c) The pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by all milk, skim milk, cream, and milk products on hand at the beginning and end of each month; and

(d) Payments to producers, including any deductions authorized by producers, and disbursement of money so deducted.

§ 905.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this part to be made available to the market administrator, shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month, to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act of a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case, the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 905.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to § 905.30 shall be classified (separately as skim milk and butterfat), pursuant to §§ 905.41 to 905.47.

§ 905.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 905.42 to 905.47 the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat:

(1) Disposed of in the form of fluid milk products, except those classified pursuant to paragraph (b) (2) of this section; and

(2) Not accounted for as Class II;

(b) Class II shall be all skim milk and butterfat:

(1) Used to produce any product other than a fluid milk product;

(2) In skim milk authorized by the market administrator to be dumped or accounted for as disposed of for livestock feed;

(3) In shrinkage, but in an amount not to exceed one-half percent of the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat received directly from producers plus 1½ percent of the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat in bulk milk, skim milk, and cream in fluid form received at a pool plant from all sources less that disposed of in bulk to a pool plant of another handler;

(4) In shrinkage of other source milk; and

(5) In inventories of fluid milk products on hand at the end of the month.

§ 905.42 Assignment of shrinkage. The market administrator shall assign shrinkage at the pool plant(s) of each handler as follows:

(a) Compute the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat classified as Class II milk; and

(b) Assign the resulting amounts pro rata to the handler's receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in (1) producer milk and milk received from other pool plants and (2) other source milk.

§ 905.43 Responsibility of handlers. All skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

§ 905.44 Transfers. Skim milk and butterfat transferred or diverted during the month as milk, skim milk or cream from a pool plant to:

(a) The pool plant of another handler shall be classified as Class I unless Class II is indicated by the operators of both plants in their reports submitted pursuant to § 905.30 and:

(1) The receiving plant has utilization in such class of equivalent amounts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively; and

(2) Such skim milk and butterfat shall be classified so as to allocate to producer milk the greatest possible total Class I in the two plants;

(b) A plant operated by a producer-handler shall be Class I;

(c) A nonpool plant, except as specified in paragraph (b) of this section, shall be Class I unless:

(1) The transfer is in bulk form and the transferring handler claims Class II use on his report for the month;

(2) The operator of the nonpool milk plant maintains books and records which are made available for examination upon request by the market administrator and which are adequate for verification of such Class II use; and

(3) The skim milk and butterfat, respectively, received at the nonpool plant during the month from a pool plant(s) and from a plant(s) at which milk is priced pursuant to another order issued pursuant to the act does not exceed the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, resulting from the following computation:

(i) Determine the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, used to produce any items of Class II milk (as defined pursuant to § 905.41 (b)) at such nonpool plant during the month;

(ii) Add the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in fluid bulk cream transferred from such nonpool plant to a plant at which milk is priced pursuant to this part or another order issued pursuant to the act and such cream is allocated to other than Class I (under the applicable order definitions and allocation procedures at the transferee plant);

(iii) Add the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in fluid bulk cream transferred from such nonpool plant to a second nonpool plant which is not in excess of the items of Class II processed in such second nonpool plant plus the bulk fluid cream shipped from such second nonpool plant to other nonpool plants which do not dispose of milk or cream for consumption in fluid forms: Provided, That the second nonpool plant meets the conditions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph; and

(iv) Subtract the skim milk and butterfat, respectiyely, received in fluid milk products at such nonpool plant from any source(s) other than that which has been approved by a governmental agency as a source(s) of Grade A fluid milk products.

In the event that the remaining skim milk and butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to subdivision (iv) of this subparagraph is less than the skim milk and butterfat, respectively, received at such nonpool plant from a pool plant(s) and from a plant(s) at which milk is priced pursuant to another order issued pursuant to the act, the difference shall be assigned pro rata, to each pool plant (in accordance with receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, from all plants regulated pursuant to the act), and shall be classified as Class I milk.

§ 905.45 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and obvious errors the monthly report submitted by each handler pursuant to § 905.30 and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat respectively, in Class I and Class II at the pool plant(s) of such handler.

§ 905.46 Allocation of skim milk classified. The pounds of skim milk remaining after making the following computations shall be the pounds in each class allocated to producer milk:

(a) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk shrinkage pursuant to § 905.41 (b) (3);

(b) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, in series beginning with Class II, the pounds of skim milk in other source milk, except as specified in paragraph (c) of this section;

(c) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, in series beginning with Class II, the pounds of skim milk received from plants subject to the pricing and payment provisions of other orders issued pursuant to the Act;

(d) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, the pounds of skim milk received from other handlers in such class pursuant to §§ 905.41 and 905.44 (a);

(e) Subtract from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class, in series beginning with Class II, the pounds of skim milk in inventory of fluid milk products on hand at the beginning of the month;

(f) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds subtracted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; and

(g) If the remaining pounds of skim milk in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk in milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class in series, beginning with Class II.

§ 905.47 Allocation of butterfat classified. Allocate the pounds of butterfat in each class to producer milk in the same manner as that prescribed for skim milk in § 905.46.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 905.50 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of §§ 905.51 and 905.52 the minimum prices per hundredweight for the month shall be as follows:

(a) Class I price. The price per hundredweight for Class I shall be the price for Class I milk established pursuant to § 987.51 (a) of this chapter regulating the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area, less 10 cents;

(b) Class II price. The price per hundredweight for Class II shall be the average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department of Agriculture: Kraft Cheese Co., Houston, Mississippi; Borden Co., Starkville, Mississippi; Carnation Co., Tupelo, Mississippi; Pet Milk Co., Kosciusko, Mississippi; plus 20 cents per hundredweight for the months September through January and plus 10 cents per hundredweight for the months February through August.

§ 905.51 Butterfat differential to handlers. For milk containing more or less than 4.0 percent butterfat, the class prices determined pursuant to § 905.50 shall be increased or decreased, respectively, for each one-tenth percent butterfat at the appropriate rate determined as follows:

(a) Class I. Multiply the Chicago butter price for the preceding month by 0.12;

(b) Class II. Multiply the Chicago butter price for the month by 0.11.

§ 905.52 Location adjustment to handlers. For milk received from producers at a pool plant located north of U. S. Highway No. 82, within the State of Mississippi, or at a pool plant located outside the State of Mississippi and 30 miles or more by shortest highway distance open to commercial truck traffic, as determined by the market administrator, from the nearer of the city halls at Greenwood or Starkville, Mississippi and which is classified as Class I, the prices determined pursuant to § 905.50 (a) shall be reduced 7.5 cents, plus an additional 1.5 cents for each 10 miles that such distance exceeds 30 miles.

§ 905.53 Rate of compensatory payments. In any month in which total deliveries of producer milk are 110 percent or more of the total amount classified as Class I (excluding duplications) at all pool plants, the rate of compensatory payment per hundredweight shall be calculated as follows:

(a) Subtract the Class II price, adjusted by the Class II butterfat differential, from the Class I price adjusted by the Class I butterfat differential and adjust such difference by the location differential rate set forth in § 905.52 for the location of the plant at which the milk was received from farmers.

§ 905.54 Use of equivalent prices. If for any reason a price quotation required by this part for computing class prices or for other purposes is not available in the manner described, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to the price which is required.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 905.60 Producer-handler exemption. A producer-handler shall be exempt from all provisions of this part except §§ 905.32, 905.33 and 905.34.

§ 905.61 Plants subject to other Federal orders. The provisions of this part, except §§ 905.30 (b) (1), 905.33 and 905.34, shall not apply to:

(a) A distributing plant which would be subject to the classification and pricing provisions of another order issued pursuant to the act unless a greater volume of Class I is disposed of from such plant during the month on routes in the Mississippi Delta marketing area than in the marketing area defined in such other order;

(b) A supply plant which would be subject to the classification and pricing provision of another order issued pursuant to the act unless such plant qualified as a pool plant during each of the preceding months of September through January.

§ 905.62 Obligations of handler operating a nonpool distributing plant. In lieu of payments required pursuant to §§ 905.90 to 905.95, each handler, other than a producer-handler or one exempt pursuant to § 905.61 (a), who operates during the month a nonpool distributing plant, shall pay to the market administrator for deposit in the producer-settlement fund and the administrative assessment fund, as the case may be, as follows:

(a) If such handler so elects in writing at the time of reporting pursuant to § 905.30 the amounts computed as follows:

(1) On or before the 13th day after the end of the month, for the producer-settlement fund, an amount equal to the difference between the value of the Class I disposed of during the month on routes in the marketing area at the applicable Class I price for the month and the value of such milk at the Class II price; and

(2) On or before the 13th day after the end of the month, as his pro rata share of expense of administration, the rate specified in § 905.93 with respect to Class I disposed of on routes in the marketing area.

(b) Except as the handler may elect the option pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, he shall pay the amounts as follows:

(1) On or before the 25th day after the end of the month, for the producer-settlement fund, the amount specified in paragraph (a) (1) of this section, or any plus amount resulting from the following computation, whichever is less:

(i) Determine the value for milk received from dairy farmers at such plant for such month pursuant to § 905.70 as if such plant were a pool plant; and

(ii) Deduct the gross payments made by the handler to dairy farmers for milk received at such plant for such month. Such gross payments shall be limited to cash payments made to the dairy farmer or his assignee on or before the date for filing reports required pursuant to § 905.31 (c), plus the value of any supplies or services furnished by the handler on prior written authorization or as evidenced by a delivery ticket signed by the dairy farmer; and

(2) On or before the 13th day after the end of the month, as his pro rata share of the expense of administration, an equal to that which would have been computed pursuant to § 905.93 had such plant been a pool plant.

DETERMINATION OF PRICES TO PRODUCERS

§ 905.70 Computation of value of producer milk. The value of producer milk received during the month by each handler at his pool plant(s) shall be computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Multiply the producer milk in each class, as computed pursuant to § 905.48, by the applicable class prices (adjusted pursuant to §§ 905.51 and 905.52);

(b) Add an amount computed by multiplying the skim milk and butterfat subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 905.46 (b) and the corresponding step of § 905.47 and pursuant to § 905.46 (c) and the corresponding step of § 905.47 excluding the skim milk and butterfat determined pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section, by the rate of compensatory payment as determined pursuant to § 905.53 for the nearest plant(s) from which an equivalent amount of other source milk was received in the form of fluid milk products;

(c) Add the amount computed by multiplying the skim milk and butterfat in overage deducted from each class pursuant to § 905.46 (a) and the corresponding step of § 905.47 by the applicable class price;

(d) Add the amount obtained by multiplying the difference between the Class II price for the preceding month and the Class I price for the current month by the lesser of:

(1) The hundredweight of milk subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 905.46 (e) and the corresponding step of § 905.47; or

(2) The hundredweight of producer milk classified as Class II (except as shrinkage) for the preceding month.

§ 905.71 Computation of the 4.0 percent value of all producer milk. For each month, the market administrator shall compute the 4.0 percent value of producer milk, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the individual value of milk computed pursuant to § 905.70 for all handlers, except those who failed to make payments required pursuant to §§ 905.90 and 905.95 for the preceding month;

(b) Add, if the weighted average butterfat test of all producer milk represented in paragraph (a) of this section is less than 4.0 percent, or substract if the weighted average butterfat test of such milk is more than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the total pounds of butterfat represented by the difference of such average butterfat test from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential provided in § 905.75 multiplied by 10.

(c) Add the total of the values of the applicable producer location adjustments pursuant to § 905.76, and

(d) Add not less than one-half of the unobligated balance in the producer settlement fund.

§ 905.72 Uniform price. For each of the months of August through February, the uniform price per hundredweight for milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat received from producers at pool plants (before location adjustments) shall be computed as follows:

(a) Divide the amount computed pursuant to § 905.71 by the hundredweight of producer milk; and

(b) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents.

§ 905.73 Uniform excess milk price. For each of the months of March through July, the price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content shall be computed as follows:

(a) Multiply the hundredweight of excess milk, not in excess of Class II represented by the values included in § 905.71 (a), by the Class II price for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content determined pursuant to § 905.50 (b);

(b) Multiply the hundredweight of any excess milk not included in the computation in paragraph (a) of this section by the Class I price for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content pursuant to § 905.50 (a); and

(c) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, divide by the hundredweight of excess milk and round to the nearest cent.

§ 905.74 Uniform base milk price. For each of the months of March through July, the price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers at pool plants (before location adjustment) shall be computed as follows:

(a) Multiply the total pounds of excess milk by the excess price for the month;

(b) From the total 4.0 percent value of producer milk pursuant to § 905.71 subtract the total value determined in paragraph (a) of this section;

(c) Divide the resultant value by the total hundredweight of base milk; and

(d) Subtract not less than 4 cents or more than 5 cents.

§ 905.75 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 905.90, the uniform prices shall be increased or decreased for each one-tenth of one percent of butterfat content in the milk received from each producer or a cooperative association above or below 4.0 percent, as the case may be, by a butterfat differential equal to the average of the butterfat differentials pursuant to § 905.51 weighted by the pounds of butterfat in producer milk in each class, rounded to the nearest tenth cent.

§ 905.76 Location adjustment to producers. In making payments to producers and cooperative associations, a handler may deduct from the applicable uniform prices, with respect to all milk received from producers at a pool plant located north of the marketing area or outside the State of Mississippi, and 30 miles or more by shortest highway distance open to commercial truck traffic as determined by the market administrator, from the city hall at Greenwood or Starkville, Mississippi, whichever is nearer, the amount per hundredweight applicable to the plant as set forth in § 905.52.

§ 905.77 Notification. On or before the 12th day after the end of each month the market administrator shall notify each handler of:

(a) The amount and value of his producer milk in each class and the totals thereof;

(b) The amount due such handler from the producer-settlement fund or the amount to be paid by such handler to the producer-settlement fund, as the case may be; and

(c) The totals of the amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 905.92 and 905.93.

BASE RATING

§ 905.80 Determination of daily base. The daily base of each producer shall be calculated by the market administrator as follows: Divide the total pounds of milk received by all handlers of pool plants from such producer during the months of September through January by the number of days from the first day milk is received from such producer during said months to the last day of January, inclusive, but not less than 120 days.

§ 905.81 Computation of base. The base of each producer to be applied during the months of March through July shall be a quantity of milk calculated by the market administrator in the following manner: Multiply the daily base of such producer by the number of days for which such producer's milk was received by such handler during the months.

§ 905.82 Base rules. The following rules shall apply in connection with the establishment of bases:

(a) A base shall be assigned to the producer for whose account milk is received at a pool plant during the months of September through January and to each person for whose account milk was delivered to a plant that did not qualify as a pool plant during each month of the base forming period, but which qualifies as a pool plant during any of the months of March through July, bases shall be assigned on deliveries at such plant in the same manner as if such plant had been a pool plant during each month of the base forming period.

(b) An entire base shall be transferred by the market administrator to another person upon receipt of an application form, approved by the market administrator, and signed by the base-holder(s), or his heirs, and by the person to whom such base is transferred subject to the following condition:

(1) If a base is transferred to a producer already holding a base, a new base shall be computed by adding together the producer milk deliveries of the transferee and transferor during the base forming period and dividing the total by the number of days from the first day of delivery by either the transferee or transferor during the base forming period to the last day of January, inclusive, but not less than 120 days.

PAYMENTS

§ 905.90 Payments to producers. Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section each handler shall make payment for producer milk as follows:

(a) On or before the last day of each month, for milk received during the first 15 days of the month, at not less than the price per hundredweight for Class II milk for the preceding month;

(b) On or before the 15th day after the end of each of the months of August through February for milk received during such month at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight, computed for such handler pursuant to § 905.72, subject to the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.75 and the location differential computed pursuant to § 905.76, less proper deductions authorized in writing by such producer and less payment made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, and deductions made pursuant to § 905.92;

(c) On or before the 15th day after the end of each of the months of March through July, after allowance for the amount of payment made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section for deductions made pursuant to § 905.95 and for other proper deductions authorized in writing by such producer, as follows:

(1) At not less than the uniform price per hundredweight for base milk computed pursuant to § 905.74 for the quantity of base milk received from such producer during the month subject to the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.75 and the location differential computed pursuant to § 905.76; and

(2) At not less than the uniform price per hundredweight for excess milk computed pursuant to § 905.73 for the quantity of excess milk received from such producer during the month, subject to the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.75 and the location differential computed pursuant to § 905.76;

(d) In making the payments to producers pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, each handler shall furnish each producer from whom he has received milk with a supporting statement in such form that it may be retained by the producer, which shall show for each month:

(1) The month and the identity of the handler and of the producer;

(2) The daily and total pounds and the average butterfat content of milk received from such producer;

(3) The minimum rate or rates at which payment to such producer is required pursuant to this part;

(4) The rate which is used in making the payment, if such rate is other than the applicable minimum rate;

(5) The amount or the rate per hundredweight and nature of each deduction claimed by the handler; and

(6) The net amount of payment to such producer;

(e) In lieu of payments pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section, each handler shall make payment to a cooperative association which has filed a written request for such payment with such handler and with respect to producers for whose milk the market administrator determines that such cooperative association is authorized to collect payment, as follows:

(1) On or before the 26th day of each month, an amount equal to not less than the Class II price for the preceding month, multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received during the first 15 days of the month from such producers; and

(2) On or before the 13th day after the end of each month an amount equal to not less than the applicable uniform price pursuant to §§ 905.72 to 905.74, multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received from such producers to which each such price is applicable, subject to the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.75 and the location differential computed pursuant to § 905.76, less payment made such cooperative association pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and proper deductions authorized in writing by such producers or such cooperative associations; and

(f) On or before the 13th day after the end of the month, each handler shall pay to each cooperative association which is also a handler, for milk received from it not less than the value of such milk as classified pursuant to § 905.44 (a) at the applicable respective class prices including differentials prescribed by this part.

(g) If by such date such handler has not received full payment for such month pursuant to § 937.96 he shall not be deemed to be in violation of this section if he reduces uniformly to all producers and cooperative associations his payments per hundredweight by a total amount not in excess of the reduction in payments due from the market administrator; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment uniformly to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this section next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

§ 905.91 Adjustment of accounts. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts, or verification of weights and butterfat tests of milk or milk products discloses errors resulting in money due (a) the market administrator from a handler, (b) a handler from the market administrator, or (c) any producer or cooperative association from a handler the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth under which such error occurred.

§ 905.92 Marketing services. (a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers for milk (other than milk of his own production) pursuant to § 905.90, shall deduct 7 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding 7 cents per hundredweight, as may be prescribed by the Secretary, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of each month. Such moneys shall be used to check the accuracy of the testing and weighing of their milk for producers who are not receiving such service from a cooperative association;

(b) In the case of producers who are members of a cooperative association which the Secretary has determined is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between such cooperative association and such producers on or before the 15th day after the end of each month, and pay such deductions to the cooperative association of which such producers are members, furnishing a statement showing the amount of any such deductions and the amount and average butterfat test of milk received from each such producer. In lieu of such statement, a handler may authorize the market administrator to furnish such cooperative association the information reported for such producers pursuant to § 905.90 (d).

§ 905.93 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this part, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month for such months, 5 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding 5 cents per hundredweight, as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to:

(a) Receipts of producer milk, including such handler's own production;

(b) Other source milk allocated to Class I milk pursuant to § 905.46 (b) and § 905.47; and

(c) Applicable amounts specified in § 905.62 (a) (2) or (b) (2).

§ 905.94 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 905.62, 905.91 and 905.95, and out of which he shall make all payments pursuant to §§ 905.91 and 905.96: Provided, That any payments due to any handler shall be offset by any payments due from such handler.

§ 905.95 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, each handler shall pay to the market administrator any amount by which the value of his producer milk as computed pursuant to § 905.70, for such month, is greater than the amount owed by him for such milk pursuant to § 905.90.

§ 905.96 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of each month, the market administrator shall pay to each handler any amount by which the total value of his producer milk, computed pursuant to § 905.70, for such month is less than the amount owed by him for such milk pursuant to § 905.90. If, at such time, the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this section, the market administrator shall reduce such payments uniformly per hundredweight of producer milk and shall complete such payments as soon as the appropriate funds are available.

§ 905.97 Termination of obligations. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this part shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books and records required by this part to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representative.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay any handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 905.100 Effective time. The provisions of this part or any amendment to this part shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to § 905.101.

§ 905.101 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this part or any provision of this part whenever he finds this part or any provision of this part obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This part shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 905.102 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, there are any obligations thereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator) such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 905.103 Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions of this part, except this section, the market administrator, or such liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignment or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidating and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 905.110 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his Agent or Representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 905.111 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this part, or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the application of such provision and of the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 5th day of August 1958.

[Docket No. AO-71-A34]

HANDLING OF MILK IN NEW YORK-NEW JERSEY MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Utica, New York, Newark, New Jersey, and New York City, during the period February 3-10, 1958, pursuant to notices thereof issued on January 21, 1958, and January 24, 1958 (23 F. R. 481 and 23 F. R. 587).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on June 6, 1958 (23 F. R. 4076) filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issues on the record of the hearing relate to:

1. Conditions under which milk produced on a handler's own farm should be wholly or partially exempt from regulation.

2. Conditions under which the handling of milk at a plant may be subject to either full or partial regulation at the option of the handler.

3. The assignment of milk to Class I-A at plants not expressly designated as regular pool plants.

4. Uses of skim milk to which the fluid skim differential should apply.

5. The plant at which classification should be determined for fluid cream products, half and half, and cultured or flavored milk drinks.

6. The zone limit for plants at which nearby location differentials are payable.

7. The times specified for filing reports, announcement of the uniform price and payments into and out of the producer-settlement fund.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

Issue No. 1. It is concluded that the order should be amended to set forth more specifically than at present the conditions under which milk produced on a handler's own farm is exempt from regulation. Definitions of a "producer-handler" and of "own farm milk" should be added. Provision should be made for (1) complete exemption from the pricing and pooling provisions of the order for own farm milk of any handler designated as a producer-handler, and (2) exemption from pricing and pooling of up to an average of 800 pounds per day of own farm milk of any other handler in any month in which the average daily volume of milk handled which is from sources other than his own farm does not exceed 1,600 pounds.

The definition of a producer-handler should provide specific requirements to be met by a handler to qualify for designation as a producer-handler whose milk is fully exempt from the pricing and pooling provisions of the order. Accordingly, the definition should require that the handler (1) file an application with the market administrator, (2) handle no milk, fluid skim milk or cream (except as hereinafter provided) other than that derived from production facilities over which the handler has and exercises full control, and (3) does not directly or indirectly control or manage the operations of another handler or plant or is controlled or managed directly or indirectly by another handler. The definition also should provide that the designation of a producer-handler be cancelled upon a finding by the market administrator that these requirements are not being met, with termination to be effective on the first day of the month following the month in which the requirements were not met. The designation is to be cancelled if the producer-handler transfers during any month except during June through November, and then only after prior notification to the market administrator, a dairy herd, cattle barn or milking parlor to another person who uses such facilities or resources in producing milk delivered to the plant of another handler. The designation also is to be cancelled if such resources and facilities previously used by another person for the production of milk delivered to another handler is added to the producer-handler's designated milk production facilities and resources during any month except during December through May, after prior notice to the market administrator, or if such resources and facilities added were a part of the designated production resources and facilities during the preceding 12 months.

The exceptions noted with respect to requirement No. (2) are that if the producer-handler handles in any month more than an average of 150 pounds per day of whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream (or of these items in total) other than that derived from his designated unit, the designation be cancelled effective the first of such month, and that the designation be cancelled effective the first of the month following the third month in any six-month period in which a producer-handler handles whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream derived from other than his designated unit but in an aggregate volume not exceeding an average of 150 pounds per day. To avoid making this latter provision unnecessarily restrictive provision is made for allowing the receipt of up to an average of 10 pounds per day of fluid skim milk or cream (either or in total) in packages which is not to be considered as received from sources outside the designated unit if such outside receipts are so confined.

It should be required that the market administrator publicly announce the names, plant and farm locations of designated producer-handlers and those whose designations have been cancelled.

In the event the plant of the handler was operated by a handler whose designation as a producer-handler previously was cancelled, the handler operating the plant should not be eligible for designation as a producer-handler unless he has operated for at least 12 months prior to application in a manner which would not have resulted in cancellation of designation during such 12 month period.

The term "own farm milk" should be defined as milk received at a plant from a dairy farm operated by the person who also is the operator of such plant, and provision should be made for the market administrator to publicly announce the name and plant location of any handler receiving own farm milk. The announcement should not include the name of any person designated as a producer-handler nor any person who handles no milk of other producers and who sells no more than 100 quarts per day of Class I-A milk in the marketing area other than to other plants. Likewise the names of institutions of various types (religious, charitable, educational or governmental) which purchase no bulk milk and are engaged primarily in production and processing of their own milk for use by persons in or directly connected with the institution should not be included in the announcement.

The order now provides complete exemption from pricing and pooling for all milk received at a handler's plant from the handler's own farm if no milk is received at the plant from any other source, and provides an exemption of up to an average of 800 pounds per day of milk received at a handler's plant from the handler's own farm if milk is received at such plant from other plants but not from dairy farmers.

As found in the Department's decision of June 10, 1957 (22 F. R. 4194), the objectives of these provisions were to provide full exemption from regulation for handlers who depend entirely on their own production as a source of supply and who do not burden the pool with any surplus or excess milk and to exempt from regulation a vast majority of handlers with own farm milk who receive some milk from other plants. It was the purpose of these provisions that individuals who are basically dairy farmers and who own, operate and control all facilities and resources of a milk producing, processing and distributing unit should be exempt from regulation.

It was recognized in the June 10, 1957, decision that the exemption thereby accorded own farm milk together with extension of regulation to include considerable urban territory in Upstate New York and Northern New Jersey would provide some competitive advantage to handlers with own farm milk who prior to the effective date of regulation were in competition with handlers buying milk from producers for which no minimum price was established or for which the Class I-C price was paid. Since August 1, 1957, these competing handlers have been fully regulated and required to account for milk used in fluid form at the Class I-A price. While this situation was recognized, it was not the objective that these provisions provide unwarranted incentives for producers to become distributors or for handlers with own farm milk to expand in numbers or in volume by employing numerous practices to qualify for exemption from pricing and pooling at the expense of or to the detriment of producers under the order. It was not intended that the exemption then provided for handlers with own farm milk result in according them a competitive advantage of sufficient magnitude over handlers whose supply is fully regulated to constitute a major competitive factor in the market or to threaten the stability of the market and the effectiveness of the order in achieving its primary objectives.

These unintended and undesirable consequences already have developed to some degree and their further development is in prospect under the prevailing economic conditions and existing order provisions. Considerable incentive is afforded for (1) producers to become distributors, (2) handlers with own farm milk to expand fluid sales at retail and wholesale prices lower than those of competing fully regulated handlers, and (3) handlers with own farm milk to take advantage of opportunities afforded under existing provisions of the order to increase the volume of exempt own farm milk by entering into contractual arrangements or otherwise adjusting their operations in such a way as to qualify more milk either for the limited or unlimited exemptions provided.

The fact that the amended order has been in effect only a few months, and that at the time of the hearing, data on own farm milk were available only through October 1957 results in only a limited statistical measure of change in the number of handlers with exempt own farm milk or in the volume of exempt milk. However, even during this limited period for which data are available (August-October), the total volume of exempt milk utilized in Class I-A in the Upstate New York and the Northern New Jersey portions of the marketing area increased from 5.5 to 6.1 million pounds, an increase of 10 percent, while during the same period the total volume of pool milk utilized for fluid purposes in these areas decreased from 201.0 to 193.8 million pounds, or a decline of 4 percent.

The total volume of exempt milk used in Class I-A expressed as a percent of total pool milk for fluid use in all districts of the marketing area, exclusive of the New York Metropolitan District, increased from 2.7 to 3.1 percent from August to October 1957. The volume of exempt Class I-A milk in relation to Class I-A milk of regulated handlers in some of the districts is a substantial share of the total fluid sales. For example, while the percentage of exempt I-A milk to pool I-A milk varied considerably among districts during October 1957, it was 3.5; 6.4; 4.3; 2.4; 1.8; 13.9; 10.6; and 2.0 percent, respectively, of pool Class I-A milk in the Nearby, Capital, Mohawk Valley, Syracuse, Binghamton, Elmira, South Central and Northern New Jersey Districts. To a varying degree among districts, exempt own farm milk sold in competition with fully regulated handlers is of sufficient volume and a large enough proportion of total sales in the district to have considerable influence on the retail pricing of milk in these areas.

In some districts, exempt handlers have cut retail and wholesale prices below prevailing prices of fully regulated handlers in efforts to increase their fluid sales with the result that fully regulated handlers have lost some fluid sales to handlers with exempt own farm milk. In some districts such practices have tended to detract from the effectiveness of the order in promoting orderly and stable marketing conditions and these practices and resultant undesirable conditions may be expected to expand into other districts and magnify in intensity in the near future unless the order is appropriately amended. These practices have prevailed most extensively in the Capital District and in Northern New Jersey.

In addition to marketwide statistics relative to own farm milk, actual or prospective increases in the volume of exempt own farm milk may be expected. A number of individual handlers who now qualify for either full or partial exemption reported increases in their production and fluid sales ranging from 5 to 20 percent. Some of these handlers also intend to increase their fluid sales areas in the immediate future. One handler who is now partially exempt, and who heretofore has purchased milk from a pool plant to supply an increase in fluid demand during July, August, and September, reported that he plans to increase his own farm production of milk from 60,000 to 130,000 pounds per month to provide a larger volume of milk for fluid distribution.

Instances were cited of steps already taken by producer-distributors to qualify for exemption of own farm milk. At least four producers who prior to August 1, 1957, were having their milk pasteurized and packaged at the plant of another handler have since sought permission from the State of New York to equip their own pasteurizing plants. Sale of milk in gallon jugs, recently authorized by the State of New York, was reported to provide an attractive means by which a producer can become a distributor since a smaller capital investment is required and such type of distribution otherwise lends itself to small operations.

The present order provisions permit, if not encourage, handlers with own farm milk who are fully or partially exempt from regulation to enter into various contractual arrangements to increase the volume of their milk exempt from regulation. In some instances, these practices have resulted in producers under the order carrying the seasonal and day-to-day reserve supplies of milk associated with such handler's fluid sales without sharing in the benefits accruing from such fluid sales.

Sixteen of 106 handlers with exempt own farm milk (63 fully exempt and 43 partially exempt) either leased or owned and leased the farms they claimed to operate. Some leases were made immediately before and some since the effective date of the order on August 1, 1957. It is possible under the present order provisions for a handler to lease any number of cows or farms during periods in which additional milk is needed and terminate the lease when the milk is no longer required to supply fluid sales. This is an attractive means by which a handler with own farm milk can balance out of the pool and permit producers to carry his burden of surplus. After such a lease is terminated the milk from such cows and farms can be delivered to a pool plant by the owner and the blend price received. It is also possible that a handler with some own farm milk may lease the cows, barns and land of any number of dairy farmers who previously delivered milk to his plant as producers and qualify for full exemption as all the milk would be considered as own farm milk. The leasing arrangements may specify that the dairy farmers receive payments of approximately the same amounts as previously paid when the individuals were producers delivering to the handler's plant. Under such circumstances, the handler is basically a handler and not a dairy farmer and should not be given a competitive advantage over competing fully regulated handlers but should be considered the same as any other fully regulated handler who receives milk from producers, who is required to participate in marketwide equalization and who is required to pay producers the minimum uniform prices.

Under the present order language a multiple farm operator can produce exempt milk from one farm while delivering milk to regulated handlers from any number of other farms and receive the uniform price for the milk. Cows can be shifted or the milk may possibly be shifted in a concealed manner from the farm or farms from which milk is delivered to regulated handlers to the farm on which exempt milk is produced. Such practices enable an exempt handler to balance from the pool the day-to-day and seasonal surplus associated with the fluid sales exempt from pricing and pooling while producers under the order receive no benefits from the exempt handler's fluid sales.

Some handlers with own farm milk have taken full advantage of the order provisions to qualify for full exemption of own farm milk. Prior to August 1, 1957, there were 27 handlers in the State of New York who in addition to handling their own milk also purchased milk from other producers and who have since that date discontinued receiving milk from other producers. A number of handlers who are now exempt testified at the hearing that they ceased purchasing milk from other producers after August 1, 1957, so that they could qualify their own farm milk for exemption.

It is recognized that emergency conditions and conditions of an unusual nature may arise in which a designated producer-handler may find it necessary to receive limited quantities of whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream for limited periods of time from sources other than his own production unit. In view of the restrictive requirements to be fulfilled for designation as a producer-handler and the provisions requiring that a producer-handler cannot regain designation for 12 months once it is cancelled, it is reasonable to permit a producer-handler to receive some whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream from other sources under emergency or unusual conditions. It also is reasonable to permit a producer-handler to receive a limited quantity of packaged fluid skim milk or cream on a regular basis to supply retail routes without losing designation as a producer-handler. Accordingly, provision is made that a designated producer-handler will not lose his designation until after the third month in any six-month period in which he receives not more than an average of 150 pounds per day each or in aggregate of whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream derived from sources other than from the production resources and facilities designated as constituting a part of the producer-handler's unit. However, provision is made for cancellation of the designation of a producer-handler as of the first of any month in which he receives more than an average of 150 pounds per day each or in aggregate of whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream other than from his designated unit. Receipt of packaged fluid skim milk or cream up to an average of 10 pounds per day shall not be counted for these purposes. These limited exceptions to the requirement that a producer-handler handles only milk, skim milk or cream from his designated production resources and facilities will provide needed flexibility but at the same time will not permit producer-handlers to balance out of the pool to an extent detrimental to the interests of other producers.

If qualification as a producer-handler depended only on whether he receives milk from sources other than his designated unit, a producer-handler, although receiving no milk, could receive unlimited quantities of skim milk and cream from pool sources at any time and depend on the pool to carry a portion of his surplus burden. As it is intended that full exemption be provided for handlers who handle only whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream from a production, processing and distributing unit, the operation and management of which is under the complete and exclusive control of the handler and who do not depend on producers under the order to carry their burden of surplus, a producer-handler should be precluded from handling not only milk but also fluid skim milk or fluid cream derived from sources other than from his designated unit except in limited amounts and for limited periods of time as herein provided.

The provisions herein provided that a handler operating a plant which was previously operated by a handler whose designation as a producer-handler has been cancelled cannot obtain designation as a producer-handler sooner than 12 months following such cancellation and that a producer-handler cannot relinquish and then later add (except during specified periods) resources and facilities which constitute a part of his designated source of supply will prevent producer-handlers from depending on the pool to carry the seasonal surplus associated with their fluid sales. Without these requirements, a producer-handler could choose to become fully regulated or add production resources and facilities to his designated unit during periods when additional supplies of milk are required and revert to full exemption from pricing and pooling during any months when his own production is adequate to supply the demand for fluid milk, or release production resources and facilities when they are not needed. Such practices would be in direct conflict with the objective of providing full exemption from pricing and pooling for handlers who distribute only milk from their production units and who are not dependent upon the pool in any way except in cases of an emergency nature for which provision is made.

Exempt milk of a producer-handler should not be allowed to displace milk of other producers for fluid use when such other producers do not share in the fluid sales of the exempt producer-handler. Accordingly, as presently provided with respect to own farm milk, any milk received from the production, processing and distribution facilities of a producer-handler at the plant of another handler (except certified milk as hereinafter provided) should be considered as a receipt of nonpool milk at the plant of such other handler and be subject to compensatory payments if assigned to Class I–A or Class II. In order to guard against the delivery of producer-dealer milk to another handler as pooled milk (rather than as nonpooled), provision is made for cancellation of a producer-handler's designation if milk from his designated production resources and facilities is delivered in the name of some other person as pooled milk to another handler.

Instances have occurred in which handlers under the order have received milk at their plants from handlers who were fully exempt from pricing and pooling and have not considered the milk as nonpool milk as they were not aware that the handler delivering the milk was exempt from regulation. In some instances, such milk has been received by handlers for a considerable period of time without their knowing that an obligation for compensatory payments was being incurred. To provide proper notification to regulated handlers of persons who are designated as producer-handlers so that any milk received from such persons will be assigned as nonpool milk, the market administrator should be required to publicly announce the names, plant and farm locations of designated producer-handlers and of those whose designations have been cancelled. The announcements should be controlling with respect to the accounting at regulated handler's plants for milk received from producer-handlers on and after the first of the month following the date of announcement.

Handlers with own farm milk who are not designated as producer-handlers should be allowed an exemption of up to an average of 800 pounds of own farm milk per day in any month in which the volume of milk, other than own farm milk, handled does not exceed an average of 1600 pounds per day. This will permit a handler to supply the equivalent of two medium size routes with milk received from other plants or from dairy farmers without losing limited exemption on his own farm milk. Currently, partially exempt handlers with own farm milk are given an incentive to conceal receipts of milk from neighboring dairy farmers when additional supplies of milk are required in order to preserve their exemption. There appears to be no sound basis for distinguishing, for limited exemption purposes, between handlers with own farm milk who obtain additional limited supplies from other plants and those obtaining such additional supplies from other producers. In either instance the pool will be protected since such additional supplies will be pooled.

Prior to the effective date of the amended order on August 1, 1957, a considerable number of small handlers with own farm milk "custom bottled" milk for one or more other dairy farmers. These handlers were not eligible for partial exemption on their own farm milk if they continued to engage in this practice after August 1, 1957, since milk so received for custom bottling is considered to be received from producers. The change herein provided under which such a handler remains eligible for a limited exemption on his own farm milk so long as other source milk also is limited to not more than an average of 1600 pounds per day will permit him to do "custom bottling" for two or three other producers of average size without loss of his exemption. This change will permit more flexibility of operations without adversely affecting the interests of other producers.

Provision for limited exemption on own farm milk applicable to those receiving no more than an average of 1600 pounds of milk per day from other sources will tend to confine eligibility to those who are engaged primarily in milk production but who also distribute their own milk and other milk on a limited scale. On the other hand, this limited exemption will not be applicable to those handlers engaged primarily in the processing and distribution of relatively large volumes of milk but who incidentally obtain a relatively minor part of their milk from their own farms.

An exemption of up to an average of 800 pounds per day will provide full exemption of own farm milk for 28 of 57 handlers who claimed partial exemption in 1957 and for 31 of 57 handlers with own farm milk who did not claim any exemption in 1957 provided, in each instance, their receipts from other sources do not exceed an average of 1600 pounds per day. Receipts of own farm milk by those handlers averaged less than 800 pounds per day. The remaining 29 handlers claiming partial exemption in 1957 and the remaining 26 claiming no exemption in 1957 would be eligible for an 800-pound daily exemption if their other source receipts are within the specified limit.

Milk received at the plant of a fully regulated handler from a handler with own farm milk to which the limited exemption applies should be allocated to the lowest possible classification at the second handler's plant. No provision for treating any such milk as nonpool milk in instances where it must be assigned to Class I–A or Class II is necessary (as is provided with respect to milk received from a designated producer-handler) since, considering the volume limitation provided, there can be no significant displacement of producer milk in these classes by exempt own farm milk.

The market administrator should be required to publicly announce the names and plant locations of handlers with own farm milk for the purpose of identifying the milk required to be so allocated. Such announcements should not include the names of designated producer-handlers or the names of handlers receiving no milk from other dairy farmers and who sell no more than an average of 100 quarts of Class I–A milk per day directly to consumers in the marketing area or the names of institutions (religious, charitable, educational or governmental) not engaged in the practice of purchasing bulk milk for distribution or in the practice of distributing milk to those not associated with the institution. Those to be so excluded from the list are producers essentially rather than handlers.

The State of New York exempts from milk dealers' license requirements a farmer (individual or partnership but not a corporation) selling only on the farm where produced not more than 100 quarts daily average of milk in any one month to consumers coming to such farm for it. It would not be administratively feasible to attempt to designate such persons as handlers with own farm milk and require that any milk delivered by such persons to a pool plant be assigned to the lowest classification possible. Accordingly, any milk delivered by such persons should be considered as being received from producers.

The present provisions of the order for exempting own farm milk from pricing and pooling apply to milk produced in accordance with methods and standards of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions for the production of certified milk and permit a producer of such milk to dispose of to other handlers for fluid use in Class I–A that portion of his production in excess of that marketed as certified milk. Such disposition displaces priced producer milk in Class I–A thus adversely affecting the interests of other producers. Accordingly, it is concluded that milk produced in accordance with methods and standards of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions for the production of certified milk and which is marketed as certified milk should continue to be exempt from pricing and pooling in the same manner as own farm milk of other designated producer-handlers, and that any milk so produced, other than that marketed as certified milk, delivered from the farm where produced to a pool plant of another handler should be considered as having been received from a producer and priced and pooled the same as other producer milk.

It was contended at the hearing by handlers with own farm milk that they were entitled to exemption from pricing and pooling because of alleged higher costs of production than other producers caused by operating conditions normally associated with and peculiar to their type of business enterprise, and that, because of their higher production cost, an exemption would not provide them with a competitive advantage over fully regulated handlers. It was contended that their higher costs of production were due to (1) higher labor costs, (2) maintenance of "show places" from which the industry in general benefits by promoting the sale of more milk for fluid use, (3) use of land with higher value and subject to higher taxation by virtue of being located near urban centers, and (4) maintenance of more even seasonal pattern of production.

These reasons as justification for an exemption are not valid. Cost of production cannot be used as a sound basis for granting an exemption from pricing and pooling any more than it can be used as the sole criterion for establishing minimum order prices. If production costs were used as a criterion for exemption of producer-handlers it logically would follow that comparable exemptions also be provided for milk received by fully regulated handlers from other producers with higher than average production cost. Aside from the administrative difficulties involved in its application, such a criterion for exemption would be in direct conflict with the principles of the classified system of pricing, market-wide pooling and the requirements of the act for establishing minimum order prices.

It was not demonstrated that all or a majority of the producers who also are engaged in distribution have production costs higher than many other producers; that their production is seasonally more even than that of many other producers; that the labor employed is any less productive than that of other producers; that the majority of such producer-handlers maintain production and processing facilities of higher quality than those of other producers and of the handlers to whom they deliver or that when "show places" are maintained that they should not be regarded as a form of advertising the cost thereof being freely incurred as an integral part of the cost of distribution the same as similar costs are incurred by fully regulated handlers in the normal course of business.

No change should be made in the order to provide full or partial exemption for milk delivered by a dairy farmer to a handler's plant for processing and packaging and with packaged fluid milk being returned to the dairy farmer for distribution directly to consumers. As a means of carrying out the purpose of the order, each milk handler operating a plant at which milk is received from farmers is required to account for the utilization of all milk so received and is held responsible for payment for that milk at the minimum prices established. The practice of attempting to impose these obligations upon persons other than those handlers operating plants receiving milk from farmers would provide opportunities and incentives for engaging in practices constituting a threat to market stability and orderly marketing, thus tending to defeat the purposes of the order.

An unwarranted incentive would be provided for producers to have their milk "custom bottled" and become handlers or distributors in an effort to increase their returns by obtaining more than their proportionate share of the fluid sales in the market, to the detriment of other producers, and handlers would be encouraged to engage in the practice of "custom bottling" as a means of escaping the obligation of paying the established minimum prices for the milk so handled and thus obtain undue competitive advantage over other handlers.

Exceptions were taken to the recommended decision for its failure to provide full regulation or a specific volume limitation on exempt milk of producer-handlers. Parties filing such exceptions urged volume limitations ranging from 100 quarts to 2000 pounds per day on the basis that such limitations are essential to prevent undue expansion in the volume of exempt milk. However, the regulation of producer-handlers to a degree beyond that for which provision is made herein is not found to be justified. Accordingly, such exceptions are denied.

Issue No. 2. Provisions of the order relating to temporary pool plants should be amended to provide (1) that a plant from which Class I–A milk is distributed in the marketing area, and which now is a nonpool plant unless the handler operating the plant exercises the option to be a pool plant, would be a pool plant automatically unless the handler exercises the option to be a nonpool plant, and (2) that such provision for full regulation as a pool plant, unless the handler chooses to be a nonpool plant, be applicable to a plant otherwise subject to regulation under another Federal order in which no provision is made for marketwide equalization regardless of the relative volumes of milk distributed from the plant in the two marketing areas involved.

At the present time, the order provides that a plant distributing milk directly to consumers in the marketing area but in a quantity insufficient to make that plant a pool plant automatically may become a pool plant at the option of the operating handler if not less than 55 percent of the milk received from farmers at that plant is classified as Class I–A or Class I–B. This option is not available, however, to plants which otherwise would be regulated under another Federal order unless the volume of Class I–A milk at the plant is larger than the volume of its Class I–B sales in the other Federal marketing area. At present, if the plant distributing the milk in the marketing area does not exercise its option to be a pool plant, an obligation is incurred to make compensatory payments on any nonpool milk distributed in the marketing area. Thus, a plant which is not regulated under another Federal order and which receives no milk from pool plants would be required to pay to the producer-settlement fund the difference between the Class III price and the Class I–A price for any Class I–A milk distributed in the marketing area. By making such payments the operator avoids pooling his Class I–B milk distributed outside of the marketing area.

A reversal of the present option provision, as proposed at the hearing, to provide that such a plant automatically is a pool plant unless the operator exercises an option to remain a nonpool plant, would not change the economic position of a plant. The change would mean, however, that nonpool status for the plant could be attained only by positive action by the handler rather than merely resulting from inaction on his part. Such a change appears desirable and should be made in order that nonpool status, and the resultant prospective or possible obligation for compensatory payments, will be the result of a choice positively exercised by the handler operating the plant.

All other Federal milk marketing orders in the Northeast provide for excluding from regulation thereunder any plant which is regulated by the New York-New Jersey order. Some of such other orders provide for marketwide equalization and some do not. In contrast to handlers subject to no minimum price regulation or to regulation with no provision for marketwide equalization, a handler subject to regulation under a Federal marketing order with provisions for marketwide equalization is not in a position to increase returns to his producers by increasing the proportion of his milk disposed of for Class I–A use except to the relatively minor extent that such higher Class I utilization increases the returns to all producers in the market through the mechanics of marketwide pooling. This difference in the impact on the handlers under regulation of an order providing for marketwide equalization compared to other handlers not involved in marketwide pooling is recognized under existing provisions of the order providing for compensatory payments on nonpool milk disposed of for fluid use in the marketing area. Thus, under existing provisions of the order a handler subject to regulation under the Philadelphia order (Order No. 61) incurs an obligation for compensatory payments on nonpool milk disposed of in the Order No. 27 marketing area at a rate equal to the difference between the Order No. 27 Class I–A and Class III prices and with his obligation to producers under Order No. 61 reduced by an equivalent amount. The return to producers under the Philadelphia order for such milk is the same as for milk disposed of for manufacturing rather than for fluid purposes.

Since under existing provisions of the order a handler subject to regulation under the Philadelphia order incurs an obligation for compensatory payments on milk disposed of in the Order No. 27 marketing area at the same rate as is applicable to nonpool milk from sources not subject to regulation under another order, such a regulated handler should have the same unrestricted choice as an unregulated handler of either being a pool plant subject to full regulation under the order or of being a nonpool plant subject to compensatory payments. Handlers subject to regulation under another Federal order with provisions for marketwide equalization are in essentially the same position as handlers subject to regulation under Order No. 27 insofar as their ability to influence the returns to their own producers by means of their own utilization is concerned. Handlers subject to this type of regulation incur an obligation for compensatory payments, if any, only in the amount by which the Order No. 27 Class I–A price exceeds the Class I–A price under the other order. Thus, there is no need to afford as much freedom for this type of handler to become subject to full regulation under Order No. 27 as is afforded to other handlers not so regulated. Unrestricted freedom to shift back and forth between orders with provisions for marketwide pooling to take advantage of month-to-month differences in class prices could result in disorderly marketing conditions and adversely affect the interests of producers under both orders.

Accordingly, the present provisions should continue to provide that a handler subject to regulation under another order providing for marketwide equalization be eligible for designation as a temporary pool plant under Order No. 27 only if the volume of Class I–A milk at the plant exceeds the volume of Class I–B milk at the plant disposed of in the marketing area defined under the other order.

Issue No. 3. The order should be changed (by amending § 927.35 (a) (1)) to provide that, if a handler operating a plant which is not an expressly designated pool plant (pursuant to § 927.25 or § 927.28) but from which Class I–A milk is distributed on routes in the marketing area so elects, milk received from pool plants may be assigned to such Class I–A milk prior to the assignment of milk received at the nonpool plant directly from dairy farmers to such Class I–A sales.

The order presently requires that milk received at a nonpool plant directly from dairy farmers first be assigned to Class I–A milk distributed from the plant on routes in the marketing area unless the volume of such Class I–A milk is not sufficient to qualify the plant as a temporary pool plant pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of § 927.29. Accordingly, under present provisions of the order, a handler operating a plant from which the volume of Class I–A milk distributed on routes in the marketing area is not large enough to subject the plant to full regulation, may first assign milk received at his plant from pool plants to his Class I–A sales, and thereby avoid compensatory payments on nonpool milk assigned to Class I–A, provided the volume of his receipts from pool plants equals or exceeds his volume of Class I–A sales.

The difficulty encountered by this type of handler as the order presently is written, however, is that when he attempts to reduce the volume of milk received directly from farmers to compensate for the volume received from pool plants, the volume of his Class I–A sales, although remaining constant, becomes a larger percentage of his receipts directly from farmers, thereby making him subject to full regulation as a temporary pool plant pursuant to § 927.28. The change herein provided will eliminate this difficulty and permit more flexibility in the application of the order to the "fringe operator" type of handler. The change will tend to minimize the impact of the order on this type of handler and at the same time avoid either giving him any undue competitive advantage over other handlers or adversely affecting the pool.

Issue No. 4. The fluid skim differential should apply to skim milk disposed of in the form of fluid skim milk if it is for human consumption as fluid skim milk and not to skim milk disposed of as fluid skim milk for other uses including that disposed of to commercial food processing or manufacturing establishments, other than dairy plants, for use in processed or manufactured food products. Provisions of the order setting forth the mechanics of accounting for skim milk in connection with application of the fluid skim differential should be revised for the purpose of clarification.

Practices employed in the disposition of skim milk in the expanded marketing area to which the order has applied since August 1, 1957, are different from those in the marketing area as previously constituted. Thus, the fluid skim differential, under existing provisions of the order, is applicable to skim milk dispositions in circumstances not encountered prior to expansion of the marketing area. In the territory added to the marketing area effective August 1, 1957, fluid skim milk in bulk is disposed of from handlers' plants to such establishments as bakeries and soup, candy and margarine manufacturers; whereas, such dispositions in the former marketing area were extremely limited or nonexistent.

It was found in the decision of June 10, 1957 (22 F. R. 4194) providing for expansion of the marketing area that (1) application of the fluid skim differential is a method of attaching a fluid price to skim milk used in products which essentially are fluid milk products, and (2) the fluid skim differential provisions of the order (existing prior to August 1, 1957) should be applied in the expanded marketing area to the same products and at the same rate as presently applicable to the (former) marketing area. There is no basis in this record for a different conclusion but there is evidence that the conclusion is not properly implemented under existing provisions of the order and that the amendments herein provided are needed for that purpose.

It appears probable that amendment of the order, as herein provided, to make the differential applicable to fluid skim milk disposed of in consumer packages or dispenser units will make it applicable to virtually all skim milk disposed of as fluid skim milk for consumption in fluid form, since no other method of disposing of fluid skim milk for consumption as such is known to be presently permitted under applicable health authority regulations. However, to insure against a possible loophole, provision should be made for application of the differential also to any skim milk disposed of in bulk for human consumption as fluid skim milk.

It was contended at the hearing that even though such application of the fluid skim differential was not heretofore intended, experience under the order since August 1, 1957, indicates that the differential should apply to fluid skim milk disposed of for manufacturing purposes such as in the manufacture of margarine. It was pointed out in this connection that the volume of skim milk subject to the differential had about tripled in the first month after expansion of the marketing area in contrast to a 70 percent increase in population of the area, and had remained at a high level through December, the last month for which statistics are available. These statistics are of extremely doubtful validity, however, in support of a conclusion that margarine and other manufacturers are paying and will continue to pay a fluid price for skim milk. The statistics are based on handlers' reports which, it was indicated, did not include skim milk sales to margarine manufacturers as being a disposition subject to the fluid skim differential. Moreover, a substantial part of the increased volume of skim milk subject to the differential reasonably may be attributed to the abandonment of country classification (coincident with expansion of the marketing area) and the application of the differential to skim milk in milk separated in the New York metropolitan district which formerly was reported as Class I–A milk to which the differential did not apply.

Experience since expansion of the marketing area reveals the need, in the interest of clarity, for revision of order language to indicate more specifically than at present the point at which a determination is to be made as to whether the fluid skim differential is applicable, and the forms in which products may move prior to such determination. Accordingly, provision is made herein for amending § 927.33, relating to the plant at which classification is to be determined, so that it will apply not only to whole milk and cream as at present but also to products containing skim milk to which the fluid skim differential may be applicable in essentially the same manner as at present with respect to the classification of whole milk depending upon disposition of butterfat.

Issue No. 5. Provision of the order relating to the plant at which classification is to be determined (§ 927.33) should be amended to apply to interplant movements of butterfat and skim milk in the form of fluid cream products, half and half, or cultured milk drinks in essentially the same fashion as now provided in the case of movements of butterfat and skim milk in the form of cream.

The order presently provides that milk the butterfat from which leaves a plant in the form of cream is to be classified at the plant or plants to which the cream is shipped (with specified exceptions) rather than at the plant where the cream was separated. Milk shipped in the form of cream from a pool plant where separated to the New York metropolitan district and there disposed of as fluid cream is classified in Class II. However, if such cream is used in the manufacture of ice cream in the New York metropolitan district or is shipped from the plant where received in the New York metropolitan district to a purchaser outside the district, the milk is classified in Class III. On the other hand, in the case of fluid cream products, half and half, or cultured milk drinks containing less than 3 percent or more than 5 percent butterfat shipped to the New York metropolitan district, there is no provision for following such products beyond the plant of receipt in the New York metropolitan district and, consequently, the milk involved is classified in Class II on the basis of such movement even though such products are moved from the plant where received in the New York metropolitan district to a plant or purchaser outside the district or are there manufactured. The amendment herein provided will allow the same degree of flexibility involving movements of fluid cream products, half and half, or cultured milk drinks into and out of the New York metropolitan district as is now the case regarding such movements of cream and will tend to provide a higher degree of equality of treatment between handlers who are involved in such movements and those who are not.

Issue No. 6. It is concluded that the provision of the order (§ 927.71 (b) (5)) specifying the zone limit for plants at which nearby location differentials are payable on milk received from farms located within zones up to 120 miles should be amended by (1) changing the plant zone limit of 131–140 miles to 141–150 miles for plants located in the specified counties and towns, (2) adding Schenectady County, New York, to those counties now specified, and (3) changing the zone limit for other plants from 111–120 miles to 131–140 miles.

These changes should be made primarily to achieve a more logical and orderly pattern of payments to producers eligible to receive the nearby location differential. No change is being made in the provision confining payment of nearby location differentials only to those producers (with specified exceptions) whose farms are located within the 120-mile zone (and no such change was proposed). Moreover, the changes made herein constitute only a relatively minor adjustment in, rather than complete elimination of, the presently prescribed zone limitation for plants at which nearby location differentials are payable. There is no abandonment of the principle set forth in the decision of June 10, 1957 (22 F. R. 4194) that nearby location differentials should be paid only on milk received at plants within a specified territory since "nearby differentials of this type are designed to reflect the fact that under competitive conditions milk produced in this area has a traditional outlet as fluid milk at plants located in the nearby area."

The presently prescribed limitation as to plant location, however, is not fully serving the purpose of distinguishing in the most equitable and logical manner between those producers who are eligible for the differential and those who are not. Most of the peculiar situations relating to eligibility of certain producers result from the employment of a method of determining farm zones which is different from the method of determining zones for plants. Plant zones are based on highway mileage to the plant; whereas, farms are zoned by highway mileage to the nearest point in the township, or other minor civil division, in which the farm (milkhouse) is located.

The result is that there are instances where producers operating farms zoned within 120 miles who deliver their milk to a plant located in the same town as the farm but who are not eligible to receive the differential because the plant is in the 121–130 or perhaps the 131–140 mile zone, while other producers in the same neighborhood are eligible for and do receive the differential because their milk is received at a plant located within the 120-mile zone. This and similar situations where two or more plants are equally accessible to producers, but where some of the plants are inside the 120-mile zone and some outside, have generated a degree of discontent among producers similarly situated. The situation provides an incentive for producers to shift from plants to which they historically have delivered their milk, and a competitive advantage to the handler operating the plant at which the differential is payable.

Extending from 120 miles to 140 miles the zone limit for plants at which the nearby location differential is payable will provide a more gradual and orderly pattern of producer payments without any significant increase in the number of additional producers eligible to receive the differential or in the total amount of money required to pay the differentials. There are 31 plants located in the 121–140 mile zone at which milk is received from approximately 2,500 producers. About 1,760 of these producers are on farms zoned beyond 120 miles and would remain ineligible for the differential irrespective of the plant to which they deliver. The remaining 740 producers whose farms are zoned within 120 miles are the maximum number of additional producers who could qualify for the differential. All of these producers presently are eligible provided they shift to a plant zoned within 120 miles. Over 600 of these 740 producers are on farms zoned in the 111–120 mile zone and thus would become eligible for a differential at the rate of only five cents per hundred-weight. If the additional producers in each zone made eligible for the differential deliver the same volume of milk as those presently receiving the differential, the total monthly increase in aggregate amount paid will approximate $5,000.00 and a percentage increase of from one to one and one-half percent. The effect on the uniform price would be negligible.

The extension of the zone limit (from 131–140 to 141–150) for plants in the territory now specified along the eastern border of the State of New York northward into the Capital District, and the addition of Schenectady County to those now specified is designed to accomplish substantially the same purposes as the extension generally of the zone limit for other plants to 140 miles as herein provided. A relatively few additional producers in and around the Capital District will become eligible for the differential including a few now delivering to a plant in Schenectady who delivered to a plant of the same handler located in Albany until the Albany plant was closed in November 1956.

Issue No. 7. It is concluded that (1) the provision of the order (§ 927.50) now requiring each handler to report specified information to the market administrator on or before the 10th day of each month should be amended to require that, if such reports are filed by mail, they be postmarked no later than the 8th day of the month, and if not so mailed that they be physically delivered to the office of the market administrator by no later than the close of business on the 10th day of the month, and (2) the day by which the market administrator is required (by § 927.67) to announce the uniform price should be changed from the 14th to the 15th of each month.

Experience in the submission by handlers of monthly reports and in the handling and processing of such reports in the office of the market administrator incident to the computation of the uniform price since expansion of the marketing area effective August 1, 1957, has demonstrated the need for a longer period of time between the date on which handlers' reports are received in the office of the market administrator and the date by which the market administrator is required to announce the uniform price. The job of computation and announcement of the uniform price as presently required by the 14th of each month currently requires a greater amount of overtime work by the personnel involved than can be continued indefinitely.

The need for additional time is directly associated with the expansion of the marketing area by amendment of the order effective August 1, 1957. Several factors are involved, however. The number of reports received each month has more than doubled since August 1957. Beginning with August 1957, the number of reports received each month has ranged from 960 to 990 compared with an average of 420 theretofore. The physical handling of this increased volume of reports requires more time. In addition, the order amendments effective August 1, 1957, require the performance of functions not previously required, including the checking of reports in connection with pooling options, exemption of own farm milk, receipts from plants with exempt milk and nearby location differentials.

The second factor involved is that a substantially larger number, and a larger proportion of the total number, of reports filed originate from points located a greater distance from the market administrator's office than was the case prior to August 1. Nearly one-half (198) of the monthly reports filed prior to August 1957 came from points in or near the metropolitan area. These reports from nearby points usually were received in the office of the market administrator by not later than the 10th of the month. Some were mailed and some were delivered by messenger. The remainder, or those transmitted by mail from the distant points usually were received on the 10th, 11th, or 12th of the month.

Since August 1957, the number of reports from nearby points (about 220) is only slightly larger than heretofore and is a substantially smaller proportion of the total. In general, since August these reports from nearby sources have been received by the 10th of the month and, as previously, some are delivered by messenger and some are mailed. However, a substantially increased number of reports from more distant points, and a larger proportion of the total heretofore, have not been received in the office of the market administrator until after the 10th of the month. Such reports have been received on each day from the 10th through the 14th and in each month since August an average of 50 reports, most of which were claimed to have been mailed by the 10th, were not received until after the 14th of the month. Information contained in these latter reports was obtained by long distance telephone for use in computing the uniform price. Such telephone calls, together with a larger number of calls regarding reports after they have been received, are time consuming.

There is no need for specifying an earlier date by which all handlers' reports are to be filed. Certain handlers, particularly multiple plant operators, and cooperatives which file reports for plants operated by buying dealers, are experiencing considerable difficulty in reporting by not later than the 10th as presently required. The majority of the reports filed by these handlers are prepared in or near the metropolitan area and are not the reports constituting the problem from the standpoint of the market administrator. The major part of the problem is caused by the late receipt of reports transmitted by mail from more distant points.

A later date for announcing the uniform price also was considered. In this connection, announcement of the uniform price more than one day later than at present would leave insufficient time thereafter for handlers to perform the work involved in making payments to producers by not later than the [illegible] of the month as presently required. This proposal was considered for a later date for paying producers. It was not indicated that changing from the 14th to the 15th the day for announcing the uniform price would necessitate any change in the dates presently provided for payments into and out of the producer-settlement fund.

General findings. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on exceptions. In arriving at the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision, each of the exceptions received was carefully and fully considered in conjunction with the record evidence pertaining thereto. To the extent that the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision are at variance with any of the exceptions, such exceptions are hereby overruled for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the New York-New Jersey Marketing Area", and "Order Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the New York-New Jersey Marketing Area", which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

Referendum Order; Determination of Representative Period; and Designation of Referendum Agent

It is hereby directed that a referendum be conducted to determine whether the issuance of the attached order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the New York-New Jersey milk marketing area, is approved or favored by the producers, as defined under the terms of the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and who, during the representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale within the aforesaid marketing area.

The month of February 1958, is hereby determined to be the representative period for the conduct of such referendum.

C. J. Blanford is hereby designated agent of the Secretary to conduct such referendum in accordance with the procedure for the conduct of referenda to determine producer approval of milk marketing orders, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 10, 1950 (15 F.R. 5177), such referendum to be completed on or before August 25, 1958.

As a means of effectuating certain policies jointly adopted by the Secretary and the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York in a memorandum of cooperation dated August 26, 1938, and by the Secretary and the Director of the New Jersey Office of Milk Industry in a memorandum of agreement dated June 30, 1955, the designated agent of the Secretary shall, at the same time he transmits his report to the Secretary, also transmit a similar report to the Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets of the State of New York, and to the Director of the Office of Milk Industry of the State of New Jersey.

The above designated agent of the Secretary shall not be required to transmit with his report to the Secretary a copy of each statement concerning the referendum as it appeared in each newspaper, but he shall transmit with his report a copy of the release which he presented to newspapers generally distributed in the area along with a summary of the numbers and types of newspapers to which it was presented.

The time within which the complete detailed report of the above designated agent shall be transmitted to the Secretary is hereby extended to five days after the close of the referendum, but a preliminary report based on the information then available shall be transmitted to the Secretary within two days after the close of the referendum.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 4th day of August 1958.

[SEAL] DON PAARLBERG,
Assistant Secretary.

Order[1] Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the New York-New Jersey Milk Marketing Area

§ 927.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agriculture Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the New York-New Jersey milk marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the New York-New Jersey milk marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

1. Add new §§ 927.14 and 927.15 as follows:

§ 927.14 Own farm milk. (a) Own farm milk means milk received at a plant from a farm operated by the person who is the operator of such plant.

(b) The market administrator shall publicly announce the name of any handler operating a pool plant receiving own farm milk and the location of the plant operated by such handler. This public announcement shall not include the name of (1) any person meeting the definition of producer-handler as set forth in § 927.15, (2) any person receiving no milk from other dairy farmers and selling no more than 100 quarts per day of Class I–A milk to persons in the marketing area other than to other plants, or (3) an institution specified in § 927.65 (h) (4).

§ 927.15 Producer-handler. Producer-handler means a handler who, following the filing of an application pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, has been so designated by the market administrator upon determination that the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section have been met. Such designation shall be effective on the first of the month after receipt by the market administrator of an application containing complete information on the basis of which the market administrator determines that the requirements of paragraph (b) are being met, except that the effective date of designations shall be the same as the effective date of this provision if applications therefor are filed not later than 15 days after such effective date. The effective date of designation shall be governed by the date of filing new applications in instances where applications previously filed have been denied. All designations shall remain in effect until canceled pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(a) Application. Any handler claiming to meet the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section may file with the market administrator, on forms prescribed by the market administrator, an application for designation as a producer-handler. The application shall contain the following information:

(1) A listing and description of all resources and facilities used for the production of milk which are owned or directly or indirectly operated or controlled by the applicant.

(2) A listing and discription of all resources and facilities used for the processing or distribution of milk or milk products which are owned, or directly or indirectly operated or controlled by the applicant.

(3) A description of any other resources and facilities used in the production, handling or processing of milk or milk products in which the applicant in any way has an interest, including any contractual arrangement, and the names of any other persons having or exercising any degree of ownership, management, or control in, or with whom there exists any contractual arrangement with respect to, the applicant's operation either in his capacity as a handler or in his capacity as a dairy farmer.

(4) A listing and description of the resources and facilities used in the production, processing and distribution of milk which the applicant desires to be determined as his milk production, processing and distribution unit in connection with his designation as a producer-handler: Provided, That all milk production resources and facilities owned, operated or controlled by the applicant either directly or indirectly shall be considered as constituting a part of the applicant's milk production unit in the absence of proof satisfactory to the market administrator that some portion of such facilities or resources do not constitute an actual or potential source of milk supply for the applicant's operation as a producer-handler.

(5) Such other information as may be required by the market administrator.

(b) Requirements. (1) The handler has and exercises (in his capacity as a handler) complete and exclusive control over the operation and management of a plant at which he handles milk received from production facilities and resources (milking herd, buildings housing such herd and the land on which such buildings are located) the operation and management of which also are under the complete and exclusive control of the handler (in his capacity as a dairy farmer), all of which facilities and resources for the production, processing and distribution of milk constitute an integrated operation over which the handler (in his capacity as a producer-handler) has and exercises complete and exclusive control.

(2) The handler, in his capacity as a handler, handles no whole milk, fluid skim milk, or cream other than that derived from the milk production facilities and resources designated as constituting the applicant's operation as a producer-handler.

(3) The handler is not, either directly or indirectly, associated with control or management of the operation of another plant or another handler, nor is another handler so associated with his operation.

(4) The handler sells more than an average of 100 quarts per day of Class I-A milk to persons in the marketing area other than to other plants.

(5) In case the plant of the applicant was operated by a handler whose designation as a producer-handler previously had been cancelled pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, the quantity of whole milk, fluid skim milk, or cream handled during the twelve months preceding the application which was derived from sources other than the designated milk production facilities and resources constituting the applicant's operation as a producer-handler is less than the volume set forth for cancellation pursuant to subparagraph (3) or (4) of paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Cancellation. The designation as a producer-handler shall be cancelled under conditions set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph or, except as specified in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph, upon determination by the market administrator that any of the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section are not continuing to be met, such cancellation to be effective on the first day of the month following the month in which the requirements were not met.

(1) Milk from the designated production facilities and resources of the producer-handler is delivered in the name of another person as pooled milk to another handler, or, except in the months of June through November with prior notice to the market administrator, a dairy herd, cattle barn or milking parlor is transferred to another person who uses such facilities or resources for producing milk which is delivered as pooled milk to another handler. This provision, however, shall not be deemed to preclude the occasional sale of individual cows from the herd.

(2) A dairy herd, cattle barn or milking parlor, previously used for the production of milk delivered as pooled milk to another handler, is added to the designated milk production facilities and resources of the producer-handler, except in the months of December through May, with prior notice to the market administrator, or if such facilities and resources were a part of the designated production facilities and resources during any of the preceding 12 months. This provision, however, shall not be deemed to preclude the occasional purchase of individual cows for the herd.

(3) If the producer-handler handles an average of more than 150 product pounds per day each or in aggregate of whole milk, fluid skim milk or cream, which are derived from sources other than the designated milk production facilities and resources, the cancellation of designation shall be effective the first of the month in which he handled such milk, skim milk, or cream.

(4) If the producer-handler handles whole milk, fluid skim milk, or cream derived from sources other than the designated milk production facilities and resources in a volume less than specified in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, the designation shall be cancelled effective on the first of the month following the third month in any six-month period in which the producer-handler handled such milk, skim milk, or cream: Provided, That the receipt of up to an average of 10 pounds per day each or in aggregate of packaged fluid skim milk or cream shall not be counted for purposes of this subparagraph.

(d) Public announcement. The market administrator shall publicly announce the name, plant and farm location of persons designated as producer-handlers, and those whose designations have been cancelled. Such announcements shall be controlling with respect to the accounting at plants of other handlers for milk received from such producer-handler on and after the first of the month following the date of such announcement.

(e) Burden of establishing and maintaining producer-handler status. The burden rests upon the handler who is designated as a producer-handler (and upon the applicant for such designation) to establish through records required pursuant to § 927.54 that the requirements set forth in paragraph (b) of this section have been and are continuing to be met and that the conditions set forth in paragraph (c) of this section for cancellation of designation do not exist.

2. Amend § 927.29 (d) to read as follows:

(d) Any plant which for any month is not a pool plant because of failure to meet the requirements of paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section from which Class I–A milk is distributed in the marketing area other than to another plant shall be a pool plant in any month if at least 55 percent of the milk received from dairy farmers at the plant during such month is classified in Class I–A and Class I–B: Provided, That such plant shall not be a pool plant if the handler operating the plant elects at the time of filing the report pursuant to § 927.50 not to have the plant designated a pool plant, and to make payments into the producer-settlement fund at the rate specified in § 927.83 (b) for any nonpool milk or skim milk which, on the basis of products distributed in the marketing area to purchasers other than other plants is classified as Class I–A, Class II or as skim milk subject to the fluid skim differential: Provided further, That such plant shall not be a pool plant, if in the absence of this provision, milk received from farmers at the plant would be classified and priced under another order issued pursuant to the Act, with a provision for marketwide equalization, and if the percentage of the milk received from dairy farmers at the plant which is classified as Class I–B and disposed of in the marketing area defined in such other order is greater than the percentage of such milk classified as Class I–A.

3. Amend § 927.33 by:

(a) Changing the proviso therein to read as follows: "Provided, That if the butterfat in such milk is shipped in the form of milk, cream, fluid cream products, half and half, or cultured or flavored milk drinks, or if the skim milk in such milk is shipped in the form of milk, fluid skim milk, condensed skim milk, half and half, cream, or cultured milk drinks to another plant or other plants, it shall be classified, subject to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, at the plant to which shipped, and there shall be no limit on the number of interplant movements in such forms, except as set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. For purposes of this section, classification of skim milk shall mean the determination of whether the skim milk is assigned to a product or use to which the fluid skim milk differential may be applicable."

(b) Amending paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

(a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, the classification of milk shipped in the form of milk and of milk the butterfat from which is shipped in the form of cream, fluid cream products, half and half, or cultured or flavored milk drinks, and of skim milk which is shipped in the form of fluid skim milk, condensed skim milk, half and half, cream, or cultured milk drinks to a nonpool plant shall be determined at the nonpool plant (unless such nonpool plant is in the marketing area, receives no milk from dairy farmers and is engaged substantially either in distributing packaged milk, fluid skim milk, or cream in the marketing area or in shipping bulk milk or cream to a pasteurizing and bottling plant in the marketing area), unless the handler operating the pool plant from which such shipments were made to the nonpool plant elects in writing in his monthly reports to have the classification of such milk and skim milk determined at the pool plant from which such shipments were made to the nonpool plant.

(b) The classification of milk shipped in the form of milk more than 65 miles from the plant where received from dairy farmers and of milk the butterfat from which is shipped in the form of cream, fluid cream products, half and half, or cultured milk drinks more than 65 miles from the plant where such product is made to a plant outside Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York State, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, or the District of Columbia shall be determined at the plant from which the milk or milk product is so shipped.

4. Amend § 927.35 (a) by changing the last sentence preceding subparagraph (1) and by adding a proviso to read as follows: "Such assignment shall be subject to the additional requirements set forth in subparagraphs (1) through (6) of this paragraph: Provided, That if the plant is listed pursuant to § 927.14 or designated as a producer-handler plant pursuant to § 927.15, milk received from other pool plants designated pursuant to § 927.25 or § 927.28 or from other plants which are pool plants pursuant to § 927.29 on the basis of the assignment of such other plants) pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, shall be asigned to Class I–A before the application of subparagraph (1) and (2) of this paragraph."

5. Amend § 927.35 (a) (1) by changing the proviso to read as follows: Provided, That if such Class I–A milk is not sufficient to qualify such plant as a pool plant pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of § 927.29, or if the handler operating the plant so elects at the time of filing a report pursuant to § 927.50, no assignment pursuant to this subparagraph shall be made."

6. Amend § 927.35 (a) (2) (iii) to read as follows: "Milk received from other pool plants designated pursuant to § 927.25 or § 927.28 except as provided in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph.

7. Amend § 927.35 (a) (5) to read as follows:

(5) Notwithstanding other provisions of this paragraph, milk, cream, or fluid skim milk received (except packaged milk, cream, or fluid skim milk produced in accordance with methods and standards of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions for the production of certified milk and which is received for marketing as certified milk or milk products), from a handler listed by the market administrator as a producer-handler pursuant to § 927.15, shall be considered to be nonpooled with respect to assignments pursuant to this section and payments pursuant to § 927.83: Provided, That milk received from a producer-handler who produces milk in accordance with methods and standards of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions for the production of certified milk and which is not received for marketing as certified milk, shall be treated as milk received from a dairy farmer at the plant and not subject to the provisions of § 927.65 (h).

8. Add a new subparagraph (6) in § 927.35 (a) to read as follows:

(6) Milk received at a handler's plant from a dairy farmer who is also a handler listed by the market administrator pursuant to § 927.14 as receiving own farm milk shall be considered as received first at such dairy farmer's plant and shall be assigned as far as possible to pool milk; classified in Class III. Milk received from a dairy farmer who is also a handler but who is not listed by the market administrator pursuant to either § 927.14 or § 927.15 shall be considered as having been received from a dairy farmer.

9. Amend § 927.35 (e) by deleting the sentence preceding the proviso and substituting the following: "Milk from a handler's own farm which is excluded from the computation of the handler's net pool obligation pursuant to § 927.65 (h) shall be prorated to the classification of all milk received from dairy farmers including the handler's own farm milk:

10. Amend § 927.44 by deleting all the words prior to the word "deduct" and substitute the following: "The handler shall pay a fluid skim differential per hundredweight for skim milk, other than that derived from Class I–A or Class I–B milk subject to the pricing provisions of § 927.40 (a) or (c), which is disposed of to outlets in the markting area, which skim milk leaves or is on hand at the plant, in the form of: milk, fluid skim milk in consumer packages or in dispenser units, half and half, cultured milk drinks containing 3.0 percent or more but not more than 5.0 percent butterfat, and fluid skim milk in bulk delivered to any such outlet which is engaged in the marketing or packaging of bulk fluid skim milk and for all skim milk which is not established to have been otherwise utilized or disposed of. Such fluid skim differential shall be computed as follows: * * *"

11. Amend § 927.50 by changing that portion thereof preceding paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 927.50 Monthly reports. Each handler (except a handler receiving own farm milk and not required to be listed pursuant either to §§ 927.14 or 927.15) shall report each month to the market administrator for the preceding month in the manner and on the forms prescribed by the market administrator, with respect to milk or milk products received at each of his pool plants, and at each of his plants where milk or milk products subject to payments under §§ 927.83 and 927.84 were handled, the information set forth in paragraphs (a) through (f) of this section. Such report, if transmitted by mail, shall bear a postmark no later than the 8th day of the month, and if not so mailed, shall be delivered physically to the office of the market administrator no later than the close of business on the 10th day of the month.

12. Amend § 927.54 by changing paragraph (e) thereof and by adding new paragraphs (f) and (g) to read as follows:

(e) Make inspection of buildings and their surroundings, facilities, and equipment for verification purposes and to ascertain what constitutes a plant and the production, processing and distribution resources and facilities of a producer-handler's operation.

(f) Verify that the requirements for designation as a producer-handler have been and are being met.

(g) Verify all other information required by this part to be reported.

13. Amend § 927.65 (h) (2) and (3) to read as follows:

(2) Own farm milk not in excess of an average of 800 pounds per day if the handler is not a producer-handler designated pursuant to § 927.15 and if the volume of milk, other than own farm milk, handled does not exceed an average of 1,600 pounds per day.

(3) All milk handled by a producer-handler designated pursuant to § 927.15 which is derived from such producer-handler's production resources and facilities.

14. Amend § 927.65 (h) by inserting a new subparagraph (4) as follows:

(4) Own farm milk of a charitable, religious, educational or governmental institution which is not engaged in the practice of receiving bulk milk from other sources for processing or packaging and is not engaged in the practice of selling packaged milk to persons not associated with such institution.

15. Amend § 927.67 by changing the words "14th day of each month" to "15th day of each month."

16. Amend § 927.71 (b) (5) by (1) adding Schenectady County, New York, to those presently listed therein, (2) changing the phrase "131–140 mile zone" to "141–150 mile zone", and (3) changing the phrase "111–120 mile zone" to "131–140 mile zone."

17. Amend § 927.83 (a) (1) to read as follows: "It was derived from milk received at a nonpool plant from dairy farmers or received from a handler designated as a producer-handler pursuant to § 927.15."

NOTICES

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-15681]

WHELESS DRILLING CO. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING, SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES, AND ALLOWING INCREASED RATES TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

JULY 31, 1958.

Wheless Drilling Company (Operator) et al. (Respondent) on July 11, 1958, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently effective rate schedules for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notice of Change, dated July 10, 1958.

Purchaser: Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 3 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1. Supplement No. 2 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2. Supplement No. 1 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 3.

Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Respondent).

The increased rate(s) and charge(s) so proposed are intended to reflect (in whole or in part) the additional "excise, license, or privilege tax" of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana pursuant to Act No. 8 of 1958 (House Bill No. 303), as approved on June 16, 1958, amending Title 47 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950. The Commission is advised that litigation is being instituted to challenge the constitutionality of the said Act No. 8 of 1958. In consideration of this fact, and in order to assure appropriate refund in the event said Act No. 8 of 1958 should be declared unconstitutional or otherwise held invalid by final judicial decision, it is deemed advisable to suspend the said proposed increased rates and charges until August 2, 1958, and thereafter to permit them to become effective as of that date: Provided, That within 20 days from the date of this order Respondent shall file with the Secretary of the Commission an appropriate undertaking to assure such refund as may be ordered.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that Respondent's proposed increased rates be made effective as hereinafter provided and that Respondent be required to file an undertaking as hereinafter ordered and conditioned.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedules.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 2, 1958, and until such further time as each is made effective in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

(C) The rate(s), charge(s), and classification(s) set forth in the above-designated supplements to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedules shall be effective as of August 2, 1958: Provided, however, That within 20 days from the date of this order, Respondent shall execute and file with the Secretary of the Commission the agreement and undertaking described in paragraph (E) below.

(D) Respondent shall refund at such times and in such amounts to the persons entitled thereto, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission, the difference between the presently effective rates and charges and the proposed increased rates and charges hereby allowed to become effective in the event the additional tax of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana is for any reason held to be invalid. Should such additional tax eventually be held invalid and the State of Louisiana makes refund, with interest, of the tax monies collected pursuant to the said Act No. 8 of 1958, then, and in that event, a proportionate part of the interest so received by the Respondent herein shall be passed on and paid to the persons entitled thereto at such times and in such amounts, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission. Respondent shall bear all costs of any such refunding; shall keep accurate accounts in detail of all amounts received by reason of the increased rates or charges allowed by this order to become effective, for each billing period, specifying by whom and in whose behalf such amounts were paid; and shall report (original and four copies), in writing and under oath, to the Commission quarterly, or monthly if Respondent so elects, for each billing period, and for each purchaser, the billing determinants of natural gas sales to such purchasers and the revenues resulting therefrom, as computed under the rates in effect immediately prior to the date upon which the increased rates allowed by this order become effective, and under the rates allowed by this order to become effective, together with the differences in the revenues so computed.

(E) As a condition of this order, within 20 days from the date of issuance thereof, Respondent shall execute and file in triplicate with the Secretary of the Commission its written agreement and undertaking to comply with the terms of paragraph (D) hereof, signed by a responsible officer of the corporation, evidenced by proper authority from the board of directors, and accompanied by a certificate showing service of copies thereof upon all purchasers under the rate schedule involved, as follows:

Agreement and Undertaking of _____ to Comply with the Terms and Conditions of Paragraph (D) of Federal Power Commission's Order Making Effective Proposed Rate Changes.

In conformity with the requirements of the order issued _____ in Docket No. G-___, _____ hereby agrees and undertakes to comply with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of said order, and has caused this agreement and undertaking to be executed and sealed in its name by its officers, thereupon duly authorized in accordance with the terms of the resolution of its board of directors, a certified copy of which is appended hereto this _____ day of _____.

Attest:

(Secretary)

Unless Respondent is advised to the contrary within 15 days after the date of filing such agreement and undertaking, the agreement and undertaking shall be deemed to have been accepted.

(F) If Respondent shall, in conformity with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of this order, make the refunds as may be required by order of the Commission, the undertaking shall be discharged; otherwise, it shall remain in full force and effect.

(G) Neither the supplements hereby suspended nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(H) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G–15260]

MONTANA-DAKOTA UTILITIES CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

JULY 31, 1958.

Take notice that Montana-Dakota Utilities Co. (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Minneapolis, Minnesota, filed an application on June 10, 1958, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing construction and operation of a tap on its 12¾-inch Worland, Wyoming to Cabin Creek, Montana pipeline, together with 2.65 miles of 2⅜-inch pipeline lateral running south from the tap to a metering station in Custer County, Montana, for the purpose of rendering natural gas service to the United States Air Force Radar Station in Custer County, Montana, near Miles City, all as more fully represented in the application on file with the Commission, and open for public inspection.

The application recites the pipeline is sized to be adequate for the present requirements or expanded requirements of said Station. Annual consumption before expansion would be 12,840 Mcf with a peak day of 160 Mcf; and after expansion 25,960 Mcf annually, and 320 Mcf on a peak day.

The estimated cost of the proposed pipeline and tap is $16,900, and the metering facilities $7,330, a total of $24,230, of which the Air Force will pay as a connection charge $20,000, which will be amortized at a discount of 15 percent applied to actual sales revenue received. The balance of the cost will be supplied from working capital.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 11, 1958, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street, NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 25, 1958. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[SEAL] JOSEPH H. GUTRIDE, Secretary.

[1] Oklahoma Natural Gas Company is filing for authorization to sell natural gas from the subject acreage pursuant to a gas sales contract dated May 28, 1957, and amendatory agreement (filed August 26, 1957) adding additional acreage thereto dated July 9, 1957.

[2] Gas Gathering Company is filing for authorization to sell natural gas produced from the G. W. Reynolds Tract (Coastal States No. 1 Well) pursuant to an amendatory agreement dated March 29, 1957, which adds additional acreage to a basic contract dated September 1, 1956. Applicant was authorized in Docket No. G–12281 covering the sale of gas under the basic contract. The subject gas is purchased from L. M. Fisher et al., which producers have filed in pending Docket No. G–12899 for authorization to sell natural gas to Gas Gathering Company.

[3] Application covers the proposed sale of natural gas to Champlin Oil and Refining Company under gas sales contract dated May 8, 1957, which contract is subject to a prior contract between Applicant and Oklahoma Natural Gas Company dated December 6, 1954. Amendment filed August 26, 1957, requests that any certificate issued to Applicant recognize the fact that the subject gas is surplus gas and that as such is subject to prior rights of Oklahoma Natural.

[4] The Atlantic Refining Company, nonoperator, is filing for its 12.422 per cent interest in a 640 acre gas unit, production from which is proposed to be sold under a ratification agreement dated March 4, 1957, of a basic contract dated November 7, 1955, between The Carter Oil Company, Seller, and Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, Buyer. Both Atlantic and Pipeline Company are signatory parties to the subject ratification agreement. Carter was authorized in Docket No. G–9765 covering the sale of gas under the basic contract.

[5] The Texas Company is filing for its 100 percent interest in production from the H. E. Gouger Fee NCT–4, production from which is proposed to be sold under an amendatory agreement dated May 3, 1957, which adds additional acreage to a basic contract dated June 20, 1953, as amended. Applicant was authorized in Docket No. G–4820 covering the sale of gas under the basic contract.

[6] The Atlantic Refining Company, Operator, is filing for authorization to sell natural gas attributable to its interest in the 320-acre Sheets Gas Unit and lists the owners of working interests as follows: The Atlantic Refining Company, Operator, 50 percent; Edwin L. Cox, 16.6667 percent; Don E. Archer, 8.3334 percent; Carl Archer, Effie Pearl Archer and Phillips Petroleum Company, 8.3333 percent each. In addition, the application covers the proposed sale of natural gas from Atlantic's 100 percent interest in 1,800 nonunitized acres. The subject gas is proposed to be sold pursuant to an amendatory agreement dated April 29, 1957, which adds additional acreage to a basic contract dated January 6, 1956, as amended. Atlantic is the only signatory seller party to the subject amendatory agreement and to the basic contract. The application states that it is Operator's understanding that nonoperators will execute separate contracts to dispose of their shares of the gas produced from the Sheets Unit. Atlantic was authorized in Docket No. G–9980 to sell gas under the basic contract.

Atlantic amended its application on June 26, 1958, deleting from the application the NE/4 of section 8, T2N, R19ECIM released from the contract by agreement of May 1, 1958.

[7] Cities Service Oil Company is filing for an additional 18.75 percent interest in production from the Brown F–1 Well, proposed to be sold under an amendatory agreement dated June 17, 1957, which adds additional acreages to a basic contract dated October 20, 1953, between Terminal Facilities Inc. (Predecessor to Cities Service) and Colorado Interstate. Cities Service was authorized in Docket No. G–4579 covering the sale of gas under the basic contract. Cities Service Oil Company is a signatory seller party to the subject amendatory agreement.

[8] The gas sales contract is subject to a prior contract between Ashland Oil & Refining Company, Seller, and Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, Buyer, dated March 5, 1953.

[9] Ashland Oil & Refining Company, Operator, is filing for itself and on behalf of the following nonoperators: Harper Oil Company and The British-American Oil Producing Company. All are signatory seller parties to the gas sales contract dated February 27, 1956, which contract is subject to a prior contract between Ashland Oil & Refining Company, Seller, and Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, Buyer, dated February 2, 1953. Production is limited to the Cleveland Sand.

[10] Ashland Oil & Refining Company, Operator, is filing for itself and on behalf of the following nonoperators: W. J. Clements and Edward J. McLaughlin. All are signatory seller parties to the gas sales contract dated February 27, 1956, which contract is subject to a prior contract between Ashland Oil & Refining Company, Seller, and Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, Buyer, dated April 10, 1953.

[11] The gas sales contract is subject to a prior contract between Ashland Oil & Refining Company, Seller, and Oklahoma Natural Gas Company, Buyer, dated February 15, 1954. Production is limited to the Cleveland Sand.

[Docket No. G–15288]

KENTUCKY GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

JULY 31, 1958.

Take notice that Kentucky Gas Transmission Corporation (Applicant), a Delaware corporation and a subsidiary of The Columbia Gas System, Inc., with its principal place of business in Charleston, West Virginia, filed on June 13, 1958, an application pursuant to section 7 (b) of the Natural Gas Act for permission and approval to abandon its 330 HP Lexington Compressor Station, Fayette County, Kentucky, located at the western end of an 8-inch line of Petroleum Exploration Company, leased by Applicant, all as more fully represented in the application on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

The application recites that Applicant's Lexington station, a 330 HP station, was acquired by Applicant from its predecessor, Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company, upon acquisition of the latter's entire facilities as authorized in Docket No. G-9689 in Commission order issued September 10, 1956. Prior and subsequent to acquisition, the Lexington station has been used to compress gas in the leased line, originating from local production in the eastern Kentucky area, and some interstate gas received from Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, for delivery to the City of Lexington, Kentucky and environs. This local production has declined both in volume and pressure to the extent that most of the remaining volumes are utilized to supply market requirements between the producing fields and the Lexington station. The small remaining volumes of gas, when available for delivery to Lexington, are introduced, together with the Tennessee gas, into Lexington's low pressure distribution system without compression.

The application further recites that the bulk of Lexington's requirements are now supplied from other gas pipelines which carry larger volumes of gas received from Tennessee and others. The larger volumes are transmitted from line KA and 12-inch line G.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practices and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 24, 1958, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before September 2, 1958. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

Secretary.

[Docket No. G-15754]

PLACID OIL CO. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 31, 1958.

Placid Oil Company (Operator) et al. (Placid) on June 30, 1958 tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 27, 1958.
Purchaser: H. L. Hunt.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 7 to Placid's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 14.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Placid).

The instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 6 to Placid's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 14 was deferred by Commission order issued July 1, 1958, at Docket No. 15371.

The increased rate and charge proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 7 to Placid's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 14 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 7 to Placid's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 14.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date on which Supplement No. 6 to Placid's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 14 is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

R. L. FOREE

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 31, 1958.

R. L. Foree (Foree) on July 1, 1957, tendered for filing a proposed change in his presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 27, 1958.
Purchaser: El Paso Natural Gas Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 5 to Foree's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Foree states that the contract, including the price increase provision, was arrived at by arm's-length bargaining, the increased price is in all respects fair, reasonable and just and not above the prevailing price for gas in the area. In addition, Foree states that price escalator clauses are common in long-term gas sales contracts and afford the buyer a low price during the early period of the contract and increase the compensation to seller as his costs increase. Foree also states that the increased price is necessary to encourage exploration and denial of the proposed price would result in the taking of seller's property without due process of law.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 5 to Foree's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 5 to Foree's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 1, 1959, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioner Kline and Hussey dissenting).

Secretary.

AMERADA PETROLEUM CORP.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 31, 1958.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation (Amerada) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 27, 1958.
Purchaser: United Gas Pipe Line Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 3 to Amerada's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 65.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Amerada).

The instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of the aforementioned rate schedule was suspended by orders dated February 10 and March 21, 1958 at Docket No. G-14421.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 3 to Amerada's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 65 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in Supplement No. 3 to Amerada's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 65.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements be and they are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until said FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 65 and Supplements Nos. 1 and 2 thereto, are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended, nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission.

WILLIAM HERBERT HUNT TRUST ESTATE

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES

JULY 31, 1958.

William Herbert Hunt Trust Estate (Estate) on July 2 and 3, 1958, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently filed rate schedules for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notices of Change, undated.
Purchaser: H. L. Hunt.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 8. Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Estate).

The instant Notices of Change reflect in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 8 and Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9 was deferred by orders of the Commission dated April 25, 1958, and June 23, 1958, at Docket No. G-14937.

The increased rates and charges here proposed have not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes and that Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schdeule No. 8 and Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9 be suspended and the use deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 8 and Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements be and they are hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the dates upon which Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 8 and Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9 are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

NELSON BUNKER HUNT TRUST ESTATE

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 31, 1958.

Nelson Bunker Hunt Trust Estate (Estate) on July 3, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, undated.
Purchaser: H. L. Hunt.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 5.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Estate).

The instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 5 was deferred by Commission orders dated April 25 and June 23, 1958 at Docket No. G-14939.

The increased rate and charge here proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 10 to Pan American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 173.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date upon which Supplement No. 9 to Pan American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 173 is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

MAGNOLIA PETROLEUM CO. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 31, 1958.

Magnolia Petroleum Company (Operator) et al. (Magnolia) on July 1, 1958, tendered for filing proposed change in its presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designating filing:

Description: Notice of Change, undated.
Purchaser: United Gas Pipe Line Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 5 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 24.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Magnolia).

Instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The designated rate schedule is subject to suspension at Docket No. G-15410 until December 10, 1958, or as longer provided by the Natural Gas Act.

The increased rate and charge here proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that Supplement No. 5 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 24 be suspended and use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 5 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 24.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the suspended rate affected thereby is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act in Docket No. G-15787 or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended, nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

ED GIBBONS

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 31, 1958.

Ed Gibbons (Gibbons) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in his presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 28, 1958.
Purchaser: Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 3 to Gibbons' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Gibbons).

The instant notice of change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 2 to the aforementioned rate schedule was deferred by order dated December 14, 1956, at Docket No. G-11591.

The increased rate and charge here proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 3 to Gibbons' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 3 to Gibbons' FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date upon which Supplement No. 2 to Gibbons' FPC Gas Rate Schedule is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

LAMAR HUNT

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 31, 1958.

Lamar Hunt (Hunt) on July 3, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in his presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, undated.
Purchaser: H. L. Hunt.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 6 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Hunt).

The instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 5 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6 was deferred by orders of the Commission dated April 25, and June 23, 1958, at Docket No. G-14036.

The increased rate and charge here proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 6 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 6 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date upon which Supplement No. 5 to Hunt's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6 is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 31, 1958.

J. R. Goff, Trustee (Goff) on July 3, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in his presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, undated.
Purchaser: Trunkline Gas Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 3 to Goff's FPS Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Goff).

The instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 2 to Goff's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 was deferred by Commission order issued December 24, 1957 at Docket No. G-14053.

The increased rate and charge here proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 3 to Goff's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 3 to Goff's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date upon which Supplement No. 2 to Goff's FPC Gas Rate Schedule is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

L. L. ROBINSON

JULY 31, 1958.

L. L. Robinson (Robinson) on June 30, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in his presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 28, 1958.
Purchaser: Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 3 to Robinson's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is that proposed by Respondent).

The instant notice of change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 2 to the aforementioned rate schedule was deferred by order dated December 14, 1954, at Docket No. G-11592.

The increased rate and charge here proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 3 to Robinson's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 3 to Robinson's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date upon which Supplement No. 2 to Robinson's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2 is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

LAMAR HUNT TRUST ESTATE

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

JULY 31, 1958.

Lamar Hunt Trust Estate (Estate) on July 2, 1958, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notices of Change, undated.
Purchaser: H. L. Hunt.
Rate schedule designations: Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 5. Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Estate).

The instant Notices of Change reflect in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 5 and Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6 was deferred by Commission orders dated April 25 and June 23, 1958, at Docket No. G–14938.

The increased rates and charges here proposed have not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 5 and Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 5 and Supplement No. 6 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements be and they are hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date upon which Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule and Supplement No. 5 to Estate's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6 are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

SECURE TRUSTS

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 31, 1958.

Secure Trusts (Secure), on July 3, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, undated.
Purchaser: Trunkline Gas Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 3 to Secure's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Secure Trusts).

The instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 2 to Secure's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2 was deferred by Commission order dated December 5, 1957 at Docket No. G–13839.

The increased rate and charge proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 3 to Secure's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders: (A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 3 to Secure's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date on which Supplement No. 2 to Secure's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2 is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

MAGNOLIA PETROLEUM CO.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES

JULY 31, 1958.

Magnolia Petroleum Company (Magnolia) on July 1, 1958, proposed changes in its presently filed rate schedules for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notices of Change, undated.
Purchasers: (1) United Gas Pipe Line Company, (2 and 3) Hassie Hunt Trust.
Rate schedule designation: (1) Supplement No. 12 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 69. (2) Supplement No. 7 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 150. (3) Supplement No. 7 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 152.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Magnolia).

Instant Notices of Change reflect in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The designated rate schedules are subject to suspension at Docket Nos. G–15411 and G–15526 until December 10 and 25, 1958, respectively, or until made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

The increased rates and charges here proposed have not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that Supplement No. 12 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 69, Supplement No. 7 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 150 and Supplement No. 7 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 152 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed changes contained in Supplement No. 12 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 69, Supplement No. 7 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 150 and Supplement No. 7 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 152.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements be and they are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the suspended rates affected thereby are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act in Docket Nos. G–15411 and G–15526 or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended, nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State Commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATE

JULY 31, 1958.

Humble Oil & Refining Company (Humble) on July 14, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently filed rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated July 9, 1958.
Purchaser: United Gas Pipe Line Company.
Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 10 to Humble's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 35.
Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Humble).

The instant Notice of Change reflects in whole or in part the effect of the Louisiana State Gathering Tax which is stated to be effective as of August 1, 1958. The use of Supplement No. 9 to Humble's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 35 was deferred by Commission order issued June 2, 1958, at Docket No. G–15180.

The increased rate and charge here proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 10 to Humble's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 35 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 10 to Humble's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 35.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date on which Supplement No. 9 to Humble's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 35 is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act, or until August 2, 1958, whichever is later.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission.

[Docket No. E–6833]

GULF STATES UTILITIES CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

AUGUST 1, 1958.

Take notice that on July 28, 1958, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission pursuant to section 204 of the Federal Power Act by Gulf States Utilities Company ("Applicant"), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Texas and doing business in the States of Texas and Louisiana with its principal business office at Beaumont, Texas, seeking an order authorizing the issuance of $17,000,000 in principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds __ percent Series due 1988 ("New Bonds"). The proposed New Bonds are to be issued pursuant to Applicant's Indenture of Mortgage, dated September 1, 1926, to Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, Trustee, as heretofore supplemented and modified by Supplemental Indentures to and including a Sixteenth Supplemental Indenture dated as of May 1, 1958, and as to be further supplemented by a Seventeenth Supplemental Indentures to be dated as of September 1, 1958. The New Bonds are to be issued on or about September 23, 1958; and are to be due September 1, 1988. The interest rate per annum of the aforesaid New Bonds are to be fixed by competitive bidding and the Bonds are to be sold at competitive bidding. Applicant proposes on or about September 3, 1958, to publicly invite sealed written bids for the purchase of the proposed Bonds. Applicant proposes to use the net proceeds from the sale of the New Bonds, together with cash on hand, to redeem $17,000,000 principal amount of presently outstanding First Mortgage Bounds 4⅞ percent Series due 1987, callable at 106.20 percent of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the redemption date.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 25th day of August 1958, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., petitions or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). The application is on file and available for public inspection.

[Docket No. G–14964]

WESTERN KENTUCKY GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

AUGUST 1, 1958.

Take notice that Western Kentucky Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with principal place of business at 608 Frederica Street, Owensboro, Kentucky, filed an application for an order in the above-captioned proceeding on April 29, 1958, pursuant to section 7 (a) of the Natural Gas Act (act), directing Texas Gas Transmission Corporation (Texas Gas) to sell and deliver additional 2,023 Mcf of firm gas at 15.025 psia through existing facilities to Applicant for resale in Paducah and Calvert City, Kentucky, as hereinafter described and as more fully described in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant states, inter alia, that it is a natural gas distribution company operating entirely within the Commonwealth of Kentucky; that it serves 54 communities in said state including Paducah and Calvert City; that it has been exempted from regulation under section 1 (c) of the act by order of the Commission issued on May 17, 1956 in Docket No. G–10265; that, except for a small volume of local production, it purchases its natural gas requirements at wholesale from Texas Gas and Tennessee Gas Transmission Company; that it purchases its entire natural gas requirements for Paducah and Calvert City from Texas Gas in the latter's Sales Zone 2; that Texas Gas is presently authorized to sell and deliver under a service agreement with Applicant, dated September 17, 1957, up to a firm maximum volume of 15,300 Mcf per day at 15,025 psia as authorized in Docket No. G–13024; that it has experienced a rapid and continuing growth in natural gas consumption and, consequently, in its gas requirements; that its present firm allocation of gas from Texas Gas in Zone 2 is less than its present load in that zone; that on its peak day of the 1957–58 heating season, it purchased 15,300 Mcf of firm gas and 2,458 Mcf of authorized overrun gas from Texas Gas; and that the presently sought 2,023 Mcf of additional firm gas will substantially aid it in meeting its service obligations during the coming winter.

Applicant further states that its estimated firm peak day requirements in Mcf at 15,025 psia for the next 3 winter heating seasons are as follows:

	1958–59	1959–60	1960–61
Estimated firm requirements	18,800	20,300	21,640
Present firm allocation	15,300	15,300	15,300
Estimated deficiency	3,500	5,000	6,340

Texas Gas filed on May 20, 1958, pursuant to § 1.9 (a) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, an answer to the aforesaid application wherein it states that it has no objection to rendering the service requested by Applicant provided: (1) that the maximum daily delivery obligation of Texas Gas to Applicant is not increased by more than 2,023 Mcf of natural gas at 15.025 psia in Texas Gas' Sales Zone 2 and (2) that, within 45 days after the issuance of any Commission order authorizing the service, Applicant execute a new service agreement with Texas Gas specifying a contract demand of 17,323 Mcf per day at 15.025 psia (15,300 Mcf plus 2,023 Mcf) for service to Applicant in Texas Gas' Sales Zone 2.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 25, 1958.

[Docket No. G–15793]

SHORELINE PETROLEUM CORP.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

AUGUST 1, 1958.

Shoreline Petroleum Corporation (Shoreline) on July 2, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 30, 1958.

Purchaser: Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 10 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

Effective date: August 5, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Shoreline).

In support of the proposed redetermined rate increase, Shoreline states that the costs of producing gas have risen sharply and that the increased rate is consistent with the average paid in the area and results from free and open competitive bargaining. Shoreline also cites higher rates [1] being paid by other pipeline purchasers in the area.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 10 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 10 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 5, 1959, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioner Hussey dissenting).

SHELL OIL CO.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

AUGUST 1, 1958.

Shell Oil Company (Shell) on July 3, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: (1) Supplemental Agreement, dated August 1, 1958.[1] (2) Notice of Change, dated July 1, 1958.

Purchaser: Phillips Petroleum Company.

Rate schedule designation: (1) Supplement No. 1 to Shell's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 100. (2) Supplement No. 2 to Shell's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 100.

Effective date: August 3, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed renegotiated rate increase, Shell states that the current price is below the market price paid for similar gas, the deliverable volume of gas is declining while costs are increasing, and the proposed rate was agreed to after arm's-length negotiations.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement Nos. 1 and 2 to Shell's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 100 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement Nos. 1 and 2 to Shell's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 100.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements be and they are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 3, 1959, and until such further time as they are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

SHORELINE PETROLEUM CORP. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES

AUGUST 1, 1958.

Shoreline Petroleum Corporation et al. (Shoreline) on July 2, 1958, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently effective rate schedules for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notices of Change, dated June 30, 1958.

Purchaser: Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 10 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 4. Supplement No. 8 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9.

Effective date: August 5, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Shoreline).

In support of the proposed redetermined rate increases, Shoreline states that the costs of producing gas have risen sharply and that the increased rate is consistent with the average paid in the area and results from free and open competitive bargaining. Shoreline also cites higher rates[1] being paid by other pipeline purchasers in the area.

The increased rates and charges so proposed have not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that Supplement No. 10 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 4, and Supplement No. 8 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9, be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in Supplement No. 10 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 4, and Supplement No. 8 to Shoreline's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 9.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements be and they are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 5, 1959, and until such further time as they are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended, nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

CONTINENTAL OIL CO. ET AL

NOTICE OF APPLICATIONS AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 1, 1958.

In the matters of Continental Oil Company, Operator and Agent, Docket No. G-13453; Shell Oil Company, Docket No. G-13698; El Paso Natural Gas Company, Docket No. G-13833; Phillips Petroleum Company, Docket No. G-14202; Humble Oil & Refining Company, Docket No. G-14701.

Take notice that on December 2, 1957, El Paso Natural Gas Company (El Paso), filed in Docket No. G-13833 an application, as supplemented on December 27, 1957, April 24, 1958, and July 14, 1958, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of approximately 6.0 miles of 6-inch and 18.3 miles of 8-inch lateral supply pipeline, together with field lines varying in diameter from 4 to 8 inches, metering, communication and appurtenant facilities, in order to receive, process and transport natural gas produced from the Pennsylvanian and Devonian Formations in the Bell Lake Field Unit in Lea County, New Mexico, by Continental Oil Company (Continental) Operator et al., Shell Oil Company (Shell), Phillips Petroleum Company (Phillips), Allan Hargrave (Hargrave), Humble Oil & Refining Company (Humble) and Signal Oil and Gas Company (Signal),[1] for resale for ultimate public consumption, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The 6-inch segment of the above-mentioned proposed lateral pipeline will extend from a connection with El Paso's existing 26-inch Eunice-Pecos River Line in Lea County, New Mexico, southeasterly to the terminus of the proposed field line system in the Bell Lake Field Unit. The 8-inch segment will extend from a connection with El Paso's existing Jal No. 4 Purification and Dehydration Plant in Lea County, New Mexico, westward to the terminus of the proposed Devonian field line system in the Bell Lake Unit. The estimated total initial cost of the above proposed facilities is $780,000, which cost is proposed to be financed from current working funds.

The respective applicants listed in the table below filed related applications on the dates shown, for certificates of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the sale of natural gas in interstate commerce to El Paso Natural Gas Company, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the respective applications which are on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Docket	Applicant	Date of filing
G-13453	Continental Oil Co., Operator and Agent.	Oct. 14, 1957, as supplemented Jan. 10 and 31, 1958.
G-13698	Shell Oil Co.	Nov. 12, 1957.
G-14202	Phillips Petroleum Co.	Jan. 6, 1958.
G-14701	Humble Oil & Refining Co.	Mar. 10, 1958.

Continental filed on its own behalf and as Agent for Hargrave who has executed a separate gas sales contract with El Paso dated August 26, 1957, as amended by letter agreements dated September 13, 1957, February 10, 1958, and June 19, 1958. An instrument dated January 20, 1958, authorizes Continental to make such filing. As Operator of the Devonian Bell Lake Unit, Continental has listed the percentage interests of signatory and non-signatory parties to the Bell Lake Unit Agreement, wherein Continental is designated Operator. No such agreement has been executed covering the Pennsylvania Bell Lake Unit.

Exhibit A to each of the contracts involved herein indicates the leases controlled by each producer. Three gas wells are presently located in the Bell Lake Field Unit, of which two are producing from the Devonian Formation and one from the Pennsylvanian.

Producers' facilities consist of customary lease equipment.

Proposed deliveries will be at the wellheads or at the outlet of the separators, if installed, and will commence upon receipt of authorization and completion of the facilities proposed herein by El Paso. The producers' contracts provide for an average daily rate of not less than 20,000 Mcf from the three presently completed wells, plus an additional 6,000 Mcf per day from the Bell Lake Unit.

Two of the producers here involved, Phillips and Humble, have filed their gas sales contracts as initial rate schedules to cover the proposed services.[2]

The contracts provide for an initial rate of 16 cents per Mcf at 15.025 psia. Phillips and Humble estimate that revenues for the first month of service will amount to $5,269 and $14,400, respectively. The rate of 16 cents is to hold until January 1, 1963, with periodic increases of one cent at the beginning of each of the last three five-year periods of the 20-year term. In addition, the rate schedule contains a "favored nation" clause and a redetermination clause applicable to any one or more, or all (but not part) of each of the last three of the five-year periods. The gas sales contracts of the other producers attached to each of their respective certificate applications provide for the same rate and contain similar provisions as the Phillips and Humble contracts.

[1] In the supplement to its certificate application filed on July 14, 1958, El Paso shows that it entered into a gas purchase contract with Signal on April 3, 1958, and El Paso "assumes that Signal will, as an Independent Producer, make all necessary filings required of it with the Commission."

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 25, 1958, at 10 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before September 15, 1958.

NEW ENGLAND ELECTRIC SYSTEM

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING ON PLAN FILED; NOTICE OF AND ORDER INSTITUTING PROCEEDINGS AND DIRECTING HEARING, AND ORDER CONSOLIDATING SUCH PROCEEDINGS

AUGUST 1, 1958.

I. Notice is hereby given that New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, has filed an application for approval of a plan filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"). Briefly, the plan provides for the issue by NEES of its common stock in exchange for the publicly-held common stocks of its subsidiaries, Merrimack-Essex Electric Company ("Merrimack"), Southern Berkshire Power & Electric Company ("Southern Berkshire"), Suburban Electric Company ("Suburban"), Weymouth Light and Power Company ("Weymouth"), and Worcester County Electric Company ("Worcester"), which are the only subsidiaries of NEES engaged solely in the electric business and having minority interests. The plan does not relate to or involve the publicly-held common stock of those subsidiaries of NEES which are engaged in the gas business.

All interested persons are referred to said plan which is on file at the offices of this Commission or available on request at the offices of NEES (441 Stuart Street, Boston 16, Massachusetts) for a full statement of the transactions and terms proposed therein which may be summarized as follows:

NEES will issue 460,761 shares of its common stock in exchange for the publicly-held common stock of Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth and Worcester at the following exchange ratios:

For each share of common stock held by the public in—	The following common shares of NEES will be exchanged	Resulting in the following number of NEES shares to be issued under the plan
	Shares
Merrimack	1.5	430,666.5
Southern Berkshire	3.1	520.2
Suburban	5.5	12,199.0
Weymouth	2.8	806.4
Worcester	4.2	16,569.0

No fractional shares will be issued by NEES but, in lieu thereof, fractional scrip, exchangeable for whole shares, will be delivered to the public holders of the common stocks of Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester. If dividends paid on such respective stocks from January 1, 1958, to the effective date of the plan are in amounts of less than 90 percent of the net increases in earned surpluses before common dividends for such period, amounts in cash equal to such deficiencies will be added to the common stock and scrip of NEES to be delivered to said public stockholders in accordance with the respective exchanges under the plan.

The plan will be consummated on a date (called the "Consummation Date") which will be the earliest practicable date after the entry of an order by the Court approving and enforcing the plan and will be effective as of a date (called the "Effective Date") which will be not more than sixty (60) days prior to the Consummation Date.

On the Consummation Date NEES will become the owner of all of the shares of common stock of the above-named companies and all previously existing rights of the public holders of such common stocks will cease. On and after such date the public holders will be entitled to receive NEES common shares and fractional scrip (and the payment for dividend adjustment, if any) as provided under the plan (and any dividends that may have been paid on said NEES common shares prior to exchange).

At the end of three (3) years from the Consummation Date any common shares, scrip, and dividends held on account of unexchanged shares of common stock of Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth and Worcester shall irrevocably belong to NEES, and the public holders of such stock will have lost all rights with respect thereto; provided that NEES may from time to time extend or reopen such period under any circumstances in which NEES believes that equity and fairness so require.

The plan further provides that the carrying out of the plan is subject to all necessary approvals by the Commission under the act, and to approval and enforcement of the plan by a court of the United States having jurisdiction, as a fair and equitable plan and as necessary and appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) (2) of the act. The plan also states that all fees and other expenses incidental to the consummation of the plan and proceedings relating thereto will be paid by NEES, subject to any necessary approvals by the Commission and a Court for items subject to their jurisdiction.

II. The Commission having been advised by its Division of Corporate Regulation ("Division") that the Division, pursuant to sections 11 (a), 18 (a) and 18 (b) of the act, has made a preliminary examination of the affairs of NEES, its corporate structure, the corporate structure of its subsidiary companies, the relationships among the companies in the NEES holding company system, the interests of NEES and the public in such subsidiaries and has made a preliminary study of NEES' plan filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act; and it appearing to the Division from such examination that:

1. NEES is a voluntary association created in 1926 in Massachusetts by Agreement and Declaration of Trust, is solely a holding company, and is registered as such under section 5 of the act. It maintains its principal offices in the city of Boston, Massachusetts.

2. As of December 31, 1957, NEES had 28 subsidiaries, of which 12 were engaged exclusively in the electric business, two were engaged in the electric and gas business, one was in the process of constructing a nuclear power plant, eight were engaged exclusively in the gas business, one was engaged in the business of rendering services for system companies, and four were inactive, having been liquidated and awaiting dissolution.

3. The names of the subsidiary companies embraced in the holding company system of NEES as of December 31, 1957 (exclusive of the four inactive subsidiaries), the nature of their business and the percentage of common stock owned by NEES and by the public, are shown in the following table:

[1] The percentages shown also represent the voting power held by NEES in the respective subsidiaries, except in the case of New England Power Co. which has outstanding 80,140 shares of non-callable 6 percent preferred stock having one vote per share resulting in NEES holding 97.03 percent of the voting power of that subsidiary.
[2] Includes fractional scrip for 203 shares; scrip void unless consolidated by July 30, 1958.
[3] Held by New England Power Co.
[4] Held by ten non-affiliated utility companies.

4. The electric utility operations in the NEES system are conducted by 14 subsidiaries, two of which are also engaged in gas utility operations. Following is a brief description of the subsidiaries with minority interests which are engaged solely in the electric business:

(a) Merrimack owns and operates facilities for the generation, transmission, distribution, and sale of electric energy. In 1957 Merrimack's gross revenues amounted to $29,300,000; its gross plant account amounted to $64,600,000 as at December 31, 1957. Merrimack's energy requirements are supplied almost entirely by purchases from its affiliate, New England Power Co. ("NEPCO"), a subsidiary of NEES engaged in the generation, purchase, transmission, and sale of electric energy to associate and other electric utility companies. Merrimack sells to NEPCO the entire output of Merrimack's steam generating plants.

(b) Southern Berkshire owns and operates facilities for the production, transmission, and distribution of electric energy in southwestern Massachusetts. Southern Berkshire receives the major portion of its electric energy requirements from Western Massachusetts Electric Company, a non-affiliate, at points of interconnection between the two companies, pursuant to an agreement between the latter and NEPCO whereby an equal amount of electric energy is supplied by NEPCO to Western Massachusetts Electric Company at points of interconnection between them. For the electricity thus received by it, Southern Berkshire is billed directly by NEPCO. A minor portion of Southern Berkshire's power requirements is furnished by two small hydro-electric stations owned and operated by it. During 1957 Southern Berkshire's gross operating revenues amounted to $1,221,728 and as at December 31, 1957, its gross plant account amounted to $3,522,708.

(c) Suburban owns and operates facilities for the distribution of electric energy. Suburban purchases substantially all of its electric requirements from NEPCO and sells comparatively minor amounts of electricity to Boston Edison Company, a non-affiliate. For the twelve months ended December 31, 1957, Suburban had gross operating revenues of $11,218,128 and at that date its gross plant account amounted to $21,626,280.

(d) Weymouth owns and operates facilities for the production, transmission, and distribution of electric energy. It purchases substantially all of its energy requirements from Quincy Electric Company, a subsidiary of NEES which, in turn, purchases its entire electric requirements from Boston Edison Company, a non-affiliated company. During the calendar year 1957, the company had gross operating revenues of $3,483,041; its gross plant account as at December 31, 1957, amounted to $6,671,923.

(e) Worcester owns and operates facilities for the generation, transmission, and distribution of electric energy. In 1957 Worcester generated 21 percent of its electric energy requirements and purchased 78 percent from NEPCO; the balance of its requirements was purchased principally from another affiliate, Merrimack. In the same year, Worcester sold to NEPCO approximately 8 percent of the electric energy generated by Worcester. Worcester's gross operating revenues in the 12 months ending December 31, 1957 amounted to $33,496,972; as at that date its gross plant account amounted to $80,942,122.

III. The Division avers that the foregoing allegations, and the facts otherwise disclosed in the course of its examination of the corporate structures of Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester, establish or tend to establish that such corporate structures unfairly and inequitably distribute voting power among the security holders of the NEES holding company system and among such subsidiaries' security holders.

IV. It being the duty of the Commission pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act, to require by order, after notice and opportunity for hearing that each registered holding company and each subsidiary company thereof take such steps as the Commission shall find necessary to ensure that the corporate structure or continued existence of any company in a holding company system does not, among other things, unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders of such holding company systems; and

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing and before approving any plan filed thereunder, that such plan, as submitted or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b), and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby; and

The Commission deeming it appropriate that notice be given and a hearing held for the purpose of determining what action should be ordered under section 11 (b) (2) and for the purpose of ascertaining whether the plans should be approved; and

It appearing that common issues of fact and law arise in connection with the plan and in connection with issues involved under section 11 (b) (2), making it appropriate that the hearing on said matters be consolidated and that NEES, Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester should be made parties to the consolidated proceedings:

It is hereby ordered: (a) That a proceeding be, and the same hereby is, instituted in respect of NEES, Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act and that said proceeding be, and the same hereby is, consolidated with the proceeding in connection with the plan of NEES; and

(b) That NEES, Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester be, and the same hereby are, made parties to said proceeding; and

(c) That NEES, Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and

Worcester file an answer or answers with the Secretary of the Commission on or before September 15, 1958, to the allegations contained in Parts II and III hereof, in the form prescribed by Rule 25 of the rules and regulations under the act. Any of such allegations which are not denied or otherwise controverted shall be deemed to be admitted for the purpose of these proceedings.

It is further ordered, That the hearing in the consolidated proceedings be held on the 30th day of September, 1958, at 10:00 a. m., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., in such room as may be designated on such date by the hearing room clerk. Any persons desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene therein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before September 25, 1958, a written request relative thereto as provided in Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That Sidney J. Feiler or any other officer or officers of the Commisison designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

V. The Division having advised the Commission that, upon the basis of its preliminary examination of the affairs of NEES, the corporate structures of its subsidiary companies engaged solely in the electric utility business and having publicly-held common stock, and of a preliminary study of said plan of NEES, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration at such hearing without prejudice, however, to the presentation of additional matters and questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the allegations contained in Parts II and III hereof are true and correct.

2. Whether the corporate structures of Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester unfairly and inequitably distribute voting power among the security holders of such companies or among the security holders of the NEES holding company system.

3. What steps, if any, are necessary and should be required to be taken by NEES, Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester to ensure that the corporate structures of such companies do not unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among the security holders of such companies or of the NEES holding company system.

4. Whether the plan, as submitted by NEES or as it may be modified or amended, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) (2) of the act.

5. Whether the plan is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

6. Whether, in general, the transactions proposed in the plan satisfy the applicable provisions of the act.

7. Whether the accounting entries proposed to be made in connection with the plan are proper and in accord with sound accounting principles.

It is further ordered, That at said hearing evidence shall be adduced with respect to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and it hereby is, reserved to separate, in whole or in part, either for hearing or for disposition, any issues or questions which may arise in these proceedings, and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt, and economical disposition of the matters involved.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of such hearing by mailing a copy of this order by registered mail to NEES, Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester, to the Federal Power Commission, and to The Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts, and that said notice of said hearing be given to all other interested persons by a general release of the Commission and by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That NEES mail a copy of this notice and order to all stockholders of record of Merrimack, Southern Berkshire, Suburban, Weymouth, and Worcester, at least twenty days prior to the date herein fixed as the date for hearing.

By the Commission.

KAISER INDUSTRIES CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO WITHDRAW FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION, AND OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

AUGUST 4, 1958.

In the matter of Kaiser Industries Corporation, Common Stock, File No. 1-3340.

The above named issuer, pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12D2-1(b) promulgated thereunder, has made application to withdraw the specified security from listing and registration on the Detroit Stock Exchange.

The reasons alleged in the application for withdrawing this security from listing and registration include the following:

Volumes in the stock were reported for 1957 at 701,900 shares on the American Stock Exchange, 143,594 shares on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange, and 3,460 shares on the Detroit Stock Exchange. In view of the comparative volumes, the Company wishes to withdraw the Detroit listing and continue the American and Pacific Coast listings.

Upon receipt of a request, on or before August 19, 1958, from any interested person for a hearing in regard to terms to be imposed upon the delisting of this security, the Commission will determine whether to set the matter down for hearing. Such request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person requesting the hearing and the position he proposes to take at the hearing with respect to imposition of terms. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application and other information contained in the official file of the Commission pertaining to the matter.

PENNSYLVANIA POWER CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ISSUANCE AND SALE AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING OF PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS

AUGUST 1, 1958.

Notice is hereby given that Pennsylvania Power Company ("Pennsylvania"), a public-utility subsidiary of Ohio Edison Company ("Ohio"), a registered holding company and a public-utility company, has filed with this Commission an application pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), designating section 6 (b) of the act and Rules 42 and 50 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions.

All interested persons are referred to said application for a statement of the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

Pennsylvania proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule 50, $8,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds ("new bonds"), __ Percent Series, to be dated as of the first of the month in which the bonds are issued and to mature on the thirtieth anniversary of such date. The interest rate on the new bonds (which shall be expressed in a multiple of ¼ of 1 percent) and the price (exclusive of accrued interest) to be paid to Pennsylvania (which shall not be less than 100 percent nor more than 102¾ percent, of the principal amount) will be determined by the competitive bidding.

The new bonds are proposed to be issued under Pennsylvania's Indenture of Mortgage and Deed of Trust dated as of November 1, 1945 to The First National Bank of the City of New York (now by merger The First National City Bank of New York), as Trustee, as heretofore amended and supplemented and as proposed to be amended and supplemented by a Fifth Supplemental Indenture to be dated as of the first day of the month in which the new bonds are to be issued.

Pennsylvania proposes to apply the proceeds from the sale of the new bonds, together with such treasury funds as may be required, to the redemption of the $8,000,000 principal amount of its presently outstanding First Mortgage Bonds, 5 percent Series due 1987, at the redemption price of 105.78 percent of the principal amount thereof if redeemed prior to October 1, 1958, or at 105.58 percent of the principal amount thereof if redeemed subsequent to September 30, 1958, in either case, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

The application states that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed issue and sale by Pennsylvania of the new bonds and that it and the Federal Power Commission have jurisdiction over the proposed accounting in connection with the redemption of the 5 percent Series bonds due 1987.

Estimates of fees and expenses in connection with the proposed transactions will be filed by amendment.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 18, 1958, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by said filing which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application as filed or as it may hereafter be amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective, as provided in Rule 23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules as provided in Rules 20 (a) and 100 or take such other action as it may deem appropriate.

By the Commission.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 3253

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, 1958

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS fire-prevention practices by the American people can avert much human suffering and save great loss of property; and

WHEREAS each citizen should contribute wholeheartedly to effective fire-prevention work urgently needed in every community of our land:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning October 5, 1958, as Fire Prevention Week.

I call upon the people to promote programs for the prevention and control of fires; and I urge State and local governments, the American National Red Cross, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and business, labor, and farm organizations, as well as schools, civic groups, and public-information agencies, to share actively in observing Fire Prevention Week. I also direct the appropriate agencies of the Federal Government to assist in this national effort to reduce the loss of life and property resulting from fires.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this sixth day of August in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-third.

[SEAL]

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

By the President:

CHRISTIAN A. HERTER,
Acting Secretary of State.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10777

AMENDING EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 10758[1] TO INCREASE THE MEMBERSHIP OF THE CAREER EXECUTIVE BOARD

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the United States, including section 1753 of the Revised Statutes (5 U. S. C. 631) and the Civil Service Act of January 16, 1883 (22 Stat. 403), and as President of the United States, it is ordered as follows:

Section 2 of Executive Order No. 10758 of March 4, 1958 (23 F. R. 1589), entitled "Establishing a Career Executive Program within the Civil Service System," is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 2. Career Executive Board. There is hereby established the Career Executive Board, hereinafter referred to as the Board, which shall be composed of seven members. Four of the members shall be appointed by the President from private life and each of three of the members shall be a representative of an executive agency in consonance with section 214 of the Independent Offices Appropriation Act, 1946, approved May 3, 1945 (59 Stat. 134; 31 U. S. C. 691). One of the agencies so represented shall be the Commission and the other two shall be such executive agencies, other than the Commission, as the President may from time to time designate. Not more than four members of the Board shall be adherents of the same political party. The Chairman of the Board shall be designated from time to time by the President from among the members of the Board."

1. In the tables under § 421.3043 (d) (2), the rate for St. Clair County, Michigan, should read "1.85".

2. In the 13th line of § 421.3043 (d) (4), the word "Sate" should read "State".

Subchapter C—Export Programs

[Amdt. 2]

PART 484—FEED GRAINS

SUBPART—FEED GRAIN EXPORT PROGRAM PAYMENT IN KIND (GR-368)

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The Terms and Conditions of the Feed Grain Export Program Payment in Kind (GR-368) (23 F. R. 3226) (23 F. R. 3313) (23 F. R. 4998) are further amended as follows:

Section 484.105 (e) is amended by deleting the first sentence thereof and substituting the following: "Feed grains exported under this program must be exported within one of the three periods as specified in the offer submitted by the exporter."

Section 484.106 (b) (vii) is amended to read as follows:

(vii) The period within which the feed grain will be exported, which shall be one of the three periods described in § 484.105 (e).

Section 484.116 (a) (1) is amended by adding at the end thereof the following sentences: "If export is by water from a Canadian port, the ocean bill of lading, or loading tally sheet, or other acceptable similar document must be further supported by documentary evidence which establishes to the satisfaction of CCC that the grain so represented was grain produced in the United States and that the identity of the grain was maintained from its original shipment from continental United States through its loading aboard the vessel identified in the ocean bill of lading. Such documentary evidence will normally be, (i) a non-negotiable copy of the bill(s) of lading signed by an agent of the carrier and other document(s), including a copy of the official loading weight certificates and grain inspection certificates referred to in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph covering the grain moved from the United States to Canada, and (ii) properly signed or certified true copies of the documents, permits, or other forms that properly evidence the maintenance of the identity of the grain through customs bond, or otherwise, during the storage or loading of the grain in Canada, and on to the vessel identified in the ocean bill of lading.

Section 484.151 is amended to specifically include in the definition of "export and exportation" the shipment or transshipment of United States grain from Canadian elevators so that the complete section will read as follows:

§ 484.151 Export and exportation. "Export" and "exportation" means, except as hereinafter provided, a shipment of grain that originated in the continental United States and that is ultimately directed to a destination other than Alaska, Hawaii or Puerto Rico. This definition includes a shipment of grain from a point in the United States with transshipment from a Canadian port to a destination other than the Continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, or Puerto Rico and with the handling and storage performed in such manner as to preserve the United States identity of the grain. A shipment of feed grain shall be deemed to have been exported on the date which appears on the applicable on board export vessel bill of lading, which in the case of Canadian port transshipment will be the on board ship ocean bill of lading issued at the Canadian port, or if shipment from the continental United States is by truck or rail, the date the shipment clears United States Customs. If feed grain is lost, destroyed, or damaged after loading on board an export ship, exportation shall be deemed to have been made as of the date of the on board ship ocean bill of lading or the latest date appearing on the loading tally sheet or similar documents if the loss, destruction or damage occurs subsequent to loading aboard ship but prior to issuance of on board ship ocean bill of lading: Provided, That if the "lost" or "damaged" grain remains in the continental United States it shall be considered as reentered grain and shall be subject to the provisions of § 481.108 (d).

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Valencia Orange Reg. 147, Amdt. 1]

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

Findings. 1. Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said marketing agreement and order, as amended, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act by tending to establish and maintain such orderly marketing conditions for such oranges as will provide, in the interests of producers and consumers, an orderly flow of the supply thereof to market throughout the normal marketing season to avoid unreasonable fluctuations in supplies and prices, and is not for the purpose of maintaining prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish under the act.

2. It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California.

Order, as amended. The provisions in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of § 922.447 (Valencia Orange Regulation 147, 23 F. R. 5863) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(ii) District 2: 577,500 cartons.

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

§ 922.448 Valencia Orange Regulation 148—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said marketing agreement and order, as amended, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges as hereinafter provided will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act by tending to establish and maintain such orderly marketing conditions for such oranges as will provide, in the interests of producers and consumers, an orderly flow of the supply thereof to market throughout the normal marketing season to avoid unreasonable fluctuations in supplies and prices, and is not for the purpose of maintaining prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish under the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on August 7, 1958.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 10, 1958, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 17, 1958, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

Findings. 1. Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953), regulating the handling of lemons grown in California and Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such lemons as hereinafter provided will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

2. It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. PART 958—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN COLORADO

APPROVAL OF EXPENSES AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice of rule making regarding proposed expenses and rate of assessment, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58 (7 CFR Part 958), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the State of Colorado was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, July 4, 1958 (23 F. R. 5122). This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposal set forth in the aforesaid notice, which proposals were adopted and submitted for approval by the area committee for Area No. 2, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 958.227 Expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred by the area committee for Area No. 2, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 97 and this part to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to the provisions of aforesaid marketing agreement and order during the fiscal period ending May 31, 1959, will amount to $3,024.00.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler, pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 97 and this part, shall be one-tenth of one cent ($0.001) per hundredweight of potatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal period.

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 97 and this part.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

PART 27—AIRCRAFT DISPATCHER CERTIFICATES

REVISION OF PART

Correction

In Federal Register Document 58-5966, published at page 5864 in the issue for Saturday, August 2, 1958, the following headnote should appear immediately preceding § 27.21: "GENERAL CERTIFICATE REQUIREMENTS".

Subchapter B—Economic Regulations

[Reg. ER-235]

PART 261—FILING OF AGREEMENTS

CONTRACTS OR AGREEMENTS BETWEEN AFFILIATED CARRIERS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 5th day of August 1958.

Section 412 (a) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, requires air carriers which are parties to certain contracts or agreements to file with the Board a copy of such contract or agreement. Part 261 of the Board's Economic Regulations contains the requirements governing the filing of the contracts or agreements fileable under section 412 (a). At the present time there is no requirement in Part 261 that air carriers submit specific information (other than that contained in the agreements themselves) either in support of or to facilitate the Board's review of such agreements. Such a requirement is necessary with respect to agreements between affiliated carriers because of the unique nature of such agreements.

A notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 4, 1958 (23 F. R. 89), and circulated to the industry as Economic Regulations Draft Release No. 89, dated December 27, 1957, which proposed to amend Part 261 to require that where an agreement between affiliated carriers is submitted for approval under section 412 of the act there shall be submitted an accompanying statement supporting the reasonableness of the financial provisions of the agreement.

The only comments on Draft Release No. 89 were submitted by Pan American World Airways, Inc. Pan American opposes the proposed regulation as an ineffective procedure and requests that any action thereon be deferred until after the completion of the investigation in Docket No. 8596 (PAA-Affiliates Investigation). After careful consideration of Pan American's comments, the Board finds that the arguments made by Pan American are unconvincing. It is the Board's position that current information submitted at the time of the filing of the agreement will permit the Board to conduct more effectively, and at an earlier date, a definite review of the financial terms of these particular agreements and to make a more timely final determination of the propriety of the agreements. Furthermore, the Board must reject the request that action on the proposed regulation be deferred inasmuch as the proposed regulation was designed, in part, to facilitate the Board's review of the various agreements on a uniform and current basis, without reserving such matters for consideration in rate-making proceedings or other proceedings which might be instituted. Conversely, the investigation in Docket No. 8596 is primarily directed toward agreements which have been entered into in the past, some of which may no longer be effective. The supposition that agreements involved in this investigation may be ultimately found to be in the public interest is no reason for the Board depriving itself of information which would permit a review of subsequent agreements of any carrier as they are filed, including those Pan-American-affiliate agreements which would otherwise not be processed until the pending proceeding has been decided.

Interested persons have been afforded the opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 261 of the Economic Regulations (14 CFR Part 261), effective September 9, 1958, as follows:

1. By adding a new § 261.8 to read as follows:

§ 261.8 Contracts or agreements between affiliated carriers. (a) Copies of contracts or agreements between a certificated air carrier and another air carrier, foreign air carrier or other carrier, affiliated therewith shall be accompanied by a detailed statement supporting the reasonableness of the financial provisions of the agreement. This statement shall set forth information covering the following matters:

(1) Why the contract or agreement was entered into between the affiliated carriers in lieu of the provision of the service by the receiving carrier for itself or the receipt of the service from a non-affiliated source.

(2) Whether the service could be obtained from a non-affiliated source, and, if so, at what price. (Provide appropriate data to support the answer, including any invitation or bid proposals.)

(3) The anticipated dollar volume during any fiscal year period.

(4) The basis for the particular charges contained in the contract or agreement.

(5) Supporting data showing the reasonableness of such charges, including data showing charges by other carriers for like services or by this carrier to unaffiliated carriers for like services.

(6) A description of the negotiations leading up to the contract or agreement and the determination of charges thereunder.

(7) The provision for renegotiation of the charges under the contractor agreement and, if present, the basis therefor.

(8) The persons primarily responsible for negotiating the contract or agreement on behalf of each party and the individuals who ultimately authorized it on behalf of each party.

(b) As used in this part, the word "affiliated" shall mean a relationship

(1) Within the meaning of section 5 (8) of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, referred to in sections 407 (e) and 408 (b) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, or

(2) Where the Board has found that one carrier, directly or indirectly, controls another carrier, or that one person, directly or indirectly, controls an air carrier and another carrier, or where proceedings have been instituted under section 408 to determine whether any such control relationship exists, no final determination having been reached in such proceedings, or

(3) Where one carrier, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, 10 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of the other carrier, or where a third person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls or holds with power to vote, 10 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of an air carrier and another carrier.

(Sec. 205 (a), 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies secs. 407, 412, 415, 52 Stat. 1000, 1004, 49 U. S. C. 487, 492 and 495)

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] PHYLLIS T. KAYLOR,
Acting Secretary.

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Revise §§ 590.609, 591.203, 591.405-2, 591.405-3 and 592.401 to read as follows:

§ 590.609 Procurement outside the United States. See § 1.609 of this title.

§ 591.203 Office of Permanent Record—(a) Preaward transaction file. (1) Each purchasing office or installation which initiates or effects procurement by formal advertising will maintain a master file for each procurement initiated. This file will contain the original or a certified copy of each paper related to the procurement, beginning with the procurement directive or other paper initiating the procurement. The purpose of the file is to provide a complete resume of the transaction prior to and including the award. This master file shall be preserved in the office or installation which initiated the procurement unless responsibility for the file is transferred to another office, or retirement or destruction is authorized under the provisions of pertinent Army regulations.

(2) In the event the resulting contract or contracts are transferred to other offices or installations for administration, only those records that are necessary for the administration of the contract are required to be forwarded to the administering office or installation. The cover sheet for the contract administration file maintained by the office or installation administering the contract (paragraph (b) of this section) shall identify the master file and give the name of the installation where the contract was initiated and where all records not transferred are maintained. Original or authenticated copies of correspondence pertinent to the contract and all required determinations and findings with supporting data such as are involved in awards to other than low bidders, mistake in bid cases, preaward surveys, invitations for bids and abstracts of bids, etc., pertaining to a particular contract shall accompany such contract at all times.

(b) Contract administration file. Each purchasing office or installation which administers contracts awarded by formal advertising will maintain files which will provide a complete resume of the administration of each contract. These files need not be retained in a central location in the purchasing office or installation when it is administratively advantageous to maintain portions thereof on the site of performance. Unless these files are set up on an individual contract basis they must be so organized that they will provide an accurate and complete identification and cross-reference to related files.

(c) The policy and procedure for the organization and maintenance of all contract files are set forth in § 606.210 of this chapter.

(d) Contract files shall be retired or disposed of in accordance with the provisions of pertinent Army regulations.

§ 591.405–2 Mistakes disclosed after opening and prior to award other than obvious or apparent mistakes of a clerical nature. (a) Authority has been granted the delegates enumerated in § 2.405–2 (b) (1) of this title to make the determinations set forth in § 2.405–2 (a) of this title.

(b) Cases not encompassed by the delegation referred to in paragraph (a) of this section and those doubtful cases which the delegates elect to submit to higher authority for determination will be forwarded direct to the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army, Attn: Chief, Contracts Branch (with copy to the Head of the Procuring Activity concerned), and shall include, in addition to the supporting data required, the contracting officer's statement of findings and recommendations as called for by § 2.405–2 (e) (5) of this title, in triplicate, as well as a clear statement that an award has not been made.

(c) Where it is known or apparent that resolution of the matter cannot be accomplished prior to expiration of the bid acceptance time, the contracting officer will seek appropriate extensions of bid acceptance periods from the bidder alleging the mistake and any other bidders whose bids are within the zone of consideration.

(d) Where circumstances require such prompt action as to preclude transmittal of the case by mail, contracting officers will use telegraphic, telephonic, or radio means of communicating with the appropriate higher authority, furnishing, so far as possible, the information called for by § 2.405–2 (e) of this title.

(e) Notice to contracting officers of determinations made by higher authority and instructions based thereon will be issued by the head of a technical service when so authorized, or by the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics (Chief, Contracts Branch), to the Head of the Procuring Activity, except that in the latter instance contracting officers may be notified direct in cases requiring expeditious action and the Head of the Procuring Activity notified simultaneously.

§ 591.405–3 Disclosure of mistakes after award. (a) Where a mistake in bid or proposal is alleged or disclosed after award, the case shall be forwarded through channels to the head of the procuring activity concerned and shall include the following information:

(1) The data listed in § 2.405–2 (e) (1) to (4) of this title;

(2) A copy of the quotation or proposal, submitted by the contractor, where the procurement was negotiated, in lieu of the invitation for bids specified in § 2.405–2 (e) (2) of this title;

(3) A copy of the contract and any change orders or supplemental agreements thereto; and

(4) A signed statement by the contracting officer (i) describing the supplies or services involved, (ii) specifying how and when the mistake was alleged or disclosed, (iii) summarizing the evidence submitted by the contractor and any additional evidence considered pertinent, (iv) stating, in cases where only one bid or proposal was received, the most recent contract price for the supplies or services involved, or in the absence of a recent contract for the item, the contracting officer's estimate of a fair price for the item, (v) setting forth his opinion whether a bona fide mistake was made and whether he was, or should have been, on constructive notice of any error in the bid or proposal prior to the award, together with the reasons for or data in support of such opinion (vi) setting forth his recommendation in the matter and the basis therefor, and (vii) disclosing the status of performance and payments under the contract including contemplated performance and payments, if applicable.

(b) Heads of procuring activities are authorized, without power of redelegation of such authority, to rescind or reform contracts provided that:

(1) In the case of a contract to be rescinded in its entirety, the original contract price does not exceed $500.

(2) In reforming a procurement contract, (i) a resultant deletion of an item from the contract does not reduce the original contract price by more than $500 or (ii) a resultant increase in price does not exceed $500, or the price of the next higher bid or proposal for the item of supplies or services concerned if such a higher bid or proposal was submitted;

(3) In reforming a sales contract, (i) a resultant deletion of an item from the contract does not reduce the contract price by more than $500 or (ii) a resultant increase in price does not exceed $500, or the price of the next higher bid or proposal for the item of supplies or services concerned if such a lower bid or proposal was submitted; and

(4) The Head of the Procuring Activity concerned finds that the evidence is clear and convincing that a mistake in bid or proposal was made by the contractor, that the mistake was mutual or that the contracting officer was or should have been on constructive notice of the error prior to award, and determines that the contract price should be increased in a procurement contract, or decreased in a sales contract, or that the contract or the item of supplies or services involved in the error should be rescinded.

§ 592.401 Types of contracts. In accordance with the basic policy set forth in § 3.401 of this title, the fixed price type contracts may be used only when the requirements of Subpart D, Part 3 of this title and this part and § 606.104 of this chapter have been satisfied. All negotiated contracts, other than firm fixed-price contracts, shall contain a provision which prohibits cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost subcontracts. Appropriate contract clauses are set forth in §§ 7.203–4 and 7.150–7 of this title.

2. A new Subpart H is added to Part 592, as follows:

SUBPART H—PRICE NEGOTIATION POLICIES AND TECHNIQUES

Sec.
592.800 Scope of subpart.
592.808 Pricing techniques.
592.808–50 Recruitment costs.
592.811 Record of price negotiation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 592.800 to 592.811 issued under sec. 3012, 70A Stat. 157; 10 U. S. C. 3012. Interpret or apply secs. 2301–2314, 70A Stat. 127–133; 10 U. S. C. 2301–2314.

§ 592.800 Scope of subpart. See § 3.800 of this title.

§ 592.808 Pricing techniques. See §§ 3.808–1 to 3.808–6 of this title.

§ 592.808–50 Recruitment costs. Reasonableness of offeror's or contractors' costs of recruiting engineering and scientific personnel shall be determined on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration all of the conditions bearing on the particular case, including the magnitude of the recruitment problems, the effectiveness of the control and administration exercised with respect to the formulation, direction and cost of recruitment programs and practices, and the effectiveness of the recruitment programs and practices themselves. In determining the reasonableness of recruitment costs, the following factors shall be considered:

(a) Evidence of effective budgetary control of recruitment costs;

(b) Evidence of effective administrative control and direction in the formulation and operation of recruitment programs;

(c) Evidence of other effective controls and reviews to detect and prevent indiscriminate, imprudent, and costly recruitment practices;

(d) Evidence that the size of the engineering and scientific staff recruited and maintained is in keeping with workload requirements;

(e) Evidence of effective anaylsis to determine the cause and effect of the rate of employee turnover;

(f) Evidence that payments of allowances to new and prospective employees are reasonable and governed by established policy;

(g) Evidence that salaries and fringe benefits including educational benefits, offered to new employees are reasonable and governed by established policy; and

(h) Evidence of violations of recruiting ethics in the form of proselyting.

§ 592.811 Record of price negotiation. The memorandum record of price negotiation shall be maintained in accordance with the procedures set forth in §§ 592.308 and 606.210 of this chapter.

3. Revise paragraph (c) (1) of § 596.103–12, revoke § 596.103–14, revise §§ 596.104–51 and 596.150–7, and revoke § 596.203–51, as follows:

§ 596.103–12 Disputes. • • •

(c) Major oversea commands. (1) the following Disputes clause shall be inserted in all contracts entered into by major oversea commands and to be performed outside the United States in lieu of the clause set forth in § 7.103–12 of this title.

DISPUTES

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this contract, any dispute concerning a question of fact arising under this contract which is not disposed of by agreements shall be decided by the Contracting Officer, who shall reduce his decision to writing and mail or otherwise furnish a copy thereof to the Contractor. Within 30 days from the date of receipt of such copy, the Contractor may appeal by mailing or otherwise furnishing to the Contracting Officer a written appeal addressed to the Commanding General (----------[1] ----------), and the decision of the Commanding General (----------[1] ----------), or that of his duly authorized representative (other than the Contracting Officer under this contract) for the hearing of such appeals, shall unless determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to have been fraudulent, arbitrary, capricious, or so grossly erroneous as necessarily to imply bad faith, or not supported by substantial evidence, be final and conclusive upon the parties thereto when the amount involved in the appeal is $50,000 or less: Provided, That if no appeal is taken, within the said 30 days, the decision of the Contracting Officer shall be final and conclusive. When the amount involved is more than $50,000 the decision of the Commanding General (----------[1] ----------) shall be subject to written appeal within 30 days after the receipt thereof by the Contractor to the Secretary of the Army and the decision of the Secretary or his duly authorized representative for the hearing of such appeals shall, unless determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to have been fraudulent, arbitrary, capricious, or so grossly erroneous as necessarily to imply bad faith, or not supported by substantial evidence, be final and conclusive: Provided, That if no such further appeal is taken, within the said 30 days, the decision of the Commanding General (----------[1] ----------) or that of his duly authorized representative shall be final and conclusive. In connection with any appeal proceeding under this clause, the Contractor shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard and to offer evidence in support of its appeal. Pending final decision of a dispute hereunder, the Contractor shall proceed diligently with the performance of the contract and in accordance with Contracting Officer's decision.

(b) This "Disputes" clause does not preclude consideration of questions of law in connection with decisions provided for in paragraph (a) above: Provided, That nothing in this contract shall be construed as making final decision of any administrative official, representative, or board on a question of law.

[1] Specify name of major oversea command concerned.

§ 596.103–14 Buy American Act. [Revoked.]

§ 596.104–51 Marine risk. The following clause may be used in contracts for chartering vessels for coastal, harbor, inland water or similar services.

MARINE RISKS

The owner shall assume all marine risks of whatever nature or kind, including all risks or liability for breach of law or statutes or for damage caused to other vessels, persons or property, except as otherwise provided herein. When official storm warnings have been issued or weather and water or other conditions render an operation unusually hazardous and the owner or master protests in writing to the Contracting Officer or his authorized representative against undertaking the operation but thereafter the Contracting Officer or his authorized representative orders him to perform the operation and he undertakes to do so and the vessel is damaged or lost as the proximate result of the unusual hazard protested against and not of the negligence of the owner, master or crew, the Government shall, at its discretion, repair the damage to the vessel or reimburse the owner for the cost of such repairs or for the loss of the vessel, to the extent not covered by insurance and within the limits of funds against which indemnification by the Government to the contractor for such loss or damage may lawfully be charged, but in no case in excess of the value of the vessel immediately preceding the incident causing the damage or loss; and shall, for a period not to exceed ---------- days (insert the number of days estimated to repair or replace the vessel), reimburse the owner, within the funds limitation as indicated above, for the actual expenses of stand-by-time, as determined by the Contracting Officer. The Contractor shall file a report of such damage or loss within three working days after the date of the incident or the date of the vessel's return to port, whichever is the later date. Failure to file such a report within the time specified shall constitute a waiver of liability of the Government for the damage to or loss of the vessel. Failure to agree to any findings or determinations made by the Contracting Officer hereunder shall be a dispute concerning a question of fact within the meaning of the clause of this contract entitled "Disputes."

§ 596.150–7 Cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost subcontracting. Pursuant to § 3.401 of this title and § 592.401 of this chapter, the following clause shall be included in all negotiated contracts, other than firm fixed-price contracts, unless the provisions of this clause are otherwise included in a clause prescribed by Subchapter A, Chapter I of this title:

COST-PLUS-A-PERCENTAGE-OF-COST SUBCONTRACTING

The contractor agrees that no subcontract placed under this contract shall provide for payment on a cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost basis.

§ 596.203–51 Cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost contracting. [Revoked.]

4. Sections 598.102–1, 598.102–2, 598.103–1, 598.107–2, 598.107–3, 598.107–4, and 598.107–5 are revised to read as follows:

§ 598.102–1 Authorization and consent in contracts for supplies. The use of the Authorization and Consent clause (§ 9.102–1 of this title) is optional in supply contracts of $5,000 and less, including purchase orders, but shall be included in supply contracts over $5,000, including construction work, except as provided in §§ 9.102 (b) and 9.102–2 of this title and § 598.102–2.

§ 598.102–2 Authorization and consent in contracts for research or development. The Authorization and Consent Clause (§ 9.102–2 of this title) shall be included in all contracts calling exclusively for research or development work, and may be otherwise included only in those contracts for both supplies and research or development work where the research or development work is the primary purpose of the contract. In all other contracts for both supplies and research or development work, the Authorization and Consent Clause (§ 9.102–1 of this title) shall be used in accordance with the provisions of § 598.102–1.

§ 598.103–1 Patent indemnification in formally advertised contracts, commercial status predetermined. (a) In supply contracts of $5,000 or more to be awarded as a result of formal advertising, the contracting officer shall make a determination prior to issuance of the invitation for bids whether the supplies to be procured (or such supplies apart from relatively minor modification to be made thereto) normally are, or have been sold or offered for sale by any supplier to the public in the commercial open market. If it is determined that the supplies are, or have been, sold or offered for sale, except as prohibited by § 9.103 of this title, the contract shall include the clause set forth in § 9.103–1 of this title.

(b) Any items to be excluded in accordance with § 9.103–1 (b) of this title shall be listed in detail rather than in general terms.

§ 598.107–2 Contracts relating to atomic energy. (a) Any provision to be incorporated into the Patent Rights clause which authorizes the contractor to retain license rights, or authorizes any deviation from the Patent Rights clause (§ 9.107–2 of this title) shall be forwarded through the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., Attn: Chief, Contracts Branch, to the Chief, Patents Division, for referral to the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission for determination as to whether the provision or deviation may be granted.

(b) Disclosures of inventions relating to atomic energy furnished by any contractor shall be forwarded to the Chief, Patents Division, for referral to the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

§ 598.107–3 Patent license rights under product improvement programs or independent research programs. See § 9.107–3 of this title.

§ 598.107–4 Patent rights not to be obtained. Procuring activities are not prohibited by § 9.107–4 of this title from accepting, on behalf of the Government any gratuitous and voluntary grant of patent license rights.

§ 598.107–5 Contracts relating to civil defense. The clause in § 9.107–5 of this title may be used, in lieu of paragraph (b) (1) of the clause set forth in § 9.107–1 of this title, in all contracts for experimental, developmental or research work relating primarily to supplies or services intended for the general public for Civil Defense purposes. This clause is particularly applicable for inclusion in contracts financed in whole or in part by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

5. Revise §§ 599.450 and 599.501 to read as follows:

§ 599.450 Work at Government installation. A fixed-price contractor performing work at a Government installation shall be required to furnish evidence of Comprehensive General Liability and Automobile Liability insurance, in each instance for both bodily injury and property damage. Such evidence of insurance shall be furnished to the contracting officer and shall be in such limits as is deemed reasonable under the circumstances. In no event shall these limits be less than $5,000 per person, $10,000 per accident for bodily injury and $5,000 for property damage. Where the Financial Responsibility or Compulsory Insurance Law of the State in which the installation is located requires higher limits, the Automobile Liability insurance policy should provide for coverage of at least those limits.

§ 599.501 Policy—(a) General. The Government's interest in the insurance program of a cost-reimbursement type contractor relates primarily to the policies or self-insurance plans which provide coverage for Workmen's Compensation and Employees' Liability, General Liability, Automobile Liability, Aircraft Public and Passenger Liability, Fidelity Bonds, Group Insurance, Accident Insurance and Pensions.

(1) The insurance coverages required by §§ 10.501–1, 10.501–2, 10.501–3 and 10.501–4 (a) of this title and §§ 599.501–1, 599.501–2, 599.501–3, and 599.501–4 (a) are mandatory, unless the contractor is relieved by statute from liability or has a self-insurance program which meets the requirements of § 599.502.

(2) Additional types of insurance may be required by heads of procuring activities.

(3) Insurance coverages other than the types required in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, for which reimbursement of premium charges is sought, must be reasonable in cost and necessary in the performance of the contract.

(4) Where the cost of insurance coverage is included in the overhead rate, the contract schedule shall specifically provide that the insurance cost included therein shall not be an item for separate reimbursement under the contract.

(5) The contracting officer, in establishing insurance costs for overhead rate negotiations, shall ascertain to the extent possible that such costs are net after anticipated dividends or other credits.

(b) Review of contractor's insurance program. (1) Prior to the approval of a contractor's insurance program under a cost-reimbursement type contract, the extent of the contractor's cost-reimbursement type contracts with other agencies of the Department of Defense at the proposed location or adjacent thereto shall be determined. This information should be readily available from the contractor and shall be used to determine whether the insurance pertaining to the contract should be combined with the insurance pertaining to the contractor's other Department of Defense contracts, in order to effect savings in reimbursable insurance premium costs.

(2) Where the contract operations are at a location at which the work is exclusively or almost exclusively for the Department of Defense, consideration should be given to establishing a special insurance arrangement for all work performed at this location.

(i) The criteria for application of the National Defense Projects Rating Plan is set forth in § 10.703 of this title. Where a location does not qualify for this Plan and the estimated annual premiums are substantial, a commercial retrospective rating plan may be appropriate. If the estimated annual premiums are small, joint insurance with the contractor's commercial operations or special guaranteed cost policies may be advisable.

(ii) Where special insurance arrangements are made, the exact coverages and limits required by §§ 10.501–1, 10.501–2, 10.501–3, and 10.501–4 (a) of this title and §§ 599.501–1, 599.501–2, 599.501–3 and 599.501–4 (a), shall be provided. The purpose of such an insurance program is not primarily to protect the Government or the contractor against financial loss but is to obtain the experienced services of the insurance industry in such technical areas as claims settlement and safety engineering; therefore, the higher limits of liability insurance normally carried by contractors in their commercial operations are not acceptable. The risk of excessive losses is normally assumed by the Government by the use of the "Insurance Liability to Third Persons" clause (§ 7.203–22 of this title) or a similar clause.

(3) Where the cost cost-reimbursement type contract operations are commingled with the contractor's commercial operations, all operations should normally be insured together.

(4) When the contract operations are jointly insured with the contractor's commercial operations, the proportion of cost-reimbursement type Department of Defense contracts and the amount of premium involved shall be the governing factors in determining the necessity for Government control. Unless both the proportion of contracts and the amount of reimbursable premium involved is substantial, review of the contractor's insurance program should be limited to assuring that the contractor complies with the requirements of §§ 10.501–1, 10.501–2, 10.501–3 and 10.501–4 (a) of this title and §§ 599.501–1, 599.501–2, 599.501–3 and 599.501–4 (a). Higher limits than those prescribed in the referenced paragraphs may be approved where joint insurance coverage exists. Interference with the contractor's established commercial insurance program should be avoided to the extent possible.

(5) Particular attention should be given to the time period and geographical limits of the policies as well as to any provision in the policies which exclude from coverage any phase of contract operations.

(6) The policy endorsements set forth in paragraph (c) of this paragraph should be attached to the policies.

(c) Required endorsements — (1) Waiver of subrogation. Unless an additional premium is required, an insurance policy covering performance under a Department of the Army contract shall be endorsed waiving the insurer's right of subrogation against the Government for losses under the policy arising out of contract performance.

(2) Notice of cancellation or change. Where insurance is required by the contract or approved by the Head of the Procuring Activity, the policies evidencing such insurance shall contain an endorsement to the effect that cancellation of or material change in the policies will be subject to thirty (30) days written notice of cancellation or change to the approving authority.

6. Revise paragraph (a) of § 600.401, revoke § 600.450, and revise §§ 600.452 and 600.452–1, as follows:

§ 600.401 Fixed-price contracts. (a) Subject to the exception in paragraph (b) of this section and to such variations as may be prescribed by the Department of Defense or other competent authority (including Standard Forms as prescribed for use):

(1) The clause appearing in § 11.401–1 of this title shall be inserted by contracting officers in all formally advertised contracts, and in negotiated fixed-price contracts when the contracting officer is satisfied that, by virture of competition or otherwise, the contract price excludes contingencies for State and local taxes.

(2) The clause appearing in § 11.401–2 of this title shall be inserted in all other negotiated fixed-price contracts.

(3) Printed forms of the Department of the Army or any of its agencies shall be revised, if necessary to conform with the foregoing.

§ 600.450 Contract clause relating to Indiana State gross income tax. [Revoked.]

§ 600.452 Maryland sales and use tax. The Maryland statute exempts sales or uses from the taxes if the purpose of the purchaser or user of tangible personal property is to resell the property, or to use or incorporate it, as a material or part, of other tangible personal property to be produced for sale by manufacturing, assembling, processing or refining. However, by a 1957 amendment, sales of tangible personal property to be used as facilities, tools, tooling machinery or equipment (including dies, molds, and patterns) are not exempt from the sales tax, nor is the use exempt from the use tax, even though title thereto passes, or is intended to pass, to the Federal Government either before or after such person uses such facilities, tools, tooling machinery or equipment.

(a) Whenever a Department of the Army contract calls for the transfer to the Government in their original form, without use by the contractor, of facilities, tools, tooling, machinery or equipment purchased by a contractor, the resale exemption from the sales tax is considered applicable to such purchase.

(b) Whenever tangible personal property is purchased by a contractor for incorporation, as a material or part, in the completed supplies to be furnished to the Government under a Department of the Army contract, the resale exemptions from the sales and use taxes are considered applicable to such purchase and use.

(c) No sales tax or use tax exemption applies to facilities, tools, tooling machinery or equipment used by a contractor in the performance of a Department of the Army contract regardless of when title thereto passes, or is intended to pass, to the Government.

(d) Questions arising out of sales or uses which do not fall within one of the above categories should be referred to the Office of the Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., Attn: Procurement Law Division, for advice.

§ 600.452–1 Procedure to be followed pending disposition of litigation. (a) Where the total amount of the tax applicable to the contractor is $1000 or more, the following procedure shall apply:

(1) If the tax is assessed by the Maryland taxing authorities under one of the exempt situations described in § 600.452 (a) or (b), the contractor should pay the tax and apply for a refund within 30 days of the mailing of the notice of the assessment. Refunds, after assessment, must be applied for within 30 days of assessment or recovery is foreclosed (Md. Code Ann. 1951, Art. 81, Sec. 347). Where assessment has taken place, the contractor should be instructed to retain counsel for the purpose of making application for refund within the appropriate period.

(2) The contractor should be instructed to pay, at the appropriate time, the tax considered to be due, in order to avoid an assessment by the State. When the tax is paid without assessment, the contractor should be instructed not to apply for a refund except as herein directed. Under Maryland law a claim for refund may be filed at any time within three years of payment of the tax if no assessment has been made (Md. Code Ann. 1951, Art. 81, sec. 344). To facilitate the filing of claims, contracting agencies should maintain records of the contracts and amounts of taxes involved.

(3) Whenever 30 months have elapsed from the time of initial payment, The Office of the Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., Attn: Procurement Law Division, should be notified of the fact and furnished all information necessary to determine whether the tax should be contested. In this connection the provisions of § 600.050 of this part will be strictly followed.

(4) If any substantial payment of tax was made more than 35 months previous to date of this publication, the contractor is authorized to retain counsel and to file application for refund directly. The Office of the Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., Attn: Procurement Law Division should be notified promptly of such action. Every claim for refund should be made in accordance with the provisions of Md. Code Ann. 1951, Art. 81, sec. 344, and should state as grounds: (i) That the sales to the taxpayer were not retail sales within the meaning of Md. Code Ann. 1951, Art. 81, sec. 320 (f) and were not subject to the tax imposed by sec. 321 of that Article; (ii) that the property bought by the taxpayer was not used, stored, or consumed by the taxpayer in Maryland within the meaning of Md. Code Ann. 1951, Art. 81, secs. 368 and 369, and that the taxpayer was not subject to the tax imposed by Sec. 369; and (iii) any additional grounds which counsel for the taxpayer deems applicable.

(b) Contracting Officers shall insure that contractors who are subject to the Maryland sales and use taxes are advised of the provisions of this section.

7. Revise §§ 601.102, 601.102–1, 601.102–2, 601.102–3, 601.102–4, 601.102–5, and 601.102–6 as follows:

§ 601.102–1 Definitions. See § 12.102–1 of this title.

§ 601.102–2 Policy. (a) Designees (§ 601.102–4) shall use the authority to approve overtime premiums and shift premiums judiciously in conformity with the intent of § 12.102 of this title and § 601.102. Designees shall insure that applications of the procedures set forth in § 12.102 of this title and § 601.102 do not delay or otherwise impede high priority or essential programs or projects. Where questions arise in connection with such programs or projects, § 12.102 of this title and § 601.102 shall be given a liberal interpretation.

(b) Approvals for use of overtime, extra-pay shifts or multi-shift operations by contractors heretofore granted shall continue in full force and effect, subject to the review required by § 601.102–3.

§ 601.102–3 Procedures. The periodic review required by § 12.103–3 (e) of this title shall be conducted at least once every three months.

§ 601.102–4 Approvals. The following individuals are appointed as designees for the purpose of making determinations and approving use of overtime premiums and shift premiums by contractors at Government expense:

(a) The Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics; and the Director of Procurement, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Headquarters, Department of the Army;

(b) Chiefs of technical services and their deputies;

(c) The Commander-in-Chief and the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, Europe; the Commanding General and the Chief of Staff of: (1) The U. S. Army, Alaska, (2) the U. S. Army, Caribbean; (3) the U. S. Army, Japan; (4) the U. S. Army, Hawaii/25th Infantry Division; and

(d) The Commanding General and the Deputy Commanding General of the U. S. Army Ordnance Guided Missile Command.

§ 601.102–5 Exceptions. See § 12.102–5 of this title.

§ 601.102–6 Construction Contracts. See § 12.102–6 of this title.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Treasury

[CGFR 58–19]

Subchapter D—Navigation Requirements for Certain Inland Waters

PART 80—PILOT RULES FOR INLAND WATERS

Subchapter F—Navigation Requirements for Western Rivers

PART 95—PILOT RULES FOR WESTERN RIVERS

LIGHTS FOR BARGES TOWED ON GULF INTRACOASTAL WATERWAY OR WESTERN RIVERS

Notices regarding proposed changes in the navigation and vessel inspection regulations were published in the FEDERAL REGISTERS dated February 12, 1958 (23 F. R. 905–910), and March 1, 1958 (23 F. R. 1268–1270), as Items I through XVIII of an Agenda to be considered by the Merchant Marine Council. Pursuant to these notices a public hearing was held on March 18, 1958, by the Merchant Marine Council at Washington, D. C.

This document is the sixth of a series covering the regulations and actions considered at this public hearing and annual session of the Merchant Marine Council, and contains the final actions taken with respect to Item II of the Agenda. The first document, identified as CGFR 58–8, contained miscellaneous amendments to inspection requirements to implement the Act of May 10, 1956, as amended (46 U. S. C. 390–390g), which were based on Item III of the Agenda. The second document, identified as CGFR 58–17, contained the requirements governing private aids to navigation on the outer Continental Shelf and waters under the jurisdiction of the United States, which were based on Item I of the Agenda. The third document, identified as CGFR 58–18, contained new requirements regarding radar observers and miscellaneous changes respecting renewal of merchant mariner's licenses, which were based on Item IV of the Agenda. The fourth document, identified as CGFR 58–9, contained miscellaneous amendments and requirements respecting dangerous cargoes, which were based on Items XIV, XV, and XVI of the Agenda. The fifth document, identified as CGFR 58–10, contained miscellaneous amendments and requirements respecting vessel inspection, which were based on Items V, VI, VII, IX, XI, and XVI of the Agenda.

The Coast Guard acknowledges the assistance given to the Merchant Marine Council by those interested parties who submitted comments, views, and data in connection with the items considered at this public hearing. On the basis of comments received, changes were made in the proposals in Item II—Lights for Barges Towed on the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway or Western Rivers. The amendments in this Item, as revised, are adopted and set forth in this document.

The purpose of these amendments to 33 CFR 80.16a, 95.29 and 95.31 is to provide additional lights for barges being towed in order to define at night the extreme width of the tow. The changes adopted reduced the number of lights while still accomplishing the same objective. Other editorial changes and revisions were made to have uniformity in language or to clarify the regulations and they do not materially alter the requirements. It should be noted these amendments do not alter the requirements for lights on rafts which are provided for in 33 CFR 80.32 and 95.37.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Order No. 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F. R. 6521), to promulgate regulations in accordance with the statutes cited with the regulations below, the following amendments are prescribed, and the use of lights described in this document are authorized on and after the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and their use shall be mandatory on and after January 1, 1959.

1. Section 80.16a is amended to read as follows:

§ 80.16a Lights for barges, canal boats, scows and other nondescript vessels on certain inland waters on the Gulf Coast and the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway. (a) On the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and on other inland waters connected therewith or with the Gulf of Mexico from the Rio Grande, Texas, to Cape Sable (East Cape), Florida, barges, canal boats, scows, and other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, when being towed by steam vessels shall carry lights as set forth in this section.

(b) When one or more barges, canal boats, scows, or other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, are being towed by pushing ahead of a steam vessel, such tow shall be lighted by an amber light at the extreme forward end of the tow, so placed as to be as nearly as practicable on the centerline of the tow, a green light on the starboard side of the tow, so placed as to mark the maximum projection of the tow to starboard, and a red light on the port side of the tow, so placed as to mark the maximum projection of the tow to port.

(c) When one or more barges, canal boats, scows, or other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, are being towed alongside a steam vessel, there shall be displayed a white light at each outboard corner of the tow. If the deck, deck house, or cargo of such barge, etc., obscures the sidelight of the towing vessel, such barge, etc., shall also carry a green light upon the starboard side when being towed on the starboard side of a steam vessel or shall carry a red light on the port side of the barge, etc., when being towed on the port side of the steam vessel. If there is more than one such barge, etc., being towed abreast, the appropriate colored sidelight shall be displayed from the outer side of the outside barge.

(d) When one barge, canal boat, scow or other vessel of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, is being towed singly behind a steam vessel, such vessel shall carry four white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the bow and one on each corner or outermost projection of the stern.

(e) When two or more barges, canal boats, scows, or other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, are being towed behind a steam vessel in tandem, with an intermediate hawser, such vessels shall carry white lights as follows:

(1) The first vessel in the tow shall carry three white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the bow and a white light at the stern amidships.

(2) Each intermediate vessel shall carry two white lights, one at each end amidships.

(3) The last vessel in the tow shall carry three white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the stern and a white light at the bow amidships.

(f) When two or more barges, canal boats, scows, or other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, are being towed behind a steam vessel in tandem, close-up, such vessels shall carry white lights as follows:

(1) The first vessel in the tow shall carry three white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the bow and a white light at the stern amidships.

(2) Each intermediate vessel shall carry a white light at the stern amidships.

(3) The last vessel in the tow shall carry two white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the stern.

(g) When two or more barges, canal boats, scows, or other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, are being towed behind a steam vessel two or more abreast, in one or more tiers, each of the outside vessels in each tier shall carry a white light on the outboard corner of the bow, and each of the outside vessels in the last tier shall carry, in addition, a white light on the outboard corner of the stern.

(h) When one or more barges, canal boats, scows, or other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, are moored to the bank or dock in or near a fairway, such tow shall carry two white lights not less than four feet above the surface of the water, as follows:

(1) On a single moored barge, canal boat, scow, or other vessel of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, a light at each outboard or channelward corner.

(2) On barges, canal boats, scows, or other vessels of nondescript type not otherwise provided for, when moored in a group formation, a light on the upstream outboard or channelward corner of the outer upstream boat and a light on the downstream outboard or channelward corner of the outer downstream boat; and in addition, any boat projecting toward or into the channel from such group formation shall have two white lights similarly placed on its outboard or channelward corners.

(i) The colored side lights shall be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to show the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles, and shall be fitted with inboard screens so as to prevent either light from being seen more than half a point across the centerline of the tow.

(j) The amber light shall be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to show the light 10 points on each side of the tow, namely, from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(k) The white lights shall be so constructed and so fixed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light all around the horizon, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(l) All the lights shall be carried at approximately the same height above the surface of the water and, except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, shall be so placed with respect thereto as to be clear of and above all obstructions which might tend to interfere with the prescribed arc or distance of visibility.

(Sec. 2, 30 Stat. 102, as amended, sec. 1, 30 Stat. 98, as amended; 33 U. S. C. 157, 178. Interpret or apply R. S. 4233A, as amended; 33 U. S. C. 353)

2. Section 95.29 is amended to read as follows:

§ 95.29 Lights for barges towed ahead or alongside. (a) When one or more barges are being towed by pushing ahead of a steam vessel, such tow shall be lighted by an amber light at the extreme forward end of the tow, so placed as to be as nearly as practicable on the centerline of the tow, a green light on the starboard side of the tow, so placed as to mark the maximum projection of the tow to starboard, and a red light on the port side of the tow, so placed as to mark the maximum protection of the tow to port.

(b) When one or more barges are being towed alongside a steam vessel, there shall be displayed a white light at each outboard corner of the tow. If the deck, deck house, or cargo of such barge obscures the sidelight of the towing steam vessel, such barge shall also carry a green light upon the starboard side when being towed on the starboard side of a steam vessel; or shall carry a red light on the port side of the barge when being towed on the port side of the steam vessel. If there is more than one such barge being towed abreast, the appropriate colored sidelight shall be displayed from the outer side of the outside barge.

(c) The colored side lights shall be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to show the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles, and shall be fitted with inboard screens so as to prevent either light from being seen more than half a point across the centerline of the tow.

(d) The amber light shall be so constructed as to show a uniform and unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to show the light 10 points on each side of the tow, namely, from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(e) The white lights shall be so constructed and so fixed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light all around the horizon, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(f) All the lights shall be carried at approximately the same height above the surface of the water and shall be so placed with respect thereto as to be clear of and above all obstructions which might tend to interfere with the prescribed arc or distance of visibility.

(R. S. 4233A; 33 U. S. C. 353)

3. Section 95.31 is amended to read as follows:

§ 95.31 Lights for barges towed astern. (a) When one barge is being towed singly behind a steam vessel, such vessel shall carry four white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the bow and one on each corner or outermost projection of the stern.

(b) When two are more barges are being towed behind a steam vessel in tandem, with an intermediate hawser, such vessels shall carry white lights as follows:

(1) The first vessel in the tow shall carry three white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the bow and a white light at the stern amidships.

(2) Each intermediate vessel shall carry two white lights, one at each end amidships.

(3) The last vessel in the tow shall carry three white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the stern and a white light at the bow amidships.

(c) When two or more barges are being towed behind a steam vessel in tandem, close-up, such vessels shall carry white lights as follows:

(1) The first vessel in the tow shall carry three white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the bow and a white light at the stern amidships.

(2) Each intermediate vessel shall carry a white light at the stern amidships.

(3) The last vessel in the tow shall carry two white lights, one on each corner or outermost projection of the stern.

(d) When two or more barges are being towed behind a steam vessel two or more abreast, in one or more tiers, each of the outside barges in each tier shall carry a white light on the outboard corner of the bow and each of the outside barges in the last tier shall carry, in addition, a white light on the outboard corner of the stern.

(e) The white lights shall be so constructed and so fixed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light all around the horizon and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles. The lights shall be carried at approximately the same height above the surface of the water and shall be so placed with respect thereto as to be clear of and above all obstructions which might tend to interfere with the prescribed arc or distance of visibility.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Rules Amdt. 1-5]

[Docket No. 12461; FCC 58-777]

PART 1—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

APPLICATIONS

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration a proposal to change its policy with respect to the Revised Tentative Allocation Plan for Class B FM Broadcast Stations (to abandon the plan) and to amend §§ 1.356 (f) and 1.309 (a) of the rules;

It appearing that notice of proposed rule making (FCC 58-514) setting forth the above proposal was issued by the Commission on June 2, 1958, and was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (23 F. R. 3937), which notice provided that interested parties might file statements or briefs with respect to the said proposal on or before July 7, 1958; and

It further appearing that comments were filed in this matter by the Charles River Broadcasting Company, Waltham, Massachusetts, licensee of Station WCRB-FM; Everett L. Dillard, trading as The Commercial Radio Equipment Company, Washington, D. C.; and the Interstate Broadcasting Company, Inc., New York City, licensee of Station

WQXR-FM; all of which comments were in favor of the Commission's proposal; that, in addition, The Commercial Radio Equipment Company and the Interstate Broadcasting Company, Inc. suggested the revision of §§ 3.202 and 3.204 to remove the present limitation of the coverage of Class B FM stations located in the heavy populated part of New England, the southeastern portion of New York, New Jersey, Delaware, and the eastern portions of Pennsylvania and Maryland, to not more than the equivalent of 20 kilowatts effective radiated power and antenna height of 500 feet above average terrain; but that these suggestions to amend §§ 3.202 and 3.204, more properly, should be the subject of a separate rule making proceeding; and

It further appearing that no comments in reply to the original comments were filed within the 10-day period after July 7, 1958; and

It further appearing that adoption of the proposal can be expected to expedite the processing of applications for FM facilities; and

It further appearing that authority for the adoption of the proposed amendments is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f), and (r), and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, That effective August 20, 1958, the Revised Tentative Allocation Plan for Class B FM Broadcast Stations is abandoned and §§ 1.356 (f) and 1.309 (a) are amended by deleting the present provisions of these two sections and substituting the following:

§ 1.356 Processing of FM and noncommercial educational FM broadcast applications. • • •

(f) If, upon examination, the Commission finds that the public interest, convenience and necessity will be served by the granting of an application for FM broadcast facilities (Class A, Class B or noncommercial educational), the same will be granted. If, on the other hand, the Commission is unable to make such a finding and it appears that a hearing may be required, the procedure set forth in § 1.362 will be followed.

§ 1.309 Repetitious applications. (a) Where the Commission has denied an application for a new station or for any modification of services or facilities, or dismissed such application with prejudice, no like application involving service of the same kind to substantially the same area by substantially the same applicant, or his successor or assignee, or on behalf or for the benefit of the original parties in interest, may be filed within 12 months from the effective date of the Commission's action: Provided, however, That applicants whose applications have been denied in a comparative hearing for a particular television facility allocated in the television allocation table, may immediately reapply for another available television channel.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 303, 307, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082, 1083; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303, 307)

Released: August 5, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

[Docket No. 12404; FCC 58-750]

[Rules Amdt. 2-24, 9-20]

PART 2—FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS AND RADIO TREATY MATTERS; GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

PART 9—AVIATION SERVICES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. On April 16, 1958, the Commission adopted a notice of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter which was released on April 18, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 23, 1958 (23 F. R. 2698). An errata correcting certain minor errors and omissions in the notice was released on May 1, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 6, 1958 (23 F. R. 3022).

2. The period for filing comments in this matter expired on July 16, 1958. No comments were timely received with respect to the Commission's proposal to reallocate the band 13,250–13,400 Mc for exclusive use of airborne radionavigation devices employing the doppler technique by both Government and non-Government stations.[1] This band is presently allocated for exclusive Government use and no existing non-Government station will be adversely affected by such a reallocation. The Commission has now decided to implement this portion of its proposed rule making in this matter by appropriate amendment to Part 2 of the rules, as shown in the attached Appendix, in order that the non-Government aeronautical radionavigation service may benefit therefrom as soon as possible.

3. Purely as a consequence of this action, Part 9 is also being amended to reflect in this portion of the rules the availability of these frequencies to stations in the aeronautical radionavigation service for airborne doppler radar use. Since the only purpose and effect of this amendment is to achieve consistency in the rules, the Commission finds that notice and public procedure under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act are unnecessary.

4. The remaining proposals in Docket 12404 will be dealt with at a later date.

5. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, pursuant to the authority of section 303 (c), (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, that effective September 2, 1958, Part 2 of the Commission's rules, Frequency Allocations and Radio Treaty Matters; General Rules and Regulations, and Part 9—Aviation Services, are amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: July 30, 1958.

Released: July 31, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

1. In the table of frequency allocations in § 2.104 (a) (5), change the entries in the band 13250–16000 Mc in columns 5 through 11 to read as follows:

Band Mc 5	Allocation 6	Band Mc 7	Service 8	Class of station 9	Frequency 10	Nature OF SERVICES of stations 11
13250–13400	G,NG	13250–13400	Aeronautical radionavigation.	Radionavigation mobile.	----------	Airborne doppler radar.
13400–16000	G

2. Amend Part 9—Aviation Services as indicated below:

Add a new paragraph (q) to § 9.312 to read as follows:

(q) 13250–13400 Mc: This band is available for airborne doppler radar use.

[F. R. Doc. 58-6383; Filed, Aug. 8, 1958; 8:47 a. m.]

[1] Subsequent to the final filing date, comments supporting the action here taken were received from Raytheon Manufacturing Co. and Ryan Aeronautical Co. Reply comments filed on July 28, 1958, by Aeronautical Radio also give qualified support to the action.

PART 2—FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS AND RADIO TREATY MATTERS; GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. On April 3, 1957, the Commission adopted a notice of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter which was released on April 9, 1957, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 16, 1957 (22 F. R. 2583). A correction to the Notice adding footnote designators to certain specified frequency bands was released on April 11, 1957, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 26, 1957 (22 F. R. 2956). The first memorandum report and order in this docket, which applied only to the Land Transportation and Maritime Mobile Services in the 152–162 Mc band, was adopted by the Commission on April 9, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 15, 1958 (23 F. R. 2424). A corrected copy of the order was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 19, 1958 (23 F. R. 2601). The second memorandum report and order in this docket, which implemented "split channel" proposals for the Public Safety Radio Service in the 150.8–162 Mc and 450–460 Mc bands and for the remaining services in the 150.8–162 Mc band, was adopted by the Commission on May 8, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 17, 1958 (23 F. R. 3351). The third memorandum report and order in this docket, which reallocated certain portions of the 460–470 Mc Citizens Radio band to the Industrial Radio Services and implemented Commission proposals relating to the unavailability of 161.85 Mc to the Maritime Mobile Service in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, a slight shifting of the 160 Mc band available for assignment to remote pickup stations in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands on a shared basis with the Railroad Radio Service, and the availability of certain taxicab "splits" to the Industrial Radio Services outside standard metropolitan areas of 50,000 or more population, was adopted by the Commission on June 18, 1958 and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 28, 1958 (23 F. R. 4782).

2. The sole purpose of this order is to implement the Commission's outstanding proposal to reallocate the 11-meter amateur band, 26.96–27.23 Mc, to the Citizens Radio Service. The remaining outstanding proposals in this docket, which involve reallocation of the bands 161.625–161.825 Mc, 455–456 Mc, 460–461 Mc, 462.525–463.225 Mc, and 465.275–466.475 Mc, will be disposed of at a later date when appropriate.

3. The time for filing comments and reply comments relative to the proposals in this matter expired on June 10 and 20, respectively, 1957. The Commission received many comments from radio amateurs, amateur clubs including the American Radio Relay League (ARRL), and model control enthusiasts with respect to the proposal to reallocate the 11-meter amateur band to the Citizens Radio Service. Most of the comments from modelers and combination amateur/modelers enthusiastically endorsed the proposal. However, most of the comments from the amateurs and amateur clubs strongly opposed such a reallocation. Inasmuch as the substance of all comments in this matter is thoroughly discussed in an appropriate companion Report and Order (Second Report and Order in Docket 11994) of the same date, duplicate or further discussion of the issues involved herein appears unnecessary. It was particularly noted that most of the reasons presented for the opposition to the reallocation of the 11-meter band were based upon potential use of this band in the future instead of on actual need or existing use of the band. Monitoring reports indicate that this band is not heavily used by the amateur service, due obviously to the interference hazard presented by the operation of ISM equipment on 27.12 Mc and also due to the proximity of the more desirable 10-meter exclusive amateur band. On the other hand, the Citizens Radio Service, with its low power and inherent short range requirements, would appear to be able to use this band effectively. Some of the comments received by the Commission suggested sharing of the 11-meter band by Citizens Radio and the Amateur services. The Commission has taken into account the fact that insofar as possible, all amateur bands have traditionally been allocated exclusively to the Amateur Service and considers that this allocation principle should be continued.

4. In view of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the public interest, convenience and necessity will be served by the amendments herein ordered and pursuant to authority contained in sections 4 (i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

5. It is ordered, That effective September 11, 1958, Part 2 of the Commission's rules, Frequency Allocations and Radio Treaty Matters; General Rules and Regulations, is hereby amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 4, 1958.

NOTE: Rules changes herein will appear in Amendment 2–25.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

1. In the table of frequency allocations in § 2.104 (a) (5), change the entries in the band 26.96–27.23 Mc in columns 8 and 9 to read as follows:

Band Mc	Service	Class of station	Frequency	Nature of services (of stations)
7	8	9	10	11
26.96–27.23 (NG2).	Citizens. (US1)	a. Fixed. b. Land. c. Mobile.	27.12	Industrial, scientific, and medical equipment.

PART 2—FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS AND RADIO TREATY MATTERS; GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. On April 16, 1958, the Commission adopted a notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter which was released on April 18, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 23, 1958 (23 F. R. 2698). An errata to the notice was issued on May 1, 1958, and appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 6, 1958 (23 F. R. 3022).

2. The purpose of this second report and order is to provide for the Part 2 allocation of the frequency 121.6 Mc for the primary use of a new class of station to be known as aeronautical search and rescue mobile station.

3. The period for filing comments in this matter expired on July 16, 1958. No comment was received with respect to the particular proposal implemented by this second report and order. However, a parallel proposal in Docket 12400, which, among other things, would amend Part 9 of the Commission's rules to provide for the assignment of 121.6 Mc to aeronautical search and rescue mobile stations and which is being implemented by concurrent report and order, drew favorable comments from Aeronautical Radio, Inc. and the Civil Air Patrol.

4. The remaining proposals contained in Docket 12404 will be disposed of at a later date when appropriate.

5. In view of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the public interest would be served by adoption of the amendments herein ordered and, pursuant to authority contained in sections 4 (i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

6. It is ordered, That effective September 8, 1958, Part 2 of the Commission's rules, Frequency Allocations and Radio Treaty Matters; General Rules and Regulations, is hereby amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

1. In the table of frequency allocations, § 2.104 (a) (5), add entries in the band 118–132 Mc in columns 10 and 11 to read as follows:

Band Mc	Service	Class of station	Frequency	Nature of services (of stations)
7	8	9	10	11
118–132 (US6).	Aeronautical mobile.	a. Aeronautical. b. Aircraft.
			121.6	Aeronautical search and rescue mobile.
			121.7	Aeronautical utility land; Aeronautical utility mobile.
			121.8	Do.
			121.9	Do.

2. Insert the following new definition in § 2.1 between the definitions of Aeronautical radionavigation service and Aeronautical station:

Aeronautical search and rescue mobile station. A mobile station used for communication with aircraft engaged in search and rescue operations.

3. Add new footnote US95 to § 2.104 (a) (5) and insert the (US95) designator in column 5 under the band 108–132 Mc and opposite 121.6 Mc in the table of frequency allocations:

US95 The frequency 121.6 Mc is for search and rescue communications. Aeronautical utility land and mobile stations may use this frequency on the condition that no harmful interference is caused to search and rescue communications during any period of search and rescue operations in the locale involved.

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

1. The Commission has before it for reconsideration its report and order, released in this proceeding on March 25, 1958 (FCC 58–264), amending the Table of Television Assignments in § 3.606 of the Commission's rules to assign Channel 3 to Harrisburg, Illinois, and Channel *8– to Carbondale, Illinois, for noncommercial educational use and to change the offset carrier requirement for Channel 3 at Memphis, Tennessee, from 3 even to 3 minus and the offset carrier requirement for Channel 8 in Indianapolis, Indiana, from 8 minus to 8 plus; in Charleston, West Virginia, from 8 plus to 8 minus; in Grand Rapids, Michigan, from 8 plus to 8 even; and in Cleveland, Ohio, from 8 even to 8 plus. In the same report and order, the Commission also modified the outstanding license of Turner-Farrar Association for Station WSIL–TV on Channel 22 at Harrisburg, Illinois, to provide for temporary operation on Channel 3 at Harrisburg, subject to certain conditions. On April 15, 1958, Turner-Farrar Association notified the Commission that it accepted the modification of its outstanding authorization for Station WSIL–TV to specify temporary operation on Channel 3 at Harrisburg in accordance with the terms and conditions specified in the above-mentioned report and order. At the same time, Turner-Farrar submitted technical information necessary for the preparation of a modified authorization to cover the temporary operation of Station WSIL–TV on Channel 3 and requested authority to continue operation on Channel 22 pending the construction and installation of equipment necessary for temporary operation on Channel 3. On April 23, 1958, the Commission granted special temporary authority, effective April 28, 1958, for Station WSIL–TV to continue operating on Channel 22, subject to the provisions of the Commission's March 25, 1958 report and order herein, for a period ending July 28, 1958. On July 3, 1958, the period authorized for temporary operation was extended to October 28, 1958.

2. On April 24, 1958, WREC Broadcasting Service, licensee of Station WREC–TV on Channel 3 at Memphis, Tennessee, filed a petition for reconsideration or rehearing of the Commission's decision. WREC requests therein that instead of the action taken in our decision that we (a) allocate Channel 8 instead of Channel 3 to Harrisburg; (b) allocate Channel *3 instead of *8 to Carbondale for noncommercial educational use; (c) modify the license of Station WSIL–TV at Harrisburg to provide for temporary operation on Channel 8 instead of Channel 3 with limitations on location of its antenna site; and (b) defer changing the offset carrier requirement for Channel 3 at Memphis from 3 even to 3 minus until an educational station has been constructed and made ready for operation on Channel *3 at Carbondale. If this action is not taken, WREC requests that the Commission either not assign Channel 3 to Carbondale or Harrisburg or, in the alternative, schedule an evidentiary hearing upon the proposal and afford WREC a full opportunity to participate and to oppose it and to show cause why its outstanding license for Station WREC–TV at Memphis should not be modified to specify operation on Channel 3 minus instead of Channel 3 even. On April 28, 1958, WREC also filed a petition requesting that the Commission stay the effective date of its action in the above-mentioned Report and Order for a period of not less than 30 days following the date the Commission acts on its petition for reconsideration or rehearing.[1]

[1] In its petition for a stay order, WREC incorporates by reference its subject petition for reconsideration and claims that a grant of its request for a stay order is warranted on the basis of the showing therein that the Commission has failed to comply with and satisfy statutory requirements and that Station WREC–TV would suffer immediate and irreparable injury by the allocation or use of Channel 3 at either Carbondale or Harrisburg. WREC has made no showing of injury to itself or the public which would result prior to our final action on its petition for reconsideration, and in view of the conclusions which we have reached herein with respect to the matters raised in its petition for reconsideration, we find no persuasive reason for granting its request for a stay order.

On May 5, 1958, Turner-Farrar Association, licensee of Station WSIL–TV on Channel 22 at Harrisburg, filed an opposition to WREC's petitions for reconsideration or rehearing and for stay. On May 26, 1958, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and Indiana Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station WISH–TV on Channel 8 at Indianapolis, Indiana, also filed oppositions to WREC's petition for reconsideration.

3. On April 24, 1958, Storer Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WJW–TV on Channel 8 at Cleveland, Ohio, and Indiana Broadcasting Corporation, also filed petitions for reconsideration of the Commission's March 25, 1958, report and order insofar as it assigned Channel *8 minus to Carbondale and changed the offset carrier designation for Channel 8 at Indianapolis, Charleston, Grand Rapids and Cleveland. Both parties request that the Commission's decision be revised by the adoption of their alternative offset carrier proposals for accommodating the assignment of Channel *8 at Carbondale. By the method they both propose, Channel *8 even would be assigned to Carbondale and only the Channel 8 assignment at Jonesboro, Arkansas, would be changed from Channel 8 even to Channel 8 minus. On May 2, 1958, WCHS–TV, Inc., licensee of Station WCHS–TV on Channel 8 at Charleston, West Virginia, filed a statement in support of the Storer and Indiana Broadcasting petitions for partial reconsideration in which it requests that the Commission reconsider its decision and revise the offset carrier schedule so as to permit the assignment of Channel *8 at Carbondale in the manner proposed by Storer and Indiana Broadcasting.

4. By our action in the Report and Order in question, Channel 3 was assigned for commercial use at Harrisburg in order to insure the continuation of local service in that community and the establishment of a station in this southern Illinois area capable of providing satisfactory service to surrounding communities, such as Carbondale, Mount Vernon and Cartter, and of competing on an equal basis with the VHF stations in other cities providing service in the area. Channel *8 was assigned to Carbondale for educational use to make feasible the establishment of an educational station for which a need and demand was evidenced in the comments. In the rule making proceeding, WREC opposed the Commission's tentative proposal to assign Channel 3 to Carbondale for commercial use on the ground that it would materially increase interference to Station WREC–TV at Memphis, as well as to other co-channel stations at Louisville, Kentucky, Shreveport, Louisiana, and Champaign, Illinois, and that a Carbondale station would also receive interference from co-channel stations, and it requested that an evidentiary hearing be held to consider the equities of the areas and stations involved before finalizing the assignment. In our decision, we noted that this same objection of alleged mutual interference between Carbondale and other co-channel stations would apply to the assignment of Channel 3 at Harrisburg since the transmitter location for a Channel 3 station in either community would be limited to the same area. We did not imply by this statement, as WREC assumes in its instant petition for reconsideration, that the alleged mutual interference which it predicted in its comments as resulting from the use of Channel 3 at Carbondale from an assumed site would necessarily be the same for a Harrisburg Channel 3 operation. Our statement was intended to connote only that in the general area where Channel 3 could be employed, an argument could be made that there would be additional mutual interference to co-channel stations, albeit differing in amount and effect depending upon location of sites, facilities used, etc. We held in our decision that this argument provides no justifiable basis for rejecting the assignment of Channel 3 to Harrisburg since it fully complies with all allocation requirements, and § 3.612 of the rules expressly states that the nature and extent of the protection from interference accorded to television stations is limited solely to that resulting from the minimum station separation requirements and the rules relating to maximum powers and antenna heights. We also rejected WREC's request for an evidentiary hearing upon finding that such a hearing would serve no useful purpose.

5. In its instant petition, WREC submits engineering data to show that the assignment of Channel 3 to Harrisburg, and the change adopted in the offset requirement for its co-channel Station WREC–TV at Memphis, would also result in added interference and loss of coverage to its Memphis station and other co-channel stations at Louisville, Champaign and Shreveport. WREC states that it recognizes that the Commission's rules do not contemplate the use of interference studies or coverage comparisons in allocating a channel to a community where the minimum mileage separations are observed, and it restates the position it took in its comments that the time has come when matters of mutual interference should be determined in considering proposals for the allocation or addition of new television facilities. It submits that the engineering data which it submitted to show the overall interference conditions is as realistic a depiction as can be made; that there is authority for its contention that predictions of coverage of stations based upon the Commission's propagation curves should not be rejected as a basis for a showing of interference, and that the engineering data which it has submitted raises a substantial question whether licensee modification would result from the interference which would be imposed upon its Memphis station and other co-channel stations by the allocation of Channel 3 at Carbondale or Harrisburg. It urges that, at the very least, in view of the Court's holding in L. B. Wilson v. Federal Communications Commission, 83 App. D. C. 176, 170 F. (2d) 793, it is entitled to establish the existence of the interference at a public hearing before a decision is reached on the allocation of Channel 3.

6. WREC states, however, that it has made an extensive study in an effort to reconcile its desire to protect its established service area from increased interference and the Commission's desire to provide additional television service in southern Illinois, and it has concluded that, while WREC–TV would be injured by the use of Channel 3 at either Carbondale or Harrisburg because of the increased mutual interference on the channel and the interference resulting from the change in its carrier offset, this injury can be mitigated by allocating Channel *8 instead of Channel 3 to Harrisburg for commercial use and Channel *3 instead of Channel *8 to Carbondale for educational use. WREC argues that a Channel 8 operation at Harrisburg, with a properly selected antenna site, would have no greater impact upon UHF at Evansville than would a Channel 3 station; that since one of the requests of the Harrisburg UHF permittee, Turner-Farrar Association, was for the assignment of Channel 8 at Harrisburg, it may be assumed that a Channel 8 authorization for Station WSIL–TV would be acceptable to it; and that WREC has advised Turner-Farrar Association that it would be willing to defray a portion of the additional costs involved in the acquisition of a site for a Channel 8 Harrisburg operation which would be no closer to Evansville than would a Channel 3 operation at Harrisburg. WREC also maintains that in advancing this proposal it has assigned weight to practical considerations, such as the assumption that an educational station at Carbondale on Channel *3 would not be ready for operation for some time; that the impact of mutual interference attributable to the change in offset of its Memphis station could be postponed by permitting Station WREC–TV at Memphis to continue operating with its present offset until a Carbondale educational station has been constructed and made ready for operation; and that a Channel 3 educational station at Carbondale would not utilize technical facilities capable of radiating as strong a signal nor operate as many hours as would a commercial station.

7. No reasons have been advanced by WREC which persuade us that Channel 3 should not be assigned to Harrisburg. We have found this assignment to be in the public interest and to conform to all applicable rules, and WREC concedes that the assignment meets all allocation requirements of the rules and that the interference which it claims would result from the assignment is not protected against under the rules. In adopting the present television allocation plan, we made a basic determination that the most efficient utilization of the channels and the best service to the public can be achieved by authorizing stations whose service areas are protected from interference solely by the minimum separation and maximum height and power requirements. We have adhered to this policy in considering proposed amendments to the Table of Assignments, and even assuming that the interference depicted by WREC–TV would result from the new assignment, we do not believe that it would be in the public interest to depart from our basic allocation policy in the present case and deprive the Harrisburg area of a needed television assignment meeting all allocation requirements on the basis of a claim of interference to existing co-channel stations which is precluded by the express provisions and purposes of the Commission's rules. Further, since the record discloses no facts which show that Station WREC–TV or any other co-channel station would be deprived of any protection from interference or any other rights to which it is entitled under the rules and their outstanding authorizations as a result of the allocation of Channel 3 to Harrisburg, we are not persuaded that, as a matter of law, any question is raised concerning the modification of the outstanding authorizations of existing co-channel stations by the assignment of Channel 3 to Harrisburg. WREC has cited no case, in our opinion, from which it may be inferred that a station has a right to protection from interference under its license greater than that prescribed by the Commission's rules and standards, and no case which holds that a licensee is entitled, as a matter of right, to a hearing, on the question of modification vel non on the sole basis of a claim of interference over and beyond that protected against under the rules. We do not believe that the Wilson case, supra, to which WREC refers, stands for this latter proposition. In any case, the subsequently decided WJR, The Goodwill Station, Inc. v. Federal Communications Commission case * negates any assumption that a licensee has any legal recourse from interference over and beyond that for which protection is afforded by the rules which result from a new allocation or other change in the Table of Assignments. While we, nevertheless, would not hesitate to schedule an evidentiary or other hearing if we thought it desirable or necessary in the reaching of our ultimate decision, we are still of the view that no useful purpose would be served by a further hearing to examine the effects of interference in excess of that from which co-channel stations are protected under our rules. WREC has had full opportunity both in the rule making proceeding and in its subject petition to present its position and facts and data bearing on the question, and we are convinced that the record in this proceeding—which is wholly adequate for us to reach a decision in this matter—supports our conclusion that no basis exists for rejecting an assignment found to be in the public interest and satisfying all allocation requirements because of the possibility of interference for which no protection has been prescribed in the rules.

8. We have also considered WREC's arguments in support of its request that we reverse our action by allocating Channel 8 instead of Channel 3 to Harrisburg for commercial use and Channel *3 instead of Channel *8 to Carbondale for education. We are not, however, convinced that the public interest would be as well served by the allocation of Channel 8 instead of Channel 3 to Harrisburg for commercial use. In the rule making proceeding we preferred Channel 3 over Channel 8 for commercial use in this area not only because its use in the area would require a transmitter site further distant from Evansville and the Evansville UHF market but also because a Channel 3 operation would provide Grade B VHF service to a greater area which already receives two Grade B VHF services and thus would provide greater opportunities for improvement in the competitive situation among stations serving the area and of bringing an additional television service to a greater number of people. We still believe that these considerations dictate the use of Channel 3 rather than Channel 8 for commercial use in this area. In addition, we note that Southern Illinois University in its opposition to WREC's petition for reconsideration urges that Channel 8 can be more effectively used to serve the educational needs of the southernmost 31 counties of Illinois, which it has accepted as its responsibility and objective, than could Channel 3, which it claims would not permit the University to fulfill, with maximum effectiveness, its obligation to provide an educational television service to this area. As a basis for this conclusion, it states that a Channel 8 transmitter site could be located in the approximate center of this area, near Sesser, Illinois, in compliance with the rules and provide service to a major portion of this southern Illinois area whereas a Channel 3 transmitter site, located as near the center of this area as possible under the rules, would provide service to a substantially smaller portion of this area. Moreover, the practical considerations which WREC states constitute the basis for its preferring the assignment of Channel 3 to Carbondale for education rather than to Harrisburg for commercial use are based on assumptions which may not obtain if Channel 3 were reserved for education at Carbondale. Southern Illinois University states that it plans to apply for a construction permit for an educational station as soon as the educational reservation at Carbondale is finalized; that it expects to have an educational station on the air within one year from the grant of a construction permit; and that it proposes to operate an educational television station with the maximum power permitted under the rules and with a full programming schedule.

9. WREC also argues that since the Commission's action allocating Channel 3 to Harrisburg and authorizing Station WSIL–TV at Harrisburg to operate temporarily on Channel 3 does not conform to the proposal of the Commission in the notice of proposed rule making, the Commission's action was in violation of the notice and procedure requirements of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act and deprived WREC of the notice to which it is entitled prior to Commission action and of an opportunity to demonstrate that the action taken was not in the public interest. Storer and Indiana Broadcasting argue similarly with respect to the offset carrier changes adopted for Channel 8 at Indianapolis, Charleston, Grand Rapids, and Cleveland.

10. We believe that these petitioners take an untenable position in their allegations of inadequacy of notice and lack of opportunity to be heard in this proceeding. Our May 3, 1957, notice of proposed rule making herein, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 8, 1957 (22 F. R. 3230), fully conformed with the notice requirements of the pertinent section of the Administrative Procedure Act which requires no more than "a description of the subjects and issues involved." All parties were advised in the published notice that two proposals for rule making, one seeking the assignment of either Channel 3 or Channel 8 to Harrisburg, and the other, the assignment of Channel 3 to Carbondale, had been received, and that the Commission proposed, since Channel 3 could not be assigned to both communities, that Channel 8 be assigned to Harrisburg and Channel 3 to Carbondale. We noted in the Notice that the allocation of Channel 3 to Carbondale would require a change in the offset carrier of Channel 3 at Memphis (upon which WREC operates Station WREC–TV) and that since the allocation of Channel 8 to Harrisburg might create a nonoffset carrier operation problem, parties filing comments should direct their attention to this matter. We also stated in response to Turner-Farrar's request at the outset of the rule-making proceeding for the institution of show cause proceedings looking toward the modification of its permit for Station WSIL–TV to specify operation on "the newly assigned VHF channel" instead of Channel 22 at Harrisburg that since the assignment of a VHF channel to Harrisburg would not disturb Channel 22, the station's authorization need not be disturbed. It was implicit in the notice that comments were invited not only on the Commission's tentative proposal but also on alternative proposals for the improvement in the television situation in the Carbondale-Harrisburg area by the employment of Channels 3 and 8, and we believe the notice issued was fully adequate to put all parties on notice that the Commission would consider, in addition to its tentative proposal, all other proposals submitted for allocation of Channels 3 and 8 in this area, as well as the offset carrier changes which would be required for the adoption of any proposal for the employment of Channels 3 and 8 in this area. Ample opportunity was afforded all parties to submit comments on the tentative proposal of the Commission and on all alternative proposals submitted. Since Turner-Farrar Association filed comments in response to the notice renewing its requests that Channel 3 be assigned to Harrisburg if its Channel 8 proposal was rejected and that its UHF station be authorized to operate on the VHF channel assigned, and since Southern Illinois University at Carbondale filed comments requesting that a VHF channel be reserved for education at Carbondale to meet the need and demand for educational television, we believe there is even less basis for asserting that consideration of the proposal to allocate Channel 3 to Harrisburg and Channel *8 to Carbondale was foreclosed or that our action was not wholly proper and within the scope of the rule making proceeding. There is no foundation for WREC's contention that the Commission is limited to the action tentatively proposed in a notice of proposed rule making, for it is well established that the Commission may also consider and adopt counterproposals or other proposals falling within the general purview of its published Notice which it finds to be appropriate and in the public interest.

11. WREC further contends that the change adopted in the offset carrier designation for Channel 3 at Memphis modified its license for Station WREC–TV at Memphis without benefit of the applicable statutory procedure required by section 316 of the Communications Act and prejudged the question whether its license for Station WREC–TV should be so modified without first affording WREC the hearing to which it claims it is entitled. Storer and Indiana Broadcasting also argue that the changes adopted in offset requirements for Channel 8 in several cities cannot be finally effectuated without first affording the licensees of stations operating on Channel 8 in these cities with notice and opportunity for an evidentiary hearing pursuant to section 316 of the Act.

12. Upon determining that the public interest would be served by the assignment of Channel 3 to Harrisburg and Channel *8 to Carbondale for education and that both assignments could be made in conformity with mileage separation and all other technical requirements, the Commission also changed the offset carrier requirement for Channel 3 at Memphis and the offset carrier requirement for Channel 8 at Indianapolis, Charleston, Grand Rapids, and Cleveland in order to afford all of the co-channel stations operating on Channels 3 and 8 in these cities the greatest protection and widest coverage possible in light of the new assignments at Carbondale and Harrisburg. While effectuation of the offset carrier changes adopted for Channels 3 and 8 in these cities cannot be effectuated, as Storer and Indiana Broadcasting point out, without modifying the present authorizations of the stations involved, the Commission has never found it necessary to institute show cause proceedings pursuant to section 316 of the Act simply to change the offset carrier frequency upon which a station was operating because of a lack of consent of the licensee thereof in order to facilitate a new co-channel assignment or changes in assignments found to be in the public interest and in conformity with mileage separation and all other technical requirements of the rules. Such new assignments of changes in assignments can be made in full conformity with the rules without changing the offset carrier frequencies upon which existing co-channel stations are operating, but changes in offset frequencies are frequently desirable in order to obtain a more effective utilization of all the assignments involved.

13. In the case of the offset carrier designations adopted for Channel *8 at Carbondale (minus) and the changes in offset carrier designations ordered for Channel 8 stations at Indianapolis, Charleston, Grand Rapids and Cleveland, the licensees of the affected stations at Cleveland and Indianapolis, Storer and Indiana Broadcasting, urge that their alternative offset carrier proposal for accommodating the assignment of Channel 8 to Carbondale is preferable to that employed by the Commission from the standpoints of simplicity, efficiency, and less disruption in existing services. The method suggested by these petitioners, and also favored by WCHS–TV, licensee of the Channel 8 station at Charleston, would require only a change in the Channel 8 allocation at Jonesboro, Arkansas, from Channel 8 even to Channel 8 minus if Channel 8 even is assigned to Carbondale. No station is operating on Channel 8 at Jonesboro nor are any applications on file for the channel. Upon reconsideration, we believe the offset carrier method which these parties propose would be equally effective and a less complicated method of accommodating the assignment of Channel *8 to Carbondale than the method employed by the Commission. We are, therefore, revising our Report and Order to provide for the assignment of Channel *8 even to Carbondale and for a change only in the offset carrier designation of Channel 8 at Jonesboro from 8 even to 8 minus.

14. WREC does not suggest in its instant petition that there is any better alternative method of facilitating the assignment of Channel 3 to Harrisburg than by the assignment of Channel 3 even to Harrisburg and by changing the offset carrier requirement for operation of Station WREC–TV on Channel 3 at Memphis from Channel 3 even to Channel 3 minus, and we are convinced that the offset change ordered for Channel 3 at Memphis is necessary in the public interest to enable the most efficient use of Channel 3 in both Memphis and Harrisburg. We therefore reaffirm our action changing the offset carrier requirement for Channel 3 in Memphis. Accordingly, WREC Broadcasting Service's application for renewal of license of Station WREC–TV (File No. BRCT–243), which expires August 1, 1958, is this day being granted, but the renewed license specifies operation on Channel 3 minus. If WREC does not accept this renewed license, it may request a hearing thereon pursuant to § 1.64 of the Commission's rules.

15. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 1, 4 (i) and (j), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f) and (r) and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

16. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, effective September 5, 1958, the Table of Assignments contained in § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended insofar as the communities named are concerned, as follows:

Change the offset carrier requirements only for Channel 8 in the following cities:

Carbondale, Illinois—from *8 minus to *8 even.
Jonesboro, Arkansa –from 8 even to 8 minus.
Indianapolis, Indiana—from 8 plus to 8 minus.
Grand Rapids, Michigan—from 8 even to 8 plus.
Cleveland, Ohio—from 8 plus to 8 even.
Charleston, W. Va.—from 8 minus to 8 plus.

17. It is further ordered, That the above-described petitions for reconsideration of Storer Broadcasting Company and Indiana Broadcasting Corporation are granted; and that the above-described petitions of WREC Broadcasting Service for a stay order and for reconsideration or rehearing are denied.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 303, 307, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082, 1033; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303, 307)

Adopted: July 30, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

[Rules Amdt. 3-119]

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. The Commission has before it for consideration its Notice of Proposed Rule Making (FCC 58–152), released on February 14, 1958, in response to: (1) A petition filed by Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WBTW on Channel 8 at Florence, South Carolina, proposing the assignment of Channel 8 to Greensboro, North Carolina, by substituting Channel 13 for Channel 8 at Florence and Channel *8 for the Channel *13 educational reservation at Charleston, South Carolina; (2) a petition filed jointly by Winston-Salem Broadcasting Company, Inc., permittee of Station WTOB–TV on Channel 26 at Winston-Salem, North Carolina, and Sir Walter Television Company, permittee of Station WNAO–TV on Channel 28 at Raleigh, North Carolina, proposing the assignment of Channel 8 to Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro as a hyphenated area or, alternatively, to Winston-Salem alone by making the same channel changes proposed by Jefferson Standard for Florence and Charleston; (3) a petition filed by Paul E. Johnson of Granite City Broadcasting Company, Mount Airy, North Carolina, proposing the assignment of Channel 8 to Winston-Salem by making the same channel changes proposed by Jefferson Standard for Florence and Charleston; and (4) a petition filed by Atlantic Broadcasting Company, Inc., licensee of standard Radio Station WJMX at Florence, proposing, in lieu of the above proposals, that Channel 8 be retained at Florence and that Channel 13 be added to Florence by substituting Channel 7 for the Channel *13 educational reservation at Charleston.

2. All of the petitioners except Paul E. Johnson filed comments and reply comments in support of their conflicting proposals. Jefferson Standard suggests in its comments that Channel *7 instead of Channel *8, as it originally proposed, be substituted for Channel *13 at Charleston to permit the shift of Channel 13 to Florence as a substitute for Channel 8 and the reassignment of Channel 8 to Greensboro. High Point Television Company, High Point, North Carolina, submitted a counterproposal to assign Channel 8 to High Point in lieu of Winston-Salem, Greensboro or a tri-city hyphenated allocation by changing the assignments in Florence and Charleston in the way proposed by Jefferson Standard. The Joint Council on Educational Television opposes any change in the Channel *13 educational reservation at Charleston but prefers the substitution of Channel *7 instead of Channel *8 for Channel *13 in the event the educational reservation at Charleston is changed. American Broadcasting Company supports the proposal to allocate Channel 8 to the hyphenated communities of Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem by substituting Channel 8 for Channel 13 at Florence and Channel *7 for Channel *13 at Charleston and the modification of Station WTOB–TV's authorization to permit temporary operation on Channel 8 at Winston-Salem. Skywave Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WLOS–TV on Channel 13 at Asheville, North Carolina, opposes the assignment of Channel 13 to Florence. A copy of a Concurrent Resolution adopted on April 9, 1958, by both Houses of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina memorializing the Congress to enact legislation directing the Commission not to move or substitute another channel for Channel 8 in Florence was submitted by Congressman John L. McMillan of the 6th District of South Carolina. Telegrams opposing the substitution of Channel 13 for Channel 8 at Florence were also received from the Mayor of Florence and several business, civic and educational organizations in Florence.

3. Since the proposals for the assignment of Channel 8 to the Winston-Salem, High Point, and Greensboro area, if adopted, would require Station WBTW at Florence to operate on Channel 13 instead of 8, the licensee, Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company, was directed in the February 14, 1958, Notice to Show Cause why its authorization for Station WBTW should not be so modified. In light of the request of Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television, Winston-Salem Broadcasting was also directed to Show Cause why its authorization for Station WTOB–TV on Channel 26 at Winston-Salem should not be modified to specify temporary operation on Channel 8 at Winston-Salem.

4. In response to the Show Cause Order, Jefferson Standard contends that the issuance of the Orders respecting its Florence Channel 8 station (WBTW) and the Winston-Salem Channel 26 station (WTOB–TV) was premature and invalid since, until the instant rule making proceeding is concluded, the Commission is not in a position to comply with the requirements of section 316 (a) of the Communications Act, that a licensee or permittee be "notified in writing of the proposed action and the grounds and reasons therefor."[1] Jefferson Standard requests that the Show Cause Orders be vacated or, in the alternative, be severed from the rule making proceeding and that action thereon be withheld until a final determination is made in the rule making proceeding. If the latter request is granted, Jefferson Standard states that in the event the Commission assigns Channel 8 to Greensboro, High Point, Winston-Salem or to Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro on a hyphenated basis by making the proposed changes respecting Channels 7 or 8 and 13 at Charleston and Florence, it will consent to the modification of the WBTW license to specify Channel 13 in lieu of Channel 8 at Florence, provided the Commission specifies that this need not be effectuated until a grant is made of an application for Channel 8 in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area or for Channel *8 at Charleston (assuming Channel *8 rather than Channel *7 is substituted for Channel *13 at Charleston). Jefferson Standard further states that if the Commission fails to provide that the modification of the WBTW authorization may be delayed until the grant of an application for a facility requiring such modification, respondent requests a hearing and will appear at the hearing and present evidence on the matters specified by the Commission.

5. Winston-Salem Broadcasting Company states in response to the Show Cause Order that the temporary modification of Station WTOB–TV's construction permit to specify Channel 8 instead of Channel 26 at Winston-Salem should be in accordance with the engineering specifications submitted with its joint petition for rule making herein and should be subject to a condition that, in any comparative hearing involving applications for regular operation on Channel 8, no effect whatsoever will be given to any expenditure of funds in connection with the temporary operation, nor will any other preference redound to Station WTOB–TV, or to its successors, by virtue of the temporary operation. On this basis, Winston-Salem Broadcasting Company states that it consents to the temporary modification of its authorization for Station WTOB–TV to specify Channel 8 in lieu of Channel 26 and waives its right to request a hearing in connection therewith.

6. Adoption of two other proposals, conflicting with the above proposals and with each other, is requested in petitions filed on March 24, 1958, by Paul E. Johnson of Mount Airy, North Carolina, and on March 3, 1958, by United Broadcasting Company at Mount Airy. Mr. Johnson requests that Channel 2 be assigned to Mount Airy by substituting Channel 8 for Channel 2 at Greensboro; Channel 13 for Channel 8 at Florence; Channel *8 for the Channel *13 educational reservation at Charleston and Channel *55 for the Channel *2 educational reservation at Sneedville, Tennessee. United requests that Channel 4 be assigned to Rocky Mount, North Carolina, by substituting Channel *8 for the Channel *4 educational reservation at Chapel Hill, North Carolina; Channel 13 for Channel 8 at Florence, and Channel *8 for Channel *13 at Charleston. Greensboro News Company, licensee of Station WFMY–TV on Channel 2 at Greensboro, filed an opposition on April 22, 1958, to the Johnson request. The Consolidated University of North Carolina, licensee of Station WUNC–TV on Channel 4 at Chapel Hill, advises, by letter dated March 29, 1958, that it is opposed to United's proposal. On May 9, 1958, the Association of Maximum Service Telecasters, Inc., filed letters requesting that both the Johnson and United proposals be dismissed because neither comply with the mileage separation requirements of the rules. Neither Johnson nor United submitted any facts, reasons or data in support of their proposals nor any engineering studies to demonstrate their technical feasibility. United's proposal for Rocky Mount must be summarily rejected, since it would require Station WUNC–TV to shift from Channel *4 to *8 at Chapel Hill. Channel 8 cannot be assigned to Chapel Hill since Station WUNC–TV would be less than 150 miles from co-channel Station WXEX–TV at Petersburg, Virginia, while our rules require a 170 mile separation. Mr. Johnson's instant proposal for Mount Airy is being rejected without further consideration for the same reason.[2] If the Channel 2 station at Greensboro (WFMY–TV) were shifted to Channel 8, as proposed, in order to make the assignment of Channel 2 to Mount Airy possible, WFMY–TV would be less than the required 170 miles from co-channel Station WXEX–TV at Petersburg, Virginia. Furthermore, Channel 55 could not be substituted for Channel *2 at Sneedville in conformity with co-channel and adjacent-channel separation requirements since Sneedville is less than the required 175 miles from both Mount Airy and Chattanooga, Tennessee, to both of which Channel 55 is assigned, and it is less than half the required 55 miles from Morristown, Tennessee, to which Channel 54 is assigned.

7. The proponents of the various proposals for the assignment of a third VHF channel in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area state that they will apply for Channel 8 if it is assigned to this North Carolina area. They urge that the requirements of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act would be better met by adding a third channel in this North Carolina area so as to provide a second local VHF station in either Winston-Salem or Greensboro or a first local VHF station at High Point than by adopting the mutually exclusive proposal of Atlantic Broadcasting to add a second VHF channel at Florence. Jefferson Standard maintains that, on a statewide basis, the greater need of North Carolina for an additional VHF channel over South Carolina is evidenced by the fact that, based on the 1950 Census, the ratio of VHF television assignments to total population in North Carolina is one VHF commercial channel for every 338,494 people, as compared to one for every 302,432 people in South Carolina, and that the assignment of an additional VHF channel to North Carolina would raise the ratio to but one for every 312,456 people; and that a comparison of the populations of the cities and markets involved—Florence had a population in 1950 of 22,513; Greensboro, 74,389; Winston-Salem, 87,811 and High Point, 39,973; the population of Florence County in 1950 was 79,710; the Greensboro–High Point Standard Metropolitan Area, 191,057, and the Winston-Salem Standard Metropolitan Area, 146,135[3]—and present VHF allocations in the Florence and the tri-city area (Florence, Winston-Salem and Greensboro each have one VHF assignment upon which stations are operating; High Point has no VHF assignment and no local station) further demonstrates the greater need of the tri-city area for an additional VHF channel.

8. Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television cite statistics from Sales Management (1957), "Survey of Buying Power" which show that Florence had a 1957 estimated population of 25,300, effective buying income of $33,564,000; retail sales of $47,131,000 and 422 retail outlets; while Winston-Salem-Greensboro-High Point had an estimated 1957 population of 246,600, effective buying income of $442,005,000; retail sales of $478,996,000 and 3,794 retail outlets. These parties also state that the Editor & Publisher (1958) "Market Guide" shows that Florence has 116,709 people

[1] We find no merit in this argument. The reasons for issuance of the orders are implicit in the notice of rule making; i. e., that proposals under consideration would require the modification of the WBTW and WTOB–TV authorizations.

[2] By memorandum opinion and orders, released July 27, 1956, and October 3, 1956 (FCC 56–751 and FCC 56–924); and by letters dated January 2 and 15, 1958, the Commission denied and dismissed four previous petitions filed by Mr. Johnson proposing the assignment of Channel 8 to Mount Airy by making changes in the channel assignments in other communities because they involved substandard spacings.

[3] Jefferson Standard also submitted estimates of populations for these cities based on the Sales Management "1958 Survey of Buying Power" which is to be published in May, 1958. While subject to revision, these estimates, as of January 1, 1958, show as follows: Florence, 27,500 population; Greensboro, 119,700 population; Winston-Salem, 114,600 population; High Point, 45,200; Florence County, 87,500; Greensboro-High Point Standard Metropolitan Area, 224,700 and Winston-Salem Standard Metropolitan Area, 179,400.

within its Retail Trading Zone (ABC) as compared to 317,125 at Winston-Salem; 531,703 at Greensboro and 64,926 at High Point. Jefferson Standard claims that, assuming facilities with 316 kw power and antenna height of 1,000 feet, a Channel 8 station in the Greensboro area would have 591,334 people within its city grade contour, 769,805 people within its Grade A contour and 1,428,816 people within its Grade B contour as compared to a Florence Channel 13 station having 346,031 people within its city grade contour, 489,637 people within its Grade A contour, and 812,458 people within its Grade B contour; and that a Channel 13 station at Florence would have but two cities with populations over 20,000 within its Grade B contour (Florence, 22,513; Sumter, S. C., 20,185); whereas a Greensboro Channel 8 station would have nine cities with populations over 20,000 within its Grade B contour (Burlington, N. C., 24,560; Kannapolis, N. C., 28,448; Durham, N. C., 71,311; Winston-Salem, N. C., 87,811; Greensboro, 74,389; High Point, 39,973; Danville, Va., 35,066; Salisbury, N. C., 20,102 and Raleigh, N. C., 65,679).

9. The tri-city proponents also contend that in view of the limited market potential at Florence and the experience of Station WBTW in that city, there is some question whether a second station would be established in the Florence area within the foreseeable future whereas the profitable television operations in the tri-city area and the interest displayed by the proponents of the various proposals for the assignment of a third VHF channel in the tri-city area give assurance that an additional channel would be promptly utilized there. The tri-city petitioners further urge that the Winston-Salem, High Point and Greensboro proposals should be preferred over Atlantic's proposals for Florence since the former would provide a major market with three competitive television stations and network services. ABC points out that as the third network striving to reach equality with the other two national networks, it has been adversely affected by the shortage of television outlets in the major markets of the country, such as Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem; and that with only two VHF stations in operation in that market ABC has been unable to obtain a primary affiliation or to clear satisfactorily its commercial network programs in the market. ABC urges that the need of this area for a third television station is clear and pressing; that a third station would improve opportunities for more effective competition among a greater number of stations in this important television market area; that providing equality of access to each of the national networks would substantially contribute toward improvement of the nationwide competitive television situation; and that a comparative evaluation of section 307 (b) considerations and related criteria—community size, competitive network needs, population served, applicant demand and market support—requires preferring the proposals for a third VHF channel in the tri-city market over the proposal to provide Florence with a second VHF channel.

10. Atlantic Broadcasting Company, Inc., the proponent of the proposal to retain Channel 8 at Florence and to add Channel 13 at Florence by substituting Channel *7 for Channel *13 as the educational reservation at Charleston, states that it will apply for Channel 13 if its proposal is adopted. It urges that the public interest and section 307 (b) of the Communications Act require the adoption of its proposal to afford Florence a second VHF outlet over any of the conflicting proposals for the assignment of a third VHF channel in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area; that its proposal would provide Florence, the sixth largest city in South Carolina and an important retail, cultural and commercial center for the entire northeastern area of the State, with a needed second local outlet; and that it would bring an additional television service to some 803,000 persons, of whom 61,163 would receive a second service and 437,897 would receive a third service. Atlantic claims that, in contrast, an additional VHF station in the Greensboro-Winston-Salem-High Point area would provide service to virtually no areas and populations which are not already receiving service from at least three television stations and that a substantial portion of the area which would be served lies within the Grade B contour of five or more television stations. It asserts that adoption of its proposal will improve the competitive situation in Florence, and it maintains that, while the encouragement of competition by providing for several stations in the larger markets may be important, this consideration is not paramount to the needs of populations and areas for additional service. Atlantic also urges that adoption of its proposal would not require the modification of any existing television authorization, as would the conflicting proposals for the assignment of Channel 8 to the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area; and that since it is probable that there would be time-consuming hearings and other procedures before a final authorization could be issued for a station to operate on Channel 8 in the Winston-Salem area, finalization of its proposal for Florence would be more conducive to the orderly and prompt dispatch of Commission business.

12. Jefferson Standard urges that Greensboro should be preferred to Winston-Salem for the assignment of a second VHF channel, since it is a faster growing city and the center of a faster growing and larger standard metropolitan area. It states that the Greensboro-High Point Standard Metropolitan Area has exceeded the Winston-Salem Standard Metropolitan Area in size in every decennial census since 1920 and that the gap between the two has been steadily widening; that by 1950 the Greensboro-High Point Standard Metropolitan Area had a total population of 191,057 as compared to a population of 146,135 for the Winston-Salem Standard Metropolitan Area; that during the decade 1930–1940 Winston-Salem had a city growth of 6 percent compared to Greensboro's growth of 11 percent and during the decade 1940–1950 the growth of Winston-Salem was 10 percent compared to 31 percent for Greensboro; that while the U. S. Census reported Greensboro's population in 1950 to be 74,389 and Winston-Salem's to be 87,811, the Director of Planning of the City of Greensboro, as of July 1, 1957, estimated that city's population to be 119,584, while the Winston-Salem and Forsyth City-County Planning Board, estimated Winston-Salem's population as of July 1, 1957, to be 108,500.[1] As between assigning Channel 8 to High Point or Greensboro, Jefferson Standard urges that the choice should be Greensboro since, because of their relative size (the 1950 population of High Point was 39,973 as compared to 74,389 for Greensboro) and close proximity (less than 15 miles apart) in the same county and standard metropolitan area, both cities are in reality one integrated urban area and any station in this area would, in fact, be a Greensboro station. Jefferson Standard also claims that Winston-Salem does not have a sufficient community of interest with Greensboro and High Point to warrant the hyphenated assignment of Channel 8 to all three cities; that Winston-Salem and Greensboro are the centers of separate and distinct standard metropolitan areas; that they are located about 30 miles apart in different counties, have entirely different city and county governments and dominant newspapers, and are each the center of commercial and social activities of extensive rural areas; and that, under these circumstances, it would be contrary to precedent for the Commission to hyphenate these three cities for allocation purposes.

13. High Point Television Company, which states that it plans to apply for Channel 8 if it is assigned to the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area, urges in support of its counterproposal for the assignment of Channel 8 to High Point that it is consistent with the objective of improving the opportunity for effective competition among a greater number of stations in the tri-city area; that a High Point Channel 8 station would provide city-grade service to Greensboro and Winston-Salem as well as to High Point, and that since Winston-Salem and Greensboro each have a VHF channel and station and High Point has none, section 307 (b) of the Communications Act and the Commission's priorities for allocations require that any new VHF assignment in this area be made to High Point. High Point also urges that the proposal to hyphenate the communities of Winston-Salem, High Point and Greensboro for the assignment of Channel 8 is but an attempt to establish an artificial situation whereby individual community considerations would be diluted and the merits of a High Point applicant would be obscured and should therefore be rejected.

[1] Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television submitted statistics from the 1958 "Editor and Market Guide," which show that local estimates for city zone 1957 populations in Winston-Salem were 140,000 people, Greensboro, 119,000; and High Point, 64,926. Jefferson Standard claims that the population figure for Winston-Salem is obviously an error in view of the Sales Management "1958 Survey of Buying Power" estimate of 114,600 population for Winston-Salem and the 1957 estimate of 108,500 population of the City-County Planning Board of Winston-Salem.

14. In support of their proposal to hyphenate Winston-Salem, High Point and Greensboro for the allocation of Channel 8 and for all other channels now separately allocated to them, Winston-Salem Broadcasting Company and Sir Walter Television urge that the public interest requires that the entire Winston-Salem-Greensboro-High Point metropolitan complex be recognized by the Commission's allocation of Channel 8 and that the allocation be made on as broad a basis as possible so that all in this area can have an opportunity to apply for the channel. They state that the Commission in the past has hyphenated cities socially, economically and geographically closer than Winston-Salem, Greensboro, and High Point but that it has also hyphenated cities farther apart having fewer or no more community connections and that precedents, the facts of the case, and trade usage require hyphenation of these three cities for allocation purposes. They contend that Winston-Salem, High Point and Greensboro are not widely separated geographically, the airline distance from city limit to city limit between Winston-Salem and High Point being only 11.5 miles; between Winston-Salem and Greensboro, 20 miles; and between Greensboro and High Point 8.1 miles; and that the Greensboro and Winston-Salem Chambers of Commerce have requested the Bureau of the Census to consider Forsyth (Winston-Salem) and Guilford (High Point, Greensboro) Counties as one metropolitan area in the published results of the 1960 Census. They urge that hyphenation is logical and consistent with the public interest, since the two VHF stations in Winston-Salem and Greensboro now serve this entire North Carolina area and specifically advertise as Winston-Salem-Greensboro-High Point stations; that the three cities have formed a Three-City Development Committee to promote the economic, cultural, civic and spiritual well-being of all people within their combined trade areas; that station representatives and advertising agencies handle and sell all three cities as one market; that American Research Bureau, Inc., Trend, and other industry survey and reporting organizations conduct their surveys on the basis of a combined community, and that the Commission itself groups (and hyphenates) the three cities for the purpose of its annual Individual TV Market Data Reports. While on a separate city basis, they would recommend that Channel 8 be allocated to Winston-Salem because it is the largest of the three cities and is entitled to a second station before Greensboro and before High Point (less than one-half the size of Winston-Salem) receives its first, they state that while considerations under section 307 (b) of the act may ultimately prove to be a significant factor in the specific assignment of Channel 8, one community cannot be clearly preferred to another on the basis of the record in this proceeding. They urge that the Commission's reasons for hyphenating cities in other allocations cases—trade, industrial or cultural unity between cities and to postpone to an adjudicatory proceeding unresolved questions arising under section 307 (b) of the act—pertain herein with respect to Winston-Salem, High Point and Greensboro and dictate that Channel 8 be assigned to all three on a hyphenated basis.

15. American Broadcasting Company, which supports the proposal to allocate Channel 8 to Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem on a hyphenated basis, points out that CBS classifies this area as a single television market and that a similar classification is in use at ABC and, undoubtedly, is widespread in the industry, ABC urges that in view of the consideration and the procedure used in other proceedings of making a hyphenated allocation when faced with conflicting demands by individual communities, the same procedure should be used in assigning Channel 8 to this North Carolina area.

16. Winston-Salem Broadcasting, Sir Walter Television and ABC also urge that if Channel 8 is assigned to the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area, Station WTOB-TV at Winston-Salem should be permitted to operate temporarily on the channel pending the selection of the most qualified applicant for regular operation on Channel 8. They claim that such action will bring a third competitive television service to this market without delay; that the public should not be deprived of the benefits of Channel 8 service until the conclusion of a competitive proceeding where a satisfactory alternative is available; and that temporary modification of Station WTOB-TV's license in this instance would be consistent with the Commission's recent action in the St. Louis, Missouri (Docket No. 11747), Albany-Schenectady-Troy (Docket No. 11751) and Harrisburg, Illinois (Docket No. 12011) cases and with the suggestions of Congressional committees. Winston-Salem Broadcasting estimates that it could commence operation of Station WTOB-TV on Channel 8 within a week after its present authorization for Station WTOB-TV is modified and Station WBTW at Florence has changed over to an operation on Channel 13; that only basic transmitting equipment (antenna and transmitter) would be needed; that the total cost of the change-over from Channel 26 to Channel 8 would be in the order of $210,000; and that a substantial portion of this investment could be recouped through resale at the expiration of WTOB-TV's interim operation.

17. Jefferson Standard and High Point Television urge that there is no need or special circumstance justifying temporary modification of the permit of Station WTOB-TV; that the Albany-Schenectady-Troy case, where the Commission gave temporary operating authority to two existing, on-the-air UHF stations to operate on VHF assignments primarily to preserve existing services, provides no authority for reactivating Station WTOB-TV, which voluntarily left the air in May of 1957; that the allocation of Channel 8 to this area would not displace any existing service; that any preferential temporary operating authority to Station WTOB-TV pending a comparative hearing on the relative merits of other applicants for Channel 8 would violate the principle of administrative fair play embodied in Ashbacker Radio Corporation v. Federal Communications Commission, 326 U. S. 327, and the Commission's rules for the processing of mutually exclusive television applications; and that no temporary modification could be effectuated without affording Jefferson Standard a hearing pursuant to section 316 of the Communications Act. Jefferson Standard states that before Station WTOB-TV could operate on Channel 8 at Winston-Salem it would have to change its Channel 8 operation at Florence to Channel 13; that the change-over would cost around $75,000 and would result in loss of the benefit of three years' promotion of Channel 8 at Florence at a time when this promotion is beginning to show results; and that, while Jefferson Standard is willing to expend the funds for the change-over to Channel 13 if it need not be effected until an application for regular operation on Channel 8 in the Winston-Salem-Greensboro-High Point area is granted, it does not believe that during the period between such an allocation and a final grant—which could be a substantial period of time—it should be deprived of the fruits of its extensive investment in promoting Channel 8 in the Florence area and the opportunity to depreciate its investment in its Channel 8 equipment.

18. Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television urge that, regardless of the possibility of immediate use of Channel 8 in the Winston-Salem area on an interim basis, the Commission should proceed promptly with the modification of Jefferson Standard's license for Station WBTW, even if a modification proceeding under section 316 of the Communications Act is necessary. They urge that such a hearing need be only a limited one, involving only the question of whether WBTW's license should be modified immediately or at a later date since section 307 (b) considerations give the Commission a ready-made case with which to support a finding that the modification of the WBTW license would serve the public interest. They further urge that the procedure suggested by Jefferson Standard—voluntarily to shift WBTW's operation to Channel 13 when a Channel 8 station is ready to go on the air in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area—would set an undesirable precedent, since licensees in similar situations could delay the advent of a new service by changing their position at a later date and demanding a hearing pursuant to section 316 of the Act.

19. The channel changes proposed by the parties for the assignment of a third VHF channel in the Winston-Salem, High Point, and Greensboro area or the assignment of a second VHF channel to Florence would meet the technical allocation requirements. Either Channel 7 or Channel 8 can be used at Charleston. Several of the parties contend that the use of Channel 7 would have certain advantages, and we concur. A transmitter for a Channel 7 operation could be located in Charleston whereas a site for a Channel 8 operation would have to be located approximately 11 miles northeast of the city to maintain the required 190 mile separation from the site proposed for a Channel 8 station at Waycross, Georgia, in the application of John H. Phipps (BPCT-2423, filed November 5, 1957). For this reason, The Joint Council on Educational Television urges that Channel 7 rather than Channel 8 should be substituted for Channel *13 if the educational reservation is to be changed. The JCET states that an antenna site outside the city would seriously handicap the establishment of an educational station in Charleston, since higher power and antenna height would be required and additional costs for equipment, operations and personnel would be necessary. Jefferson Standard and John H. Phipps, applicants for Channel 8 at Waycross, urge that the substitution of Channel 7 instead of Channel 8 for Channel *13 would provide greater latitude in the selection of transmitter sites and would simplify the problem of offset carrier designations.[6]

20. By deleting Channel 13 from Charleston, that channel can be assigned to Florence and a Channel 13 transmitter can be located in Florence, as well as at the present transmitter site of Station WBTW 5½ miles to the northeast of the city, which is 189.7 miles from the transmitter site of the Channel 13 station (WLOS-TV) at Asheville, North Carolina. Contingent upon the deletion of Channel 8 from Florence, Channel 8 can be allocated to the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area and can be assigned to any one of these cities in conformity with spacing and coverage requirements. The frequency can be used at Greensboro in an area as close as 9 miles from the center of Greensboro to the west or southwest; it can be used at High Point in the city and in areas to the north, northeast, northwest and southeast; and it can be used at Winston-Salem in the city and in an area surrounding the city, as well as at the present site of Station WTOB-TV on Channel 26, approximately a mile northeast of Winston-Salem.

21. Skyway Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WLOS-TV on Channel 13 at Asheville, North Carolina, opposes the assignment of Channel 13 to Florence—which would be required for effectuation of all of the proposals for Florence and the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area—because of the effect of alleged mutual interference to Station WLOS-TV and a Channel 13 operation at Florence. Skyway urges that an inefficient use of facilities would result from using Channel 13 at Florence; that, as a result of co-channel interference, if Station WBTW at Florence operated on Channel 13 instead of Channel 8, the present service areas of both Stations WBTW and WLOS-TV would be reduced; that substantial areas and populations now receiving service from one or both stations would lose service; that a small area around Olanta and Yauhannah, South Carolina, now served by Station WBTW, would lose its only television service. The parties seeking the substitution of Channel 13 for Channel 8 in Florence in order to add Channel 8 in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area contend, in reply, that since the allocation of Channel 13 to Florence meets all allocation requirements, and since the rules (§ 3.612) expressly provide that the nature and extent of the protection from interference accorded to stations is limited solely to that resulting from the minimum station separation requirements and the rules relating to maximum powers and antenna heights, the alleged mutual co-channel interference to Station WLOS-TV at Asheville and the proposed Channel 13 operation at Florence constitutes no justifiable basis for rejecting the proposed allocation.

22. Upon consideration, we are of the view that the objections of Skyway and others to the assignment of Channel 13 to Florence either as a substitute for Channel 8 or as an additional assignment based on the effect of alleged interference should not preclude the shift of the channel to Florence if otherwise found to be in the public interest. Channel 13 in Florence would meet all allocation requirements, and § 3.612 of the rules expressly provides that television stations are not protected from any interference which may be caused by the grant of a new station in accordance with the allocation standards. Further, the Commission has stated on numerous occasions that the computations of areas and populations that might receive or lose service from a particular proposal were made difficult due to the many variables and assumptions which have to be made and the fact that the propagation curves presently available and the known methods of computation do not lend themselves to precise determinations of coverage at a specific location. Upon examining the methods used by Skyway in computing interference resulting from the proposed use of Channel 13 at Florence, we have serious questions as to their accuracy and applicability. While Skyway uses the measured contours of Station WLOS-TV at Asheville, it uses predicted contours of other stations and values of interfering signals of Station WLOS-TV derived from measured median time values extended to greater distances. In deriving this latter data, various assumptions are made, some of which may not be valid or accurate. For example, the adjusted 10 percent values are extended well beyond the measured 50 percent values, with an assumed loss of 1 db for each five miles, but no justification is given for this assumption. Further, in computing the loss of Grade B service to Station WLOS-TV, no account is taken of adjacent channel interference from Station WJBF-TV at Augusta, Georgia, although considerable overlap of the Grade B contours is shown. Likewise, no interference to Station WLOS-TV is shown for a future operation on Channel *13 at Charleston in the event that assignment were to stay in Charleston and be utilized at some time.

23. All of the proposals for adding Channel 8 to the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area would provide this large and important market with a third television outlet. Atlantic's proposal for Florence would provide that city with a second local outlet, but it would preclude assigning Channel 8 to the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area since co-channel mileage separation requirements would not permit the allocation of Channel 8 to this North Carolina area if Channel 8 is retained at Florence. While we believe that both the proposal for Flornece and the proposals for the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area have merit, we are convinced that the latter are more meritorious, even though they would require Station WBTW at Florence to shift from Channel 8 to Channel 13. The use of Channel 8 in this North Carolina area would provide an important and sizeable market with a much needed third television outlet; would provide a first or second local outlet in cities much larger than Florence, which already has one local station; and would provide Grade B or better service to a significantly larger number of persons than would be served by a second VHF station at Florence. The proposals to assign Channel 8 to the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area, in our judgment, would better serve the public interest and the objectives of section 307 (b) of the act by making more effective use of the spectrum and by advancing our interim objective of improving opportunities for more effective competition among a greater number of stations than would the proposal to retain Channel 8 in Florence and add a second VHF channel in that city. While we have considered Atlantic's claim that Florence should be preferred for an additional VHF assignment since it would enable more persons to receive a second or third service than would an additional VHF channel in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area, we believe this consideration is outweighed by those mentioned above.

24. Having concluded that Channel 8 should be assigned to this North Carolina area, we must now decide whether the channel should be assigned to Winston-Salem, High Point, and Greensboro on a hyphenated basis or to one of these cities. We believe that a hyphenated allocation is to be preferred since, from the record, there is little basis to conclude that the purposes of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act and the public interest warrant preferring one of these cities over the other two for employment of the channel in this area. The record evidences a demand for assignment of the frequency in each of these cities, and in view of their proximity to each other, it appears that a Channel 8 station in any one of them would provide city-grade service to the other two. By assigning the channel to all three cities in hyphenation, it is made available upon application for use in each city, and after comparative consideration of specific applications for use of the channel in these communities, we can satisfactorily resolve all questions bearing on the conflicting demands of these cities for the use of the channel. We therefore conclude that the public interest would be served by allocating Channel 8 to Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro. We are not, however, reallocating the present assignments in each of these communities to all three communities on a hyphenated basis, as proposed by Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television, since we believe these assignments to be equitably distributed among these communities.

25. Although we have concluded that the allocation of Channel 8 to Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro would serve the public interest, the allocation cannot be finalized without deleting Channel 8 from Florence. Since Jefferson Standard has an outstanding license for operation of Station WBTW on Channel 8 at Florence, its authorization would have to be changed to specify another frequency. In view of the provisions of section 303 (f) and 316 of the Communications Act, the frequency upon which Station WBTW is operating could not be changed without the consent of this licensee or, absent such consent, a public hearing being first held. Jefferson Standard has notified the Commission in response to the Order to Show Cause issued, pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act, that it will consent to the modification of its license for Station WBTW to specify Channel 13 instead of Channel 8, provided it may continue to operate on Channel 8 pending final action of the Commission on any application or applications for regular operation on Channel 8. Continued operation of Station WBTW on Channel 8 at Florence until such time as an application is granted for regular operation on the channel in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area would not prejudice any applicant for the channel nor the advent of a new station in the area by the successful applicant. We therefore believe that Station WBTW should be permitted to continue to operate on Channel 8 during this interim period, particularly since it will enable the Commission to finalize the channel changes which we have found to be necessary to promote the public interest and our television objectives at this time without the delay and expense which would result from a show cause proceeding. We recognize, of course, that continued operation of Station WBTW on Channel 8 prior to the time an application is granted for regular operation on Channel 8 in the Winston-Salem-High Point-Greensboro area would preclude a temporary operation on Channel 8 at Winston-Salem, as requested by Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television. The allocation of Channel 8 to this North Carolina area requires no change in Winston-Salem Broadcasting's authorization for Station WTOB-TV on Channel 26 at Winston-Salem, and we are not convinced that the public interest would be served by permitting Station WTOB-TV to operate on Channel 8 pending the grant of an application for regular operation on the channel. Station WTOB-TV has been off the air since May 11, 1957, and a temporary operation could not be justified on the basis that it would insure a continuing television service to the public. Nor, in view of the position taken by the licensee of the Channel 8 station in Florence, do we believe that it would necessarily expedite additional service to the public in this area.

26. With respect to the offset carrier designation for Channel 8 at Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem, Jefferson Standard suggests that the offset carrier designation should be Channel 8 plus in light of the assignment of Channel *8 minus to Carbondale and the change in the offset carrier designation of Station WCHS-TV at Charleston, West Virginia, from Channel 8 plus to 8 minus ordered in our Report and Order released March 25, 1958, in the Carbondale-Harrisburg, Illinois, proceeding in Docket No. 12011. Upon reconsideration of our Report and Order in that proceeding, we have revised the offset carrier schedule originally adopted to provide, inter alia, for the assignment of Channel *8 even to Carbondale and the retaining of Channel 8 plus for Station WCHS-TV at Charleston, West Virginia.[6] We therefore believe Channel 8 minus should be assigned to Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem. We believe also that Channel *7 minus, as proposed by Jefferson Standard and Atlantic, should be assigned to Charleston, South Carolina. We believe that Channel 13 plus, as proposed by Jefferson Standard, Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television and Atlantic, should be assigned at Florence without changing the offset designation of Station WMAZ-TV at Macon from Channel 13 plus to Channel 13 even, as also proposed by these parties, since this is not feasible in view of the fact that Channel 13 even was assigned to Panama City, Florida, by our Report and Order released February 28, 1958, in Docket No. 12251.

27. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 1, 4 (i), and (j), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f) and (r), 307 (b) and 316 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

28. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, effective September 5, 1958, the Table of Assignments, contained in § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations, is amended, insofar as the communities named are concerned, as follows:

(a) Amend the entries under the State of South Carolina as follows:

City	Channel No.
Charleston	2+, 4, 5+, *7—, 17+
Florence	13+, 60

(b) Under the State of North Carolina, add as follows:

City	Channel No.
Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem	8—

29. It is further ordered, That, effective September 5, 1958, pursuant to sections 303 (f) and 316 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the license of Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company for operation of Station WBTW on Channel 8 at Florence, South Carolina, is modified to specify operation on Channel 13+ in Florence, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Jefferson-Standard may continue operation temporarily on Channel 8 in accordance with the terms and conditions of the current WBTW authorization until thirty days after final action of the Commission on any application or applications for operation on Channel 8— at Greensboro, High Point, or Winston-Salem, North Carolina;

(b) The submission to the Commission by August 15, 1958, of all information neeessary to comply with applicable technical rules, executed in triplicate, for the preparation of the modified authorization to cover the operation of Station WBTW on Channel 13+ at Florence;

(c) Construction looking to a change to Channel 13+ not to commence until specifically authorized by the Commission after the information requested in (b) above is submitted;

(d) Upon completion of construction of the Channel 13+ facilities in accordance with the terms of the modified authorization, proof of performance measurement data necessary to demonstrate compliance with the applicable technical performance requirements of the Rules of the type normally required to be furnished in an application for a television license shall be submitted, in triplicate, at least ten (10) days prior to the date on which it is desired to begin program operation. Program operation on Channel 13+ shall not be commenced until specifically authorized by the Commission after its evaluation and acceptance of such data;

(e) Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company should advise the Commission in writing by August 15, 1958, whether it accepts the modification of its license for operation of Station WBTW at Florence, South Carolina, subject to the conditions listed herein or desires a hearing pursuant to section 316 (a).

30. It is further ordered, That the above-described petition of Winston-Salem Broadcasting and Sir Walter Television Company is granted insofar as it requests the assignment of Channel 8 to Greensboro-High Point-Winston-Salem and is denied in all other respects; and that the above-described petitions of Atlantic Broadcasting Company, Inc., Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company, Paul E. Johnson, United Broadcasting Company and the counterpro-

[6] By assigning Channel *7 minus to Charleston; Channel 13 plus to Florence and Channel 8 plus to Greensboro, Jefferson Standard states that only the offset carrier designation of Channel 13 at Macon, Georgia (WMAZ-TV) need be changed from 13 plus to 13 even. Its original proposal contemplated the assignment of Channel *8 minus to Charleston, Channel 13 plus to Florence, and Channel 8 plus to Greensboro and changes in the offset carrier designations for Channel 13 at Macon, Georgit, from 13 plus to 13 even and for Channel 8 at Charleston, West Virginia (WCHS-TV) from 8 plus to 8 minus and at Indianapolis, Indiana (WISH-TV), from 8 minus to 8 even.

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS (PITTSBURGH, PA., CLARKSBURG, W. VA. AND YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO)

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on August 1, 1958;

The Commission having under consideration a "Petition for Immediate Reconsideration" filed on July 22, 1958, by WKST, Inc., licensee of Station WKST-TV, New Castle, Pennsylvania, requesting reconsideration of the Report and Order (FCC 58-683) released in this proceeding on July 18, 1958, insofar as the Report and Order modifies the construction permit of Station WXTV, Youngstown, Ohio, to specify operation on Channel 33 instead of Channel 73;

It appearing that Sanford A. Schafitz and Guy W. Gully, d/b as Community Telecasting Company, permittee of Station WXTV, have not filed a response to said petition, and that time for filing a response has not expired;

It further appearing that the report and order (FCC 58-683) specified August 25, 1958, as the effective date for the amendments to § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations (paragraph 16) and the modification of the construction permit for Station WXTV (paragraph 17);

It further appearing that it is desirable that the status quo be maintained until the Commission has the benefit of pleadings by all interested parties;

It is ordered, on the Commission's own motion, That the effective date of the report and order released in this proceeding on July 18, 1958, is stayed until further order of the Commission, but only insofar as said report and order (1) amends § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations to delete Channel 73 from Youngstown, Ohio, and assigns it to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and (2) modifies the construction permit for Station WXTV, Youngstown, Ohio, to specify Channel 33 instead of Channel 73.

Released: August 5, 1958.

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS (MILWAUKEE, BEAVER DAM, CHILTON, WIS., AND LUDINGTON, MICH.)

1. The Commission has under consideration the proposal set forth in its notice of proposed rule making and orders to show cause (FCC 58-567) released on June 13, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 18, 1958 (23 F. R. 4384) to amend the Table of Assignments, contained in § 3.606 of the rules and regulations, as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Present	Proposed
Ludington, Mich.	18+	33
Beaver Dam, Wis.	37	51−
Chilton, Wis.	*24+	*31+
Milwaukee, Wis.	4, *10+, 12, 19−, 25, 31−	4, *10+, 12, 18+, 24+, 30

Further, since Columbia Broadcasting Company operates Station WXIX on Channel 19, Lou Poller holds a construction permit for Station WCAN-TV on Channel 25, and Business Management, Inc., holds a construction permit for Station WFOX-TV on Channel 31, all at Milwaukee, and the proposal herein would shift these assignments to lower channels, these parties were ordered to Show Cause why their outstanding authorizations should not be modified to specify operation on Channels 18, 24 and 30, respectively.

2. In its notice the Commission pointed out that an interference situation had developed in the Milwaukee area due to the operation of both Channels 12 and 19 in that city. This results from radiation of the second harmonic of local oscillators in VHF receivers, which have the commonly used intermediate frequency of 42 Mc, when these receivers are tuned to Channel 12 (WISN-TV), falling within Channel 19, occupied by WXIX in Milwaukee. The second harmonic of these oscillators is radiated on approximately 502 Mc which is within the 500-506 Mc range of Channel 19. Surveys conducted by CBS in Milwaukee indicate that the interference effects extend several hundred feet from the offending receivers even though the total amount of radiated power is not great and that these radiations are capable of producing harmful interference, and that the cases of interference are increasing since additional new receivers with the standard 40 Mc intermediate frequency are being placed in homes. We also pointed out that the potential interference due to such combinations of assignments may be of sufficient importance to warrant taking it into account in making assignments to communities. Pending studies necessary to determine the extent of the problem and what standards should be employed in order to minimize this effect, we determined that such existing situations, as the instant case, could best be handled on a case-to-case basis. Accordingly, the aforementioned changes were proposed in the communities named in order to eliminate the problem at Milwaukee.

3. No comments were filed in opposition to the proposed changes in assignments. CBS, Lou Poller and Business Management, Inc., support the Commission's proposal and state that they do not object to a modification of their authorizations to specify the assignments proposed.

4. The Commission is of the view that the adoption of the proposed changes in assignments and in the outstanding authorizations would serve the public interest since it would remove an existing interference situation which will get worse as more new television receivers are placed in operation in the area. In view of this, and in view of the fact that a station presently in operation is involved, it is believed that good cause exists for making the rule changes effective within less than the thirty (30) day period usually allowed.

5. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 1, 4, (i), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f) and (r), section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act.

6. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That effective August 15, 1958, the Table of Assignments contained in § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations, is amended, insofar as the communities named are concerned, as follows:

Amend the entries under the States of Michigan and Wisconsin as follows:

City	Channel No.
Ludington, Mich.	33
Beaver Dam, Wis.	51−
Chilton, Wis.	*31+
Milwaukee, Wis.	4, *10+, 12, 18+, 24+, 30

7. It is further ordered, That effective August 15, 1958, pursuant to sections 303 (f) and 316 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the outstanding authorization held by Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., for Station WXIX on Channel 19− at Milwaukee is modified to specify operation on Channel 18+, subject to the condition that operation of Station WXIX shall not commence on Channel 18 until specifically authorized after pertinent equipment performance measurements are submitted and approved by the Commission; That the outstanding authorization held by Lou Poller for Station WCAN-TV on Channel 25 at Milwaukee is modified to specify operation on channel 24+; and That the outstanding authorization held by Business Management, Inc., for Station WFOX-TV on Channel 31− at Milwaukee is modified to specify operation on Channel 30.

PART 4—EXPERIMENTAL, AUXILIARY, AND SPECIAL BROADCAST SERVICES

TELEVISION AUXILIARY BROADCAST STATIONS

1. The instant proceeding was instituted by a Notice of Proposed Rule Making adopted by the Commission on September 16, 1954, upon consideration of a petition filed on August 5, 1954, by North Dakota Broadcasting Company, Inc., permittee of television Station KCJB-TV, Minot, North Dakota, and Station KXJB-TV, Valley City, North Dakota. The petition requested the Commission to amend §§ 4.631 (c) and 4.632 (b) of the Commission's rules governing television auxiliary broadcast stations, which provides that until such time as adequate common carrier facilities are available, television broadcast licensees may, as an interim measure, provide their own television intercity relay stations.

2. Sections 4.631 (c) and 4.632 (b) now provide as follows:

(c) Television intercity relay stations provide a means of an interim basis whereby television broadcast licensees may provide their own intercity television transmission services in connection with the operation of their television broadcast stations. The provision for this service is a purely temporary measure designed to assist the television industry until such time as adequate common carrier facilities are available, and broadcasters who venture into the business of relaying television programs by means of television intercity relay stations should plan to amortize their investments at the earliest possible date.

(b) An application for construction permit for a new television intercity relay station or for renewal of license of an existing station shall be accompanied by a verified statement containing the following:

(1) A full statement as to why the applicant requires the requested facilities including reasons why common carrier facilities cannot be utilized; and

(2) A showing that the applicant has, at the earliest time reasonably practicable, requested the appropriate common carrier or common carriers serving the general area involved to furnish the inter-city television transmission service required by the applicant, including in such showing a copy of the request or requests and of the reply or replies received from such common carriers.

3. Under § 4.602 of the rules, the broadcasters may operate inter-city relay stations on the same frequencies assigned for television pickup and studio transmitter links, but the use of such frequencies for inter-city relaying must be on secondary basis and is subject to the condition that no harmful interference be caused to stations operating in the primary services.

4. Petitioner's requested amendment is designed to give the Commission discretion to grant applications for private television inter-city relay stations notwithstanding the fact that common carrier facilities may be available to furnish the inter-city relaying of television programs, wherever it can be shown that the cost of providing relay systems, as compared with the cost of obtaining service from the common carrier, justifies the authorization of a private system.[1]

5. Petitioner, noting that the present rules do not permit the Commission to exercise discretion in acting upon applications for private inter-city television relay stations in those cases where it can be demonstrated that the cost of using common carrier facilities would be prohibitive to the broadcaster, urge that the restrictive nature of the Commission's rules in this respect may deprive large areas of the country from receiving live television network programs, and may indirectly result in large areas having no television service whatsoever, since network programs constitute an important element in the successful operation of any television station; petitioner urges further that there are sufficient frequencies allocated for television auxiliary stations (TV pickup and TV STL stations) which may be used for the proposed inter-city relay system in areas where such systems are essential, without depriving television broadcasters of necessary TV pickup and STL service; and that to require a TV station to utilize common carrier service on common carrier channels is wasteful since such channels could be employed for handling other telephone communication services.

6. In its Notice of Proposed Rule Making, the Commission stated that the petition served to focus attention on a problem that has been under study by the Commission since the lifting of the "freeze" on new television station construction in 1952: That the Commission was satisfied that its rules and policies, insofar as they contemplate utilization of common carriers in providing a nationwide television program network are sound and serve the public interest; and that it believed that the existing common carrier network, including main routes and branch lines emanating therefrom, should continue its orderly growth in order to meet the requirements of the broadcasting industry for network transmission facilities. The Commission pointed out, however, that it has become increasingly evident that a problem is presented by the application of the Commission's rules and policies to television stations located in relatively small communities at some distance from program service points on existing common carrier routes; that because of the distance of these communities from such program service points, the monthly common carrier mileage charges for the television transmission facilities which are required to connect the stations to the established networks may not be commensurate with the economic prospects of these stations for profitable operation; that this situation may deter or hinder the development of a nationwide television service; and that the construction of facilities for interconnection by the common carriers in such instances represents a substantial investment, which in some instances may be unrecoverable upon the financial failure of the stations. Accordingly, the Commission stated that it would be appropriate to review its existing rules and policies regarding the licensing of private inter-city relay stations, and that, to this end, it was inviting comments from interested parties on the matters dealt with in the Notice.

7. Interested parties were afforded until November 8, 1954, to file comments. Reply comments were originally scheduled to be filed within 10 days thereafter, but the date for filing replies was extended to December 15, 1954 at the request of American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T). Pursuant to the Notice comments favoring the proposed amendment or its objective were filed by 42 parties, including permittees of television stations, manufacturers of television equipment, educational broadcast groups and the UHF Industry Coordinating Committee. Statements opposing the proposed revision of the rules were filed by AT&T and United States Independent Television Association. Replies to the original comments were filed by the petitioner herein, AT&T, the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, the UHF Industry Coordinating Committee, and Central Broadcasting Company. A complete list of the parties filing comments in the proceeding is contained in the attached appendix.

8. On April 1, 1955, the Commission issued a Further Notice of Proposed Rule Making inviting further comment on a proposal made by AT&T in its reply, and

[1] Another conflicting proposal to assign Channel 8 to Fayetteville, North Carolina, was submitted in a petition for rule making filed on July 22, 1958, by Fayetteville Broadcasters, Inc., licensee of Station WFLB-TV at Fayetteville. This petition has been considered and denied in a memorandum opinion and order adopted today.

[1] Specifically, petitioner proposed that § 4.632 (b) be deleted and § 4.631 (c) be amended as follows:

"Television inter-city relay stations provide a means of an interim basis whereby television broadcast licensees may provide their own inter-city television transmission services in connection with the operation of their television broadcast stations. Provided, however, that the Commission may grant authority to television broadcast licensees to operate inter-city television transmission facilities where, in the opinion of the Commission, the cost of common carrier facilities compared to the cost of constructing and operating private inter-city relay facilities justifies such action.

"This proviso is designed to permit the Commission, in its discretion to authorize private inter-city relay transmission facilities, to stimulate the development of live television network service in the less densely populated areas of the country."

amplified in a letter to the Commission of February 24, 1955, AT&T stated that it was prepared to offer television stations a lower-cost means of obtaining network programs through an arrangement whereby programs of a network station would be picked up off-the-air and relayed over a common carrier channel to a remote station using lower grade facilities than those employed in the regular nationwide network. The Commission stated in its Further Notice that in the light of AT&T's new proposal, it would be desirable to obtain further comment from interested parties to determine to what extent the proposed new service would alleviate the problems of the broadcasters discussed in the original Notice; and interested parties were given until April 29, 1955, which date was subsequently extended to May 20, 1955, to file comments. Statements were filed by 43 parties, and a reply thereto was filed by AT&T on June 13, 1955.

POSITION OF RESPONDENTS

9. The principal reason advanced in support of a more liberal Commission policy in authorizing the construction and operation of private inter-city television relay facilities by television broadcasters is that many stations cannot afford to avail themselves of common carrier facilities at the rates now in effect, while such stations could build and operate private systems at substantially less cost particularly where the private link consists of an off-the-air pick up and a few microwave relay hops. The financial difficulty of the broadcasters is alleged to arise from a variety of factors, the principal one being the inability of certain stations, notably UHF stations and those which are located in smaller markets, to command advertising revenues sufficient to defray the costs of interconnection by means of common carrier facilities. This, it is stated, prevents these stations from obtaining the live network programs which they feel are essential to build up an audience and, in turn, to attract sponsors and revenues.

10. It is urged, also, that insofar as the existing rules condition the operation of private systems upon the non-availability of common carrier facilities, those broadcasters who build their own private facilities are always faced with the threat of having such facilities displaced by common carrier facilities that may subsequently be constructed in the area. This situation, it is contended, permits the common carrier, rather than the Commission, to decide whether or not a television station may build and retain its own facility, without regard to the financial status of the station and its needs for a less costly means of relaying network programs, and also introduces a large element of uncertainty on the part of the broadcaster in deciding whether or not to construct its own private relay system.

11. In addition to the arguments advanced with respect to the need for private radio links as a means of obtaining live network programs, it was maintained that privately owned and operated systems will provide an economical basis for the formation of regional broadcasting networks and will facilitate the distribution of network programs having a more restricted area of interest; that private systems will permit the interconnection of a few commercial television stations on an occasional basis when the common carrier channels are preempted by nationwide programs; and that such systems will permit the interconnection of educational television stations for the distribution of non-commercial programs.

12. Opposing any change in the existing rules or policy of the Commission, the United States Independent Telephone Association and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company urged that these rules and policies have fostered the orderly development and growth of nationwide network television service without wasteful duplication of facilities and with the utmost in efficiency of frequency usage. They argued that it is doubtful that private television relaying facilities can be provided more economically than common carrier facilities, when all elements of cost are considered. It was contended that the creation of private systems would result in division of responsibility, less quality and continuity in program service, and increases in the over-all common carrier costs of furnishing network channels. While recognizing the economic problems of broadcasters located in sparsely populated areas, AT&T pointed out that the proposed amendments are not the solution since ultimate savings from private intercity relay systems are doubtful, and are not sufficient to solve the problem with which the Commission is here concerned. The telephone company also stated that the construction of private links on lower cost routes will leave the higher cost routes to be served by the common carriers, with resulting increase in the average costs of serving stations which subscribe to common carrier service.

13. In its reply to comments filed by the parties pursuant to the original Notice of Proposed Rule Making, AT&T referred to the statements made in the comments with respect to the cost of private relay systems, principally off-the-air pickups and relays, as compared with common carrier charges for direct connection to the common carrier networks. AT&T questioned the validity of the comparisons in costs, inasmuch as any such comparison must take into account the differences in the character and quality of the service provided. Conceding that off-the-air pickup is inherently less costly than transmissions involving standard network interconnection, AT&T submits that this method involves various disadvantages such as a generally inferior picture quality resulting from an additional broadcast transmitter and receiver in the path of transmission, added interference where the distance between the pickup point and the station whose signal is picked up is too great, and the fact the station which utilizes the off-the-air method is limited to programs broadcast by the station whose program is picked up. And these disadvantages, AT&T asserted, would be compounded if additional off-the-air pickup systems are used in tandem to extend service to additional stations.

14. AT&T indicated, however, that if the off-the-air method would provide a service acceptable to the broadcaster and the public, the common carriers can provide such service at charges substantially less than for direct network connection. By a letter of February 24, 1955, AT&T amplified the details of its proposed offering of off-the-air channels. In this letter, it pointed out that inasmuch as the instances in which such channels may be found advantageous will vary widely due to differences in terrain and other characteristics which affect the physical facilities required, AT&T considered it desirable, at least for the present, to determine the charges separately for each channel and to publish and file with the Commission such charges as a tariff rate on a case-by-case basis.[1]

15. Substantially all of the responses filed pursuant to the Further Notice of Proposed Rule Making, which invited the parties to comment on AT&T's proposal, maintained that the proposed service would not resolve the broadcaster's problems which gave rise to these proceedings, and advocated that the rule proposed by North Dakota Broadcasting Company or some similar rule be adopted. The one favorable comment on the proposed service of AT&T came from a prospective operator of a community antenna system. Many of the responses urged that AT&T's proposed offering of off-the-air channels was a step in the right direction of providing a more economical means of obtaining live network programs, but submitted that the need still existed for a Commission rule under which television broadcasters might be authorized, in the Commission's discretion, to construct and operate private intercity relay stations irrespective of the availability of common carrier facilities. Specifically, it was asserted that the cost of the proposed common carrier service would substantially exceed the cost for comparable service provided by privately owned and operated systems. Certain respondents criticized the proposed service from the standpoint of the inherent operational limitations. They note that the receiving station would necessarily be limited in its choice of programs to those broadcast by the station whose signal is picked up off-the-air and that the off-the-air pickup feature of the proposed service would entail some sacrifice in the quality of the video signal, and that the resulting degradation would be compounded if additional off-the-air pickups are made by television stations beyond the initial receiving station. The Joint Committee on Educational Television commented that the proposed service would not be suitable for regional educational networks because of the need for two-way facilities over all or part of the network. Other respondents urged that because of the operational limitations involved in the use of off-the-air pickup arrangements, AT&T should offer at reduced rates television transmission channels which may be connected directly to the basic common carrier networks. Many of the respondents also objected to the terms and conditions under which AT&T proposed to provide off-the-air channels.

16. In its reply to the above comments, AT&T disputed the contentions of the broadcasters that they can provide service for themselves at lesser cost than a comparable service from AT&T. AT&T stated that it is making every reasonable effort to provide off-the-air channels at the lowest practicable charge and that its rates will compare favorably with the cost of operation of private systems giving comparable service, if all elements of cost are determined and considered on a comparable basis. The telephone company also defended the propriety of the various features of its proposed offering which were the subject of criticism. It submitted that its offering of off-the-air channels will go far towards alleviating the economic problems of the broadcast stations in the smaller places remote from the established networks; that some sacrifice in the quality of service is unavoidable if cost reductions are to be achieved and will be required whether the links are provided by the broadcasters or common carriers, but that the degree of degradation will be lessened if all intercity relay channels are provided by the common carriers. AT&T reiterated its opposition to any change in the existing rules which would permit indiscriminate construction of private relay systems and the connection of such systems as links in the basic network.

DISCUSSION

17. Sections 4.631 and 4.632 of the rules reflect the policy enunciated in the Commission's Report of February 20, 1948, in Docket No. 6651, in which the Commission concluded that frequency economy required that intercity relaying of television programs should be performed by communication common carriers; but that inasmuch as the common carriers were not yet ready to afford the service required in all areas and that adequate relaying facilities would not be ready for some appreciable interval of time, the Commission was permitting television broadcast licensees, as a temporary measure, to use frequencies in the bands allocated for television auxiliary broadcast use (remote pickups and studio to transmitter links) for intercity relaying of television programs. The Commission reaffirmed this policy in its Decision and Order in Docket No. 8963, 5 R. R. 639, issued December 23, 1949, wherein the Bell System companies were ordered to amend their tariffs to provide for the interconnection of their facilities with the privately owned relay facilities of broadcasters authorized pursuant to such policy.

18. As the Commission indicated in its notice of proposed rule making, the rapid and orderly growth of a network program distribution system has been fostered under the basic principle that the facilities for such a distribution system should be provided by common carriers. None of the respondents in the proceeding disputed the essential soundness of the Commission's policy in the above respects. Their main concern is with the application of this policy to many of the television stations established since the lifting of the "freeze" in 1952 and which serve relatively small audiences. These stations, many of which serve communities at some distance from established service connection points on the basic common carrier network, as well as a number of UHF stations, are apparently not considered by the national networks and the sponsors of network programs to justify, from an economic standpoint, the interconnection of these stations to the basic networks.

19. At the time the Commission promulgated its policy in Docket No. 6651, which favors the use of common carrier facilities for the inter-city transmission of television programs, the television industry in the United States was at a stage of development where it was impossible to anticipate or predict, with any certainty, the various problems that would be encountered as television stations increased in number and new stations became established to serve communities under a variety of conditions. Insufficient experience was available with which to predict or evaluate such factors as the extent to which successful television station operation would be dependent upon the station's access to live network programs. It could not be foreseen that because of the economics of television broadcasting and network operation, as they have thus far developed, many television stations would be unable to obtain network programs through the usual means provided by network affiliation agreements and network interconnection. Nor could it be foreseen that in order to obtain any network programming, such stations would be faced with the alternatives of ordering the interconnecting facilities directly from the common carrier and paying the charges therefor, or of establishing their own relay facilities if common carrier facilities were not available.

20. The responses filed in this proceeding, as well as from other information in the Commission's files, make it clear that television stations which are dependent upon their own resources to obtain access to live network programming regard the establishment of their own relay facilities as the most economical means of achieving such access. Further, the large majority of private relay systems which have been established are not directly connected to the common carrier network facilities; rather, these private systems, mainly for reasons of economy, are employed to pick up off the air and relay for rebroadcast, television signals transmitted by other television stations which are connected to the national networks. However, as previously noted, private relay systems, under the existing policy of the Commission, are subject to being displaced and their operation terminated in the event that the common carrier subsequently constructs facilities in the area.

21. As previously noted, AT&T is now furnishing "off-the-air pickup" channels to such broadcasters as are in a position to utilize this type of service. On the basis of the comments received from the broadcasters in response to the Commission's Further Notice of Proposed Rule Making, it appears that such broadcasters do not feel that the AT&T "off-the-air" service will meet their needs. The principal objection raised was that, although the charges of AT&T for this service are substantially less than the Company's charges for directly connected service, they are still substantially higher than the station operators' estimates of what it will cost them to construct and operate their own systems. In addition, educational broadcasters and others interested in establishing regional networks, point to the impracticability from a service standpoint of operating such multi-station regional networks on an off-the-air basis.

22. The Commission has carefully considered all of the comments filed in this proceeding and has concluded that modification of its present policy with respect to the operation of private television intercity relay facilities by television broadcast stations is necessary and desirable. At the same time we wish to avoid any action which would seriously impair the nation-wide television distribution facilities operated by communication common carriers. Therefore, we are amending § 4.632 of the Commission rules to establish the following policy with respect to the licensing of such private television relay systems:

Television broadcast station licensees will have the option of operating their own private television intercity relay facilities or obtaining intercity television transmission service from communications common carriers in all cases except those in which a direct interconnection is desired with common carrier facilities. Such relay stations are not to be used as intermediate links in common carrier intercity television transmission facilities.

23. The Commission is of the view that the above policy will preserve the integrity of the nationwide television program distribution system operated by the common carriers and at the same time will provide access to national network programs, for television broadcast stations in small markets or with marginal operations. At the same time, it will permit the establishment of modest local or regional networks of educational or commercial television stations, through the use of private intercity relay systems. Stations operating in such local or regional networks may combine their efforts and resources to produce programs of local and regional interest which no one of the stations could afford to produce and lessen the dependence of TV stations on national network program sources. We have carefully considered the arguments advanced by AT&T and USITA that a more liberal policy of licensing private systems would deter the continued orderly growth and development of nationwide television service; would produce a wasteful duplication of facilities and a lesser quality and continuity of television program service; and could lead to an increase in the costs of servicing stations which subscribe to to common carrier service and, possibly, to increases in the rates for common carrier service. These alleged consequences might be cause for serious concern were we establishing a policy which contemplated the indiscriminate interconnection of private systems with common carrier facilities. We are of the opinion that such consequences will not follow from our policy of authorizing private relay systems which will not be directly interconnected with common carrier facilities.

24. It is also the Commission's view that liberalization of the permissible use of frequencies in the above respect will not create any problem of frequency availability or scarcity, inasmuch as the requirements for the establishment and operation of such systems will normally occur away from the populous centers and in areas where the existing frequency allocation is adequate to accommodate fully the television industry's needs for television pickup stations and studio transmitter links as well as these private intercity relay systems. Further assurance that frequency conflicts and congestion will not occur is provided by the limitation which applies equally to the existing and amended rules, that the use of frequencies for intercity relaying shall be on a secondary basis and subject to the condition that no harmful interference is caused to television pickup and television STL stations.

25. The Commission also desires to emphasize that its decision to liberalize the conditions under which television broadcasters will be authorized to construct private relay systems is not intended to have application as a precedent beyond the particular facts here present. The situation which the present action seeks to remedy is one which is peculiar to the television industry, and such action is being taken in the interest of aiding the fullest possible development of television service in the United States.

26. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (c), (f), (g) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

27. In the light of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, effective July 31, 1958, Part 4 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as follows:

I. Section 4.631 (a) is amended by amending the second sentence following the proviso and deleting the last sentence. Section 4.631 (a), as amended, reads as follows:

§ 4.631 Purpose of television auxiliary stations. (a) The license of a television pickup station authorizes the transmission of program material, orders concerning such program material, and related communications necessary to the accomplishment of such transmissions, from the scenes of events occurring in places other than a television studio, to its associated television broadcast station,[3] to such other stations as are broadcasting the same program material, or to the network or networks with which the television broadcast station is affiliated. Television pickup stations may be operated in conjunction with other television broadcast stations not aforementioned: Provided, That the transmissions by the television pickup station are under the control of the licensee of the television pickup station and that such operation shall not exceed a total of 10 days in any 30 day period. Television pickup stations may be used to provide temporary studio-transmitter links or intercity relay circuits consistent with § 4.632, without further authority of the Commission: Provided, however, That prior Commission authority shall be obtained if the transmitting antenna to be installed will increase the height of any natural formation or manmade structure by more than 20 feet and will be in existence for a period of more than 2 consecutive days.

II. Delete the text of paragraph (c) of § 4.631 and substitute therefor the following text:

(c) The license of a television intracity relay station authorizes the transmission of program material, orders concerning such program material and related communications necessary to the accomplishment of such transmissions between television broadcast stations for the purpose of simultaneous programming or network broadcasting.

III. Delete the present text of paragraph (b) of § 4.632 and substitute therefor the following text:

(b) A license for a television intercity relay station may be issued in any case where the circuit will operate between television broadcast stations either by means of "off-the-air" pickup and relay or location of the initial relay station at the studio or transmitter of a television broadcast station.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 303, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303)

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 4, 1958.

[Rules Amdt. 4-12]

[Docket No. 11696; FCC 58-779]

PART 4—EXPERIMENTAL, AUXILIARY, AND SPECIAL BROADCAST SERVICES

REMOTE BROADCAST STATIONS

1. The Commission has before it for consideration its Notice of Further Proposed Rule Making (FCC 58-206, Mimeo No. 55539) issued in this proceeding on March 6, 1958. As set forth in that Notice, the Commission proposed to add a new § 4.437 to the remote pickup rules in Part 4 of the rules and regulations which would provide for the licensing of low power broadcast auxiliary stations to be used in a studio for cueing, directing participants, and the transmission of program material by means of wireless microphones.

2. No comments in opposition to the proposed rules were filed. Comments in favor of the proposal were filed by the American Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., National Broadcasting Company, Inc., Sacramento Telecasters, Inc. (KBET-TV, Sacramento, Calif.) and Tribune Publishing Company (KTNT, Tacoma, Washington). ABC, CBS, and NBC, while favoring the objectives of the proposal, made some suggestions for changes in some of the proposed rules.

3. ABC proposes that "RF" be used instead of the word "wireless" in § 4.437 (a) since the former is in more common usage in this country; that § 4.437 (b) be amended so as not to restrict the use of these stations to the studio or building within which it is to be principally used in view of the fact that to do so would restrict the usage to a particular building, would complicate record keeping, and necessitate the purchase of additional units; that § 4.437 (d) permit 3 days of operation at another location before the Engineer in charge must be notified since often two days are required for rehearsal and production; and that § 4.437 (f) be changed so as not to require the presence of a licensed operator since such attendance is not necessary in view of the fact that maintenance and adjustment work is usually done in the shops by licensed operators. ABC also suggests a change in § 4.432 (f) in response to an earlier notice in this proceeding. However, the instant proposal for a new class of special stations for the purpose of cueing etc. renders the last suggestion moot.

4. CBS also suggests that § 4.437 (a) be amended to permit operation in the principal city served by the broadcast station rather than the studio or building. CBS points out that it has 15 television studios in New York at 12 different locations and that it is not desirable to limit the use of low power auxiliary stations to one studio or a group within the same building. It urges that these stations should not be limited to the bands 26.10–26.48 Mc and 450–451 Mc but should be authorized on any frequency allocated in § 4.402 for remote pickup broadcast stations. It urges that such a modification would permit greater latitude in operating frequencies and would insure against interference. CBS submits that the radiated field from wireless microphone equipment with an output of 100 milliwatts is in the order of 20 to 60 microvolts per meter at 100 feet. With respect to § 4.437 (d) CBS urges that it is often necessary to operate at a remote location for more than one day and suggests that this be changed to 10 days to conform with the requirements of § 4.431 concerning remote pickup stations. Finally, CBS suggests that § 4.437 (g) be amended to include the call sign of the broadcast station to which it is licensed rather than with which it is being used since on occasion in network operations the program may not be broadcast over the local station.

5. NBC submits that § 4.437 (a) is unduly restrictive and that an auxiliary station could be used at any place within a particular city or metropolitan area without fear of interference. It also urges that § 4.437 (d) be amended to permit the use of low power broadcast auxiliary stations in conjunction with a broadcast station other than the broadcast station with which it is licensed consistent with the provisions of § 4.431 (a) concerning remote pickup stations.

6. We have carefully considered the comments filed in this proceeding and are of the opinion that some of the suggested changes have merit. These changes are incorporated in the rules adopted herein. We find that other suggested changes should not be adopted or should not be adopted entirely as suggested. ABC suggests that the term "RF" be used instead of "wireless" since radio frequency transmissions are no longer described as wireless transmissions in this country. The term "wireless microphone" is commonly applied to a microphone which employs radio frequency transmission instead of a microphone cable and is generally understood. We see no reason to attempt to introduce a new descriptive term in these rules since the present term appears to be adequate. ABC, CBS, and NBC are all of the view that the provision of § 4.437 which would identify these low power devices with a single studio or group of studios within a single building is too restrictive and that greater flexibility is needed to permit the efficient use of these devices. In order to carry out its functions in an orderly and expeditious manner, the Commission must be aware of the general location of all licensed radio transmitting apparatus at all times. Where portable or mobile apparatus is involved, the licensee must share this responsibility and be able to advise any representative of the Commission of the location of such apparatus at any time, and such apparatus shall be available for inspection by Commission representatives upon request. The proposal to identify these low power devices with a particular studio or building is a part of the "home base" concept usually applied to portable or mobile apparatus. However, in applying the "home base" concept to these devices we do not wish it to become so restrictive as to deprive the licensee of needed flexibility. Accordingly, the rules adopted herein will provide the required degree of flexibility and at the same time preserve the "home base" concept by permitting the apparatus to be used in any studio or other leased or owned premises in a given city, but will require that a central record be kept of the location of such devices at all times. Under this provision, notification need be given the Commission's Engineer in Charge only when the devices are to be operated in some other area, in which case such notification shall be given whenever the operation in another area will be for a period of more than one day. CBS has suggested that the use of these low power devices be permitted in all remote pickup bands rather than those proposed by the Commission, i. e., 26.10–26.48 and 450–451 Mc. The above bands were selected by the Commission because they are allocated exclusively for remote broadcast pickup operation. It is not considered desirable to permit these devices to operate without specific frequency assignments in those bands shared with other services. Furthermore, most of the apparatus in use today operates in the 26.10–26.48 Mc band. In the absence of a specific showing that the proposed bands are not adequate to meet the reasonable requirements of the broadcast industry, there appears to be no reason to provide additional frequency space for such operation. As to the suggestion by ABC that we do away with the requirement that a licensed operator of any kind be present at the place where these low power devices are being operated, the Commission is of the opinion that it has gone as far as possible by permitting these devices to be attended by a non-technical licensed operator. The sense of responsibility of the holder of an operator's license is expected to insure against abuses such as leaving these devices turned on when they are not in use or operation outside of the bands allocated for such operation. Should experience show that the non-technical operator is not capable of preventing such abuses, the Commission will consider the advisability of requiring attendance by a technically qualified operator. CBS has suggested that the identification announcement should include the call sign of the broadcast station with which the low-power broadcast auxiliary unit is licensed rather than the call sign of the broadcast station with which it is being used. One of the most important functions of station identification announcements is to facilitate the location of the source of radio signals. This becomes critical when interference develops and it is necessary to secure prompt termination of the offending operation. Whenever one of these units is being used with a broadcast station other than the licensee station either in the same city or in some other city, more rapid identification can be accomplished by knowing the call sign of the station with which the unit is being used and the place at which the unit is being operated. In the special case where a network originates a program which is not broadcast by the local station originating the program, it will be sufficient to identify the location of the unit and the local station responsible for the origination.

7. Authority for the issuance of the amendments adopted herein is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (a), (b), (c), (e), (f), (g) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

8. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That effective September 5, 1958, Part 4 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as follows:

Add a new § 4.437 to Subpart D—Rules Governing Remote Pickup Broadcast Stations, as follows:

§ 4.437 Special rules relating to low power broadcast auxiliary stations. (a) The devices which will be licensed under this section are those which are normally intended to be operated over distances not in excess of a few hundred feet and will fall into two general categories: studio cueing transmitters and wireless microphones. Paragraphs (b) to (j) of this section will govern the licensing of such devices.

(b) A license for a low power broadcast auxiliary station will be issued only to the licensee of a standard, FM, or television broadcast station and for use with a specific station or combination of such broadcast stations within the same city. Such stations may be operated at other locations from time-to-time in accordance with the provisions of parargaph (f) of this section.

(c) The license of a low power broadcast auxiliary station authorizes the transmission of cues and orders to production personnel and participants in broadcast programs and in the preparation thereof, and the transmission of program material by means of a wireless microphone worn by a performer or other participant in a broadcast program during rehearsal and the actual performance. Such transmissions shall be intended for reception at a receiving point within the same studio, building, stadium, or similarly limited indoor or outdoor area.

(d) An application for a new low power broadcast auxiliary station or for a change in an existing authorization shall specify the broadcast station or combination of stations in the same city, as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, with which it is to be used principally. A single application, filed on FCC Form 313, in duplicate, may be used in applying for authority to construct and operate one or more low power broadcast auxiliary transmitting units provided that such transmitting units are designed for operation in a common frequency band and will be normally operated with the same broadcast station or combination of stations in a single city.

(e) The operation of low power broadcast auxiliary stations will be authorized only in the bands 26.10–26.48 Mc and 450–451 Mc. Transmitting units may be operated on any frequency within the band of frequencies for which the station is licensed, provided that the emissions are confined to the authorized band. Transmitting units are not required to maintain a constancy of frequency beyond that necessary to insure compliance with the above requirement.

(f) A low power broadcast auxiliary station may be used in conjunction with broadcast stations of other licensees located in the same area as the broadcast station or stations with which it is licensed without further authority of the Commission, provided that such operation is conducted by the licensee of the low power broadcast auxiliary station. Low power broadcast auxiliary stations may also be operated in conjunction with broadcast stations of its licensee or other licensees in other locations provided that such operation is conducted by the licensee of the low power broadcast auxiliary station and provided further that if such operation is to be conducted over a consecutive period of more than one day, the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the low power broadcast auxiliary station is licensed and the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the operation is to be conducted shall be notified in writing at least two days in advance of such operation and of the expected duration of the proposed operation.

(g) Low power broadcast auxiliary stations will not be licensed for a power input to the plate of the final radio frequency amplifier in excess of 1 watt and all operation thereof is subject to the condition that no harmful interference is caused to remote pickup broadcast base and mobile stations. Unusual transmitting antennas or antenna elevations shall not be used to extend the range of these low power devices beyond the limited areas defined in paragraph (c) of this section.

(h) No operator's license is required of the person actually using a low power broadcast auxiliary transmitting unit, provided that an operator holding any commercial radio operator license or permit, except an aircraft radiotelephone operator authorization or a temporary radiotelegraph second-class operator license, is on duty at the place where the transmitting unit is being operated to take immediate steps to correct any condition of improper operation observed. Any adjustments or repairs that could affect the proper operation of transmitting units shall be made by or under the immediate supervision of an operator holding a valid first or second-class radiotelephone license.

(i) Call signs will not be assigned to low power broadcast auxiliary stations. In lieu thereof, an announcement shall be made at the beginning and end of each period of operation at a single location, over the transmitting unit being operated, identifying the type of transmitting unit, its location, and the call sign of the broadcast station with which it is being used. Transmitting units will normally fall into one of two types: a cueing transmitter or a wireless microphone. A period of operation may consist of a continuous transmission or intermittent transmissions in connection with a single program.

(j) The licensee of each low power broadcast auxiliary station shall maintain adequate records at the main studio or transmitter of the broadcast station with which the auxiliary is principally used, which will accurately show the current location of all transmitting units, the periods of operation at such locations and any other pertinent remarks concerning transmissions.

PART 9—AVIATION SERVICES

1. Notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter was released by the Commission on April 21, 1958. That notice, which made provision for the filing of comments by May 23, 1958, was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 24, 1958 (23 F. R. 2744).

2. Favorable comments in this proceeding were received from Aeronautical Radio, Inc., and the Civil Air Patrol.

3. In addition, the Commission has considered the resolution, adopted by the National Association of State Aviation Officials (NASAO) shortly before the issuance of rule making in this proceeding, recommending that any action by the Commission making the frequency 121.6 Mc available for search and rescue (SAR) communications be limited to an 18-month trial period to be followed by a survey of the effectiveness of that frequency for SAR purposes. In this connection, no specific provision is required in this rule making to permit the NASAO to conduct a survey at the end of an 18-month period, and, as a result of information developed by such survey, to request any change in the rules which may be appropriate.

4. In the light of the demonstrated requirement for communications between ground mobile stations and aircraft stations engaged in SAR operations, the public interest would be served by providing an additional frequency and establishing a new class of mobile station for the conduct of such communications.

5. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That pursuant to the authority contained in sections 303 (a), (b), (c), (g), and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, Part 9 of the Commission's rules be amended, effective September 8, 1958, as set forth below, and

6. It is further ordered, That the proceedings in Docket 12400 are hereby terminated.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

Amend Part 9—Aviation Services as indicated below:

1. Amend § 9.3 by inserting the following definition in alphabetical order:

Aeronautical search and rescue mobile station. A mobile station used for communication with aircraft engaged in search and rescue operations.

2. Amend paragraph (a) of § 9.151 to read as follows:

§ 9.151 Information required in station logs. (a) All stations at fixed locations shall maintain logs showing hours of operation, frequencies used, stations with which communication was held, and hours of duty and signature of the operator(s) on duty.

3. Insert the following text in paragraph (d) of § 9.312:

(d) 8364 kilocycles: Frequency for use by lifeboats, liferafts and other survival craft for search and rescue communications with stations of the maritime mobile service.

4. Delete paragraphs (e), (f), and (g) of § 9.312 and substitute the following:

(e) 121.5 megacycles: This is a universal simplex emergency and distress frequency and will not be assigned to aircraft unless other frequencies are assigned and available for use to accommodate the normal communication needs of the aircraft. This frequency may be used by radio stations aboard aircraft for emergency direction finding purposes; to establish air-ground communications in emergencies; and for search and rescue operations by aircraft not equipped to transmit on 121.6 Mc.

(f) 121.6 megacycles: This frequency may be used by aircraft for air-to-air communications and air-to-ground communications with aeronautical search and rescue mobile stations when engaged in search and rescue operations.

(g) 121.7 and 121.9 megacycles: Airport utility frequencies.

5. Amend paragraph (a) of § 9.432 to read as follows:

§ 9.432 Frequencies available. (a) 121.5 megacycles: This is a universal simplex emergency and distress frequency for air-ground communications and will not be assigned unless other frequencies are assigned and available for use to accommodate normal communications needs.

6. Add a new Subpart W to read as follows:

SUBPART W—AERONAUTICAL SEARCH AND RESCUE MOBILE STATIONS

Sec.
9.1301 Frequency available.
9.1302 Scope of service.

AUTHORITY: §§ 9.1301 and 9.1302 issued under sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1068, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303.

§ 9.1301 Frequency available. The frequency 121.6 megacycles is available for use by aeronautical search and rescue mobile stations.

§ 9.1302 Scope of service. Aeronautical search and rescue mobile stations shall be used only for communications with aircraft engaged in search and rescue operations.

PART 12—AMATEUR RADIO SERVICE

PART 19—CITIZENS RADIO SERVICE

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Introduction. The Commission adopted on April 3, 1957, a notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 16, 1957 (22 F. R. 2606). Ample opportunity was afforded interested persons to submit comments in support of or in opposition to the rule amendments proposed and the time for filing such comments has now expired.

On April 16, 1958, the Commission adopted a first report and order in this proceeding which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 24, 1958 (23 F. R. 2737). This first report and order adopted certain of the proposed changes which were designed to promote more efficient administration of the service and eligibility therein, and deferred to a later date consideration of those proposed rule changes which might affect frequency availability or technical standards.

Numerous comments, ranging from detailed multi-page documents to single-page letters and postcards, were filed in this proceeding by individual users, by organizations representing large numbers of users, by manufacturers of equipment, and by other interested parties. Due to the large number, it is not feasible to list here all such comments nor to discuss the positions of all interested parties. Nevertheless, all comments have been carefully read, considered, and given appropriate weight by the Commission in the disposition of the issues involved in this proceeding.[1] Some comments contained suggestions and proposals which go beyond the scope of this proceeding; however, those portions of such comments pertinent to the issues involved were fully considered. Parties who wish further consideration of any such suggestion or proposal should file formal petitions for rule making in accordance with the provisions of § 1.202 of the Commission's rules.

It should be noted that the only reallocation of frequencies proposed in this proceeding was the reallocation of frequencies in the range 26.96–27.23 Mc from the Amateur Radio Service to the Citizens Radio Service. The proposal to reallocate 1 Mc of the band 460–470 Mc to the Domestic Public Radio Service will be considered in the proceedings contained in Docket No. 11959.[2] The proposal to reallocate other frequencies in the 460–470 Mc band to the Industrial Radio Services has been considered and decided by the Commission in its First Report and Order in Docket 11991 (FCC 58-802, released June 23, 1958) and that decision and its effects on this proceeding will be further discussed elsewhere in this document.

In brief, this second report and order:

(a) Makes frequencies in the frequency band 26.96–27.23 Mc available to the Citizens Radio Service, and deletes their availability to the Amateur Radio Service;

(b) Limits the maximum permissible plate input DC power of citizens radio stations operating in the band 26.96–27.23 Mc to 5 watts;

(c) Establishes a new Class D citizens radio station, to be operated on specified frequencies in the 26.96–27.23 Mc band with radiotelephony, in lieu of adding those frequencies to those available to Class A stations;

(d) Provides for "type-acceptance" rather than "type-approval" of equipment to be used by Class A citizens radio stations;

(e) Provides for the assignment of specific frequencies to Class A citizens radio stations, in those portions of the frequency band 460–470 Mc remaining available for their use;

(f) Provides for the operation of Class C and Class D citizens radio stations on any of the "available" frequencies in the 26.96–27.28 Mc band in lieu of the assignment of single frequencies in that band to individual stations;

(g) Retains Class B citizens radio stations in substantially their present form, but reduces the maximum authorized power of such stations from ten watts to five watts and applies slightly more strict technical restrictions to such stations operating with over three watts power, while permitting the emissions of such Class B stations to appear on frequencies in the range 462.525–467.475 Mc which is otherwise shared, in part, by stations in the Industrial Radio Services. In addition, provision is made for Class B stations utilizing equipment which meets the technical standards applicable to Class A stations, but with plate input power ratings of five watts or less, to be operated at the discretion of the licensee on certain frequencies which would otherwise be available only to Class A stations.

(h) Completely revises Part 19 of the Commission's rules, governing the Citizens Radio Service, to incorporate proposed procedural and other changes, and to incorporate amendments to those rules previously adopted in this and other proceedings since this revision was proposed.

2. Reallocation of frequencies in the range 26.96–27.23 Mc. The notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding recognized a need for additional spectrum space for personal use by any individual, especially those persons now holding authorizations for Class A stations in the Citizens Radio Service who will not be able to establish eligibility in any of the Industrial or Land Transportation Radio Services, as well as a substantial need for additional frequencies in the 27 Mc range for use in the remote control of such objects or devices as model aircraft. Accordingly, it was proposed to reallocate frequencies in the band 26.96–27.23 Mc from the Amateur Radio Service to the Citizens Radio Service for use by Class A stations for general purposes and, in addition, provide certain other frequencies to Class C stations exclusively for the purposes of remote control. The Commission stated that this reallocation appeared appropriate because the frequencies in this band are a part of a larger frequency band within which interference may normally be expected and must be accepted from industrial, scientific and medical (ISM) devices and because, as a result of the foregoing, only limited use of this band has been made by the amateurs. In addition, it was pointed out that amateurs, as individuals, would be able to obtain licenses in the Citizens Radio Service for either radio control or voice communication in this band.

In connection with this proposal, the Commission received a very large number of comments from both individual amateurs and modelers, as well as clubs and organizations representing persons active in each of these hobbies. In general, it may be said that all but a few comments from modelers enthusiastically supported the proposal and most of those from persons who are both amateurs and modelers also supported the reallocation. Most of the comments from other amateurs were in complete opposition to any use by the Citizens Radio Service of frequencies in this band. However, a substantial number suggested that the band be shared by the Amateur and Citizens Radio Services. A few amateurs suggested that other amateur frequencies be substituted in lieu of those proposed, or concurred in the proposed reallocation.

Typical of the reasons set forth by the amateurs opposing deletion of the availability of frequencies in the 26.96–27.23 Mc range to the Amateur Radio Service are:

(a) The adoption of the Commission's proposal would constitute a derogation of the Atlantic City Radio Regulations to which the United States is a signatory nation.

(b) This band is the only one in the lower frequency ranges open to the amateurs where the Commission permits certain types of emissions and operations, and accordingly where the amateurs may engage in experimentation in facsimile, continuous carrier, and duplex operations.

(c) The characteristics which make these frequencies particularly good for long-range and international communications will cause too much interference and "skip", and prevent the widespread use of this band for short-range communications and remote control.

(d) The recent non-use of this band by amateurs is due to cyclical "sun spots."

(e) Other amateur bands are overcrowded, the service is expanding at a rapid rate, and the 26.96–27.23 Mc band is the only area left for expansion.

(f) The fact that an amateur might obtain a Citizens Radio Service authorization is not an adequate substitute because some amateurs could not meet the age requirements of that service, and in addition, amateurs would not be permitted to make their own adjustments to a citizens radio station.

On the other hand, the modelers point out their dire and immediate need for additional frequencies, stating that the situation has been aggravated by recent authorizations of high-powered stations in other radio services on the frequency 27.255 Mc for such purposes as traffic controls and remote radio paging. They further state that the use of frequencies in the 26.96–27.23 Mc band for control of models is feasible and is similiar to al-

[1] Included in those comments considered is that of Wells-Gardner & Co. and, accordingly, its petition for acceptance of late comments filed on February 14, 1958 is granted.

[2] Pending the outcome of the proceedings in Docket No. 11959, the frequencies proposed to be reallocated to Domestic Public Radio Service will continue to be available to the Citizens Radio Service.

location practices found practical by other governments.[3]

The Commission is well aware of the history of the Amateur Radio Service in the development of the radio art and in providing a springboard of interest for future engineers and scientists. However, it must also be remembered that the remote control of models fosters a similar interest in young people and is a hobby in which many young people are able to participate. The Commission is aware of the Amateur's outstanding record of assistance in local and national disasters. The Commission also recognizes that the Amateur Radio Service is a rapidly expanding service, but then, so is the number of persons engaged in the remote control of models expanding at an ever-increasing rate.

While both amateurs and modelers suggest that spot frequencies located in different portions of the spectrum might be more desirable for remote control, such allocations are simply not possible at this time with the present scarcity of spectrum space.

In addition to filling the need for additional frequencies for remote control purposes, the proposed reallocation would also fill an urgent need for additional frequencies for voice communications by persons who will be unable to establish their eligibility in any of the Land Transportation or Industrial Radio Services. Although the Commission may have originally underestimated the use of the 26.96–27.23 Mc band by amateurs, the use of that band is still considerably less than in other bands available to the amateurs, a fact which is admitted by many amateurs and established by monitoring observations of the Commission.

As to whether the proposed reallocation would be in derogation of the Atlantic City Radio Regulations, the Commission considers that no derogation is involved. The primary world-wide allocation of that frequency band is to the Fixed and Mobile Services and the footnote permitting its use by amateurs is merely permissive. Therefore, the reallocation ordered herein and in the companion proceeding in Docket No. 11959 from the Amateur Radio Service to the Citizens Radio Service is not in derogation of the Regulations.

As stated above, the 26.96–27.23 Mc band is a part of a larger band in which interference may normally be expected from ISM devices. Most of the reasons presented in opposition to be proposed reallocation of that band to the Citizens Radio Service were based upon potential use of this band in the future by the Amateur Radio Service instead of actual need or existing use of the band. Monitoring records indicate that this band is not heavily used by the Amateur Radio Service, due obviously to the interference hazard presented by the operation of ISM devices on 27.12 Mc and also due to the proximity of the more desirable 10-meter exclusive amateur band. The Commission feels that substantially greater use can be made of this band by the Citizens Radio Service and that the loss to the Amateur Radio Service is negligible. While it is true that certain operations have been possible in this band which were not permitted on lower frequencies available to the Amateur Radio Service, such operations are still possible on frequencies above 51 Mc and frequencies in those ranges appear to be coming into even greater usage by the amateurs than the band here under consideration. Although the Commission realizes that, in many cases, an authorization in the Citizens Radio Service may not be an adequate substitute for the privileges lost in this band; nevertheless, the Commission finds that public interest, convenience and necessity requires the reallocation of the 26.96–27.23 Mc band to the Citizens Radio Service for the purposes proposed. The recommendation that this band be shared by the two services involved is not adopted, since that action would be inconsistent with the Commission's position in international affairs regarding the shared use of amateur bands.

The Commission had proposed that the frequencies in this band, which would be available for voice communications, be assigned to Class A citizens radio stations, but inasmuch as the frequencies normally assigned to Class A stations are in a different frequency band (460–470 Mc) and different technical standards would be applicable to equipment operating in each of these bands, the Commission has decided to create a new Class D citizens radio station. The new Class D station will embody all of the proposals with respect to the operation of Class A stations in the 26.96–27.23 Mc band for radiotelephony, except that instead of being assigned a single frequency, each Class D station may operate on any of the specific frequencies available to Class D stations in that range.

3. First report and order in Docket 11991 and its effect on this proceeding. The notice of proposed rule making in the proceedings contained in Docket 11991 (FCC 57–356, released April 9, 1957) proposed that the 461–464.75 and 465.275–470 Mc segments of the 460–470 Mc band be reallocated from the Citizens Radio Service to the Industrial Radio Services. However, the Commission in its first report and order in that matter (FCC 58–602) released June 23, 1958, in Paragraph 9, stated:

9. Based upon the foregoing considerations, the Commission makes the following disposition of its proposals for the 460–470 Mc band:

a. A total of 6.550 megacycles (as opposed to the proposed 8.450 megacycles) is reallocated for use in the Industrial services. These 6.550 megacycles are comprised of the 461–462.525, 463.225–464.725 and 466.475–470 portions of the band.

b. As proposed, a total of 0.550 megacycles (consisting of the 464.725–465.275 Mc portion) of the band is being retained for use in the Citizens Radio Service.

c. With respect to a total of 1.900 megacycles (consisting of the 462.525–463.225 and 465.275–466.475 portions) of the band, the Commission is withholding a final determination at this time. Pending greater crystallization of the [illegible] pressed and anticipated needs for [illegible] and mobile operations in the frequency range 460–470 Mc, these 1.9 megacycles will continue to be allocated to the Citizens Radio Service for use therein. Until further disposition is made of this spectrum no licensee on the frequencies involved will be required to vacate as a direct result of actions taken herein. With respect to the 1.9 megacycles, it should be noted that there is an approximate 6-megacycle span between the two blocks of frequencies. This spacing will permit the Commission to provide as many as fourteen pairs of frequencies for duplex operation and an additional ten frequencies for simplex-only operation, and will thus allow the Commission considerable flexibility in the eventual disposition of the space involved.

d. In connection with all of the foregoing, Class B citizens stations will be permitted, at least for the time being, to operate within the 462.525–467.475 portion of the band subject to no interference-protection from other Class B stations, from Class A citizens stations operating in any portion of the 460–470 Mc band, or from any station authorized to use a frequency in the 460–470 Mc band in the Industrial Radio Services. To lessen the probability of harmful interference being caused by Class B stations, their permissible power is being reduced to 5 watts input to the final radio frequency stage. This reduction will have only limited practical effect upon existing users and manufacturers since virtually all Class B equipment being sold or used at the present time already conforms to the new requirement. Manufacturers of Class B equipment are cautioned that the range of occupancy provided for by this Report and Order cannot be guaranteed on a permanent basis and that future developments may require a reduction to the limits originally proposed in this proceeding. Meanwhile, it may be possible for such manufacturers to design equipment capable of meeting these limits at prices attractive to the market.

4. Class A stations. The proposals specifically concerned with Class A stations are adopted substantially as proposed except, as noted above, the frequencies in the 26.96–27.23 Mc band to be used for voice communications will be available to the newly created Class D stations rather than Class A stations, as proposed. Additional frequencies will be available for the time being for assignment to Class A stations as a result of the Commission's action in Docket No. 11991 discussed in Item 3 of this order. Also, pending the outcome of the proceedings in Docket No. 11959, frequencies within the 1 Mc (460–461 Mc) band proposed to be reallocated to the Domestic Public Radio Service will continue to be available for assignment to Class A stations. Present licensees of Class A stations operating on frequencies which have been reallocated to the Industrial Radio Services may continue to operate on those frequencies (subject to timely renewal applications) until June 15, 1963; however, the actual frequencies will be specified in all renewals issued after the effective date of this action.

The adoption of the proposed technical standards, necessary in order to assign specific frequencies at a 50 kc spacing, will apparently not cause any undue hardship since it appears that the equipment now being manufactured and presently in use, for the most part, already meets the new technical standards. None of the comments received were specifically either in support of or in opposition to the Commission's proposal to provide for "type-acceptance" rather than "type-approval" of equipment for use by Class A stations, and that proposal is herewith adopted.

Comments from both the Electronics Industrial Association (EIA) and the Electronic Protection, Inc. suggested that Class A stations be permitted to employ any desired emission. The rules as proposed and adopted provide specifically only for radiotelephony; however, they do not prohibit other types of emission but merely provide that such other types of emission will be authorized only upon a showing of a need therefor. The only inherent restriction (other than a showing of need) placed on such other types of emission by Class A stations is that the equipment must comply with all other technical standards applicable to Class A stations.

The suggestion of EIA that the deviation of Class A stations be limited to ±10 kc when using frequency modulation and that a "roll-off filter" after the modulator be required is not adopted, because the Commission believes such stringent technical requirements are unnecessary at this time in this service. In fact, in other services utilizing comparable frequencies, only the "roll-off filter" is required; the deviation in these services is only limited to ±15 kc, which same limitation was proposed and is now adopted in this service.

5. Class B stations. Because of the action taken in its First Report and Order in Docket No. 11991 (see Item 3, supra), the Commission is not adopting its proposals with respect to Class B stations. Instead, the present rules will remain substantially in effect with respect to Class B stations operating with 3 watts, or less input power on the frequency 465 Mc. The maximum permissible power of any Class B station will be 5 watts, and in the case of Class B stations operating with from 3 to 5 watts input power, the new frequency tolerance will be 0.3 percent. In addition, as a special concession to Class B stations employing equipment which complies with the technical standards applicable to Class A stations, but which are mobile stations with not more than 5 watts input power, they will be permitted to be operated on certain specified frequencies which are otherwise available only to Class A stations and to shift among such frequencies without prior Commission approval.

The detailed comments of the Vocaline Company of America, Inc., were extensively discussed in the First Report and Order in Docket No. 11991 and need not be repeated here. The action taken herein further renders moot the comments or proposals with respect to Class B stations made by the Citizen-Ship Radio Corp., Wells-Gardner & Co., Babcock Models, Inc., Z & W Manufacturing Corp., and Electronic Protection, Inc.

6. Class C stations. The rules pertaining to Class C stations, as adopted herewith, provide that the maximum permissible power shall be five watts, except in the case of Class C stations operating on the frequency 27.255 Mc in which case the maximum permissible power shall be 30 watts. The request of the Stromberg-Carlson Company that the frequency 26.995 Mc be made available for Class C stations with 30 watts power must be denied, although it should be noted that the paging systems represented by the Stromberg-Carlson comment can also be operated with that power in other services where four other frequencies are also available in the 27.23–27.28 Mc range. The higher power for Class C stations on the frequency 27.255 Mc is permitted on the basis that other services already have authorized the use of even higher power on that frequency and its use by Class C stations operating with 30 watts will not substantially increase the interference. Conversely, the use of 30 watts power on the frequency 26.995 Mc, even though intermittent, would appear to substantially increase the interference potentialities on that frequency and to materially lessen its value for the purposes of remote control of objects or devices.

The Commission has reconsidered its proposed tolerance requirements and has concluded that some modification thereof is necessary. The proposal was to permit a tolerance of ±.01 percent for Class C stations employing 5 watts, or less, power. However, if this were permitted, the authorized bandwidth plus tolerance would exceed the 10 kc spacing of frequencies available to Class C stations. While this would create no problem with respect to Class C stations employing 3 watts, or less, power for the remote control of objects or devices, the Commission feels that it would create undue interference when used by Class C stations employing over 3 watts power or being used for the remote actuation of devices which are used solely as a means of attracting attention. Accordingly, the rules, as adopted, provide for a tolerance of 0.005 percent for all Class C stations, except that stations of 3 watts or less plate power, which are used for the remote control of objects or devices other than devices used as a means of attracting attention are permitted a tolerance of 0.01 percent.

In order to insure flexibility at model shows or meets, the Commission is not adopting its proposal to assign a specific frequency to Class C stations but, instead, is providing that a Class C station may operate on any of the frequencies available to that class.

The EIA request that F3 emission be permitted in the 26.96–27.23 Mc band and on the frequency 27.255 Mc is denied both with respect to Class C and Class D stations as inconsistent with the 10 kc spacing of frequencies in this range, since no information was submitted which could lead the Commission to believe that satisfactory communications can be accomplished with type F3 emission when limited to a bandwidth less than 10 kc.

The Stromberg-Carlson Company expressed concern that no specific provision is made for Class C base stations, stating that a base station is necessary for the operation of its paging systems. The classification of all Class C stations, as well as all Class B and D stations, as mobile stations is done for convenience and the rules specifically provide that such stations may be operated at fixed locations. However, a permanently installed antenna for use with a Class B, C, or D station shall not exceed 20 feet in height above an existing structure and the distance of the antenna from the transmitter shall not exceed 25 feet. Stromberg-Carlson also suggested that Class C stations used to remotely control devices which are used solely as a means of attracting attention be exempted from the requirements of station identification and that suggestion is herewith adopted. The suggestion of Stromberg-Carlson that a definition of "signaling communication" be added to the rules is not adopted as it is unnecessary.

Several suggestions were received that the age limit be lowered from 18 years of age, inasmuch as many persons below that age are interested in model control but cannot use radio for that purpose except by stations licensed to their parents. The Commission concludes that in order to encourage the youth of the United States to participate in this worthy hobby, the required age for eligibility to hold a Class C citizens radio station license only will be lowered to 12 years.

The Commission proposed, and by its first report and order in this proceeding amended Part 19, to provide that applications for Class A, Class B, and Class C stations employing non-crystal controlled equipment be submitted to its Washington, D. C. offices. Applications for Class C stations using crystal controlled equipment presently may be submitted at one of the Commission's field offices. The Commission upon reconsideration has decided that the orderly administration of the Citizens Radio Service requires all applications for any class of citizens radio station be submitted to its Washington, D. C., office, and the rules as amended hereby so provide.

7. General. With respect to the complete revision of Part 19, certain minor editorial modifications from the original proposal have been made for the purposes of clarification. Thus, the section dealing with definitions has been broken down into categories dealing with subject matter to facilitate finding the desired definition. Certain rule amendments adopted by the Commission in its First Report and Order in this proceeding have been renumbered so that the amendments appear in a more appropriate order in the revision.

In order to receive all the information necessary for the administration of the Citizens Radio Service and to issue an authorization therein, it has been necessary to revise the present FCC Form 505, "Application for Citizens Radio Station Construction Permit and License." The revised FCC Form 505, "Application for Citizens Radio License" will be used when regularly applying for any citizens radio station authorization, including renewal and modification thereof.

[3] For example: It is understood that in England six frequencies for the remote control of model aircraft and five frequencies for the remote control of model boats have been allocated within the band 26.96–27.28 Mc.

The complete revision of Part 19, as set forth below also incorporates all amendments to Part 19, initiated and adopted subsequent to the issuance of the notice of proposed rule making in this proceeding.

8. Pending petitions. Considered herein to the extent they were pertinent to the instant proceeding were the following petitions: Petition of the Academy of Model Aeronautics, filed on January 23, 1957; Petition for the Deletion of the Citizens Radio Service in the 460–470 Mc band of Motorola, Inc., filed on April 30, 1958; Opposition to Petition of Motorola, Inc. to Delete Entire Citizens Radio Service (Docket No. 11994) and Petition for Termination of Proceedings of the Vocaline Company of America, Inc., filed on May 28, 1958; Opposition of American Telephone and Telegraph Company to Petition of Vocaline Company of America, Inc. for Termination of Proceedings, filed on June 16, 1958; and Petition of Electronic Industries Association, filed on July 10, 1958.

9. Conclusion and order. Upon consideration of all of the comments filed herein and of all other matters relevant to this proceeding, the Commission concludes that the amendments outlined above and set forth below will materially serve the public interest, convenience and necessity. The authority for such amendments is contained in section 4 (i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, This 31st day of July 1958, That effective September 11, 1958, Parts 12 and 19 of the Commission's rules are hereby amended, in the manner set forth below. It is further ordered, That the petitions identified in Item 8 hereof are granted to the extent that such action is consistent with other actions taken herein, and in all other respects are denied.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Released: August 4, 1958

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

I. Amend Part 12—Amateur Radio Service as follows:

1. Delete paragraph (f) of § 12.111 and substitute the following:

(f) [Reserved.]

2. Amend § 12.134 to read as follows:

§ 12.134 Modulation of carrier wave. Except for brief tests or adjustments, an amateur radiotelephone station shall not emit a carrier wave on frequencies below 51 megacycles unless modulated for the purpose of communication.

II. Revise Part 19—Citizens Radio Service to read as follows:

Subpart A—General

Sec.
19.1 Basis and purpose.
19.2 Definitions.
19.3 Policy governing the assignment of frequencies.
19.4 General citizenship restrictions.

Subpart B—Applications and Licenses

19.11 Station authorization required.
19.12 Eligibility for station license.
19.13 Filing of applications.
19.14 Who may sign applications.
19.15 Standard forms to be used.
19.16 Amendment or dismissal of application.
19.17 Transfer of license prohibited.
19.21 Defective applications.
19.22 Partial grant.
19.23 License period.
19.24 Changes in authorized stations.
19.25 Limitation in antenna structures.

Subpart C—Technical Regulations

19.31 Frequencies available.
19.32 Station power.
19.33 Frequency tolerance.
19.34 Types of emission.
19.35 Emission limitations.
19.36 Modulation limitations.
19.41 Technical measurements.
19.42 Acceptability of transmitters for licensing.
19.43 Type acceptance of equipment.
19.44 Submission of Class B and non-crystal controlled Class C or Class D station equipment for type approval.
19.45 Type approval of receiver-transmitter combinations.
19.51 Minimum equipment specifications.
19.52 Test procedure.
19.53 Certificate of type approval.
19.54 Acceptance of composite equipment.

Subpart D—Station Operating Requirements

19.61 Permissible communications.
19.62 Station identification.
19.63 Remote control.
19.64 Suspension of transmission required.
19.71 Operator requirements.
19.72 Posting of station licenses.
19.73 Inspection of stations.
19.74 Inspection and maintenance of tower marking and associated control equipment.
19.81 Answers to notices of violations.
19.82 Recording of tower light inspections.
19.83 False signals.
19.91 Station locations.
19.92 Control of transmitters.
19.93 Civil defense communications.

Subpart E—CONELRAD

19.101 Scope and objective.
19.102 Alerting.
19.103 Operation during a CONELRAD Radio Alert.
10.104 Special conditions.
19.105 Radio All Clear.
19.106 Tests.
19.107 Record entries.

AUTHORITY: §§ 19.1 to 19.107 issued under sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 19.1 Basis and purpose. The rules and regulations set forth in this part are issued pursuant to the provisions of Title III of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which vests authority in the Federal Communications Commission to regulate radio transmissions and to issue licenses for radio stations. The rules in this part are designed to provide for private short-distance radiocommunications, radio signaling, and the control of remote objects or devices by means of radio, and to provide procedures whereby manufacturers of radio equipment to be used or operated in the Citizens Radio Service may obtain type acceptance and/or type approval of such equipment as may be appropriate.

§ 19.2 Definitions. For the purpose of this part, the following definitions shall be applicable. For other definitions, refer to Part 2 of this chapter.

(a) Definitions of services.

Base station. A land station in the land mobile service carrying on a service with land mobile stations.

Citizens Radio Service. A radio communications service of fixed, land, and mobile stations intended for personal or business radiocommunication, radio signalling, control of remote objects or devices by means of radio, and other purposes not specifically prohibited in this part.

Fixed service. A service of radiocommunication between specified fixed points.

Mobile service. A service of radiocommunication between mobile and land stations or between mobile stations.

(b) Definitions of stations.

Class A citizens radio station. A station in the Citizens Radio Service operating on an assigned frequency available to that service in the 460–470 Mc frequency band, with an authorized plate input power of 60 watts or less. (Class A stations are authorized to be operated as mobile stations, as base stations, or as fixed stations.)

Class B citizens radio station. A mobile station in the Citizens Radio Service operating on an authorized frequency available to that service in the 460–470 Mc frequency band, with an authorized plate input power of 5 watts or less. (Class B stations are authorized to be operated as mobile stations only; however, they may be operated at fixed locations in accordance with other provisions of this part.)

Class C citizens radio station. A mobile station in the Citizens Radio Service operating on an authorized frequency in the 26.96–27.23 Mc frequency band, or on the frequency 27.255 Mc, for the remote control of objects or devices by radio, or for the remote actuation of devices which are used solely as a means of attracting attention. (Class C stations are authorized to operate as mobile stations only; however, they may be operated at fixed locations in accordance with other provisions of this part.)

Class D citizens radio station. A mobile station in the Citizens Radio Service operating on an authorized frequency in the 26.96–27.23 Mc frequency band with an authorized plate input power of 5 watts or less for radiotelephony only. (Class D stations are authorized to operate as mobile stations only; however, they may be operated at fixed locations in accordance with other provisions of this part.)

Fixed station. A station in the fixed service.

Land station. A station in the mobile service not intended for operation while in motion. (Of the various types of land stations, only the base station is pertinent to this part.)

Mobile station. A station in the mobile service intended to be used while in motion or during halts at unspecified points. (For the purposes of this part, the term includes hand-carried and neck-carried units.)

(c) Miscellaneous definitions.

Antenna structure. The term "antenna structure" includes the radiating system, its supporting structures, and any surmounting appurtenances.

Assigned frequency. The frequency appearing on a station authorization, from which the carrier frequency may deviate by an amount not to exceed that permitted by the frequency tolerance.

Authorized bandwidth. The maximum width of the band of frequencies, as specified in the authorization, to be occupied by an emission.

Bandwidth occupied by an omission. The band of frequencies comprising 99 percent of the total radiated power extended to include any discrete frequency on which the power is at least 0.25% of the total radiated power.

Harmful interference. Any radiation or any induction which endangers the functioning of a radionavigation service or of a safety service, or obstructs or repeatedly interrupts a radio service operating in accordance with applicable laws, treaties, and regulations.

Landing area. A landing area means any locality, either of land or water, including airports and intermediate landing fields, which is used or approved for use for the landing and take-off of aircraft, whether or not facilities are provided for the shelter, servicing, or repair of aircraft, or for receiving or discharging passengers or cargo.

Station authorization. Any construction permit, license, or special temporary authorization issued by the Commission.

§ 19.3 Policy governing the assignment of frequencies. (a) The frequencies which may be assigned to Class A stations in the Citizens Radio Service, and the frequencies which are available for use by Class B, C, or D stations, are listed in Subpart C. All applicants for, and licensees of, stations in this service shall cooperate in the selection and use of the frequencies assigned or authorized, in order to minimize interference and thereby obtain the most effective use of the authorized facilities. Each frequency available for assignment to, or use by, stations in this service is available on a shared basis only, and will not be assigned for the exclusive use of any one applicant; such use may also be restricted to one or more specified geographical areas.

(b) In no case will more than one frequency be assigned to Class A stations for the use of a single applicant in any given area until it has been demonstrated conclusively to the Commission that the asignment of an additional frequency is essential to the operation proposed.

§ 19.4 General citizenship restrictions. A station license may not be granted to or held by:

(a) Any alien or the representative of any alien;

(b) Any foreign government or the representative thereof;

(c) Any corporation organized under the laws of any foreign government;

(d) Any corporation of which any officer or director is an alien;

(e) Any corporation of which more than one-fifth of the capital stock is owned of record or voted by: Aliens or their representatives; a foreign government or representative thereof; or any corporation organized under the laws of a foreign country;

(f) Any corporation directly or indirectly controlled by any other corporation of which any officer or more than one-fourth of the directors are aliens, if the Commission finds that the public interest will be served by the refusal or revocation of such license; or

(g) Any corporation directly or indirectly controlled by any other corporation of which more than one-fourth of the capital stock is owned of record or voted by: Aliens or their representatives; a foreign government or representatives thereof; or any corporation organized under the laws of a foreign government, if the Commission finds that the public interest will be served by the refusal or revocation of such license.

SUBPART B—APPLICATIONS AND LICENSES

§ 19.11 Station authorization required. No radio station shall be operated in the Citizens Radio Service except under and in accordance with an authorization granted by the Federal Communications Commission.

§ 19.12 Eligibility for station license. Subject to the general restrictions of § 19.4, any person is eligible to hold authorizations to operate stations in the Citizens Radio Service: Provided, That if the applicant for a Class A, Class B, or Class D station authorization is an individual or partnership, such individual or each partner is eighteen or more years of age; or if the applicant for a Class C station authorization is an individual or partnership, such individual or each partner is twelve or more years of age: And provided further, That not more than one person shall be eligible as licensee of the same transmitting equipment.

NOTE: While the basis of eligibility in this service includes any state, territorial or local governmental entity or any organization or association operating by the authority of such governmental entity, including any duly authorized state, territorial or local civil defense organization, it should be noted that the frequencies available to stations in this service are shared without distinction between all licensees and that during periods of normal operation no protection can be afforded to the communications of any station in this service, even when involving the protection of life or property, from interference which may be caused by the operation of other authorized stations.

§ 19.13 Filing of applications. (a) To assure that necessary information is supplied in a consistent manner by all persons, standard forms are prescribed for use in connection with the majority of applications and reports submitted for Commission consideration. Standard numbered forms applicable to the Citizens Radio Service are discussed in § 19.15 and may be obtained from the Washington 25, D. C., office of the Commission, or from any of its engineering field offices.

(b) An application for any class citizens radio station authorization and all correspondence relating thereto shall be submitted to the Commission's office at Washington 25, D. C., and should be directed to the attention of the Secretary. Applications involving Class C or Class D station equipment which is neither type approved nor crystal controlled, whether of commercial or home construction, shall be accompanied by supplemental data describing in detail the design and construction of the transmitter and the methods employed in testing it to determine compliance with the technical requirements set forth elsewhere in this part.

(c) Unless otherwise specified, an application shall be filed at least sixty days prior to the date on which it is desired that Commission action thereon be completed. In any case where the applicant has made timely and sufficient application for renewal of license, in accordance with the Commission's rules, no license with reference to any activity of a continuing nature shall expire until such application shall have been finally determined.

(d) Failure on the part of the applicant to provide all the information required by the application form, or to supply the necessary exhibits or supplementary statements may constitute a defect in the application.

§ 19.14 Who may sign applications. The application for an authorization shall be signed under oath or affirmation by the applicant if the applicant be an individual, by any one of the partners if an applicant be a partnership, by an officer if the applicant be a corporation, or by a member who is an officer if the applicant be an unincorporated association: Provided, however, That applications may be signed by the attorney for an applicant in case of physical disability of the applicant or his absence from the continental United States. If it be made by a person other than the applicant, he must set forth in the verification the grounds of his belief as to all matters not stated upon his knowledge and the reason why it is not made by the applicant.

§ 19.15 Standard forms to be used—(a) FCC Form 505, Application for Citizens Radio License. This form shall be used when:

(1) Application is made for a new Class A base station or fixed station authorization. Separate applications shall be submitted for each proposed base or fixed station at different fixed locations; however, all equipment intended to be operated at a single fixed location is considered to be one station which may, if necessary, be classed as both a base station and a fixed station.

(2) Application is made for a new Class A, Class B, Class C, or Class D station authorization for any required number of mobile units, including hand-carried and pack-carried units) to be operated as a group in a single radiocommunication system. Separate application shall be submitted for each proposed Class A, Class B, Class C, or Class D mobile station; however, an application for Class A authorization for mobile units may be combined with the application for a single Class A base station authorization when such mobile units are to be operated with that base station only.

(3) Application is made for station license of any Class A base station or fixed station upon completion of construction or installation in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in any construction permit required to be issued for that station.

(4) Application is made for modification of any existing Class A, Class B, Class C, or Class D station authorization in those cases where prior Commission approval of certain changes is necessary (see § 19.24).

(5) Application is made for renewal of an existing station authorization, or for reinstatement of an expired authorization.

(b) FCC Form 401–A, Description of Proposed Antenna Structure. This form shall be submitted in triplicate when specifically requested by the Commission in a particular case. Situations in which FCC Form 401–A may be required include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following:

(1) Where the antenna structure proposed to be erected will exceed an overall height of 170 feet above ground level, or

(2) Where the antenna structure proposed to be erected will exceed an overall height of one foot above the established airport (landing area) elevation for each 200 feet of distance or fraction thereof from the nearest boundary of any such landing area.

§ 19.16 Amendment or dismissal of application. (a) Any application may be amended upon request of the applicant as a matter of right prior to the time the application is granted or designated for hearing. Each amendment to an application shall be signed, subscribed and submitted in the same manner and with the same number of copies as required for the original application.

(b) Any application may, upon written request signed by the applicant or his attorney, be dismissed without prejudice as a matter of right prior to the time the application is granted or designated for hearing.

§ 19.17 Transfer of license prohibited. A station authorization in the Citizens Radio Service may not be transferred or assigned. In lieu of such transfer or assignment, an application for new station authorization shall be filed in each case, and the previous authorization shall be forwarded to the Commission for cancellation.

§ 19.21 Defective applications. (a) If an applicant is requested by the Commission to file any documents or information not included in the prescribed application form, a failure to comply with such request will constitute a defect in the application.

(b) When an application is considered to be incomplete or defective, such application will be returned to the applicant, unless the Commission may otherwise direct. The reason for return of the applications will be indicated, and if appropriate, necessary additions or corrections will be suggested.

§ 19.22 Partial grant. Where the Commission, without a hearing, grants an application in part, or with any privileges, terms, or conditions other than those requested, the action of the Commission shall be considered as a grant of such application unless the applicant shall, within 30 days from the date on which such grant is made, or from its effective date if a later date is specified, file with the Commission a written request, rejecting the grant as made. Upon receipt of such request, the Commission will vacate its original action upon the application and, if necessary, set the application for hearing.

§ 19.23 License period. Unless otherwise stated in the authorization, licenses for all stations in the Citizens Radio Service will normally be issued for a term of five years from the date of original issuance, renewal or modification.

§ 19.24 Changes in authorized stations. Authority for certain changes in authorized stations must be obtained from the Commission before the changes are made, while other changes do not require prior Commission approval. The following paragraphs describe the conditions under which prior Commission approval is or is not necessary.

(a) Proposed changes which will result in operation inconsistent with any of the terms of the current authorization require that an application for modification of license be submitted to the Commission. Application for modification shall be submitted in the same manner as an application for a new station on FCC Form 505, and the licensee shall forward his existing authorization to the Commission for cancellation immediately upon receipt of the superseding authorization. Any of the following changes to the authorized stations may be made only upon approval by the Commission:

(1) Change the permanent address of the station licensee.

(2) Change the presently authorized location of a fixed transmitter or control point.

(3) Move, change the height of, or erect an antenna structure of the type which requires prior approval from the Commission as set forth in § 19.25 of this part.

(4) Increase the overall number of transmitters authorized.

(5) Make changes of any nature which may affect the operational characteristics of the transmitting equipment.

(6) Addition or deletion of control point(s) for presently authorized transmitter.

(7) Change or increase in the area of operation of a Class A station.

(8) Change the operating frequency of a Class A station.

(b) Proposed changes which will not depart from any of the terms of the outstanding authorization for the station involved may be made without prior Commission approval. Included in such changes is the substitution of various makes of transmitting equipment at any station provided that the particular equipment to be installed as included in the Commission's "Radio Equipment List, Part C", or, in the case of a Class C or Class D station using crystal control, the substitute equipment is crystal controlled; and provided the substitute equipment employs the same type of emission and does not exceed the frequency tolerance and power limitations prescribed for the particular class of station involved.

§ 19.25 Limitation on antenna structures. (a) No new antenna or antenna structures shall be erected for use by any station licensed or proposed to be licensed in this service, and no change shall be made in any existing antenna or antenna structures for use or intended to be used by any station licensed or proposed to be licensed in this service so as to increase its overall height above ground level, without prior approval from the Commission in any case when either:

(1) The antenna structures proposed to be erected will exceed an overall height of 170 feet above ground level, except where the antenna is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure, other than an antenna structure, and does not increase the overall height of such man-made structure by more than 20 feet; or

(2) The antenna structures proposed to be erected will exceed an overall height of one foot above the established airport (landing area) elevation for each 200 feet of distance or fraction thereof from the nearest boundary of such landing area, except where the antenna does not exceed 20 feet above the ground or where the antenna is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure, other than an antenna structure, or natural formation and does not increase the overall height of such man-made structure or natural formation by more than 20 feet. Application for Commission approval, if required, shall be submitted on FCC Form 505, unless specifically requested by the Commission to be filed on FCC Form 401–A.

(b) In cases where an FCC Form 401–A is required to be filed, further details as to whether an aeronautical study and/or obstruction marking may be required, as well as specifications for obstruction when required, may be obtained from Part 17 of this chapter.

(c) A permanently installed antenna for use with a Class B, Class C or Class D mobile station shall not exceed 20 feet in height above any man-made structure or natural formation (other than an antenna structure) on which it is mounted, and the distance from the transmitter of such station, or from the point from which the transmitter is controlled, to the center of the radiating portion of its antenna shall not exceed 20 feet in any case.

SUBPART C—TECHNICAL REGULATIONS

§ 19.31 Frequencies available. (a) The following frequencies are available for assignment to Class A base, mobile, or fixed stations, on a shared basis with other stations in the Citizens Radio Service:

Mc	Mc	Mc	Mc
462.55	463.15	465.30	465.90
462.60	463.20	465.35	465.95
462.65	464.75	465.40	466.00
462.70	464.80	465.45	466.05
462.75	464.85	465.50	466.10
462.80	464.90	465.55	466.15
462.85	464.95	465.60	466.20
462.90	465.05	465.65	466.25
462.95	465.10	465.70	466.30
463.00	465.15	465.75	466.35
463.05	465.20	465.80	466.40
463.10	465.25	465.85	466.45

(b) The frequency 465.00 Mc is available for use by Class B mobile stations under the conditions specified in §§ 19.33 to 19.35 on a shared basis with other stations in the Citizens Radio Service. In addition, a Class B mobile station employing equipment which has been type accepted for use by Class A citizens radio stations, is authorized to be operated on any of the frequencies listed in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) The following frequencies are available for use by Class C mobile stations when employing amplitude tone modulation or on-off keying of the unmodulated carrier for the remote control of objects or devices by radio, or for the remote actuation of devices which are used solely as a means of attracting attention, on a shared basis with other stations in the Citizens Radio Service, subject to no protection from interference due to the operation of industrial, scientific, or medical devices on the frequency 27.12 Mc.

Mc	Mc	Mc
26.995	27.095	27.195
27.045	27.145	[1] 27.255

[1] The frequency 27.255 Mc is shared with stations in other services.

(d) The following frequencies are available for use by Class D mobile stations employing radiotelephony only, on a shared basis with other stations in the Citizens Radio Service, and subject to no protection from interference due to the operation of industrial, scientific, or medical devices on the frequency 27.12 Mc.

Mc	Mc	Mc	Mc
26.965	27.035	27.115	27.185
26.975	27.055	27.125	27.205
26.985	27.065	27.135	27.215
27.005	27.075	27.155	27.255
27.015	27.085	27.165
27.025	27.105	27.175

(e) Subject to the proceeding in Docket No. 11959, the following frequencies are available for assignment to Class A fixed, base, or mobile stations, on a shared basis with other stations in the Citizens Radio Service:

Mc	Mc	Mc	Mc
460.05	460.30	460.55	460.80
460.10	460.35	460.60	460.85
460.15	460.40	460.65	460.90
460.20	460.45	460.70	460.95
460.25	460.50	460.75

(f) Upon specific request accompanying application for renewal of station authorization, a Class A citizens radio station which prior to August 1, 1958 operated on a frequency in the 460–470 Mc band other than one specified in the preceding paragraphs of this section, may be assigned that frequency for continued use until not later than June 15, 1963, subject to all other provisions of this part.

§ 19.32 Station power. The maximum plate power input to the anode (plate) circuit of the electron tube or tubes which supply energy to the radiating system of a station in this service shall not exceed the following values:

Class of station	Maximum plate power input
Class A	60 watts.
Class B	5 watts.
Class C	5 watts.[1]
Class D	5 watts.

[1] A maximum plate power input of 30 watts is permitted on the frequency 27.255 Mc only.

§ 19.33 Frequency tolerance. The carrier frequency of a station in this service shall be maintained within the following percentage of the authorized frequency:

Class of station	Maximum authorized plate power input	Frequency tolerance: Fixed and base	Frequency tolerance: Mobile
		Percent	Percent
A	3 watts or less	.001	.005
A	over 3 watts	.001	.001
B	3 watts or less		.5
B	over 3 watts		.3
C	5 watts or less [1]		.005
C	over 5 watts (27.255 Mc only)		.005
D	5 watts or less		.005

[1] Class C stations of 3 watts or less plate power input which are used solely for the remote control of objects or devices by radio (other than devices used solely as a means of attracting attention) are permitted a frequency tolerance of .01%.

§ 19.34 Types of emission. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, Class A stations in this service will normally be authorized to transmit radiotelephony only. The authorization to use radiotelephony will be construed to include the use of tone signals or signalling devices whose sole function is to establish and maintain voice communication between stations.

(b) Class B citizens radio stations are authorized to use amplitude or frequency modulation, or on-off unmodulated carrier, and may be used for radiotelephony to control remote objects or devices by means of radio, or to remotely actuate devices which are used as a means of attracting attention.

(c) Class C citizens radio stations are authorized to use amplitude tone modulation or on-off unmodulated carrier only, for the remote control of objects or devices by radio or for the remote actuation of devices which are used solely as a means of attracting attention. The authorization of a Class C station shall not be construed to include authority for the transmission of any form of intelligence.

(d) Class D citizens radio stations are authorized to use amplitude voice modulation for radiotelephone communications only. The authorization of Type A3 emission to a Class D station shall not be construed to include authority for the transmission of any form of radiotelegraphy; however, it will be construed to include the use of tone signals or signalling devices whose sole functions is to establish and maintain voice communication between stations.

(e) Other types of emission not described in paragraph (a) of this section may be authorized for Class A citizens radio stations upon a showing of need therefor. An application requesting such authorization shall fully describe the emission desired, shall indicate the bandwidth required for satisfactory communication, and shall state the purpose for which such emission is required. For information regarding the classification of emissions and the calculation of bandwidth, reference should be made to Part 2 of this chapter.

§ 19.35 Emission limitations. (a) Each authorization issued to a Class A citizens radio station will show, as a prefix to the classification of the authorized emission, a figure specifying the maximum bandwidth to be occupied by the emission.

(b) All operation of a Class B citizens radio station (including tolerance and bandwidth occupied by the emission) shall be confined to the frequency band 462.525–467.475 Mc.

(c) Except in the case of Class B citizens radio stations operating only on the frequency 465.00 Mc (see § 19.31 (b)), the maximum authorized bandwidth of the emission of any station employing amplitude modulation (Type A2 or A3 emission) shall be 8 kilocycles, and the maximum authorized bandwidth of the emission of any station employing frequency or phase modulation (Type F2 or F3 emission) shall be 40 kilocycles. The use of Type F2 or F3 emission in the frequency band 26.96–27.28 Mc is not authorized.

(d) For the purpose of demonstrating compliance with paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section, the following limits apply:

(1) Any emission appearing on any frequency removed from the carrier frequency by at least 50 percent, but not more than 100 percent, of the maximum authorized bandwidth shall be attenuated not less than 25 db below the unmodulated carrier.

(2) Any harmonic or other spurious emission appearing on any frequency removed from the carrier frequency by at least 100 percent of the maximum authorized bandwidth shall be attenuated below the unmodulated carrier by not less than the amount indicated in the following table:

Maximum authorized plate power input to the final radio frequency stage:	Attenuation (db)
Over 3 watts	50
3 watts or less	[1] 40

[1] In the case of Class B stations having a maximum plate power input to the final radio frequency stage of 3 watts or less, any emission appearing on any frequency that falls within a band allocated to industrial, scientific, and medical equipment under the provisions of Part 2 of this chapter shall be attenuated below the unmodulated carrier by not less than 30 db.

(e) When an unauthorized emission results in harmful interference, the Commission may, in its discretion, require appropriate technical changes in equipment to alleviate the interference.

§ 19.36 Modulation limitations. (a) When the radio frequency carrier of a station in this service is amplitude modulated, such modulation shall not exceed 100 percent on positive or negative peaks.

(b) Except in the case of Class B citizens radio stations operating only on the frequency 465.00 Mc (see § 19.31 (b)), the frequency deviation of any frequency modulated transmitter operated in this service shall not exceed ±15 kc and the simultaneous amplitude modulation and frequency or phase modulation of a transmitter is not authorized.

§ 19.41 Technical measurements. Where it appears that a station in this service is not being operated in accordance with the technical standards therefor, the Commission may require the licensee to provide for such tests as may be necessary to determine whether the equipment is capable of meeting these standards.

§ 19.42 Acceptability of transmitters for licensing. (a) From time to time the Commission will publish a list of equipment entitled "Radio Equipment List, Part C". Copies of this list are available for inspection at the Commission's offices in Washington, D. C., and at each of its field offices. Equipment once placed on that list will continue to be included on the list until it is removed therefrom by Commission action in accordance with the provisions of Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) Except for crystal-controlled transmitters used at Class C and Class D stations, each transmitter utilized by a station authorized for operation under this part must be a type which is included on the Commission's current "Radio Equipment List, Part C" and designated for use in this service. Until June 15, 1963, however, equipment on that list on September 1, 1958 may continue to be used, provided the operation of such equipment does not result in harmful interference due to the failure of that equipment to comply with the current technical standards of this part.

§ 19.43 Type acceptance of equipment. (a) Any manufacturer of a transmitter to be built for use at Class A stations in this service may request "type acceptance" for such transmitter following the type acceptance procedures set forth in Part 2 of this chapter.

(b) Type acceptance for an individual transmitter may also be requested by an applicant for a station authorization by following the type acceptance procedures set forth in Part 2 of this chapter. Such transmitters, if accepted, will not normally be included on the Commission's "Radio Equipment List, Part C", but will be individually enumerated on the station authorization.

(c) Additional rules with respect to type acceptance are set forth in Part 2 of this chapter. These rules include information with respect to withdrawal of type acceptance, modification of type-accepted equipment and limitations on the findings upon which type acceptance is based.

§ 19.44 Submission of Class B and non-crystal controlled Class C or Class D station equipment for type approval. (a) Manufacturers of equipment capable of being used or operated in this service may submit units of such equipment to the Commission for type approval, upon grant of request therefor made in writing by the manufacturer to the Secretary of the Commission. Such a request normally will not be granted unless at least 100 units of the model to be submitted are scheduled for manufacture. When advised by the Commission, the applicant must send a typical production model or prototype of the particular equipment complete with, tubes and power supply to the Commission's laboratory at Laurel, Maryland, for tests. All instructions which are intended to be supplied to the purchaser of the equipment shall be included. Transportation of the equipment and associated documents to and from the laboratory shall be at no cost to the Government.

(b) Prior to approval or rejection of the equipment, the results of these tests will be made known only to the responsible Government officials and to the Commission. An official report of the tests will be made available only to the manufacturer involved; however, the Commission will publish from time to time lists of approved equipment.

(c) The prescribed tests may be conducted by the Federal Communications Commission or by any other cooperating Government department. In addition, field tests, as deemed necessary or desirable by the Commission, may be carried out by authorized Government personnel to determine the reliability of the equipment under operating conditions comparable to those expected to be encountered in actual service.

(d) Type approval is not required for Class C or Class D station equipment employing crystal control; however, the licensee may be required to certify that the frequency stability of the crystal-controlled transmitter is within the tolerance specified elsewhere in this part.

§ 19.45 Type approval of receiver-transmitter combinations. Type approval will not be issued for transmitting equipment for operation under this part when such equipment is enclosed in the same cabinet, is constructed on the same chassis in whole or in part, or is identified with a common type or model number with a radio receiver, unless such receiver has been certificated to the Commission as complying with the requirements of Part 15 of this chapter.

§ 19.51 Minimum equipment specifications. Equipment submitted for type approval in this service shall be capable of meeting the technical specifications contained in this part for Class B, Class C or Class D stations, and, in addition, shall comply with the following:

(a) Any basic instructions concerning the proper adjustment, use or operation of the equipment that may be necessary shall be attached to the equipment in a suitable manner and in such positions as to be easily read by the operator.

(b) A durable nameplate shall be mounted on each transmitter showing the name of the manufacturer, the type or model designation, and providing suitable space for permanently displaying the transmitter serial number, FCC type approval number, and the class of station for which approved.

(c) The transmitter shall be designed, constructed, and adjusted by the manufacturer to operate on a frequency or frequencies available to the class of station for which type approval is sought. In designing the equipment, every reasonable precaution shall be taken to protect the user from high voltage shock and radio frequency burns. Connections to batteries (if used) shall be made in such a manner as to permit replacement by the user without causing improper operation of the transmitter. Generally accepted modern engineering principles shall be utilized in the generation of radio frequency currents so as to guard against unnecessary interference to other services. In cases of harmful interference arising from the design, construction, or operation of the equipment, the Commission may require appropriate technical changes in equipment to alleviate interference.

(d) Controls which may effect changes in the carrier frequency of the transmitter shall not be accessible from the exterior of any unit unless such accessibility is specifically approved by the Commission.

§ 19.52 Test procedure. Type approval tests to determine whether radio equipment meets the technical specifications contained in this part will be conducted under the following conditions:

(a) Gradual ambient temperature variations from 0° to 125° F.

(b) Relative ambient humidity from 20 to 95 percent. This test will normally consist of subjecting the equipment for at least three consecutive periods of 24 hours each, to a relative ambient humidity of 20, 60, and 95 percent, respectively, at a temperature of approximately 80° F.

(c) Movement of transmitter or objects in the immediate vicinity thereof.

(d) Power supply voltage variations normally to be encountered under actual operating conditions.

(e) Additional tests as may be prescribed, if considered necessary or desirable.

§ 19.53 Certificate of type approval. A certificate or notice of type approval, when issued to the manufacturer of equipment intended to be used or operated in the Citizens Radio Service, constitutes a recognition that on the basis of the test made, the particular type of equipment appears to have the capability of functioning in accordance with the technical specifications and regulations contained in this part: Provided, That all such additional equipment of the same type is properly constructed, maintained, and operated: And provided further, That no change whatsoever is made in the design or construction of such equipment except upon specific approval by the Commission.

§ 19.54 Acceptance of composite equipment. (a) Class B and non-crystal controlled Class C or Class D station equipment constructed by a manufacturer in lots of less than 100 units will not, in the usual case, be tested by the Commission for the purpose of granting type approval. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, an applicant in this service who proposes to use or operate composite or other equipment which has not been type approved shall supply complete information showing that the equipment fully complies with appropriate station requirements, using supplementary sheets which shall accompany the standard application form. The Commission may, at its discretion, require that such equipment or a prototype thereof be made available to its laboratory at Laurel, Maryland, for testing in accordance with the procedures described elsewhere in this part, as applicable to equipment to be manufactured in lots of more than 100 units. In addition, field tests as deemed necessary or desirable may be carried out by authorized Government personnel to determine the reliability of the equipment under operating conditions comparable to those encountered in actual service.

(b) In the case of Class C or Class D equipment employing crystal control, supplemental technical information is not required to accompany the standard application form: Provided, however, That it is clearly indicated that the equipment employs crystal control: And provided further, That the Commission may require the applicant to certify that the frequency stability of the crystal-controlled transmitter is within the tolerance specified elsewhere in this part.

SUBPART D—STATION OPERATING REQUIREMENTS

§ 19.61 Permissible communications. (a) Each station in the Citizens Radio Service is authorized to communicate with other stations in the same service. Communications with stations licensed under other parts of this chapter or with any United States Government or foreign station is prohibited, except for communications relating to civil defense in accordance with the provisions of § 19.93.

(b) Any station licensed in this service may be used to provide a radiocommunication service to any person, including the licensee of another station in the same service, on a strictly voluntary and no-charge basis; however, no other form of cooperative or shared use of facilities licensed in this service shall be permitted.

(c) All communications shall be limited to the minimum practicable transmission time.

(d) A citizens radio station may not be used for any purpose contrary to federal, state, or local law; or to carry communications for hire; or to carry program material of any kind either directly or indirectly for use in connection with radio broadcasting; or for direct transmission to the public through public address systems or by any other means.

(e) The licensee of any station in this service may, during a period of emergency in which normal communications facilities are disrupted or inadequate as a result of hurricane, flood, earthquake, enemy action, or similar disaster, utilize such station for emergency communications without regard to the provisions of this section other than the following:

(1) As soon as possible after the beginning of such emergency use, notice shall be sent to the Commission in Washington, D. C., or to the Engineer in Charge of the Radio District in which the station is located, stating the nature of the emergency and the use to which the station is being put;

(2) The emergency use of the station shall be discontinued as soon as substantially normal communication facilities are again available, and the Commission in Washington, D. C., or the Engineer in Charge, shall be notified immediately when such special use of the station is terminated; and

(3) The Commission may at any time order discontinuance of such special use of the authorized facilities.

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, a citizens radio station used to control remote objects or devices by means of radio, or to remotely actuate devices which are used as a means of attracting attention, shall not be operated in a manner which involves the continuous radiation of energy.

(g) Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, a citizens radio station which is used for the purpose of communication by radiotelephony shall not emit a carrier wave unless modulated for the purpose of communication, and a citizens radio station which is used for the purpose of communication by radiotelegraphy of any type shall not emit a carrier wave except when telegraph signals are being transmitted.

(h) A citizens radio station may transmit a continuous carrier, without being modulated by any form of communication or signal, under the following conditions only:

(1) When transmitting for brief tests or when adjustments are being made to the transmitter; or

(2) When a station which is being used to control model aircraft by means of interrupted tone modulation is actually controlling such aircraft in flight.

§ 19.62 Station identification. The registered serial number appearing on each citizens radio station license shall be the call sign assigned to such station. A citizens radio station shall transmit its call sign at the beginning and at the termination of all communications as well as at least once every ten minutes during every transmission of more than ten minutes' duration: Provided, That, in the case of stations conducting an exchange of several transmissions in sequency with each transmission less than three minutes' duration, the call sign of the communicating stations need be transmitted only once every ten minutes of operation. Stations operated solely for the radio control of remote objects or devices, or to remotely actuate devices which are used solely as a means of attracting attention, are not required to identify their transmissions except upon specific instructions of the Commission.

§ 19.63 Remote control. A Class A citizens radio base or fixed station may be authorized to be used or operated by remote control from another fixed location or from mobile units: Provided, That adequate means are available to enable the person using or operating the station to render the transmitting equipment inoperative from the remote control position or positions should improper operation occur. The authority for such remote control shall be shown on the station authorization.

§ 19.64 Suspension of transmissions required. The radiations of the transmitter shall be suspended immediately upon detection or notification of a deviation from the technical requirements of the rules in this part until such deviation is corrected.

§ 19.71 Operator requirements. (a) Except for stations using manually operated telegraphy transmitting by any type of the Morse Code, no operator license is required for the operation of a citizens radio station during the course of normal rendition of service.

(b) Stations using manually operated telegraphy transmitting by any type of the Morse Code may, during the course of normal rendition of service, be operated only by the holders of either a Radiotelegraph Third Class Operator Permit or a higher class of radiotelegraph operator license (except the holders of Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second Class Operator Licenses).

(c) In any case, however, all transmitter adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing, or maintenance of a radio station, which may affect the proper operation of such station, shall be made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a first or second-class commercial radio operator license, either radiotelephone or radiotelegraph, as may be appropriate for the type of emission employed, and such person shall be responsible for the proper functioning of the station equipment.

§ 19.72 Posting of station license. (a) The current authorization of each citizens radio station operated at a fixed location shall be permanently posted at the principal fixed location from which the station is controlled when being operated, and a photocopy thereof shall be permanently posted at all other fixed locations (if any) from which the station is controlled. In addition, if the transmitter of any such station is not readily accessible for inspection by Commission representatives or is not in view from at least one location at which the station license or a photocopy thereof is required to be posted, an executed Transmitter Identification Card (FCC Form 452–C, Revised) shall be affixed to that transmitter.

(b) The current authorization of each citizens radio station operated as a mobile station or operated at temporary locations may be retained in the permanent records of the station and need not be posted; however, an executed Transmitter Identification Card (FCC Form 452–C, Revised) shall be affixed to each transmitter which is operated as a mobile, station or is operated at temporary locations, and to the control equipment of each such transmitter in every case where such transmitter is not in view from the location from which the station is controlled.

(c) The following information shall be entered on each Transmitter Identification Card (FCC Form 452–C, Revised) which is used for transmitter or station identification in accordance with the foregoing:

(1) Name of the station licensee;

(2) Station call sign assigned by the Commission (see § 19.62);

(3) Exact location or locations of the permanent station records;

(4) Frequency or frequencies upon which the associated transmitter is adjusted to operate; and

(5) Signature of the licensee.

§ 19.73 Inspection of stations. All stations and records of stations in the Citizens Radio Service shall be made available for inspection upon request of an authorized representative of the Commission made to the licensee or to his representative.

§ 19.74 Inspection and Maintenance of tower marking and associated control equipment. The licensee of any radio station which has an antenna structure required to be painted or illuminated pursuant to the provisions of section 303 (q) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and/or Part 17 of this chapter, shall operate and maintain the tower marking and associated control equipment in accordance with the following:

(a) The tower lights shall be observed at least once each 24 hours, either visually or by observing an automatic and properly maintained indicator designed to register any failure of such lights, to insure that all such lights are functioning properly as required; or, alternatively, there shall be provided and properly maintained an automatic alarm system designed to detect any failure of the tower lights and to provide indication of such failure to the licensee.

(b) Any observed or otherwise known failure of a code or rotating beacon light or top light not corrected within thirty minutes, regardless of the cause of such failure, shall be reported immediately by telephone or telegraph to the nearest Airways Communication Station or Office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Further notification by telephone or telegraph shall be given immediately upon resumption of the required illumination.

(c) All automatic or mechanical control devices, indicators, and alarm systems associated with the tower lights shall be inspected at intervals not to exceed three months, to insure that such apparatus is functioning properly.

(d) All lighting shall be exhibited from sunset to sunrise unless otherwise specified in the instrument of station authorization.

(e) A sufficient supply of spare lamps shall be maintained for immediate replacement purposes at all times.

(f) All towers shall be cleaned or repainted as often as is necessary to maintain good visibility.

§ 19.81 Answers to notices of violations. (a) Any licensee receiving official notice of a violation of the terms of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, any legislative act, Executive Order, treaty to which the United States is a party, or the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, shall within 10 days from such receipt send a written answer direct to the office of the Commission originating the official notice. If an answer cannot be sent or acknowledgment made within such three-day period by reason of illness or other unavoidable circumstances, acknowledgment and answer shall be made at the earliest practicable date with a satisfactory explanation of the delay. The answer to each notice shall be complete in itself and shall not be abbreviated by reference to other communications or answers to other notices.

(b) If the notice relates to some violation that may be due to the physical or electrical characteristics of the transmitting apparatus, the answer shall state fully what steps, if any, are taken to prevent future violations.

(c) If the notice of violation relates to some lack of attention to, or improper operation of, the station, the name of the person who caused the violation shall be given.

§ 19.82 Recording of tower light inspections. When a station in this service has an antenna structure which is required to be illuminated, appropriate entries shall be made in the station records, and retained for a period of at least one year, as follows:

(a) The time the tower lights are turned on and off each day, if manually controlled.

(b) The time the daily check of proper operation of the tower lights was made.

(c) In the event of any observed or otherwise known failure of a tower light:

(1) Nature of such failure.

(2) Date and time the failure was observed or otherwise noted.

(3) Date, time and nature of the adjustments, repairs, or replacements made.

(4) Identification of the Airways Communication Station (Civil Aeronautics Administration) notified of the failure of any code or rotating beacon light not corrected within thirty minutes, and the date and time such notice was given.

(5) Date and time notice was given to the Airways Communication Station (Civil Aeronautics Administration) that the required illumination was resumed.

(d) Upon completion of the three-month periodic inspection required by § 19.74 (c):

(1) The date of the inspection and the condition of all tower lights and associated tower lighting control devices, indicators, and alarm systems.

(2) Any adjustments, replacements, or repairs made to insure compliance with the lighting requirements and the date such adjustments, replacements, or repairs were made.

§ 19.83 False signals. No person shall transmit false or deceptive signals or communications by radio, or identify the station he is using or operating by means of a call sign or signal which has not been assigned by proper authority to that station, or refuse to properly identify himself and the radio station he is using or operating when such identification is possible under the conditions of use or operation in effect at the time such identification is requested.

§ 19.91 Station location. (a) The specific location of each Class A base station and each Class A fixed station and the specific area of operation of each Class A mobile station shall be indicated in the application for license. Authorization will not be granted for the operation of a base station or a fixed station in this service at unspecified temporary fixed locations.

(b) A Class A mobile station authorized in this service may be used or operated anywhere in the United States subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section: Provided, That when the area of operation is changed for a period exceeding seven days, the following procedure shall be observed:

(1) When the change of area of operation occurs inside the same Radio District, the Engineer in Charge of the Radio District involved and the Commission's office, Washington 25, D. C., shall be notified.

(2) When the station is moved from one Radio District to another, the Engineers in Charge of the two Radio Districts involved and the Commission's office, Washington 25, D. C., shall be notified.

(c) A Class B, Class C or Class D mobile station may be used or operated anywhere in the United States subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) A mobile station authorized in this service may be used or operated on any craft or vehicle: Provided, That when such craft or vehicle is outside the territorial limits of the United States, the station, its operation, and its operator shall be subject to the governing provisions of any treaty concerning telecommunications to which the United States is a party, and when within the territorial limits of any foreign country, the station shall be subject also to such laws and regulations of that country as may be applicable.

§ 19.92 Control of transmitters. All transmitters licensed in the Citizens Radio Service must at all times be under the control of the licensee. The licensee shall not transfer, assign, or dispose of, in any manner, directly or indirectly, the operating authority under his station license.

§ 19.93 Civil defense communications. A licensee of a station authorized under this part may use the licensed radio facilities for the transmission of messages relating to civil defense activities in connection with official tests or drills conducted by, or actual emergencies proclaimed by, the civil defense agency having jurisdiction over the area in which the station is located: Provided, That:

(a) The operation of the radio station shall be on a voluntary basis.

(b) The operation of the station shall not conflict with CONELRAD requirements.

(c) Such communications are conducted under the direction of civil defense authorities.

(d) As soon as possible after the beginning of such use, the licensee shall send notice to the Commission in Washington, D. C., and to the Engineer in Charge of the Radio District in which the station is located, stating the nature of the communications being transmitted and the duration of the special use of the station. In addition, the Engineer in Charge shall be notified as soon as possible of any change in the nature of or termination of such use.

(e) In the event such use it to be a series of pre-planned tests or drills of the same or similar nature which are scheduled in advance for specific times or at certain intervals of time, the licensee may send a single notice to the Commission in Washington, D. C., and to the Engineer of the Radio District in which the station is located, stating the nature of the communications to be transmitted, the duration of each such test, and the times scheduled for such use. Notice shall likewise be given in the event of any change in the nature of or termination of any such series of tests.

(f) The Commission may, at any time, order the discontinuance of such special use of the authorized facilities.

SUBPART E—CONELRAD

§ 19.101 Scope and objective. (a) This subpart applies to all radio stations in the Citizens Radio Service located within the continental United States, and is for the purpose of providing for the alerting and operation of radio stations in this service during periods of enemy air attack or imminent threat thereof.

(b) The objective of these CONELRAD rules is to minimize the navigational aid that an enemy might obtain from the electromagnetic radiations from radio stations in the Citizens Radio Service while simultaneously providing for a continued radio service under controlled conditions when such operation is essential to the public welfare.

§ 19.102 Alerting. (a) Licensees of radio stations in the Citizens Radio Service are responsible for making provisions to receive the CONELRAD Radio Alert and the CONELRAD Radio All Clear.

(b) The CONELRAD Radio Alert will be initiated by the Commanding Officer of the Air Division (Defense) or higher military authority.

(c) Citizens Radio Service mobile radio systems, including stations at fixed locations associated therewith, and point-to-point systems where applicable, may, if desired, be alerted at a single point, normally the control point or the control center. The control point thus receiving the CONELRAD Radio Alert will be responsible for the dissemination of the CONELRAD Radio Alert to all stations integrated into the radio system or systems and insuring that all associated stations execute CONELRAD requirements immediately. Relaying of a CONELRAD Radio Alert is considered a transmission of extreme emergency affecting the national safety and may be carried on under the authority of § 19.103 (a) (1).

(d) The CONELRAD Radio Alert for the Citizens Radio Service may be received by one or more of the methods outlined below:

(1) By monitoring any standard, FM, or TV broadcast station by aural or automatic means, to receive the CONELRAD Radio Alert.

(2) By reception of the CONELRAD Radio Alert from a point that has received the CONELRAD Radio Alert from a standard, FM, or TV broadcast station.

(3) Radio station licensees desiring to receive the CONELRAD Radio Alert by a means not covered by subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph may request authority from the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission to receive the Alert in another manner. The request must include reason why methods described in subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph are not suitable and must fully describe the proposed method for receiving the Alert.

NOTE: Every standard, FM, and TV broadcast station will be notified of the CONELRAD Radio Alert by telephone calls or by radio broadcasts. Immediately upon receipt of the Radio Alert each standard, FM, and TV broadcast station will proceed as follows on its normally assigned frequency:

(1) Discontinue the normal program.

(2) Cut the transmitter carrier for approximately five seconds. (Sound carrier only for TV stations.)

(3) Return carrier to the air for approximately 5 seconds.

(4) Cut the transmitter carrier for approximately 5 seconds.

(5) Return carrier to the air.

(6) Broadcast 1000 cycle (approximate) steady state tone for fifteen seconds.

(7) Broadcast the CONELRAD Radio Alert message as follows: "We interrupt our normal program to cooperate in security and Civil Defense measures as requested by the United States Government. This is a CONELRAD Radio Alert. Normal broadcasting will now be discontinued for an indefinite period. Civil Defense information will be broadcast in most areas at 640 and 1240 on your regular radio receiver".

(8) The CONELRAD Radio Alert message will then be repeated.

(1) through (6) above is for the purpose of attracting the listeners' attention, or, if desired, to operate an automatic alert receiver or warning device. (Caution: (1) through (6) is a warning that a Radio Alert may follow; the actual Radio Alert signal is the spoken word in the form of the CONELRAD Radio Alert message.)

The CONELRAD Radio Alert message as set forth in (7) above, is worded in a manner suitable for reception by the public; however, the message is also the CONELRAD Radio Alert. When this CONELRAD Radio Alert message is received, all licensees must immediately comply with the CONELRAD operating procedure. The precise CONELRAD Radio Alert message, above, will be broadcast only in the event of an actual alert. In the event of a CONELRAD test or drill, broadcast stations will make an announcement that a test or drill is taking place.

(e) All radio stations in the Citizens Radio Service not directly receiving the CONELRAD Radio Alert must use caution in returning to the air after an "out of service" period, to insure that a CONELRAD Radio Alert is not in progress before making any transmissions.

§ 19.103 Operation during a CONELRAD Radio Alert. (a) Radio stations in the Citizens Radio Service, upon receipt of a CONELRAD Radio Alert, will interrupt any communications in progress, leave the air and maintain radio silence for the duration of the CONELRAD Radio Alert, except for transmissions handled in accordance with the following restrictions unless otherwise ordered by the Federal Communications Commission:

(1) No transmissions shall be made unless they are of extreme emergency nature affecting the national safety or the safety of people and property.

NOTE: Transmission affecting the safety or security of industrial plants, personnel or equipment and materials necessary to the national defense may be made. All transmissions not immediately necessary must be withheld until the CONELRAD Radio All Clear has been issued.

(2) All transmissions shall be as short as possible and the stations' carrier shall be removed from the air during periods of no message transmission.

(3) No station identification shall be given either by announcement of regularly assigned call sign or by announcement of geographical location. If identification is necessary to carry on the service, the use of special identifiers will be authorized.

§ 19.104 Special conditions. Licensees of radio stations or systems in the Citizens Radio Service, who for technical or operational reasons believe that compliance with § 19.103 cannot be met, may request a waiver of § 19.103. Such request must be made by letter to the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission, Washington 25, D. C., stating why § 19.103 cannot be complied with. The Commission upon investigation may modify the CONELRAD operating requirements of the station or system if it is found to be essential to the defense of the nation or the public welfare.

§ 19.105 Radio All Clear. The CONELRAD Radio All Clear will be initiated only by the Air Division (Defense) Commander or higher military authority and will be disseminated over the same channels as the CONELRAD Radio Alert. Broadcast stations will transmit the CONELRAD Radio All Clear message on normally assigned frequencies as follows:

The CONELRAD operating procedures have been ordered discontinued. All radio stations are authorized to return to normal operation on their regularly assigned frequencies:

I repeat

The CONELRAD operating procedures have been ordered discontinued. All radio stations are authorized to return to normal operation on their regularly assigned frequencies.

Radio stations and systems licensed in the Citizens Radio Service may resume normal operation when the CONELRAD Radio All Clear message is received unless otherwise restricted by order of the Federal Communications Commission.

§ 19.106 Tests. Tests of the CONELRAD alerting and operating systems may be conducted at appropriate intervals. Stations not normally in operation during the period of a test will not be required to take part. Tests of the operating system will not require the station to close down and will be conducted in a manner that will not interfere with the transmission of normal traffic. Reports of the results of such tests may be required in a form to be prescribed by the Commission.

§ 19.107 Record entries. Appropriate entries of all CONELRAD tests, drills, and operations shall be made in the station records.

[Rules Amdt. 15-3]

[Docket No. 12340; FCC 58-793]

PART 15—INCIDENTAL AND RESTRICTED RADIATION DEVICES

DATE WHEN CERTIFICATION IS REQUIRED

1. As the result of a petition from Vocaline Company of America, Inc., the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making to amend the receiver radiation rules in Part 15. It was proposed that the present receiver radiation limitations be relaxed to the extent that no limitation will apply in the case of radiation in the 460-470 Mc Citizens Radio band from super-regenerative receivers operating in that band.

2. The notice of proposed rule making concerning the subject docket stated that the Commission believes that Vocaline should not be required at this time to re-design its equipment to comply with the receiver radiation limits applicable to the UHF Citizens band. This view is based on the belief that such action would unduly restrict the availability of equipment to the public for use in the UHF Citizens band. We pointed out in our notice of proposed rule making that the proposed relaxation must be considered to be a temporary measure until such time as the Commission determines its course of action in Docket No. 11994.

3. On June 18, 1958, the Commission adopted an order (Docket No. 11959) providing for operations in the Citizens Radio Service on frequencies from 462.525 to 467.475 Mc. It is expected that Vocaline's equipment will be operated in this band of frequencies.

4. Comments from Vocaline Company of America support the Commission's proposal. Comments opposing the proposal have been received from several public service agencies of the State of California. This group is generally concerned over the possibility of interference outside of the Citizens band where their operations take place. Opinion is also expressed that the Commission's proposed exemption is based on financial considerations purely and that no compromise should be made with any device known to be a potential source of interference to any authorized radio service.

5. The Vocaline petition presents three basic factors for consideration by the Commission. The first is the protection of authorized radio services. The second factor is whether or not the use and availability of super-regenerative receivers operative in the UHF Citizens band (Class B) should be continued for the present time. The third factor is the extent of the relief, if any, it is possible to give Vocaline based upon its petition.

6. Since the amendment promulgated herein does not relax the present radiation limits outside the UHF Citizens band, services operating outside this band are afforded the same protection as heretofore. Secondly, the Commission has stated in its proposal, and is still of the opinion that it should not restrict the present availability of UHF Citizens radio equipment. In order to continue such availability, the Commission concludes that relief should be granted to the extent set forth below.

7. The Commission believes that the public interest will be served by adopting the amendment set forth below to the rules governing incidental and restricted radiation devices. Authority for the adoption of the rules set forth below is contained in section 4 (i), 301 and 303 (f) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (47 U. S. C. 154 (i), 301, and 303 (f)).

8. It is ordered, That effective September 1, 1958, Part 15 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 303, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303)

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

Amend Part 15 as follows:

1. Change title of § 15.68 to read: § 15.68 Date when certification is required.

2. Add a new paragraph (d) to § 15.68 which reads:

(d) Super-regenerative receivers manufactured after October 1, 1956, for use by Class B stations in the Citizens Radio Service shall comply with the certification requirements of this subpart; except that, until November 1, 1963, radiation need not be limited within the band 462.525-467.475 Mc.

PART 16—LAND TRANSPORTATION RADIO SERVICES

CHANGE IN EFFECTIVE DATE OF CERTAIN TECHNICAL STANDARDS

The Commission's supplemental order No. 1—Part 16 of July 23, 1958 (Mimeo. 61086) in the above-entitled matter is corrected as follows:

Correct the percentage figures contained in the table in § 16.102 (a) as to the frequency stability specified in the frequency range 50-1000 Mc, for all fixed and base stations and all mobile stations over 3 watts is 0.0005 percent rather than 0.005. As corrected, the table in § 16.102 (a) reads as follows:

Frequency range	All fixed and base stations	All mobile stations
		Over 3 watts	3 watts or less
	Percent	Percent	Percent
Below 25 Mc	0.01	0.01	0.02
25 to 50 Mc	.002	.002	.01
50 to 1000 Mc	.0005	.0005	.001

PART 16—LAND TRANSPORTATION RADIO SERVICES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. On April 3, 1957, the Commission adopted a notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter which was released on April 9, 1957, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of April 16, 1957 (22 F. R. 2602). A further notice of proposed rule making, specifying certain changes in the original proposal, was adopted by the Commission on June 28, 1957, released on July 2, 1957, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 6, 1957 (22 F. R. 4765). The time allowed for the submission of comments in this matter has expired.

2. A first memorandum report and order in this matter was adopted by the Commission on January 22, 1958, released on January 23, 1958, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 28, 1958 (23 F. R. 535). In that order it was stated that the comments of the American Trucking Associations, Inc., as well as those of the Willett Company, having to do with the proposed inclusion in the Motor Carrier Radio Service of common and contract motor carriers of property operating solely within urban areas, would be separately considered at a later date. It was also stated that the matter of the availability of frequencies in the range 159.495-160.200 Mc to the Motor Carrier Radio Service and the matter of the date by which existing usage of frequencies not in conformity with the revised rules shall be discontinued would be determined at a later date. The Commission hereby proposes to conclude those determinations.

3. The comments of the Willett Company supported, and no comments were received in opposition to, the proposal that all common and contract carriers of property operating within single urban areas (local pickup and delivery services) be made eligible for station licenses in the Motor Carrier Radio Service. This proposal, therefore, is adopted substantially in the manner proposed; however, the matter of availability of frequencies for use by stations of such persons is reconsidered, as indicated below.

4. The American Trucking Associations, Inc. recommended that all of the frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band proposed to be made available to the Motor Carrier Radio Service should further be made available for assignment to stations of either local or long-haul motor carriers of property, without distinction, and contended that the proposed separation of those frequencies into two groups, with the respective groups available only for assignment to one category of user, would tend to promote inefficient frequency utilization. With this recommendation the Commission concurs; accordingly, all of those frequencies in the range 159.495–160.200 Mc made available to the Motor Carrier Radio Service will further be made available for assignment to base and mobile stations of any common or contract motor carrier of property, regardless of his area of operation.

5. In its original comments in this proceeding, the American Trucking Associations, Inc. recommended that provision be made for the use of the frequencies indicated above on either a simplex (single frequency) or duplex (two frequency) basis, at the option of the respective applicants for facilities. In a letter to the Commission under date of July 9, 1958, however, the Associations indicate that the matter has been reconsidered and suggest that the frequencies be assigned entirely on a basis of the single-frequency method of operation. With this latter view the Commission concurs. The frequencies in this band which are to be made available to stations in this service are not separated sufficiently to permit true duplex operation of base and mobile stations on any two frequencies in the band; hence, mobile relay or other similar simultaneous operation is not feasible. In addition, as discussed in paragraph 6, stations in the Railroad Radio Service presently authorized to operate on the primary frequencies in this band may continue to operate on such frequencies until November 1, 1963 and may therefore initially be afforded protection. For this reason, all of the frequencies in this band will not become immediately available in all areas for assignment to stations in the Motor Carrier Radio Service and the Commission believes that under the above limitations the two-frequency method of operation in the Motor Carrier Radio Service would not be practical. The Commission therefore finds that public interest, convenience and necessity will be best served by the limitation of these frequencies to the single-frequency method of operation, and the rule amendments adopted herewith will so provide.

6. In addition to the foregoing matters, there still remains the matter of the period of time during which stations in the Railroad Radio Service now operating on frequencies which they may no longer be assigned, may be permitted to continue that operation, particularly in view of the Commission's recent decisions in Docket No. 12295 permitting those stations to be moved to other frequencies which are now available for their use without necessarily meeting the new "narrow-band" technical standards. The Commission has considered all available information on this matter and has concluded that compliance with the "narrow-band" technical standards will automatically be necessary on the part of all stations involved to avoid adjacent-channel interference in many cases of 15 and 30 kc frequency separation and, hence, that such stations should not be required to move without an opportunity to amortize the investment in the existing station equipment. Accordingly, the amendments adopted herewith provide that stations in the Railroad Radio Service operating on frequencies which are no longer available for assignment to such stations may continue to be authorized to operate on those frequencies until not later than October 31, 1963, which is the last date on which operation of any equipment not meeting the new "narrow-band" technical standards is permitted, and that the radiocommunication systems comprising those stations may be expanded on those frequencies if necessary. However, it will be provided that no new systems will be permitted to be established on frequencies other than those currently available for assignment to the stations of those systems, and it is strongly urged, in view of the Commission's recent action in Docket No. 12295, that licensees in the Railroad Radio Service move to currently available frequencies as soon as possible.

7. In view of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the public interest, convenience and necessity will be served by the amendments herein ordered, which are issued pursuant to authority contained in sections 4 (i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended. Accordingly, it is ordered: That effective September 15, 1958, Part 16 of the Commission's rules, Land Transportation Radio Services, is amended as set forth below. And it is further ordered: That the proceedings in this docket are hereby terminated.

3. Amend § 16.352 by the addition of the following new paragraph:

(e) Base and mobile stations, operationally integrated with existing radiocommunication systems authorized prior to April 1, 1958 to operate on frequencies not currently available for assignment to such stations, may be authorized to operate on frequencies formerly assigned the stations of the respective systems until not later than October 31, 1963. During this period, the licensees of such stations may renew, modify, reinstate or assign their licenses in those cases where such assignment accompanies a change of ownership of the licensee's business to the assignee, and may expand existing systems when using such frequencies; however, they will not be authorized to establish any new systems using frequencies which are not currently available for assignment to such stations.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter F—Alaska Commercial Fisheries

PART 106—ALEUTIAN ISLANDS AREA

PART 108—KODIAK AREA

ADDITIONAL FISHING TIME

AUGUST 8, 1958.

Basis and purpose. An excellent run of pink salmon has developed in the eastern portion of the Aleutian Islands area, and as a result additional fishing time can be permitted there.

Conversely, the late pink salmon runs in the Kodiak area have not developed satisfactorily and it is necessary, therefore, to curtail the season.

1. Section 106.5 is amended by deleting "August 9" and substituting in lieu thereof "August 16, 1958."

2. Section 108.5 is amended in paragraphs (a) to (h) by deleting "August 13" wherever it appears and substituting in lieu thereof "August 8, 1958."

In order to permit full utilization of pink salmon runs in the Aleutian Islands area and to secure needed escapements of pink salmon in the Kodiak area, notice and public procedure on these amendments is impracticable and, therefore, they shall become effective immediately upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Internal Revenue Service

[26 CFR (1954) Parts 270, 275]

CIGARS, CIGARETTES, AND MANUFACTURED TOBACCO; MANUFACTURERS, IMPORTERS, AND DEALERS

MANUFACTURERS' REPORTS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U. S. C. 7805).

[SEAL] RUSSELL C. HARRINGTON,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to eliminate the requirements that manufacturers of tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes shall include in their reports the quantities of tobacco materials received, shipped, and lost or destroyed, and to make certain editorial and clarifying changes, regulations in 26 CFR Parts 270 and 275 are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. 26 CFR Part 270 is amended as follows:

(A) Section 270.143 is amended to read as follows:

§ 270.143 Reports—(a) General. Every manufacturer of cigars and cigarettes shall make a report, on Form 2136, to the assistant regional commissioner, of all (1) cigars and cigarettes manufactured, received, removed, furnished for personal consumption by employees, used for experimental purposes, reduced to material, and lost or destroyed, and (2) stamps received, used, and lost or destroyed. Such report shall be made at the times specified in this section and shall be made whether or not any operations or transactions occurred during the period covered by the report. A copy of each report shall be retained by the manufacturer for two years following the close of the calendar year covered in such reports, and made available for inspection by any revenue officer upon his request.

(b) Opening. An opening report, covering the period from the date of the opening inventory, or inventory made in connection with a superseding bond, to the end of the month, shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month in which the business was commenced.

(c) Monthly. A report for each full month shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month covered in the report.

(d) Special. A special report, covering the unreported period to the day preceding the date of any special inventory required by a revenue officer, shall be made with such inventory. Another report, covering the period from the date of such inventory to the end of the month, shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month in which the business was commenced.

(e) Monthly. A report for each full month shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month covered in the report.

(d) Special. A special report, covering the unreported period to the day preceding the date of any special inventory required by a revenue officer, shall be made with such inventory. Another report, covering the period from the date of such inventory to the end of the month, shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month in which the inventory was made.

(e) Closing. A closing report, covering the period from the first of the month to the date of the closing inventory, or the day preceding the date of an inventory made in connection with a superseding bond, shall be made with such inventory.

(68A Stat. 713; 26 U. S. C. 5722)

(B) Section 270.158 is amended by striking from the second sentence "§§ 270.142 and 270.143" and inserting in lieu thereof "§ 270.142".

(C) Section 270.159 is amended by striking "§§ 270.142 and 270.143" and inserting in lieu thereof "§ 270.142".

PAR. 2. 26 CFR Part 275 is amended as follows:

(A) Section 275.133 is amended to read as follows:

§ 275.133 Reports—(a) General. Every manufacturer of tobacco shall make a report, on Form 2134, to the assistant regional commissioner, of all (1) manufactured tobacco produced, received, removed, furnished for personal consumption or use by employees, used for experimental purposes, reduced to material, and lost or destroyed, and (2) stamps received, used, and lost or destroyed. Such report shall be made at the times specified in this section and shall be made whether or not any operations or transactions occurred during the period covered by the report. A copy of each report shall be retained by the manufacturer for two years following the close of the calendar year covered in such reports, and made available for inspection by any revenue officer upon his request.

(b) Opening. An opening report, covering the period from the date of the opening inventory, or inventory made in connection with a superseding bond, to the end of the month, shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month in which the business was commenced.

(c) Monthly. A report for each full month shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month covered in the report.

(d) Special. A special report, covering the unreported period to the day preceding the date of any special inventory required by a revenue officer, shall be made with such inventory. Another report, covering the period from the date of such inventory to the end of the month, shall be made on or before the 20th day following the end of the month in which the inventory was made.

(e) Closing. A closing report, covering the period from the first of the month to the date of the closing inventory, or the day preceding the date of an inventory made in connection with a superseding bond, shall be made with such inventory.

(68A Stat. 713; 26 U. S. C. 5722)

(B) Section 275.147 is amended by striking from the second sentence "§§ 275.132 and 275.133" and inserting in lieu thereof "§ 275.132".

(C) Section 275.148 is amended by striking "§§ 275.132 and 275.133" and inserting in lieu thereof "§ 275.132".

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULEMAKING

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing, in duplicate, to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U. S. C. 7805).

[SEAL] RUSSELL C. HARRINGTON,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In order to conform regulations to the provisions of Public Law 85-211 relative to the importation of certain samples of tobacco products without payment of the internal revenue tax imposed on, or by reason of, importation, 26 CFR Parts 270 and 275 are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Paragraph (a) of § 270.190 is amended by inserting a colon in place of the period at the end of the second sentence and adding, immediately thereafter, the expression "Provided, That cigars and cigarettes removed as samples pursuant to the provisions of § 270.196a shall be exempt from the provisions of this paragraph."

PAR. 2. A new § 270.196a to read as follows is added:

§ 270.196a Exemption of certain samples from internal revenue taxes. Samples of cigars and cigarettes, to be used in the United States by persons importing tobacco products in commercial quantities, are, subject to the limitations in this section, exempt from payment of any internal revenue tax imposed on, or by reason of, importation. These exemptions apply only to samples to be used for soliciting orders for products of foreign countries. Only one sample of cigars and cigarettes of the same brand, blend, size, shape, and weight, and having the same kind of wrapper, filter, mouthpiece, etc., shall be so admitted during any calendar quarter for the use of each such person. No such sample shall contain more than 3 cigars or 3 cigarettes.

(71 Stat. 486; 19 U. S. C. 1201)

PAR. 3. Paragraph (a) of § 275.180 is amended by inserting a colon in place of the period at the end of the second sentence and adding, immediately thereafter, the expression "Provided, That manufactured tobacco removed as samples pursuant to the provisions of § 275.185a shall be exempt from the provisions of this paragraph."

PAR. 4. A new § 275.185a to read as follows is added:

§ 275.185a Exemption of certain samples from internal revenue taxes. Samples of manufactured tobacco, to be used in the United States by persons importing tobacco products in commercial quantities, are, subject to the limitations in this section, exempt from payment of any internal revenue tax imposed on, or by reason of, importation. These exemptions apply only to samples to be used for soliciting orders for products of foreign countries. Only one sample of manufactured tobacco of the same kind, brand, blend, form, flavor, cut, grind, etc., shall be so admitted during any calendar quarter for the use of each such person. No such sample shall contain more than one-eighth of an ounce of manufactured tobacco.

(71 Stat. 486; 19 U. S. C. 1201)

PAR. 5. Since the amendments made by Public Law 85-211 apply to articles entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after October 17, 1957, the date on which the International Convention To Facilitate the Importation of Commercial Samples and Advertising Materials came into force for the United States, these regulations are being made retroactively effective to that date pursuant to section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 1003]

DOMESTIC DATES PRODUCED OR PACKED IN LOS ANGELES AND RIVERSIDE COUNTIES OF CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING WITH RESPECT TO ESTABLISHING FREE, RESTRICTED, AND WITHHOLDING PERCENTAGES FOR 1958-59 CROP YEAR

Notice is hereby given that there is being considered a proposal to establish for the 1958-59 crop year beginning August 1, 1958, free, restricted, and withholding percentages for marketable dates of the Deglet Noor, Zahidi, and Khadrawy varieties as hereinafter set forth. The proposed percentages, which are based on the unanimous recommendation of the Date Administrative Committee and other information available to the Secretary, would be established in accordance with the applicable provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 127 and Order No. 103 (7 CFR Part 1003), regulating the handling of domestic dates produced or packed in Los Angeles and Riverside Counties of California, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

Consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in triplicate with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and received not later than the close of business on the eighth day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. In the event the said eighth day should fall on a legal holiday, Saturday, or Sunday, such submissions must be received by the Director not later than the close of business on the next following business day.

The proposed percentages for marketable dates of the Deglet Noor variety and of the Zahidi variety are based on the following estimates of the Date Administrative Committee:

Factors	Deglet Noor	Zahidi
	1,000 pounds	1,000 pounds
1. Uncertified handler carryover (July 31, 1958)	5,331	96
2. Production of marketable dates	30,360	1,344
3. Total marketable dates subject to regulation	35,691	1,440
4. Trade demand	24,000	1,200
5. Plus desirable handler carryover (July 31, 1959)	5,000	100
6. Less certified handler carryover (July 31, 1958)	2,889	0
7. Free dates	26,111	1,300
8. Restricted dates (item 3 minus 7)	9,580	140

The indicated free poundage of Deglet Noor dates is 73.16 percent of the estimated total supply of such variety of dates subject to regulation. The committee unanimously recommended that the free percentage be rounded to 74 percent, making the restricted percentage 26 percent and the withholding percentage 35.1 percent.

The indicated free poundage of Zahidi dates is 90.28 percent of the estimated total supply of such variety of dates subject to regulation. The committee unanimously recommended that the free percentage be rounded to 90 percent, making the restricted percentage 10 percent and the withholding percentage 11.1 percent.

The committee's estimate of the production of marketable dates of the Khadrawy variety for the 1958-59 crop year is 539,000 pounds and approximates the committee's estimated trade demand therefor. Hence, no volume restrictions are proposed to be established for this variety.

Average return to California producers for 1958-59 crop dates will not exceed the price level specified in section 2 (1) of the aforesaid act.

On the basis of the committee's estimates and the information presently available on potential trade demand for the 1958-59 crop year, the percentages recommended by the committee appear desirable. Therefore, the proposal is as follows:

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: August 6, 1958.

Director,

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) that the Director of the Plant Quarantine Division, pursuant to the authority contained in amended § 319.37-18 (c) of the regulations supplemental to the quarantine relating to nursery stock, plants, and seeds for importation into the United States (7 CFR 319.37–18 (c), 23 F. R. 1715), under sections 1, 5, 7, and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 154, 159, 160, 162), is considering the issuance of administrative instructions to be designated as 7 CFR 319.37–18a to read as follows:

§ 319.37–18a Administrative instructions prescribing size limitations for cacti, cycads, yuccas, dracaenas, and plants of similar growth habits; interpretation regarding status of palms.—(a) Size limitations. Plants of cacti, cycads, yuccas, dracaenas, and plants of similar growth habits, not subject to size-age limitations under § 319.37–18 (a) or (b), whose growth habits simulate the woody character of trees and shrubs, may be imported under permit if they are:

(1) Small, young plants no greater than 12 inches in height, exclusive of foliage;

(2) Specimen plants and meet the conditions prescribed for the importation of such plants in § 319.37–18 (a).

(b) Interpretation. Palms are considered to be in the same category as woody plants and are subject to the limitations prescribed in § 319.37–18 (a).

The limitations proposed in these administrative instructions would reduce the pest risk incident to the importation of cacti, cycads, yuccas, dracaenas, and plants of similar growth habits, and would allow a more thorough and satisfactory inspection to be made than is possible with larger plants. It is anticipated that any plants that might be imported under the proposed limitations can be successfully transported and reestablished.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this matter should file the same with the Director of the Plant Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after the date of the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR Part 1]

[Docket No. 12571; FCC 58–788]

RULES OF PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter.

2. The Commission has before it for consideration a proposal to amend § 1.47 of the Commission's rules and regulations to provide as follows:

§ 1.47 Appeals to the Commission from rulings of the Motions Commissioner, Chief Hearing Examiner or Hearing Examiners. Rulings of the Motions Commissioner, Chief Hearing Examiner or Hearing Examiners may not be appealed to the Commission prior to its consideration of the entire record of the proceeding, except in extraordinary circumstances and with the consent of the officer by whom the rulings are made. An appeal shall be disallowed unless such officer finds, either on the record of the proceeding or by formal order, that the allowance thereof is necessary to prevent substantial detriment to the public interest or undue prejudice to any interested party. Requests for allowance of appeal shall be filed with the ruling officer within five days after such ruling is made or order released. In the event an appeal is allowed, any party to the proceeding may file a brief with the Commission within such period as the ruling officer directs. The rulings involved may be reviewed by the Commission in connection with its final action upon the merits of the proceeding, irrespective of the filing of an appeal or any action taken thereon.

3. The present Commission rule provides as follows: "Review of adverse ruling. Any interested party may obtain a review of an adverse ruling made by the Motions Commissioner, Chief Hearing Examiner or Hearing Examiner, (a) by filing, within five days after the order is released or the ruling is made, a petition for review by the Commission or (b) by specifically requesting review of the ruling complained of as part of the exceptions filed to the initial decision in accordance with the provisions of §§ 1.153 through 1.155."

4. The Commission is of the view that rule making proceedings should be instituted in this matter in order that all interested parties may submit their views.

5. Authority for the adoption of the amendment herein is contained in section 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

6. Any interested party who is of the view that the proposed amendment should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, may file with the Commission on or before September 30, 1958, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendment may also be filed on or before the same date. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments may be filed within 10 days from the last day for filing said original comments. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for the filing of such additional comments is established.

7. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.54 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 4, 1958.

[47 CFR Part 2]

[Docket No. 12572; FCC 58–789]

FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS AND RADIO TREATY MATTERS; GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter.

2. Part 2 of the Commission's rules now requires that, with certain exceptions, all assignments of frequencies be made in accordance with the table of frequency allocations. Some of the exceptions are contained in § 2.103 while others are contained in footnotes NG1 and US17 applicable to § 2.104 (a).

3. This proposal will consolidate these exceptions into one codified version of § 2.103 so as to delete the numerous references in the table of frequency allocations with respect to the above mentioned footnotes. This intent, with respect to footnote US17, is pointed out in the Commission's notice of proposed rule making in Docket No. 12404, adopted April 16, 1958.

4. There are several significant changes proposed with respect to certain bands of frequencies which may be authorized in the experimental service. Heretofore the Commission, in individual instances, has authorized such operation on a case by case basis utilizing the exceptions presently provided in § 2.103. These proposed changes are as follows:

(a) Specific exception is being made for radio-sounding stations which require the use of the technique of "sweeping" a portion of the spectrum.

(b) Experimental stations engaged in research, other than those in (a) above will be restricted to frequencies in bands allocated to the fixed, broadcasting or land mobile services or to one of these services shared with another service.

(c) The proposed amendment with reference to contract developmental stations represents an editorial change in an amendment previously proposed in a notice of proposed rule making in Docket No. 12404 adopted April 16, 1958, and further rule making action in this matter will take into account those comments received in Docket No. 12404.

(d) The proposed amendment provides for assignment of frequencies in all bands except those allocated to the amateur service, to export developmental stations. This is consistent with the Commission's policy of issuing authorizations for the development of equipment for foreign use where such use is not governed by the Commission's rules and regulations.

(e) The Commission, for purposes of simplifying the Table of Frequency Allocations, is also proposing to delete footnote NG22, transfer its provisions to § 2.103 (g) and apply such provisions to all non-Government bands above 25 Mc which are allocated to the land mobile service.

5. The proposed amendments would retain a general provision in the current rules whereby, in the event a band is reallocated so as to delete its availability for use by a particular service, the Commission may provide for the further interim use of the band by stations in that service for a temporary, specific period of time. In that connection, in the case of experimental stations authorized on frequencies which may subsequently become unavailable for such use as a result of this proceeding, the Commission intends to permit those stations to continue to use such frequencies for the remainder of their license terms.

6. The proposed amendments to the rules are set forth below and are issued pursuant to the authority of sections 303 (c), (f), and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, may file with the Commission on or before September 19, 1958, written data, views or arguments setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendments may also be filed on or before the same date. Comments in reply to the original comments may be filed within ten (10) days from the last day for filing said original data, views or arguments. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for the filing of such additional comments is established. The Commission will consider all such comments prior to taking final action in this matter, and if comments are submitted warranting oral argument, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given.

8. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.54 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 4, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

It is proposed to amend Part 2 of the Commission's rules as follows:

1. In § 2.1, delete the definitions of contract developmental station, developmental fixed station, developmental land station, developmental mobile station and export developmental station.

2. In § 2.104 (a) (5), delete Footnotes NG1, NG22 and US17 from the Table of Frequency Allocations.

3. Amend § 2.103 (a), (b) and (g) to read as follows:

§ 2.103 Assignment of frequencies. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section the assignment of frequencies and bands of frequencies to all stations and classes of stations and the licensing and authorizing of the use of all such frequencies between 10 kc and 40,000 Mc and the actual use of such frequencies for radiocommunication or for any other purpose, including the transfer of energy by radio, shall be in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations herein.

(b) On the condition that harmful interference will not be caused to services operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations, the following exceptions to paragraph (a) of this section may be authorized:

(1) In individual cases the Commission may, without rule-making proceedings, authorize on a temporary basis only, the use of frequencies not in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations for projects of short duration or emergencies where the Commission finds that important or exceptional circumstances require such utilization: Provided, That such authorizations are not intended to develop a service to be operated on frequencies other than those allocated such service.

(2) A station, for the development of techniques or equipment to be employed by services or classes of stations set forth in columns 8 and 9 of the Table of Frequency Allocations may be authorized the use of frequencies allocated to those services or classes of stations.

(3) Experimental stations, engaged solely in scientific or technical radio experiments not related to an existing or proposed service nor intended to develop a proposed service or specific use of radio, may be authorized the use of any frequency which is in a band allocated to the fixed, land mobile or broadcasting services or to one of these services shared with another service.

(4) Experimental stations, engaged solely in ionospheric sounding by means of the technique of sweeping a band of frequencies, may be authorized the use of any band or bands of frequencies.

(5) Experimental stations to be operated pursuant to a contractual agreement with the United States Government and intended for the sole and express purpose of developing equipment or a technique to be employed by stations belonging to and operated by the United States may be authorized the use of any frequency.

(6) Experimental stations intended for the sole and express purpose of developing equipment or a technique to be employed by stations under the jurisdiction of a foreign government may be authorized the use of any frequency which is not in a band allocated to the amateur service.

(7) In the event a band is reallocated so as to delete its availability for use by a particular service, the Commission may provide for the further interim use of the band by stations in that service for a temporary, specific period of time.

* * * * * *

(g) In the bands above 25 Mc which are allocated to the non-Government land mobile service, fixed stations may be authorized on the following conditions:

(1) That such fixed stations are authorized in the service shown in Column 11 of the Table of Frequency Allocations in the band in question.

(2) That harmful interference will not be caused to services operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations.

[Docket No. 12386; FCC 58–776]

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS; WICHITA-HUTCHINSON, KANS.

TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS

1. On February 4, 1958, Wichita-Hutchinson Company, licensee of Station KTVH on Channel 12 at Hutchinson, Kansas, filed with the Commission a petition requesting rule making to amend § 3.606, Table of Assignments, Television Broadcast Stations, to shift channel 12 from Hutchinson to Wichita, Kansas, as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Present	Proposed
Wichita, Kans.	3–, 10–, 16–, *22+	3–, 10–, 12, 16–, *22+
Hutchinson, Kans.	12, 18	18

2. Consideration of the petition led to the issuance of a notice of proposed rule making (FCC 58–309) on April 3, 1958. Comments and Reply Comments on the proposed amendment were filed through June 2, 1958, by KAKE Television Corporation, Inc., licensee of Station KAKE-TV, Wichita Television Corporation, Inc., licensee of Station KARD-TV; and the petitioner. In addition, a letter in the form of a petition signed by a number of residents of Hutchinson was filed in opposition to the proposed channel shift.

3. In support of the proposed amendment, the petitioner contends that enabling the three stations in the Wichita-Hutchinson area to compete on an equal basis would foster competition. As Wichita is the population center and principal source of programming material in this area, KTVH is obliged to maintain an auxiliary studio in Wichita. KTVH claims that although its coverage is substantially the same as that of the two Wichita stations, KAKE and KARD, its competitive position is weakened by identification as the only station in Hutchinson, a city of approximately 40,000 population, instead of as one of three stations in Wichita, a city of approximately 200,000 population.

4. KTVH further contends that, on the basis of an engineering study included with the comments, it presently has principal city coverage over all of Wichita. Accordingly, KTVH claims that modification of its license to specify operation as a Wichita station would not require change of transmitter site, studios, or other essential elements of station operation. KTVH states that it would redesignate the Wichita studio as the main studio but would continue to maintain the Hutchinson studio and to serve Hutchinson interests, to the present extent. It is noted that the petitioner also contends that certain of the individuals signing the petition that KTVH remain a Hutchinson station are connected with one of the opponents by social and business ties and that several other individuals whose signatures were included are not residents of Hutchinson.

5. KTVH also contends that the proposed shifting of Channel 12 from Hutchinson to Wichita would be consistent with the Commission's assignment principles as applied in the cases of Tulsa-Muskogee (15 Pike & Fischer RR 1720) and Galveston-Houston (16 Pike & Fischer RR 1605).

6. In opposition to the proposed amendment, Stations KAKE and KARD contend that KTVH has been and presently is competing on an equal or even a preferred basis in Wichita. By utilizing Wichita studios, Wichita program material, and every other available means, KTVH has succeeded in identifying itself with Wichita to the greatest allowable degree. KTVH is the Wichita area Columbia Broadcasting System affiliate with "basic must buy" status and higher network rates than either KAKE or KARD. KTVH has been a financially successful operation since its inception and its present status in this regard is excellent.

7. The opponents also contend that Hutchinson, the fourth largest city in Kansas, has greater need of a first station than Wichita has of a third. Wichita is adequately served by KAKE and KARD, as well as by KTVH, whose present concentration on Wichita could not, in the opponents' opinion, be increased to any appreciable extent without total abandonment of Hutchinson interests. The history of KTVH has established Hutchinson's ability to support a television station. The present infeasibility of UHF operations in this area has been demonstrated by the recent failure of a UHF station in Wichita. Enabling KTVH to become a Wichita station would also enable KTVH to close its Hutchinson studio at any time without so much as notifying the Commission. The opponents contend that effectively depriving Hutchinson of any local outlet in the foreseeable future would not be consistent with the Commission's assignment principles.

8. The opponents of the proposed amendment further contend that on the basis of data (BPCT–2239) filed with the Commission by KTVH on November 29, 1956, and the applicable standards of the Commission's rules, KTVH does not presently have principal city coverage over all of Wichita, and, accordingly, would not qualify for operation as a Wichita station under the Commission's rules. These opponents contend that the engineering study submitted in support of KTVH's contrary claim is not acceptable as a basis for determination.

9. With regard to the engineering study submitted in support of the petitioner's claim that KTVH presently has principal community coverage over all of Wichita, we note that the end results are based upon measurements made along two radials through Wichita and along several short segments within the city, and that these measurements were based on visual transmissions during normal program operation rather than fixed level transmissions. In our opinion, these results are inconclusive.

10. With regard to the petitioner's claim that modification of KTVH's license would not require modification of any essential element of station operation, it appears that KTVH would be unable to effect any appreciable improvement in the technical quality of its service to Wichita in any event. The KTVH transmitter is located approximately 33 miles northwest of Wichita; KTVH is precluded from moving appreciably closer to Wichita by the assignment of Channel 12+ in Joplin, Missouri, to the southeast of Hutchinson and Wichita at a distance approximately equal to the minimum separation of this zone (190 miles). KTVH's present power (316 kilowatts) is maximum for operation on Channel 12. KTVH's present antenna height (approximately 800 feet above average terrain) is of the order of magnitude where air space problems become complex and there is no assurance that it can be increased appreciably. Accordingly, any present deficiencies with respect to qualification for operation as a Wichita station may not lend themselves to remedial action.

11. As contended by the opponents, the coverage data included with the KTVH application for the construction permit for its present facilities (BPCT–2239) indicates that KTVH does not have principal city coverage over all of Wichita. In accordance with Figure 1 of this application, the 77 decibels above one microvolt (dbu) or minimum required field intensity contour passes through a point slightly to the far side of the center of Wichita and does not pass through any point closer to the farthest point within the city limits than approximately two and one-half miles. Approximately one-third of the city lies outside of this contour, as determined by KTVH, on the basis of the procedure set forth in the Commission's rules.

12. We conclude, therefore, that on the basis of the data included with BPCT–2239, KTVH would not qualify for operation as a Wichita station under the Commission's rules. We note the absence of any similar consideration in the cases of Tulsa-Muskogee and Galveston-Houston as cited by the petitioner. Further, as has been noted, in the event that the Table of Assignments were amended to remove Channel 12 from Hutchinson, there is no assurance that KTVH would be able to institute modifications to enable it to qualify for operation on Channel 12 in Wichita. Thus, we are unable to conclude that adoption of the subject proposal would serve the public interest.

13. Accordingly, for the foregoing reasons: It is ordered, That the above-described petition of Wichita-Hutchinson Company is denied, and this proceeding is terminated.

Adopted: July 30, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

EXPERIMENTAL, AUXILIARY, AND SPECIAL BROADCAST STATIONS

TRANSMITTER POWER OUTPUT

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. On May 23, 1956, the Commission adopted a report and order in Docket No. 11611 (FCC 56–488) which amended Part 4 of the rules to provide for the licensing of television broadcast translator stations. Under these rules translator stations are limited to a maximum power output from the transmitter of 10 watts. In placing this limitation on power, the Commission stated in its decision, as follows: "Upon carefully considering the foregoing suggestions, we have concluded that the 10 watt maximum power requirement should be retained until data based on actual experience with translators operating under a variety of conditions is obtained. Such data will demonstrate whether the maximum power now authorized is adequate, or whether more power is necessary or desirable. The experience obtained in this initial stage will also assist us in evaluating the possible effects that increased power might have on other translators and other services."

3. In the two years that have elapsed since the inauguration of translator service the Commission has received a number of suggestions, requests and petitions that TV translators be permitted to employ more power. In the same period of time we have received no reports of interference between translators or to other stations or services, even though around 125 TV translators are now on the air. There are many areas in which translators are now operating or in which translator operation is contemplated where an increase in power would improve the service now being provided and bring service to new areas in which there is little or no TV reception at present. We believe, therefore, that consideration should be given to increased power for television broadcast translator stations.

4. Accordingly, it is proposed to amend §§ 4.735 (a) and 4.750 (c) (5) of the rules, as set forth below, to permit TV translators to employ a maximum transmitter power output of 100 watts.

5. Authority for the adoption of the amendments proposed herein is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, and 303 (f), (j) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

6. Any interested party who is of the view that the proposed amendments should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth below, may file with the Commission on or before September 5, 1958, a written statement setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendments may also be filed on or before the same date. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments may be filed within 10 days from the last day for filing said original comments. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for the filing of such additional comments is established.

7. In accordance with § 1.54 of the Commission rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs or comments shall be furnished to the Commission.

Adopted: July 30, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] GORDON J. KENT,
Acting Secretary.

1. It is proposed to delete § 4.735 (a) and to substitute the following:

§ 4.735 Power limitations. (a) A television broadcast translator station will not be authorized to operate with transmitter output power in excess of the rated power output of the transmitter and in no event shall the rated peak visual power output of the transmitter be in excess of 100 watts. No minimum power is specified for television broadcast translator stations.

2. It is proposed to delete § 4.750 (c) (5) and to substitute the following:

§ 4.750 Equipment and installation.

(c) • • •

(5) The tube or tubes employed in the final radio frequency amplifier shall be of the proper rating to supply the rated power output. The rated maximum peak visual output power of the translator shall not be greater than 100 watts. The translator shall be capable of delivering the rated power in continuous service when driven with an input signal modulated by a video waveform corresponding to a black picture and a sound signal power equal to 50 percent of the peak visual power. Translators rated at more than 10 watts maximum peak visual power output shall be equipped with a suitable device for indicating the peak visual power output. Where the composite visual and aural signal powers are measured together, the indicating device shall be calibrated so as to read the true peak visual power when the input television signal is modulated by a waveform corresponding to a black picture and when the sound signal power is equal to 50 percent of the peak visual power.

TRANSMITTER IDENTIFICATION CARD

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

In the matter of amendment of §§ 5.157, 7.102, 8.102, 9.118, 10.157, 11.156, 16.156, 19.72, and 21.202 of the Commission's rules concerning the use of FCC Form 452–C, the Transmitter Identification Card.

1. Notice is given hereby of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Information available to the Commission, including comments filed in response to the Commission's inquiry on the adequacy and suitability of forms used in the Safety and Special Radio Services (Docket No. 11692), indicates that problems have been engendered because of a lack of uniformity in the Commission's rules concerning the use and placement of FCC Form 452–C, the Transmitter Identification Card.

3. The Commission proposes to eliminate such difficulties by amending the relevant sections of its rules so as to permit licensees to use either FCC Form 452–C or a plate of metal or other durable material which shall bear the title "Radio Transmitter Identification" and shall display clearly all the information required to be shown on the present FCC Form 452–C, with the exception of the signature of the licensee. In addition, the Commission proposes to amend the sections of the rules listed above to make it mandatory that such identification cards be affixed to transmitters in a manner so as to be readily accessible for governmental inspection; but in the case of mobile transmitters or fixed transmitters authorized to be operated at temporary locations, if the transmitter is not in view of the transmitter operating position, then the identification card must be attached to the control equipment at the transmitter operating position.

4. The authority for the amendments proposed herein is contained in sections 4 (i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

5. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted in the form outlined above, may file with the Commission, on or before September 8, 1958, written data, views, or arguments setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendments may be filed also on or before the same date. Comments in reply to original comments may be filed on or before the tenth day following the last day for the filing of original comments. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for filing such additional comments is established. The Commission will consider all such comments prior to taking final action in this matter, and if comments are submitted warranting oral argument, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given.

6. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.54 of the Commission's rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: July 31, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

MEMBER LINES OF NORTH ATLANTIC MEDITERRANEAN FREIGHT CONFERENCE

NOTICE OF AGREEMENT FILED FOR APPROVAL

Notice is hereby given that the following described agreement has been filed with the Board for approval pursuant to Section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916 (39 Stat. 733, 46 U. S. C. 814):

Agreement No. 7980–4, between the member lines of the North Atlantic Mediterranean Freight Conference, modifies the basic agreement of that conference (No. 7980, as amended), which covers the trade from North Atlantic ports of the United States, in the Hampton Roads/Portland, Maine, range, either by direct call or transshipment, to ports in the Mediterranean and adjacent seas. The purpose of the modification is to provide (1) for a penalty of not more than $15,000 for each violation of the conference agreement; (2) for arbitration of disputes in case of a violation; and (3) for a deposit of $15,000 in cash or other security of like value, by each of the member lines to guarantee the faithful performance and the payment of any penalty or judgment against them.

Interested parties may inspect this agreement and obtain copies thereof at the Regulation Office, Federal Maritime Board, Washington, D. C., and may submit, within 20 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, written statements with reference to the agreement and their position as to approval, disapproval, or modification, together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Maritime Administration

TRADE ROUTE No. 13, U. S. SOUTH ATLANTIC AND GULF/MEDITERRANEAN AND BLACK SEA

NOTICE OF TENTATIVE CONCLUSIONS AND DETERMINATIONS REGARDING ESSENTIALITY AND UNITED STATES FLAG SERVICE REQUIREMENTS

Notice is hereby given that on July 31, 1958, the Maritime Administrator, acting pursuant to section 211 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, found and determined the essentiality and United States flag service requirements of United States foreign Trade Route No. 13 and in accordance with his action of July 27, 1956 ordered that the following tentative conclusions and determinations reached by the Maritime Administrator with respect to said trade route be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER:

1. Trade Route No. 13, as described below, is reaffirmed as an essential foreign trade route of the United States:

Trade Route No. 13—U. S. South Atlantic and Gulf/Mediterranean and Black Sea. Between U. S. South Atlantic and Gulf ports (North Carolina-Texas inclusive) and ports on the Mediterranean Sea, Black Sea and in Portugal, Spain south of Portugal and Morocco (Tangier to southern border of Morocco).

2. Requirements for United States flag operations on Trade Route No. 13 are approximately 7 or 8 sailings per month of freight vessels serving the route exclusively or predominantly.

3. The C-2 and C-3 type freight ships operated on the route are suitable for service to the full range of United States and foreign ports on Trade Route No. 13 and Victory-type ships are suitable for interim operations. Replacement ships required in the near-term future will need to be superior to present C-type ships in speed and also provide adequate deep tank, refrigerated and dry cargo capacity for the needs of this Trade Route.

Any person, firm or corporation having any interest in the foregoing who desires to offer comments and views or request a hearing thereon, should submit same in writing to the Chief, Office of Government Aid, Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., by close of business on August 25, 1958. In the event a hearing is requested, a statement must be included giving the reasons therefor. Any hearing thereby afforded will be before an Examiner on an informal basis only. The Maritime Administrator will consider these comments and views and take such action with respect thereto as in his discretion he deems warranted.

Dated: August 6, 1958.

By order of the Maritime Administrator.

[SEAL] JAMES L. PIMPER,
Secretary.

Bureau of Land Management

[Document No. 185]

ARIZONA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION OF LANDS

The Bureau of Prisons has filed an application, Serial No. AR-019097, for the withdrawal of the lands as described below, from all forms of appropriation including the mining laws.

The applicant desires the land for a prison site.

For a period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice, persons having cause may present their objections in writing to the undersigned official of the Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, Post Office Box 148, Phoenix, Arizona.

If circumstances warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place, which will be announced.

The determination of the Secretary on the application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A separate notice will be sent to each interested party of record.

The lands involved in the application are:

GILA AND SALT RIVER MERIDIAN, ARIZONA

T. 8 S., R. 26 E.,
Sec. 19: W½SE¼, E½SW¼, containing 160 acres.

E. I. ROWLAND,
State Supervisor.

AUGUST 4, 1958.

I concur. The records of the Bureau of Land Management will be noted accordingly.

1. The lands released from withdrawal by this order are sub-desert type range lands with heavy clay soils and sparse vegetative cover of desert shrubs, native grasses, and annual weeds, with the latter predominating. Because of poor soil and extremely low annual average precipitation, the lands are not suitable for agricultural crop production. They have a limited value for grazing purposes.

2. A major portion of the released lands are patented. The following described lands are public domain and are opened by this order:

3. No application for the lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

4. Subject to any valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, the lands are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on September 9, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on December 9, 1958, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 9, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

5. The lands have been open to applications and offers under the mineral-leasing laws. Those in first form withdrawal will be open to location under the United States mining laws beginning at 10:00 a. m. on December 9, 1958. Those in the second form have been open to such location.

6. Persons claiming veterans preference rights must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Denver, Colorado.

EDWARD WOOZLEY,
Director,
Bureau of Land Management.

ALFRED NEWELL JOHNSON

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In the matter of Alfred Newell Johnson, 833 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California, Docket No. 11258; application for renewal of first class radiotelephone operator license No. P1–12–122 and second class radiotelegraph license No. T–12–2330 and application for renewal of amateur radio station and operator licenses.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the application of Alfred Newell Johnson, 833 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California, for renewal of his amateur radio station and operator licenses; and the Commission's order released on January 24, 1955 in the matter of his application for renewal of his first class radiotelephone operator license No. P1–12–122 and second class radiotelegraph license No. T–12–2330; and

It appearing that the Commission, in pursuance of its authority under subsection 303 (1) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, to issue radio operator licenses to such citizens of the United States as it finds qualified and its authority under section 308 (b) to examine the qualifications of applicants for radio station licenses directed Alfred Newell Johnson to supplement his application for renewal of his radio operator license and radio station license by furnishing answers to certain specified questions, under oath; and

It further appearing that Alfred Newell Johnson, by letters dated August 6, 1954, August 9, 1957, and June 17, 1958, refused to answer, under oath, certain questions thus propounded to him and requested a hearing on his applications; and

It further appearing that in the light of his refusal to answer certain questions under oath, the Commission is unable to determine that Alfred Newell Johnson possesses the requisite qualifications to be the holder of a radio operator's license or station license.

It is ordered, That the Commission's order released January 24, 1955, in the matter of the above named applicant's commercial radio operator license application be modified to include his application for amateur operator and station licenses and pursuant to sections 303 (1) and 308 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, that the above-entitled applications are hereby designated for hearing in San Francisco at a time, place, and before an Examiner, to be specified by subsequent order, upon the following issues to which such hearing shall be confined:

(1) To determine whether Alfred Newell Johnson failed to answer lawful questions with respect to his qualifications to be a licensee which the Commission had directed him to answer under oath;

(2) To determine in the light of the evidence adduced under Issue 1 whether Alfred Newell Johnson possesses the necessary qualifications to hold commercial radio operator licenses and amateur radio station and operator licenses.

Released: August 6, 1958.

SPARTAN RADIOCASTING CO. (WSPA–TV)

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REMANDING APPLICATION FOR FURTHER HEARING

In re application of the Spartan Radiocasting Company (WSPA–TV), Spartanburg, South Carolina, Docket No. 11314, File No. BMPCT–2042; for modification of construction permit.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration a remand issued by the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit on May 22, 1958,[1] in the appeal of a Commission Memorandum Opinion and Order of July 22, 1957, wherein the Commission, after reconsideration of the matter on an earlier remand, reaffirmed its grant of the application of the Spartan Radiocasting Company (Spartan) for modification of construction permit.

[1] Wilton E. Hall and Greenville Television Company v. Federal Communications Commission, U. S. App. D. C., Case Nos. 13231, 14018, and 14067. Other documents which will furnish the history of this proceeding are as follows: Decision of the Commission in Docket No. 11314, released March 9, 1956, 13 RR 589; Wilton E. Hall and Greenville Television Company v. Federal Communications Commission, 237 F. 2d 567 (1956); and Memorandum Opinion and Order on Remand in Docket No. 11314, released July 22, 1957, 23 F. C. C. 106, 13 RR 610a.

2. The decision of the Court of Appeals of September 6, 1956, reversing the Commission's decision of March 9, 1956, held that the Commission had committed error in rejecting the propagation curves as evidence and in concluding that Spartan was not guilty of misrepresentation. With the propagation curves in evidence, the Court stated, the record shows the modification is a curtailment of service to the Spartanburg area which, unless outweighed by other factors, is not in the public interest. The Court stated further that it had no way of determining from the record whether the service curtailment may be outweighed by other factors pointing toward, rather than away from, public interest. The Court then stated that "• • • such a question is for the Commission's consideration, as is also the question whether intervenor's [Spartan's] misrepresentation so far deprives it of reliability as to disqualify it as a licensee."

3. In its memorandum opinion and order of July 22, 1957, the Commission, upon consideration of the instant proceeding in light of the Court's remand, concluded that factors existed which outweighed the question of curtailment of proposed service. Thus, the Commission stated that "considering the fact that Spartan's move to Paris Mountain with a network affiliation assured the Spartanburg community that a first local television outlet would be established, we are of the view that the network programing thereby brought to Spartanburg is of sufficient significance to outweigh the question of curtailment of proposed service." [1] Other considerations were also found to exist which compensated for the curtailment of service, as noted in the above-mentioned order. With respect to the question of misrepresentation, we concluded that while Spartan's misrepresentation is not to be condoned, the nature of its misrepresentation and the facts surrounding it do not so far deprive it of reliability as to disqualify it as a licensee.

4. The Court of Appeals reversed and remanded, supra, paragraph 1. It stated, inter alia, that additional findings by the Commision were required. The terms of the remand order permit the reopening of the record herein for receipt of additional evidence.

5. We are of the opinion that the record herein must be reopened to permit inquiry into the several matters to be mentioned hereinafter, the record presently being inadequate for resolution of the matters raised by the Court. In this connection, we have in mind particularly the expressions of the Court made in both its opinions of September 6, 1956, and May 22, 1958, with respect, inter alia, to concomitant factors which might offset the curtailment of service by reason of Spartan's move to the Paris Mountain location. Thus, in its opinion of September 6, 1956, the Court suggested that as concomitant factors the Commission might consider whether the value to the community of a network affiliation outweighed the curtailment of coverage, whether a network other than CBS might be available without a change, and whether a CBS affiliation necessitated lowering both power and antenna height, as well as relocating the transmitter. And in its opinion of May 22, 1958, the Court adverted to an additional concomitant factor in the determination of whether Spartan's modification was in the public interest, i. e., whether other network services, if available, would have less value to the community than CBS because they would be more duplicative of existing services. In connection with the question of misrepresentation, the Court suggested that since Spartan is the licensee of broadcast stations it may have a record of past reliability and candor to be considered by the Commission together with other circumstances. The record as it is now constituted will not permit findings to be made with respect to the above-mentioned matters. Accordingly, it is advisable that the record of this proceeding be reopened, that further issues be designated to be heard before the Examiner who originally presided at the hearing herein, that the proceeding be remanded to said Examiner for the purpose stated, and that after hearing on the further issues a Supplemental Initial Decision be issued.

6. The further hearing herein will be governed by the following issues:

1. To determine whether The Spartan Radiocasting Company would have commenced operation at its Hogback Mountain location without an affiliation with a national television network.

2. To determine whether an affiliation with a national television network, other than Columbia Broadcasting System, would be available to The Spartan Radiocasting Company with its transmitter situated at Hogback Mountain.

3. To determine whether, if Issue "2" is answered in the affirmative, there would be such duplication of network services as to make operation with such an affiliation of doubtful value to the community of Spartanburg, South Carolina.

4. To determine whether as a prerequisite to obtaining its affiliation with Columbia Broadcasting System it was necessary that The Spartan Radiocasting Company decrease its effective radiated power and lower its antenna height, as well as relocate its transmitter.

5. To determine the manner in which The Spartan Radiocasting Company as the former licensee of Stations WORD and WORD-FM, and as the licensee of Stations WSPA and WSPA-FM operated and has operated said stations, with particular regard to its past reliability and candor as a licensee.

6. To determine whether, in the light of the facts adduced upon the foregoing issues, public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by a grant of the application of The Spartan Radiocasting Company for modification of construction permit.

Both the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence as to each of the above issues, as well as the burden of proof with respect thereto is placed on the applicant.

7. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That the record of this proceeding be reopened, that the proceeding be remanded to the Hearing Examiner who originally presided at the hearing herein for the purpose of taking evidence upon the issues herein specified, and, thereafter, that a Supplemental Initial Decision be issued by the Hearing Examiner.

BERKSHIRE BROADCASTING CO., INC. (WSBS) AND NAUGATUCK VALLEY SERVICE, INC.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Berkshire Broadcasting Co., Inc. (WSBS), Great Barrington, Massachusetts, Docket No. 12556, File No. BP-11546; Naugatuck Valley Service, Inc., Naugatuck, Connecticut, Docket No. 12557, File No. BP-11962; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned applications of the Berkshire Broadcasting Co., Inc., for a construction permit to increase the power of Station WSBS, Great Barrington, Massachusetts, from 250 watts to one kilowatt, to install a directional antenna system and to continue operation on the presently assigned frequency of 960 kilocycles, daytime only; and of Naugatuck Valley Service, Inc., for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 960 kilocycles with a power of 250 watts, directional antenna, daytime only, at Naugatuck, Connecticut;

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, both applicants are legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate the stations as proposed but that the operation of both proposals would result in mutual interference; and that the proposed operation of Station WSBS would cause interference to Station WTEL, Philadelphia (860 kc, 250 w, Day); and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the subject applicants were advised by letter dated November 5, 1957, of the aforementioned interference and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of either application would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing that timely replies to the Commission's letter were filed by both applicants; and

It further appearing that by letter of December 3, 1957, the licensee of Station WTEL opposed a grant of the application of the Berkshire Broadcasting Co., Inc.; and

It further appearing that on January 21, 1958, Naugatuck Valley Service filed measurement data which indicated that no objectionable interference would be caused to the existing operation of Station WSBS; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the above, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the proposed operation of Station WSBS and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from the proposed operation of Naugatuck Valley Service, Inc., and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the proposed operation of Station WSBS would cause interference to Station WTEL, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine the nature and extent of the interference, if any, that each of the instant proposals would cause to and receive from each other and all existing standard broadcast stations, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine in the light of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the proposals herein would better provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

6. To determine in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues which of the applications should be granted.

It is further ordered, That the Foulkrod Radio Engineering Company, licensee of Station WTEL, is made a party to the proceeding.

It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicants and party respondent herein, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

It is further ordered, That the issues in this proceeding may be enlarged by the Examiner, on his own motion or on petition properly filed by a party to the proceeding and upon sufficient allegations of fact in support thereof, by the addition of the following issue: To determine whether the funds available to the applicant will give reasonable assurance that the proposals set forth in the application will be effectuated.

NORMAN O. PROTSMAN

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Norman O. Protsman, Valdosta, Georgia, Docket No. 12558, File No. BP-11395; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned application of Norman O. Protsman for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1450 kilocycles with a power of 250 watts during specified hours, 6:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. daily, at Valdosta, Georgia;

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate the proposed station but that the proposed transmitter site may not satisfy the requirement contained in § 3.188 of the Commission's rules that a transmitter site should be so located in order that a station may provide a minimum field intensity of 5 mv/m over the most distant residential areas of the city to be served; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applicant was advised by letter dated June 5, 1958, of the aforementioned deficiency and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of the application would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing that on July 7, 1958, the application was amended to include an exhibit which indicates that neither the 5 mv/m contour nor the nighttime interference-free contour would encompass the entire city of Valdosta; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the above, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-captioned application is designated for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether the proposed transmitter site would be satisfactory in accordance with the provisions of § 3.188 (b) (2) of the Commission's rules.

2. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issue, whether a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

It is further ordered, That, to avail himself of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

DONNER BROADCASTING CO. ET AL.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Dr. Nathan Movich tr/as Donner Broadcasting Company, Truckee, California, Docket No. 12559, File No. BP-11377; Edward J. Jansen and Keith Jack Rudd d/b as Lakeside Broadcasters, Sparks, Nevada, Docket No. 12560, File No. BP-11656; Joseph William Rupley and Robert Sherman d/b as Truckee Broadcasting, Truckee, California, Docket No. 12561, File No. BP-11910; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned applications of Dr. Nathan Movich tr/as Donner Broadcasting Company, and Joseph William Rupley and Robert Sherman d/b as Truckee Broadcasting, each for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1270 kilocycles with a power of 500 watts, daytime only, at Truckee, California; and the application of Edward J. Jansen and Keith Jack Rudd d/b as Lakeside Broadcasters for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1270 kilocycles with a power of one kilowatt, daytime only, at Sparks, Nevada; and

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, all three applicants are legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate their proposed stations, but that the simultaneous operation of all three proposals would result in mutually destructive interference; that the proposed antenna site of Lakeside Broadcasters is located near the site of Reno Radio (254KC RNO) and that data is required concerning the height and type of tower utilized by Reno Radio and whether there is a possibility of reradiation from the Reno Radio tower which would have adverse effects on the proposed nondirectional operation; and that the Donner Broadcasting Company and Truckee Broadcasting propose substantially the same service areas but that the estimates of the population residing within the proposed 0.5 mv/m contours which would receive primary service differ considerably; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applicants were advised by letter dated June 4, 1958, of the aforementioned deficiencies and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of any of the applications would be in the public interests; and

It further appearing that each applicant filed a timely reply to the Commission's letter; and

It further appearing that by amendment filed July 7, 1958, the Donner Broadcasting Company requested that the population figures presently on file be allowed to remain; but that these figures were not computed in accordance with the provisions of § 3.182 (g) of the Commission's rules; and

It further appearing that by letter dated June 27, 1958, Lakeside Broadcasters advised the Commission that data concerning the antenna of Reno Radio (254KC RNO) and the possibility of reradiation from the Reno Radio tower would be submitted as soon as possible but the data have not yet been received; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the above, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-captioned applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from the proposed operations and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the antenna tower of Reno Radio (254KC RNO) would have adverse effects on the nondirectional operation proposed by Lakeside Broadcasters because of the proximity of the respective antenna towers of Reno Radio and the proposed operation, and, if so, what corrective measures would be taken by Lakeside Broadcasters to correct such adverse effects.

3. To determine in the light of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which of the proposals herein would best provide a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of radio service.

4. To determine on a comparative basis, in the event that, pursuant to the foregoing issue, Truckee, California, is considered to have the greater need for either the operation proposed by the Donner Broadcasting Company or Truckee Broadcasting, which of the said two proposals would better serve the public interest, convenience and necessity in the light of the evidence adduced under the issues herein and the record made with respect to the significant differences between the two applicants as to:

(a) The background and experience of each having a bearing on the applicant's ability to own and operate the proposed standard broadcast station,

(b) The proposal of each with respect to the management and operation of the proposed station.

(c) The programming services proposed in each of the said applications.

5. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, which of the instant applications should be granted.

It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicants herein, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

It is further ordered, That the issues in this proceeding may be enlarged by the Examiner, on his own motion or on petition properly filed by a party to the proceeding and upon sufficient allegations of fact in support thereof, by the addition of the following issue: To determine whether the funds available to the applicant will give reasonable assurance that the proposals set forth in the application will be effectuated.

INTERCONTINENTAL BROADCASTING CORP. (KOFY)

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER ASSIGNING MATTER FOR PUBLIC HEARING

1. The Commission has before it a "Petition For Reconsideration" filed on May 22, 1958, pursuant to section 405 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, by Mid-America Broadcasters, Inc. (KOBY, hereinafter), licensee of Station KOBY, San Francisco (1550 kc, 10 kw, U) and directed to the Commission's action of April 22, 1958, in assigning the call letters KOFY [1] to the standard broadcast station at San Mateo, California (1050 kc, 1 kw, daytime only) licensed to the Intercontinental Broadcasting Corp. (KOFY, hereinafter); and an opposition thereto filed on June 12, 1958, by KOFY.[2] On July 16, 1958, KOBY tendered a "supplement to its petition."[3]

[1] Previously, the call letters KVSM had been assigned to this station.

2. KOBY requests that the Commission set aside the KOFY call letter assignment and "reassign such other call letters as will not result in confusion between the San Mateo station (KOFY) and Station KOBY."

3. KOBY claims that, as a result of the KOFY call letter assignment, KOBY is a "person aggrieved or whose interests are adversely affected thereby", within the meaning of section 405 of the Act, to have standing to file its petition pursuant thereto. In support of this claim, KOBY states that confusion from similarity of the call letters KOBY and KOFY "has resulted and will result in injury to good will, audience rating, and advertising revenue of Station KOBY."

4. KOBY alleges that San Mateo is just south of San Francisco; is part of the San Francisco urbanized area as defined by the U. S. Census, 1950; that the two stations have a large common service area; that the transmitter of KOBY was for many years located in San Mateo; and that many residents of the area "have come to associate Station KOBY with San Mateo as well as San Francisco."

5. KOBY further alleges that it uses a "phonetic pronunciation" of its call letters in connection with many of its program features, such as "Kobee News" (rhymes with Toby), "Kobee Music", and "Kobee Weather"; that KOFY has "embarked upon a similar campaign"; and that the result has been "utter confusion in the area."[4]

6. KOBY also alleges that "potential advertisers seeking to contact KOFY have contacted KOBY" and that "the converse is undoubtedly true"; that this situation "may result in loss of business by Station KOBY"; that KOBY has received many telephone calls intended for KOFY; that the U. S. Postoffice has mistaken the identity of the two stations; that Exhibit A attached to the KOBY petition "presents concrete evidence that such confusion (in the minds of the public) already exists" although KOFY has used its call letters for a period of only 30 days; that "it may be validly assumed that examples set forth in Exhibit A constitute only a minute portion of the instances of confusion which must have already taken place, but which have not as yet been called to the attention of the station"; and that the "situation will undoubtedly grow worse unless corrective action is taken by the Commission."

7. Attached to the KOBY petition as Exhibit A are three sworn letters written on behalf of said station by employees of KOBY and addressed to the station's Washington, D. C. legal counsel. Mr. John McRae, "Station Manager—General Sales Manager", states, in substance, that "the change in call letters" prompted "several" phone calls to the KOBY sales manager which should have been directed to KOFY; that he had just talked with a local columnist who "brought up the similarity of the call letters"; that the KOBY receptionist reports a number of calls from listeners asking for special requests for different popular songs but that KOBY doesn't accept requests; and that KOBY has received mail addressed to KOFY but delivered in error to KOBY. Mr. Jerry Friedman, "Sales Manager", states, in substance, that "the change of call letters • • • has certainly caused a burden on our sales staff"; that "I had no less than five calls last week left for me by the receptionist during my absence, which later proved to have been misdirected"; that the change in call letters "has, I am sure, resulted in utter confusion in the minds of listeners and many of our clients"; that this is "doubly so when • • • consider(ed) that KOFY (KVSM) occupies studios in San Mateo where for many years it was established that our predecessor KEAR now KOBY, had similarly occupied a transmitter site"; that KOFY "is duplicating the phonetic pronunciation technique which KOBY has established in the Bay Area as well as imitating (the) station's format"; and that similarity of the call letters "could well lead to loss of business should a client call (KOFY) for advertising information when his intention was to call KOBY." Grace Anne Carter, "Receptionist", states, in substance, that "my personal reaction is that KOFY has made a deliberate attempt to imitate KOBY by using the new call letters"; that "at first we received only one or two calls which should have been made to KVSM (KOFY) but (that) the number has increased daily"; that "some of the calls apparently were clients of KOFY and they seemed in some cases to be irritated and confused when I told them that they had the wrong station"; that "other calls were from listeners asking for special requests of different popular songs"; and that "since KOBY does not accept requests, this results in an increased burden of phone calls for the receptionist."

8. Exhibit B of the KOBY petition is "a photostatic copy of the address of a communication intended for Station KOFY which was delivered by mistake to Station KOBY."

9. In its opposition to the KOBY petition, KOFY contends that with respect to the call letters KOBY and KOFY, "to the ear B and F could never be mistaken" and "to the eye there is no similarity." "Attachment A" to the KOFY opposition is a sworn statement by Mr. Frank Oxarart, president of Intercontinental Broadcasting Corp., licensee of KOFY. Mr. Oxarart states that KOFY is concentrating virtually all its efforts in the San Mateo area; that the promotion and advertising of KOFY are being directed specifically to the San Mateo area; and that "it is very difficult to see how this kind of effort could possibly be confusing to a well established top rated radio station in San Francisco (KOBY)". Mr. Oxarart further states that "the fact that some time in the past KOBY, then KEAR, happened to be located in San Mateo is, I believe, a small consideration in the complaint"; that there is no similarity in the formats of KOBY and KOFY because KOBY is primarily a rock-and-roll station appealing to teenagers, whereas KOFY has "desperately avoided this type of segregated audience and (its) entire program format is directed to an adult audience and • • • will continue to be programmed in that direction"; that KOFY does not accept telephone requests; that the entire staff was questioned but that "to the best of their knowledge, (they) have never received a call from anyone, be it sponsor or potential sponsor or listener, that was intended for KOBY"; that KOFY has "to have a potential advertiser call KOFY, intentionally or otherwise, to discuss the possible purchase of an advertising schedule of KOFY and • • • never had a call from a potential advertiser pertaining to a proposed schedule on KOBY"; and that KOFY, in its extensive advertising campaign, uses the trade mark of a cup of coffee and identifies KOFY as the "coffee" station, for example, "instant KOFY (coffee) news", "instant KOFY (coffee) sports", "instant KOFY (coffee) disc jockeys"; that it was KOFY's intent to select call letters which were euphonious to say and could be identified with a well established word in the English language; and that, since KOFY advertises itself as the "coffee" station in San Mateo and KOBY advertises itself as the "Kobee" (rhymes with Toby) station in San Francisco, no confusion should arise.

10. Attachments B, C, D, and E to the KOFY "opposition" are sworn statements by Irene M. Turner, John R. Gillingham, Doris E. Williams, and Jack E. Early, respectively. Irene M. Turner, switchboard operator for KOFY, states that in said capacity "I have never received a telephone call that was intended for KOBY, nor have I had inquiries of any kind referring to KOBY." Mr. Gillingham and Mr. Early, San Francisco advertising agency men, state that their respective agencies look to KOBY for teenage audiences and to KOFY for adult audiences and that they find no confusion from said call letters. Doris E. Williams states that "As a Time Buyer, the call letters of a station have never been of primary importance in any purchase."

11. KOFY concludes its opposition by stating that "it would be a very serious blow to us if we are not permitted to continue with these call letters" because "all in all we have gone to a great amount of work and effort in addition to an expenditure of approximately eight to ten thousand dollars in promoting our new station format and our call letters." KOFY points out that, to publicize the call letters, it has completely changed all of its stationery, contract forms, checks, promotional pieces, advertising, and publicity to include the new call letters; is buying advertising space on billboards, posters, and display cards on busses, trains, and taxi cabs in the Redwood City, San Mateo, and Palo Alto area; has contracted for the purchase of five thousand ball point pens; and has made a series of station promotional spots using the "Pied Pipers" and a twelve piece orchestra at a cost of approximately $4,000.

12. On July 16, 1958, KOBY filed a "Supplement" to its instant petition and attached a photostat of three pieces of mail, two of which were addressed to KOFY at "San Francisco", and one of which was for KOFY's General Manager but was addressed to KOBY. KOBY requests the Commission to grant a waiver of its rules and to consider the matters set forth in KOBY's supplemental petition.

13. On July 22, 1958, KOFY filed a motion in which it requests the Commission to "reject" the KOBY "supplement" on the ground that "it is not a supplement but a new petition." KOFY contends that the misaddressed correspondence is not the result of "confusion", as claimed by KOBY, but of error such as KOBY made in mis-addressing a copy of said supplement to counsel for KOFY.

14. Section 1.191 of the Commission rules provides, in pertinent part, that no "supplement" filed after the 30 day period will be considered except upon leave granted by the Commission upon a showing that new material circumstances have occurred or that the matters advanced were not previously available to the petitioner through the exercise of due diligence. KOBY states that since the time of its filing the instant petition for reconsideration "the confusion has substantially increased" and that the "purpose of this supplement is to furnish the Commission with additional and current illustrations of this confusion." Under these circumstances, the "supplement" is given consideration herein.

15. We consider first whether KOBY has standing to file its instant Petition for Reconsideration pursuant to section 405 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended. KOBY claims that confusion from use of the call letters KOBY in San Francisco and KOFY in San Mateo "has resulted and will result in injury to the good will, audience rating, and advertising revenue of Station KOBY" (italics supplied); that KOBY is injured economically and is, therefore, a "person aggrieved or whose interests are adversely affected" by the call letter assignment in question. As we stated In re Matter of Valley Broadcasting Co. (KWOW), 13 Pike and Fischer RR 306a, 306d, "• • • we are prepared to assume for the purposes of the case before us, that the issuance of call letters is a 'decision, order, or requirement' within the meaning of section 405 of the Act and that such action may be the subject of a petition for reconsideration." In light of the facts that KOBY is an existing station and contends that there is overlap of the service areas of Stations KOBY and KOFY and that KOBY has alleged that it will suffer injury to its goodwill, audience ratings, and advertising revenues as a result of the use of the "KOFY" call letters assigned to Intercontinental Broadcasting Corp., we find that KOBY is a "person aggrieved or whose interests are adversely affected" by said call letter assignment, within the meaning of section 405 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, to have standing to file its instant petition for reconsideration pursuant thereto. In re Matter of Valley Broadcasting Co. (KWOW), supra.

16. The Commission has given careful consideration to the facts and reasoning advanced in the instant matter by KOBY and KOFY and has concluded that a substantial question obtains as to whether KOFY should change its call letters to avoid confusion and misconception in the minds of listeners as to the identity of said two stations. Accordingly, we believe that the matter should be designated for hearing on the issue specified below. We are adopting the issue, and the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof as to the issue should be on KOFY.

17. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, pursuant to Section 405 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended KOBY's instant petition for reconsideration of the above-referenced assignment of call letters "KOFY" is granted to the extent provided for below and is denied in all other respects; that said assignment of call letters is designated for evidentiary hearing at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C., on the following issue:

1. To determine whether use of the call letters KOFY by Intercontinental Broadcasting Corp. for its standard broadcast station at San Mateo, California would result in confusion in the minds of listeners in the service areas of Station KOFY and Station KOBY, San Francisco, California, and, if so, whether the confusion would be such that Intercontinental Broadcasting Corp. should be required to select new call letters.

It is further ordered, That, the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof on the issue shall be on KOFY;

It is further ordered, That KOBY and the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau are hereby made parties to the proceeding herein and that:

1. The appearances by the parties intending to participate in the hearing shall be filed not later than August 20, 1958.

2. The hearing on the above issue is to commence at a time and place and before an examiner to be specified in a subsequent order.

3. The parties to the proceeding herein shall have fifteen (15) days after the issuance of the Examiner's decision to file exceptions thereto and seven (7) days thereafter to file replies to any such exceptions.

Adopted: July 30, 1958.

Released: August 5, 1958.

HAROLD LAMPEL

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Harold Lampel, Garden Grove, California, Docket No. 12563, File No. BPH-2430; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned application of Harold Lampel for a construction permit for a new Class A FM broadcast station to operate on 94.3 megacycles (Channel No. 232) in Garden Grove, California; and

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate the proposed station but that by letter dated May 29, 1958, the permittee of Class A FM broadcast station KVFM (Channel No. 232), San Fernando, California, opposed a grant of the application on the ground that the proposed operation would cause interference to KVFM and that, by letter dated June 10, 1958, the licensee of Class B FM broadcast station KRHM (Channel No. 234), Los Angeles, California, contended that the proposed operation would suffer destructive interference from KRHM within the proposed normally protected 1 mv/m contour, that the proposal represents an inefficient use of the frequency involved and that a grant of the application would not serve the public interest; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applicant was advised by letter dated June 19, 1958, of the foregoing deficiencies and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of the application would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing that in a reply dated July 14, 1958, and in an attached engineering affidavit the applicant contends that no interference will be caused to KVFM and that the degree of interference which would be received from KRHM is commonly experienced by

[2] On June 2, 1958, legal counsel for KOFY filed a petition for extension of time to June 12, 1958, to file an opposition to the KOBY petition. KOFY counsel stated that illness prevented his preparation of an opposition prior to said date. KOBY did not oppose the request. We hereby grant KOFY's petition for an extension of time.

[3] The "supplement" and KOFY's motion to dismiss same are treated in paragraphs 12, 13, and 14, infra.

[4] KOBY and KOFY state that the phonetic pronunciation of their respective call letters is used in promotional announcements and in connection with program features. KOBY states that the phonetic pronunciation is not used in station identification announcements. KOFY makes no such statement. While there is nothing in the KOFY opposition to indicate that the station does use such pronunciation in its station identifications, attention is invited to the fact that § 3.117 of the Commission Rules requires that call letters be pronounced individually, together with the location of the station, on station identification announcements at specified times. The Commission, on November 27, 1957, denied a request for waiver of the section and for permission to identify Station KBEE as "K B Double E." In re Matter of McClatchy Broadcasting Co., 16 Pike and Fischer RR 294.

other Class A FM stations and requested a grant of the application without hearing; and

It further appearing that by letter of June 24, 1958, counsel for KRHM expressed an intention of appearing at a hearing on the applications; and

It further appearing that the proposed operation will cause interference to KRHM in a small area around the proposed transmitter site and that the area in which the proposed operation would cause interference to KVFM may be under interference from KRHM and KPOL–FM, both in Los Angeles, California; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the above, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the application of Harold Lampel is designated for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether the proposed station at Garden Grove, California, would cause interference to Station KVFM, San Fernando, California, and Station KRHM, Los Angeles, California, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of the proposed Class A station at Garden Grove, California, would be in compliance with § 3.313 (c) of the Commission's rules with particular reference to the requirement that such channel be utilized only when necessary to provide an equitable and efficient use of the facilities.

3. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, whether a grant of the above-described application of Harold Lampel would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

It is further ordered, That Walter Gelb, and Ted Bolnick d/b as Valley FM Broadcasting Co., permittee of Station KVFM, and Harry Maizlish tr/as KRHM Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KRHM, are made parties to the proceeding.

It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant and parties respondent herein, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

SANTA MONICA BROADCASTING CO.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of J. D. Funk and C. D. Funk d/b as Santa Monica Broadcasting Company, Santa Monica, California, Docket No. 12564, File No. BPH–2401; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned application of J. D. Funk and C. D. Funk d/b as Santa Monica Broadcasting Company for a construction permit for a new Class A FM broadcast station to operate on 103.1 megacycles (Channel No. 276) in Santa Monica, California;

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate the proposed station but that the applicant's proposal raises questions as to whether the operation would be an inefficient use of the channel since it would be limited within its normally protected 1 mv/m contour by Station KGLA, Channel 278, Los Angeles, California, and by the proposed operation of the Hall Broadcasting Company, Inc., applicant for a new Class B FM broadcast station on Channel 274 at Los Angeles, File No. BPH–2175, Docket No. 12203; and whether interference which the proposed operation would cause to Station KGLA and to the proposed operation of the Hall Broadcasting Company, Inc., in areas around the Santa Monica Broadcasting Company's proposed transmitter site is objectionable under the Commission's rules; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the applicant was advised by letter dated April 29, 1958, of the aforementioned questions and that the Commission was unable to conclude that a grant of the application would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing that in a reply dated May 26, 1958, to the Commission's letter, the applicant stated that the requested assignment was felt to be in accordance with the Commission's policy relating to assignments of Class A stations and that the small circle of interference to Class B stations two channels removed is a natural concomitant to such an assignment which the Commission has previously seen fit to consider as not precluding the channel assignment; and

It further appearing that by letter dated May 27, 1958, the Hall Broadcasting Company, Inc., requested that the application be designated for hearing; and

It further appearing that by letter dated May 29, 1958, the licensee of Station KGLA opposed a grant of the application; and

It further appearing that the Commission is unable to make a determination in this matter on the basis of the data before it and is of the opinion that an evidentiary hearing is necessary to obtain complete information relative to the above-captioned application and the grounds advanced in support of a grant thereof;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the application of the Santa Monica Broadcasting Company is designated for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether the proposed station at Santa Monica, California, would cause interference to Station KGLA and the proposed station of the Hall Broadcasting Company, Inc., both in Los Angeles, California, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of the proposed Class A station at Santa Monica, California, would be in compliance with § 3.313 (c) of the Commission's rules with particular reference to the requirement that such channel be utilized only when necessary to provide an equitable and efficient use of the facilities.

3. To determine in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, whether the above-described application of the Santa Monica Broadcasting Company would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

It is further ordered, That The Echo Park Evangelistic Association, licensee of Station KGLA, and the Hall Broadcasting Company, Inc., applicant for a new Class B FM broadcast station in Los Angeles, California, are made parties to the proceeding.

It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant and parties respondent herein, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

Released: August 4, 1958.

SOUTH BAY BROADCASTING CO. (KAPP)

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Sherman Somers and Robert William Crites, d/b as South Bay Broadcasting Company (KAPP), Redondo Beach, California, Docket No. 12565, File No. BPH–2416; for construction permit.

1. The Commission has before it (1) a "Protest Of Grant Without Hearing" filed on July 1, 1958, pursuant to Section 1.193 of the Commission Rules by Coast Radio Broadcasting Corporation (KPOL–FM, hereinafter) licensee of Station KPOL–FM, Los Angeles, California (Class B, 93.9 mc, 4.4 kw, 570 ft., CP for 22 kw); (2) a "Protest And Petition For Reconsideration" filed on July 7, 1958 pursuant to section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, by CBS Radio, a Division of Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc. (KNX–FM hereinafter) licensee of Station KNX–FM, Los Angeles, California (Class B, 93.1 mc, 67 kw, 2870 ft.), both of which are directed to the Commission's action of June 4, 1958 in granting without hearing the above-captioned application for a construction permit for a new Class A FM station (KAPP) at Redondo Beach, California, to operate on 93.5 megacycles, power of 1 kw, and antenna height of 82 feet; and (3) an Opposition to the KNX–FM pleading filed on July 17, 1958, by South Bay Broadcasting Company (KAPP, hereinafter).

2. KPOL–FM "requests a hearing" on the KAPP application. KNX–FM requests that the "Commission enter an order" (a) setting the KAPP application for hearing on issues specified by KNX–FM, (b) making KNX–FM a party to the proceeding, and (c) postponing the effective date of the KAPP grant pending the Commission's decision after a hearing.

3. KPOL–FM and KNX–FM both claim standing to file their respective pleadings on the grounds that each would receive objectionable interference from the operation of KAPP. KNX–FM, in an associated engineering affidavit, claims that "signal intensities from Station KNX–FM toward (KAPP) were predicted in accordance with § 3.313 (d)"; that "three radial paths from KNX–FM (180°, 225°, and 270°) taken from the Engineering Exhibit associated with Section V–B, FCC Form 301, Application for Modification of Construction Permit for relocation of the antenna of KNX–FM (File No. BMPH–4834) were used in determining the KNX–FM signal intensities in the vicinity of the (KAPP) site"; that, "using this topographic data it was estimated that the KNX–FM signal at the (KAPP) site is approximately 33 millivolts per meter"; that "on the basis that (KAPP) radiates 1 kw, or 137.6 mv/m at one mile, and assuming inverse distance propagation, its 330 mv/m contour would be at a distance of slightly over 0.4 mile from the transmitting antenna"; that "thus the (KAPP) operation will interfere with the KNX–FM coverage within an area approximately 0.4 mile radius of the (KAPP) site"; and that "based upon census tracts (U. S. Census, 1950) in the Los Angeles County area, the population residing (in said interference area) is computed to be approximately 5,700 persons." In the engineering affidavits attached to both the KPOL–FM and KNX–FM pleadings, it is shown that interference from said stations, predicted in accordance with the provisions of § 3.313 of the Commission rules, would affect 19 percent (by KPOL–FM) and 70.5 percent (by KNX–FM) of the population within the normally protected 1 mv/m contour of the KAPP operation. The area of interference from KPOL–FM falls within the area of interference from KNX–FM. KPOL–FM and KNX–FM state that the Commission erred in granting the KAPP application because such destructive interference received by KAPP constitutes an inefficient and wasteful use of the frequency by KAPP and is in contravention of § 3.313 (c) of the Commission rules which provides that FM stations normally will not be authorized to operate in the same city or in nearby cities with a frequency separation of less than 800 kc, provided that stations may be authorized to operate in nearby cities with a frequency separation of not less than 400 kc where necessary in order to provide an equitable and efficient distribution of facilities.

4. The issues upon which KNX–FM requests an opportunity to present evidence at a hearing on the KAPP application are set forth, with minor changes, in paragraph 9, infra. No issues are specified by KPOL–FM.

5. In its opposition to the KNX–FM pleading, KAPP contends that the Commission, by its rules, has established that Class A FM stations may be assigned in the same metropolitan area as Class B FM stations and that "as a natural concomitant to such assignments", where the Class A station is in the 1 mv/m contour of a second adjacent channel Class B station, there will be some interference to the Class B station, and, in turn, the Class A station will receive interference which causes a high limitation; that, also in the greater Los Angeles area, the Commission has granted two other Class A stations two channels removed from Class B stations therein; that the interference which KAPP would cause to KNX–FM is "negligible" since it affects less than 2,000 persons; that KAPP would provide a needed service in the community and would render a new service to some 300,000 people; that interference received by KAPP is in an area which is not considered part of the South Bay community and marketing district; and that use of "this proposed channel will be optimum for the purpose intended".

6. Our examination of the data submitted with the instant pleadings indicates that the KAPP proposal would cause interference within the normally protected 1 mv/m contours of both KNX–FM and KPOL–FM and would receive from said stations interference within its normally protected 1 mv/m contour.

7. In view of the facts that KPOL–FM and KNX–FM are existing FM stations and have submitted data from which it appears that they would receive interference within their normally protected 1 mv./m. contours from the proposed operation of KAPP; and that KAPP admits interference to KNX–FM and has not denied the KPOL–FM allegations of interference, we find KPOL–FM and KNX–FM, each, a "party in interest" within the meaning of § 1.193 of the Commission rules and section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, to have standing to file their instant pleadings pursuant thereto. In re Application of Eastern Idaho Broadcasting and Television Company (KIFI) 16 Pike and Fischer RR 717.

8. As stated above, our examination of the data submitted with the instant pleadings indicates that the KAPP proposal would involve objectionable interference to and from Stations KNX–FM and KPOL–FM. Accordingly, we find that the facts relied upon by the protestants herein as showing that the KAPP grant was improperly made have been specified with sufficient particularity within the meaning of section 309 (c) of the Act and § 1.193 of the Commission's rules to necessitate our designating the KAPP application for hearing. We are adopting, with minor changes, the issues specified by KNX–FM, and the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof as to each of the issues will be on KAPP.

9. In view of the foregoing, It is ordered, That, pursuant to § 1.193 of the Commission rules and section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, effective immediately, the effective date of the grant of the above-captioned application is postponed pending a final determination by the Commission in the hearing ordered herein; that the instant protests of KPOL–FM and KNX–FM are granted; that the above-captioned KAPP application is designated for evidentiary hearing at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C., on the following issues:

1. To determine whether the proposed station at Redondo Beach, California, would cause interference to Stations KPOL–FM and KNX–FM, Los Angeles, California, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of the proposed Class A station at Redondo Beach, California, would be in compliance with § 3.313 (c) of the Commission's rules with particular reference to the requirement that such channel be utilized only when necessary to provide an equitable and efficient use of the facilities.

3. To determine in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, whether the above-described application of the South Bay Broadcasting Company would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

It is further ordered, That the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof as to each of the issues shall be on KAPP;

It is further ordered, That the protestants and the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau are made parties to the proceeding herein and that:

1. The appearances by the parties intending to participate in the above hearing shall be filed not later than August 20, 1958.

2. The hearing on the above issues is to commence at a time and place and before an Examiner to be specified in a subsequent order.

3. The parties to the proceeding herein shall have fifteen (15) days after the issuance of the Examiner's decision to file exceptions thereto and seven (7) days thereafter to file replies to any such exceptions.

Adopted: July 30, 1958.

Released: August 4, 1958.

SANFORD L. HIRSCHBERG AND GERALD R. MCGUIRE

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Sanford L. Hirschberg and Gerald R. McGuire, Cohoes-Watervliet, New York, Docket No. 12566, File No. BP–11261; for construction permit.

As a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned application of Sanford L. Hirschberg and Gerald R. McGuire, for a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1300 kilocycles with a power of one kilowatt, during specified daytime hours at Cohoes-Watervliet, New York; and

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate the proposed station but that the proposed operation would cause interference to Station WRSA, Saratoga Springs, New York (1280 kc, 1 kw, Day); that the applicant proposes to avoid the overlap of the proposed 25 mv/m contour with the 25 mv/m contour of Station WHAZ, Troy, New York (1330 kc, 1 kw, S–WPOW, WEVD) by closing operation at 6:00 p. m. on Monday, April through September, when WHAZ commences operation under a share-time agreement with Stations WPOW and WEVD, both in New York City, but that it appears that a grant of the application would affect the flexibility of these share-time stations to operate other hours, if mutually agreed upon, pursuant to the provisions of §§ 3.74 and 3.77 of the Commission's rules; and

It further appearing, that by letter of November 18, 1957, the licensee of Station WRSA opposed a grant of the application for a station at Cohoes-Watervliet as proposed by the applicant; and

It further appearing that by letter of May 20, 1958, counsel for Sanford L. Hirschberg and Gerald R. McGuire contended that any interpretation of the Commission's rules permitting stations to enter into a share-time agreement which would bar the grant of a meritorious application "would render the rules invalid as an illegal abdication by the Commission of its statutory duty and responsibility to determine whether the public interest would be served by the grant of an application * * *" and that there can be no "basis for the claim of any legally valid interest" in the application of Sanford L. Hirschberg and Gerald R. McGuire by the licensees of Stations WPOW and WEVD; and

It further appearing that by letter of May 20, 1958, the licensee of Station WPOW expressed an intention of appearing at a hearing on the application; and

It further appearing that Stations WHAZ, WPOW and WEVD are operating under authorizations issued in accordance with the Commission's rules; that the Commission is of the opinion that the grant of a proposal which affects the ability of share-time stations to operate other hours, pursuant to mutual agreement under the provisions of §§ 3.74 and 3.77 of the Commission rules, is a factor to be considered in determining whether the grant of such application would be in the public interest; and that, therefore, the licensees of Stations WPOW and WEVD, as parties to said share-time agreement, should be heard in the proceeding ordered below; and

It further appearing that the Commission, after consideration of the above, is of the opinion that a hearing is necessary;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-captioned application is designated for hearing at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which would receive primary service from the proposed operation and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the proposed operation would cause interference to Station WRSA, Saratoga Springs, New York, or any other existing standard broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other primary service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether a grant of the application would affect the flexibility of Stations WHAZ, Troy, New York, WPOW, New York, New York, and WEVD, New York, New York, to operate other hours than those presently agreed upon in the existing share-time agreement, if mutually agreed upon in accordance with the provisions of §§ 3.74 and 3.77 of the Commission's rules.

4. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, whether a grant of the instant application would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

It is further ordered, That Radio Station WRSA, Inc., the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Tele-Broadcasters of N. Y., Inc., and Debs Memorial Radio Fund, Incorporated, licensees of Stations WRSA, WHAZ, WPOW and WEVD, respectively, are made parties to the proceeding.

It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant and parties respondent herein, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

Released: August 4, 1958.

AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In the matter of the applications of American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Docket No. 12569, File Nos. 1055–C1–ML–56, 1056–C1–ML–56, 1057–C1–ML–56, 1058–C1–L–56, 1645–C1–L–56, 1646–C1–6–56; for modification of its point-to-point microwave radio station licenses KCB 81, Portland, Maine; KCB 82, Brunswick, Maine; KCB 83, Liberty, Maine; KCC 85, King's Mountain, Maine; KCC 86, Franklin, Maine; and KCC 92, Cooper Hill, Maine, for facilities connecting with the trans-Atlantic telephone cable system, to authorize the furnishing of an alternate voice and digital data transmission service to the United States Air Force.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration (a) a Protest and request for reconsideration timely filed on July 7, 1958, pursuant to section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act), and §§ 1.191 and 1.193 of the Commission's rules, by The Western Union Telegraph Company (WU) protesting the Commission's action of June 5, 1958, granting without a hearing the above-entitled applications of American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T) for modification of the subject microwave station licenses to permit the subject facilities to be used for the alternate transmission of voice and digital data for the United States Air Force; (b) a "Protest" timely filed on June 30, 1958, purported to be pursuant to section 309 (c) of the Act, by American Cable and Radio Corporation (AC&R) and its operating subsidiaries, All America Cables & Radio, Inc., The Commercial Cable Company and Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., also protesting the Commission's action of June 5, 1958, and requesting an informal conference relative to the subject applications; (c) a letter dated July 2, 1958, from RCA Communications, Inc. (RCAC) expressing disagreement with the Commission's action of June 5, 1958; and (d) an Opposition filed on July 17, 1958, by American Telephone and Telegraph Company to the foregoing Protest of WU.

2. Preliminary statement. On March 11, 1958, AT&T filed applications requesting modification of licenses for its microwave relay facilities between Portland, Maine, and the Canadian border connecting with the trans-Atlantic telephone cable system (TAT) so as to provide a telephone channel in such cable to be used alternately for voice communication and digital data processing for the United States Air Force between New York, N. Y., and London, England. Informal objections to a grant of the applications without a hearing were received from AC&R, RCAC and WU and a letter from the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) was received supporting the applications. The applications were granted without a hearing on June 5, 1958, after considering all relevant information available to the Commission at the time. Basically, the objections of AC&R, RCAC and WU as stated in their above protests and letter under consideration, are the same as set forth in their informal objections prior to the grant of June 5, 1958.

3. WU protest. Protestant WU claims standing as a "party in interest" within the meaning of section 309 (c) of the act on the basis of its status as a competitor with other carriers in international communication services, including the furnishing of private wire services to the public as well as to various governmental agencies. It asserts that the rendering of telegraph service by AT&T has grave financial implications for it and the other international telegraph carriers, as well as for the Commission. It refers to past correspondence between the Commission and AT&T beginning in 1953 at the time the TAT cable and associated microwave relay facilities were first proposed, wherein, in reply to a Commission inquiry relative to the possible use of the TAT cable for telegraph service, AT&T stated, among other things, "* * * The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has no thought of entering the field of international telegraph communications and would lease telegraph circuits in the cable for Government department use only, upon express order from a Government department to do so * * *" The protestant alleges that in the instant case there has been neither evidence, nor claim, the subject service was being supplied "upon express Order * * * to do so." The protestant further alleges the Commission, in arriving at its Order of June 5, 1958, did not require the Government department to justify the authorization granted. The protestant also refers to the policy statement of the United States delegation (including representatives of this Commission) at the informal discussions with the United Kingdom representatives in 1956 relative to the use of the TAT cable for telegraph services at which conference the United States delegation adopted the following policy:

> United States policy is against the use of TAT except in case of national emergency or where the Federal Communications Commission determines, in the public interest, that adequate facilities at reasonable rates are not available via telegraph carriers. In the latter instance, telegraph service should be provided by existing telegraph carriers which would lease channels in TAT upon Commission authorization on equitable and non-discriminatory terms.

The protestant alleges that in the instant case there has been no showing (a) that a national emergency exists or (b) that adequate facilities at reasonable rates are not available via telegraph carriers or (c) that any reason exists why the telegraph service in question should not be provided by the existing telegraph carriers leasing channels in the TAT cable. The protestant alleges that in granting the subject applications without a hearing the Commission has not taken all the steps available to it to determine whether the existing telegraph carriers cannot by means of leasing channels in the TAT cable upon Commission authorization, provide services which in certain respects meet more closely what the Air Force requires, by way of telegraph service, than by the means suggested or acquiesced in by AT&T. Thee protestant further alleges that there is no basis for AT&T's conclusion that the furnishing of the proposed service by a single carrier is the most efficient and economical way to meet the Air Force requirements and that there would be additional burdens imposed upon the telegraph using public if a telegraph carrier participated in furnishing the service via the TAT cable. In view of all of the foregoing, WU requests the Commission to (a) reconsider its order of June 5, 1958, and deny the subject applications and (b) amend the order to authorize the rendition of telegraphic service required by the United States Air Force by an international communications carrier other than AT&T and such other relief as in the premises may seem just and proper.

4. AC&R protest. AC&R's protest was similar to WU's but not as detailed. It states it is a "party in interest" in that it is in competition with other carriers in the furnishing of international communication services. Like WU, it also alleges the Commission's action of June 5, 1958, is not in the public interest and improperly made because (a) the action ignores the United States Government policy statement in 1956 relative to the use of the TAT cable for telegraph purposes; (b) that there would be no appreciable difference as to the interposition of another carrier in this case as there is in the case in other leased circuit situations where the international carriers lease from Bell System companies; (c) granting the subject applications might be construed as a precedent extremely serious to the international telegraph carriers; and (d) granting the subject applications puts AT&T in the international telegraph business. AC&R states specifically that it does not request a hearing relative to the subject applications but thinks all interested parties should be given the privilege of an informal conference relative thereto.

5. RCAC letter. RCAC expressed disagreement with the Commission's action granting the subject applications and enumerated its reasons therefor briefly which are similar to those expressed by WU and AC&R. It referred to previous correspondence relative to the subject applications where it alleged the dangers of irreparable harm to the international telegraph carriers and the public interest which would result from authorizing the entrance of AT&T directly into the international telegraph field. However, RCAC stated that under the circumstances herein and in view of the fact that the authorization is to provide a channel only for the United States Air Force, it was not filing a formal protest, based on the assumption that the instant order will not serve as a pronouncement of Commission policy to justify any future expansion by AT&T into the international telegraph field. It concluded that its statements are without prejudice to its right to participate in any additional formal or informal proceedings the Commission should designate in this matter.

6. AT&T reply. On July 17, 1958, AT&T filed an opposition to the WU protest. In brief, it urges that the relief requested by WU should be denied because, among other things, the protest states no material facts and makes no points that were not before the Commission when its order of June 5, 1958, was issued. It states the same is true of the AC&R protest, and that the Commission has given full consideration to these arguments and to the material facts and that no further consideration is called for. It emphasizes that the subject telephone channel is for both clear-text and encrypted speech, as well as for data transmission with voice co-ordination thereof. The opposition further states that AT&T is presently furnishing the service to the Air Force; that such service was begun upon representations that it was required in order to serve urgent national defense needs; that AT&T knows of no changed circumstances in the needs of national defense that would permit the termination of the service; that the needs of national defense today would seem to make it even more imperative that the service be continued; and finally that the Commission's authorization to use the radio stations is necssary to the maintenance of the subject service and the public interest requires that the authorization remain in effect.

7. Disposition of protests. In considering a protest pursuant to the provisions of section 309 (c) of our act, attention must be given, among other things, to two primary factors: (a) The allegations of fact which show the protestant to be a party in interest, and (b) the facts specified with particularity which are relied upon by protestant to show that a grant was (i) improperly made or (ii) would otherwise not be in the public interest.

8. In view of the fact that Protestant WU is engaged in the furnishing of international telegraph services, competing with other international telegraph carriers for international communication services, including the furnishing of private wire services to the public as well as to various governmental agencies, we find it to be a "party in interest" within the meaning of section 309 (c) of the act. We further find that the protestant, in alleging, among other things, that the grant to AT&T may pose a threat to the economic security of the international telegraph industry, has presented allegations which suffice, in a case involving communications common carriers, as a basis for hearing under the provisions of section 309 (c) of the act. The protestant suggested no issues. However, in the light of our above-stated conclusions, and in order to carry out the intent of Congress with respect to section 309 (c) of our act, as interpreted by the U. S. Court of Appeals, District of Columbia Circuit in Clarksburg Publishing Co. v. FCC, Case No. 12441 (12 RR 2024), we shall designate this matter for hearing upon issues presented in the pleadings under consideration which we deem appropriate and which are set forth later herein.

9. Standing on their own merits, both the AC&R protest and the RCAC statement relative to the Commission's action of June 5, 1958, could be dismissed on the basis that neither fully meets the requirements of section 309 (c) of the act. The RCAC letter indicates that it is not a formal protest. The AC&R Protest, although purported to be pursuant to section 309 (c), does not request the hearing provided by such Section but, instead, an informal conference with respect thereto is requested, which procedure is not provided for in such section. Thus, both the AC&R and RCAC pleadings are deficient in that they do not meet the statutory requirements of section 309 (c). However, in view of the fact that both AC&R and its operating subsidiaries and RCAC are in fact parties in interest within the meaning of such Section, and further, since the bases of their objections to a grant of the subject applications are similar to those of the WU Protest, which we have allowed, we believe that in order for the Commission to have all the relavant facts before it in considering this matter, that both AC&R and its operating subsidiaries and RCAC should be named as parties to the proceedings provided for herein. In view of these conclusions, it will not be necessary to discuss the merits of the allegations in the AC&R protest and the RCAC letter.

10. We now turn to the question of whether we should stay the effective date of our grant of the subject applications until a decision in this matter after hearing. Section 309 (c) of the act, insofar as is relevant hereto, provides that "* * * the effective date of the Commission's action to which protest is made shall be postponed * * * unless the authorization involved is necessary to the maintenance or conduct of an existing service, or unless the Commission affirmatively finds for reasons set forth in the decision that the public interest requires that the grant remain in effect, in which event the Commission shall authorize the applicant to utilize the facilities or authorization in question pending the Commission's decision after hearing." As previously indicated in paragraph 6 above, AT&T states the subject service is already being furnished the U. S. Air Force. AT&T also stated the subject service was instituted upon representations that it was required in order to meet urgent national defense needs and the needs of national defense today would seem to make it more imperative that the service be continued. In view of AT&T's allegations in this respect, and of ODM's concurrence in supporting the applications, as well as the current situation, we find that, for the limited purposes of determining whether or not to terminate AT&T's grant at this time (and subject to final determination upon the hearing record herein), that the public interest requires that the grant herein remain in effect pending our decision after hearing, and we authorize the applicant to continue the rendition of the subject combination voice and digital data transmission service to the United States Air Force pending final determination herein.

11. Accordingly, it is ordered, This 31st day of July 1958, That the applicant may furnish the subject alternate voice and digital data transmission service to the United States Air Force via the subject microwave facilities connecting with the TAT cable authorized by the Commission's action of June 5, 1958, pending the Commission's decision after the evidentiary hearing hereinafter provided; and

12. It is further ordered, That the above-entitled applications for modification of licenses are designated for hearing at the Commission's Office at Washington, D. C., at a time to be specified by subsequent order, upon the issues set forth below. Because the protestant did not set forth specific issues in this matter with particularity, the Commission has drafted these issues which appear to cover the protestant's objections to the grant of the subject applications:

(a) To determine insofar as consistent with the security of the United States, the nature and extent of the service required by the United States Air Force;

(b) To determine whether the proposed data transmission service can be provided over facilities of any international telegraph carrier with the required quality, speed and reliability of transmission;

(c) To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced, whether the public interest, convenience and necessity would better be served by (1) the grant of the subject applications of AT&T or (2) whether the proposed combination voice and data transmission service should be furnished in some other manner.

13. It is further ordered, That American Telephone and Telegraph Company, The Western Union Telegraph Company, RCA Communications, Inc., The American Cable and Radio Corporation and its operating subsidiaries, All America Cables and Radio, Inc., The Commercial Cable Company and Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., and the Chief, Common Carrier Bureau are made parties to the proceedings herein;

14. It is further ordered, That the burden of proof in the proceedings herein provided shall be upon the protestant Western Union Telegraph Company, and any other party or parties supporting the contentions of the protestant;

15. It is further ordered, That the Department of Defense and the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization may intervene and participate fully herein.

CENTRAL FREIGHT LINES, INC.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Central Freight Lines, Inc., Dallas, Texas, Docket No. 12570, File No. 5133/34-C6-J; for authorizations in the Motor Carrier Radio Service at Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 31st day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned applications of Central Freight Lines, Inc., for authorizations in the Motor Carrier Radio Service; and

It appearing that pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-named applicant was advised by letters dated June 20, 1955, and June 3, 1958, that in view of the considerations set forth therein, including a question of consistency with § 16.253 (a) of the Commission's rules, it could not be determined that a grant of said applications would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity; and

It further appearing that upon due consideration of the applicant's replies to such letters, dated, respectively, July 20, 1955, and June 30, 1958, the Commission is still unable to make such a determination; and

It further appearing that applicant has requested, in the alternative, if it is determined that its applications do not meet the requirements of § 16.253 (a) of the rules, a waiver of the requirements of said § 16.253 (a) to permit a grant of its applications on a developmental basis; and that the Commission is unable to determine, at this time, that the public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by a grant of the said request for waiver; and

It further appearing that by communications filed March 1 and April 14, 1955, respectively, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and The Western Union Telegraph Company stated their concern regarding the effect of a grant of the instant applications upon common carrier communications service furnished by them in view of the alleged adequacy of such facilities to meet the communications requirements of the applicant herein;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, said applications are designated for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the purpose of the proposed radio system and the manner in which it would be operated.

2. To determine whether a grant of the above-entitled applications would be consistent with § 16.253 (a) of the Commission's rules.

3. To determine (if a grant of the above-entitled applications would not be consistent) whether the public interest would be served by a waiver of said § 16.253 (a).

4. To determine whether the public interest would be served by a grant of the above-entitled applications in view of the Commission proceeding in Docket No. 11866.

5. To determine whether, in light of the evidence adduced on the foregoing issues, the public interest, convenience, and necessity would be served by the grant of the Central Freight Lines applications.

It is further ordered, That Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and The Western Union Telegraph Company are hereby made parties to the above-hearing;

It is further ordered, That, to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant and the parties named herein, pursuant to § 1.140 (c) and (e) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within twenty (20) days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

INTERLAKE BROADCASTING CORP. AND MESABI WESTERN CORP.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Interlake Broadcasting Corporation, (Assignor), and Mesabi Western Corporation, (Assignee), Docket No. 12575, File No. BAL-3039; for consent to assignment of license of Station KLAN, Renton, Washington.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 30th day of July 1958;

The Commission having under consideration (1) the above-entitled application; (2) the Commission's letter of July 23, 1958, sent to the above-named applicants pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; and (3) the reply to said letter filed on July 29, 1958 by the applicants; and

It appearing that 80 percent of the stock of Mesabi Western Corporation is held in trust by the Pacific National Bank of Seattle (Pacific) for beneficiaries under a deed of trust; that one of the directors and minority stockholders of Pacific is the controlling stockholder and president of the licensee of standard broadcast station KING in Seattle, Washington, while another director of Pacific holds a minority stockholder's interest in standard broadcast station KIRO in Seattle; that said stations KLAN, KING and KIRO serve the cities of Renton and Seattle; and that said stations also compete for advertising in the Renton-Seattle area; and

It further appearing that in its letter of July 23, 1958, to the above-named applicants, the Commission notified them that their application raised the question whether a grant thereof would violate the long-standing policy of the Commission promulgated under § 3.35 (a) of the Commission's rules against permitting any degree of cross-interest, direct or indirect, in two or more stations in the same broadcast service serving substantially the same area; that said policy was adopted for the purpose of insuring open, arms-length competition among broadcast stations serving substantially the same area; that the Commission found no justification for a waiver of or deviation from such well-established policy; that accordingly, the Commission was unable to determine that a grant of said application would serve the public interest; that, therefore, a hearing on the application was required; and that the applicants were being afforded 30 days in which to file a reply; and

It further appearing that on July 29, 1958, the above applicants filed a reply to the Commission's letter of July 23, 1958; and that in said reply, the applicants requested reconsideration of the Commission's action of July 23, 1958, and a grant of the above-entitled application; and

It further appearing that upon due consideration of the above-entitled application, the Commission's letter of July 23, 1958, and the applicants' reply thereto of July 29, 1958, no facts or arguments have been submitted which warrant the reconsideration requested by the applicants herein; that the Commission finds that it is unable to determine at this time that a grant of the above-entitled application would be in the public interest; that a hearing thereon is required; and that no questions of qualifications exist with respect to the above applicants except as to the matters raised by the issues set forth below:

It is ordered, That, the applicants' request for reconsideration by the Commission of its action of July 23, 1958, is denied;

It is further ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled application is designated for hearing, at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

(1) To determine, in light of the interests of the Pacific National Bank of Seattle and its directors in Mesabi Western Corporation and in Station KING and KIRO, Seattle, whether a grant of the above-entitled application would be consistent with the provisions of § 3.35 of the Commission's rules and its policies promulgated thereunder, particularly with respect to its policy of requiring open, arms-length competition among broadcast stations in the same broadcast service serving substantially the same area; and

(2) To determine, in light of the evidence adduced with respect to the foregoing issue, whether a grant of the above-entitled application would serve the public interest, convenience or necessity.

Released: August 6, 1958.

TARIFF COMMISSION

[Investigation 35]

IRON ORE

INSTITUTION OF INVESTIGATION

Pursuant to a resolution adopted July 29, 1958, by the Committee on Finance, United States Senate, the United States Tariff Commission, on the 4th day of August 1958, instituted an investigation under the provisions of section 332 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, of the conditions of competition in the United States between iron ore produced in the United States and in foreign countries.

The Committee resolution provides that in its report to the Committee of the results of the investigation "the Commission shall set forth a summary of the facts obtained in the investigation, including a description of the domestic industry, domestic production, foreign production, imports (including sources of imports), consumption, channels of distribution, United States exports, prices of domestic and imported ore, and the United States customs treatment (including trade-agreement obligations with respect to such treatment) since 1930."

The Committee resolution authorizes the Tariff Commission to hold such hearing or hearings in connection with the investigation as it deems necessary or desirable. Announcement regarding any hearing that may be scheduled in connection with this investigation will be made at a future date.

Issued August 5, 1958.

SPRING CLOTHESPINS

INSTITUTION OF INVESTIGATION

Pursuant to a resolution adopted July 30, 1958, by the Committee on Finance, United States Senate, the United States Tariff Commission, on the 4th day of August 1958, instituted an investigation under the provisions of section 332 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, of the conditions of competition in the United States between spring clothespins produced in the United States and in foreign countries.

The Tariff Commission, on September 10, 1957, made a report to the President of the results of an "escape clause" investigation under section 7 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1951, as amended, which resulted in a Presidential proclamation, effective December 10, 1957, increasing the duty on spring clothespins from 10 cents to 20 cents per gross. The instant investigation is not a new "escape clause" investigation, and the Commission's report to the Finance Committee, which is required to be made on or before November 1, 1958, will not include any recommendations for changes in existing import restrictions on spring clothespins; the report will be limited to a summary of the facts regarding developments in conditions of competition in the United States between imported and domestic spring clothespins since the increase in duty on December 10, 1957.

Issued August 5, 1958.

By order of the Commission.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. G-12792, G-12887]

PACIFIC NORTHWEST PIPELINE CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF APPLICATIONS AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 4, 1958.

In the matters of Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation, Docket No. G-12792; Beehive Uranium Corporation and Standard Uranium Corporation, Operator, Docket No. G-12887.

Take notice that on June 25, 1957, Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation (Pacific Northwest) filed in Docket No. G-12792 an application, pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of a main line tap to be installed at a point on Pacific Northwest's existing 26-inch main transmission pipeline in Garfield County, Colorado, in order to purchase and receive natural gas produced in the Gar Mesa Area in Garfield County by Beehive Uranium Corporation and Standard Uranium Corporation, Operator (Beehive and Standard), all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

On July 15, 1957, Beehive and Standard filed in Docket No. G-12887 a joint application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the above sale of gas to Pacific Northwest to be made pursuant to a 20-year gas sales contract dated March 12, 1957, executed by and between Pacific Northwest and Beehive and Standard. Each producer has a 50 per cent interest in the sale of gas covered by said contract.

The estimated total cost of Pacific Northwest's proposed tap is $1,000, to be financed from current funds. The facilities of Beehive and Standard consist of customary lease equipment.

Acreage controlled totals approximately 1,488 acres in the area, upon which two gas wells to be operated by Standard have been completed.

These related matters should be heard on a consolidated record and disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 10, 1958, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such applications: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicants to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 22, 1958. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

Secretary.

[Docket No. E-6836]

ALABAMA POWER CO. ET AL.

ORDER QUESTIONING ACCOUNT ENTRIES, PROVIDING FOR HEARING, AND DIRECTING HOLDING OF PREHEARING CONFERENCE

AUGUST 1, 1958.

In the matters of Alabama Power Company, Arizona Public Service Company, Arkansas Missouri Power Company, Arkansas Power & Light Company, Blackstone Valley Gas & Electric Company, Boston Edison Company, Carolina Power & Light Company, Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, Central Illinois Public Service Company, Central Louisiana Electric Company, Inc., Delaware Power & Light Company, Duquesne Light Company, El Paso Electric Company, Empire District Electric Company, Fitchburg Gas & Electric Light Company, Georgia Power Company, Gulf Power Company, Gulf States Utilities Company, The Hartford Electric Light Company, Holyoke Water Power Company, Idaho Power Company, Interstate Power Company, Iowa Public Service Company, Jersey Central Power & Light Company, Kansas Gas & Electric Company, Lake Superior District Power Company, Louisiana Power & Light Company, The Marietta Electric Company, Merrimack-Essex Electric Company, Metropolitan Edison Company, Minnesota Power & Light Company, Mississippi Power Company, Mississippi Power & Light Company, Mississippi Valley Public Service Company, Missouri Edison Company, Missouri Power & Light Company, Monongahela Power Company, The Montana Power Company, Monterey Utilities Corporation, The Narragansett Electric Company, New Jersey Power & Light Company, New Orleans Public Service, Inc., New York State Electric & Gas Corporation, Northern States Power Company of Minnesota, Northern States Power Company of Wisconsin, Northern Virginia Power Company, Ohio Edison Company, Oklahoma Gas & Electric Company, Orange and Rockland Utilities, Inc., Pacific Gas & Electric Company, Pacific Power & Light Company, Pennsylvania Electric Company, Pennsylvania Power Company, Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, Philadelphia Electric Company, The Potomac Edison Company, Potomac Electric Power Company, Potomac Light & Power Company, Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., Puget Sound Power & Light Company, Rockland Electric Company, South Carolina Electric & Gas Company, South Penn Power Company, Southwestern Gas & Electric Company, Southwestern Public Service Company, Suburban Electric Company, Superior Water, Light and Power Company, Union Electric Company, Utah Power & Light Company, Virginia Electric & Power Company, The Washington Water Power Company, The West Maryland Power Company, West Penn Power Company, West Texas Utilities Company, Western Massachusetts Electric Company, Worcester County Electric Company; Docket No. E-6836.

The question herein before the Commission relates to the propriety, under the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed for Public Utilities and Licensees, of the accounting treatment accorded by the above named Companies with respect to certain expenditures which each Company incurred during the calendar year 1957 as a participant in the "Electric Companies Advertising Program"[1] under the sponsorship of "America's Independent Electric Light and Power Companies."

[1] That program is hereinafter referred to as the "1957 E. C. A. P. Program".

The specific accounting entries herein questioned are as shown by individual Companies in Columns (1), (2), and (3) of Table A set forth below. They are questioned insofar as they include the dollar amounts shown in Column (5) of that Table. Available data indicate that the amounts in Column (5) represent the proportionate cost to each of the Companies for certain of the copy placed in numerous national publications under the 1957 E. C. A. P. Program.

The particular copy referred to is captioned as follows:

POWER COMPANIES BUILD FOR YOUR NEW ELECTRIC LIVING

Are you aware of this strange use of your tax money?
Where do your taxes go?
Why do customers of this power dam have to help pay electric bills for customers of this one?
This trick's on you!
The case of the Missing Millions
Would you call this fair play? (hurdlers)
Can you answer these questions about taxes?
Would you call this fair play?[2] (basketball players)

The reported total cost of the above-listed copy is $863,130.15 or 43.25 percent of the reported cost of all copy placed under the 1957 E. C. A. P. Program totalling $1,995,661.14. The total amount contributed by each of the Table A-named Companies to the 1957 E. C. A. P. Program appear in Column (4) of Table A. In the aggregate, those amounts total $1,286,083.15. To ascertain the proportion of each Company's contribution attributable to the cost of the above-listed copy, the staff applied the aforementioned percentage of 43.25 to the individual contribution of each Company. The resulting amounts are as shown in Column (5) of Table A.

In accounting for their respective contributions totalling $1,286,083.15, 53 of the Table A-named Companies charged an aggregate of $731,070.72 to F. P. C. Account No. 787, Demonstration, Advertising and Other Sales Expenses and 29 charged an aggregate of $555,012.43 to Account No. 801, Miscellaneous General Expenses. With the exception of three of the Table A-named Companies which split their respective charges between the above operating expense accounts, each Company reported its accounting for this transaction involved the use of only one of those accounts.

The Commission staff proposes that these charges be reclassified, in part, for the reason that the expenditures involved are, in part, of a type and character not within the scope of Account Nos. 787 and 801. The instructions set forth in the Uniform System of Accounts regarding the use of those accounts are as follows:

(1) 787. Demonstration, Advertising, and Other Sales Expenses.

A 787.1 Demonstration. This account shall include the cost of labor and materials used and expenses incurred in demonstrating the use of appliances or other equipment.

NOTE: Do not include in this account demonstration expense incurred in connection with merchandise or appliance sales.

Items:

1. Employees: (a) Demonstrators, (b) Instructors, (c) Typists and Clerks.

2. Expenses: (a) Building service (not including rent), (b) Communication service, (c) Demonstration supplies, (d) Electric service, (e) Transportation.

A 787.2 Advertising. This account shall include the cost of labor and materials used and expenses incurred in connection with advertising for the purpose of promoting the sales of electricity.

NOTE. Do not include in this account advertising in connection with merchandise or appliance sales.

Items:

1. Advertising in newspapers, periodicals, etc.

2. Advertising manager and assistants.

3. Clerks.

4. Materials and expenses in preparing: (a) Advertisements, (b) Booklets, (c) Bulletins, (d) Dodgers, (e) Posters.

5. Stenographers and typists.

A 787.3 Miscellaneous sales expenses. This account shall include the cost of labor and materials used and expenses incurred in soliciting new business, except amounts chargeable to the foregoing accounts.

NOTE. Do not include in this account expenses incurred in connection with merchandise or appliance sales.

(2) 801. Miscellaneous general expenses. This account shall include such items of expense applicable to the electric department as the cost of publishing and distributing annual reports to stockholders; advertising notice of stockholders' meetings; dividend and other corporate and financial notices of a general character; association dues; contributions for conventions and meetings of the industry; cost of research and experimental work conducted for the benefit of the electric department or the industry or for the improvement of electric service (except such amounts as may be properly chargeable to other accounts); fees of transfer agents, registrars of stock, and fiscal agents; director's fees; and any other miscellaneous expenses connected with the general management and not otherwise provided for.

The staff recommends the reclassification of the amounts shown in Column (5) of the attached Table A to Account No. 538, Miscellaneous Income Deductions, for the reason that the expenditures involved relate to the matter of private versus public ownership of electric facilities, a subject of political controversy, and the above-listed copy is of an argumentative character or nature in that controversy. The instructions set forth in the Uniform System of Accounts regarding the use of Account 538 are as follows:

538. Miscellaneous income deductions. This account shall include miscellaneous debits to income, not provided for elsewhere.

Items:

1. Decline in value of investments. (See Balance sheet instruction 4.)

2. Donations.

3. Expenditures for associated companies for which the utility will not be reimbursed.

By separate letters of the Commission dated February 27, 1958, each of the above Companies was advised that in the opinion of this Commission expenditures involving the presentation of argument in matters of political controversy are not properly includible in any of the 700 or 800 Series of Accounts of the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts but rather should be classified in Account No. 538.

Available data indicate that each above-entitled Company is a licensee and/or public utility under the Federal Power Act and therefore subject, as such, to the requirements of the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts. The respective principal places of business of the above-entitled Companies and the States in which those Companies operate are as follows:

In view of the foregoing it appears that the accounting treatment accorded by each of the Table A-named companies with respect to the dollar amounts shown in Column (5) of the Table A may, in each instance, involve a violation of the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts and each of the accounting entries there involved should be questioned. Accordingly, it appears necessary and appropriate for the purposes of the Federal Power Act (particularly sections 3, 4, 301, 302, 304, 307, 308 and 309), and the Uniform System of Accounts and Regulations prescribed thereunder, that those entries be questioned and that a hearing be held with respect thereto all as hereinafter provided.

The Commission orders:

(A) The accounting entry or entries of each of the Table A-named companies shown in Columns (2) and (3) of the Table A are hereby questioned to the extent of the inclusion therein of the dollar amounts shown in Column (5) of that table.

(B) A public hearing be held in the Commission's Hearing Rooms, 441 G Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., commencing at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., October 7, 1958, with respect to the compliance of the accounting entries questioned in Paragraph (A) above, with the requirements of the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts.

(C) A prehearing conference, pursuant to the provisions of § 1.18 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.18) be held in this case at the Commission's offices, 441 G Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., commencing at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., September 9, 1958; such conference to be presided over by the presiding examiner assigned to this case.

(D) At the hearing ordered herein each of the above-entitled Companies shall present any justification there may be for its (or indicated predecessor), respective accounting entry or entries herein questioned; and shall show cause, if any there be, why it should not, by an appropriate memorandum accounting entry reclassify to Account 538, the respective dollar amount shown in Column (5) of Table A opposite its (or indicated predecessor) corporate name.

(E) Interested State Commissions may participate in this proceeding as provided in §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G-15795]

GENERAL AMERICAN OIL COMPANY OF TEXAS

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

AUGUST 4, 1958.

General American Oil Company of Texas (General American) on July 7, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 18, 1958.

Purchaser: West Lake Natural Gas Company.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 1 to General American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 27.

Effective date: August 7, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, General American cites the circumstances under which the increased rate is submitted and the pricing provision in the basic contract. In addition, General American states that the schedule of periodic price escalations is common in long-term gas sales contracts and enables buyer to receive assured reserves for long periods and to receive initial deliveries at a low price when his unamortized capital investment is high, and affords seller progressively higher returns contemporaneously with increases in production, development, operating and maintenance costs.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 1 to General American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 27, be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 therof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 1 to General American's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 27.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 8, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioners Kline and Hussey dissenting).

LE CUNO OIL CORP. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

AUGUST 4, 1958.

Le Cuno Oil Corporation (Operator) et al. (Le Cuno) on July 7, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated June 26, 1958.

Purchaser: Mississippi River Fuel Corporation.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 7 to Le Cuno's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2.

Effective date: August 7, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Le Cuno states that the contract containing the price increase provisions resulted from arm's length negotiations, the increase provisions were a material inducement to seller to enter into the long-term contract and denial of the increase would be unjust, unwise and confiscatory. Le Cuno states further that the proposed price does not constitute an increase in rate but is an integral part of the price schedule in the original contract and is beneficial to both buyer and seller in providing a low rate while purchaser's costs are high, such price increasing as buyer's costs are recovered and seller's volumes and pressures decline. Le Cuno also states the increased price is necessary to encourage further development and exploration and provide seller a fair and reasonable return.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 7 to Le Cuno's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 7 to Le Cuno's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 7, 1959, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

PURE OIL CO. ET AL.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

AUGUST 4, 1958.

The Pure Oil Company et al. (Pure Oil) on July 7, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, undated.

Purchaser: West Lake Natural Gas Company.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 5 to Pure Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 41.

Effective date: August 7, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Pure Oil cites the circumstances under which the increased rate is submitted and the pricing provision in the basic contract. In addition, Pure Oil cites the level of the proposed rate in relation to the informally established 10.0 cents per Mcf ceiling increased rate for Permian Basin gas.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 5 to Pure Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 41 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 5 to Pure Oil's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 41.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 8, 1958, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[No. 32463]

MISSOURI INTRASTATE FREIGHT RATES AND CHARGES

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 2, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 28th day of July A. D. 1958.

It appearing that by petition dated June 20, 1958, and filed on June 23, 1958, on behalf of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company and other common carriers by railroad operating to, from, and between points in the State of Missouri, it is averred that in Ex Parte No. 206, Increased Freight Rates and Charges, Eastern, Western and Southern Territories, 1956, 229 I. C. C. 429, 299 I. C. C. 557, and 300 I. C. C. 622, this Commission authorized certain increases in interstate rates and charges throughout the United States, and that the Missouri Public Service Commission has refused to authorize or permit said petitioners to apply to the transportation of sand and gravel (Commodity Group 327), broken, ground, and crushed stone and rock (Commodity Group 329), and cinders, in carloads, in open-top cars not protected by tarpaulin or other protective coverings; clay and bentonite (Commodity Group 323), in carloads; fertilizer compounds, N. O. I. B. N., dry (manufactured fertilizer), in carloads; and bituminous coal, line-haul rates, in carloads, moving intrastate by railroad in Missouri, increases in freight rates and charges corresponding to those approved for interstate application in Ex Parte No. 206, supra;

It further appearing that said petitioners allege that the intrastate rates and charges which they are required to maintain for the transportation of property as aforesaid, moving intrastate by railroad in Missouri, as a result of such refusal by the Missouri Public Service Commission, cause undue and unreasonable advantage, preference, and prejudice as between persons and localities in intrastate commerce, on the one hand, and interstate and foreign commerce, on the other hand, and undue, unreasonable, and unjust discrimination against interstate commerce in violation of section 13 of the Interstate Commerce Act, and request that an investigation of the lawfulness of such rates be instituted;

And it further appearing that the said petition brings in issue freight rates and charges made or imposed by authority of the State of Missouri;

It is ordered, That in response to the said petition, an investigation be, and it is hereby, instituted, and that a hearing be held therein for the purpose of receiving evidence from the respondents hereinafter designated and any other interested parties to determine whether the aforesaid rates and charges of the common carriers by railroad, or any of them, operating in the State of Missouri, for the intrastate transportation of property, made or imposed by authority of the State of Missouri, cause or will cause, by reason of the failure of such rates and charges to include increases corresponding to those permitted by this Commission for interstate traffic in Ex Parte No. 206, supra, any undue or unreasonable advantage, preference, or prejudice, as between persons or localities in intrastate commerce, on the one hand, and interstate or foreign commerce, on the other hand, or any undue, unreasonable, or unjust discrimination against interstate or foreign commerce in violation of section 13 of the Interstate Commerce Act, and to determine what rates and charges, if any, or what maximum or minimum, or maximum and minimum, rates and charges shall be prescribed to remove the unlawful advantage, preference, prejudice, or discrimination, if any, that may be found to exist;

It is further ordered, That all common carriers by railroad operating within the State of Missouri, which are subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission, be, and they are hereby, made respondents to this proceeding; that a copy of this order be served upon each of the said respondents, and that the State of Missouri be notified of the proceeding by sending copies of this order and of said petition by registered mail to the Governor of the said State, and to the Missouri Public Service Commission at Jefferson City, Mo.;

It is further ordered, That notice of this proceeding be given to the public by depositing a copy of this order in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., for public inspection, and by filing a copy with the Director, Division of the Federal Register, Washington, D. C.;

And it is further ordered, That this proceeding be assigned for hearing at such time and place as the Commission may hereafter designate.

By the Commission, Division 2.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[957.317, Amdt. 1]

PART 957—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN IDAHO AND MALHEUR COUNTY, OREG.

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. (a) Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 57, as amended (7 CFR Part 957) regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in certain designated counties in Idaho and Malheur County, Oregon, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of recommendations and information submitted by the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, as amended, and other available information, it is hereby found that the amendment to the limitation of shipments, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (i) the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, (ii) more orderly marketing in the public interest, than would otherwise prevail, will be promoted by regulating the shipment of potatoes, in the manner set forth below, on and after the effective date of this amendment, (iii) compliance with this amendment will not require any special preparation on the part of handlers which cannot be completed by the effective date, (iv) reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for such preparation, and (v) information regarding the committee's recommendations has been made available to producers and handlers in the production area.

Order, as amended. The provisions of § 957.317 (b) (2) (23 F. R. 5157) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, during the period from August 13, 1958, through June 30, 1959, no handler shall ship (i) any lot of potatoes of the Kennebec variety if more than 25 percent of the potatoes in such lot have more than one-half of the skin missing or "feathered," as such terms are used in the said United States Standards for Potatoes; (ii) any lot of potatoes of the Russet and Early Gem varieties if such potatoes are more than "slightly skinned," as such terms is defined in the said United States Standards for Potatoes, which means that not more than 10 percent of the potatoes in any lot have more than one-fourth of the skin missing or "feathered"; or (iii) any lot of potatoes of any other variety, including the White Rose variety, if such potatoes are more than "moderately skinned," as such term is defined in the said United States Standards for Potatoes, which means that not more than 10 percent of such potatoes have more than one-half of the skin missing or "feathered": Provided, That during such period, not to exceed a total of 50 hundredweight of each variety of such potatoes may be handled for any producer without regard to the aforesaid skinning requirements: Provided further, That in addition to such 50 hundredweight of potatoes of any variety that may be handled without regard to said skinning requirements, any lot of potatoes may be handled for any producer without regard to such requirements if (a) such lot of potatoes previously failed, upon inspection by a Federal-State inspector, to meet grade and size requirements but met the aforesaid skinning requirements applicable to such lot of potatoes, (b) such lot of potatoes has been regraded, and such lot of potatoes otherwise meets, as indicated by a Federal-State inspection certificate, the grade and size requirement applicable to such potatoes, and (c) the potatoes failing to meet the aforesaid skinning requirements are not in excess of 100 hundredweight in any such lot. Prior to each shipment of potatoes exempt from the above skinning require-

PART 421—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1958-CROP GRAIN SORGHUMS LOAN AND PURCHASE AGREEMENT PROGRAM

The regulations issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and the Commodity Stabilization Service published in 23 F. R. 4401, containing the specific requirements for the 1958-crop grain sorghums price support program are hereby amended as follows:

1. Section 421.3233 (a) (1) is amended by adding the following to the list of terminal markets and basic support rates per hundredweight:

Baton Rouge, Louisiana $2.35

2. Section 421.3233 (a) (6) (i) is amended to include Baton Rouge, Louisiana, so that the amended subparagraph reads as follows:

(6) (i) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph the support rate for grain sorghums shipped by rail or water and stored at any of the following terminal markets for which neither registered freight bills nor registered freight certificates are presented to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate shall be equal to the applicable terminal rate:

Corpus Christi, Tex.; Galveston, Tex.; Houston, Tex.; Port Arthur, Tex.; Baton Rouge, La.; and New Orleans, La.

3. Section 421.3233 (a) (6) (ii) is amended to provide a deduction from the terminal rate for grain sorghums received by truck at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, so that the amended subdivision reads as follows:

(ii) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the support rate for grain sorghums received by truck and stored at any of the terminal markets listed in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph shall be determined by making a deduction from the terminal rate as follows:

Terminal market:	Amount of deduction (cents per 100 pounds)
Corpus Christi, Tex.; Houston, Tex.; Galveston, Tex.; Port Arthur, Tex.; Baton Rouge, La.; New Orleans, La.	11

4. Section 421.3233 (c) is amended by changing the basic county support rates as follows:

ARIZONA

Cochise County increased from $1.94 to $1.97 per hundredweight.
Maricopa County increased from $2.16 to $2.20 per hundredweight.
Pinal County increased from $2.16 to $2.19 per hundredweight.

PART 421—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1958-CROP BARLEY LOAN AND PURCHASE AGREEMENT PROGRAM

The regulations issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and the Commodity Stabilization Service published in 23 F. R. 3492 and 5317 containing the specific requirements for the 1958-crop barley price suport program are hereby amended as follows:

1. Section 421.3083 (a) (1) is amended by adding the following to the list of terminal markets and basic support rates per bushel:

Baton Rouge, Louisiana	$1.24

2. Section 421.3083 (a) (6) (i) is amended to include Baton Rouge, Louisiana, so that the amended subparagraph reads as follows:

(6) (i) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph barley shipped by rail or water and stored at any of the following terminal markets and for which neither registered freight bills nor registered freight certificates are presented to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate, shall have a support rate equal to the applicable terminal rate:

Los Angeles, San Francisco, Stockton, and Oakland, Calif.
New Orleans and Baton Rouge, Louisiana.
Baltimore, Md.
Duluth, Minn.
Portland and Astoria, Oreg.
Albany and New York, N. Y.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Galveston, Houston, and Port Arthur, Tex.
Norfolk, Va.
Seattle, Longview, Tacoma, and Vancouver, Wash.
Superior, Wis.

3. Section 421.3083 (a) (6) (ii) is amended to provide a deduction from the terminal rate for barley received by truck at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, so that the amended subdivision reads as follows:

(ii) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph for barley received by truck and stored at any of the terminal markets listed in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, the support rate shall be determined by making a deduction of 3½ cents per bushel from the terminal rate.

4. Section 421.3083 (c) is amended to show the correct basic county support rates for all counties in Idaho as follows:

IDAHO

County	Rate per bushel	County	Rate per bushel
Ada	$0.81	Boundary	$0.85
Adams	.79	Butte	.78
Bannock	.81	Camas	.78

Latah	.90	Teton	.78
Lemhi	.78	Twin Falls	.78
Lewis	.88	Valley	.80
Lincoln	.78	Washington	.83

5. Section 421.3086 is amended to provide for making a payment to the producer because of reduced rail freights in certain States and counties by redesignating paragraph (h) Method of payment under purchase agreement settlements as paragraph (i) Method of payment under purchase agreement settlements and substituting a new paragraph (h) Payment because of reduced rail freight in lieu thereof as follows:

§ 421.3086 Settlement. • • •

(h) Payment because of reduced rail freight. A payment per bushel, as provided below, which represents the county average reduction in rail freight subsequent to the calculation of the support rates, shall be made to the producer by the county office for barley acquired under loans and purchase agreements by the Commodity Credit Corporation at the county support rate in the following States and counties:

IDAHO

County	Amount per bushel[1] (cents)	County	Amount per bushel[1] (cents)
Benewah	5	Kootenai	5
Bonner	1	Latah	5
Clearwater	4	Lewis	6

Subchapter D—Regulations Under Soil Bank Act

PART 485—SOIL BANK

SUBPART—ACREAGE RESERVE PROGRAM

SUPPLEMENT IV

The regulations governing the 1958 acreage reserve part of the Soil Bank Program, 21 F. R. 4379, as amended and supplemented, is hereby further supplemented as follows:

Pursuant to the provisions of Pub. Law 85-413, 85th Cong., the Administrator may, if he deems it desirable in order to provide fair and equitable treatment to a producer, authorize compensation for certain losses suffered by such producer under the 1956 acreage reserve program as a result of the circumstances set forth below:

(1) Incorrect or incomplete information was furnished to the producer by a representative of the Secretary authorized to furnish information under the program;

(2) The producer relied, in good faith, on such information and entered into a 1956 acreage reserve agreement or took action with the intention of entering into such an agreement; and

(3) The producer is not entitled to receive under the provisions of the regulations the payment which was stipulated in the agreement or which would have been stipulated if an agreement had been entered into on the basis of the incorrect or incomplete information.

Compensation shall be paid to the producer under this supplement in an amount which the Administrator determines will reimburse the producer for the net loss suffered by the producer as a direct result of his destruction of a crop or his refraining from harvesting or grazing in an attempt to qualify for compensation under the 1956 acreage reserve program, except that compensation for such loss plus any compensation already received with respect to the tract or tracts treated as acreage reserve shall not exceed the compensation stipulated in the 1956 acreage reserve agreement or which would have been stipulated if an agreement had been entered into on the basis of the incorrect or incomplete information.

Compensation shall be made under this supplement by the issuance to the producer of a negotiable certificate, redeemable by Commodity Credit Corporation. Such certificate shall be redeemable only in cash in accordance with the provisions governing redemption of certificates in cash in § 485.120 of these regulations.

(Sec. 124, 70 Stat. 198, 7 U. S. C. 1812)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of August 1958.

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 203—CONDUCT OF MEMBERS AND EMPLOYEES AND FORMER MEMBERS AND EMPLOYEES OF THE COMMISSION

CANONS OF ETHICS

§ 203.10 Canons of ethics.

Preamble. Members of the Securities and Exchange Commission are entrusted by various enactments of the Congress with powers and duties of great social and economic significance to the American people. It is their task to regulate varied aspects of the American economy, within the limits prescribed by Congress, to insure that our private enterprise system serves the welfare of all citizens. Their success in this endeavor is a bulwark against possible abuses and injustice which, if left unchecked, might jeopardize the strength of our economic institutions.

It is imperative that the members of this Commission continue to conduct themselves in their official and personal relationships in a manner which commands the respect and confidence of their fellow citizens. Members of this Commission should continue to be mindful of, and strictly abide by, the standards of personal conduct set forth in its Regulation regarding Conduct of Members and Employees and Former Members and Employees of the Commission, most of which has been in effect for many years and which was codified in substantially its present form in 1953. Rule 1 of said Regulation enunciates a General Statement of Policy as follows:

"It is deemed contrary to Commission policy for a member or employee of the Commission to—

"(a) Engage, directly or indirectly, in any personal business transaction or private arrangement for personal profit which accrues from or is based upon his official position or authority or upon confidential information which he gains by reason of such position or authority;

"(b) Accept, directly or indirectly, any valuable gift, favor, or service from any person with whom he transacts business on behalf of the United States;

"(c) Discuss or entertain proposals for future employment by any person outside the Government with whom he is transacting business on behalf of the United States;

"(d) Divulge confidential commercial or economic information to any unauthorized person, or release any such information in advance of authorization for its release;

"(e) Become unduly involved, through frequent or expensive social engagements or otherwise, with any person outside the Government with whom he transacts business on behalf of the United States; or

"(f) Act in any official matter with respect to which there exists a personal interest incompatible with an unbiased exercise of official judgment.

"(g) Fail reasonably to restrict his personal business affairs so as to avoid conflicts of interest with his official duties."

In addition to the continued observance of these foregoing principles of personal conduct, it is fitting and proper for the members of this Commission to restate and resubscribe to the standards of conduct applicable to its executive, legislative and judicial responsibilities.

1. Constitutional obligations. The members of this Commission have undertaken in their oaths of office to support the Federal Constitution. Insofar as the enactments of the Congress impose executive duties upon the members, they must faithfully execute the laws which they are charged with administering. Members shall also carefully guard against any infringement of the constitutional rights, privileges or immunities of those who are subject to regulation by this Commission.

2. Statutory obligations. In administering the law, members of this Commission should vigorously enforce compliance with the law by all persons affected thereby. In the exercise of the rule-making powers delegated this Commission by the Congress, members should always be concerned that the rule-making power be confined to the proper limits of the law and be consistent with the statutory purpose expressed by the Congress. In the exercise of their judicial functions, members shall honestly, fairly and impartially determine the rights of all persons under the law.

3. Personal conduct. Appointment to the office of member of this Commission is a high honor and requires that the conduct of a member, not only in the performance of the duties of his office but also in his everyday life, should be beyond reproach.

4. Relationship with other members. Each member should recognize that his conscience and those of other members are distinct entities and that differing shades of opinion should be anticipated. The free expression of opinion is a safeguard against the domination of this Commission by less than a majority, and is a keystone of the commission type of administration. However, a member should never permit his personal opinion so to conflict with the opinion of another member as to develop animosity or unfriendliness in the Commission, and every effort should be made to promote solidarity of conclusion.

5. Maintenance of independence. This Commission has been established to administer laws enacted by the Congress. Its members are appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate to serve terms as provided by law. However, under the law, this is an independent Agency, and in performing their duties, members should exhibit a spirit of firm independence and reject any effort by representatives of the executive or legislative branches of the government to affect their independent determination of any matter being considered by this Commission. A member should not be swayed by partisan demands, public clamor or considerations of personal popularity or notoriety; so also he should be above fear of unjust criticism by anyone.

6. Relationship with persons subject to regulation. In all matters before him, a member should administer the law without regard to any personality involved, and with regard only to the issues. Members should not become indebted in any way to persons who are or may become subject to their jurisdiction. No member should accept loans, presents or favors of undue value from persons who are regulated or who represent those who are regulated. In performing their judicial functions, members should avoid discussion of a matter with any person outside this Commission and its staff while that matter is pending. In the performance of his rule-making and administrative functions, a member has a duty to solicit the views of interested persons. Care must be taken by a member in his relationship with persons within or outside of the Commission to separate the judicial and the rule-making functions and to observe the liberties of discussion respectively appropriate. Insofar as it is consistent with the dignity of his official position, he should maintain contact with the persons outside the agency who may be affected by his rule-making functions, but he should not accept unreasonable or lavish hospitality in so doing.

7. Qualification to participate in particular matters. The question of qualification of an individual member to vote or participate in a particular matter rests with that individual member. Each member should weigh carefully the question of his qualification with respect to any matter wherein he or any relatives or former business associates or clients are involved. He should disqualify himself in the event he obtained knowledge prior to becoming a member of the facts at issue before him in a quasi-judicial proceeding, or in other types of proceeding in any matter involving parties in whom he has any interest or relationship directly or indirectly. If an interested person suggests that a member should disqualify himself in a particular matter because of bias or prejudice, the member shall be the judge of his own qualification.

8. Impressions of influence. A member should not, by his conduct, permit the impression to prevail that any person can improperly influence him, that any person unduly enjoys his favor or that he is affected in any way by the rank, position, prestige or affluence of any person.

9. Ex parte communications. Matters of a quasi-judicial nature should be determined by a member solely upon the record made in the proceeding and the arguments of the parties or their counsel properly made in the regular course of such proceeding. All communications by parties or their counsel to a member in a quasi-judicial proceeding which are intended or calculated to influence action by the member should at once be made known by him to all parties concerned. A member should not at any time permit ex parte interviews, arguments or communications designed to influence his action in such a matter.

10. Commission opinions. The opinions of the Commission should state the reasons for the action taken and contain a clear showing that no serious argument of counsel has been disregarded or overlooked. In such manner, a member shows a full understanding of the matter before him, avoids the suspicion of arbitrary conclusion, promotes confidence in his intellectual integrity and may contribute some useful precedent to the growth of the law. A member should be guided in his decisions by a deep regard for the integrity of the system of law which he administers. He should recall that he is not a repository of arbitrary powers, but is acting on behalf of the public under the sanction of the law.

11. Judicial review. The Congress has provided for review by the courts of the decisions and orders by this Commission. Member should recognize that their obligation to preserve the sanctity of the laws administered by them requires that they pursue and prosecute, vigorously and diligently but at the same time fairly and impartially and with dignity, all matters which they or others take to the courts for judicial review.

12. Legislative proposals. Members must recognize that the changing conditions in a volatile economy may require that they bring to the attention of the Congress proposals to amend, modify or repeal the laws administered by them. They should urge the Congress, whenever necessary, to effect such amendment, modification or repeal of particular parts of the statutes which they administer. In any such action a member's motivation should be the common weal and not the particular interests of any particular group.

13. Investigations. The power to investigate carries with it the power to defame and destroy. In determining to exercise their investigatory power, members should concern themselves only with the facts known to them and the reasonable inferences from those facts. A member should never suggest, vote for or participate in an investigation aimed at a particular individual for reasons of animus, prejudice or vindictiveness. The requirements of the particular case alone should induce the exercise of the investigatory power, and no public pronouncement of the pendency of such an investigation should be made in the absence of reasonable evidence that the law has been violated and that the public welfare demands it.

14. The power to adopt rules. In exercising its rule-making power, this Commission performs a legislative function. The delegation of this power by the Congress imposes the obligation upon the members to adopt rules necessary to effectuate the stated policies of the statute in the interest of all of the people. Care should be taken to avoid the adoption of rules which seek to extend the power of the Commission beyond proper statutory limits. Its rules should never tend to stifle or discourage legitimate business enterprise or activities, nor should they be interpreted so as unduly and unnecessarily to burden those regulated with onerous obligations. On the other hand, the very statutory enactments evidence the need for regulation, and the necessary rules should be adopted or modifications made or rules should be repealed as changing requirements demand without fear or favor.

15. Promptness. Each member should promptly perform the duties with which he is charged by the statutes. The Commission should evaluate continuously its practices and procedures to assure that it promptly disposes of all matters affecting the rights of those regulated. This is particularly desirable in quasi-judicial proceedings. While avoiding arbitrary action in unreasonably or unjustly forcing matters to trial, members should endeavor to hold counsel to a proper appreciation of their duties to the public, their clients and others who are interested. Requests for continuances of matters should be determined in a manner consistent with this policy.

16. Conduct toward parties and their counsel. Members should be temperate, attentive, patient and impartial when hearing the arguments of parties or their counsel. Members should not condone unprofessional conduct by attorneys in their representation of parties. The Commission should continuously assure that its staff follows the same principles in their relationships with parties and counsel.

17. Business promotions. A member must not engage in any other business, employment or vocation while in office, nor may he ever use the power of his office or the influence of his name to promote the business interests of others.

18. Fiduciary relationships. A member should avoid serving as a fiduciary if it would interfere or seem to interfere with the proper performance of his duties, or if the interests of those represented require investments in enterprises which are involved in questions to be determined by him. Such relationships would include trustees, executors, corporate directors and the like.

19. Organization. Members and particularly the Chairman of the Commission should scrutinize continuously its internal organization in order to assure that such organization handles all matters before it efficiently and expeditiously, while recognizing that changing times bring changing emphasis in the administration of the laws.

Subchapter C—Drugs

PART 141c—CHLORTETRACYCLINE (OR TETRACYCLINE) AND CHLORTETRACYCLINE- (OR TETRACYCLINE-) CONTAINING DRUGS; TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY

PART 146c—CERTIFICATION OF CHLORTETRACYCLINE (OR TETRACYCLINE) AND CHLORTETRACYCLINE- (OR TETRACYCLINE-) CONTAINING DRUGS

CAPSULES TETRACYCLINE HYDROCHLORIDE-TRIACETYLOLEANDOMYCIN-NYSTATIN

Under the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 507, 59 Stat. 463, as amended; sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 357, 371) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (22 F. R. 1045), the regulations for tests and methods of assay and certification of antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR Parts 141c, 146c) are amended by adding thereto the following new sections:

§ 141c.243 Capsules tetracycline hydrochloride - triacetyloleandomycin - nystatin—(a) Potency—(1) Tetracycline hydrochloride content. Proceed as directed in § 141c.231 (a) (1). Its tetracycline hydrochloride content is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent of the number of milligrams that it is represented to contain.

(2) Triacetyloleandomycin content. Proceed as directed in § 141c.231 (a) (2) (ii). Its content of triacetyloleandomycin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent of the number of milligrams that it is represented to contain.

(3) Nystatin content. Proceed as directed in § 141c.224 (a) (1) (ii). Its content of nystatin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent of the number of units that it is represented to contain.

(b) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141a.5 (a) of this chapter.

§ 146c.243 Capsules tetracycline hydrochloride - triacetyloleandomycin-nystatin. Capsules tetracycline hydrochloride-triacetyloleandomycin-nystatin conform to all requirements and procedures prescribed by § 146c.231 for tetracycline hydrochloride and triacetyloleandomycin capsules, except that:

(a) Each capsule contains not less than 125,000 units of nystatin. The nystatin used conforms to the standards prescribed by § 146c.224 (a).

(b) In addition to the labeling prescribed for tetracycline hydrochloride and triacetyloleandomycin capsules, each package shall bear on its label and labeling the number of units of nystatin in each capsule of the batch. The expiration date of the drug shall be 18 months.

(c) In addition to complying with the requirements of § 146c.231 (a) (4), a person who requests certification of a batch shall submit with his request a statement showing the batch mark and (unless they were previously submitted) the results and the date of the latest tests and assays of the nystatin used in making the batch for potency, toxicity, pH, moisture, and specific rotation. He shall also submit in connection with his request (unless it was previously submitted) a sample consisting of 10 packages, each containing approximately equal portions of not less than 300 milligrams of the nystatin used in making the batch.

(d) The fees for the services rendered with respect to the samples submitted in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section shall be:

(1) $1.25 for each capsule.

(2) $4.00 for each immediate container of nystatin.

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industry and since it would be against public interest to delay providing for these amendments.

Effective date. This order shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the affected industry will benefit by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Civil Air Regulations, Amdt. 60–11]

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

VFR WEATHER MINIMUMS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of August 1958.

Minimum weather conditions for operation under the visual flight rules are contained in Part 60 of the Civil Air Regulations.

Civil Air Regulations Draft Release No. 57-27, dated December 10, 1957, contained several proposed amendments, one of which advocated certain increases in the minimum VFR weather criteria. This amendment introduces the terms "basic" and "special" VFR flight but leaves unchanged the existing VFR weather minimums with the exception of the one-half-mile rule for VFR flights which is eliminated. Of the other proposals in this draft release, final rules on cruising altitudes were adopted by the Board on June 6, 1958, final rules on the height of the control floor are imminent, and further action on the instrument take-off and landing minimums has been deferred pending additional study. All of these proposals were based on the comments received in response to Civil Air Regulations Draft Release No. 57–11, dated May 23, 1957, and the discussions at the Air Traffic Rules Conference held in Washington, D. C., in June 1957.

The proposal concerning minimum weather conditions for VFR flight contained essentially four elements: (1) An increase in the ceiling and visibility minimums to 1,500 feet and 5 miles for uncontrolled flight in the control zone of a designated high density airport; (2) the prescription of one mile as the irreducible visibility minimum for all VFR flight; (3) the introduction and use of the terms "basic" and "special" VFR weather minimums; and (4) the increase to 5 miles of the visibility minimums for acrobatic flight.

Fundamentally, the objective in the proposal on VFR minimums was to determine if the chances of collision between aircraft operating under the see and be seen concept would be reduced if these minimums were raised.

In substance, the proposals and the supporting explanation were as follows: It was contended on the one hand that the currently prescribed minimums do not account for the considerable increase in the speeds of aircraft. Increasing the VFR minimums, it was maintained, would insure greater visibility during VFR operations which would enhance the pilot's ability to avoid a collision. This would have the collateral effect of requiring more aircraft to be operated under instrument flight rules which would result in separation being provided by air traffic control in a greater number of operations and, accordingly, would reduce the collision potential.

On the other hand, the view was expressed, particularly by the general aviation segment, that an over-all increase of the minimum VFR weather criteria would unnecessarily and unduly restrict a vast amount of flight activity. It was contended that the absence of an IFR capability on the part of a large number of pilots and/or airplanes coupled with the number of times that the weather conditions would be below the proposed minimums for VFR flight would seriously limit the utility of the airplane.

The principle of "see and be seen" in the air traffic rules of Part 60 dealt principally with the meteorological conditions which affect a pilot's ability to observe and avoid other aircraft. These conditions are expressed in terms of visibility and distance from clouds minimums. For some time, however, it had become increasingly apparent that speed and terminal traffic congestion conditions directly affect a pilot's ability to observe and avoid other aircraft and, accordingly, had to be considered in addition to weather conditions in the continued development of the air traffic rules.

Accordingly, it was proposed that the ceiling and visibility minimums for uncontrolled flight in the control zone of a designated high density airport be increased to 1,500 feet ceiling and 5 miles visibility.

It was also proposed to amend §§ 60.30 and 60.31 to provide for certain "basic VFR" weather minimums in the former and "special VFR" weather minimums in the latter section. It was expected that this arrangement, coupled with the chart set forth therein, would make clear which rules apply in a given operational circumstance. The term "basic VFR" weather conditions refers to those minimum weather conditions required for VFR flight below which all airplanes must be operated in accordance with the instrument flight rules. There is one exception to these basic minimums and it concerns VFR flight operations in control zones. While control zones ordinarily have basic minimums of 1,000 feet ceiling and 3 miles visibility, these minimums can be reduced provided a special clearance is obtained from air traffic control. This special exception is designed to permit VFR aircraft to transit to or from uncontrolled airspace where the minimum visibility is one mile. This one exception to the basic VFR minimums is referred to as "special VFR." The minimum weather conditions for "special VFR" flight currently require that the flight remain clear of clouds and that the visibility be at least one mile, except that the visibility may be one-half mile if the restriction to visibility is due to a local surface restriction such as smoke, dust, or blowing snow or sand, and if all turns after takeoff and prior to landing and all flights beyond one mile from the airport boundary can be accomplished above or outside the area so restricted.

It was proposed to delete the one-half-mile provision since any flight operation conducted in visibility conditions of less than one mile was considered to be unsafe unless the pilot is able to maintain the altitude and direction of the aircraft by reference to instruments.

Finally, it was proposed to increase the flight visibility value from 3 miles to 5 miles for acrobatic flight in § 60.16 (c) to provide pilots with additional opportunity to see and avoid other aircraft.

It was clear from the comment received on the draft release that the lines were drawn sharply on this highly controversial issue of appropriate VFR weather minimums. Briefly stated, the airmen from the professional segments of aviation concurred with the proposal, although some thought that it did not go far enough, while the non-professional segments vigorously opposed any increases in the VFR minimums. Reasons given in support of the respective positions were essentially as received in earlier considerations of the problem, and which are detailed above. Persuasive arguments were advanced by the general aviation segment that no case could be made for the proposition that accidents would be reduced materially if VFR weather minimums were increased since accident statistics clearly showed that mid-air collisions were occurring in relatively clear weather. The Board has confirmed this through an extensive analysis of its civil accident and near collision statistics. One finding is particularly telling: 98 percent of all mid-air collisions in the past 10 years have occurred in weather conditions exceeding 3 miles in visibility—the other 2 percent have occurred in visibility conditions of about 3 miles.

The position of the proponents of increased minimums, and the one pursued in the draft release, is, of course, valid. It is indisputable that some safety advantage would accrue were the minimums to be raised since fewer aircraft would be authorized to operate in given airspace and, accordingly, collision potential would be reduced.

The question which the Board must decide is how much safety will be increased by raising the VFR weather minimums and at what price to the users of the airspace. Based on the evidence available, the Board concludes and the Administrator agrees that the advantages to be gained by adopting the VRF weather minimums rules as proposed are not sufficient to justify the impairment of the public right of freedom of transit in air commerce through the navigable airspace of the United States. Accordingly, with the exception of the one-half-mile rule discussed below, established VFR weather minimums will not be changed. This conclusion should be construed only as a finding that under existing conditions raising the VFR minimums for acrobatic flight and in high density areas will not materially assist in the separation of traffic in VFR conditions under the see and be seen principle. It does not mean that other measures should not be taken to give greater effect to this principle.

It is considered that other rules in being or under consideration will materially reduce the chances of mid-air collision. Among these are the limitations on air speed and communication requirements in the high density airport regulations; the inauguration of all-weather positive control routes at higher altitudes where high speeds reduce the time to see and avoid other aircraft; the simplification of the cruising altitude rules which give greater assurance of separation between cruising IFR and VFR traffic; the increased conspicuity of aircraft by use of high intensity lights and highly luminescent paints; the use of standard pressure altimeter settings at the higher altitudes; the establishment of uniform traffic patterns for all airports; and the extension of speed control to require all aircraft operating in excess of certain speeds to be flown in positive control airspace or in other airspace suitable for such operation.

One other point bears emphasis in explaining the Board's position on VFR minimums. As mentioned, the accident and near-miss records available to the Board indicate clearly that decreased visibility has not been a significant factor in mid-air collisions. For this reason, the Board is compelled to reject a proposal which would increase minimum visibilities in such a manner as to affect all aircraft equally. However, the Board is cognizant of the logical relationship between air speed and minimum visibility. It is no accident that the proponents for increased minimum visibility are typically those who operate faster aircraft, whereas persons who have expressed strong disagreement with such proposals are typically operators of slower aircraft. Rather than pursue an arbitrary increase in visibility minimums on the basis proposed in the draft release, the Board has under consideration an amendment of the air traffic rules which would relate visibility minimums to the air speed of the aircraft. Such a proposal gives promise of avoiding the principal adverse effects of high-speed aircraft operations under conditions of low visibility without imposing onerous restrictions on operations in which justification for such restriction has not been found to exist.

In reconsidering the provision which allows VFR flight in one-half-mile visibility, the Board has carefully evaluated the original purpose of the provision. It was intended that the one-half-mile exception would provide flexibility to VFR flight operations so that when the weather conditions were generally good, but the visibility was restricted because of some local conditions, aircraft could depart and arrive at an airport VFR. It was generally contemplated, however, that in local weather conditions of such reduced visibility only pilots having the ability to fly on basic instruments would attempt such operations.

The Board has deleted this one-half-mile exception because this provision is an air traffic rule of Part 60, which is applicable to all pilots, and the flexibility inherent in the rule can be exercised by each and every pilot. While there are many pilots who could utilize this flexibility safely because they have the ability to conduct flight without reference to the ground, there is a much greater number of pilots who might be induced to attempt such flight who do not have the ability to fly on instruments. Therefore, the flexibility provided by the rule might unwittingly induce operations by pilots not capable of safe flight in such reduced visibility. In addition, the Civil Aeronautics Board has already established by regulation the principle that in uncontrolled airspace, a minimum of one-mile visibility is necessary in order that a VFR pilot may properly control the attitude and flight path of his aircraft by visual reference to the ground, and that he may be able to avoid collision with terrain or other surface obstacles. The fact that a VFR pilot may be operating in a control zone, rather than in uncontrolled airspace, does not justify a departure from the basic principle that one-mile visibility is needed to operate an aircraft safely without reference to instruments.

Comment on the revision in format in §§ 60.30 and 60.31 to provide for certain "basic VFR" in the former and "special VFR" in the latter was almost universally favorable and the Board considers it advisable to amend the sections as proposed in order to give a clear presentation of the specific rules which apply in a given operational circumstance. This particular format has been used successfully by the Department of Transport in prescribing the Canadian air traffic rules and in part by the military services in promulgating military air regulations. It is also utilized in the ANC air traffic control manual of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment (22 F. R. 9868), and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 60 of the Civil Air Regulations (14 CFR Part 60, as amended) effective September 11, 1958.

1. By amending § 60.30 to read as follows:

§ 60.30 Basic VFR minimum weather conditions. Except as provided in § 60.31 aircraft shall not be flown VFR in weather conditions below those specified herein.

(a) Clearance from clouds—(1) In controlled airspace. Aircraft shall not be flown VFR less than 500 feet vertically under, 1,000 feet vertically over, and 2,000 feet horizontally from any cloud formation, except that in the continental control area, aircraft shall not be flown VFR less than 1,000 feet vertically and one mile horizontally from any cloud formation. Aircraft shall not be flown VFR within a control zone when the ceiling is less than 1,000 feet.

(2) Outside controlled airspace. When at an altitude of more than 700 feet above the surface, aircraft shall not be flown VFR less than 500 feet vertically under, 1,000 feet vertically over, and 2,000 feet horizontally from any cloud formation. When at an altitude of 700 feet or less above the surface, aircraft flown VFR shall be flown clear of clouds.

(b) Visibility within controlled airspace—(1) Control zones. When the flight visibility is less than 3 miles, no person shall operate an aircraft VFR in flight within a control zone. When the ground visibility is less than 3 miles, no person shall take off or land an aircraft or enter the traffic pattern of an airport within a control zone.

(2) Control area. When the flight visibility is less than 3 miles, no person shall operate an aircraft VFR in flight within a control area.

(3) Continental control area. When the flight visibility is less than 5 miles, no person shall operate an aircraft VFR in flight within the continental control area.

(c) Flight visibility outside controlled airspace. No person shall operate an aircraft VFR in flight when the flight visibility is less than one mile. However, helicopters may be flown at or below 700 feet above the surface when the flight visibility is less than one mile, if operated at such reduced speed as to give the pilot of such helicopter adequate opportunity to see other air traffic or any other obstruction in time to avoid collision.

NOTE: The minimum weather conditions prescribed in this section for flight in controlled airspace are those within which a pilot is expected to be able to observe and avoid other air traffic. When operating in weather conditions equal to or above those specified herein, irrespective of the type of flight plan an aircraft may be operated under, i. e., IFR or VFR, the primary responsibility for the avoidance of collision rests with the pilot. It should be recognized that the criteria contained herein prescribe the "minimums" required for VFR flight. Good operating practice requires that regular or continued flight in near minimum weather conditions be avoided.

2. By amending § 60.31 as follows:

§ 60.31 Special VFR minimum weather conditions in control zones. When a clearance is obtained from air traffic control, aircraft may be flown VFR within a control zone when the weather conditions are below the basic minimums specified in § 60.30 subject, however, to special weather minimums as follows:

(a) Visibility. When the flight visibility is less than one mile, no person shall operate an aircraft VFR, other than a helicopter, in flight within a control zone. When the ground visibility is less than one mile, no person shall take off or land an aircraft VFR, other than a helicopter, at an airport within a control zone.

(b) Clearance from clouds. No person shall operate an aircraft VFR in flight within a control zone unless clear of clouds.

NOTE: With respect to this section, an air traffic clearance obtained under these provisions does not constitute authority for the pilot to deviate from § 60.17 or any other applicable provision of the Civil Air Regulations.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply Sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] PHYLLIS T. KAYLOR, Acting Secretary.

BASIC VFR MINIMUMS

	Visibility	Distance from clouds
Control zone	3 miles [1]	500 feet under [1] 1,000 feet over [1] 2,000 feet horizontally [1] and 1,000-foot ceiling
Control area	3 miles	500 feet under 1,000 feet over 2,000 feet horizontally
Continental control area	5 miles	1,000 feet under 1,000 feet over 1 mile horizontally
		700 feet or below	Above 700 feet
Outside controlled airspace	1 mile [2]	Clear of clouds	500 feet under 1,000 feet over 2,000 feet horizontally

[1] If traffic conditions permit, air traffic control will issue an air traffic clearance for flight within a control zone when the weather conditions are less than the above. However, no person shall operate an aircraft VFR, irrespective of any clearance, unless the visibility is 1 mile and the flight can remain clear of clouds.
[2] Helicopters are excepted from the 1-mile requirement when operated at or below 700 feet and at reduced airspeed (see § 60.30).

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

[Amdt. 231]

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

ALTERATIONS

The restricted area alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Division, and are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Since a military function of the United States is involved, compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is not required.

Part 608 is amended as follows:

1. In § 608.17, the Milford, Delaware, area (R-12) amended on May 4, 1956 in 21 F. R. 2977 is further amended by changing the "Controlling Agency" column to read: "COMNAB, 4th Naval District, Lakehurst NAS, New Jersey".

2. In § 608.18, the Pensacola, Florida, area (R-153) amended on June 13, 1958 in 23 F. R. 4312, is further amended by changing the "Time of Designation" column to read: "Daylight hours" and the "Controlling Agency" column to read: "Chief of Naval Air Basic Training, Pensacola, Florida".

3. In § 608.18, the Pensacola, Florida, area (R-154) amended on October 20, 1955 in 20 F. R. 7902, is further amended by changing the "Time of Designation" column to read: "Daylight hours" and the "Controlling Agency" column to read: "Chief of Naval Air Basic Training, Pensacola, Florida".

4. In § 608.32, the Pearl River, Mississippi, area (R-138) amended on February 5, 1958 in 23 F. R. 747, is further amended by changing the "Time of Designation" column to read: "0800-1800".

5. In § 608.36, the Tonopah, Nevada, area (R-271) amended on September 10, 1955 in 20 F. R. 6677, is further amended by changing the "Description by Geographical Coordinates" column to read: "Beginning at latitude 37°53'00", longitude 116°11'00"; thence to latitude 37°-42'00", longitude 116°11'00"; thence to latitude 37°42'00", longitude 115°53'00"; thence to latitude 37°33'00", longitude 115°53'00"; thence to latitude 37°-33'00", longitude 115°48'00"; thence to latitude 37°17'00", longitude 115°48'00"; thence to latitude 37°17'00", longitude 115°18'00"; thence to latitude 36°-26'00", longitude 115°18'00"; thence to latitude 36°26'00", longitude 115°23'00"; thence to latitude 36°35'00", longitude 115°37'00"; thence to latitude 36°35'00", longitude 115°42'00"; thence to latitude 36°41'00", longitude 115°42'00"; thence to latitude 36°41'00", longitude 116°26'-30"; thence to latitude 36°51'00", longitude 116°26'30"; thence to latitude 36°51'00", longitude 116°33'30"; thence to latitude 37°33'00", longitude 117°02'-00"; thence to latitude 37°53'00", longitude 117°01'00"; thence to latitude 37°-53'00", longitude 116°11'00"; the point of beginning, excluding the Las Vegas Airspace Reservation (Prohibited Area P-275)."

6. In § 608.38, the Warren Grove, New Jersey, area (R-26) amended on May 5, 1956 in 21 F. R. 2977 is further amended by changing the "Controlling Agency" column to read: "COMNAB, 4th Naval District, Lakehurst NAS, New Jersey".

7. In § 608.38, the Brigantine, New Jersey, area (R-28) amended on May 4, 1956, in 21 F. R. 2977 is further amended by changing the "Controlling Agency" column to read: "COMNAB, 4th Naval District, Lakehurst NAS, New Jersey".

8. In § 608.41, the Cherry Point, North Carolina, Number One area (R-123) amended on June 9, 1955, in 20 F. R. 4002 is further amended by changing the "Designated Altitudes" column to read: "55,000 feet".

9. In § 608.41, the Cherry Point, North Carolina, Number Two area (R-125) amended on August 29, 1956, in 21 F. R. 6508 is further amended by changing the "Designated Altitudes" column to read: "6,000 feet to 55,000 feet".

10. In § 608.63, the Monita Island, Puerto Rico, area (R-365) amended on October 31, 1951 in 16 F. R. 11066 is further amended by changing the "Designated Altitudes" column to read: "Surface to 60,000 feet MSL" and the "Time of Designation" column to read: "Daylight hours only".

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This amendment shall become effective on August 25, 1958.

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

PROHIBITION

This amendment amends § 608.3 of this part by substituting the phrase "Controlling agency" in lieu of the phrase "Using agency" contained therein.

Inasmuch as this amendment is an editorial correction, compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary and not required. Therefore, this amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

1. Section 608.3 is amended to read as follows:

§ 608.3 Prohibition. No person shall operate an aircraft within any area named, located (by chart), and described (by geographical coordinates) in this part, between the "Designated altitudes", during the "Time of designation", unless prior permission for such operation has been issued by the "Controlling agency".

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 609—STANDARD INSTRUMENT APPROACH PROCEDURES

PROCEDURE ALTERATIONS

The standard instrument approach procedures appearing hereinafter are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 609 is amended as follows:

NOTE: Where the general classification (L/MFR, ADF, VOR, TerVOR, VOR/DME, ILS, or RADAR), location, and procedure number (if any) of any procedure in the amendments which follow, are identical with an existing procedure, that procedure is to be substituted for the existing one, as of the effective date given, to the extent that it differs from the existing procedure; where a procedure is cancelled, the existing procedure is revoked; new procedures are to be placed in appropriate alphabetical sequence within the section amended.

1. The low or medium frequency range procedures prescribed in § 609.100 (a) are amended to read in part:

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

Appendix—Public Land Orders

[Public Land Order 1706]

[76055]

CALIFORNIA

POWER SITE RESTORATION NO. 533. PARTLY REVOKING EXECUTIVE ORDER OF JANUARY 14, 1915, WHICH CREATED POWER SITE RESERVE NO. 471 OPENING CERTAIN LANDS UNDER SECTION 24 OF FEDERAL POWER ACT

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by section 1 of the act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 847; 43 U. S. C. 141), and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

1. The Executive order of January 14, 1915, creating Power Site Reserve No. 471, is hereby revoked so far as it affects the following-described lands:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 17 S., R. 28 E.,
Sec. 1, lots 3 and 4, S½NW¼, and SW¼;
Sec. 12, NW¼NE¼, N½NW¼, and NE¼SW¼.

The areas described aggregate 476.40 acres.

2. The lands are located in northern Tulare County, about two miles north of the town of Three Rivers. Access is restricted to foot travel over privately owned land.

3. No application for the lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

4. Subject to any valid existing rights and the requirements of applicable law, the lands are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m., on September 11, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m., on December 11, 1958, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public-land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m., on December 11, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

5. The lands have been open to applications and offers under the mineral-leasing laws, and to location under the United States mining laws pursuant to the act of August 11, 1955 (69 Stat. 682; 30 U. S. C. 621–625).

6. Pursuant to determination of the Federal Power Commission in DA–923, California, issued June 21, 1957, the following-described lands in Power Site Reserve No. 471 are included in the opening made by this order, subject, however, to the provisions of section 24 of the Federal Power Act of June 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 1075; 16 U. S. C. 818) as amended:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 17 S., R. 28 E.,
Sec. 2, lots 1 and 2, S½NE¼, and SE¼.

The areas described aggregate 313.97 acres.

7. The lands described in paragraphs 1 and 6 of this order shall be subject until 10:00 a. m., on November 6, 1958, to application by the State of California under any statute or regulation applicable thereto for rights-of-way for public highways or as a source of material for the construction and maintenance of such highways pursuant to section 24 of the Federal Power Act of June 10, 1920, supra.

8. Persons claiming veterans preference rights must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose property corroborated statements in support of their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Sacramento, California.

ROGER ERNST,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

CALIFORNIA

AMENDING PUBLIC LAND ORDER NO. 26 OF AUGUST 12, 1942, WHICH WITHDREW LANDS FOR USE OF WAR DEPARTMENT AS CAMP SITE (BEALE AIR FORCE BASE)

By virtue of the authority vested in the President, and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

1. Public Land Order No. 26 of August 12, 1942, which withdrew the public lands in the following-described areas:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 14 N., R. 6 E.,
Secs. 6, 8 and 23.
T. 15 N., R. 6 E.,
Secs. 1, 12, 13, 18 and 24.
T. 14 N., R. 7 E.,
Secs. 8 and 18.

for use of the War Department for military purposes is hereby amended by deleting therefrom the following paragraph added to such order by Executive Order No. 9526 of February 28, 1945:

The jurisdiction granted by this order shall cease at the expiration of the six months' period following the termination of the unlimited national emergency declared by Proclamation No. 2487 of May 27, 1941 (55 Stat. 1647). Thereupon jurisdiction over the lands hereby reserved shall be vested in the Department of the Interior, and any other department or agency of the Federal Government according to their respective interests then of record. The lands, however, shall remain withdrawn from appropriation as herein provided until otherwise ordered.

2. Public Land Order No. 26 is further amended by substituting the words "Department of the Air Force" for the words "War Department" wherever they appear.

3. The Department of the Interior retains jurisdiction over the management of the surface and subsurface resources, including mineral resources, of the lands. No disposal of such resources will be made except under applicable public-land laws with the concurrence of the Department of the Air Force and, where necessary, only after appropriate modification of the provisions of this order.

TEXAS

TRANSFERRING JURISDICTION OVER OIL AND GAS DEPOSITS IN CERTAIN LANDS COMPRISING PORTION OF NAVAL AUXILIARY AIR STATION, CHASE FIELD, OWNED BY UNITED STATES

Whereas, the hereafter described lands, title to which has been acquired by the United States, comprising a portion of the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Chase Field, Beeville, Texas, are reported to be subject to drainage of their oil and gas deposits by wells on adjacent lands in private ownership; and

Whereas, it is necessary in the public interest that such protective action be taken as will prevent loss to the United States by reason of the drainage or threatened drainage from the said lands; and

Whereas, in order to facilitate such action, it is considered advisable that jurisdiction over the oil and gas deposits in such lands be transferred from the Department of the Navy to the Department of the Interior; and

Whereas, such transfer has the concurrence of the Department of the Navy;

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in the President, and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

1. The jurisdiction over the oil and gas deposits owned by the United States in the following-described lands located in the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, at Beeville, Texas Project, Bee County, Texas, is hereby transferred from the Department of the Navy to the Department of the Interior:

PARCEL 1

All that certain tract or parcel of land situated in Bee County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

502.6 acres of land out of the Edward Ryan survey, Abstract No. 62, the Puerta Tierra Irrigation Company survey, Abstract No. 431, and the James Brown survey, Abstract No. 6, said 502.6 acres having metes and bounds as follows:

Beginning at a concrete monument in the southern boundary line of State Highway No. 202, for the Northwest corner of this survey which said beginning point is the Northwest corner of a tract of 177.34 acres conveyed to the City of Beeville by Fritz Hartzendorf and Marie Hartzendorf, by deed dated March 31, 1943, recorded in Volume 142, page 374, of the Deed Records of Bee County, Texas.

Thence South following the western boundary line of said 177.34 acres, 3,439.39 feet to a concrete monument for the Southwest corner of this survey, and which said point is the Southwest corner of said 177.34 acres, and the Northwest corner of a tract of 600 acres of land conveyed to the City of Beeville by Webb Hearn by deed dated October 28, 1941, recorded in Volume 134, pages 312 and 313 of the Deed Records of Bee County, Texas.

Thence North 82°15' East following the South boundary line of said 177.34 acres and the North boundary line of said 600 acres 2,127.22 ft. to a concrete monument for an inner corner of this survey.

Thence South 44°31' East 1,714.27 ft. to a concrete monument for the most Southerly corner of this survey.

Thence North 39°30' East 2,023.06 ft. to a concrete monument in the Northern boundary of said 600 acres tract, and which point is also in the Southern boundary of a tract of 108.57 acres, described in a deed from Roxanna Dorsey, et al to the City of Beeville, dated March 29, 1943, recorded in Volume 142, page 372, of the Deed of Records of Bee County, Texas.

Thence North 82°15' East 884.42 ft. to a point being the Southwest corner of said 108.57 acres and an outer corner of said 600 acre tract for an inner corner of this survey.

Thence South 76°51' East 333.4 ft. to a point for the Southeast corner of this survey, said point being the Northeast corner of said 600 acre tract and the Southeast corner of a tract of 6.71 acres of land described in a deed from Annie Dorsey and husband, J. M. Dorsey, to the City of Beeville, dated April 10, 1943, recorded in the Deed Records of Bee County, Texas.

Thence North following the eastern boundary line of said 6.71 acres at 943.94 ft. past the Northeast corner of said 6.71 acres and the Southeast corner of a tract of 22.13 acres, deeded to the City of Beeville by Wm. Juenger, et al by deed dated April 9, 1943, recorded in the Deed Records of Bee County, Texas, at 3,361.6 ft. a concrete monument situated on the Southern boundary line of State Highway No. 202 for the Northeast corner of this survey.

Thence in a Westerly direction along said South boundary line of State Highway No. 202, 5,862.76 ft. to a concrete monument, the place of beginning.

2. The Secretary of the Interior shall take such action as may be necessary to protect the United States from loss on account of the drainage or threatened drainage of oil and gas from such lands.

3. The jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior over such lands shall be subject to the primary jurisdiction of the Department of the Navy over the lands for Naval purposes.

ROGER ERNST,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

National Park Service

[36 CFR Part 20]

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK

ENTRANCE ROADS; TRUCKING; BICYCLES

Basis and purpose. Notice is hereby given that pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946 (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C., 1952 ed., sec. 1003), authority contained in section 3 of the act of August 25, 1916 (39 Stat. 535; 16 U. S. C., 1952 ed., sec. 3), National Park Service Order No. 14, 19 F. R. 8824; Regional Director, Region Four, Order No. 3, 21 F. R. 1495, it is proposed to amend 36 CFR 20.16 as set forth below. The purpose of this amendment is to rescind obsolete regulations pertaining to Park Entrance Station hours, to establish fees for emergency trucking, to change the word "motor" to "commercial" for accuracy in definition in subparagraph (3) of paragraph (c) and to redesignate said subparagraph for more logical and orderly arrangement, and to prohibit bicycles on certain sidewalks.

This proposed amendment relates to matters which are exempt from the rule making requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003); however, it is the policy of the Department of the Interior that, wherever practicable, the rule making requirements be observed voluntarily. Accordingly, interested persons may submit in triplicate written comments, suggestions, or objections with respect to the proposed amendments to the Superintendent, Yosemite National Park, Box 577, Yosemite National Park, California, within thirty days of the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

JOHN C. PRESTON,
Superintendent,
Yosemite National Park.

JUNE 18, 1958.

Paragraph (b) Entrance roads is deleted, paragraph (c) Closed roads is redesignated as paragraph (b) Closed roads, subparagraph (3) of said paragraph on Closed roads is revised by substituting the word "commercial" for the word "motor," and is redesignated as subparagraph (3) of added new paragraph (c) Trucking, and two new paragraphs are added, in § 20.16 to read as follows:

(c) Trucking. (1) The fees for special trucking permits issued by the Superintendent in emergencies pursuant to § 1.37 (a) of this chapter shall be based on the licensed capacity of trucks, trailers, or semi-trailers, as follows:

Trucks, less than 1 ton—Appropriate automobile permit fee.

Trucks, of 1 ton and over, but not to exceed 10 tons—$5 for each ton or fraction thereof.

(i) The fee charged is for one round trip between any two park entrances, provided such trip is made within one 24 hour period, otherwise the fee is for a one-way trip.

(ii) Trucks carrying bona fide park visitors and/or their luggage or camping equipment may enter the park upon payment of the regular automobile fee.

(2) The fee provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph also shall apply to permits which the park Superintendent may issue for trucking through one park entrance to and from privately owned lands contiguous to the park boundaries, except that such fee shall be considered an annual vehicle fee covering the use of park roads between the point of access to such property and the nearest park exit connecting with a state or county road.

(3) No commercial trucks will be permitted on the Tioga Road except those used in connection with the activities of the United States Government, the State of California, or agencies operating under contract or agreement with the United States Government to render service to the public in the park, or trucks delivering supplies, materials, etc. to the United States Government, the State of California, or contractors or permittees in the park.

• • • • •

(g) Bicycles. Bicycles are prohibited on all business sidewalks serving concession operations and public facilities.

[7 CFR Part 927]

[Docket No. AO-71-A37]

HANDLING OF MILK IN NEW YORK-NEW JERSEY MILK MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at the Hotel Carlton, Newark, New Jersey beginning at 10:00 a. m. on August 19, 1958; at the Woodruff Hotel, Watertown, New York beginning at 10:00 a. m. on August 25, 1958, and in Hearing Room No. 1 at the State Office Building, Albany, New York beginning at 10:00 a. m. on August 27, 1958, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, regulating the handling of milk in the New York-New Jersey marketing area.

The public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to the economic and marketing conditions which relate to the proposed amendments, hereinafter set forth, and any appropriate modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order.

The proposed amendments, set forth below, have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Proposed by the Milk Dealers Association of Metropolitan New York, Inc. and Sealtest Sheffield Farms Division of National Dairy Products Corporation:

Proposal No. 1. Eliminate paragraph (c) in § 927.71.

Proposal No. 2. Amend the schedule in § 927.42 entitled "Transportation Differentials", column C, to provide that the differential on Class II and Class III from the 121-mile zone to the 225-mile zone be 0 cents per hundredweight.

Proposed by the Upstate Milk Dealers:

Proposal No. 3. Delete paragraph (c) of § 927.71.

Proposed by the Amsterdam Milk Producers Cooperative, Inc. and Nadler Brothers, Inc.:

Proposal No. 4. Eliminate the city and township of Amsterdam and the county of Montgomery from paragraph (c) of § 927.71.

Proposed by Delaware County Farmers Cooperative, Inc.; White House Milk and Cream Company, Inc. and Ferndale Farms, Inc.:

Proposal No. 5. Amend column C of § 927.42 so that the transportation differentials on Class II and Class III milk vary plus and minus from the 201–210 mile zone by two-tenths of a cent per 10 mile zone.

Proposed by Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc.; Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency, Inc., and Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives, Inc.:

Proposal No. 6. Amend § 927.42 by reducing the differentials in column B thereof (applicable to Class I prices and to the uniform price) from the present rate of 1.4 cents to 1.2 cents for each 10-mile zone beyond the 201–210 mile zone, and by increasing the differentials in column C thereof (applicable to Class II and Class III prices) from the present rate of 1 cent to 2 cents for each 25-mile zone inside the 101–110 mile zone.

Proposed by Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc.:

Proposal No. 7. Amend column B, § 927.42 by decreasing the minus values (applicable to Class I prices and to the uniform price) for zones beyond the 201–210 mile zone, and amend column C, § 927.42 (applicable to Class II and Class III prices) by increasing the plus values applicable within the 201–210 mile zone and by decreasing the minus values applicable at and beyond the 301–310 mile zone.

Proposal No. 8. Maintain § 927.71 (c) in its present form except that consideration be given to amendment with respect to direct delivery rates at plants beyond the 71–80 mile zone.

Proposed by the New York State Guernsey Breeders Cooperative, Inc.:

Proposal No. 9. Amend §§ 927.71 (c) and 927.42 as necessary to provide as follows:

(1) For the payment to producers out of the pool of direct delivery differentials at rates of 5, 10, 15, 20 and 25 cents by zones 41–50, 31–40, 21–30, 11–20 and 1–10 respectively, with such zones based on distance from the farm to the pasteurizing and bottling plant where the milk is received.

(2) As an alternative to item No. 1, for the payment by handlers of direct delivery differentials at the rates and by zones as provided in item No. 1, with all such money separately pooled and paid out to all direct delivery producers at a uniform rate.

(3) That transportation differentials not be applicable to milk subject to direct delivery differentials.

Proposed by the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service:

Proposal No. 10. Make such changes as may be necessary to make the entire marketing agreement and the order conform with any amendments thereto that may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and the order may be procured from the Market Administrator, 205 East 42nd Street, New York 17, New York, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of August 1958.

[SEAL] F. R. BURKE,
Acting Deputy Administrator.

[Serial No. Idaho 09370]

IDAHO

ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS

AUGUST 4, 1958.

In accordance with the authority vested in me by Order No. 541, section 2.5, of the Director, Bureau of Land Management, approved April 21, 1954, 19 F. R. 2476, it is ordered as follows:

The lands hereinafter described, so far as they are withdrawn and reserved for stock driveway purposes, are hereby restored to disposition under the public land laws.

BOISE MERIDIAN, IDAHO

T. 6 S., R. 14 E.,
Sec. 8, NW¼NE¼, N½NW¼.

Within the above-described areas are 120 acres of public lands.

The land is typical of dry grazing land in southern Idaho, and is underlain by gravel with numerous lava outcrops and scab rock. The land lies southwest of Gooding, Idaho.

No application for these lands will be allowed under the homestead, desert land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public land law, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable, or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

Subject to any existing valid rights and the requirements of applicable law, the lands described in paragraph 2 hereof, are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications and selections will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m., on September 9, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m., on December 9, 1958, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 9, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

Persons claiming veteran's preference rights under paragraph a (2) above must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their applications, setting forth all facts relevant to their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, P. O. Box 2237, Boise, Idaho.

DONALD I. BAILEY,
Acting State Supervisor.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Commodity Credit Corporation

SALES OF CERTAIN COMMODITIES

AUGUST 1958 MONTHLY SALES LIST

Pursuant to the policy of Commodity Credit Corporation issued October 12, 1954 (19 F. R. 6669) and subject to the conditions stated therein, the commodities listed below are available for sale in the quantities stated and on the price basis set forth. The Commodity Credit Corporation will entertain offers from prospective buyers for the purchase of any such commodity.

Announcements containing the contractual terms and conditions of sale for the respective commodities will be furnished upon request. For ready reference a number of these announcements are identified by code number in the following list.

CCC reserves the right to refuse any or all offers placed with it for the purchase of commodities pursuant to such announcements. If CCC does not have adequate information as to the financial responsibility of prospective purchaser to meet all contract obligations that might arise by acceptance of an offer or if CCC deems such purchaser's financial responsibility to be inadequate, CCC reserves the right (i) to refuse to consider the offer, (ii) to accept the offer only after submission by the purchaser of a certified or cashier's check, bond, letter of credit, or other security, acceptable to CCC, assuring that the purchaser will discharge his responsibility under the contract, or (iii) to accept the offer upon condition that the purchaser promptly submit to CCC such of the aforementioned security as CCC may direct. If a prospective purchaser is in doubt as to whether CCC is acquainted with his financial responsibility, he should communicate with the CCC or CSS Commodity Office at which the offer is to be placed to determine whether a financial statement or advance financial arrangement will be necessary in his case.

Commodity Credit Corporation also reserves the right to amend, from time to time, any of its announcements, which amendments shall be applicable to and be made a part of the sales contracts thereafter and entered into.

Disposals and other handling of inventory items often result in small quantities at given locations or in qualities not up to specifications. These lots are offered promptly upon appearance by public notice issued by the appropriate CSS Commodity Office and therefore generally they do not appear in the Monthly Sales List.

Notice to export buyers. Available interest rates on sales made in August under the Export Credit Sales Announcement GSM 1 are as follows:

For periods up to and including 6 months, 1⅞ percent per annum.
For periods over 6 months up to and including 18 months, 2½ percent per annum.
For periods over 18 months up to and including 36 months, 2⅞ percent per annum.

The Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right, before making any sale, to define or limit export areas.

On sales for which the buyer is required to submit proof to CCC of exportation, the buyer shall be regularly engaged in the business of buying or selling commodities and, for this purpose, shall maintain a bona fide business office in the United States, its territories, or possessions and therein have a person, principal or resident agent, upon whom service of judicial process may be had.

Gum turpentine	Domestic or Export: Offer and acceptance basis, "as is", bulk in tanks in the stated quantities and in the designated storage tanks subject to the prices, terms and conditions of Announcement TB-21 (Revised) and supplements thereto which will be issued monthly. Available through ATFA, Valdosta, Ga.

[1] At the processor's plant or warehouse but with any prepaid storage and outhandling charges for the benefit of the buyer.

[2] In those counties in which grain is stored in CCC bin sites, delivery will be made f. o. b. buyer's conveyance at bin site without additional cost; sales will also be made in store approved warehouses in such county and adjacent counties at the same price, provided the buyer makes arrangements with the warehouse for storage documents.

[3] The minimum-pricing revision has been made necessary by a recent change in the price support program for wheat, barley, rye, and (in some areas) grain sorghums. This change gives producers who store their grain locally the price support benefit at time of settlement of any reductions in rail freight rates to their designated terminals occurring after the price support loan rates were set and before the maturity dates of the loans. To insure continuation of CCC sales at terminal locations during August (and later months) in their normal ratio to sales at non-terminal locations, the minimum sales prices of these grains at affected locations will be increased by an amount corresponding to any decrease since May 1, 1958 in the freight rates from the point of storage to a designated terminal. CSS commodity Offices will furnish freight rate information upon request.

COMMITTEE FOR RECIPROCITY INFORMATION

CERTAIN CONTRACTING PARTIES TO GENERAL AGREEMENT ON TARIFFS AND TRADES

CONSULTATIONS REGARDING APPLICATION OF QUANTITATIVE RESTRICTIONS IMPOSED FOR BALANCE-OF-PAYMENTS REASONS

AUGUST 12, 1958.

Consultations with certain contracting parties to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade regarding the application of quantitative restrictions imposed for balance-of-payments reasons, under Article XIV of the General Agreement.

Submission of information to the Committee for Reciprocity Information regarding these consultations.

Closing date for submission of written statements, September 15, 1958.

It is the intention of the Contracting Parties to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade to enter into consultations with certain of the parties regarding their application of quantitative import restrictions imposed for balance-of-payments reasons, under Article XIV of said Agreement. Article XIV of the GATT, including also Annex J, allows the application in certain instances of discriminatory import restrictions for balance-of-payments reasons, provided the restrictions satisfy the criteria of rules laid down in the article and Annex respectively. Paragraph 1 (g) of Article XIV requires countries maintaining discrimination under Annex J to consult with the Contracting Parties annually regarding these restrictions.

The consultations with countries utilizing Annex J will be conducted separately for each consulting country, in Geneva, Switzerland, during the Thirteenth Session of the Contracting Parties, to be convened on October 16, 1958. The consulting countries are expected to be:

Australia.
Ceylon.
Ghana.
Malaya.
Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.
United Kingdom.

During each consultation, the Contracting Parties will (1) review the country's financial and economic situation and, (2) in this context, discuss the opportunities for further relaxation of the level of its import restrictions, including a lessening of the discriminatory application of these restrictions, as well as explore the possibilities for moderating particular policies and practices which are especially burdensome to exporters.

American traders, business firms, labor organizations and other individuals or associations, which have an interest in exporting to one or more of the consulting countries may, as a result of their own experience, have information relating to (2) above which will be useful to the United States Government during the course of the consultations.

The following list includes examples of the type of information that interested persons may wish to submit in response to this invitation:

1. Information indicating that discrimination in the treatment of goods available from the United States has resulted in unnecessary damage to the commercial or economic interest of the United States, its citizens or organizations;

2. Information indicating that not even minimum commercial quantities of imports of specific commodities from the United States are permitted, to the impairment of regular channels of trade;

3. Information indicating that trade is being restrained by complex or arbitrary licensing procedures, or lack of adequate information available to traders regarding import regulations;

4. Information indicating that reasonable access to a traditional foreign market has not been restored for a particular commodity, even though the country concerned has substantially relaxed its restrictions on imports in general;

5. Information indicating that the long-standing application of import restrictions by a country on a particular product has been accompanied by the growth of uneconomic output of that product within the country;

6. Information indicating discrimination in the treatment of goods available from the United States as compared with the treatment afforded similar goods from other countries with convertible currencies.

In order to permit adequate consideration of views and information, it is requested that all responses be submitted to the Committee for Reciprocity Information by September 15, 1958. Information coming to the attention of interested parties after this date also may be submitted to the Committee, however, and it will be considered to the extent time permits.

All communications on this matter (fifteen copies, should be addressed in written statement to: The Secretary, Committee for Reciprocity Information, Tariff Commission Building, Washington 25, D. C. Views may be submitted in confidence, if desired.

By direction of the Committee for Reciprocity Information this 12th day of August 1958.

EDWARD YARDLEY,
Secretary,
Committe for Reciprocity Information.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-15678]

ATLANTIC REFINING CO.

ORDER FOR HEARING, SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES, AND ALLOWING INCREASED RATES TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

JULY 31, 1958.

The Atlantic Refining Company (Respondent), on July 15, 1958, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently effective rate schedules for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notices of Change, dated July 11, 1958.

Purchasers: (1) Mississippi River Fuel Corporation, (2), (6), (8), Texas Gas Transmission Corporation, (3), (4), (5), Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, (7) Tennessee Gas Transmission Corporation, (9) Tensas Gas Gathering Corporation.

Rate schedule designation: (1) Supplement No. 4 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 2. (2) Supplement No. 5 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 6. (3) Supplement No. 1 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 118. (4) Supplement No. 2 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 147. (5) Supplement No. 2 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 150. (6) Supplement No. 4 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 155. (7) Supplement No. 3 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 158. (8) Supplement No. 2 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 178. (9) Supplement No. 1 to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 182.

Effective date: August 1, 1958 (effective date is the date proposed by Respondent).

The increased rates and charges as proposed are intended to reflect (in whole or in part) the additional "excise, license or privilege tax" of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana pursuant to Act No. 8 of 1958 (House Bill No. 333), as approved on June 16, 1958, amending Title 47 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950. The Commission is advised that litigation is being instituted to challenge the constitutionality of the said Act No. 8 of 1958. In consideration of this fact, and in order to assure appropriate refund in the event said Act No. 8 of 1958 should be declared unconstitutional or otherwise held invalid by final judicial decision, it is deemed advisable to suspend the said proposed increased rates and charges until August 2, 1958, and thereafter to permit them to become effective as of that date: Provided, That within 20 days from the date of this order Respondent shall file with the Secretary of the Commission an appropriate undertaking to assure such refund as may be ordered.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that Respondent's proposed increased rates be made effective as hereinafter provided and that Respondent be required to file an undertaking as hereinafter ordered and conditioned.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedules.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 2, 1958, and until such further time as each is made effective in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

(C) The rates, charges, and classifications set forth in the above-designated supplements to Respondent's FPC Gas Rate Schedules shall be effective as of August 2, 1958: Provided, however, That within 20 days from the date of this order, Respondent shall execute and file with the Secretary of the Commission the agreement and undertaking described in paragraph (E) below.

(D) Respondent shall refund at such times and in such amounts to the persons entitled thereto, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission, the difference between the presently effective rates and charges and the proposed increased rates and charges hereby allowed to become effective in the event the additional tax of one cent per Mcf levied by the State of Louisiana is for any reason held to be invalid. Should such additional tax eventually be held invalid and the State of Louisiana makes refund, with interest, of the tax monies collected pursuant to the said Act No. 8 of 1958, then, and in that event, a proportionate part of the interest so received by the Respondent herein shall be passed on and paid to the persons entitled thereto at such times and in such amounts, and in such manner as may be required by final order of the Commission. Respondent shall bear all costs of any such refunding; shall keep accurate accounts in detail of all amounts received by reason of the increased rates or charges allowed by this order to become effective, for each billing period, specifying by whom and in whose behalf such amounts were paid; and shall report (original and four copies), in writing and under oath, to the Commission quarterly, or monthly if Respondent so elects, for each billing period, and for each purchaser, the billing determinants of natural gas sales to such purchasers and the revenues resulting therefrom, as computed under the rates in effect immediately prior to the date upon which the increased rates allowed by this order become effective, and under the rates allowed by this order to become effective, together with the differences in the revenues so computed.

(E) As a condition of this order, within 20 days from the date of issuance thereof, Respondent shall execute and file in triplicate with the Secretary of this Commission its written agreement and undertaking to comply with the terms of paragraph (D) hereof, signed by a responsible officer of the corporation, evidenced by proper authority from the board of directors, and accompanied by a certificate showing service of copies thereof upon all purchasers under the rate schedule involved, as follows:

Agreement and Undertaking of _____ to Comply with the Terms and Conditions of Paragraph (D) of Federal Power Commission's Order Making Effective Proposed Rate Changes.

In conformity with the requirements of the order issued _____, in Docket No. G-__, _____ hereby agrees and undertakes to comply with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of said order, and has caused this agreement and undertaking to be executed and sealed in its name by its officers, thereupon duly authorized in accordance with the terms of the resolution of its board of directors, a certified copy of which is appended hereto this _____ day of _____

By _____

Attest: _____

(Secretary)

Unless Respondent is advised to the contrary within 15 days after the date of filing such agreement and undertaking, the agreement and undertaking shall be deemed to have been accepted.

(F) If Respondent shall, in conformity with the terms and conditions of paragraph (D) of this order, make the refunds as may be required by order of the Commission, the undertaking shall be discharged; otherwise, it shall remain in full force and effect.

(G) Neither the supplements hereby suspended nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(H) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G-13227]

MANUFACTURERS LIGHT AND HEAT CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 6, 1958.

Take notice that The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, a Pennsylvania corporation and a subsidiary of The Columbia Gas System, Inc., having its principal place of business at 800 Union Trust Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, filed on September 5, 1957, an application, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, for a disclaimer of jurisdiction or, in the alternative, for authority to sell and deliver natural gas to United Gas Improvement Company (U. G. I.) at a new location or delivery point on the 24-inch gas transmission line of Texas Eastern Penn-Jersey Transmission Corporation (Penn-Jersey) in or adjacent to Marion Township, Berks County, Pennsylvania, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant alleges that it has been informed by U. G. I. that it requires a new connection in order to serve the requirements of the community of Womelsdorf and its vicinity in Berks County. The natural gas requirements of this community are estimated as follows:

Year of service	Requirements in Mcf
	Annual	Peak day
1958	646,800	2,800
1959	678,000	3,000
1960	702,000	3,100
1961	726,000	3,200

Applicant alleges that U. G. I. is presently serving Womelsdorf as part of its Reading Gas Division, but states that its distribution feeder system between Reading and Womelsdorf is inadequate to serve the increased requirements of the latter community. Applicant alleges further that U. G. I. has considered the possibility of laying a 15-mile loop line in this vicinity, but it would be very expensive; that U. G. I.'s present system in the vicinity of Womelsdorf is within 9,000 feet of the Penn-Jersey line and that the most economical means of securing additional gas supplies in the Womelsdorf area would be to lay a short pipeline to the Penn-Jersey line and to secure a connection at that point. The Penn-Jersey facilities are leased and operated by Texas Eastern, which now sells and delivers gas to Applicant at several delivery points. It is proposed here that Texas Eastern deliver the gas sold to Applicant at the proposed new delivery point on the Penn-Jersey line into the facilities of U. G. I. for the account of Applicant.

No new facilities will be required to be constructed by Applicant.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations, and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 3, 1958, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D. C. in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 28, 1958. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[SEAL] JOSEPH H. GUTRIDE,
Secretary.

[Docket No. G-15112]

PAWNEE CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 6, 1958.

Take notice that The Pawnee Corporation (Applicant), an independent producer, and a West Virginia corporation with a principal place of business in Charleston, West Virginia, filed an application in Docket No. G-15112 on May 15, 1958, for permission and approval to abandon service to Hope Natural Gas Company (Hope) from acreage in Grant District, Ritchie County, West Virginia, which was being rendered under a gas sales contract dated May 24, 1949, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, and as more fully described in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The application recites that Applicant filed a petition on October 15, 1957, to amend the certificate issued to it in Docket No. G-8502 on July 13, 1955, In the Matters of Penova Interests, et al., Docket Nos. G-4091, et al., so as to have deleted therefrom approximately 167 acres assigned to Howard Bartlett (Barlett) on January 7, 1957. The application filed in Docket No. G-15112 seeks authorization to abandon service being rendered Hope from six acres and one well, said acreage being the acreage remaining after the said assignment to Bartlett, described hereinbefore. Applicant represents that the well is depleted and is no longer capable of producing gas.

This matter should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on September 17, 1958, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before September 2, 1958. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter I—Farm Credit Administration

Subchapter E—Production Credit System

PART 50—PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS

TERRITORIAL LIMITATIONS; INVESTMENTS; DIVIDENDS

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration by section 20 of the Farm Credit Act of 1933, as amended (12 U. S. C. 1131d), and as prescribed by the Farm Credit board of each district with the approval of the Farm Credit Administration pursuant to section 23 of said act as amended (12 U. S. C. 1131g), Part 50 of Title 6 of the Code of Federal Regulations is hereby amended as follows:

1. Renumber present paragraph (c) of § 50.106 as paragraph (b).

2. Renumber present paragraph (b) of § 50.106 as paragraph (c) and amend § 50.106 (c) to read as follows:

(c) Unless otherwise provided in policies established by the board of directors of the bank and approved by the Farm Credit Administration, a loan to finance operations wholly outside the territory of the association shall not be made, except that an association may continue to extend credit to a member who is indebted to it and who moves or otherwise establishes his operations wholly within the territory of another association so long as the bank determines that such member is unable to obtain suitable credit from the other association and that such extension of credit would be in the best interest of the member and the association.

3. Amend §§ 50.201, 50.202, 50.211, and 50.212 to read as follows:

§ 50.201 Amount of investment and approved securities. Each production credit association shall maintain investments in securities approved for that purpose by the Farm Credit Administration in an aggregate amount not less than 70 percent of its paid-in capital, represented by class A, class B, and class C stock outstanding, exclusive of any stock held by the Governor. The following classes of obligations are approved for such investment:

(a) Bonds and other direct obligations of the United States.

(b) Consolidated Federal farm loan bonds and consolidated debentures of the banks for cooperatives.

(c) Soil and water conservation loans and farm ownership loans made under programs administered by the Farmers Home Administration, when payment thereof is guaranteed by the United States.

§ 50.202 Commodity Credit Corporation loans. An association is authorized to invest in loans to farmers made pursuant to commodity loan programs of the Commodity Credit Corporation, when

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

Appendix—Public Land Orders

[Public Land Order 1712]

[1326681]

ALASKA

REVOKING EXECUTIVE ORDER OF DECEMBER 8, 1900; REVOKING EXECUTIVE ORDERS NO. 3574 OF NOVEMBER 4, 1921, NO. 4227 OF MAY 16, 1925, NO. 4449 OF MAY 29, 1926, NO. 4546 OF NOVEMBER 29, 1926, AND NO. 5219 OF NOVEMBER 5, 1929, ENTIRELY, AND NO. 7049 OF MAY 21, 1935, IN PART

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by section 1 of the act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat. 847; 43 U. S. C. 141), and otherwise, and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

1. The Executive Order of December 8, 1900, withdrawing the following-described public lands in Alaska for use of the War Department for military purposes, is hereby revoked:

(a) A tract near the mouth of the Snake River, included in the patent to the patented townsite of Nome.

(b) (Fort Davis). Beginning at a stake at point of "spit" mouth of Nome River, and running thence south of east along the coast of Bering Sea one mile; thence north to center of channel of Nome River, thence down said channel to mouth of river opposite stake first mentioned.

The area described contains approximately 148.68 acres.

2. Executive Orders No. 4227 of May 16, 1925, reserving lands for the Fort Davis Cemetery; No. 4449 of May 29, 1926, reserving lands for the Alaska Road Commission; No. 4546 of November 29, 1926, reserving additional lands for the Alaska Road Commission, and No. 5219 of November 5, 1929, reserving lands for the Alaska Reindeer Service, are hereby revoked. The lands are included in the area described in paragraph 1 (b) of this order.

3. Executive Order No. 3574 of November 4, 1921, placing the lands described in paragraph 1 (b) of this order under control of the Secretary of the Interior for disposal under the act of July 5, 1884 (23 Stat. L. 103) or as might otherwise be provided by law, and Executive Order No. 7049 of May 21, 1935, so far as it placed lands comprising the Post Cemetery at Fort Davis, under control of the Secretary of the Interior for disposition under said act or as might be otherwise provided by law, are hereby revoked.

4. In accordance with section 202 (b) of the act of July 28, 1956 (70 Stat. 709, 711) and subject to the requirements of that act, the Territory of Alaska shall be entitled until 10:00 a. m. on November 7, 1958, to a preferred right of selection of the lands described in paragraph 1 (b) of this order in connection with its mental health program, except as against prior existing valid rights or as against equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation.

5. The lands shall not be subject to any other form of use or disposal under the public land laws, unless and until a further order is issued by an authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

Inquiries concerning the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Fairbanks, Alaska.

PART 20—SPECIAL REGULATIONS

OLYMPIC NATIONAL PARK; SPEED

Basis and purpose. The purpose of this amendment is to add the Heart O' the Hills Road, now under construction, to Park roads on which a maximum speed limit of 35 miles per hour has been imposed. This is a mountain road with sharp curves and will be heavily traveled.

Subparagraph (3) (i) of paragraph (h) Speed, of § 20.28 Olympic National Park, is amended to read as follows:

(3) Maximum speed 35 miles per hour:

(i) When upon the following roads:

East Beach Road—Lake Crescent.
East Fork Quinault Road.
Elwha to Olympic Hot Springs Road.
Hoh Road.
North Fork Quinault Road west of Finley Creek.
North Shore Road—Lake Crescent.
Queets Road.
Rialto Beach Road.
Soleduck Road.
Heart O' the Hills Road to Hurricane Ridge.

For reasons of safety it is essential that this amendment be made effective prior to the official opening of the Heart O' the Hills Road which is expected to be sometime in August 1958. Therefore, notice and public procedure on this amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and this amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 3, 39 Stat. 535, as amended; sec. 209, 48 Stat. 205; 16 U. S. C. 3, 40 U. S. C. 409)

Issued this third day of July 1958.

DANIEL B. BEARD,
Superintendent,
Olympic National Park.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 910—VEGETABLES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN COLORADO

APPROVAL OF EXPENSES AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice of rule making regarding proposed expenses and rate of assessment, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and Order No. 10, as amended (7 CFR Part 910) regulating the handling of vegetables grown in certain designated counties in Colorado, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 16, 1958 (23 F. R. 5380). This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, which proposals were adopted and submitted for approval by the San Luis Valley Vegetable Committee, established pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 910.212 Expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred by the San Luis Valley Vegetable Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and this part, to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to the provisions of aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, during the fiscal period ending May 31, 1959, will amount to $900.00.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler, pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and this part, shall be six-tenths of one cent ($0.006) per bushel of peas or crate of cauliflower or respective equivalent quantities thereof, handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal period.

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 67, as amended, and this part.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: August 7, 1958, to become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 992—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN WASHINGTON

APPROVAL OF EXPENSES AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice of rule making regarding proposed expenses and rate of assessment, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 113 and Order No. 92 (7 CFR Part 992) regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the State of Washington, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 1, 1958 (23 F. R. 5017). This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, which proposals were adopted and submitted for approval by the State of Washington Potato Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 992.210 Expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred by the State of Washington Potato Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 113 and this part, to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to the provisions of the marketing agreement and order, during the fiscal year ending May 31, 1959, will amount to $23,839.00.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler, pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 113 and this part, shall be three-eighths of one cent ($0.00375) per hundredweight of potatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof during the fiscal year.

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 113 and this part.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: August 7, 1958, to become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 992—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN WASHINGTON

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Findings. (a) Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 113 and Order No. 92 (7 CFR Part 992), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the State of Washington, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the State of Washington Potato Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (i) the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; (ii) more orderly marketing in the public interest, than would otherwise prevail, will be promoted by regulating the shipment of potatoes, in the manner set forth below, on and after the effective date of this amendment; (iii) compliance with this amendment will not require any preparation on the part of handlers which cannot be completed by the effective date; (iv) a reasonable time is permitted under the circumstances, for such preparation; and (v) information regarding the committee's recommendations has been made available to producers and handlers in the production area.

Order, as amended. The provisions of § 992.313 (b) (1) (FEDERAL REGISTER July 1, 1958, 23 F. R. 5004) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) Order. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, during the period from August 18, 1958, through May 31, 1959, no handler shall ship potatoes of any variety unless such potatoes are "fairly clean" and (i) if they are of the round varieties (including, but not limited to, Kennebec, Irish Cobbler, Bliss Triumph, and Pontiac varieties), such potatoes meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2, or better grade, 1⅞ inches minimum diameter, and (ii) if they are of the long varieties (including, but not limited to, White Rose, Russet Burbank, and Early Gem varieties), such potatoes meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 or better, grade, and are of a weight not less than 8 ounces: Provided, That potatoes of the U. S. Commercial, or better, grade, may be shipped if they are 2 inches minimum diameter or 4 ounces minimum weight, as such terms, grades, and sizes are defined in the United States Standards for Potatoes (§§ 51.1540–51.1556 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: August 8, 1958, to become effective August 18, 1958.

Chapter I—Patent Office, Department of Commerce

PART 1—RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

ADVERTISING

The following amendment is made, to take effect on January 1, 1959. The text of this amendment was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER for August 27, 1957 (22 F. R. 6898), and all persons who desired were invited to submit written data, views, arguments or suggestions in connection with the proposed rule, and a hearing was also held on November 19 and 20, 1957. The amendment is made after consideration of all the material submitted and statements made.

Section 1.345 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.345 Advertising. (a) The use of advertising, circulars, letters, cards, and similar material to solicit patent business, directly or indirectly, is forbidden as unprofessional conduct, and any person engaging in such solicitation, or associated with or employed by others who so solicit, shall be refused recognition to practice before the Patent Office or may be suspended, excluded or disbarred from further practice.

(b) The use of simple professional letterheads, calling cards, or office signs, simple announcements necessitated by opening an office, change of association, or change of address, distributed to clients and friends, and insertion of listings in common form (not display) in a classified telephone or city directory, and listings and professional cards with biographical data in standard professional directories shall not be considered a violation of this rule.

(c) No agent shall, in any material specified in paragraph (b) of this section or in papers filed in the Patent Office, represent himself to be an attorney, solicitor or lawyer.

TITLE 42—PUBLIC HEALTH

Chapter I—Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

Subchapter D—Grants

PART 53—GRANTS FOR SURVEY, PLANNING AND CONSTRUCTION OF HOSPITALS AND MEDICAL FACILITIES

DEFINITIONS (AREA, BASE AREA, INTERMEDIATE AREA, COORDINATED HOSPITAL SYSTEM); DISTRIBUTION OF BEDS; REVISION OF CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Notice of proposed rule making, public rule making procedures and postponement of effective date have been omitted in the issuance of the following amendments of this part, which relate solely to grants to States, political subdivisions and public or other nonprofit agencies for the construction of public and other nonprofit hospitals and medical facilities.

1. Paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (e) of § 53.1 are amended as follows:

(a) Area. The geographic territory from which patients come or are expected to come to existing or proposed hospital or medical facilities, the delineation of which is based on such factors as population distribution, natural geographic boundaries, and transportation and trade patterns, and all parts of which are reasonably accessible to existing or proposed hospital or medical facilities. Nothing in the regulations in this part shall preclude the formation of an interstate area with the mutual agreement of the States concerned.

(b) Base area. Any area which is so designated by the State Agency and has or will have, in accordance with the State Plan, as a minimum, (1) a teaching hospital of a medical school, or (2) one general hospital with a capacity of 200 or more beds and which provides internships and residencies in two or more specialties. Such hospitals must be suitable for use as a base hospital in a coordinated hospital system within the State.

(c) Intermediate area. Any area so designated by the State Agency which has or will have, in accordance with the State Plan, as a minimum, one general hospital which has a capacity of 100 or more beds.

(e) Coordinated hospital system. An interrelated network of general hospitals throughout a State in which the larger hospitals work with the smaller hospitals through an interchange of medical knowledge and personnel in order that rural and other small hospitals may have diagnostic, treatment, medical research and teaching services which cannot be provided by such hospitals individually.

2. Subpart B is revised as follows:

SUBPART B—DISTRIBUTION OF BEDS FOR ACUTE AND LONG-TERM ILLNESS (EXCLUDING MENTAL AND TUBERCULOSIS)

§ 53.11 State allowance. (a) The number of beds for acute and long-term illness required to provide adequate service to the people residing in any State shall be:

(1) For general hospitals,

(i) In States having 12 or more persons per square mile, 4.5 beds per thousand population;

(ii) In States having less than 12 and more than 6 persons per square mile, 5 beds per thousand population; and

(iii) In States having 6 persons or less per square mile, 5.5 beds per thousand population.

(2) For chronic disease hospitals, 2 beds per thousand population except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) For nursing homes, 3 beds per thousand population except that the State agency may plan in excess of 3 beds per thousand population but not to exceed 4 beds per thousand population in which case the State's allowance for chronic disease hospital beds shall be reduced so that the total number of nursing home beds and chronic disease beds shall not exceed 5 beds per thousand population.

(b) If, in any area there are, as of the date of initial approval of the State plan, more general hospital beds than required by these standards, such excess (but no increase in such excess after such date) may be eliminated in calculating the maximum allowance for the State as a whole.

§ 53.12 Distribution. (a) The construction program under the State plan shall provide for the distribution of beds, within the allowances set forth in § 53.11, by one of the following methods:

(1) General hospital beds shall be distributed to the different areas of the State in such numbers as will meet the needs of each area, except that the number of beds allocated to any area shall not be less than 2.5 beds (existing and proposed) per thousand population. Nursing home beds and chronic disease hospital beds shall be distributed to the different areas of the State in such numbers as will meet the needs of each area for such beds, except that the total number of nursing home and chronic disease beds so allocated shall not be less than 1 bed (existing and proposed) per thousand population. If the State agency does not allocate all beds required under § 53.11 to specific areas, such unallocated beds shall be held in reserve for future distribution; or

(2) General hospital, chronic disease hospital, and nursing home beds shall be distributed to the different areas of the State in such numbers and combinations as will meet the general hospital, chronic disease hospital, and nursing home bed needs of each area except that the combination of such beds allocated to any area shall not be less than 3.5 beds (existing and proposed) per thousand population. If the State agency does not allocate all beds required under § 53.11 to specific areas, such unallocated beds shall be held in reserve for future allocation.

(b) The State agency shall set forth, in the State plan, the criteria utilized in allocating beds to areas.

§ 53.13 Beds classified as general hospital beds, chronic disease hospital beds, and nursing home beds. (a) The count of existing general hospital beds shall include the beds in the hospitals of this category as defined in this subpart, which are not included in the count of beds for any other category under this part, and beds in any tuberculosis, mental, or chronic disease hospital which are specifically assigned for the care of general patients, except where the beds so assigned in any institution number less than ten.

(b) The count of existing chronic disease hospital beds and nursing home beds shall include the beds in facilities of those respective categories as defined in this subpart, which are not included in the count of beds for any other category under this part, and also beds in any general hospital which are in chronic disease and nursing home units, respectively, of a general hospital, except where the beds in such units number less than 10 in each category.

(c) Beds in existing nursing homes which the State agency determines to be unsuitable in accordance with the objective criteria, relating to the physical structure, contained in the State plan shall be excluded from the count of beds for this category. In any event, beds in existing general hospitals, chronic disease hospitals, or nursing homes which the State agency has determined to be a public hazard shall be excluded from the count of beds of these respective categories.

3. Subpart C is revised as follows:

SUBPART C—DISTRIBUTION OF TUBERCULOSIS AND MENTAL HOSPITAL BEDS

§ 53.21 State allowance. (a) The number of beds required to provide adequate hospital services for tuberculosis patients and mental patients in any State shall be:

(1) For tuberculosis patients, 1.5 times the average number of active and probably active new cases of tuberculosis found annually during the latest two-year period for which data are available, as certified by the State Health Department: Provided, That the total number of beds so determined shall not exceed 2.5 times the annual deaths from tuberculosis in the State over the five-year period from 1940 to 1944. As used in this paragraph, the term "probably active" means the probable clinical status of the disease when activity has not been determined from adequate roentgenologic and laboratory examinations.

(2) For mental patients, 5 per thousand population.

(b) The count of existing tuberculosis and mental hospital beds shall include the beds in the hospitals of those respective categories, as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, which are not included in the count of beds for any other category under this part, and also beds in any general hospital which are specifically assigned for the care of tuberculosis and mental patients respectively, except where the beds so assigned in any institution number less than 10 in any category.

§ 53.22 Distribution. (a) Whenever practicable, tuberculosis hospitals receiving grants under the Federal Act shall be built in centers of population and in proximity to general hospitals.

(b) Whenever practicable, mental hospitals receiving grants under the Federal act shall be located in centers of population and in proximity to general hospitals.

4. Subpart G is hereby deleted.

5. Paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 53.122 are amended as follows:

(c) After having determined hospital, public health center, diagnostic or treatment center, rehabilitation facility, and nursing home needs, the State agency shall establish an over-all construction program. This program shall set forth all such needs in accordance with the standards specified in §§ 53.11, 53.21, 53.31, 53.41 and 53.51 and shall show the relative need for each project included, irrespective of the availability of funds for construction and for maintenance and operation.

(d) The State agency shall from time to time as necessary review the over-all hospital, public health center, diagnostic or treatment center, rehabilitation facility, and nursing home construction program. Annually the State agency shall submit to the Surgeon General a report which contains such revisions of the construction program as the State agency considers necessary to administer the annual allotment for each category of facilities. At least biennially the report shall contain, as a minimum, a complete construction program, revised as necessary.

6. Section 53.126 is amended as follows:

§ 53.126 Publicizing the State plan. At least 30 days prior to the submission of the report required in § 53.122 (d) to the Surgeon General, the State agency shall publish in newspapers having general circulation throughout the State a general description of the proposed revision of the construction program, and the State plan shall be available for examination and comment by interested persons prior to submission to the Surgeon General.

(Sec. 215, 58 Stat. 690, as amended; 42 U. S. C. 216. Interpret or apply sec. 622, 60 Stat. 1042, sec. 653, 68 Stat. 463; 42 U. S. C. 291e, 291u)

These amendments were approved by the Federal Hospital Council at a meeting held June 17, 1958, and shall become effective immediately on the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: July 22, 1958.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter J—Fisheries Loan Fund

PART 160—LOAN PROCEDURES

Notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 26, 1958 (23 F. R. 4700) that pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by section 4 of the Fish and Wildlife Act of 1956 (70 Stat. 1119, 1121; 16 U. S. C. sec 742c), it was proposed to adopt the regulations set forth below as a revision of Part 160—Loan Procedures. Interested persons were invited to submit in writing any comments, suggestions or objections relating to the proposed regulations within thirty days of the date of publication of the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. No comments, suggestions or objections were submitted within the thirty day period.

The purpose of this revision is to clarify the meaning of several sections of the regulations, to include fishery marketing cooperatives as qualified loan applicants, to delete the provision allowing a person using a fishing vessel or fishing gear under his control on a lease or share basis to be a qualified applicant for financial assistance, and to specify additional purposes for which applications for financial assistance cannot be considered.

The revised regulations are hereby adopted without change and are set forth below.

Dated: August 7, 1958.

FRED A. SEATON,
Secretary of the Interior.

Sec.
160.1 Definition of terms.
160.2 Purposes of loan fund.
160.3 Interpretation of loan authorization.
160.4 Qualified loan applicants.
160.5 Basic limitations.
160.6 Applications.
160.7 Processing of loan applications.
160.8 Approval of loans.
160.9 Interest.
160.10 Maturity.
160.11 Security.
160.12 Books, records, and reports.
160.13 Penalties on default.

AUTHORITY: §§ 160.1 to 160.13 issued under sec. 4, 70 Stat. 1121; 16 U. S. C. 742c.

§ 160.1 Definitions of terms. For the purposes of this part, the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to mean and to include:

(a) Secretary. The Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative.

(b) Administrator. Administrator of the Small Business Administration or his authorized representative.

(c) Person. Individual, association, partnership or corporation, any one or all as the context requires.

(d) State. Any State, the Territories and possessions of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.

§ 160.2 Purposes of loan fund. The broad objective of the fisheries loan fund created by the Fish and Wildlife Act of 1956 is to provide financial assistance which will aid the commercial fishing industry to bring about a general upgrading of the condition of both fishing vessels and fishing gear thereby contributing to more efficient and profitable fishing operations.

(a) Under section 4 of the act, the Secretary is authorized, among other things:

(1) To make loans for financing and refinancing of operations, maintenance, replacement, repair and equipment of fishing gear and vessels, and for research into the basic problems of fisheries.

(2) Subject to the specific limitations in the section, to consent to the modification, with respect to the rate of interest, time of payment of any installment of principal, or security, of any loan contract to which he is a party.

(b) All financial assistance granted by the Secretary must be for one or more of the purposes set forth in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 160.3 Interpretation of loan authorization. The terms used in the act to describe the purposes for which loans may be granted are construed to be limited to the meanings ascribed in this section.

(a) Operation of fishing gear and vessels. The words "operation of fishing gear and vessels" mean and include all phases of activity directly associated with the catching of fish and shellfish for commercial purposes.

(b) Maintenance of fishing gear and vessels. The words "maintenance of fishing gear and vessels" mean the normal and routine upkeep of all parts of fishing gear and fishing vessels, including machinery and equipment.

(c) Replacement of fishing gear and vessels. The words "replacement of fishing gear and vessels" contemplate the purchase of fishing gear or equipment, parts, machinery, or other items incident to outfitting for fishing to replace lost, damaged, worn, obsolete, inefficient, or discarded items of a similar nature, or the purchase or construction of a fishing vessel to operate the same type of fishing gear as a comparable vessel which has been lost, destroyed or abandoned or has become obsolete or inefficient. Any vessel lost, destroyed or abandoned more than two years prior to the date of receipt of the application shall not be considered eligible for replacement.

(d) Repair of fishing gear and vessels. The words "repair of fishing gear and vessels" mean the restoration of any worn or damaged part of fishing gear or fishing vessels to an efficient operating condition.

(e) Equipment of fishing gear and vessels. The words "equipment of fishing gear and vessels" mean the parts, machinery, or other items incident to outfitting for fishing which are purchased for use in fishing operations.

(f) Research into the basic problems of fisheries. The words "research into the basic problems of fisheries" mean investigation or experimentation designed to lead to fundamental improvements in the capture or landing of fish conducted as an integral part of vessel or gear operations.

§ 160.4 Qualified loan applicants. (a) Any person residing or conducting business in any State shall be deemed to be a qualified applicant for financial assistance if such person;

(1) Owns a commercial fishing vessel of United States registry (if registration is required) used directly in the conduct of fishing operations, irrespective of the type, size, power, or other characteristics of such vessel;

(2) Owns any type of commercial fishing gear used directly in the catching of fish or shellfish;

(3) Owns any property, equipment, or facilities useful in conducting research into the basic problems of fisheries or possesses scientific, technological or other skills useful in conducting such research.

(4) Is a fishery marketing cooperative engaged in marketing all catches of fish or shellfish by its members pursuant to contractual or other enforceable arrangements which empower the cooperative to exercise full control over the conditions of sale of all such catches and disburse the proceeds from all such sales.

(b) Applications for financial assistance cannot be considered if the loan is to be used for:

(1) Any phase of a shore operation.

(2) Refinancing existing preferred mortgages or secured loans on fishing gear and vessels, except in those instances where the Secretary deems such refinancing to be desirable in carrying out the purpose of the Act.

(3) Paying creditors for debts previously incurred, except for marshalling and liquidating the indebtedness of the applicant to existing lien holders in those instances where the Secretary deems such action to be desirable in carrying out the purpose of the Act.

(4) (i) Effecting any change in ownership of a fishing vessel (except for replacement of a vessel or purchase of the interest of a deceased partner), (ii) replenishing working capital used for such purpose or (iii) liquidating a mortgage given for such purpose less than two years prior to the date of receipt of the application.

(5) Replacement of fishing gear or vessels where the applicant or applicants owned less than a 20 percent interest in said fishing gear or vessel to be replaced or owned less than 20 percent interest in a corporation owning said fishing gear or vessel: Provided, That applications for a replacement loan by an eligible applicant cannot be considered unless and until the remaining owners or shareholders shall agree in writing that they will not apply for a replacement loan on the same fishing gear or vessel.

(6) Repair of fishing gear or vessels where such fishing gear or vessels are not offered as collateral for the loan by the applicant.

(7) Financing new business ventures involving fishing operations.

§ 160.5 Basic limitations. Applications for financial assistance may be considered only where there is evidence that the credit applied for is not otherwise available on reasonable terms (a) from applicant's bank of account; (b) from the disposal at a fair price of assets not required by the applicant in the conduct of his business or not reasonably necessary to its potential growth, (c) through use of the personal credit and/or resources of the owner, partners, management, affiliates or principal stockholders of the applicant, or (d) from other known sources of credit. The financial assistance applied for shall be deemed to be otherwise available on reasonable terms unless it is satisfactorily demonstrated that proof of refusal of the desired credit has been obtained from the applicant's bank of account: Provided, That if the amount of the loan applied for is in excess of the legal lending limit of the applicant's bank or in excess of the amount that the bank normally lends to any one borrower, then proof of refusal should be obtained from a correspondent bank or from any other lending institution whose lending capacity is adequate to cover the loan applied for. Proof of refusal of the credit applied for must contain the date, amount, and terms requested. Bank refusals to advance credit will not be considered the full test of unavailability of credit and, where there is knowledge or reason to believe that credit is otherwise available on reasonable terms from sources other than such banks, the credit applied for cannot be granted notwithstanding the receipt of written refusals from such banks.

§ 160.6 Application. Any person desiring financial assistance from the fisheries loan fund shall make application to the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C., on a loan application form furnished by that Service except that, in the discretion of the Secretary, an application made other than by use of the prescribed form may be considered if the application contains information deemed to be sufficient. Such application shall indicate the purposes for which the loan is to be used, the period of the loan, and the security to be offered.

§ 167.7 Processing of loan applications. If it is determined, on the basis of a preliminary review, that the application is complete and appears to be in conformity with established rules and procedures, a field examination shall be made. Following completion of the field investigation the application will be forwarded with an appropriate report to the Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 160.8 Approval of loans. Loan agreements shall be executed on a form approved by the Secretary. The Secretary will evidence his approval of the loan by issuing a loan authorization covering the terms and conditions for making the loan. Such loan authorization shall be referred to the Administrator who will direct the closing of the loan with the applicant in the field and render services involving the collection of repayments and such other loan servicing functions as may be required. Any modification of the terms of a loan agreement following its execution must be agreed to in writing by the borrower and the Secretary.

§ 160.9 Interest. The rate of interest on all loans which may be granted is fixed at five per cent per annum.

§ 160.10 Maturity. The period of maturity of any loan which may be granted shall be determined and fixed according to the circumstances but in no event shall the date of maturity so fixed exceed a period of ten years.

§ 160.11 Security. Loans shall be approved only upon the furnishing of such security or other reasonable assurance of repayment as the Secretary may require. The proposed collateral for a loan must be of such a nature that, when considered with the integrity and ability of the management, and the applicant's past and prospective earnings, repayment of the loan will be reasonably assured.

§ 160.12 Books, records, and reports. The Secretary shall have the right to inspect such books and records of the applicant as the Secretary may deem necessary. Disbursements on a loan made under this part shall be made only upon the agreement of the loan applicant to maintain proper books of account and to submit such periodic reports as may be required by the Secretary during the period of the loan. During such period, the books and records of the loan applicant shall be made available at all reasonable times for inspection by the Secretary.

§ 160.13 Penalties on default. Unless otherwise provided in the loan agreement, failure on the part of a borrower to conform to the terms of the loan agreement will be deemed grounds upon which the Secretary may cause any one or all of the following steps to be taken:

(a) Discontinue any further advances of funds contemplated by the loan agreement.

(b) Take possession of any or all collateral given as security and the property purchased with borrowed funds.

(c) Prosecute legal action against the borrower.

(d) Declare the entire amount advanced immediately due and payable.

(e) Prevent further disbursement of and withdraw any funds advanced to the borrower and remaining under his control.

These regulations shall become effective thirty days after date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Issued at Washington, D. C., and dated August 7, 1958.

FRED A. SEATON,
Secretary of the Interior.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 940]

PEACHES GROWN IN THE COUNTY OF MESA IN THE STATE OF COLORADO

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING WITH RESPECT TO EXPENSES AND FIXING OF RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1958-59 FISCAL YEAR

Consideration is being given to the following proposals which were submitted by the Administrative Committee, established under the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 40, as amended (7 CFR Part 940), regulating the handling of peaches grown in the County of Mesa in the State of Colorado, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), as the agency to administer the terms and provisions thereof:

(a) That the Secretary of Agriculture find that expenses not to exceed $12,300.00 are likely to be incurred by said committee during the fiscal year beginning March 1, 1958, and ending February 28, 1959, both dates inclusive, for its maintenance and functioning under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order; and

(b) That the Secretary of Agriculture fix, as the pro rata share of such expenses which each handler who first handles peaches shall pay in accordance with the provisions of the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, the rate of assessment at one cent ($0.01) per bushel basket of peaches, or its equivalent of peaches in other containers or in bulk, shipped by such handler during said fiscal year.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the aforesaid proposals may do so by mailing the same to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Room 2077, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the 10th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: August 7, 1958.

[Docket No. AO-253-A3]

HANDLING OF MILK IN AKRON-STARK COUNTY, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Canton, Ohio, on April 15-16, 1958, pursuant to notice thereof issued on March 24, 1958 (23 F. R. 2039).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on June 24, 1958 (23 F. R. 4740) filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision containing notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issues of record related to:

1. Pool plant qualifications;
2. Location adjustments;
3. The price for Class I milk;
4. Classification of low fat fluid products and of inventories;
5. Diversion, allocation, and compensatory payment provisions applicable should producers fail or refuse to deliver milk to handlers;
6. Advance payments; and
7. Use of equivalent prices.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

1. Pool plant requirements. Provision should be made for pricing and pooling receipts of milk at supply plants from which a significant portion of such receipts are delivered to distributing plants serving the marketing area.

The Akron-Stark County order now prices and pools only the farm milk supply of plants from which fluid milk of approved quality is distributed on routes in the marketing area; receipts of plants located outside the marketing area with limited distribution in the area are exempted. No provision is included to price or pool receipts of supply plants. Handlers proposed that receipts of such plants be pooled on a basis similar to that in the order for the nearby Cleveland market and, with certain exceptions, be priced at any given location at the same level as under the Cleveland order.

There is very substantial competition for procurement of milk between the Akron-Stark County and Cleveland markets. Producer milk is shipped to Cleveland plants from farms in 16 of the 17 Ohio counties from which producers supply Akron-Stark County plants. This area represents a substantial part of the area from which milk is delivered directly from producers' farms to plants bottling milk for the Cleveland market. Only part of the Cleveland supply, however, is delivered to such plants, the remainder being received at 16 supply plants. Four of these are located within the Akron-Stark County procurement area, the others are further west in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. Prior to July 1957 when a plant with substantial receipts of direct shipped milk formerly priced under the Akron-Stark County order became a Cleveland pool plant slightly more than half of the Cleveland supply was received at supply plants; the proportion of direct shipped milk is now approximately 57 percent. The total Cleveland milk supply is now approximately three times that of the Akron-Stark County market, so that direct shipped receipts at Cleveland are approximately 1.75 times the volume of the Akron-Stark County supply.

In view of this competition for procurement and similar substantial competition for sales between Akron-Stark County handlers and Cleveland handlers, Class I prices of the two orders are in fixed alignment, and combined receipts and sales of the two markets are used in adjusting the Class I price for supply-demand relationships.

Under these circumstances, other order provisions should not serve to distort the relationship recognized in the Class I price alignment. Lack of order provisions for pooling receipts of supply plants confines the Akron-Stark County milkshed to the area from which producers can deliver their milk directly to the market. Akron-Stark County handlers cannot compete with Cleveland handlers for milk supplies from other areas which could supply either market. The supply received at distribution plants may not reflect production responses to the Class I price of the market in the same way that such responses are reflected in the Cleveland milk supply. It is concluded that should a supply plant serve the Akron-Stark County market on essentially the same basis as required for pool qualification in the Cleveland order, the farm milk supply of such plant should be priced and pooled.

Under these provisions a supply plant achieves pool status any month in which 30 percent or more of its dairy farm supply of milk is moved to distribution plants, and retains such status for such consecutive succeeding months that the volume shipped averages 30 percent. Shipments in excess of the minimum in one month may thus serve to qualify the plant in a succeeding month. Plants which deliver 10 percent or more of their supply each month of the normally short supply period of August through January, and 30 percent or more for the entire 6-month period, may continue pool status without shipments in the ensuing February-July period. Upon shipment of 10 percent each successive month of August through January, the next qualifying period for continuing status, such a previously qualified plant will continue in the pool, but must have again shipped 30 percent or more for the six-month period to retain continuing status. A provision of the Cleveland order for aggregate performance of multiple plants owned by the same handler need not be included in the Akron-Stark County order. No specific need for it was shown. In view of the date at which order amendments can now become effective, provision is made that shipments at the specified rate for the period from the effective date of such amendment through January 1958 will qualify a plant for continued status in 1959.

It was also proposed that in order for distribution plants to qualify for pool status, such plants should distribute 50 percent or more of their receipts from dairy farmers and supply plants on routes, either within or without the area. The record, however, does not show need for such a provision in this market. There is no indication that any presently regulated plants have distributed less than half their receipts on routes even though plants have heretofore been fully regulated without regard to the percentage of their farm milk supply disposed of on routes.

2. Location adjustments. Location adjustments to handlers and producers identical in amount with those provided under the Cleveland order should be provided with respect to milk received at pool plants located more than 40 miles from the nearest of Akron, Canton or Cleveland.

For the supply plant provisions adopted elsewhere in this decision to have any effect in expansion of the milkshed area, provision must be included for location differentials which recognize costs of transportation of milk from distant plants. It was proposed that such differentials be identical in amount with those provided in the Cleveland order at any given point, so that, in combination with proposed equalization of the Class I price, class prices of the two orders at any given point would be identical.

The Cleveland order, however, provides location adjustments at all points 40 miles or more from the Public Square in Cleveland. Much of the Akron-Stark County marketing area is more than 40 miles distant from Cleveland. It was proposed that no location adjustment apply in the marketing area or within 10 miles of any point in the area. It is concluded that no location adjustment should apply at any plant within 40 miles of the nearest of Cleveland, Akron or Canton. Akron and Canton are the two largest population centers of the marketing area. Four Cleveland supply plants are located within 40 miles of the nearer of these cities, but more than 40 miles from Cleveland. Such plants or others similarly situated should not receive a location adjustment under the Akron-Stark County order should they qualify for pool status under that order.

Outside the 40-mile limit, application of adjustments on the basis of mileage from Cleveland and use of Cleveland rates will give appropriate adjustments under the Akron-Stark County order in the areas from which supplies are most likely to be attracted to the market. Handlers will receive credit with respect to milk classified as Class I or Class II (under the revised classification provided herein Class II milk will be that used to produce cottage cheese and will be priced at 30 cents per hundredweight above milk for other manufacturing uses). Since interhandler movements of milk may be classified under the order by agreement between the handlers involved, credit on such milk should be limited to 105 percent of the volume required for Class I or II use by the transferee plant in excess of the direct receipts at such plant. In addition where there are movements from more than one plant, location adjustment should be first assigned to the plant with lowest rates of adjustment so that producers do not pay transportation costs on unnecessary movements of milk. Such provisions recognize that movements cannot be limited to the exact volume required for Class I and Class II use, but do not provide opportunity for credit on movement intended for Class III use.

The location adjustments to producers should apply to all deliveries of milk by the producer except for the months when payments are made on the quota plan of the order, when adjustments should be deducted with respect to eligible (within quota) milk only. These are the volumes for which such producers will share in marketwide utilization of milk in the higher classes.

3. Class I price. The Akron-Stark County Class I price should be the same as the Cleveland Class I price.

The Akron-Stark County price for Class I milk is presently 5 cents less than that of the Cleveland order. Handlers proposed deletion of this 5 cent differential as one of a group of interdependent proposals to bring closer alignment of the two orders. Producers proposed that the annual level of the Class I price be increased 37.5 cents and that the present seasonal changes in price be eliminated.

Fixed alignment of the Akron-Stark County Class I price with that of Cleveland was based upon the extensive competition in procurement and sales between dealers regulated under the two orders. Such competition continues and has intensified. Changes in the seasonality of the Akron-Stark County price cannot be made on the basis of this record without destroying price alignment with the Cleveland market. Neither can a change in the annual level of the amount proposed by producers who recognize the necessity for maintenance of alignment by suggesting that these proposals become effective upon adoption of similar prices in Cleveland. The provisions of the orders are such that Akron-Stark County producers and handlers participate in Cleveland hearings with respect to the Class I prices to be effective under both orders. Decision with respect to seasonality and the general level of prices should not be made on the basis of a hearing at which prices for the entire area were not open for consideration. Consideration of the Class I price should therefore be restricted to the relationship of the Akron-Stark County price to the Cleveland price.

Within the past year the volume of milk priced under the Cleveland order that is distributed in the Akron-Stark County area has increased substantially. Through increased distribution in the Cleveland area, a handler with a large volume of distribution in both areas became subject to the Cleveland order. The full Cleveland price, without location adjustment, applies at this handler's plant adjoining the city of Akron. Other Cleveland handlers have substantial sales of milk in the Akron-Stark County area.

In view of the increased volume of Cleveland milk distributed in the area and the opportunity provided through supply plants for closer alignment of competition in procurement it is concluded that the 5 cent differential in Class I prices should now be eliminated and that the Akron-Stark County Class I price should be the same as the Class I price of the Cleveland order.

4. Classification. No change should be made in the products named as Class I utilization. Specific provision should be made for classification and accounting for inventories of fluid milk products. Three classes of milk should be established to conform to the pricing provisions which now price separately that Class II milk used to produce cottage cheese.

The Akron-Stark County order now classifies as Class I milk disposition for consumption in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, concentrated milk, cream and cream mixtures. It was proposed that skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk drinks and concentrated milk be deleted from the list. The sole basis advanced for this proposal was the extent to which dry milk solids are available to the public without price regulation of the order. Such products may to some extent compete for consumer acceptance with the low fat fluid products now priced as Class I milk. Health authorities, however, require the fluid products to conform to the same standards of sanitation as fluid milk. Producers should not be expected to furnish inspected milk for such products at manufacturing milk prices. The proposal to delete them from Class I milk should be denied.

No specific classification is presently provided for inventories of fluid milk products. Testimony was offered at the hearing that specific provisions should be made for classifying such inventories in the lowest class of use, subject to a further charge if required for Class I use in the following month. Such inventories must enter into the accounting for current receipts and utilization. Uniformity of costs to handlers and simplicity of accounting are achieved if so far as possible Class I utilization each month is assigned to current receipts of producer milk. Classification of month-end inventories of fluid products at the lowest class of use with correlated allocation of opening inventories in series beginning with the lowest class provides a means of achieving this. Should the opening inventory be allocated to Class I use, provisions are included to equalize prices with that which would apply to current receipts of producer or other source milk as applicable. In order that Class I utilization may first be assigned to current receipts of producer milk, provisions for reclassification of nonfluid milk products are deleted and the other source milk definition is broadened to include any such products reprocessed or reconverted.

The order presently prices that Class II milk used to produce cottage cheese at a price 30 cents higher than other Class II milk. Location adjustments will apply to such milk, but not other Class II milk (new Class III). The application of location adjustments and allocation provisions will be clarified if a separate Class (Class II) is provided for the milk used to produce cottage cheese. Other uses now in Class II will be classified as Class III milk. This is provided as a conforming change.

5. Diversion, allocation and compensatory payment provisions. Certain handlers proposed that the sections of the order which (1) allocate producer milk and other source milk to the classes of use in a handler's plant, and (2) impose compensatory payments, become inoperative for any period in which producers or their cooperative fail or refuse to deliver milk to a handler in the market. These handlers also advocated that dairy farmers whose milk is withheld from the market by a cooperative association because of a demand for higher prices than those specified in the order should not retain producer status through diversion to nonpool plants for the account of the cooperative association.

When a handler has both producer milk and other source milk in his plant the order presently assigns the Class I sales for the month first to receipts from producers and other pool plants. The order requires a compensatory payment at the difference between the Class I and Class II (new Class III) prices with respect to other source milk not priced under any other order that is allocated to Class I when total producer receipts are 110 percent or more Class I sales for the market. Milk diverted from a pool plant to a nonpool plant for the account of a handler or cooperative association retains its pool status as producer milk.

The principal testimony with respect to these proposals related to circumstances prevailing in January 1958, when, as a consequence of failure of handlers and the principal cooperative association in the Akron portion of the marketing area to agree on terms of delivery, no milk of member producers of this association was received by most Akron handlers for approximately the first 20 days of the month. Handlers claim that under such circumstances the allocation and compensatory payment provisions exact monetary penalties from them.

During January a total of 7.5 million pounds of other source milk was imported by Akron-Stark County handlers, of which 6.6 million pounds (88 percent) was from federally regulated sources. Approximately 58 percent of the total other source milk (4.4 million pounds) was allocated to Class I milk, 25 percent to cottage cheese manufacture and 17 percent to other Class II uses.

It is clear from the record evidence that of the imports from federally regulated sources no more than the 4.4 million pounds allocated to Class I milk under the Akron-Stark County order could have been priced as Class I milk under the originating orders. Handlers fail to cite specific data with respect to compensatory payments on milk from unregulated sources. Official notice is hereby taken that data released monthly by the market administrator show that for January 1958 the total charge for compensatory payments was less than for either September 1957 or November 1957, but somewhat in excess of other recent months. Under the circumstances prevailing in the Akron-Stark County area in January 1958 it is evident that no substantial monetary penalties accrued to handlers through order provisions. Any extraordinary procurement costs must have resulted from transportation costs on milk classified in a lower class in the market of origin and allocated to Class II milk under this order or in handling charges with respect to imported milk.

The proposed suspension of the effectiveness of the allocation provisions of the order would leave no provision for determining the classification of producer receipts for pricing purposes. The function of the allocation provisions is to determine the quantities of milk in each class to be charged the handler for current receipts of producer milk when he has receipts of both producer milk and other source milk. No evidence was offered with respect to the basis to be used for this determination should circumstances arise under which the proposal, if adopted, would become effective. In recognition of this problem proponents attempted to offer as a modification a substitute proposal beyond the scope of the hearing notice.

The proposal that failure or refusal of producers or cooperatives to deliver milk to a handler in the market be the determinative factor as to whether order provisions are applicable would require difficult administrative decisions. Producers term the interruption of deliveries in January a lockout, handlers term it a strike. The facts supporting these diverse positions illustrate the difficulty of establishing in the order properly limited conditions under which these provisions would become inoperative. This difficulty is inherent with respect to all three proposals.

The supply plant provisions included elsewhere in this decision will provide opportunity to qualify additional volumes of producer milk from a supply plant on the basis of current-month shipment of 30 percent or more of such plant's farm milk supply. There is thus opportunity for supplies brought in during periods of interrupted deliveries of direct shipped milk to be exempt from the provisions applicable to other source milk.

The proposal to deny pool status to milk delivered for the account of a cooperative because of a demand for prices above the minimums specified in the order would have its principal effect upon distribution of returns among producers. No producer support was offered for this proposal.

There is, however, one aspect of diverted milk which it appears administratively feasible to recognize in the order. In computation of the level of market supply that determines whether compensatory payments apply, milk diverted to nonpool plants for the account of a cooperative association should be included only if the association furnishes evidence that such milk was offered to handlers at order prices. Under normal circumstances such diversion does not take place unless market supplies are in excess of the 110 percent level specified in the order. Inclusion of such milk in the computation upon a showing that it was available to handlers at order prices will prevent handlers from refusing milk as a means of avoiding compensatory payments. Such payments are designed to remove the competitive advantage there is in using other source milk supplies instead of pool milk. The provision included will prevent the use of unnecessary diversion as a means of extending the function of compensatory payments beyond their intended purpose. Other than this change it is concluded that no action should be taken on the basis of this record with respect to order modification in periods of interrupted deliveries.

6. Advance payments. Provision should be made to require minimum advance payment on written request of a producer or a cooperative association which collects payment for milk of its members. The minimum advance required should be the value of milk delivered during the first fifteen days of the month at the 3.5 percent Class III price of the preceding month. Such advance payments should be made on or before the last day of the month to a producer, or on or before the 27th day of the month to a cooperative association.

Monthly payments, on or before the 18th day of the month following delivery, are now required under the order. It has been the custom of handlers to advance reasonable sums to producers upon request. A cooperative association which now collects under the terms of the order payments for milk delivered by its members, also makes advances upon request of such members and has so far received from handlers upon request monies required for this purpose. This association proposed that the order require minimum advance payments if requested as insurance against the contingency that a handler might refuse to continue the present voluntary basis. No opposition was offered to the proposal provided proper safeguard were included to prevent advance payments exceeding the total payment for the month.

The provisions adopted limit the producers entitled to advance payments on request to those who have not discontinued delivery to the handler by date of payment. This, together with the rate of payment, provides ample insurance against requiring excess payments. Payments required to a cooperative association are limited to associations which collect payment for members, and to the volume of milk delivered by members specified in the request for advance. The limitation of continued delivery need not apply in this case as the total payment to be collected will in all cases exceed the required advance. It is concluded that the order should include these provisions.

7. Use of equivalent prices. An "equivalent prices" provision should be included in this order. Various price quotations are used in the provisions of this order, such as, the prices reported paid by the twelve midwest condenseries, the price of butter on the Chicago market and the price of nonfat dry milk in the Chicago area. These prices are an integral part of the order and are necessary for the order to function properly. Plants formerly included in the midwestern condenseries series have ceased operations. Other price quotations have become unavailable with little, if any, advance notice. Provisions have been incorporated into orders to meet emergency conditions when price quotations may not be available to the market administrator. In the event price quotations are not available, the Secretary would determine a price equivalent to the price quotation specified in the order. Some provision of this type is necessary to meet emergency conditions when the time available would not be sufficient to permit the procedure required for order amendments.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties in the market. These briefs, proposed findings and conclusions and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

General findings. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on exceptions. In arriving at the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision, each of the exceptions received was carefully and fully considered in conjunction with the record evidence pertaining thereto. To the extent that the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision are at variance with any of the exceptions, such exceptions are hereby overruled for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Akron-Stark County, Ohio, marketing area", and "Order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Akron-Stark County, Ohio, marketing area", which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

Referendum Order; Determination of Representative Period; and Designation of Referendum Agent

It is hereby directed that a referendum be conducted to determine whether the issuance of the attached order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Akron-Stark County, Ohio, marketing area, is approved or favored by the producers, as defined under the terms of the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and who, during the representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale within the aforesaid marketing area.

The month of June 1958 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the conduct of such referendum.

W. W. Hurwitz is hereby designated agent of the Secretary to conduct such referendum in accordance with the procedure for the conduct of referenda to determine producer approval of milk marketing orders, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 10, 1950 (15 F. R. 5177), such referendum to be completed on or before the 15th day from the date this decision is issued.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of August 1958.

Assistant Secretary.

§ 960.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Akron-Stark County, Ohio, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Akron-Stark County, Ohio, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 960.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

§ 960.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 960.3 Marketing area. "Akron-Stark County, Ohio, marketing area", hereinafter referred to as the "marketing area" means all territory, including but not limited to all municipal corporations within the boundaries of: Summit County; Stark County, except Paris and Sugar Creek Townships; Franklin, Ravenna, Brimfield and Suffield Townships and Lots 5 to 10, 15 to 20, 25 to 30, and 35 to 40, inclusive, of Randolph Township in Portage County; Smith Township in Mahoning County, except Great Lot 35 thereof; Knox Township in Columbiana County; and Sections 1, 2, 3, 10, 11 and 12 of Sugar Creek Township in Wayne County; all in the State of Ohio.

§ 960.4 Handler. "Handler" means any person (a) in his capacity as the operator of a pool plant, (b) in his capacity as the operator of a nonpool plant where milk is processed and packaged for distribution on a route(s) in the marketing area, and (c) any cooperative association with respect to the milk of any producer which such cooperative association causes to be diverted from producers' farms to a plant for the account of such cooperative association.

§ 960.5 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means (a) any plant at which milk is packaged and distributed as Class I milk on a route in the marketing area except:

(1) A plant specified in § 960.80 (a), (b) or (c); and

(2) A plant operated by a producer-handler.

(b) Any plant having the approval of the appropriate health authority of the marketing area:

(1) During the month in which it delivers to pool plant(s) described in paragraph (a) of this section an amount equal to 30 percent of its dairy farm supply of milk and, unless written notice to the contrary is received by the market administrator before the first day of the month, for such consecutive succeeding months as the 30 percent average is maintained.

(2) Following a period of August through January (the period from the effective date of this subparagraph through January 1959 shall be used instead of August 1958 through January 1959 for all requirements of this subparagraph) during which such plant has delivered to pool plant(s) described in paragraph (a) of this section, 10 percent or more of its total dairy farm supply during each month and 30 percent or more of such supply during the entire August–January period, unless written notice of intention to withdraw is received by the market administrator on or before the first day of the month, in which case such plant shall be a nonpool plant until it again qualifies pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph:

(i) During the months of February through July, regardless of shipments; and

(ii) During each successive month of August through January for which it delivers 10 percent or more of its total dairy farm supply to pool plant(s) described in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 960.6 Nonpool plant. "Nonpool plant" means a plant other than a plant operated by a producer-handler, during such months as it is not a pool plant.

§ 960.7 Producer. "Producer" means any person other than a producer-handler who produces milk which has approval of the health authorities of any community in the marketing area for consumption as fluid milk in such community and is received at a pool plant. This definition shall include any such person who is regularly designated as a producer but whose milk is caused to be diverted to a plant, other than a pool plant, by a handler for his account. Milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received at the pool plant from which diverted by a handler or at an identical location if diverted by a cooperative association.

§ 960.8 Producer milk. "Producer milk" means skim milk and butterfat contained in milk received from producers.

§ 960.9 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk or butterfat contained in or represented by (a) receipts during the month of products named in § 960.41 (a) except (1) producer milk, and (2) receipts from other pool plants; and (b) other milk products from any source, including those produced at the plant, which are reprocessed, repackaged or converted to another product in the plant during the month.

§ 960.10 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any person who (a) produces milk; (b) receives no milk from producers or from other sources; and (c) operates a plant from which a route(s) is operated wholly or partially within the marketing area.

§ 960.11 Route. "Route" means a sale or delivery (including a sale from a plant or store) of Class I milk to a wholesale or retail stop(s).

§ 960.12 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 960.13 Department of Agriculture. "Department of Agriculture" means the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 960.14 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers which the Secretary determines after application by the association: (a) To be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act"; (b) to have full authority in the sale of milk of its members and to be engaged in making collective sales or marketing milk or its products for its members; and (c) to have all of its activities under the control of its members.

§ 960.15 Eligible milk. "Eligible milk" means the amount of milk received by a handler from a producer during each of the months specified in § 960.63 which is not in excess of such producer's daily average quota computed pursuant to § 960.56 multiplied by the number of days in such month on which such producer delivered milk to such handler: Provided, That with respect to any producer on "every-other-day" delivery to a pool plant, the days of nondelivery shall be considered as days of delivery for purposes of this section and of § 960.56.

§ 960.16 Ineligible milk. "Ineligible milk" means the amount of milk received by a handler from a producer during each of the months specified in § 960.63 which is in excess of eligible milk received from such producer during such month, and shall include all milk received from a producer for whom no daily average quota can be computed pursuant to § 960.56.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 960.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this subpart shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected by the Secretary. Such person shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

§ 960.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the power to:

(a) Administer all of the terms and provisions of this subpart;

(b) Make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions of this subpart;

(c) Receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations of this subpart; and

(d) Recommend to the Secretary amendments of this subpart.

§ 960.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this subpart, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Within 30 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, effective as of the date on which he enters upon his duties as market administrator and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer the terms and provisions of this subpart;

(c) Obtain a bond in reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of the funds provided by § 960.74, (1) the costs of his bond and of the bonds of those of his employees who handle funds entrusted to the market administrator, (2) his own compensation, and (3) all other expenses (except those incurred under § 960.75) necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this subpart and upon request by the Secretary surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Publicly announce unless otherwise directed by the Secretary by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate the name of any person who, within 8 days after the day upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not made reports pursuant to § 960.30 or § 960.31 or payments pursuant to § 960.70, § 960.72, § 960.74, § 960.75 or § 960.76;

(g) Submit his books and records to examination and furnish such information and verified reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(h) Audit all reports and payments by each handler by inspection of such handler's records and of the records of any other person upon whose utilization the classification of skim milk and butterfat for such handler depends; and

(i) Publicly announce by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate;

(1) On or before the 5th day of each month the minimum class prices for the preceding month for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content, as computed pursuant to §§ 960.50, 960.51 and 960.52, and the butterfat differentials, computed pursuant to § 960.53.

(2) On or before the 13th day of each month the uniform price(s) for the preceding month, computed pursuant to § 960.61, or §§ 960.62 and 960.63 as applicable, and the butterfat differential for the preceding month computed pursuant to § 960.64.

(j) Prepare and disseminate, for the benefit of producers, consumers, and handlers, such information concerning the operation of this subpart as does not reveal confidential information.

(k) On or before the 13th day of each month, report to each cooperative association that so requests the class utilization of milk received during the preceding month by each handler from producers who are members of such association, prorating to such receipts the class utilization of all producers receipts of such handler.

(l) Provide notice, for each producer for whom a daily average quota is computed pursuant to § 960.56, on or before the first day of the month first stated in § 960.63 to: (1) Such producers, (2) cooperative associations for such producers who are its members, and (3) handlers for such producers from whom they received milk.

REPORTS, RECORDS AND FACILITIES

§ 960.30 Monthly reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 8th day of each month, each handler who operates a pool plant(s), and any cooperative association with respect to milk for which it is a handler pursuant to § 960.4 (c), shall, with respect to milk or milk products which were received at a pool plant by such handler during the preceding month, report to the market administrator in the detail and form prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(a) The quantities of butterfat and skim milk contained in milk received from producers, and, for the months specified in § 960.63 the aggregate quantities of eligible milk;

(b) The quantities of butterfat and skim milk contained in or used to produce receipts of milk products specified in § 960.41 (a) from other pool plants;

(c) The quantities of butterfat and skim milk contained in or used to produce receipts of other source milk;

(d) The utilization of all butterfat and skim milk the receipt of which is required to be reported pursuant to this section;

(e) The pounds of butterfat and skim milk contained in all milk, skim milk, and cream and other Class I products on hand at the beginning and at the end of the month;

(f) Such other information with respect to the use of milk as the market administrator may request.

§ 960.31 Other reports. Other reports shall be submitted to the market administrator as follows:

(a) Each producer-handler, and each handler who does not operate a pool plant, shall make reports at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(b) On or before the 20th day of each month each handler who operated a pool plant(s) at which producer milk was received in the preceding month shall submit such handler's producer payroll for the preceding month which shall show (1) the total pounds and the butterfat content of milk received from each producer, and for the months specified in § 960.63, the pounds of eligible milk and of ineligible milk received from each producer, (2) the amount and date of payment to each producer or cooperative association pursuant to § 960.70, (3) the nature and amount of each deduction or charge made by the handler, and (4) the number of days, if less than the entire month, for which milk was received from such producers.

§ 960.32 Records and facilities. Each handler and producer-handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of any of his operations and such facilities as in the opinion of the market administrator are necessary to verify or to establish the correct data with respect to: (a) The receipts and utilization or disposition of all skim milk and butterfat received, including all milk products received and disposed of in the same form; (b) the weights and tests for butterfat, skim milk and other contents of all milk and milk products handled; and (c) all payments required to be made by such handler pursuant to §§ 960.70, 960.72, 960.74, 960.75, and 960.76.

§ 960.33 Retention of records. All books and records required under this subpart to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler or producer-handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if within such three-year period the market administrator notifies the handler or producer-handler in writing that the retention of such books and records or of specified books and records is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice the handler or producer-handler shall retain such books and records or specified books and records until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler or producer-handler promptly upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 960.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat received by a handler which is required to be reported pursuant to § 960.30 shall be classified pursuant to §§ 960.41 to 960.44.

§ 960.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 960.43 and 960.44, the classes of utilization shall be:

(a) Class I utilization shall be all skim milk (including the skim milk equivalent of concentrated products) and butterfat (1) disposed of for consumption in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, concentrated milk not in hermetically sealed cans, and cream, including sour cream or any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk, or (2) not accounted for as Class II or Class III utilization.

(b) Class II utilization shall be all skim milk and butterfat used to produce cottage cheese.

(c) Class III utilization shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) used to produce any product other than those specified in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section; (2) disposed of for livestock feed or skim milk dumped subject to prior notification to and inspection (at his discretion) by the market administrator; (3) in cream frozen; (4) in shrinkage of producer milk up to 2 percent of receipts from producers; (5) in shrinkage of other source milk; and (6) in inventories of products specified in paragraph (a) (1) of this section on hand at the end of the month.

§ 960.42 Shrinkage. (a) If producer milk is utilized in conjunction with other source milk, the shrinkage shall be allocated pro rata between the receipts of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk and other source milk.

(b) Producer milk transferred or diverted by a handler from his pool plant to another pool plant without first having been received for purposes of weighing in the transferring or diverting handler's pool plant shall be included in the receipts at the pool plant to which such milk was transferred or diverted for the purpose of computing shrinkage and shall be excluded from the receipts at the transferring or diverting handler's pool plant for such purpose.

§ 960.43 Responsibility of handlers. All skim milk and butterfat contained in producer milk and in other source milk received by a handler shall be classified as Class I utilization unless the handler proves to the market administrator that such skim milk and butterfat or a portion thereof should be classified otherwise.

§ 960.44 Transfers. (a) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of from a pool plant to the pool plant of another handler in the form of milk, skim milk or cream shall be Class I utilization unless utilization in another class is indicated by the operators of both plants in their reports submitted pursuant to § 960.30: Provided, That in no event shall the amount so classified in such class be greater than the amount of producer milk used in such class in the pool plant(s) of the transferee handler after allocating other source milk in such plant(s) in series beginning with the lowest priced utilization.

(b) Skim milk and butterfat moved in the form of milk, skim milk or cream from a pool plant to a handler described in § 960.80 or to a nonpool plant shall be Class I utilization unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) Utilization in another class is indicated by the operator of the pool plant in his report submitted pursuant to § 960.30.

(2) The operator of the nonpool plant maintains books and records which are made available for examination upon request by the market administrator and which are adequate for the verification of the utilization claimed.

(3) If the above conditions are met, the market administrator shall classify all skim milk and butterfat received at the nonpool plant and the skim milk and butterfat so transferred shall be allocated in series beginning with any skim milk and butterfat, respectively, remaining in Class I utilization after allocating skim milk and butterfat in milk received from dairy farmers whom the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of milk for Class I uses at such plant, in series beginning with Class I utilization.

(c) Skim milk and butterfat transferred in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream to a producer-handler shall be classified as Class I utilization.

§ 960.45 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the report submitted by each handler pursuant to § 960.30 and shall compute separately the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class.

§ 960.46 Allocation of butterfat. The pounds of butterfat remaining after making the following computations shall be the pounds in each class allocated to milk received from producers:

(a) Subtract from the total pounds of butterfat in Class III utilization the pounds of butterfat shrinkage allowed pursuant to § 960.41 (c) (4);

(b) Subtract from the total pounds of butterfat remaining in each class, in series beginning with the lowest priced utilization, the pounds of butterfat in other source milk other than that received from a plant at which the handling of milk is fully subject to the pricing and payment provisions of another marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act;

(c) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class, in series beginning with the lowest priced utilization, the pounds of butterfat in other source milk received in a form other than that specified in paragraph (d) of this section from a plant at which the handling of milk is fully subject to the pricing and payment provisions of another marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act;

(d) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class the pounds of butterfat contained in milk or milk products received in packaged form which were classified and priced under another Federal order and disposed of in the same form as received;

(e) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in Class III milk, Class II milk and Class I milk, in series beginning with Class III, the pounds of butterfat contained in inventory of products specified in § 960.41 (a) (1) on hand at the beginning of the month;

(f) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class the pounds of butterfat received from other handlers in such classes pursuant to § 960.44 (a); and

(g) Add to the remaining pounds of butterfat in Class III utilization the pounds subtracted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

(h) If the remaining pounds of butterfat in both classes exceed the pounds of butterfat in milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of butterfat in each class in series, beginning with the lowest-priced utilization.

§ 960.47 Allocation of skim milk. Allocate the pounds of skim milk in each class to milk received from producers in a manner similar to that prescribed for butterfat in § 960.46.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 960.50 Class I milk price. The minimum price per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. a pool plant, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from producers or from cooperative associations during the month, which is classified as Class I milk shall be the Class I price as determined pursuant to § 975.61 of this chapter.

§ 960.51 Class II milk price. The minimum price per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. a pool plant, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from producers or from cooperative associations during the month which is classified as Class II milk shall be the higher of the prices computed by the market administrator pursuant to § 960.52 (a) or (b) plus 20 cents.

§ 960.52 Class III milk price. The minimum price per hundredweight to be paid by each handler, f. o. b. a pool plant, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from producers or from cooperative associations during the month which is classified as Class III milk shall be the higher of the prices computed by the market administrator pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) of this section.

(a) The average of the basic (or field) prices ascertained to have been paid or to be paid per hundredweight for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the Department of Agriculture by the companies indicated below:

Present Operator and Location

Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) The price computed by adding together the plus amounts pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A 92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent of the resulting amount, and then multiply by 3.5.

(2) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the weighted averages of the carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk, spray and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the month for which prices are being computed by the Department of Agriculture, deduct 5.5 cents, and multiply by 8.2.

§ 960.53 Handler butterfat differentials. If the average butterfat content of the milk of any handler allocated to any class is more or less than 3.5 percent, there shall be added to the prices of milk for each class as computed pursuant to §§ 960.50, 960.51 and 960.52 for each one-tenth of one percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is above 3.5 percent, or subtracted for one-tenth of one percent that such average butterfat content is below 3.5 percent, an amount equal to the average daily wholesale price per pound of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month, multiplied by the following factors:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply by 1.3, and divide the result by 10.

(b) Class II and Class III milk. Multiply by 1.15, and divide the result by 10.

§ 960.54 Location adjustment to handlers. In computing the value of such quantities of milk as are received at a pool plant located 40 miles or more, by the shortest highway distance from the nearest of the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, the City Hall in Akron, Ohio, or the City Hall in Canton, Ohio, as determined by the market administrator, and classified as Class I or Class II milk, there shall be deducted:

(a) 13 cents per hundredweight, if such distance from the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, is more than 40 miles but not more than 60 miles; and

(b) 20 cents per hundredweight, if such distance from the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, is more than 60 miles but not more than 74 miles, and 2 cents per hundredweight additional for each 14 miles or fraction thereof in excess of 74 miles.

(c) For the purpose of determining the respective quantities of Class I and Class II milk subject to the location adjustment, transfers between pool plants shall be assigned to Class I and Class II milk in a volume not in excess of that by which 105 percent of Class I and Class II milk at the transferee plant exceeds receipts of producer milk at such plant, such assignment to transferor pool plants to be made in such sequence as will result in computation of the least total location adjustment.

§ 960.55 Use of equivalent prices. If for any reason a price quotation required by this part for computing class prices or for other purposes is not available in the manner described, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to the price which is required.

DETERMINATION OF ELIGIBLE MILK QUOTA

§ 960.56 Determination of eligible milk quota for each producer. Subject to the rules set forth in § 960.57 the market administrator shall determine quotas for producers as follows: During each of the months specified in § 960.63 the daily quota of each producer whose milk was received by a handler(s) on not less than thirty (30) days during the immediately preceding months of October through December, inclusive, shall be a quantity computed by dividing such producer's total pounds of milk delivered in the 3-month period by the number of days from the date of the first delivery to the end of such 3-month period.

§ 960.57 Quota rules. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, an eligible milk quota shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered to a handler(s) during the quota forming period.

(b) A daily quota may be transferred during the period of April through June by notifying the market administrator in writing before the first day of any delivery period that such quota is to be transferred to the person named in such notice, but under the following conditions only:

(1) In the event of the death of a producer, the entire daily quota may be transferred to a member of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy operation on the same farm;

(2) If a quota is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated on the basis of written notice to the market administrator from the joint holders, the entire daily quota may be transferred to one of the joint holders, or divided in accordance with such notice between the former joint holders if they continue dairy farm operations.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 960.60 Value of producer milk for each handler. The value of producer milk received during the month by each handler who operates a pool plant(s), and by any cooperative association with respect to milk for which it is a handler pursuant to § 960.4 (c), shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Multiply by the applicable class prices, adjusted pursuant to §§ 960.53 and 960.54, the total combined hundredweight of skim milk and butterfat received from producers and allocated to each class pursuant to §§ 960.46 and 960.47;

(b) Add an amount computed by multiplying any excess utilization classified pursuant to § 960.46 (h) and the corresponding step of § 960.47 by the applicable class prices; and

(c) Add any amount obtained through multiplying by the difference between the Class III price for the preceding month and the Class I price for the current month the lesser of:

(1) The hundredweight of milk subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 960.46 (e) and the corresponding step of § 960.47, or

(2) The hundredweight of producer milk classified as Class III utilization (except as shrinkage) for the preceding month.

§ 960.61 Computation of uniform price. For each month (except those specified in § 960.63) the market administrator shall compute a uniform price per hundredweight of milk containing 3.5 percent of butterfat to be paid to producers delivering milk to pool plants at which no location adjustments are applicable as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the value of producer milk for each handler as computed pursuant to § 960.60 for all handlers who reported pursuant to § 960.30 for such month, except those in default in payments required pursuant to § 960.72 for the preceding month;

(b) Add the total amount of all payments made pursuant to § 960.72 (b);

(c) Add any amounts paid into the producer-settlement fund and subtract any amounts paid out of the producer-settlement fund pursuant to § 960.76;

(d) Add an amount representing not less than one-half of the unobligated balance in the producer-settlement fund exclusive of the amounts added or subtracted pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section;

(e) Subtract, if the weighted average butterfat test of all producer milk represented by the amounts included under paragraph (a) of this section is greater than 3.5 percent, or add, if the weighted average butterfat test of such milk is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the total pounds of butterfat represented by the difference of such weighted average butterfat test from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 960.64 multiplied by 10;

(f) Add the aggregate value of all allowable producer location adjustments pursuant to § 960.65;

(g) Divide the resulting amount by the total hundredweight of producer milk received by all handlers during the month for which uniform prices are being computed;

(h) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents, and the result shall be the uniform price to be paid per hundredweight of milk containing 3.5 percent of butterfat to producers who delivered milk during the month for which uniform prices are being computed.

§ 960.62 Computation of ineligible milk price. For the months specified in § 960.63, the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight for ineligible milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content by:

(a) Multiplying the hundredweight of such milk not in excess of the total quantity of Class II and Class III milk by the price for Class III milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content, multiplying the hundredweight of such milk in excess of the total hundredweight of such Class II and Class III milk by the price for Class I milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content, and adding together the resulting amounts; and

(b) Dividing the total value of ineligible milk obtained in paragraph (a) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk and adjusting to the nearest cent.

§ 960.63 Computation of eligible milk price. For each of the months of April through June the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight for eligible milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from producers at a pool plant by:

(a) Subtracting the value of ineligible milk obtained in § 960.62 (a) from the aggregate value of milk computed pursuant to § 960.61 (a) to (f) and adjusting by an amount involved in adjusting the uniform price of ineligible milk to the nearest cent;

(b) Dividing the amount obtained in paragraph (a) of this section by the total hundredweight of eligible milk included in these computations; and

(c) Subtracting not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

§ 960.64 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 960.70, the uniform prices shall be adjusted for each one-tenth of one percent of butterfat content in the milk of each producer above or below 3.5 percent, as the case may be, by a butterfat differential equal to the average of the butterfat differentials determined pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 960.53, weighted by the pounds of butterfat in producer milk in each class and rounded to the nearest tenth of a cent.

§ 960.65 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 960.70, a handler may deduct with respect to eligible milk received from producers during the months specified in § 960.63 and with respect to all milk received from producers during the other months, at a pool plant located 40 miles or more, by the shortest highway distance from the nearest of the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, the City Hall in Akron, Ohio, or the City Hall in Canton, Ohio, as determined by the market administrator:

(a) More than 40 miles but not more than 60 miles from the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, an amount not to exceed 13 cents per hundredweight; and

(b) More than 60 miles but not more than 74 miles from the Public Square in Cleveland, Ohio, an amount not to exceed 20 cents per hundredweight, and 2 cents per hundredweight additional for each additional 14 miles or fraction thereof.

§ 960.66 Notification. On or before the 13th day of each month the market administrator shall notify each handler who submitted a report for the preceding month pursuant to § 960.30 of:

(a) The classification pursuant to §§ 960.46 and 960.47 of skim milk and butterfat contained in producer milk received by such handler during the preceding month and the value of such milk computed pursuant to § 960.60;

(b) The uniform prices for the month computed pursuant to § 960.61 or §§ 960.62 and 960.63, as applicable; and

(c) The amount due such handler pursuant to § 960.73 and the amount to be paid by such handler pursuant to §§ 960.72, 960.74 and 960.75.

PAYMENTS

§ 960.70 Time and method of payment. (a) Except as provided by paragraph (b) of this section, on or before the 18th day of each month, each handler (except a cooperative association) shall pay each producer for milk received from him during the preceding month, not less than an amount of money computed by multiplying the total pounds of such milk by the applicable uniform price(s) pursuant to § 960.61 or §§ 960.62 and 960.63 adjusted by the butterfat and location differentials pursuant to §§ 960.64 and 960.65, and less any proper deductions authorized by the producer, including advance payments made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section: Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such month pursuant to § 960.73 he may reduce such payments uniformly per hundredweight for all producers, by an amount not in excess of the per hundredweight reduction in payment from the market administrator; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

(b) (1) Upon receipt of a written request from a cooperative association which the Secretary determines is authorized by its members to collect payment for their milk and receipt of a written promise to reimburse the handler the amount of any actual loss incurred by him because of any improper claim on the part of the association, each handler shall pay to the cooperative association on or before the 16th day of each month, in lieu of payments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section an amount equal to the gross sum due for all milk received from certified members, less amounts owing by each member-producer to the handler for supplies purchased from him on prior written order or as evidenced by a delivery ticket signed by the producer and submit to the cooperative association written information which shows for each such member-producer (i) the total pounds of milk received from him during the preceding month, (ii) the total pounds of butterfat contained in such milk, (iii) the number of days on which milk was received, and (iv) the amounts withheld by the handler in payment for supplies sold. The foregoing payment and submission of information shall be made with respect to milk of each producer whom the cooperative association certifies is a member, which is received on and after the first day of the calendar month next following receipt of such certification through the last day of the month next preceding receipt of notice from the cooperative association of a termination of membership or until the original request is rescinded in writing by the association.

(2) A copy of each such request, promise to reimburse and certified list of members shall be filed simultaneously with the market administrator by the association and shall be subject to verification at his discretion, through audit of the records of the cooperative association pertaining thereto. Exceptions, if any, to the accuracy of such certification by a producer claimed to be a member, or by a handler shall be made by written notice to the market administrator, and shall be subject to his determination.

(c) Upon written request filed with him on or before the 15th day of the month by a producer, or by a cooperative association which collects payments pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall make advance payment as follows:

(1) On or before the last day of the month, to each such producer who has not discontinued delivery of milk to such handler, an amount not less than the value of milk received from such producer during the first 15 days of such month computed at the Class III price for 3.5 percent milk for the preceding month, without deduction for hauling;

(2) On or before the 27th day of the month, to the cooperative association, with respect to milk received during the first 15 days of the month from certified members specified in the request for advance payment, an amount not less than the aggregate value of such milk at the Class III price for 3.5 percent milk for the preceding month, without deduction for hauling.

§ 960.71 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made pursuant to §§ 960.72 and 960.76 and out of which he shall make all payments pursuant to §§ 960.73 and 960.76.

§ 960.72 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day of each month handlers shall make payments to the market administrator as follows:

(a) If the value of producer milk received by a handler in the preceding month as computed pursuant to § 960.60 exceeds the amount which such handler is required to pay all producers pursuant to § 960.70 such handler shall pay the difference between the two amounts.

(b) If during the preceding month total receipts of producer milk (exclusive of milk diverted from the pool plant of another handler to a nonpool plant for the account of a cooperative association unless written evidence is furnished the market administrator that such milk was offered for delivery to a pool plant at class prices of the order) was 110 percent or more of the total Class I milk at pool plants, an amount equal to the difference between the values (at test and location) at the Class I price and Class III price with respect to:

(1) Other source milk subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 960.46 (b) and the corresponding step of § 960.47; and

(2) Milk in inventory subtracted from Class I pursuant to § 960.46 (e) and the corresponding step of § 960.47 which is in excess of the sum of:

(i) The quantity for which a payment is computed pursuant to § 960.60 (c), and

(ii) The quantity subtracted from Class III pursuant to § 960.46 (e) and the corresponding step of § 960.47 in the month preceding.

§ 960.73 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 16th day of each month, the market administrator shall pay to each handler any amount by which the sum required to be paid by such handler for the preceding month pursuant to § 960.70 is greater than the total value of the milk of such handler computed pursuant to § 960.60 for such preceding month less any unpaid obligations of the handler to the market administrator pursuant to §§ 960.72, 960.74, 960.75 (a), and 960.76 (a): Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make payments to all handlers pursuant to this section, the market administrator shall reduce such payments by a uniform amount per hundredweight of milk and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds become available.

§ 960.74 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense incurred pursuant to § 960.22 (d), each handler shall pay the market administrator on or before the 16th day of each month 3 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe with respect to (a) all receipts within the preceding month of producer milk (including such handler's own production), and (b) all other source milk allocated to Class I pursuant to § 960.46 (b) and the corresponding step of § 960.47.

§ 960.75 Marketing services. In making payments to producers or cooperative associations pursuant to § 960.70 a handler shall make deductions and dispose of amounts so deducted as follows:

(a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section a handler shall deduct 6 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe, with respect to all producer milk for which payment is being made pursuant to § 960.70 and shall pay the total amount of such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 16th day after the end of the month in which such producer milk was received. Such amount shall be expended by the market administrator to verify weights and tests of milk of producers and to provide producers with market information, such service to be performed by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Each association of producers which is actually performing the services described in paragraph (a) of this section, as determined by the Secretary, may file with a handler a claim for authorized deductions from the payments otherwise due to its producer members for milk delivered to such handler. Such claim shall contain a list of the producers for which such deductions apply, an agreement to indemnify the handler for the amount of any loss sustained by him because of any improper claim on the part of the association, and a certification that the association has an unterminated membership contract with each producer, which contract authorizes the claimed deduction. In making payments to producers for milk received during the month, each handler shall make deductions in accordance with the association's claim and shall pay the amount deducted within 16 days after the end of the month.

§ 960.76 Errors in payments. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records or accounts discloses errors resulting in monies due (a) the market administrator from such handler or such handler from the market administrator or (b) any producer or cooperative association from such handler pursuant to § 960.70 the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due, and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payment set forth in the provision under which such error occurred, following the 5th day after such notice. In computing amounts due pursuant to this section the class prices, the appropriate uniform price, the butterfat differential, the rate of administrative assessment pursuant to § 960.74, and the rate of marketing service deduction pursuant to § 960.75 which were applicable in the month for which the original calculation of amounts due were made shall be used.

§ 960.77 Termination of obligation. (a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this subpart shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator received the handler's report of utilization of the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notified the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to a cooperative association the name of such producers or association, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this subpart, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books or records required by this subpart to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this subpart to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this subpart shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which milk involved in the claim was received if any underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within that applicable period of time, files pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 960.80 Handler exemption. A handler operating any plant specified below shall be exempted with respect to the milk received of such plant during the month from all provisions of this subpart except §§ 960.31, 960.32 and 960.33:

(a) A plant located outside the marketing area from which an average of less than 300 points (one point being defined as one-half pint of cream or one quart of any other Class I product) of Class I milk per day is disposed of during the month on a route(s) operated wholly or partly within the marketing area;

(b) A plant at which the Secretary finds is subject during the month to another Federal order; or

(c) A plant at which no milk approved by the health authorities of any community of the marketing area for consumption as fluid milk is received from dairy farmers and from which disposition of Class I milk in the marketing area is permitted only in portions of the marketing area for which no health authority exercises jurisdiction with respect to approval of milk for fluid consumption.

§ 960.81 Producer-handler. A producer-handler shall be exempt from all provisions of this subpart except that he shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 960.90 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart, or any amendment to this subpart, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this subpart for the payment of money.

§ 960.91 Suspension or termination. Whenever the Secretary finds the subpart or any provision of this subpart obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall terminate or suspend the operation of this order or any such provision of this subpart.

§ 960.92 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this subpart there are any obligations thereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 960.93 Liquidation. Upon the suspension of the provisions of the subpart, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidation agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable and execute and deliver all assignments or other instrument necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidation agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 960.100 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 960.101 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this subpart, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid the application of such provisions, and the remaining provisions of this subpart, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

IDAHO

ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS

AUGUST 5, 1958.

In an exchange of lands made under the provisions of section 8 of the Act of June 28, 1934 as amended, the following described lands have been reconveyed to the United States:

BOISE MERIDIAN, IDAHO

Parcel No. 1—T. 3 S., R. 20 E.,
Sec. 1, N½SE¼, SW¼SE¼;
Sec. 12, NW¼NE¼.
Parcel No. 2—T. 3 S., R. 21 E.,
Sec. 7, Lots 4, 5, 6, NE¼SW¼.
Parcel No. 3—T. 4 N., R. 26 E.,
Sec. 6, SE¼SW¼.
Parcel No. 4—T. 12 S., R. 28 E.,
Sec. 7, NE¼.

Within the above-described areas are 539.61 acres of public lands.

Parcels No. 1 and No. 2 above are located about 25 miles northeast of Shoshone in Lincoln County, Idaho. Parcel No. 3 is located near Arco in Butte County, Idaho. Parcel No. 4 is located 8 miles northeast of Malta in Cassia County, Idaho.

All of the land described above is typical of dry grazing land in the Snake River plains of southern Idaho. The elevations vary from 4,300 feet to 5,400 feet. The topography is rolling, and the soil is alluvial clay and silt loam, commingled with gravel. The present use is for the grazing of livestock.

No application for these lands will be allowed under the homestead, desert land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public land law, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable, or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

Subject to any existing valid rights and the requirements of applicable law, the lands described in paragraph 2 hereof, are hereby opened to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following:

a. Applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws and applications and offers under the mineral leasing laws may be presented to the Manager mentioned below, beginning on the date of this order. Such applications, selections, and offers will be considered as filed on the hour and respective dates shown for the various classes enumerated in the following paragraphs:

(1) Applications by persons having prior existing valid settlement rights, preference rights conferred by existing laws, or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation will be adjudicated on the facts presented in support of each claim or right. All applications presented by persons other than those referred to in this paragraph will be subject to the applications and claims mentioned in this paragraph.

(2) All valid applications under the Homestead, Desert Land, and Small Tract Laws by qualified veterans of World War II or of the Korean Conflict, and by others entitled to preference rights under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284 as amended), presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on September 10, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such preference right applications filed after that hour and before 10:00 a. m. on December 10, 1958, will be governed by the time of filing.

(3) All valid applications and selections under the nonmineral public land laws, other than those coming under paragraphs (1) and (2) above, and applications and offers under the mineral leasing laws, presented prior to 10:00 a. m. on December 10, 1958, will be considered as simultaneously filed at that hour. Rights under such applications and selections filed after that hour will be governed by the time of filing.

b. The lands will be open to location under the United States mining laws, beginning 10:00 a. m. on December 10, 1958.

Persons claiming veteran's preference rights under Paragraph a (2) above must enclose with their applications proper evidence of military or naval service, preferably a complete photostatic copy of the certificate of honorable discharge. Persons claiming preference rights based upon valid settlement, statutory preference, or equitable claims must enclose properly corroborated statements in support of their applications, setting forth all facts relevant to their claims. Detailed rules and regulations governing applications which may be filed pursuant to this notice can be found in Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, P. O. Box 2237, Boise, Idaho.

DONALD I. BAILEY,
Acting State Supervisor.

Whereas, the Regulation Office of the Federal Maritime Board has, by registered letters, requested the above-named registrants to furnish certain information in connection with their forwarding operations pursuant to § 244.3 of General Order 72; and

Whereas, the first five registrants named above have failed to respond to the aforesaid requests for information; and

Whereas, registered letters sent to the other four registrants have been returned by the post office as undeliverable, and the Board is unable to exercise regulatory authority over such registrants because their present whereabouts is unknown; now, therefore,

It is ordered, That the above-named registrants show cause, in writing or at a public hearing to be hereafter set if requested by registrant, within thirty (30) days from the date of publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER, why their registrations should not be cancelled for the reasons above stated, and

It is further ordered, That failure of any registrant named above to respond as ordered hereby will result in automatic cancellation of its freight forwarder registration without further action by the Board; and the Secretary shall notify the registrant by letter to be sent by registered mail to the last known address of the registrant; and

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order be sent by registered mail to each of the above-named registrants at its last known address; and

It is further ordered, That this order be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: August 8, 1958.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-14190]

SKELLY OIL CO.

ORDER ACCEPTING SUPERSEDING RATE SCHEDULE AND SUPPLEMENT, PROVIDING FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

AUGUST 7, 1958.

On December 16, 1957, Skelly Oil Company (Skelly) filed a proposed favored-nation rate increase for sales of natural gas in the Sholem Alechem Field, Carter County, Oklahoma, to Lone Star Gas Company (Lone Star), which was designated as Supplement No. 1 to Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 54. By order issued January 14, 1958, in this proceeding, the Commission ordered that a public hearing be held concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 1 to Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 54, and suspended and deferred the use of said supplement until June 16, 1958, and until such further time thereafter as it might be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act. No motion to place the suspended rate in effect subject to refund as provided by section 4 (e) of the Act has been filed by Skelly.

On July 10, 1958, Skelly tendered for filing a periodic rate increase of 1.0 cent from 10.0 cents to 11.0 cents per Mcf, amounting to $265 yearly, for gas sold to Lone Star from the aforementioned gas field, which has been designated as Supplement No. 1 to Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 128, and which Skelly proposes to substitute for the above-mentioned favored-nation rate increase to the same price for the same gas under Supplement No. 1 to its FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 54 suspended in this proceeding until June 16, 1958. Concurrently, Skelly submitted the basic contract for this increase as a June 7, 1954, rate schedule in substitution for the basic rate schedule previously filed. Skelly explains that it was not realized that the present contract superseded the contract now on file.

In support of the proposed periodic rate increase, Skelly states that the price is equal to and not greater than the price for intrastate sales in the area and is the same price as applicable to other interstate commerce sales to Lone Star under similar contracts for a like period in the area. Skelly also states that the increased price is consonant with the increased costs of doing business and is just and reasonable.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause has been shown that Skelly's contract dated January 1, 1953, designated as Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 128, be accepted for filing and permitted to supersede Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 54, and that Supplement No. 1 to Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 128 be accepted for filing and permitted to supersede the suspended Supplement No. 1 to Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 54 in this proceeding.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 1 to Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 128 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 128, and Supplement No. 1 thereto, are each hereby accepted for filing and allowed to supersede Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 54 and suspended Supplement No. 1 thereto, respectively.

(B) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 1 to Skelly's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 128.

(C) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 11, 1958, or until such time as the rate previously suspended in this proceeding is placed in effect subject to refund, whichever is later, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(D) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until the proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(E) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

[Docket No. G-15878]

ANDERSON-PRICHARD OIL CORP.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES

AUGUST 7, 1958.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation (Anderson-Prichard) on July 11, 1958, tendered for filing a proposed change in its presently effective rate schedule for the sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed change, which constitutes an increased rate and charge, is contained in the following designated filing:

Description: Notice of Change, dated July 10, 1958.

Purchaser: El Paso Natural Gas Company.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 10 to Anderson-Prichard's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 22.

Effective date: August 15, 1958 (effective date is the effective date proposed by Anderson-Prichard).

In support of the proposed favored-nation rate increase, Anderson-Prichard states that it was advised by El Paso Natural Gas Company of a 1¢ per Mcf favored-nation increase for Permian Basin Area gas effective January 1, 1958, subject to the Commission's approval. Anderson-Prichard further states that the increase would accomplish little more than compensate for the increased cost of production, and that the proposed price is just and reasonable and is not excessive.

The increased rate and charge so proposed has not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed change, and that Supplement No. 10 to Anderson-Prichard's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 22 be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rate and charge contained in Supplement No. 10 to Anderson-Prichard's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 22.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplement be and it is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 15, 1959, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplement hereby suspended nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission (Commissioners Kline and Hussey dissenting).

[Docket No. G-15879]

MAGNOLIA PETROLEUM CO.

ORDER FOR HEARING AND SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES

AUGUST 7, 1958.

Magnolia Petroleum Company (Magnolia) on July 9, 1958, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently effective rate schedules[1] for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings:

Description: Notices of Change, undated.

Purchaser: Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

Rate schedule designation: Supplement No. 8 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 42. Supplement No. 8 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 43.

Effective date: August 9, 1958 (effective date is the first day after expiration of the required thirty days' notice).

In support of the proposed favored-nation rate increases, Magnolia states that the sales are installment sales and are of a commodity rather than a service such as rendered by a pipe line, that the prices were determined under a supply and demand formula and that costs have increased. In addition, Magnolia submits copies of letters from Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (Texas Eastern), signed by both parties, in which Texas Eastern agrees to pay the increased price contingent upon Commission approval.

The increased rates and charges so proposed have not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that Supplements No. 8 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedules Nos. 42 and 43, respectively, be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the proposed increased rates and charges contained in Supplements No. 8 to Magnolia's FPC Gas Rate Schedules Nos. 42 and 43, respectively.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, said supplements be and they are each hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until January 9, 1959, and until such further time as they are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the supplements hereby suspended, nor the rate schedule sought to be altered thereby, shall be changed until this proceeding has been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

By the Commission.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

PETITIONS TO REDEFINE COMMERCIAL ZONE LIMITS

AUGUST 8, 1958.

The following petitions relative to the limits of the zone adjacent to and commercially a part of a municipality within the meaning of section 203 (b) (8) of the Interstate Commerce Act have been received and will be processed in the manner hereinafter indicated.

In Ex Parte No. MC-7, Washington, D. C., Commercial Zone, the petitions of the Rockville Chamber of Commerce, Inc., et al., the Industrial Development Committee of Fairfax County and the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Chamber of Commerce have been assigned for hearing on September 9, 1958, at Washington, D. C., before Examiner Thomas F. Kilroy. In addition, petitions have been received by the County Council for Montgomery County, Md., and by the Board of County Commissioners of Prince Georges County, Md., and the Industrial Development Committee of said county, on July 18, 1958, seeking redefinition of the limits of the commercial zone of Washington, D. C., in a manner to further expand said zone to include an area in Maryland to the north and east of the present zone.

Attorney for the Montgomery County Council is Alfred H. Carter, Acting County Attorney, County Office Building, Rockville, Md. Attorney for the Prince Georges County Board and Industrial Development Committee is Albert E. May, Esq., 1625 K Street NW., Washington 6, D. C.

The limits of the commercial zone of Washington, D. C., as heretofore determined are specifically set forth in Ex Parte No. MC-7, Washington, D. C., Commercial Zone, 54 M. C. C. 797, 798 (Prior Reports: 3 M. C. C. 243, 48 M. C. C. 460) (49 CFR 170.4).

The Montgomery Council supports the petitions of the Rockville Chamber of Commerce, Inc., et al., and the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Chamber of Commerce, published herein on January 15, 1958, and June 11, 1958, respectively, and seeks further extension of the zone to include areas embracing Brookeville, Germantown, and Colesville, Md. The Prince Georges County petitioners seek an extension of the zone to include areas embracing Fort Washington, Upper Marlboro, and Laurel, Md.

Oral hearing will be held on these petitions and on the pending petitions of the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Chamber of Commerce, the Rockville Chamber of Commerce, Inc., et al., and the Economic and Industrial Development Committee of Fairfax County, notice of latter being published January 15, 1958, on a consolidated record, on September 9, 1958, at 8:30 o'clock a. m., United States standard time (9:30 o'clock a. m., District of Columbia daylight saving time) at the offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., before Examiner Thomas F. Kilroy. Persons supporting or opposing the changes in the present zone limits proposed by these petitions and who desire to participate in future proceedings on these petitions or be notified of any action thereon, should notify the Commission and petitioners or their representatives of their desire on or before 20 days from the date of this publication.

By the Commission.

APPLICATIONS IN WHICH HANDLING WITHOUT ORAL HEARING IS REQUESTED

MOTOR CARRIERS OF PROPERTY

No. MC 2202 (Sub No. 166), filed July 24, 1958. Applicant: ROADWAY EXPRESS, INC., 147 Park Street, P. O. Box 471, Akron, Ohio. Applicant's attorney: William O. Turney, 2001 Massachusetts Avenue NW., Washington 6, D. C. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over a regular route, transporting: General commodities, except those of unusual value, Class A and B explosives, livestock, household goods as defined by the Commission, commodities in bulk, and those requiring special equipment, between junction newly relocated U. S. Highway 25 and unnumbered highway, approximately one (1) mile northeast of Beaverdam, Ohio, and Cridersville, Ohio, over said newly relocated U. S. Highway 25, serving no intermediate points, as an alternate route for operating convenience only in connection with applicant's authorized regular route operations between Akron, Ohio, and San Antonio, Tex. Applicant is authorized to conduct operations in Alabama, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and the District of Columbia.

NOTE: Applicant states that it is desirous of using this new section of Relocated U. S. Highway 25 because it by-passes Beaverdam and Lima, Ohio, and the heavy traffic between these two towns; that the new section is wider, safer, and far more suitable for motor carrier operations than the old highway. Applicant further states that no new or different service could possibly result from the use of the relocated section, which is a mile longer, but will result in a slight savings in time because of by-passing city traffic conditions. Applicant will continue to give reasonable adequate service at all points on the old section and will maintain its complete terminal facilities at Lima, Ohio.

No. MC 2392 (Sub No. 15), filed May 20, 1958. Applicant: WHEELER TRANSPORT SERVICE, INC., Genoa, Nebr. Applicant's attorney: Einar Viren, 906 City National Bank Building, Omaha 2, Nebr. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over a regular route, transporting: General commodities, including Class A and B explosives, moving in express service, between Minneapolis, Minn., and Aberdeen, S. Dak., from Minneapolis west over U. S. Highway 12 for approximately 4 miles to junction of Minnesota Highway 100, thence south on Minnesota Highway 100 for approximately 3 miles to junction of U. S. Highway 169 and 212, thence south and west on U. S. Highways 169 and 212 for approximately 14 miles to the point at Shakopee, Minn., where U. S. Highways 169 and 212 separate, thence west on U. S. Highway 212 for approximately 116 miles to Montevideo, Minn., thence north and west on U. S. Highway 59 and Minnesota Highway 7 for approximately 23 miles to Appleton, Minn., thence north and west on Minnesota Highway 7 for approximately 15 miles to the junction with U. S. Highway 75, thence north and west on U. S. Highway 75 for approximately 5 miles to junction with Minnesota Highway 103, thence west on Minnesota Highway 103 for approximately 1 mile to junction with U. S. Highway 12 at Ortonville, Minn., thence west on U. S. Highway 12 for approximately 116 miles to Aberdeen, and return over the same route, serving the intermediate or off-route points of Cologne, Norwood, Plato, Glencoe, Brownton, Stewart, Buffalo Lake, Hector, Bird Island, Olivia, Danube, Renville, Sacred Heart, Granite Falls, Montevideo, Milan, Appleton, Correll, Odessa, and Ortonville, Minn., and Big Stone City, Milbank, Summit, Ortley, Waubay, Webster, Bristol, Andover, and Groton, S. Dak. Applicant is authorized to conduct operations throughout the United States.

No. MC 73675 (Sub No. 22), filed July 30, 1958. Applicant: GALLAGHER FREIGHT LINES, INC., 2424 Arapahoe, Denver, Colo. Applicant's attorney: Donald L. Stern, Suite 924 City National Bank Building, Omaha 2, Nebr. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, transporting: General commodities, except those of unusual value, Class A and B explosives, household goods as defined by the Commission, and commodities in bulk, serving the site of the Lucky Mc Uranium Corporation mill 52 miles southeast of Riverton, Wyo., as an off-route point in connection with applicant's authorized regular route operations. Applicant is authorized to conduct operations in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, Kansas, and Illinois.

No. MC 76177 (Sub No. 265), filed July 30, 1958. Applicant: BAGGETT TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, INC., 2 South 32d Street, Birmingham, Ala. Applicant's attorney: Harold G. Hernly, 1624 Eye Street NW., Washington 6, D. C. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: Nylon salt solution, in bulk, in insulated, temperature mechanically-controlled tank vehicles, from Gonzales, Fla., to Decatur, Ala. Applicant is authorized to conduct regular route operations in Alabama and Georgia, and irregular route operations in Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and the District of Columbia.

NOTE: Applicant holds contract carrier authority in Permit No. MC 89778 and subs thereunder. Common control, and section 210, dual operations, may be involved.

No. MC 96881 (Sub No. 2), filed July 31, 1958. Applicant: ORVILLE M. FINE, doing business as FINE TRUCK LINE, 4631 Park Avenue, Fort Smith, Ark. Applicant's attorney: Thomas Harper, Kelley Building, P. O. Box 297, Fort Smith, Ark. Authority sought to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over regular routes, transporting: General commodities, except those of unusual value, Class A and B explosives, household goods as defined by the Commission, commodities in bulk, and those requiring special equipment, (1) between Fort Smith, Ark., and Lockesburg, Ark., over U. S. Highway 71; (2) between De Queen, Ark., and Horatio, Ark., over Arkansas Highway 41, serving all intermediate points on the above specified routes, except Waldron, Ark.

NOTE: Applicant is authorized to conduct operations under the second proviso of section 206 (a) (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act, in the name of O. M. Fine, doing business as Mena Freight Line, which operations have been assigned Docket Nos. MC 96881 and MC 96881 Sub 1. Applicant has filed a transfer application to purchase the operating rights of Kelly Davis, doing business as Robert Davis Truck Line, MC 2924 and sub numbers thereunder. Applicant states that he will continue to operate under the second proviso until such time as the above applications are approved. Applicant further states that the approval of each of said applications be contingent upon approval of the other, and upon approval of both, that applicant's authority to operate in interstate commerce under the proviso in Arkansas be canceled.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File Nos. 59–40, 31–626]

CENTRAL PUBLIC UTILITY CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION FROM ACT AND FOR MODIFICATION OF ORDER; NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

AUGUST 5, 1958.

In the matter of Central Public Utility Corporation, et al., File No. 59–40; Central Public Utility Corporation, File No. 31–626.

Notice is hereby given that Central Public Utility Corporation ("Cenpuc"), a registered holding company, has filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") designating sections 11 (b) and 3 (a) (5) of the act as applicable and seeking an order of this Commission whereby:

(1) The Commission's order dated June 13, 1952, pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act (File No. 59–40), will be modified to eliminate therefrom the requirement that Cenpuc take appropriate steps to terminate the existence of its subsidiary The Islands Gas and Electric Company ("Islands");

Company	Place of operation	Type of business
Central Public Utility Corp.		Holding company.
Porto Rico Gas & Coke Co.	Puerto Rico	Manufactured gas.
Southern Cities Ice Co.	South Carolina	Ice, coal and farm fertilizer.
Southern Cities Oil Co.	South Carolina	Oil, gasoline, kerosene, etc.
Union Electrica de Canaries, S. A. (Cenpuc owns approximately 52.3 percent of outstanding stock and Islands owns approximately 40.6 percent).	Canary Islands, Spain	Electric and manufactured gas.
Carolina Coach Co.	North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and Pennsylvania.	Transportation and holding company.
Norfolk Union Bus Terminal, Inc.	Virginia	Bus terminal operator.
Central Servicing and Repair Company, Inc.	Virginia	Garage owner and operator.
Charlotte Union Bus Terminal, Inc. (Carolina owns not more than 50 percent of outstanding stock).	North Carolina	Bus terminal operator.
Trailways Bus Terminal, Inc. (Carolina owns not more than 50 percent of outstanding stock).	Virginia	Bus terminal operator.
Service Coach Line, Inc. (Carolina owns not more than 50 percent of outstanding stock).	Georgia and Florida	Transportation.

(2) Cenpuc and each of its subsidiary companies, as such, will be exempt from the provisions of the act under section 3 (a) (5) thereof (File No. 31–626); and

(3) The proceedings instituted under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the act by order of the Commission dated December 27, 1941 (File No. 59–40) will be terminated.

All interested persons are referred to said application, as amended, which is on file in the office of the Commission.

The proceedings under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the act were instituted to accomplish, among other things, the simplification of Cenpuc's corporate structure. Thereafter, various plans were submitted for this purpose. See 15 S. E. C. 467; 18 S. E. C. 420; 26 S. E. C. 548; 33 S. E. C. 555; and 35 S. E. C. 467.

The application, as amended, states that as presently constituted Cenpuc has 14 subsidiaries. All of these subsidiaries are exclusively operating companies, except Carolina Coach Company ("Carolina") and Islands, both of which have subsidiaries. The Cenpuc system is as follows (relationship of subsidiary companies to Cenpuc and to each other indicated by indentation—unless otherwise indicated, all the outstanding stock is owned by the direct parent):

Cenpuc's outstanding securities consist of a single class of capital stock of 1,000,100 shares with a par value of $6 per share, all having identical voting rights.

The applicant states, upon information and belief, that on February 14, 1957, N. V. Amsterdamsche Bankierskantoor V/H Mendes Gans Co. ("Mendes Gans") through Burnham and Company ("Burnham"), as agent, purchased 259,492 shares of Cenpuc's capital stock; that, subsequently, Burnham became the holder of record of 431,924 shares including 29,750 shares purchased by Altay Corporation ("Altay"), 56,210 shares purchased by Melosine Corporation ("Melosine") and 85,472 shares purchased by Schuyler Corporation ("Schuyler"); that

Burnham is not the beneficial owner of any shares of Cenpuc's capital stock but rather holds the 431,924 shares recorded in its name subject to any voting instructions that may be given to it by the beneficial owners thereof; that all of said 431,924 shares, excepting 1,000 shares, are now subject to commitments of sale in blocks varying in size between 2,500 and 40,000 shares to approximately thirty-three Dutch and Belgian investors; that

Mendes Gans is a corporation existing under the laws of The Netherlands and is engaged in the banking business; that it does not have and never has had an office or place of business in any State of the United States or in the District of Columbia and it is not now and never has been qualified to do business therein; that Altay is a Delaware corporation in which Mendes Gans has a beneficial interest; that Melosine is a Delaware corporation, all of the outstanding common stock of which is owned by Altay; that Schuyler is a Delaware corporation all of the outstanding stock of which is owned by the trustees of an "old age" and benevolent fund created for the benefit of employees of N. V. Philips Gloeilampenfabrieken, a Netherlands corporation; and that it has been and is Mendes Gans' intention to list Cenpuc's capital stock on the Amsterdam (Holland) Exchange and later to issue certificates of deposit but such listing has not yet been made because of Cenpuc's unsettled status under the Act.

The application further states that an agreement providing for the merger of Cenpuc and two or more other corporations (unnamed) is in the course of negotiation. If a merger is effectuated, it will be governed by the laws of Delaware which require, among other things, that a merger can be consummated only if the votes of stockholders of each of the constituent corporations representing two-thirds of the total number of shares of its capital stock shall be voted for the adoption of the merger agreement. None of the corporations, in the contemplated merger, other than Cenpuc, is subject to the act, and the merger agreement will not be signed by the directors of the other corporations unless prior thereto Cenpuc has been granted an exemption from the provisions of the act.

Cenpuc in the application agrees that, among other things, if the Commission grants the exemption:

(a) Cenpuc will not submit to its stockholders any merger agreement unless it shall contain provisions which shall (i) obligate the corporation resulting from or surviving the merger (Merged Corporation) not to contend for a value of less than $25 per share at the hearing on any petition of an objecting stockholder, pursuant to section 262 of the General Corporation Law of Delaware, demanding a determination of the value of Cenpuc's stock; and (ii) give to each of Cenpuc's stockholders who has not objected to the merger under Delaware law the alternative of receiving for all or any part of the Cenpuc shares owned by him securities of the Merged Corporation or cash in the amount of $25 per share;

(b) Cenpuc's exemption, unless it shall be continued by a subsequent order of the Commission, shall terminate at the end of six months if within such period a merger shall not have been consummated;

(c) The submission of any merger agreement by Cenpuc to its stockholders and the solicitation of proxies with respect thereto, shall be in accordance with the Commission's rules and regulations with respect to proxy solicitations as though such stock were registered on a National Securities Exchange.

By an order dated June 13, 1952 (Holding Company Act Release No. 11311) the Commission directed, among other things, that Cenpuc, under section 11 (b) (2) of the act, take appropriate steps to terminate the existence of Islands which was found to serve no useful purpose. Cenpuc has requested that this order be modified so as to permit the continued existence of Islands. The application states that the continued existence of Islands will not be detrimental to the public interest or to the interest of investors or consumers if it remains a subsidiary of Cenpuc and none of its outstanding securities are sold or distributed to the public and it is not otherwise used as a vehicle for public financing. Cenpuc agrees that, with the exception of short-term bank loans payable within 9 months, Islands will not engage in any public financing without prior Commission approval. The application further states that Islands, if it is not extinguished, may serve a useful purpose as direct owner of all of Cenpuc's presently owned subsidiaries. This is based on the assumption that the prospective merger will be consummated and that Cenpuc would then be part of what is predominently an industrial corporation. Cenpuc believes that in any event the continuance of Islands will be in the best interest of Cenpuc's stockholders.

It appearing to the Commission that the application raises issues which should not be resolved prior to affording notice and opportunity for hearing with respect thereto:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Act, that a hearing be held at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D. C. on September 10, 1958, at 10:00 a. m. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at such hearing. The officer or officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a hearing officer under the rules of practice of the Commission.

The Division of Corporate Regulation having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application and that upon the basis thereof the following matters and questions are presented for consideration without prejudice to its specifying additional matters and questions upon further examination:

(a) Whether the requested exemption meets all the applicable standards of the Act;

(b) Whether the terms and conditions set forth by Cenpuc, including the price of $25 per share to be offered to stockholders in connection with the merger, are detrimental to the interests of [illegible] stockholders;

(c) Whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers for the Commission to impose any [illegible] and conditions in regard to the requested exemption, and, if so, what such [illegible] and conditions should be;

(d) Whether there exists such evidence as should cause the Commission to modify its previous order requiring that Cenpuc terminate the existence of Islands;

It is further ordered, That at the aforesaid hearing, attention be given to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, not later than five days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date for said hearing, his request or application therefore, as provided by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission. Such request shall set forth the nature of the applicant's interest in the proceedings, his reasons for requesting to be heard or to intervene, which of the allegations, as hereinbefore set forth, applicant proposes to controvert, together with a statement of any issues which the applicant proposes to raise with respect to the proceedings herein.

It is further ordered, That Cenpuc shall give notice of this hearing to all of its security holders (insofar as the identity of such security holders is known and available to it) by mailing to each of such persons a copy of this notice and order at least twenty days prior to the date set for such hearing.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing be given by registered mail to Cenpuc and to each of its subsidiary companies, the Interstate Commerce Commission, The Public Service Commission of Delaware, the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, the Georgia Public Service Commission, the Public Service Commission of Maryland, the Utilities Commission of North Carolina, and the State Corporation Commission of Virginia, and that notice be given to all other interested persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the act; and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

SUBPART—KHAPRA BEETLE

REVISED ADMINISTRATIVE INSTRUCTIONS DESIGNATING PREMISES AS REGULATED AREAS

Pursuant to § 301.76–2 of the regulations supplemental to the Khapra Beetle Quarantine (7 CFR and 1957 Supp., 301.76–2) under sections 8 and 9 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161, 162), revised administrative instructions are hereby issued as follows, listing premises in which infestations of the khapra beetle have been determined to exist and designating such premises as regulated areas within the meaning of said quarantine and regulations.

§ 301.76–2a Administrative instructions designating certain premises as regulated areas under the khapra beetle quarantine and regulations. Infestations of the khapra beetle have been determined to exist in the premises listed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Accordingly, such premises are hereby designated as regulated areas within the meaning of the provisions in this subpart:

ARIZONA

Denny Pasqual Chicken Yard, Box 262, Peoria.

Rhodes-Mercer 111 Farm, Mammoth.

Shady Acres Nursery & Bird Farm, 3640 East Washington Street, Phoenix.

CALIFORNIA

Joe's Poultry Ranch, Road 47 and East A, Brawley.

C. A. Nielson property, located across the street from Bard Grocery and Post Office, Bard.

Fred Smith Turkey Ranch, 4638 South Temperance, Fresno.

(b) The portion of each of the following premises in which live khapra beetles were found has received the approved fumigation treatment, but these premises must continue under frequent observation and inspection for a period of one year following fumigation before a determination can be made as to the adequacy of such treatment to eradicate the khapra beetle in and upon such premises. During this period regulated articles may be moved from the premises only in accordance with the regulations in this subpart.

ARIZONA

LaSalvia Dairy, Box 116, Laveen Stage, Phoenix.

CALIFORNIA

P. Calio property, located 2 miles west of the intersection of Roads 90 and West C on the south side of Road 90, P. O. Box 44, Niland.

Floyd B. Carrion property, located on the south side of Avenue 70, 0.8 mile west of Lincoln Street, P. O. Box 564, Mecca.

Tom Mejia property, located at the southwest corner of the intersection of Roads 90 and West C, P. O. Box 662, Niland.

Martin Valdez property, located at the intersection of Roads 90 and West E, P. O. Box 403, Niland.

NEW MEXICO

M. M. Martin Farm, located 11 miles south of Tolar.

Subsequent to the thirteenth revision, effective July 9, 1958, an infestation of the khapra beetle was discovered in the Entomology Building, Citrus Experiment Station, Riverside, California. Movement of regulated articles from this property was immediately stopped. Within a few days the entire building had been fumigated and declared free of khapra beetle infestation. Accordingly, this property is not being included in this revision.

This revision has the effect of revoking the designation as regulated areas of certain premises in Arizona and California, it having been determined by the Director of the Plant Pest Control Division that adequate sanitation measures have been practiced for a sufficient length of time to eradicate the khapra beetle in and upon such premises. It also adds certain premises in Arizona to the list of premises in which khapra beetle infestations have been determined to exist, and designates such premises as regulated areas under the khapra beetle quarantine and regulations.

As an informative item, the revision also segregates certain regulated premises in Arizona, California, and New Mexico where the approved fumigation treatment has been applied to the portion of the premises in which live khapra beetles were found and which are consequently in a somewhat different category than untreated premises.

These administrative instructions shall become effective August 14, 1958, when they shall supersede P. P. C. 612, Thirteenth Revision, effective July 9, 1958 (23 F. R. 5181).

These instructions, in part, impose restrictions supplementing khapra beetle quarantine regulations already effective. They also relieve restrictions insofar as they revoke the designation of certain regulated areas. They must be made effective promptly in order to carry out the purposes of the regulations and to be of maximum benefit in permitting the interstate movement, without restriction under the quarantine, of regulated products from the premises being removed from designation as regulated areas. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing administrative instructions are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making the effective date thereof less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 9, 37 Stat. 318; 7 U. S. C. 162. Interprets or applies sec. 8, 37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 161)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of August 1958.

Director,
Plant Pest Control Division.

Chapter VIII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Sugar), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter H—Determination of Wage Rates

[Sugar Determination 863.11]

PART 863—SUGARCANE: FLORIDA

WAGE RATES

Pursuant to the provisions of section 301 (c) (1) of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (herein referred to as "act"), after investigation and consideration of the evidence obtained at the public hearing held in Clewiston, Florida, on May 8, 1958, the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 863.11 Fair and reasonable wage rates for persons employed in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugarcane in Florida during the period July 1, 1958 through June 30, 1959.—(a) Requirements. A producer of sugarcane in Florida shall be deemed to have complied with the wage provisions of the act during the period July 1, 1958 through June 30, 1959 if all persons employed on the farm in production, cultivation, or harvesting work shall have been paid in accordance with the following:

(1) Wage rates. All such persons shall have been paid in full for all such work and shall have been paid wages in cash therefor at rates as agreed upon between the producer and the worker, and after the date of publication of this section in the FEDERAL REGISTER, not less than the following:

(i) For work performed on a time basis.

	Cents per hour
(a) Tractor drivers and operators of mechanical harvesting or loading equipment	80.0
(b) All other workers	70.0

(ii) For work performed on a piecework basis. The piecework rate for any operation shall be as agreed upon between the producer and the worker:

Provided, That the hourly rate of earnings of each worker employed on piecework during each pay period (such pay period not to be in excess of two weeks) shall average for the time involved not less than the applicable hourly rate prescribed in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

(2) Compensable working time. For work performed under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, compensable working time includes all time which the worker spends in the performance of his duties except time taken out for meals during the work day. Compensable working time commences at the time the worker is required to start work and ends upon completion of work in the field. However, if the producer requires the operator of mechanical equipment, driver of animals or any other class of worker to report to a place other than the field, such as an assembly point, tractor shed, etc., located on the farm, the time spent in transit from such place to the field and from the field to such place is compensable working time. Any time spent in performing work directly related to the principal work performed by the worker, such as servicing equipment, is compensable working time. Time of the worker while being transported from a central recruiting point or labor camp to the farm is not compensable working time.

(3) Equipment necessary to perform work assignment. The producer shall furnish without cost to the worker any equipment required in the performance of any work assignment. However, a charge may be made for equipment furnished any worker for the cost of such equipment in the event of its loss or destruction through negligence of the worker. Equipment includes, but is not limited to, hand and mechanical tools and special wearing apparel, such as boots and raincoats, required to discharge the work assignment.

(b) Applicability. The requirements of this determination are applicable to all persons employed on the farm, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugarcane grown on the farm for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar: Provided, That such requirements shall not apply to any person engaged in such work with respect to sugarcane grown on acreage in excess of the proportionate share for the farm, which is marketed (or processed) for the production of sugar or liquid sugar for livestock feed or for the production of livestock feed, if the producer furnishes to the appropriate County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee acceptable and adequate proof which satisfies the Committee that the work performed was related solely to such sugarcane.

(c) Workers not covered. The requirements of this determination are not applicable to workers performing services which are indirectly connected with the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugarcane, including, but not limited to mechanics, welders, and other maintenance workers and repairmen.

(d) Proof of compliance. The producer shall furnish, upon request, to the appropriate Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee acceptable and adequate proof which satisfies the Committee that all workers have been paid in accordance with the requirements of this determination.

(e) Subterfuge. The producer shall not reduce the wage rates to workers below those determined in accordance with the requirements in this section through any subterfuge or device whatsoever.

(f) Claim for unpaid wages. Any person who believes he has not been paid in accordance with this determination may file a wage claim with the local County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee against the producer on whose farm the work was performed. Such claim must be filed within two years from the date the work with respect to which the claim is made was performed. Detailed instructions and wage claim forms are available at the local County ASC office. Upon receipt of a wage claim the County office shall thereupon notify the producer against whom the claim is made concerning the representation made by the worker. The County ASC Committee shall arrange for such investigation as it deems necessary and the producer and worker shall be notified in writing of its recommendation for settlement of the claim. If either party is not satisfied with the recommended settlement, an appeal may be made to the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Cheops Building, Gainesville, Florida, which shall likewise consider the facts and notify the producer and worker in writing of its recommendation for settlement of the claim. If the recommendation of the State ASC Committee is not acceptable, either party may file an appeal with the Director of the Sugar Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. All such appeals shall be filed within 15 days after receipt of the recommended settlement from the respective committee, otherwise such recommended settlements will be applied in making payments under the act. If a claim is appealed to the Director of the Sugar Division, his decision shall be binding on all parties insofar as payments under the act are concerned.

STATEMENT OF BASES AND CONSIDERATIONS

(a) General. The foregoing determination provides fair and reasonable wage rates to be paid for work performed by persons employed on the farm in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugarcane in Florida during the period from July 1, 1958 through June 30, 1959, as one of the conditions with which producers must comply to be eligible for payments under the act.

(b) Requirements of the act and standards employed. Section 301 (c) (1) of the act requires that all persons employed on the farm in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugarcane with respect to which an application for payment is made, shall have been paid in full for all such work, and shall have been paid wages therefor at rates not less than those that may be determined by the Secretary to be fair and reasonable after investigation and due notice and opportunity for public hearing; and in making such determinations the Secretary shall take into consideration the standards therefor formerly established by him under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended (i. e., cost of living) prices of sugar and by-products, income from sugarcane, and cost of production), and the differences in conditions among various sugar-producing areas.

(c) 1958–59 wage determination. This determination continues the provisions of the 1957–58 determination except that the basic time wage rates are increased by 5 cents per hour. The rate for tractor drivers and operators of mechanical loading or harvesting equipment is 80 cents per hour and for all other workers the rate is 70 cents per hour.

A public hearing was held in Clewiston, Florida, on May 8, 1958, at which interested persons were afforded the opportunity to present testimony with respect to fair and reasonable wage rates during the period July 1, 1958 to June 30, 1959. Representatives of producers recommended that wage rates not be increased over those provided by the 1957–58 determination. They stated that wage rates had increased more than either sugar prices or individual worker efficiency in the cutting of sugar cane. It was again pointed out that producers were able to obtain very few domestic workers and the majority of workers were imported from the British West Indies. They submitted data showing that the average hourly earnings of the majority of field workers are above the minimum hourly rates specified in the determination. No testimony was presented by representatives of labor.

Consideration has been given to the recommendations made at the hearing, to the results of studies and investigations of the sugarcane industry and to other pertinent factors. Data for several recent crops covering the costs, returns, and profits of sugarcane production have been recast to reflect prospective price and production conditions for the 1958–59 crop. Analysis of all factors indicates that the wage rates of this determination are within producers' ability to pay.

The economic position of producers has improved in recent years because of increased yields of sugarcane and higher sugar recoveries. These improvements, as well as changes in production practices, have resulted in important gains in labor productivity.

Most of the unskilled field work on sugarcane farms in Florida is done on a piecework basis. Skilled and semi-skilled workers such as tractor drivers and operators of mechanical equipment, generally are paid on an hourly basis. The average earnings of workers employed on the piecework basis during recent crops have substantially exceeded the minimum wage rates of the determinations. The hourly wages paid to time-rated workers also have exceeded the determination rates.

On the basis of an analysis and consideration of the pertinent factors involved the provisions of this determination are deemed to be fair and reasonable.

Accordingly, I hereby find and conclude that the foregoing wage determination will effectuate the wage provisions of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended.

PART 957—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN IDAHO AND MALHEUR COUNTY, OREG.

EXPENSES AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice of rule making regarding proposed expenses and rate of assessment, to be made effective under Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 57; as amended (7 CFR Part 957), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in certain designated counties in Idaho and Malheur County, Oregon, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER July 22, 1958 (23 F. R. 5548). This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposal set forth in the aforesaid notice, which proposals were adopted and submitted for approval by the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Committee, established pursuant to said marketing agreement and order, as amended, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 957.211 Expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred by the Idaho-Eastern Oregon Potato Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 57, as amended (§§ 957.1 to 957.92), to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to the provisions of aforesaid marketing agreement and order, as amended, during the fiscal period ending May 31, 1959, will amount to $30,000.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler, pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 57, as amended (§§ 957.1 to 957.92), shall be sixty cents per carload or fraction thereof, or per truckload of 5,000 pounds or more, handled by him as the first handler thereof during said fiscal period.

(c) The terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 57, as amended (§§ 957.1 to 957.92).

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Dated: August 11, 1958, to become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Chapter XI—Agricultural Conservation Program Service, Department of Agriculture

PART 1104—AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION; ALASKA

SUBPART—1959

The protection and conservation of the soil and water resources of farmlands is essential in order that these lands will continue to produce sufficient food and other raw materials to meet future needs. All people, not farmers alone, have a stake in, and a part of the responsibility for, protecting and conserving our farmlands. Recognizing this, the Congress appropriates funds to share with farmers the cost of carrying out needed soil and water conservation measures. The Agricultural Conservation Program is a means of making this Federal cost-sharing available to farmers.

INTRODUCTION

§ 1104.800 Introduction. (a) Through the 1959 Agricultural Conservation Program (referred to in this subpart as the "1959 program") administered by the Department of Agriculture, the Federal Government will share with Alaskan farmers the cost of carrying out approved conservation practices in accordance with the provisions contained in this subpart and such modifications thereof as may be made.

(b) The program contained in this subpart is approved pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under sections 7 to 17 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended (49 Stat. 1148; 16 U. S. C. 590g–590q), and the Department of Agriculture and Farm Credit Administration Appropriation Act, 1959.

(c) Information about the practices and the exact specifications and rates of cost-sharing may be obtained from the county committees.

(d) The State Committee will allocate the funds available for conservation practices among the counties consistent with the needs for enduring conservation in the various counties and will give particular consideration to the furtherance of watershed programs sponsored by local people and organizations. A total of $59,000 will be available for program purposes exclusive of the amount set aside for administrative expenses and the increase in small Federal cost-shares in § 1104.830.

(e) A person may not receive more than $2,500 in Federal cost-shares under the 1959 program for approved practices not under pooling agreements. He may not receive more than $10,000 for all approved practices including those under pooling agreements. This includes all farms, ranching units, and turpentine places owned or operated by him in Alaska, the continental United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

GENERAL PROGRAM PRINCIPLES

§ 1104.801 General program principles. The 1959 Agricultural Conservation Program for Alaska has been developed and is to be carried out on the basis of the following general principles:

(a) The program contains broad authorities to help meet the varied soil and water conservation problems. County committees and participating agencies shall design a program for each county. Such programs should include any additional limitations and restrictions necessary for the maximum conservation accomplishment in the area. The programs should be confined to the soil and water conservation practices on which Federal cost-sharing is most needed in order to achieve the maximum conservation benefit in the county.

(b) The county programs should be designed to encourage those soil and water conservation practices which provide the most enduring conservation benefits practicably attainable in 1959 on the lands where they are to be applied.

(c) Costs will be shared with a farmer only on satisfactorily performed soil and water conservation practices for which Federal cost-sharing was requested by the farmer before the conservation work was begun.

(d) Costs should be shared only on soil and water conservation practices which it is believed farmers would not carry out to the needed extent without program assistance. In no event should costs be shared on practices except those which are over and above those farmers would be compelled to perform in order to secure a crop.

(e) The rates of cost-sharing in a county are to be the minimum required to result in substantially increased performance of needed soil and water conservation practices within the limits prescribed in the State program.

(f) The purpose of the program is to help achieve additional conservation on the land. Such of the available funds that cannot be wisely utilized for this purpose will be returned to the public treasury.

(g) If the Federal Government shares the cost of the initial application of soil and water conservation practices which farmers otherwise would not perform but which are essential to sound soil and water conservation, the farmers should assume responsibility for the upkeep and maintenance of those practices through their life spans. Cost-shares are not applicable, after they are initially utilized, to undertake a practice during its normal life span unless the practice has failed to serve for its normal life span due to conditions beyond the control of the farm operator.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAMS

§ 1104.802 Developing the county program. (a) County programs are to be developed in accordance with the provisions of the Alaska program and such modifications thereof as may be made. The county program should include any additional limitations and restrictions necessary for the maximum conservation accomplishment in the area. It should be designed to encourage those conservation practices which provide the most enduring conservation benefits practicably attainable in 1959 on the lands where they are to be applied.

(b) The County ACP Development Group (County ASC Committee including Extension Agent, SCS technician, and FS representative if available) will meet with the governing bodies of the local Soil Conservation Subdistricts, the local Farmers Home Administration Supervisor, and others with conservation interests to develop recommendations for the county program.

(c) The County ACP Development Group will then formulate the county program keeping in mind the overall conservation problems in the county and the work plans of the Subdistricts and other agencies. Notwithstanding other provisions of the 1959 Alaska program, no change shall be made in the 1959 county program which will have the effect of restricting eligibility requirements or cost-sharing on practices included in either the 1957 or 1958 program for the county, unless such change shall have been recommended by the county committee and approved by the State Committee.

§ 1104.803 Selection of practices. Practices to be included in the county program shall be only those practices set forth in this subpart for which cost-sharing is essential to permit the performance of needed conservation work. Costs should be shared only on practices which it is believed farmers would not carry out without program assistance. Generally, practices that have become part of regular farming operations in a particular county should not be eligible for cost-sharing.

§ 1104.804 Adaptation of practices. The practices in the county program must meet all conditions and requirements of the State program. Additional conditions and requirements may be included where necessary for effective use in meeting the conservation problems in the county. The rates of cost-sharing in a county are to be the minimum required to result in substantially increased performance of needed practices within the limits prescribed in the State program. The rates of cost-sharing for practices included in the county program may be lower than the rates of cost-sharing in this subpart.

§ 1104.805 County program approval. The County ACP Development Group will recommend its county program for approval to the State ACP Development Group (Alaska ASC Committee including the Director of Extension, Soil Conservation Service Territorial Conservationist, and Forest Service Representative). The program recommendation must state that the program was developed in consultation with the local subdistrict governing bodies and be signed by the ASC county chairman, SCS technician, and representative of the Forest Service when present in the county.

§ 1104.806 Responsibility for technical phases of practices. (a) The Soil Conservation Service is responsible for the technical phases of practices 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, and 12 (§§ 1104.841 to 1104.843, 1104.845, 1104.846, and 1104.849 to 1104.852). This responsibility shall include (1) a finding that the practice is needed and practicable on the farm, (2) necessary site selection, other preliminary work, and layout work of the practice, (3) necessary supervision of the installation, and (4) certification of performance. In addition, upon agreement of the State Committee and the Soil Conservation Service State Conservationist, responsibility for all or part of the technical phases of other practices may be assigned to the Soil Conservation Service for any or all counties. The Soil Conservation Service may utilize assistance from private, State, or Federal agencies in carrying out these assigned responsibilities.

(b) The Forest Service is responsible for the technical phases of practice 4 (§ 1104.848). This responsibility shall include (1) providing necessary specialized technical assistance, (2) developing specifications for the practice, and (3) working through State and county committees, determining performance in meeting these specifications. The Forest Service may utilize assistance from private, State, or Federal agencies in carrying out these assigned responsibilities.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS

§ 1104.807 Pooling agreements. Farmers in any local area may agree in writing, with the approval of the county committee, to work together to perform practices which, by conserving or improving the agricultural resources of the community, will solve a mutual conservation problem on the farms of the participants. For purposes of eligibility for cost-sharing, practices carried out under such an approved written agreement will be regarded as having been carried out on the farms of the persons who performed the practices. Additional information about pooling agreements is available in Instruction ACP–5 (Alaska).

§ 1104.808 Purchase orders—(a) Availability. Part or all of the Federal cost-share for an approved practice may be in the form of a purchase order for materials or services furnished through the program for use in carrying out the practice. Materials or services may not be furnished to persons who are indebted to the Federal Government, as indicated by the register of indebtedness maintained in the office of the county committee, except in those cases where the agency to which the debt is owed waives its rights to setoff in order to permit the furnishing of materials or services. Title to any material furnished through the program shall vest in the Federal Government until the material is applied or planted, or all charges for the material are satisfied.

(b) Cost to farmer. The farmer will pay that part of the cost of the material or service which is in excess of the Federal cost-share attributable to the use of the material or service, except that for practice 5 (§ 1104.845) the county committee may advance to the farmer the total cost-share he will earn at the time the heavy clearing is accomplished. However, the farmer must complete the practice by breaking the land to earn the payment. If the farmer fails to complete the practice, the money advanced becomes a debt to the Government.

(c) Discharge of responsibility for materials and services. The person to whom a material or service is furnished by purchase order under the 1959 program will be relieved of responsibility for the material or service when the county committee determines that (1) the material or service was used for the purpose for which it was furnished, and (2) the practice is completed so that it is eligible for payment. If a person uses any material or service for any purpose other than that for which it was furnished, he shall be indebted to the Federal Government for that part of the cost borne by the Federal Government and shall pay such amount to the Treasurer of the United States direct or by withholdings from Federal cost-shares otherwise due him under the program. Any person to whom materials are furnished shall be responsible for any damage to the materials, unless he shows that the damage was caused by circumstances beyond his control. If materials are abandoned or not used during the program year, they may be transferred to another person or otherwise disposed of at the expense of the person who abandoned or failed to use the material, or be retained by the person for use in a subsequent program year.

APPLICATIONS AND APPROVALS

§ 1104.811 Eligibility. (a) The program is applicable to (1) privately owned lands; (2) lands owned by Alaska or a political subdivision or agency thereof; (3) lands owned by corporations which are partly owned by the United States; (4) lands temporarily owned by the United States or a corporation wholly owned by it which were not acquired or reserved for conservation purposes, including lands administered by the Farmers Home Administration; (5) any cropland farmed by private persons which is owned by the United States or a corporation wholly owned by it; and (6) noncropland owned by the United States for performance by private persons of conservation practices which directly conserve or benefit nearby or adjoining privately owned lands of such persons. These persons must maintain and use such federally owned noncropland under agreement with the Federal agency having jurisdiction thereof.

(b) The program is not applicable to (1) any department or bureau of the United States Government or any corporation wholly owned by the United States; (2) noncropland owned by the United States which was acquired or reserved for conservation purposes, or which is to be retained permanently under Government ownership, including, but not limited to (i) grazing lands administered by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, (ii) grazing lands administered by the Bureau of Land Management of the United States Department of the Interior, and (iii) lands administered by the Fish and Wildlife Service of the United States Department of the Interior, except as indicated in paragraph (a) (6) of this section; and (3) nonprivate persons for performance on any land owned by the United States or a corporation wholly owned by it.

§ 1104.812 Applications. Each farmer shall be given an opportunity to request Federal cost-sharing for those practices on which he considers he needs such assistance to perform them on his farm. Individual farmers should be encouraged to utilize cost-sharing for only those practices which have not become a part of regular farming operations on their farms. Costs will be shared only for those practices, or components of practices, for which cost-sharing is requested before performance is started. A request for cost-sharing under the 1958 program may be regarded as meeting this requirement of the 1959 program if (a) approval was given under the 1958 program, (b) performance was started but not completed during the 1958 program year, and (c) the county committee believes the extension of the approval to the 1959 program is justified under the 1959 program regulations and provisions.

§ 1104.813 Approvals. Each request for cost-sharing will be considered by the county committee in the light of (a) the program principles in § 1104.801, (b) the conservation problems in the county, the conservation work most needed in 1959, and the county allocation of program funds, and (c) the conservation problems of the individual farm and any conservation plan developed by the farmer and any State or Federal agency. The county committee will issue notices of approval showing, for each practice, the units approved and the cost-share for performing those units. Notices of practices approved should be issued before the farmer begins the practice. No practice may be approved for cost-sharing except as authorized by the State or county program, or in accordance with procedures incorporated therein. Available funds for cost-sharing shall not be allocated on a farm or acreage-quota basis, but shall be directed to the accomplishment of the most enduring conservation benefits obtainable.

§ 1104.814 Limitations of the program—(a) Initial establishment or installation of practices. Cost-sharing may be authorized under the 1959 program only for the initial establishment or installation of the practices contained in this subpart. The initial establishment or installation of a practice, for the purposes of the 1959 program, shall be deemed to include the replacement, enlargement, or restoration of practices for which cost-sharing was allowed under a previous program, if all of the following conditions exist:

(1) Replacement, enlargement, or restoration of the practice is needed to meet the conservation problem.

(2) The failure of the original practice was not due to the lack of proper maintenance by the current operator.

(3) The county committee believes the replacement, enlargement, or restoration of the practice merits consideration under the program to an equal extent with similar practices for which cost-sharing for initial establishment is requested.

(b) Repair, upkeep, and maintenance of practices. Federal cost-sharing is not authorized for repairs or for normal upkeep or maintenance of any practice.

PRACTICE COMPLETION REQUIREMENTS

§ 1104.817 Completion of practices. The farmer must complete each practice in accordance with all applicable specifications and program provisions to earn payment. Purchase orders represent an advance to the farmer before he completes the practice, but he must complete the practice to earn the money advanced. Except as provided in §§ 1104.818 to 1104.820, the farmer must complete the practice during the program year in order to be eligible for a payment.

§ 1104.818 Practices substantially completed during the program year. Approved practices may be deemed, for purposes of payment of cost-shares, to have been carried out during the 1959 program year if the county committee determines that they are substantially completed by the end of the program year. However, no cost-shares for such practices shall be paid until they have been completed in accordance with all applicable specifications and program provisions, except as provided in § 1104.819.

§ 1104.819 Practices requiring more than one program year for completion. Cost-shares approved under the 1959 program will not be considered as earned until all components of the approved practices are completed in accordance with all applicable specifications and program provisions. Cost-shares for completed components of a practice may be paid only after the practice is substantially completed, and only on the condition that the farmer will complete the remaining components of the practice within a reasonable time prescribed by the county committee, unless prevented from doing so for reasons beyond his control and regardless of whether cost-sharing therefor is offered, or refund the cost-shares paid him. If an approved practice is not substantially completed by the end of the 1959 program year, the practice may be considered for reapproval under the 1960 program. For practice 5 (§ 1104.845) the completion of the bulldozing or other heavy clearing operation will be considered as substantial completion of the practice.

§ 1104.820 Practices involving the establishment or improvement of vegetative cover. Costs for practices involving the establishment or improvement of vegetative cover, including trees, may be shared even though a good stand is not established, if the county committee determines, in accordance with standards approved by the State Committee, that the practice was carried out in a manner which would normally result in the establishment of a good stand, and that failure to establish a good stand was due to weather or other conditions beyond the control of the farm operator. The county committee may require as a condition of cost-sharing in such cases that the area be reseeded or replanted or that other needed protective measures be carried out. Cost-sharing in such cases may be approved also for repeat applications of measures previously carried out or for additional elegible measures. Cost-sharing for such measures shall be approved to the extent such measures are needed to assure a good stand even though less than that required by the applicable practice wording for initial approvals.

PAYMENTS

§ 1104.823 Availability of funds. The provisions of the 1959 program are necessarily subject to such legislation as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact. Paying of the Federal cost-shares provided in this subpart is contingent upon such appropriation as the Congress may hereafter provide for such purpose. The amounts of such Federal cost-shares will necessarily be within the limits finally determined by such appropriation. The funds provided for the 1959 program will not be available for paying Federal cost-shares for which applications are filed in the county office after December 31, 1960.

§ 1104.824 Eligibility for payment. Any person who, as landlord, tenant, or sharecropper on a farm, bore a part of the cost of an approved conservation practice is eligible to file an application for payment of the Federal cost-share due him.

§ 1104.825 Death, incompetency, or disappearance. In case of death, incompetency, or disappearance of any person, any Federal share of the cost due him shall be paid to his successor, determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations in ACP–122, as amended (Part 1108 of this chapter).

§ 1104.826 Practices carried out with State or Federal aid. Where a Federal or Territorial agency contributed toward the cost of a practice, the county committee, when computing the cost-shares, will reduce the total cost of the practice by the percentage of the total cost of the items of performance on which costs are shared which was furnished by the Federal or Territorial agency. Materials or services furnished by purchase order through this program shall not be regarded as State or Federal aid for the purposes of this section.

§ 1104.827 Division of payments. Cost-share attributable to the use of conservation materials or services shall be credited to the person to whom the materials or services are furnished. Cost-shares shall be credited to the person who carried out the practices by which they were earned. If more than one person contributed, the cost-share shall be divided among such persons in the proportion that the county committee determines they contributed to carrying out the practices. In making this determination, the county committee shall take into consideration the value of the labor, equipment, or material contributed by each person toward carrying out the practice and shall assume that each contributed equally unless it is established to its satisfaction that the contributions were not in equal proportion. Furnishing land or the right to use water is not a contribution to carrying out any practice.

§ 1104.828 Filing applications for payment. (a) Each person participating in the program is responsible for submitting the forms and information needed to establish the extent of performance of approved practices and compliance with applicable program provisions.

(b) The county committee will establish time limits for submission of performance reports and allied information for efficient administration of the program. The county committee will notify each farmer, in his notice of approval, of the time by which he must report performance. Exceptions to time limits may be made in cases where failure to submit the required forms and information within the applicable time limit is due to reasons beyond the control of the farmer.

(c) Payment of Federal cost-shares will be made only upon application submitted on Form ACP–245 by December 31, 1960, or such earlier date as may be prescribed. Any application may be rejected if any form or information required of the applicant is not submitted to the county office within the applicable time limit.

§ 1104.829 Appeals. Any person may request the county committee to reconsider its recommendation or determination in any matter affecting the right to or amount of his Federal cost-shares. This appeal must be in writing and must be made within 15 days after the notice of the action he wishes to appeal is forwarded to or made available to him. The county committee shall notify him of its decision in writing within 15 days after the receipt of the written request for reconsideration. If the person is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee, he may appeal to the State Committee. Again, the appeal must be in writing and within 15 days after the decision is forwarded to or made available to him. The State Committee shall notify him of its decision within 30 days after the submission of the appeal. Written notice of any decision rendered under this section by the county or State committee shall also be issued to each other landlord, tenant, or sharecropper on the farm who may be adversely affected by the decision. If he is dissatisfied with the decision of the State Committee, he may request the Administrator, ACPS, to review the decision of the State Committee. Again, he must make this request in writing within 15 days after the State Committee decision is forwarded to or made available to him. The decision of the Administrator, ACPS, shall be final.

§ 1104.830 Increase in small Federal cost-shares. The Federal cost-share computed for any person with respect to any farm shall be increased as follows: Provided, however, That in the event legislation is enacted which repeals or amends the authority for making such increases, the Secretary may, in such manner and at such time as is consistent with such legislation, discontinue such increases:

(a) Any Federal cost-share amounting to $0.71 or less shall be increased to $1.

(b) Any Federal cost-share amounting to more than $0.71, but less than $1 shall be increased by 40 percent.

(c) Any Federal cost-share amounting to $1 or more shall be increased in accordance with the following schedule:

Amount of cost-share computed	Increase in cost-share
$1 to $1.99	$0.40
$2 to $2.99	.80
$3 to $3.99	1.20
$4 to $4.99	1.60
$5 to $5.99	2.00
$6 to $6.99	2.40
$7 to $7.99	2.80
$8 to $8.99	3.20
$9 to $9.99	3.60
$10 to $10.99	4.00
$11 to $11.99	4.40
$12 to $12.99	4.80

$186 to $199.99	(1)
$200 and over	(2)

[1] Increase to $200.
[2] No increase.

GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO PAYMENTS

§ 1104.831 Compliance with regulatory measures. Persons who carry out conservation practices under the 1959 program shall be responsible for obtaining the authorities, rights, easements, or other approvals necessary to the performance and maintenance of the practices in keeping with applicable laws and regulations. The person with whom the cost of the practice is shared shall be responsible to the Federal Government for any losses it may sustain because he infringes on the rights of others or fails to comply with applicable laws or regulations.

§ 1104.832 Maintenance of practices. The sharing of costs, by the Federal Government, for the performance of approved conservation practices on any farm under the 1959 program will be subject to the condition that the person with whom the costs are shared will maintain such practices throughout their normal life span in accordance with good farming practices as long as the land on which they are carried out is under his control.

§ 1104.833 Forbidden actions or practices—(a) Practices defeating purposes of programs. If the county committee finds, with the concurrence of the State Committee, that any person has adopted or participated in any practice during the 1959 program year which tends to defeat the purposes of the 1959 or any previous program, including, but not limited to, failure to maintain, in accordance with good farming practices, practices carried out under a previous program, it may withhold, or require to be refunded, all or any part of the Federal cost-share which otherwise would be due him under the 1959 program.

(b) Depriving others of Federal cost-shares. If the State Committee finds that any person has employed any scheme or device (including coercion, fraud, or misrepresentation), the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of the Federal cost-share due that person under the program, it may withhold, in whole or in part, from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require him to refund in whole or in part, the Federal cost-share which otherwise would be due him under the 1959 program.

(c) Filing of false claims. If the State Committee finds that any person has knowingly filed claim for payment of the Federal cost-share under the program for practices not carried out or for practices carried out in such a manner that they do not meet the required specifications therefor, such person shall not be eligible for any Federal cost-share under the 1959 program and shall refund all amounts that may have been paid to him under the 1959 program. The withholding or refunding of Federal cost-shares will be in addition to and not in substitution of any other penalty or liability which might otherwise be imposed.

(d) Misuse of purchase orders. If the State Committee finds that any person has knowingly used a purchase order issued to him for conservation materials or services for a purpose other than that for which it was issued, and that such misuse of the purchase order tends to defeat the purpose for which it was issued, such person shall not be eligible for any Federal cost-share under the 1959 program and shall refund all amounts that may have been paid to him under the 1959 program. The withholding or refunding of Federal cost-shares will be in addition to and not in substitution of any other penalty or liability which might otherwise be imposed.

(e) Evasion of maximum cost-share limitation. All or any part of any Federal cost-share which otherwise would be due any person under the 1959 program may be withheld, or required to be refunded, if he has adopted, or participated in adopting, any scheme or device, including the dissolution, reorganization, revival, formation, or use of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other means, designed to evade, or which has the effect of evading, the provisions of § 1104.800 (e).

§ 1104.834 Federal cost-shares not subject to claims. Any Federal cost-share, or portion thereof, due any person shall be determined and allowed (a) without regard to questions of title under State law; (b) without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in § 1104.835, and except for indebtedness to the United States subject to setoff under orders issued by the Secretary (Part 13, Subtitle A, of this title)); and (c) without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

§ 1104.835 Assignments. Any person who may be entitled to any Federal cost-share under the 1959 program may assign his right thereto, in whole or in part, as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1959, including the carrying out of soil and water conservation practices. No assignment will be recognized unless it is made in writing on Form ACP–69 and in accordance with the regulations issued by the Secretary (Part 1110 of this chapter).

DEFINITIONS

§ 1104.838 Definitions. For the purposes of the 1959 program:

(a) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any officer or employee of the Department to whom authority has been delegated, or to whom authority may hereafter be delegated, to act in his stead.

(b) "Administrator, ACPS," means the Administrator of the Agricultural Conservation Program Service.

(c) "State" means Alaska.

(d) "State Committee" means the persons designated by the Secretary as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee under section 8 (b) of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended.

(e) "State ACP Development Group" means the State ASC Committee, including the Director of Extension, the SCS Territorial Conservationist, and the Forest Service Representative.

(f) "County" refers to any of the three areas designated as "counties" by the State Committee. Fairbanks County is the Second and Fourth Judicial Districts, Homer County is the Kenai Peninsula and Kodiak Island. Palmer County is the First and Third Judicial Districts exclusive of Homer County.

(g) "County committee" means the persons elected within a county as the county committee pursuant to regulations governing the selection and functions of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county and community committees under section 8 (b) of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended.

(h) "County ACP Development Group" means the County ASC Committee, including the District Extension Agent, the SCS technician, and the Forest Service representative when available.

(i) "Person" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, or trust, or other business enterprise, or other legal entity (and, wherever applicable, a State, a political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof) that, as landlord, tenant, or sharecropper, participates in the operation of a farm.

(j) "Farm" means (1) all adjoining or nearby and easily accessible farm, wood, or range land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, and (2) all additional farm, wood, or range land under different ownership operated by such person which the county committee determines (i) is nearby and easily accessible, (ii) is approximately equally productive, and (iii) for the past two years has been operated by such person and will be so operated during the current year, or has been operated by such person for one year with proof satisfactory to the county committee that it will be operated by such person for at least two more years. Notwithstanding the conditions set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, fields and subdivisions of fields which are part of a farm shall remain a part of such farm when operated under a short-term agreement by another operator, unless and until such fields or subdivisions of fields may be properly constituted as a separate farm or part of another farm under this definition. Land which is properly constituted as a farm shall not be reconstituted when a change of farm operators is the only basis for such action.

(k) "Cropland" means land which the county committee determines (1) was tilled in at least one of the five calendar years immediately preceding the crop year for which the determination is being made; or (2) was established in permanent vegetative cover within the five calendar years immediately preceding the crop year for which the determination is being made and was classified as cropland at the time of establishment; or (3) has been tilled but at the time of determination is in an established crop rotation pattern recognized in the community. Land planted to vineyards, orchards, or other trees which was classified as cropland at the time of planting shall retain the cropland classification only for the year of planting, except that portions of the land area within an orchard or vineyard not devoted to trees or vines shall be classified as cropland if such land area meets the requirements of the first sentence of this definition.

(l) "Program year" means the period during which conservation practices, or components thereof, must be carried out to be eligible for cost-sharing. The program year begins on September 1, 1958, and continues through December 31, 1959.

CONSERVATION PRACTICES AND MAXIMUM RATES OF COST-SHARING

§ 1104.840 Concurrent operation of 1958 and 1959 programs. The specifications and rates of cost-sharing in this subpart are applicable to practices carried out on or after January 1, 1959. The specifications and rates of cost-sharing in the 1958 Alaska program are applicable to practices carried out under the 1959 program prior to January 1, 1959, except that any provision of the 1958 Alaska program which has the effect of restricting eligibility requirements or cost-sharing on practices included in the 1957 program for a county shall apply to the 1959 program for that county only if recommended by the county committee and approved by the State Committee.

§ 1104.840a ACP practice guide sheets. ACP practice guide sheets referred to in this subpart are available in State and county offices.

§ 1104.841 Practice 1: Diversion ditches to divert excess water to protected outlets—(a) Purpose. These ditches are for the purpose of removing excess water from snow melting in the spring, or from seeps, springs, or other ground water, to protect cropland or potential cropland below.

(b) Requirements. In all cases the ditches must be staked by a qualified technician. Capacities will depend on the area draining to each ditch. Diversion ditches must be provided with a proper outlet such as a sodded waterway (see practice 2 (§ 1104.842)).

(c) Additional recommendations. Diversion ditches should be constructed on a grade ranging from 0 at the upper end to not in excess of 1 percent at the lower end. Grades should be either uniform or gradually increasing from the upper end. Side slopes normally should not be steeper than 1 foot vertical to 3 feet horizontal.

(d) Technical responsibility. Soil Conservation Service.

(e) Reference. ACP Practice Guide Sheet for Diversion Ditches.

Maximum Federal cost-share. 50 percent of the cost.

§ 1104.842 Practice 2: Establishing permanent sod waterways to dispose of excess water without causing erosion—(a) Purpose. Sod waterways are essential to adequate water disposal on steep land. The waterway may be either an excavated ditch or a natural drainageway. In either case more than natural runoff is carried in the outlet channel; therefore, protection is needed to avoid the formation of gullies.

(b) Requirements. In all cases the outlet channels will be selected by a qualified technician. New channels must be staked and constructed according to lines and grades. Sod must be established. Sod waterways must be seeded long enough in advance to develop a protective cover in the channel before water is diverted into them. Seedings in established permanent sod waterways shall be at a rate of at least 15 pounds per acre and will contain not less than 50 percent of adapted sod-forming perennial grasses with the balance in other grasses. The seeding must be properly fertilized. The minimum application of commercial fertilizer on which cost-sharing is authorized shall, in each case, be determined on the basis of a current soil test or experiment station recommendations. Weeds must be controlled to the extent that they will not cause serious damage to the stand.

(c) Additional recommendations. A cereal nurse crop in conjunction with grass seeding should be used where desirable. Sod stripping may be used.

(d) Technical responsibility. Soil Conservation Service.

(e) Reference. ACP Practice Guide Sheet for Permanent Sod Waterways.

Maximum Federal cost-share. (1) 50 percent of the cost of earth moving; and

(2) 50 percent of the cost of grass seed, or sodding, and the minimum required application of commercial fertilizer.

§ 1104.843 Practice 3: Constructing permanent open drainage systems to dispose of excess water—(a) Purpose. Drainage systems are one or more drainage ditches for the purpose of removing excess water from agricultural land.

(b) Requirements. In all cases the system must be staked by a qualified technician. Cost-sharing is limited to construction or enlargement of permanent ditches and the structural work necessary to the proper functioning of the ditches. No cost-sharing will be allowed for cleaning or maintaining a ditch or for structures installed for crossings or the convenience of the operator. Due consideration shall be given to the maintenance of wildlife habitat.

(c) Additional recommendations. Cost-sharing may be authorized for clearing the necessary minimum width of right-of-way and, where necessary for the effective operation of the drainage system, for the spreading of spoil banks. Ditching with dynamite is a satisfactory method in very wet areas.

(d) Technical responsibility. Soil Conservation Service.

(e) Reference. ACP Practice Guide Sheet for Open Drainage Systems.

Maximum Federal cost-share. (1) 50 percent of the cost of necessary land clearing;

(2) 50 percent of the cost of earth moving;

(3) 50 percent of the cost of materials used in the permanent structure, excluding forms.

§ 1104.844 Practice 4: Initial establishment of permanent grass or grass-legume cover for soil or watershed protection—(a) Purpose. This practice is for the initial establishment of a protective vegetative cover by seeding adapted varieties of perennial grasses and legumes on areas, including steep slopes, which will remain in such cover.

(b) Requirements. The seed must be adapted to local conditions and must be properly distributed over the area sown. A sufficient amount must be used to insure a good stand at maturity. Seeding on steep slopes must be at a rate of one and one half times that for normal land conditions. Each county committee will establish seeding rates, mixtures, and varieties in line with experiment station recommendations for that area. Not over 90 pounds pure live seed per acre of small grains may be used as a nurse crop. Peas or vetch may not be used as a nurse crop. Adequate fertilizer must be applied. The minimum application of commercial fertilizer on which cost-sharing is authorized shall, in each case, be determined on the basis of a current soil test or experiment station recommendations. Weeds must be controlled to the extent that they will not cause serious damage to the stand.

(c) Additional recommendations. None.

(d) Technical responsibility. County ASC Committee.

(e) Reference. Practice Guide Sheet for Permanent Grass Cover.

Maximum Federal cost-share. 50 percent of the cost of seed and the minimum required application of commercial fertilizer.

§ 1104.845 Practice 5: Clearing and breaking, or breaking land to permit land-use adjustments needed in establishing soil conserving cropping systems—(a) Purpose. The conservation value of this practice is in getting sufficient cleared land on the farm so that good land management can be carried out on all parts of the farm. Farmers who own 100 acres or more of cleared cultivable land are considered to have adequate cleared land for good land management and are not eligible for this practice.

(b) Requirements. Homesteaders must have completed their homestead land-clearing requirements, except in Homer County and in remote areas (areas more than 50 miles from the Alaska rail or highway net). Homesteaders in remote areas must have made a bona fide filing, have built a cabin on the homestead, and have met their first-year residence requirements. Persons who have filed on an allotment under the act of May 17, 1906, are eligible if they have a bona fide filing, have constructed a cabin on the allotment, and resided on the allotment during at least 4 months of the 12 months preceding the application. In all cases the land to be cleared must be approved by a qualified technician. Methods of clearing which result in destruction of needed organic materials disqualify the clearing for cost-sharing. Removal of mineral soil will be considered evidence of excessive removal of organic material. Needed conservation practices must be applied to land cleared under previous programs in order to qualify an application for cost-sharing for additional land clearing under this program. Clearing areas which will result in increased erosion will not qualify. Windbreaks and uncleared land along streams must be left when, in the opinion of the county committee and SCS technician, such protective cover is necessary to control present or potential erosion. Land cleared under the 1959 program must be broken not later than the end of the following program year.
